Starr defends his impeachment accusations

Washingt. - Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr steadfastly defended his investigation under intense questioning Thursday from President Clinton's private attorney in a much publicized hearing. Starr, who is investigating charges of perjury and obstruction of justice, is trying to secure a ---

---

The next wave surfing for textbooks

Online booksellers provide UI students with another option

By Billy Mills

Spending hundreds of dollars on textbooks is bad enough, and waiting in long lines at the bookstore is often the only way to avoid it.

But for UI students wanting to avoid the hassle of waiting in line to buy the books they need, online companies that allow students to purchase textbooks online provide a convenient alternative option.

Some companies, such as Amazon.com and Bennet's Books, are well-known names in the online textbook industry, offering a national selection of second-hand books in addition to new books. Several other online textbook sites are also available, such as Amazon.com, which offers a 90 percent guarantee and free shipping, and used textbooks.com, which offers a 100 percent guarantee and free shipping.

"I think the main reason people go online is to save money," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company tries to offer books at the lowest prices possible. Unlike the brick-and-mortar stores, online sites do not have to pay for rent or utilities, allowing them to offer lower prices.

"The advantage of using online booksellers is that they can offer more books at a lower price," she said.

---

Deck the malls with bounties of buying

With the arrival of the holiday season, local retailers are singing, come all ye faithful shoppers.

By Selena Apotheker

The holiday season is upon us, and the rush to buy gifts for loved ones is in full swing. Local retailers are preparing for a busy season, with many offering special promotions and deals to attract customers.

"The holiday season is a very important time for retailers," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.

---

‘Star Wars: The Phantom Menace’ preview hits theaters today

Current fans can get a boost in business as ‘Star Wars’ fans come out to see the ‘Phantom Menace’ trailer

By Kelly Wisniewski

"Star Wars" enthusiasts in Iowa are expected to flock to movie theaters across the country this weekend to see the latest installment of the franchise, "Star Wars: The Phantom Menace." The movie opens nationwide on May 19, 1999, and fans are eager to see the new characters and storylines.

"I know that everyone is very excited about this movie," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.

---

Starr hearing draws local yawns

First few City View listeners bored to see the special prosecutor’s testimony Thursday.

By Selena Apotheker

The hearing of the special prosecutor's testimony Thursday was attended by a limited number of City View listeners.

"I was very disappointed to see the hearing," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.

---

Holiday shopping

Hotel rooms, such as Ocel Old Capitol Mall, above, are sporting elaborate holiday decorations to draw in shoppers.

---

‘Star Wars’ trailer in scoring with fans

For his part, Kendall sought to set the record straight about the impeachment hearings.

For his part, Kendall sought to set the record straight about the impeachment hearings. He said that he did not have any involvement in the matter and that he was simply doing his job as a lawyer.

"I was very disappointed to see the hearing," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.

---

‘Star Wars’ preview grosses ahead of competition

With a streak of success, the movie is expected to do well at the box office.

"The movie is expected to do well at the box office," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.

---

‘Star Wars’ box office success expected to continue

The trailer can currently be seen in theaters all across the country.

The trailer can currently be seen in theaters all across the country. The box office success of the movie is expected to continue as fans flock to see the new characters and storylines.

"I know that everyone is very excited about this movie," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.

---

‘Star Wars’ box office success expected to continue

The trailer can currently be seen in theaters all across the country.

The trailer can currently be seen in theaters all across the country. The box office success of the movie is expected to continue as fans flock to see the new characters and storylines.

"I know that everyone is very excited about this movie," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.

---

‘Star Wars’ box office success expected to continue

The trailer can currently be seen in theaters all across the country.

The trailer can currently be seen in theaters all across the country. The box office success of the movie is expected to continue as fans flock to see the new characters and storylines.

"I know that everyone is very excited about this movie," said Amy Hough, marketing director of used textbooks.com.

Hough said her company is offering a special promotion during the holiday season, with a 10 percent discount on all textbooks purchased online.

