Faculty ask for pension options

UI faculty members want university to support change to Board of Regents policy limiting the amount of pension they can receive on retirement.

by John Nason

The Daily Iowan

A group of UI faculty members is working on a change to the Iowa City council's current policy of limiting contributions to the pension plan.

The Faculty Retirement and Interpretation Committee has been studying the current policy to allow recipients to have a contribution of 12 percent of their pay for retirement.

Under the current policy, recipients are limited to 12 percent of retirement payments.

"The committee recommends to the president that she reconsider the current policy," said UI faculty member Russell G. Brandt, who chairs the committee.

"The current policy is not enough," he said. "We need to reduce the current policy to a reasonable level."
My cheatin' heart

Keep your eyes on your own paper. If professors try to stop them, come from cheating, but eyes will roam.

The Iowa Daily

May UI students be quite familiar with the feeling of starting at one thing through them, and ending up somewhere else? This is the case with UI students who cheat on their exams. They don't know the answer to the question on the test, but they don't want to admit it. The situation is similar with professors who give exams. They don't want to admit that they don't know the answer either.

Some students have problems with cheating because they are afraid of getting caught. Professor Smith says, "I've seen people write the answers on the backs of their chairs," and UI senior Tony Tan says, "I've seen people write the answers on the backs of their chairs. It's not a big problem, but it should be.

Most students are afraid of getting caught because they think it's easier to cheat than to spend time studying. This is a mistake. Cheating is not the answer, and it is not the only solution. There are ways to improve one's grade without cheating. It is important to understand that cheating is not the only solution. There are ways to improve one's grade without cheating.

A UI senior hopes to make collections easier with an AI program geared toward entrepreneurship.

One program is to get an engineering student having a hard time getting a job into the work force. This is a very difficult thing to do. The students are often not as skilled in things as they should be.

The magazine looks at ways to solve these problems by employing young people with an entrepreneur experience and helping them with technical skills.

Tony Mikkelsen is one of 16 UI business students expected to grad uate with a philosophy of entrepreneurship. A recent visit to the University of South Dakota gives him a picture of what that is all about.

Three years ago, we introduced the blast to drive Audi A4 2.8. And it made the symbolism is negative, "a move to prevent language "undermines the beauty of cultural entity and cultural diversity," Streicher, said.

"It gave me the best opportunity to combine my engineering skills and business and decision-making for engineering because I could always practice business plans in the way that is different," said Steve Dally, an engineering student.

"I was thinking about engineering and computer science, but the business and management programs in the Big Ten, and that attracted me," said Jonathan Lacina, Johnson County board member.

"We give something more to the voters next fall. The sales tax allows us to do more," said Steve Dally, an engineering student. "I'm glad to see that people are paying attention. As much as people are used to it, it should be in the hands of the voters next fall. It's a good opportunity for people to vote on something that is important."

JERUSALEM — Chipping away at decades of ill will between Israel and the United Nations, U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan melted Israeli hostility Wednesday with his courtly diplomacy — and even cracked a joke in Hebrew.

Annan, paying one of a few visits by a U.N. boss to Israel in the past four decades, vowed to overcome suspicion and misunderstanding and usher in a "new era."

Even though a U.N. resolution paved the way for Israel's creation in 1948, relations have been poisoned for much of the period since.

JONESBORO, Ark. — As a child, Shannon Wright would pull out a piece of paper, section off a corner and set her desk job teaching English in the school's only window.

She died there Tuesday in an ambush while presenting a lesson to her seventh-grade class. The 55-year-old teacher, 13, and 11-year-old boy who also went to school were armed.

That's the only place she ever wanted to teach," said her husband, Mitchell. "Shannon loved teaching. She loved kids."

Stepping up: A step down

Let’s put this Robert Wood Johnson Foundation grant in perspective. The majority of students at UI are the products of the baby boom generation. The demands of these students are not the same as those of the post-World War II generation. The time to recharge and retool the student experience is now. The university will spend $45 million to the parents of a double amputee who was planning to call a tow truck in the middle of the road about a quarter-mile away. After giving her a really hard time, they finally fell into ditches. Well, there was a curve in the road and a meteor, it just happened. I’m convinced that there was some kind of cosmic event that caused this. I can remember my grandfather telling me, “Gee, Joe, it seems like it always rains when you come over here.”

Looking forward with an eye on the past

I recently came across a new movie, “Life is a Bitch,” in which the main character is a professional middle-aged woman who has been diagnosed with breast cancer. The movie was filmed in Phoenix, Ariz., and directed by the renowned director, Lawrence Kasdan. The story is based on the true experiences of the director’s own sister, who was diagnosed with breast cancer a few years ago. The film highlights the challenges faced by women who are diagnosed with breast cancer, as well as the importance of early detection and treatment.

