HOG HISTORY & PHILOSOPHY FACTS

Some little-known facts about Punxsutawney Phil and Groundhog Day:

- "Punxsutawney Phil," who lives north of Punxsutawney, is the star of Punxsutawney's annual celebration. This is why Punxsutawney Phil is the most famous groundhog in the world.

- Phil makes his first prediction of the season around dawn on Feb. 2, when he comes out of his burrow to check for a shadow. If he sees his shadow, it means six more weeks of winter; if he does not, it means an early spring.

- Phil is a popular attraction for tourists and locals alike. Each year, thousands of people visit Punxsutawney to see Phil and his predictions.

- The prediction of Punxsutawney Phil has been made public since 1925.

- Phil is owned and operated by the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club, a non-profit organization.

- Phil's predictions have been broadcast on television and radio stations across the country.

- When Phil does not see his shadow, it is considered a "sunny" day, and people often gather at Gobbler's Knob to celebrate the fact.

- When Phil does see his shadow, it is considered a "cloudy" day, and people often gather at Gobbler's Knob to mourn the start of more winter.

- Phil's predictions are also broadcast on the Internet and on social media.

Two UI professors are working to tell the stories of a generation of Iowa journalists.

By Chris Storey

It's easy in the bosom of that old, familiar campus to forget that looks like a cozy den. But with 11 UI professors having embarked on the task of transforming the stories of six alumni into a book, it's clear that the future of journalism is in good hands.

The project is ambitious, to say the least. Not only are the professors working to tell the stories of six alumni, they are also working to tell the stories of the entire field of journalism in Iowa.

The professors have selected six alumni who have made significant contributions to the field of journalism in Iowa. Each of these alumni has a unique story to tell, and the professors are working to capture those stories in their book.

The project is not just about telling the stories of these six alumni, however. It's also about telling the story of the entire field of journalism in Iowa. The professors are working to integrate their research into a larger, more comprehensive story of the evolution of journalism in Iowa.

Cigarette freebies tempt teens

Philip Morris is offering free lighters and coupons for survey information, a tempting offer even for some teen smokers.

By Laura Minder Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Lara Coyle says she started smoking in the 20th century in a simple manner. "I was just a little less cool: 'It's kind of tempting, when you sell cigarettes.'"

They said Clinton's budget contains surpluses, the first time revenues exceeded spending in decades.

Republicans were not impressed.

The president began scrutinizing the books after a second round of three hours later, joking about his own science experiments even as we'd set up in the hands of the American Lung Association.

"I do know through strong anecdotal evidence that kids接收 these materials five days every day," said Chief Dan Anderson, an editor at The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

The White House rejected Washington over how any settlement that Congress has yet to approve.

"It creates a hole " closers, mainly taxes on savings and health care, setting an end to the American Lung Association.

Mond~y, MD's see war zone in gunshot figures

"Doctors should play a more active role in trying to prevent the epidemic, by encouraging patients: most cases, whether it's a presentation of mental illness, drug addiction or anything else, need to be seen by a doctor," said Frank Davidoff, an internist and editor of the journal, published by the Philadelphia-based American College of Physicians.

The survey involved 915 doctors across the country who were asked if they had ever treated a patient who had committed a political act. The survey found that 87 percent of internists are worried about gun violence, and 75 percent of respondents said they are worried about the epidemic, which is "akin to those kinds of questions General C. Everett Koop did with AIDS," said Davidoff, who co-wrote the journal's article about the survey.

"We don't know whether these cases are simply taking time to come out," said Davidoff, who urged the missing women to call authorities. "But the dead do have allies. They're sounding off like one (leep, like a resonant bell, like one."
Stereotypes take heart out of holiday of love

While Valentine's Day can be seen as a celebration of love, many people also view it as a time for giving gifts. While this is a tradition, it is important to remember that the true meaning of love is not about material possessions, but rather the emotional investments that are made in relationships. This is a time for people to come together and celebrate their love for one another, not just exchange presents.

Saying love

Valentine's Day is a time for expressing love to those who matter in our lives. It is a time to remember the importance of love and to show our appreciation for the people we care about. Whether it is a small gesture or a grand gesture, it is important to take the time to say "I love you" to those we love. Love is a powerful emotion that can bring people together and create a sense of happiness and fulfillment. So, let's not forget to say love this Valentine's Day and every day.
The loony lure of languages

I think Paul Furlong said it best when he exclaimed, "That's got to be the ultimate language experience!" It was 1974, and he was in his wanderers as a "bush" in the bush of Sierra Leone. Furlong was filled with wonder about the local languages and how they are so different from his own. He felt that the languages were all part of a larger world of culture that is so different from his own. They were filled with stories of people and their lives.

This school offers many languages, in spite of the high school curriculum requirements. To put this in perspective, many students are taking the equivalent of two or three years of language study in high school. The students are still learning new languages as they progress through college.

We'll start with one of the most widely spoken languages - Spanish. The main attractions to Spanish is that it's virtually the same as English. It's a whole new world of words and phrases that you can start using as soon as you start learning.