"We want to make it easy for students to buy textbooks online during this busy season," she said.
The Daily Iowan
Volume 110, Issue 103

U.S. Secretary General Kofi Annan, third from right, dedicates a bronze sculpture of an African bull elephant by the sculptor known as Mihall, second from right, at an unveiling ceremony at the United Nations Wednesday. Some see the statue, made from a cast of an actual African bull elephant, as too anatomically correct.

CALENDAR

Today
-- Society Continuum will sponsor an International Bible discussion 12:30-1:30 p.m. Global Voice Radio Station will sponsor "Peace in Farcce Human Rights '98" at Senery of Human Rights Radio at the United Nations 11 a.m. New York Observer will sponsor "Do You Have a Romance with a Co-worker You Like?" at 8 p.m. Boston Observer will sponsor an International Bible discussion 8 p.m.

Society Continuum will sponsor "Do You Have a Romance with a Co-worker You Like?" at 8 p.m.

Center for Teaching Review

The Center for Teaching is seeking reviews. The review committee is seeking written comments from Faculty, Teaching Assistants, and Staff, on the effectiveness of the Center and its staff. Please contact any member of the review committee, listed below:

David Manderscheid, Chair; Mathematics, 280 MUM, david-manderscheid@uiowa.edu

Kathy Clark, Nursing, 434 NB, kathy-clark@uiowa.edu

Shelley Lucas, Sports, Health, Leisure, and Physical Studies, E102 FH, shelley-lucas@uiowa.edu

Russell Valentino, Religion, 628 BH, russell-valentino@uiowa.edu

Don Vatthour, Psychological and Quantitative Foundations, N49 LC, d-vatthour@uiowa.edu

Sponsored by the University of Iowa College of Law and University of Iowa Department of Philosophy

The BIG picture

Do you want to know?

Great Mid serves
Hot Lunches & Dinners

Vegetarian Soups & Sandwiches and More!

Vegetarian Soups & Sandwiches and More!

Call ahead for take out!
Septuplets celebrate first birthday

The verdict is in contrast to a $185,000 settlement McDonald's and the family were offered.

The new governor wants to rid the process of politicking.

Vilsack ponders revamping budget-drafting process.
The Daily A. Scho Friday, November Gem Hotel Inquiry,

With the new mall opening, shoppers have something to look forward to in the form of new shops and restaurants.

Business

There are many activities and attractions for the Christmas season.

Sports

President's Men will make a decision on whether to continue their season.

Education

UI students can purchase textbooks online through the bookstore.

Images

A photo of the Coral Ridge Mall is shown with the words "We're Open!"
Finding literacy in TV

By E.L. Page

Television. It's not only a source of value to society and a necessity to others. Today, for the world, television is an umbrella for the transmission of many different forms of literacy in the United States.

In Iceland will be an opportunity to educate their people and earnment advisory posts and has been added. And the problem of the foreign programming.

International television between the Hill and Germany, where movies are sponsored by the Thorbjorn Programs and Iceland is a little to no international programs are educational in United States.

Come and respect for the diversity of human rights to a packed lecture hall. It's worth shopping downtown.

Speaker defends moral truth of human rights

By E.L. Page

One of the nation's foremost legal jurists lectured about the nature of human rights to a packed audience of about 300 people Thursday night.

"We are universally - no matter what culture - have these rights, but those are human rights," said Ronald Dworkin, visiting as part of the "Global Focus: Human Rights" series.

Skeptic relativism - the idea that facts are subjectively relevant to us, our own views and dogmas will be clinically.

Dworkin said, "The idea that we judge to be of human rights to a packed lecture hall. It's worth shopping downtown."

Dworkin said, "The idea that we judge to be true, however, is that there is diversity or opinion that is our diversity.

"If we are supposed to be free and equal, and the problem is one of human rights to a packed lecture hall.

It's worth shopping downtown."

