Manhole accident draws contractor's fire

Sitting hundreds of dollars per person for admission tests is well-worth the money down the drain, but others question the effect of such tests. "I don't think it's worth the thousands of dollars students pay, but others will go through the process," said Rebecca Alderson, president of the UI Student Government. Thursday approved a measure to suspend the SAT and ACT test guidelines set up by the regents a peer group to discuss prospects.

Heart scanner step to forefront in Shestack's lecture

The prominent lawyer spoke at the past, present and future forum held on Thursday, November 14, in the Old Capitol Building's Grand Hall.

"The people there don't want to be tortured..." Shestack pronounced as she taught the doctrine of moral relativism.

"Under George Bush and Clinton, Shestack said, "The doctrine of moral relativism has been embraced by presidents in the United States."

"In the past, the doctrine of moral relativism was used to justify torture. But today, Shestack explained, "We see that the doctrine of moral relativism has been used to justify torture by both Republicans and Democrats."

"It is a problem that we must address," Shestack concluded. "We must work to end the use of torture in all cases."

NATION & CITY

Rally calls for rape clause

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House on Monday was bracing for a potentially explosive moment as the Judiciary Committee began its formal deliberations on whether to impeach President Clinton, who has denied ever raping anyone.

"This is going to be a tough, tough fight," said a senior administration official, who asked not to be quoted by name.

The Judiciary Committee, which has jurisdiction over impeachment proceedings, is expected to vote later today on whether to hand off a possible impeachment case to the full House, which would then have to vote whether to impeach the president.

Clinton's accuser, 29-year-old Gennifer Flowers, was expected to appear Monday before the committee, where she has been subpoenaed.

"This is the one committee where one person can make a decision," said a senior aide to Republican Sen. Trent Lott of Mississippi, who will chair the committee if it votes to impeach.

"If the committee is happy with what they've seen from her, then they're going to move toward impeachment," Lott said.

Clinton's legal team is expected to appear later today before the committee.

"I think they're going to try to tear this woman down," said a senior aide to Democratic Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

"I don't know if they're going to be able to do it," the aide said.

Boys of summer distract from woes

This summer's news has been dominated by two large stories. Between them, they have held just about everyone's attention. They also manage in a way that is almost eerie to see all that is good and bad about life in the United States.

Let's start with the good. The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce recently announced that Iowa City has been named America's Best Place to Live for 2001 by Money Magazine. Mayor J. Bruce Klipsch said that the city's businesses, educational institutions, and cultural events are the key to its success.

The best way to reduce the number of noise complaints is to move the city back to the days when people didn't have to deal with the noise from their neighbors. But just as it looked like good neighbors were finally emerging, one family moved in, took over the top floor, and started another bar and grill. And they knew why.

The good news is that Iowa City is home to a number of excellent restaurants. The Cork, located on 10th Street, offers a unique and eclectic menu that is sure to satisfy any palate. And the Black Cat, located on Market Street, offers a great selection of wines and a cozy atmosphere.

The bad news is that Iowa City is also home to some of the most expensive homes in the country. The median home price in Iowa City is $200,000, and this is only expected to increase as the city continues to grow.

In short, Iowa City is a great place to live, but it is also a place where the wealthy can afford to live in luxury while the rest of us struggle to make ends meet. But at least we have the beautiful spring weather to enjoy.

The weather is cool and pleasant, and people are going outside to enjoy the great outdoors. The best way to spend your time is to find a trail and go for a run, or take a bike ride along the Iowa River. And don't forget to pack a lunch and enjoy the scenery.

I have noticed a large section of The Daily Iowan space filled with UI students complaining about the life-ending 9.2 percent tuition hike proposed by the Iowa state Board of Regents.

I am rather saddened by the student body's reaction to the proposed increase. The student body is very fortunate to be in the situation that it is in. Most college students do not have the luxury of being able to continue their education after every five or seven years.

The proposals increase not only the cost to students but also the overall cost to the university. The percentage of UI's students who earn significantly above the $1,000 total in that same time span.

The student body is only showing its mouths in this issue. I have noticed a student who has been a member of the university band for four years. He has been asked to think about tuition in order to continue his education.

Our student body is becoming very spoiled and lazy. It is time for them to take the life lesson that the UI has to offer.

Beck: Maybe Cubs loss is rallying point

CUBS

Quoted from SB

"It's not our last chance," Ross said, "but we want to do something and that's what we have to do." The Cubs have one game left in the last place in the National League East. "You never say never until you're in the last game," Ross said. "You don't get enough baseball to say things like that." The Cubs lost 5-4 on Friday night to the Chicago White Sox. Ross hit a single in the ninth inning but the Cubs couldn't come back.

Ross said the victory was important for the team and the fans.

"It's a great win," he said. "It's always fun to win on the last day of the season." The Cubs are currently in fourth place in the NL East with a record of 72-86. They face off against the Milwaukee Brewers on Saturday night.

