Local eyes are peeled for bunk hundreds

If local business owners are keeping their eyes on the counter to spy phony cash in the form of $100 bills.

By Eric Jordan

Local business owners are keeping an eye out for phony cash in the form of $100 bills.

David Overbaugh, who owns a jewelry and coin shop in downtown Iowa City, said that he has received a few fake $100 bills in recent weeks.

Overbaugh said that he checks every bill he receives for authenticity.

"We've had a few fakes, but usually they're pretty easy to spot," Overbaugh said. "But it's always good to be on the lookout for them, especially in our area where there's a lot of tourism."
The college cuisine

College students are champions when they come to turning ordinary Dagwood into a pizza that would impress Chef Boyardee.

For those of you who have no imagination and are stuck with the proverbial plain bagel of a life, the Otranto research department, which recently learned how to use one little alphabet, has created a few menu items out of the box.

Here’s how students can make quick and easy meals to impress their friends and satisfy those midnight cravings.

Newfangled angled parking

By Jason Kalbach

In Iowa City, a real estate developer is considering building a parking garage behind the Old Capitol Senate Chamber on the UI campus.

The angle parking revolution on Linn street has added in reducing the parking problems for many students, but now the city is looking at the possibility of building a new garage with angled parking, which would add 119 more spaces on the block.

The city has been looking at the Old Capitol parking garage for some time now, and the new garage would be located on the block next to the Old Capitol Senate Chamber.

A bloodied truck driver lies on the ground after about 30 guests were attacked by a trucker's roadside barbwire in Vietnams southern province of Binh Thuan, southwest of Ho Chi Minh City, Monday, Nov. 30, 1998. Police said 14 people were injured in the attack, which left 11 of the victims in serious condition.

The French Labor Confederation warned against using violence to repress the strike and called for talks on Tuesday, reports said.

That strike paralyzed France for at least three days and disrupted international air and rail services, with more than 100,000 French workers involved, reports said.

Meanwhile, the strike's impact on the French economy continued to be felt, with many factories and businesses closed, reports said.

The strike, which began Monday, affects about 1 million workers and is the latest in a series of strikes that have laid waste to the country's economy.

A dream of sleep

As deep that people don’t appear known, until, of course, they go to college. Then it is impossible to live without a combination of homework, procrastination, and the memories of sleep that we missed. It is important that we go to college, not because of the memories of sleep that we missed but because of the memories of sleep that we will make...

Council has its work cut out for it

L tuesday morning, there was quite a stir at the Iowa City Courthouse. A large group of people had turned out to figure out who exactly was the inspiration for the Iowa City Council to stand up for the people. Various groups had organized to meet with the city council members and express their concerns. Some even brought cookies and coffee, which the members gratefully accepted...

Davey wins AL Manager of the Year, then quits

By David Ginsburg

Baltimore — Davey Johnson said after his last game with Baltimore Orioles owner Peter Angelos by quitting. Johnson was named American League Manager of the Year by the Baseball Writers Association of America, which also named Boston’s Bobby Valentine as the National League Manager of the Year. "This is the first time I’ve been honored for some kind of achievement," said Johnson. "It feels great to be recognized for my work with the team."

Iowa freshman Krispy Davis and Dean Oliver shone as the Hawkeyes had no trouble getting past the Venezuela National Select Team, 106-59. "We’re gonna be out there playing our best, and I’m sure the fans will be supportive," said Davis. "We’re ready to go!"

Crusie control

Iowa’s Darryl Moore tries to avoid a midair collision against the Venezuela team. Moore and Davis will be starting somewhere in the lineup. "It’s important to keep the ship steady," said Moore. "We’ll be fine."

Nurse becomes first team affected by in-game trade

New York Times — The New York Mets have become the first team affected by an in-game trade. The Mets traded pitcher Jon Niese to the Pittsburgh Pirates for catcher Carlos Ruiz. Niese has been a key contributor to the Mets’ success this season. "It’s a tough day for us," said Mets general manager Sandy Alderson. "We’ll miss Niese, but we believe Ruiz will be a great addition to our team."

Navy wins war with神器人

The Navy Midshipmen defeated the神器人 University Titans 62-39 in their annual game. "We were the better team today," said Navy coach Mike Triplett. "Our defense held the Titans to just 39 points, and our offense had a great game."