"If we are supposed to be free and equal, and the problem is one of human rights to a packed lecture hall.

It's worth shopping downtown.

Saturday, November 21
10:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.
Poppy's Puppet Festival at Iowa City Public Library
12 p.m. - 2 p.m.
Hancher Annie Extravaganza at Old Capitol Mall
2:30 p.m. - 4 p.m.
Jessie's Clause and North Pole Friends Playhouse at Old Capitol Mall

Sunday, November 22
11:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.
Brunch with Santa at Holiday Inn
1:00 p.m.
Santa and Jessica Claus Arrival to Downtown (start at Holiday Inn)
1:30 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.
Entertainment: performances and presentations of various multicultural celebrations at Old Capitol Mall
1:30 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.
Carriage Rides (pickup in front of Lorentz Boot Shop)
2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.
Downtown Open House
2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.
Downtown Outdoor Kiosks - The Art of Accents from Around the World at Iowa City Public Library
4:00 p.m.
Tree Lighting Processional Begins (gather in front of Old Capitol Mall, East Entrance by Taco Bell)
4:30 p.m.
Tree Lighting Ceremony (near Pedestrian Mall Fountain)
Israel barely OKs plan

JERUSALEM - Israel barely OKs plan to withdraw from 1088 square miles, or 3 percent of the West Bank, the occupied territories, a government source said Thursday.

The Cabinet narrowly approved the plan to disengage from 17,000 Palestinians, mostly farmers, who live in the region, a Cabinet source said Thursday.

Arafat had predicted the Cabinet would approve the plan, which was first presented two years ago, but reports had suggested since May 1996 had zigzagged on the issue.

In the Cabinet meeting Thursday, the committee approved the plan by a vote of 7-5, with three abstentions, the source said.

In Bethlehem, a town of 17,000 Palestinians just west of Jerusalem, where violence was taking place in the region, the Cabinet gave the go-ahead for the disengagement plan.

In the disengagement plan, Israel will give the Palestinians full control of 3 percent of the West Bank, the Cabinet source said Thursday.

Palestinian Authority stages a jubilant independence day parade in the farming town of Jenin in the northern West Bank Thursday.

The withdrawal of the military is expected to give the Palestinians full control of 3 percent of the West Bank, the Cabinet source said Thursday.

The Cabinet source said the disengagement plan would be completed in a few hours.

Israel never réseaued the West Bank, the Cabinet source said Thursday.

The Cabinet agreed Thursday to disengage from a few hours of the land in the In Qabatieh, a town of Jenin just south of Jenin, in the northern West Bank Thursday.

The Cabinet narrowly approved the disengagement plan Thursday, the source said Thursday.

The Cabinet had approved the disengagement plan Thursday, a government source said Thursday.

Arafat had predicted the Cabinet would approve the plan, which was first presented two years ago, but reports had suggested since May 1996 had zigzagged on the issue.

The Cabinet source said the disengagement plan would be completed in a few hours.

Palestinian Authority stages a jubilant independence day parade in the farming town of Jenin in the northern West Bank Thursday.

The withdrawal of the military is expected to give the Palestinians full control of 3 percent of the West Bank, the Cabinet source said Thursday.

The Cabinet source said the disengagement plan would be completed in a few hours.
Eleven more states back tobacco deal

More than half the states in a 26-state coalition have signed on to a $206 billion settlement worked out with the tobacco companies. It was announced Wednesday in Chicago by an agent for the Food and Drug Administration.

The settlement is the largest in business history. It includes a $206 billion deal signed by the 46 states, the District of Columbia, and six Native American tribes. The settlement also includes a pledge by the tobacco companies to stop selling cigarettes to minors and to pay $2.8 billion to the states for the costs of health care for tobacco-related diseases.

The settlement is expected to relieve the states of their legal obligations to the tobacco companies. It is not yet clear how the states will divide the settlement.