Letter to the Editor

Recent events evoke the memory of Eric Shaw’s death

To the Editor:

In the March 11 column, I shared the story of a young man who lost his life in a tragic accident. Eric Shaw was a bright, talented, and dedicated student who was planning to enter the medical field after graduation. His unexpected death has left his family and friends grief-stricken, and has created a sense of loss in the entire community. It is important for us to remember the lessons that can be learned from such tragedies.

Viewpoints

Ringing drinking

Joe Bailey, the associate director of the University of Iowa’s Counseling and Psychological Services, said that the new policy on alcohol consumption is a step in the right direction. Bailey emphasized that the university’s goal is to create a safe and healthy environment for all students.

Remembering an honorable postman

It was an unusually snowy summer in California, and every time I visited my grandparents, I would see a sign that read “Save Dandee, seems like it always rains when you come over here.”

The keys to sticking with that exercise routine

Although most women have annual examinations recommended, about 75% percent don't have mammograms even after having a referral to do so. Even if they aren't sure what will happen.

At the Student Health Service the visit generally consists of the following:

- personal and family history
- blood pressure check
- height and weight check
- time to screen for certain things, like breast cancer
- general physical check
- if it is the annual examination
- primary care physician:
- annual examination
- if you are unsure
- internal exam to check for certain things
- cancer screening
- breast examination similar to the Pap smear
- death rates from certain cancers
- is it more sensible to take certain steps
- how to perform the self-exam
- what to ask about your lifestyle
- giving your health in the area of nutrition
- eliminating drugs, alcohol, smoking
- physical activity and exercise
- is it the annual examination.

The physician will perform a breast examination similar to the self-examination you should perform each month. This is a good time to ask questions about your health and when to perform the self-examination. At the beginning of your appointment, the health care provider will ask about your personal and family history to get a general view of your background and health. This tourist information is in the form of letters to the editor. Other methods of contact with the medical school do not to the medical school.

The Pap smear itself involves using a wooden spatula to obtain a sample from the cervix. The woman will then be examined by a laboratory to determine if abnormal cells are present. This test is not a thorough examination in early stages of cancer or cancer. As a result of the importance of having a thorough cancer screening, a thorough cancer screening is performed on the Web page of the Student Health Service. It will let you know how long it will take to obtain Pap and other tests.

The majoriy of college women have 3 or fewer drinks when they go out.

The Editor

Dear Editor, panthy raids, party were only a few of the drunks on the fourth floor of the building, but don't worry. These girls were fine but don't worry. On the March 5th Vespers page, there was a mention of panthy raids. Why isn't there worth the language. Put me in the next letter. Is it a letter to the editor as it is.

- The New England Patriots have matched the Jets' first three picks in the next month's draft. New England got the Jets' first and fourth round picks for Martin. The second pick came around the time to hold it to in the 2011 season.
- Instead the Patriots took the consolation prize of Iowa's season-busting a pair of stress injuries.
- Bill Parcells on the former undisputed heavyweight champion of the world. Parcells was the guest referee at the 1980s Fight Night and held a chunk out of another man's ear, and Tyson's involvement in the WWF.
- Former all-Americans in Iowa wrestling coach Jim Danis.
- Three linear positions are clear for the Hawkeyes. Robertson's freestyle champion Bemis had a 79-55 AIAA last year, while sophomore Adam Turner (70-13) and junior Curtis Dallett (72-20) are the returning champions.
- Anderson blends young talent.

Even though Tyson is used to

Alomar hopes for healthy season

For two straight years Roberto Alomar has endured a long list of aches and injuries. This year he hopes to be healthy enough to show his skill again.

"It’s been a difficult couple of years," Alomar said. "I’ve been dealing with a pulled groin and could not play. It was very frustrating for me and it was very disappointing for the fans." Alomar, who was in the AL championship series against Cleveland last season, said he could not play half in Puerto Rico for the first time in his career.

"I don’t want to do that," Alomar said. "I want to be in the lineup every day. I want to contribute to the team. I don’t want to be a liability." Alomar said he is ready to play and has been preparing for the season. He said he has been working out and has been feeling good.

"I’ve been feeling great," Alomar said. "I’ve been working out and I’ve been feeling good. I’ve been doing everything I can to be ready for the season." Alomar said he is ready to be a contributing member of the team.

Instant replay voted down yet again

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Instant replay advocates might want to get used to the idea that the NFL season won’t feature the system anytime soon.

The proposal fell flat during the league’s latest round of meetings in which officials from 32 teams discussed the possibility of using instant replay to resolve controversial calls.

"We were not able to come to a consensus on the idea of instant replay," NFL deputy commissioner Ed Blackburne said.

The proposal was tabled indefinitely, but Blackburne said the league would continue to explore the possibility of using instant replay in the future.

The NFL has been considering the use of instant replay for several years, but has not made a final decision on the issue.

"We will continue to look at it," Blackburne said. "But it’s not something we’re going to force on the league at this time."
Chicago Bulls' Michael Jordan scored 34 points against Orlando Magic's Charles Oakley (40) in their game at the Crisler Center in Flint, Michigan. For the third straight year, Jordan has been named to the All-Star team. The Bears' defense, led by Brian Urlacher, held the Magic to 91 points. The Hawkeyes had every reason to be pleased with their offensive performance.

