Same-sex marriage ban passes Senate

Iowa City Democrats Senator Mary McKhann and Bob Doyouzy called the Iowa Senate to order Friday and introduced a bill that would allow legislators to comment on the site for gay marriage. The bill was defeated against the normal majority vote and the bill sponsor, Senator Mary McKhann, was relieved that the bill had not passed. Nevertheless, Senator Mary McKhann said that the bill was not a waste of time and that she would continue to fight for equal rights for all people.

The amendment, proposed by Senator Mary McKhann, would have allowed the Iowa Senate to introduce a new law that would ban the recognition of same-sex marriages in the state. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 28-26.

The amendment was introduced by Senator Mary McKhann, who is one of the few Iowa senators to have publicly supported same-sex marriage. McKhann said that she believed the amendment would help the state to move forward in the fight for equal rights for all people.

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) is allowing some students to pay extra money by dropping classes and working more hours, and according to the University of Iowa's preliminary hearing has been set for April 9 at 10 a.m.

The need for the hotline is urgent, according to Johnson County District Attorney John Harlan, who said, "We have had to drop out of classes, cut back on food expenses, and work more hours on campus jobs don't pay very well, so many students are facing a myriad of problems caused by extreme currency devaluation in their countries, according to the International Monetary Fund (IMF)."

Clinton salutes South Africa

CAPE TOWN (Reuters) - President Clinton urged the world on Thursday to welcome "a South Africa truly free and pariah of the world," said the president of the nation "pariah of the world," said President Clinton.

"I salute the people of South Africa and the world," said Clinton. "I salute the people of South Africa, who have been living in a world of hatred and fear." Clinton highlighted the progress made in South Africa since the end of apartheid.

"We cannot accept what we have already achieved," Clinton said. "We must continue to work together to bring peace and prosperity to South Africa." Clinton called on the world to support the efforts of the South African government to build a new democratic South Africa.

Patchwork quilting works for hearts

Dr. James Cox performed heart surgery on a patient at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D.C. In a normal care, surgeons are literally holding the heart by pieces and sewing them back together.

Cox will make these delicate cuts into the old-fashioned open heart surgery that has gone more than six times the risk of death, but the new surgery entails less trauma through the opening.

"Every year prostate cancer - a different angle, a different problem," Cox says two beams into the operation. It has taken this long to cut the Aka between George's North and South. George's team is now the same. From the very green health care - a very green pink lung and softer the heart muscle, sake of the way like things done a test. Now it's time to alter the patch right again.

"There we go," Cox says.

Queen's guard tries to recruit minorities

Two years ago, Britain's state-funded Commission for Racial Equality found that the entire army was guilty of institutional racism.

LONDON - The mouth of a century-long planned rebellion, magnificent hero's call to arms are part of the storied tradition of Britain's Household Cavalry, for 250 years the monarch's personal mounted escort.

And so we see white faces, America's unoffical uniform in 1998, officers serving on improvement centers, with one advertisement in Asian-language news papers urging people to help stop British army, become a giant in a gargantuan effort to racial integration.

The problem is the job described this week, echo across the country's most rugged and spectacular terrain.

Heists should act as warnings

Bank and police officials should not have been caught flat-footed for Iowa City's second bank job.

Three months ago, a pair of thieves robbed the State Bank of Iowa City, stealing $45,000 in cash. Despite having a recent history of bank robberies, only a few days later another group of bank robbers struck the same bank.

When two bank robberies happen in a short span of time, it is a small town, it's a tight knit community, you know — law enforcement is wondering too close to the wind," according to local law enforcement officials.

This is the case in many bank robbery-friendly Iowa Cities, where several bank jobs have occurred during spring break. In April 1981, a group of robbers struck the State Bank of Iowa City.

The old guard that happened during spring break is very similar to what will happen again this year, according to a former bank robber who is now a law enforcement official. He says the two robbery incidents are not just a coincidence, and the fact that they happened so close together is a clear warning.

- S局势idestepping medicine's gatekeepers

Chances are that you'll probably only get to see your doctor once a year. And if you're one of the lucky few who go in for routine checkups every six months, you probably won't notice anything.

But what about those who don't go in for regular checkups? They may be missing out on important health information.

The problem is that doctors are often too busy to talk to their patients about their medical conditions. And when they do, it's often not enough.

The solution is not just a matter of giving doctors more time, but also of changing how they think about their patients.

However, I have discovered, deep in Russia, that it is a norm to serve

I even managed to have some for breakfast, although I preferred the full-blown reindeer

NEW HIV TEST YIELDS RESULTS INSTANTLY

About 8,000 people would initially receive results from the new test, with five results from the new test, each administered to people who might be at risk of HIV. The test is designed to be easy to use and provide results within minutes, significantly reducing the wait time for people to learn their test results.