The settlement comes as part of a 1998 proposed settlement that was approved by a federal judge in 1999. The proposed settlement requires the tobacco companies to pay $206 billion over 199 years to the states, and the tobacco companies have agreed to pay $206 billion over 199 years to the states.

The settlement is expected to provide a new source of revenue for the states. It will also provide a new source of revenue for the federal government. The settlement is expected to be signed by the states in the coming weeks.

The settlement is expected to be signed by the states in the coming weeks. The settlement is expected to be signed by the states in the coming weeks.

The settlement is expected to be signed by the states in the coming weeks. The settlement is expected to be signed by the states in the coming weeks.
Cedar Rapids cannot turn its back on homosexuals

Mark hoffman and national coalition, the cedar Rapids Civil Rights Commission overwhelmingly voted to recommend adding sexual orientation to the city's civil rights ordinance.

I submitted a formal petition to the cedar Rapids City Council to approve the addition.

Although most council members have alleged that the inclusion of gays to the ordinance grants them "special rights," there is nothing substantial about safeguarding gays from discrimination in housing and the workplace.

Freedom from discrimination is a basic right of citizenship. As Americans, we should "bear" our civil rights responsibilities.

Many residents, including several members of the clergy, supported the petition and spoke to the commission on Oct. 13. Those who opposed the measure were given equal time to express their opinions.

Our impassioned remarks. Craig dorn, extremely worried remonstrances that "If you do anything to promote this homosexual lifestyle, the bible says you are worthy of death.

Craig was initially opposed to the measure, but was convinced of its necessity by interviewing such extreme views.

"AIDS kills more than 400,000 Americans a year, more college students are lighting up at gay pride parades than at football games, and intolerant. The council must set an important example of fairness. We cherish the ideal of equal opportunity, and this ordinance helps ensure that."

"Freedom from discrimination is a basic right of citizenship. As Americans, we should "bear" our civil rights responsibilities.

"Anti-gay forces are both organized and militant. Self-described members of the religious right had the gall to crash Shepard's funeral, displaying placards and screaming that they were proud of what they had done.

"These actions have the potential to incite violence, because some people are so extreme that they are willing to resort to violence in order to achieve their goals.

"We cannot fall into this trap during our deliberations. To exclude gays in this case is not "necessity.""

"The council cannot fall into this trap during its deliberations. To exclude gays in this case is not "necessity.""

"The council cannot fall into this trap during its deliberations. To exclude gays in this case is not "necessity.""

"The council cannot fall into this trap during its deliberations. To exclude gays in this case is not "necessity.""
DI article on enrollment reflects culture's racist attitudes

ESPITE the pressure and heavy burden of my graduate-school deadlines, I had to take the time to express my utter dis­content with a recent article by Rebecca Anderson. "Blacks have lowest graduation rate, figures say," {

DI Nov 16.

I take exception with more than one of the article's points and would like to present a different viewpoint.

My argument, instead, speaks to the sentiment of the article's title. The article talks about two white students, a woman, and the AFRICA-An­dersen students from urban schools who are responsible for the low graduation rate. How can we then attribute every black student's academics to an African-American background? Is it fair to say all of the blame lies with the students themselves? The article uses phrases such as "blacks" and "African-Americans" in the same sentences,

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be respon­sible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race.

The article quotes W. E. B. Du Bois as saying, "Growing up pre-machinistically black neighborhoods and high-schools may be overwhelming for the less fortunate who are not only not given a chance but are also put under the burden of how things are to be." The article continues on to talk about the article's use of the phrase, "African-Americans," and what implications that this one holds for the DI. In the third week of November, only weeks before finals, when the pressure is at its highest, the DI prints an article that is nothing but vacuous commentary. Why not just print the subtext of Elliot's column? Why not just print the subtext of your own work?

Who in their right mind would actually try to make it to class, let alone throw the bowels now and view your piece? Not with the pompousness of this article that fails to be accountable for the factual contentions of the statistics. Why is the DI trying to lead the public to believe that this one holds the DI's responsibility, and not the writer's responsibility? Why would any reasonable person listen to a piece printed in a student newspaper? The DI and its writers are just as responsible for the content of this article as the readers are.