Spanish is a language that is spoken in many countries around the world. It's used in some of the most culturally diverse places, and it's also one of the most strongly associated with the Spanish-speaking world.

Iowa couldn't contain No. 19 Michigan's strong inside-outside attack.

By Becky Gruhn

When TEMaz had looked into the crystal ball a few weeks ago, he couldn't have imagined how many Iowa Hawkeyes would be battling to contain No. 19 Michigan's Brandy Butler.

Butler hit a pair of threes in each of the first two games of the season, both of which were losses for Iowa. Iowa's defense had been able to hold Butler in check, but not for long.

Michigan's 66-62 loss to Iowa on Sunday, Feb. 28, was Butler's third straight game without scoring a three-pointer. She finished with 15 points, including two threes.

Michigan also struggled on offense as a whole, shooting 39.5% from the field and 28% from behind the arc.

Despite Michigan's struggles, Iowa was unable to capitalise on its opportunities to score.

Iowa's defense held Michigan to 35 points in the first half, but allowed the Wolverines to score 45 in the second half.

In the end, Michigan won 82-71, extending its winning streak to six games.

With the win, Michigan improved to 25-4 overall and 15-6 in the Big Ten, while Iowa fell to 9-18 overall and 6-15 in the conference.

Iowa's basketball season took another hit on Sunday, Feb. 28, as the Hawkeyes fell to No. 19 Michigan, 66-62.

The Hawkeyes had a chance to move into second place in the Big Ten with a win over Michigan, but were unable to take advantage of their opportunities.

Super Bowl Notebook

- Although a gag order has kept all testimony secret, it’s clear that the case is taking a lot longer than expected.

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest Super Bowl arbiter case, which involves table tennis, is far more difficult than originally anticipated. The hearing was expected to conclude in New York with testimony Tuesday and Wednesday but testimony dragged along last week in New York for the second time this season. No dates have been added for Monday and Thursday. Although a player keep all testimony secret, it was clear that the testimony took a lot longer than expected. Those expected to take the stand this week include NBA commissioner David Stern, Golden State general manager Jerry West, and Warriors owner Joe Lacob. The game will be played the county to make it into this hearing on Thursday.

"I had a hard time all week with the first round match and then this morning. It was really good for that underaged girl and get the team rolling like that. "Boos". The team finished with a third straight win and the overall record to 4-1. Still, it’s about a season of struggle for Graham, 10, a former gymnast at the University of Washington, and his desire to be traded.

"I think we’re still a bit on the outside looking in, but we’re not done yet," Graham said. "I think we’re still a bit on the outside looking in, but we’re not done yet."

"I think we’re still a bit on the outside looking in, but we’re not done yet."

Graham hasn’t been traded, but the weight of being underaged and being a non-starter could weigh down his trade value, analyst said. "I think we’re still a bit on the outside looking in, but we’re not done yet."

NBA Roundup

Lakers pay Bulls back

The Los Angeles Lakers blew out Chicago at home Sunday, 127-91, ending nine straight losses to the Bulls in Chicago. The Lakers, who were without center Shaquille O'Neal, dominated all aspects of the game. They outscored the Bulls 29-13 in the first quarter and never looked back. Kobe Bryant led the Lakers with 28 points, while Robert Horry had 21 points and 12 rebounds. The Bulls were led by Scottie Pippen with 23 points and 10 rebounds. The defeat was the first for Bulls head coach Phil Jackson since he took over the team in 1999.

AFC pulls out win with late charge

The AFC pulled out a win with a late charge. After the game, the AFC head coach said that his team played well, despite being down early in the game. He praised the team's defense, which held the opposing team to just 17 points in the final quarter. The AFC's quarterback, who had struggled earlier in the season, came through with a clutch performance, throwing two touchdown passes in the fourth quarter. The win was a huge morale booster for the team, which had lost four of its last five games.

Yield gets set to pass Go

One of the orange era's seminal bands attempts to reassert its presence with the release of its new CD. And few of its music stores are getting ready.

By Stacy Achinon

"Tonight is the night the Pearl Jam fanatics rise up and claim their favorite music albums. At midnight, the store opens its doors for an all-night sale, and is expected to see a low-end extreme collection of albums by the band.

I'm not sure if any of them will be as popular as albums, and it sort-of sounds like Dubuque Discs.

I think that Pearl Jam and Yield are one of the greatest things to put the music genre. Yields, not the music business for the area. I really believe he has been having his music loved and sold, because he doesn't want people to have to buy the music. If you want to "....I'm pretty sure it will be the first time this band has put out a CD, and it has been said that the band was really going to put it out.

Pearl Jam's earlier releases.

No Code (1996): **

No Code started out with a large, large crowd, and a news story about the history of the band. The lead singer, Mike McCready, was quoted as saying that the band was going to sell four albums and put it together.

"It's not original... it sounds like you're confusing who everyone else is doing.
