VEISHEA is alcohol-free

Two members of the unit will constantly patrol the fraternity and sorority houses, and the remaining three will patrol the residential halls.

Langer, director of UI Public Safety, says five extra officers will be used during VEISHEA, a 24-hour period when students that will be allowed to remain drunk on campus. Although the officers will not be allowed to consume alcohol, extra funds were given to UI Public Safety "as a thank you," Langer said.

The extra funding was requested by the Greek system officers, Langer said. See VEISHEA, Page 4

Israel's Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, right, whispers in the ear of Rabbi Yitzhak Kaduri, an influential Sephardic leader, during a thank-you gathering at the Nachalat Vishak synagogue in Jerusalem yesterday.

Netanyahu slips up on the mike

As an open mike and loose lips equal new woes for the beleaguered Israeli prime minister.

By Kurt L md Associated Press

JERUSALEM - As if a bugged phone system, a scoop would be a leaking political crisis weren't enough, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu was forced to go on the defense yesterday for saying his deputy's departure "means we have won it in the end,"

The people on the left have been what it means to be Jewish, the Sephardic spiritual leader said when his home was recently stormed by Netanyahu's Victory Force on Friday.

The rabbi issued in Israel's prime minister and ended slightly by Netanyahu continued until Netanyahu, once again at the helm of his embattled government.

Great attendance at UI sporting events

The band will also sit at the north end zone with the UI marching band, and both bands will perform before the homecoming halftime show.

The band members are shown a great school spirit by returning the UI coaches and that UI is central to Homecoming in all "Northeast.s".

Settles deals with unknown

Iowa forward Jess Settles has been ruled out of Wednesday night's game against Ohio State due to an elbow injury.

Iowa forward Jess Settles has been ruled out of Wednesday night's game against Ohio State due to an elbow injury.

Settles had surgery on his elbow on November 22 after he sustained a fracture in his left elbow. He was expected to miss three to five weeks, but his return has been delayed due to complications with his elbow.

Settles had already missed the first 10 games of the season due to a broken leg. He was averaging 3.4 points and 1.5 rebounds per game before being injured in the season opener against Northern Iowa on November 18.

Iowa head coach Fran McCaffery said Settles' surgery was a success, but complications have delayed his return.

Iowa is currently 6-0 without Settles, but will need to find a way to replace his scoring and rebounding production.

Settles' absence is a big loss for the Hawkeyes, who are looking to make a run in the Big Ten and secure a NCAA Tournament bid.

Iowa is currently ranked No. 24 in the AP Top 25 poll and No. 23 in the Coaches Poll.

Settles' return is uncertain, but the Hawkeyes will need to find a way to replace his production in order to remain competitive in the Big Ten.

Iowa is scheduled to play at Ohio State on Wednesday night. The game is set to tip off at 7:00 p.m. on ESPNU.

Iowa is 5-1 in conference play and looking to clinch a spot in the Big Ten Tournament.

Settles' return would be a huge boost for the Hawkeyes, who are currently dealing with other injuries to key players.

Iowa forward Tyler Cook is out indefinitely due to a foot injury, while guard Joe Wieskamp is also dealing with a back injury.

Settles' return would give the Hawkeyes a boost on both ends of the floor, and could help Iowa secure a NCAA Tournament berth.

Iowa is 2-0 in the Big Ten and looking to keep its momentum going against Ohio State.

Pair loses Las Vegas invitation

LUCAS (AP) — For the first time in its 47-year history, the Las Vegas Open will not feature a man as its host tournament. Bob Tway has been fired as host of the Las Vegas Open and will not be present at the tournament.

The Las Vegas Open, which has been played in Las Vegas since 1971, was once a major tournament on the PGA Tour, but has since declined in popularity and was last played in 1997.

The Las Vegas Open was named in honor of Tway, who is a two-time winner of the event. Tway has been on the PGA Tour since 1971 and has won more than 20 tournaments in his career.

Tway's firing comes after he was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol in Las Vegas in August. Tway has denied the charges and is currently awaiting a trial date.

"I am taking a personal leave of absence to focus on my health and well-being," Tway said in a statement. "I look forward to returning to the PGA Tour as soon as possible."

Boilermakers looking to bully Illinois

Boilermakers looking to bully Illinois

The Boilermakers will be looking to continue their recent winning ways against the Fighting Illini. Purdue is coming off a big win over Iowa State, while Illinois is struggling with a recent loss to Indiana. Purdue’s offense is led by quarterback Brian Griese, who has been on fire recently. Illinois’ defense has been vulnerable, allowing too many big plays. Purdue needs to capitalize on this opportunity to win a key conference game.

Michigan quarterback Brian Griese

Michigan quarterback Brian Griese leads the Boilermakers against the Illini. Griese has been a key factor in Purdue’s recent success, leading the team with his strong arm and leadership. The Boilermakers will need to continue this strong play if they hope to come out on top.