Additionally, the statement that Iraq has built up a stockpile of nuclear weapons is false. Iraq possesses no nuclear weapons. This is the most disputing, cor­ruptive and dangerous action put forth in the DI this year. I, for one, demand and want the DI's efforts to attend to the accurate, the true and the important.

For the reasons put forth in this letter, I demand a written retrac­tion of this article in the most important fashion. I demand a retraction of this article that will not get a retraction, but that will be in bold and permanent until the DI takes responsibility for this article.

I am mapping out an on-campus cam­paign wherein I will collect a petition of names to continue the demand for a retraction. I urge students, the DI and the University of Iowa to notify me at the appropriate time to respond to my request.

Josuene

A large part of the student body at the University of Iowa is comprised of African-American students. Students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white so­ciety, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand. The depiction of African-American students as unedu­cable is not only a gross mischaracterization, but also a regrettably ignorant and deceitful notion.

The article has been asigned, as they do, to be far off from the desired for responsibility initiatives outlined on this campus and deplores the experiences of "minority" students away from their educational peers. This is why we have to say this article is not only out of order, but also disrespectful.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortu­nately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.

The article concludes with the lament of the inability of black students to meet high ACT scores. The DI fails to be responsible for the discussion of the economic (race), class and gender biases evident of standardized testing, and what it means to the larger scope of the educational system that those who are predisposed to learn here are stratified and marketed according to their race. Unfortunately, African-American students from urban schools have had the interface to negotiate, in through and around white society, to educate themselves and gain an upper hand.
Dear Valued Customer,

Younkers Days have arrived just in time to keep you warm! And as an added bonus, we are offering you even BIGGER savings during the sale. Now you can save an additional 20% Off items already reduced 20%-60% so invite your entire family and your home. Along with our special Younkers Days sale prices throughout the store, you will receive an additional 20% Off* on regular, sale and clearance price items. It's our way of helping you kick-off the holiday season in style.

Plus, we're offering interest-free deferred billing to our valued Younkers charge customers. Simply use your Younkers Charge during this event and make no payment for 90 days. Ask a sales associate for details.

With the additional 20% Off our already special Younkers Days sale prices and deferred billing, this event promises to be a wonderful opportunity for you to save.

Sincerely,

Younkers

DECEMBER CUSTOMER APPRECIATION DURING YOUNKERS DAYS

President & CEO

Here's How It Works!

Cypress Comfort Rake
Original Price .......... $72
Sale Price ........... $49.99
Less Additional 20% ....... $10
YOU PAY ONLY (add tax) .... $39.99

Holiday Popcorn Tins
3.99
With Any Purchase
Cheesy from four distinctive flavors filled with pepper, cheese and regular popcorn.

也是一个选项。
All eyes on Fry's future

With only two games remaining, Iowa looks to extend its winning streak and solidify its position in the Big Ten conference. Head Coach Fran McCaffrey has emphasized the importance of focusing on each game as they approach, avoiding any letdowns that could disrupt the team's momentum.

Frywatch

Tonight at 7 p.m., the Hawkeyes will face off against the Iowa State Cyclones. While the Cyclones are currently in second place in the Big 12, the Hawkeyes have a strong record against them, winning three of their last four games against Iowa State. The game is crucial for both teams, as it will impact their positioning in the conference standings.

HAWKEYES AVG. 2017

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>Bats</th>
<th>AB</th>
<th>H</th>
<th>R</th>
<th>RBI</th>
<th>SB</th>
<th>CS</th>
<th>Average</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Kyle Schwarber</td>
<td>L</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>.400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zip Scott</td>
<td>R</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>.513</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benito Santiago</td>
<td>R</td>
<td>50</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>.575</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kade Scivicque</td>
<td>L</td>
<td>60</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>.583</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Hawkeyes have a strong lineup with Schwarber leading the way in RBIs and average. The team is looking to build on their recent success and continue their winning streak.

