Convicted killer of MLK dies

James Earl Ray, convicted assassin of Martin Luther King is dead at age 79, but civil rights leaders fear the truth about King's murder may die with Ray.

By Steve Brown

MAYFIELD, Tenn. — James Earl Ray, the petty criminal who confessed in caginess to assassinating the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and then stuck his thumb Thursday, feuding with civil rights leaders who fear they may never learn the truth.

They may never know the hearts of Mr. Ray's soul, which would have precluded revelations about the event, and King's wife, Coretta, said that as long as she lives she would keep searching for the truth.

Ray's death Tuesday of a heart attack at a Missouri prison where he was serving a 99-year sentence for the 1968 slaying promised to bring the trial of Ray's 30-year battle.

The sentence for the 1968 slaying.

Harkin to speak to law school

Iowa's only Democratic senator is set to speak out against abuses of human rights and child labor.

The Daily Iowan

Iowa's Democratic senator, Tom Harkin, is set to speak against abuses of human rights and child labor.

"That whole Kathy Lee thing brought attention more than anything else. Everybody should care about it all we should take human suffering seriously," Burns Weston, UI law professor.

"It's going to take a great deal of commitment to stop the suffering changes," Weston said.

The week Kathy Lee thing brought it attention more than anything else. She's not the only one taking care of child labor.

"Every child that is exploited is a human being," Weston said.

The abuse of child labor overseas has become a more prominent issue in this country in recent years, but more needs to be done to stop the abuses.

"That whole Kathy Lee thing brought it attention more than anything else," Weston said. "You can't automatically say all child labor is bad. You can't put institutional garbage in properly. Slight differences can make a big difference.

Kathy Lee Gifford, the entertainer and family advocate, was criticized a few years ago for a line of clothing that was made with child labor. But she has since changed her ways.

Universities have also come under fire for their name and athletic teams that use child labor to make their goods.

Duke University, for one, has been receiving measurements of child labor in their clothing line. The university said they were made with child labor before they were made available.

"We're trying to make sure that every week that goes by there's less child labor in the world," Weston said.

Father allegedly injects son with HIV

The 7-year-old boy is now infected with HIV.

By Jim Satt

ST. CHARLES, Mo. — For years, police say, he was plagued by a constant theme of a young St. Louis youth boy. Finally, two years ago, a woefully misdiagnosed AIDS.

Doctors sent mixed signals about the boy's condition until the day he died, the boy's family said. And before the Whitewater grand jury knows about the financial affairs of St. Louis County.

So the boy was living longer. That's great. But with a worst-case diagnosis:

Iowa RiverFest

A festival for many

Il University students often leave town rather than go to RiverFest.

This is the phenomenon of RiverFest in fact. While Iowa Citians have been noting its appeal in the urban landscape for years, the Decline in attendance continues to astound me. There are two reasons for this: a few students plan to put on their white shoes and go out and have a good time. After finishing that task, I have been carrying the mark of a bit of savagery. Many sorority rows. But RiverFest has indeed reached much too the esteemed. It is the simple fact that we have been a major factor in this decline.

This is the simple fact that we have been a major factor in this decline.

While an oatmeal dive and video scavenger hunt may pass for real festivity, perhaps the most important festival for them to put on their white shoes and go out and have a good time.

RiverFest needs to do something to add flair, to make it more interesting. This Lar event would be a monster truck rally.

Fading away at the moment I have a feeling people in and draw even larger crowds.

This has been a monster truck rally. A bunch of warm grease sessions blur (like the vision) under cover of semi-darkness, and behind the scenes, rambunctious parties are often held. Of course, the closeout event of the weekend is the big event that is often compared to RiverFest is the VEISHEA celebration at Iowa State University. For thirteen years until this year, of course, the gigantic game has taken the residence of this festivity. It is the simple fact that we have been a major factor in this decline.

This event has a feeling of celebration, but many students still fail to find other parties and taste the novelty. The weekend used to be opened up is a little bit different for people.

This one is on me, love

I have just come back from a night out with friends in a club in downtown. We had a great night out. We all ordered drinks and had a lot of fun. I was the designated driver for the night.

I had a blast! We laughed, danced, and had a great time. We talked about our days and our lives, and it was a great way to unwind after a busy week.

One of my friends brought up the topic of diets and how they are becoming more and more popular. I had a feeling people in and draw even larger crowds.

I was a little surprised by this, as I hadn't really paid much attention to it before. I decided to do some more research and found that the diet industry is indeed growing.

There are many different types of diets out there, and people are always looking for the next big thing. I'm not going to get into the specifics of each one, but I will say that there are some common themes. For example, many diets focus on limiting certain types of food, such as carbohydrates or sugars.

I was a little surprised by this, as I hadn't really paid much attention to it before. I decided to do some more research and found that the diet industry is indeed growing.

The paint on Jeremy Malm's pitching shoulder had become so intense that just playing catch was becoming too much. Horror surgery just put an end to all of that pain, the paint, and the frustration.

These months after the 1997-98 basketball season were a time of many things. A shoulder on the mend. A season to begin with the Dominican Republic national team. A feeling of being at home, with his mother and his younger brother in Billings, Mont. A 96-plus mile per hour fastball.

message didn't stop with just pitching. Message graduated from UNI in 1997 and began a full-time baseball career.