Iowa has lost to Wisconsin in football since 1976

By James Kramer

The Hawkeyes have lost to the Badgers in 14 of their 15 meetings since 1976. "We need to find a way to win these games," said Iowa coach Kirk Ferentz. "Our defense has been solid, but our offense has struggled."

Attention sports fans: give Grant Field a shot

The Iowa field hockey team has had a rough year, but the Big Ten tournament is a chance to make everything right. The 1997 campaign has been filled with highs and lows, with the team making four straight NCAA tournament appearances. The last two years, the Hawkeyes have been eliminated by Ohio State in the regional round.

By Mike Triplett

"We’ve been close, but we haven’t taken that next step," said Iowa coach Renee Frohman. "Our team is focused on the Big Ten tournament. We need to win a game in that tournament to prove that we’re ready for the NCAA tournament."

Hawkeyes look to continue badgering Wisconsin

The Hawkeyes are looking to continue their domination of the Badgers. "We need to play our best game," said Iowa coach Kirk Ferentz. "Our defense has been solid, but our offense has struggled."

NFL: Humphries may be lost for season

New York Giants defensive tackle Tim Humphries could be out for the entire season.

"We've been training for the next three months, so it's tough," he said.

The injury comes after Humphries missed the last three games of the regular season due to a shoulder injury.

Humphries has been in the league for three years and has started 37 games.

On Wednesday, Humphries said he had one other injury on his shoulder that had not been diagnosed.

"I've been planning for this whole season," Humphries said.

On Monday, Humphries said that the team would not disclose any information on his injury.

First-quarter edge goes to the Seminoles

While North Carolina has struggled early in half games, Florida State has been consistent. The Seminoles have scored in the first quarter in their past two games. The Tar Heels' last touchdown in the first quarter came in the second game.

Florida State at North Carolina

- Score: Florida State 27, North Carolina 10
- Date: November 28, 1997
- Location: Kenan Stadium, Chapel Hill, NC

Miami's Dwayne Johnson

Dwayne Johnson scored two touchdowns for the Seminoles, including a 91-yard punt return. He also had 132 rushing yards on 17 carries.

North Carolina's ICEBERG

The Tar Heels' running game struggled, with only 93 rushing yards on 31 carries.

Florida State's EDGE

The Seminoles' defense held the Tar Heels to 3-for-12 on third-down conversions and 1-for-2 on fourth-down attempts.

HIGHLIGHTS

- First-quarter edge: Florida State scored on two field goals and a touchdown in the first quarter, while North Carolina scored none.
- Second-quarter struggle: North Carolina scored its only touchdown in the second quarter, but the Seminoles added a field goal in the third quarter to put the game out of reach.
- Dwayne Johnson's impact: Johnson's two touchdowns provided a significant boost to Florida State's offense.
- Defensive performance: Florida State's defense limited North Carolina to 306 total yards and held the Tar Heels to 129 rushing yards.

POSTGAME QUOTES

Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden:

"Our offense came out and had a good start, and our defense played well. Our special teams were excellent, and our overall performance was impressive."}

North Carolina head coach Mack Brown:

"We had some chances to make some plays, but we just weren't able to capitalize. Our defense played well, but we couldn't get the ball out of the red zone."
Lions' Jurevics has been nonexistent

Once Penn State's top offensive threat, Joe Jurevics has gone AWOL.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. - Announcing Joe Jurevics' return to the team will be difficult for the Lions, but doing it will be even tougher for Joe Jurevics.

Jurevics had 134 yards and seven touchdowns, including three against Louisiana State. His 134 yards was the most by a Penn State fullback in 1986. Jurevics' best performance in 1986 was 133 yards, also against LSU.

But Jurevics has not been seen around State College since last week.

Then came Ohio State: Five receptions, 59 yards, no TDs.

McGuinness isn't going deep on the kind of plays that he and Jurevics have given the team - not yet. McGuinness said the team has a higher percentage of three receivers blocking on the area, and he said, "We're not going out there on the plays they used to to get the edge of the defense. McGuinness said, "We're as long as we make the catches we need to make and keep the team make the first down, that's what's important."
HOLYFIELD VS MOORER

Holyfield's last act is tough to follow

Michael Moorer's a worthy opponent, but he doesn't provide the dramatic backdrop that Mike Tyson did.

"What we don't have in a career these days is a fight," said former heavyweight champ Larry Holmes. "We're all1 looking for the fight."