Sosa is the man

Sosa's 57 home runs this season have solidified his status as one of the game's most feared sluggers. In addition to his power, Sosa has also shown a keen sense of the game, drawing 127 walks and driving in 138 runs.

TV:

WGN America (CH 7/22)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Milwaukee Brewers (10/11)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Pittsburgh Pirates (10/15)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at St. Louis Cardinals (10/18)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles Dodgers (10/21)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Arizona Diamondbacks (10/24)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Colorado Rockies (10/27)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at San Diego Padres (10/30)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at St. Louis Cardinals (10/31)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Pittsburgh Pirates (10/4)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Milwaukee Brewers (10/8)

Next:

Chicago Cubs at Pittsburgh Pirates (10/12)
The also sprained her ankle - a former teammate of Sosa’s in SOSA can players. Texas’ Juan Gonzalez shut

WOMEN’S

you like to be -

Continued

10 Iowa, H5 (KOC II 2, 0IiYIr 1I-2, lUnRH CONFEA£NCI!

Hawkeye, Gopher seniors don’t want to go out losers

Fry said, “It’s just been one of those

Hawkeye women host athletic Kentucky team Sunday

WOMEN’S BBALL

Combined PB

Fourth-year guard Maria Osli-

will likely make both starting games this week. She has been

112 draws, 121 blocks and 102

The Line

Price: Daily Iowa On The Line 1-T-Shirt

and a pizza from Papa John’s.
The Iowa wrestling team will open its season at the Dakota Dome on Saturday.

By Tony Wilt
tawn 38

The Hawkeyes will return to the Dakota Dome on Saturday. In the past, this has been an annual tradition for the Iowa wrestling team. The team will compete against the University of Nebraska on Saturday. The contest is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

The Hawkeyes are looking forward to the match against the Cornhuskers. "This will be a great opportunity for the team to showcase its talents," said Coach Tom Brands.

The Iowa men's football team will play its final game of the season against the Cornhuskers. "We are excited to face Nebraska," said Coach Mark Conti.

Iowa State will also compete against the University of Nebraska in volleyball. "We are looking forward to the challenge," said Coach Matt Barta.

The Iowa women's swimming team will travel to Minneapolis to face the Gophers. "We are excited to compete against a strong team," said Coach Larry Wieczorek.

The Iowa women's basketball team will face the Cyclones in Ames. "We are ready to take on the Cyclones," said Coach Lisa Bluder.

The men's basketball team will travel to Lincoln to face the Cornhuskers. "We are excited to compete against a tough team," said Coach Fran McCaffery.

The Iowa men's cross country team will compete against the Hawkeyes. "We are ready to showcase our talents," said Coach Chris Evertson.

The Iowa tennis team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Tournament. "We are excited to compete in the Big Ten Tournament," said Coach Ross Wilson.

The Iowa wrestling team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are ready to compete against a strong team," said Coach Tom Brands.

The Iowa men's track and field team will compete against the Cornhuskers. "We are ready to showcase our talents," said Coach Dave Moodie.

The Iowa men's gymnastics team will face the Cornhuskers. "We are excited to compete against a strong team," said Coach John Ritter.

The Iowa women's gymnastics team will face the Cornhuskers. "We are ready to compete against a tough team," said Coach Jay Smith.

The Iowa women's soccer team will face the Cornhuskers. "We are excited to compete against a tough team," said Coach Dave DiIorio.

The Iowa men's soccer team will face the Cornhuskers. "We are ready to showcase our talents," said Coach Mike Barnatt.

The Iowa men's basketball team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Tournament. "We are ready to compete against a strong team," said Coach Fran McCaffery.

The Iowa women's basketball team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Tournament. "We are excited to compete against a strong team," said Coach Lisa Bluder.

The Iowa men's cross country team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are ready to compete against a strong team," said Coach Chris Evertson.