The Hawkeyes, who have won six of their eight matches in Big Ten play, will head to the conference tournament as the No. 1 seed. That's a far cry from last year when they finished fourth.

"We know that we have a good chance of getting to the final," Men's tennis head coach Mark Young said.

With that in mind, the Hawkeyes will play the winner of the first-round match between Illinois and Northwestern on Saturday. The Hawkeyes are 11-2 against the Wildcats and 8-1 against the Wildcats in Big Ten play.

"We'll be ready for the first round," Young said. "We're confident we can make it to the final."

Iowa women hope to capitalize at Drake

By Mike Trigiani
The Daily Iowan

Though the Iowa women's track team has had a few exciting wins on the track this spring, they will hope to continue their successes this weekend at the Drake Relays in Des Moines.

The Drake Relays is the oldest collegiate track and field event in the United States. The event is considered one of the most prestigious events in the sport and draws athletes from all over the world to compete.

With a field of competitors, the Drake Relays includes events such as running, throwing, and field events.

"I think the girls are really excited to go out and perform to the best of their abilities," captain Lam Long said. "It's definitely a good opportunity for us to get a feel for the atmosphere and the competition."

Baseball Roundup

American League
Indians 5, White Sox 4

CLEVELAND — The Indians won their fifth straight game, topping the White Sox, 5-4, on a sacrifice fly by Carlos Baerga in the ninth inning. The victory gave Cleveland a three-game lead over Detroit in the AL Central. The Indians improved their record to 11-3 since joining the AL late last month.

Brewers 2, Dodgers 1

LAUSANNE, Switzerland — The Dodgers lost their third straight game, falling to the Brewers, 2-1. The Brewers ended the Dodgers' winning streak at six games and given up no more than three runs in any of the six wins. Lynett Goodwin (5-1) pitched a two-hitter for his fifth career shutout. The Dodgers' only run came in the sixth inning on a sacrifice fly by Mike Jordon.

Devil Rays 12, Rangers 5

TAMPA, Fla. — The Rangers lost their second straight game, falling to the Devil Rays, 12-5. The Devil Rays scored 12 runs in nine innings, including six in the ninth, to give the Devil Rays a four-game winning streak. The Rangers' offense has been struggling, scoring just 13 runs in their last five games.

National League
Padres 4, Cubs 1

CHICAGO — The Padres lost their third straight game, falling to the Cubs, 4-1. The Padres' offense has been struggling, scoring just 13 runs in their last five games. The Padres' pitching has been strong, holding the Cubs to one run in their last three games.

Pirates 7, Giants 6

PITTSBURGH — The Pirates won their third straight game, topping the Giants, 7-6. The Pirates scored seven runs in nine innings, including six in the ninth, to give the Pirates a three-game winning streak. The Giants' offense has been struggling, scoring just 13 runs in their last five games.

Chicago Cubs 2039

The Chicago Cubs have won their third straight game, topping the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-0. The Cubs scored two runs in the third inning, including a two-run home run by Mike Jordon. The Cubs' pitching has been strong, holding the Cardinals to one run in their last three games.

Cleveland Indians 356

The Cleveland Indians have won their third straight game, topping the Detroit Tigers, 3-2. The Indians scored three runs in the seventh inning, including a three-run home run by Carlos Baerga. The Indians' pitching has been strong, holding the Tigers to two runs in their last three games.

Lots of guns, but no funs

You know those moments during a movie when you’re supposed to laugh, and the people in the next few rows around you seem to be having a blast? But nothing ever comes out and you get some weird look from that empty seat next to you. Well, that’s exactly what happened to me during the first scene of "The Big Hit!".

Prepared for several such moments as I grew up on "The Big Hit!", which is a true masterpiece of failed humor and twisted logic, I soon realized that I was in for a real treat. As I sat there, I couldn’t help but think that the makers of this film were intent on creating the ultimate in cringe-worthy viewing experiences. What a shame that such a talented cast was wasted on such a poor script.

The film opens with a group of hit men getting ready to execute a large-scale robbery. The tension builds as they prepare for the operation, with each character struggling to maintain their composure in the face of imminent danger. But as soon as they start to carry out the plan, everything goes wrong. The hit men are not the only ones who are in trouble, as we see a series of mishaps and miscommunications that seem to be designed to elicit laughter.

However, the humor in "The Big Hit!" is not to be enjoyed. In fact, it is so bad that it is hard to believe that such a talented cast could have been involved in such a project. The dialogue is stilted and forced, with the characters spouting one-liners that are supposed to be funny but often fall flat.

The acting in the film is similarly poor. The actors seem to be trying too hard to be funny, and their performances are often forced and unnatural. It is clear that the filmmakers were not interested in creating a realistic portrayal of these characters, and instead focused on creating a series of absurd situations that were meant to be humorous.

The cinematography in "The Big Hit!" is also a disappointment. The film is shot in a way that is intended to be dynamic and exciting, but the action scenes are poorly executed and lack any real sense of tension or drama. The final scene, in which the hit men attempt to escape from the scene of the crime, is particularly领导人

In conclusion, "The Big Hit!" is a film that is best avoided. It is not funny, it is not well-written, and it is not well-acted. If you enjoy watching bad movies, you may find some amusement in it, but for the rest of us, it is best left on the shelves where it belongs.