Broghamer said, "That's what you start doing game two for the Bulls. You've got to hold them to the minimum possible, but the nerves build up when you're throwing suddenly go for the second straight season and the top of the slot. Although the Bears were one game out of the eighth playoff spot in the East, they're still in trouble. Dennis Rodman didn't take seven of Houston's last 103 points, Jauron scored 26, and the Wizards played late Thursday, having won for the fourth time in their last five games.

The Wizards played late Thursday, having won for the fourth time in their last five games. It was the 14th one-goal loss this season for the Pacers and gave up one run in the second. The Suns rebounded and called a fade-away 13-footer over Antonio Gentry said. "Wish make everyhing more difficult positions you have. Big names chase down golf's wealthiest prize

The Players Championship, which starts today, features the PGA Tour's largest purse of the season.

By Bob Costas

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Post Player Health Plan - There are many ways to look at The Players Championship. Some see it as the final and largest prize of the year. Some see it as a stage for the great players to make a statement. The only way the 20000-odd fans at TPC Sawgrass can see it is as a show of talent and money. But the reality is somewhere in between.

The 2008 field includes Tiger Woods, Ernie Els and Greg Norman - all three critical components of a championship. The Players Championship is one of the few tournaments for which the schedule is not set by necessity. It is set by the need for the players.

The Players Championship was conceived as a way to get the best players together in a single event. Even in its first year, the tournament was a huge success. The two-week period in May was a time when players could get away from the demands of the Majors and focus on their own game.

The Players Championship is a tournament that is played for the love of the game. It is not played for the money. The money is a byproduct of the tournament. The players who compete in the Players Championship are the best in the world. They are the ones who have the chance to win the biggest tournament in golf.

EXPANDING GODDESS

Experienting with Ibsen

After becoming "fired" of Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House," Corrine Cooper-Adebayo decided to make some changes.

In her latest production, "A Doll's House," Corrine Cooper-Adebayo attempts to give new life to Henrik Ibsen's classic play written in every theatre and drama program in the world.

The production is set in a typical middle-class family home. The central character, Nora, is a young woman who has just given birth to her first child. She is married to Torvald, a successful businessman who expects her to be a perfect wife and mother.

However, Nora is not satisfied with her life. She feels trapped and suffocated by the expectations placed upon her. She begins to question the roles assigned to her and the traditional gender roles that are expected of women in society.

The production explores themes of freedom, independence, and choice. It challenges the viewers to consider the limitations placed on women and the importance of self-expression and personal growth.

The cast includes experienced actors who bring their unique interpretations to the roles, making the production a thought-provoking and engaging experience for the audience.

Tickets are available at the Hancher Auditorium box office or online. Don't miss this opportunity to witness a groundbreaking and inspiring production of Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House."

TV HIGHLIGHTS

Fridays

“Godfather”... The original “Godfather” is 25 years old and still holds its own. But the film's bad guy — Robert De Niro as Al Capone — isn’t as good as it gets. Governed by his frightening "mechanical" hussle, while the screen dishes out the final punches. By Norman Chell. Special to The Daily Iowan.

Saturday

“Reservoir Dogs.” Director Quentin Tarantino may have been trying to present an affecting, offbeat group of criminals in his West Memphis, Ark., debut, The Original gangster flick. As the Originals are represented here, De Niro and Brando. And they all are still as members of the most powerful family to hit the screen — the Corleones. The original mafia. The screen's first-time gangster film.

“Goodfellas.” If bad is what you want, here’s a movie that is number one in the box office. And a fine one at that: In a number one slot at summer camp at Maine’s Camp Waziyatah. Airs: 4 p.m. on KCRG-2.

Sunday

“Braveheart.” The audience at the Chicago Pavilion Thursday heard a song, "You're a Grand Old Flag"... But watching his crazy dream turn to reality. With Zimman’s Harvey Keitel and Bening’s perfect imitation of the Mafia. Airs: 8 p.m. on KCBQ.

“Nights at the Club.” The most popular music show on cable — "Dateline" was top, "The Tonight Show" was second — and "Private Parts" was third. "Dateline" was top, "The Tonight Show" was second — and "Private Parts" was third.

"The Great Outdoors." The audience at the Chicago Pavilion Thursday heard a song, "You're a Grand Old Flag"... But watching his crazy dream turn to reality. With Zimman’s Harvey Keitel and Bening’s perfect imitation of the Mafia. Airs: 8 p.m. on KCBQ.

Middle: It takes a steady hand and keen eye to fully master the joystick of "Ace," a renown- ed pilot who just dropped his bomb over little green trees.

Below: If junior Eric Gordon takes on "Police Trainer," a self-posed cop. "I don't know why I came here, I guess it's just to feel what it's like to be a cop, I mean fictionally over here." Gordon said.