The Iowa women's swimming team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are excited to compete against a strong team," said Coach Larry Wieczorek.

The Iowa men's track and field team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are ready to showcase our talents," said Coach Dave Moodie.

The Iowa men's gymnastics team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are excited to compete against a strong team," said Coach John Ritter.

The Iowa women's gymnastics team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are ready to compete against a tough team," said Coach Jay Smith.

The Iowa women's soccer team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are excited to compete against a tough team," said Coach Dave DiIorio.

The Iowa men's soccer team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are ready to showcase our talents," said Coach Mike Barnatt.

The Iowa men's basketball team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are ready to compete against a strong team," said Coach Fran McCaffery.

The Iowa women's basketball team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are excited to compete against a strong team," said Coach Lisa Bluder.

The Iowa men's cross country team will face the Cornhuskers in the Big Ten Championship. "We are ready to compete against a strong team," said Coach Chris Evertson.
Play mixes music, dance and drama

Perceptions of people are the theme of "Living Artifacts," which will be staged this weekend.

By Nancy Robbins
The Daily Iowan

In our expectations of people, we judge others ... (the audience) might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified. John Cameron, the director of "Living Artifacts," said his inspiration for the play was in part the Indian who was put in a museum. We didn't want to treat people as "objects," said Cameron. The play is about a turn-of-the-century Indian who was put in a display.

Cameron is a student in the Department of Anthropology, and directed it. "All of our ideas have come together. We've all put a lot of thought into it," said Cameron. Cameron and his collaborators also said they are working on a second play. "Living Artifacts" unique twists in plot and sense have been brought in. Everyone found it interesting. Cameron said rehearsals started by having the actors and actresses read the script and imagine scenes and lines. "We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified. There was a wide variety of actors, there was a wide variety of characters. We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified.

Cameron is a student in the Department of Anthropology, and directed it. "All of our ideas have come together. We've all put a lot of thought into it," said Cameron. Cameron and his collaborators also said they are working on a second play. "Living Artifacts" unique twists in plot and sense have been brought in. Everyone found it interesting. Cameron said rehearsals started by having the actors and actresses read the script and imagine scenes and lines. "We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified. There was a wide variety of actors, there was a wide variety of characters. We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified.

Cameron is a student in the Department of Anthropology, and directed it. "All of our ideas have come together. We've all put a lot of thought into it," said Cameron. Cameron and his collaborators also said they are working on a second play. "Living Artifacts" unique twists in plot and sense have been brought in. Everyone found it interesting. Cameron said rehearsals started by having the actors and actresses read the script and imagine scenes and lines. "We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified. There was a wide variety of actors, there was a wide variety of characters. We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified.

Cameron is a student in the Department of Anthropology, and directed it. "All of our ideas have come together. We've all put a lot of thought into it," said Cameron. Cameron and his collaborators also said they are working on a second play. "Living Artifacts" unique twists in plot and sense have been brought in. Everyone found it interesting. Cameron said rehearsals started by having the actors and actresses read the script and imagine scenes and lines. "We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified. There was a wide variety of actors, there was a wide variety of characters. We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified.

Cameron is a student in the Department of Anthropology, and directed it. "All of our ideas have come together. We've all put a lot of thought into it," said Cameron. Cameron and his collaborators also said they are working on a second play. "Living Artifacts" unique twists in plot and sense have been brought in. Everyone found it interesting. Cameron said rehearsals started by having the actors and actresses read the script and imagine scenes and lines. "We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified. There was a wide variety of actors, there was a wide variety of characters. We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified.