Forget, for a moment, that Holyfield-Moorer will be the third fight in three years between the two. Forget that Holyfield has won the first two head-to-head meetings, both by lopsided decision. Forget that Holyfield is 57-2-1 and Moorer 57-9-1. Forget that this fight is for a title.

What we do have is a fight, a big, ugly, hard-fought battle for a title. Holyfield vs. Moorer is the fight we've all been waiting for. It's the kind of fight that will unify two重量级 title holders.

Forget that this will be a fight in the mold of a Holyfield-Tyson or a Moorer-Tyson.

The stakes are still big for both fighters. The winner will be a champion, and the loser will be a former champion. The winner will have a tough act to follow in the ring. The loser will have a tough act to follow in the ring.

Holyfield is the epitome of hard work, dedication and discipline. He's the man who would do anything to win. Moorer is the man who will do anything to win.

The first time, in the third round, Moorer knocked Holyfield down and cruised to an easy decision. The second time, in the sixth round, Moorer knocked Holyfield down and won a facile decision.

The third time, Holyfield will be the one looking for a decision. Moorer will be the one looking for a knockout.

Holyfield fights the weight, but it's not gonna be pretty.

Kirschner/Johnson pick up the week after film

"Wint"

"Wint" is a film that will be released this week. The film is about a man who tries to save his family from a tragic event. The acting is excellent, and the storyline is well written.

The film is directed by Johnson, who has previously directed several successful films. The film stars Kirschner, who has been nominated for several awards for his performances in the past.

The film is set in the fictional town of Winter, where a series of events leads to the tragic event that the film is about. The story is told through flashbacks, showing the events that took place before the event.

The film is a must-see for anyone who enjoys well-crafted stories and excellent acting. It's a film that will make you think and feel, and it's sure to be another hit for Johnson and Kirschner.
BOWLING/Not mainstream ska high school marching band and college: "Everything is very democratic," Menschel said. "Everybody will have their opinions, but nobody will ever get to bed angry." The band is scheduled to perform tonight at 7:30 in Guerrieri, 132 E. Washington St. at "Ike Madison," which will also feature the ska band Johnny Socko.

While ska has quietly risen to nationwide population, Menschel and people should be confused by what the mainstream portrays the musical genre to be. "A lot of people think of ska as being what the media is saying it is -- like Devo, the Mighty Mighty Bosstones, Big Fish," he said. "They're not ska - they're just doing the common sense things like getting up early to get to the maintainment scene."

Still, despite this lack of radio airplay, Menschel says a diversity of ska-based music seems to be gaining momentum. "I know of a band in the area," Menschel said. "They have hands down. We ska and hands doing the quick enough with ska and all in between you have hands doing everything ska. I would put ska in the middle of ska."

Let's Go Bowling's latest CD is titled Mr. Fisher, which was released in 1996. The band is scheduled to release a new CD in March after it finishes touring.

these tremendous restrictions between those things," said Fowles. "It's just how we're going to do it.

So far, Fowles has decided to do a lot of things as the play progresses. "The play is the encyclopedia of ideas, and that's what this play is about," Fowles said. We are selecting our ideas out of chaos. All of the characters come up with new ideas, and that's what this play is about."

The cast of "Arcadia" rehearses in L.C. Mable Theatre on Tuesday night. The play is scheduled to be performed tonight through Sunday.

Kudos to women who keep rock rolling

N ow on my life did I think I could be a rock star. Within weeks, I was playing sold-out shows to sell out stadiums. My first big break was winning the World Series with the Chicago Cubs. I was so excited that I fell right into the hands of the record label industry. I was devastated.

I was trying to find my footing when I came across a talk show and saw the camera crew. It was the first time I had ever seen myself on television. I thought, "I'm ready." When I found myself on the cover of Rolling Stone, I realized that I was ready.

There have been plenty of other women who have broken barriers in the music industry. For example, there's been one woman who has never been nominated for a Grammy. But what happened to Ella Projects, a young woman who was signed by a major record label, but then her music died on the vine? She was a talented songwriter, but no one ever noticed her. It's a shame.

Women often have their stories told in a negative light. It's important to remember that women have accomplished so much in the music industry. Think of the women who have shaped the industry, and you'll realize that they have the potential to lead the world.

Additionally, kudos to the "Women in Rock" issue of Rolling Stone, which featured on the cover of the magazine. It's important to celebrate the women who have pushed the boundaries of rock music.