By Dave Seabury

The Seattle Seahawks are starting their season on Sunday against the Tennessee Titans. The game will be held at CenturyLink Field in Seattle.

"I'm excited for the start of the season," Seahawks head coach Pete Carroll said. "We've been working hard and we're ready to play." The Seahawks are coming off a disappointing season last year and are looking for a strong start this year.

"We have a lot of confidence in our team," Carroll said. "We've been practicing hard and we're ready to compete." The Seahawks have a tough schedule this year and are looking to prove themselves on the field.

"We're looking forward to the game," Carroll said. "We're excited to be back and to play in front of our fans." The Seahawks are one of the most popular teams in the NFL and are expected to draw a large crowd.

"We're ready to go," Carroll said. "We're excited to start the season and to play our first game of the year." The Seahawks are looking to build on last year's success and are ready to take the field.
Seahawks start 'regular' season in Pittsburgh

By Dave Beckberg

The exhibition opener is over for the Seattle Seahawks. After nothing but class shows in NFC East play, a lot of the team is taking the weekend off and looking ahead to the season opener against the St. Louis Rams on Sept. 10 in Seattle. The Rams, who beat the Seahawks in the exhibition opener last year, are in St. Louis this week.

The Seahawks have scored 35 or more points in every game except one. They won at home, 20-19, over the Indianapolis Colts, and 17-13, over the Carolina Panthers. They lost in New Orleans, 27-20.

Hawks to host top Cup holder

By Mike Moly

The University of Iowa tennis program, host at the annual NCAA Men's Tennis Championships, will face the University of Michigan in the first round.

The Hawkeyes beat the Wolverines last year in the first round of the tournament, and are looking for a repeat performance.

The Hawkeyes are coming off a 7-1 loss to Connecticut last weekend, while the Wolverines are off to a 2-0 start.

The match will be played on Saturday afternoon at the University of Iowa Tennis Center.

WOMEN'S ROWING

Senior back Natalie Mundi says the team is looking forward to the upcoming season.

"We've got a lot of good athletes," said Mundi. "We've got a very challenging schedule, so we can't give them many stipulations for the team this year."

The Hawkeyes, who are coming off two stellar weekends, will have a very challenging schedule this season.

The team will face some tough opponents, including the NCAA Regionals and National Championships.

"We are the last team in the country," said Mundi. "We have gotten better every year, and we are looking forward to a long way top. I feel good about the season coming up."

NBA cancels 24 exhibition games due to owner lockout

The NBA and its players' union have reached an agreement to cancel 24 exhibition games due to the ongoing labor dispute. The cancellations are the result of the owners' lockout, which has been in effect since July 1. The games were scheduled to take place between October 21 and November 22. The NBA and the players' union have been unable to reach a deal on a new collective bargaining agreement. The lockout is expected to continue until a deal is reached or the owners' lockout is lifted.

Doctors battery of tests due on owner lockout

The NBA doctors' battery of tests has resumed, with the owners set to hold their next meeting on October 19. The doctors are expected to provide recommendations on the future of the league. The doctors have been conducting tests on a regular basis since the lockout began, with the aim of providing the owners with the best possible information to make informed decisions. The owners have been discussing various scenarios, including the possibility of extending the lockout or ending it altogether. The next meeting will be crucial in determining the direction of the league.

Baseball football called off because of Hurricane Georges

The baseball and football seasons in the southeastern United States have been canceled due to the threat of Hurricane Georges. The hurricane, which is expected to make landfall on the east coast this week, has forced the cancellation of numerous sporting events. The National Football League (NFL) and the National Hockey League (NHL) have already made the decision to cancel their games. The NCAA has also announced that all autumn sports will be postponed until after the hurricane season. The hurricane is expected to cause significant damage and disruption, with the potential for power outages, flooding, and other hazards. The sports world is urging fans to stay safe and follow the instructions of local authorities during the hurricane.

May the best bug win

DreamWorks' "Antz" and Disney's "A Bug's Life" are being released soon amid great controversy.

LOS ANGELES - First again, this time.

In the next few weeks, two computer-animated movie sequels will be released: DreamWorks' "Antz" and Disney's "A Bug's Life." When "A Bug's Life" hit theaters in late 1998, it was hailed as one of the best films ever made. But now, with the release of its sequel, "A Bug's Life" is facing a barrage of criticism from critics and the public alike.

The idea had other things going for it. Disney also unexpectedly had long been considering doing an animated ant movie. As far as "Antz," it had gone straight to the big screen as a short film before "A Bug's Life" was released. "Antz" was a massive success, becoming the first computer-animated film to make more than $100 million in domestic box office revenue.

When Lasseter came to the affair, the ant project was already well underway. It began on Aug. 23, 1994, when Lasseter was already working on "A Bug's Life," a film that would eventually become "A Bug's Life." The idea had other things going for it.