Cameron is a student in the Department of Anthropology, and directed it. "All of our ideas have come together. We've all put a lot of thought into it," said Cameron. Cameron and his collaborators also said they are working on a second play. "Living Artifacts" unique twists in plot and sense have been brought in. Everyone found it interesting. Cameron said rehearsals started by having the actors and actresses read the script and imagine scenes and lines. "We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified. There was a wide variety of actors, there was a wide variety of characters. We didn't want to focus specifically on the story of Ishi," said Cameron. McClelland said the diversity of the cast is what sparked the play. It is not the first time that the audience might have felt that they were being labeled, objectified.
Davies takes first lead of the year in final event

Laura Davies has a two-shot and over-wide margin

By The Associated Press

By Jan Miller

Davies leads the 54-hole LPGA Tour tournament, and was in danger a few months ago of not even qualifying for the season-ending event, but won her first major championship, the U.S. Women's Open, on one day of the year.

The 54-hole LPGA Total Open, also known as the Tour Championship, is played on the PGA Tour, and was in total of 12-under par on the last day, which was also the final day of the season.

The Gophers saw their advantage of 14 strokes in total defensive and the Hawkeyes' average was 17.8

The Gophers' offense was led by a fourth-quarter touchdown, but the Gophers' defense struggled in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their defense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.

The Gophers saw their offense struggling in the Big Ten in total defenses and was in danger of not getting back to the Top 25.
Spirlea grabs spots in Chase semis

By Dick Brown

NEW YORK — Spirlea did a little wiggle when her victory was confirmed, her knees wobbled, and she was even more excited four points later when she closed out 6-2, 6-2 victory over Switzerland’s Maria Emilia Salazar.

Spirlea, making her first appearance in the USA Open, went on to lose a second-set tiebreaker and falling 7-6, 6-7, 6-2 to Martina Hingis in the quarterfinals.

The tone of the match was set early on.

As Hingis began her day’s work with a first-set tiebreaker, Spirlea had not won a match prior to this tournament, a Top 10 player. Spirlea, a right-hander from Romania, always facing Van Houten, had lost all 14 of her matches this year.

After Van Houten had to start running for the first time, Spirlea was in complete control.

This wasn’t Spirlea’s first time around a U.S. Open.

In 1995, the first year she played in the tournament, she was seeded 29th and lost to seventh-seeded Dominique Van Vliet in the final round.

The second-set tiebreaker was Spirlea’s first set win, and she took the third set to the limit.

She served seven double faults.

Spirlea, meanwhile, got 71 percent of her first serves in and held two of three break points.

All Van Houten had to show was a little more consistency and a better attitude.
SPORTS

SeminoleS rely on home

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida State's defense may be the key to the Seminoles' continued success in the Atlantic Coast Conference, head coach Bobby Bowden said Wednesday.

"The defense has to play better than it played against Miami last week or we'll lose," Bowden said.

"The defense has to play better than it played against Miami last week or we'll lose," Bowden said.

Germaine's reputation might be at stake Saturday

If you are a full-time student and want to get a job, you can take a look at the list of opportunities below. The positions available range from entry-level to management, and the companies represented are diverse, including technology, healthcare, retail, and more. Whether you're looking for a part-time job, internship, or full-time opportunity, there is something for everyone. If you are interested in applying, you can visit the company's website or contact them directly through their provided contact information. Remember to prepare your resume and cover letter, and to research the company and the position you are interested in before applying. Good luck with your job search!

PRO PICKS

Must win for Packers, Vikings

By Don Goldberg

For Green Bay, Sunday's game is not only a chance to win the NFC North, but they're three games behind the Vikings in the NFC Central.

"But it's just as important for Minnesota," they may also need to win to make the playoffs.

"And the Vikings are more at home in the conference," they may also need to win to make the playoffs.

"But it's just as important for Minnesota," they may also need to win to make the playoffs.

Sprint PCS

$100 Mail-in Rebate on any 2 Sprint PCS Phones

Sprint PCS Center

Czech Square Mall, 4330 Czech Lane, A6

Cedar Rapids • (319) 294-6100

Iowa City (local) • (319) 621-7727

Sprint PCS Phone

by Sony®

To find out more or to order your phone, call 1-800-480-4PCS, visit www.sprintpcs.com or stop by one of the locations below.