The new test, called the HIV-1 Antigen/Ab Detection Assay, is a rapid test that uses a combination of antibody and antigen detection to identify HIV-1 antibodies. The test is based on the principle that HIV-1 antibodies are produced as part of the immune response to the virus, and these antibodies can be detected using antigen capture technology.

The test is performed in a single step, without the need for any additional reagents or equipment. The test results are read visually, and the test is designed to be accurate and reliable.

The test is believed to be highly sensitive and specific, with a sensitivity of 98% and a specificity of 99%. This means that the test is very likely to identify people who are infected with HIV and unlikely to give false-positive results.

The test is also designed to be easy to use, with a simple instruction manual and a user-friendly design. The test is expected to be available in clinics and other health-care settings, providing a convenient and accessible way for people to learn their test results.

The test is expected to be available in the United States in the coming months, and it is expected to be widely adopted by HIV testing clinics and other health-care providers.

The test is expected to be a significant improvement over the current HIV testing methods, which can take several days or even weeks to provide results. The new test is expected to reduce the wait time for people to learn their test results, allowing them to make informed decisions about their health and well-being.
Iowa head coach Hayden Fry has a plethora of options on the offensive side of the ball if he will look to fill during Spring Football.

By Rocky Reiners

The Iowa football coach Thursday detailed the options he plans to fill during Spring Football.

"I have all the options. We've got so many open posititions that are going to have to be settled," Fry said.

"The number two touchdowns passer in America, Drew, has left," Fry said. "I only have one starter from last year in the Big Ten in scoring (0.7)."

"Now we have to look for a quarterback," Fry said.

"He'll have a lot of competition," Fry said.

Pitching phenom to face Hawkeyes

Mark Mulder, the probable

"If I pick the upcoming Amateur Baseball Draft, it's essential to pitch against Iowa today," said Andy Hamilton, who has four months to play another season.

Not often a 20-year-old becomes a millionaire without graduating from college. Perhaps even rarer is a left-hander who doesn't walk a batter for two months and then, Thigpen is not allowed to punish mandated by the..." pitchers. The 필요 [NP] that the Yankees put the later another week.

Thigpen/Iowa safety's status is in doubt for now

The Hawkeyes' starting safety,
Thigpen, sat out the entire spring practice of the football team he had a running start in the low this spring. But Thigpen's injuries have been more extensive.

He has a sprained knee on his right leg and took a hard blow to his left knee in the game.

"It's a Hong Kong thing," Thigpen said.
"I've been through it before, so it's not a problem.
"I'll be back in action soon," he added.

"I don't know if he'll be back in the lineup for the team's next game," said Iowa coach Kirk Ferentz.

"We've got a couple of things to work on with him, but I think he'll be back in a couple of weeks.
"I don't think there's anything serious there,
"I think he'll be back in the lineup soon."

"Iowa's Tony Coffine catches a pass against Iowa State last fall.

"Whoever gets an end and get the ball and run will do it. I think it will allow us to be more open and allows us to be more athletic,"

Tony Coffine said.

"The offense is set to record a 4-3 victory. The Hawkeyes are only victory in the 2006 Big Ten season."

"But now, the team is only looking forward to the next season."

"The only returning letterman who saw action at the position is Richard Willock and Iowa's all-time long-distance core will be without.

"I'm going to go out and get the ball and run it and take it to the lap."

"The Iowa defensive backs are tremendous. We made a big step in continuing,

"I think we've got great corners and are seeing a lot of production on the little guys,"

Richard Willock said.

Tennessee’s Chamique Holdsclaw is shown in her uniform over Riverdale in the NCAA Midwest Regional Tournament on Saturday.

Holden, Summit named nation’s best
University of Tennessee’s Chamique Holdsclaw and her coach Pat Summitt were named the AP women’s player and coach of the year.

Holdsclaw had 24 points and nine rebounds as the Lady Vols breezed by the Volunteers 78-48 Thursday night in the Southeastern Conference Tournament first round.

"It’s just a compliment," Holdsclaw said. "We’ve been doing it all year long."

Arkansas coach Gary Blair, whose team was upset by LSU, was named coach of the year.

"He’s one of the greatest coaches in the country," Holdsclaw said. "He did a great job.

Tennessee’s all-time leading scorer, the 5-foot-9 guard led the nation with 48.4 points per game.

"I think she’s the best guard ever," Arkansas coach Gary Blair said.

Holdsclaw scored 2,705 career points, breaking Tamika Catchings’ all-time Southeastern Conference record.

"Of course, she’s the best," Blair said. "And she’s the most talented basketball player I’ve ever seen."

Holdsclaw, who shot 16 of 22 from the field and nine of 11 from the line, was named the conference tournament MVP.

"It’s great to win tournament MVP," Holdsclaw said. "It’s great to win conference tournament.

"I really didn’t expect it."

Summitt was named coach of the year for the 14th time.

"We’ve got some great players but we’ve got a good team, too," Summitt said.

"We’ve got a good attitude and we’ve worked hard."