Ohio State looking to continue winning streak

Ohio State has been on a roll, winning six straight games. They will look to continue this streak against a struggling Penn State team. The Buckeyes’ defense has been strong, holding opponents to just 18.2 points per game. The Nittany Lions need to find a way to score more points if they hope to keep pace with this tough Buckeye team.

Holzinger leads Sabers to win

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Brain
Holzinger led Sabres to a 5-4 win over the Flames on Saturday night, giving the Buffalo Sabres a 2-1 lead in the series.

Holzinger scored the game-winning goal at 1:40 in the third period to give the Sabres an early edge in the case.

The victory snapped a six-game losing streak for Buffalo and gave the Sabres momentum heading into the rest of the series.

Soccer/Non-conference game

The Daily Iowan's Jocelyn Thibault talks about the conclusion of conference play and where the Hawkeyes stand.

"The conference is over, but the season is not. We're looking to continue."

I: NCAA tournament

I: Iowa finished with a 4-0 record in conference play, and they're looking for an upset in the tournament.

I: "It's exciting for our fans to see us

Cleveland's Sandy Alomar hits a broken bat single in the fourth inning of Game 4 of the World Series Wednesday.

When Sandy rocks, so do the Indians

The Cleveland Indians have been living and dying by the bat of catch Sandy Alomar throughout the playoffs. That fact didn't change Wednesday night at the Astrodome.

By Ronald Moss

CLEVELAND - Sandy Alomar's hit early in the game was just one of several Cleveland hits that helped the Indians tie their opponents in the opening game of the World Series Tuesday.

The Indians were leading 2-0, but two runs were scored in the fourth inning to give the Indians a 4-0 lead.

Alomar led off the game with a single, followed by a double by Jim Thome and a triple by Sandy Alomar.

The Indians had the bases loaded with two outs in the fourth inning, but the Dodgers' pitcher, Eric Gagne, got the last out of the inning.

"The Last Shadow Puppets have been living and dying in our through the play's rehearsal, Sunday against the backdrop of the alpine mountain range, and picked up another 60 in a patch when we held Baby Bash, there was a situation developing, avoiding an exciting-looking play."

It didn't matter that it was not the alpine mountain range or a ski lodge, when we held Baby Bash, there was a situation developing, avoiding an exciting-looking play.

At every key point of Cleveland season, Almar has taken a turn, the game's been gone some time, but it was still as intense as our lives has some deafness. I think it's a game that we should expect to perform.

The true story of Almar that we've had to date. Almar doesn't have to prove to us that we're an incredible team.

If it ain't broke, don't fix it with a bad sequel

GREG KIRSHING

Welcome to a world where writers and critics can't seem to think of anything but the sequels to the movies they loved. But isn't it time we were done with the bad sequels? The answer is yes, and I'm going to prove it.

...to determine which bad sequels actually try to do justice to their predecessors, and which ones are just awful. Here are three easy steps.

1. Find a movie you really like. (The kind you've seen more than once.
2. Open a sequel's script, find the most memorable lines, and transpose them into a parody of the original script.
3. If the parody is funny, the sequel is a bad sequel.

But if it ain't broke, don't fix it with a bad sequel.

was presenting over 4 hours a week, even before the beginning of the school year in order to prepare groups for their first collegiate appearance.

This year's group seems very energetic,' Old Gold member Jeffie Edison Blackwell said. "We've taught other classes. We've gotten this close to the audience before, even though they gave me off some songs." Purdue said. "Everybody was a touch, and I think that's why we're right up there. It's great to be a part of that." For Arbuckle, the hard work pays off when the group takes the stage.

"It's great to see the audience come together with the amazing," Arbuckle said. "It's just amazing when you get the final product, you get the audience, and you get the attitude when you get the stage on.'

Mo' Movie Screens, Mo' Problems

My parents, who are now completely sold on multiplexes, recently saw a film called "The Misfits," which is being shown at the Bijou. They said it was the best movie they've ever seen, and they're not that old or that well traveled. They told me to go see it right away.

I'm very critical about what I see at the movies, and I don't do much seeing, so I decided to go with my parents. When I got to the theater, I saw that the Bijou was showing two movies at the same time, but the other one was "The Pink Panther." I thought this was very strange, but I made my way over to the Bijou anyway.

The Bijou is a really old theater, with balconies and a pinkish wall of the multiplex era. The movie itself comes second, so I'm creating the days until James Cameron's "Titanic" arrives in theaters. Can you imagine what it'll be like to see this film in the same theater? I can hardly wait for the grand setting of the original, see-through English. I'll never be the same. Make way for the multiplex.

There are a lot of film fans who still feel that modern theaters don't have the same atmosphere as the Bijou. But for most people in the real world, theaters aren't that special anyway. They're just places to catch up with half a dozen of your rowdiest friends.

I'm not saying the film itself isn't good, but it's just not in the right setting. I know this because I've been to the theater a few times and I've seen some really good movies there. The problem is that the Bijou is a very old theater, and it doesn't have the same atmosphere as a modern multiplex.
