

The Daily Iowan

Tuesday, October 26, 1999

Since 1868

www.dailyiowan.com

25¢

|                                  |                           |                      |           |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------|-----------|
| 10:00                            | 10:30                     | 11:00                | 11:30     |
| Late Show W/Letterman            | EXTRA                     |                      |           |
| Tonight Show                     | Late Night                |                      |           |
| M*A*S*H                          | M*A*S*H                   | Roseanne             |           |
| News                             | Friends                   |                      |           |
| Wait ...                         | Dad's ...                 | Dollars              |           |
| * (Jon Voight, Burt Reynolds) |                           |                      |           |
| Greece                           | France                    | Italy                |           |
| Shen's Bty Pageant               | Skin Deep                 |                      |           |
| Cyber                            | In the Heat of the Night  |                      |           |
| Time Public Affairs              |                           |                      |           |
| of Games (R, '87)                | * (Lindsay Crouse)     |                      |           |
| W/Tavis Smiley                   | Love Story                | Amen                 |           |
| 70 Club                          | Animals                   | Show Me              |           |
|                                  | Dukes of Hazzard          |                      |           |
|                                  | Sniper (10:45) (R, '93)   |                      |           |
|                                  | Total Total               | Total                |           |
|                                  | Karaoke                   | Undressed            |           |
| Watch (10:05)                    | Silk Stalkings (11:35)    |                      |           |
| X-Show                           | The X-Files (Part 2 of 3) |                      |           |
| Family                           | AIWFamily                 | AIWFamily            | AIWFamily |
| hood: Men in Tights (PG-13, '93) |                           |                      |           |
| Head                             | ESPNEWS                   | SportsCenter         |           |
| Order                            | Vanity Fair (Part 2 of 2) |                      |           |
| Sports News                      | Fox Sports News           |                      |           |
| Jobs                             | Golden Girl               | Golden Girl          | Myrtles   |
| cb                               | Noticiero                 | Viviana a Medianoche |           |
| Larry David: Curb                | Movie                     |                      |           |
| Whalin                           | Zorro                     | Mickey               |           |
| Carnal Cruise (10:40 '98)        |                           |                      |           |

INSIDE

SPORTS

Steelers edge by Atlanta
Pittsburgh's Cordell Stewart attempts a pass during Monday's game. The Steelers won, 13-9. See story, Page 1B

CITY

Ho gets to wear that big fuzzy hat
UI sophomore and drum major Pres Maxson sets the pace for the Hawkeye Marching Band. See story, Page 3A

NATION

All your eggs in one Gucci purse
An Arabian horse breeder/fashion photographer's Web site offers models' eggs for auction. See story, Page 5A

WEATHER

62 37 partly sunny

INDEX

|                      |    |
|----------------------|----|
| Arts & Entertainment | 6B |
| Classified           | 4B |
| Comics, Crossword    | 8A |
| Legal Matters        | 8A |
| Movies               | 2B |
| Television listings  | 8A |
| World                | 5A |
| Viewpoints           | 6A |

READ, THEN RECYCLE

U.S. Open champ killed

U.S. Open champ Payne Stewart is among those killed.

By John MacDonald
Associated Press

MINA, S.D. — A Learjet carrying champion golfer Payne Stewart and at least four other people flew a ghostly journey halfway across the country Monday, its windows iced over and its occupants apparently incapacitated, before spiraling nose first into a grassy field. Everyone aboard was killed.

The flight plan said two crewmembers and three passengers were on the jet, but there were reports a sixth person boarded the plane just before it took off from Orlando, Fla. The chartered, twin-engine Lear

See ACCIDENT, Page 7A

Ill-fated flight

- 1 Plane leaves Orlando at 9:20 a.m.
- 2 The last communication is when the plane is over Gainesville, Fla.
- 3 A fighter jet from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., follows the plane, handing off to fighter jets from the Oklahoma National Guard.
- 4 Eventually, two fighter planes from Fargo, N.D., take over.
- 5 Plane crashes near Mina, S.D.

A Learjet carrying golf champion Payne Stewart crashed Monday in South Dakota. Everyone on board was killed. The plane flew out of control for hours.

Mina, S.D.: Site of plane crash

Learjet 35A

Wingspan: 39' 6"
Length: 48' 8"
Range: 2,196 miles*

*Maximum range with four passengers, maximum fuel and 45-minute reserves.

Source: Jane's All the World's Aircraft; FAA; NTSB
AP/Wm. J. Castello, Shirley Salemy

Steven R. Wolf
Associated Press

South Dakota Gov. Bill Janklow, center, inspects the wreckage of a plane that was carrying professional golfer Payne Stewart and four others Monday near Mina, S.D. Government officials said the twin-engine plane may have suffered a pressurization failure.

Passage officially links Gaza, West Bank

Palestinians by the hundreds travel between the areas as the "safe passage" is inaugurated.

By Dana Budeiri
Associated Press

EREZ CROSSING, Gaza Strip — Hundreds of eager Palestinians shouldering duffel bags and suitcases traveled 28 miles across Israel Monday — inaugurating a "safe passage" that for the first time links the areas under their control and takes them a step closer to statehood.

For some, the passage by bus or taxi between the Gaza Strip and the West Bank was their first glimpse inside the country they had struggled against for years.

From the window of his taxi, Sami Ahmed, a 19-year-old who had never before left Gaza, intently observed the Israeli landscapes flying by: communal farms, pine forests and the occasional military jeep guarding the route.

"What are those?" he asked, pointing to some ruins.

Fellow passenger Saber Abu Lehih, 70, who knew the area from the time before Israel's creation in 1948, said they were the remains of Beit Jibrin, an Arab village destroyed in the 1948 Mideast war.

The safe passage between the Erez Crossing in Gaza to Tarkumiya in the West Bank takes the Palestinians a step closer to statehood by linking the two autonomous areas on either side of Israel that they hope will eventually make up their state. The opening helped boost Palestinian support for peacemaking and also enabled residents of crowded Gaza to seek jobs in the more prosperous West Bank.

In all, some 132,000 Palestinians are so far eligible to use the route — 130,000 workers and business people who have had permission to enter Israel in the past, and 2,000 who were granted special-passage permits in recent days. In the past, those with permits could go to Israel but not to the other Palestinian territory.

More safe-passage permits are to be issued in coming days. Israeli officials said they expected approximately 1,000 daily travelers on the route, which is open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"Careful with those travel permits — they are your tickets to freedom," taxi driver Ali Mohammed admonished his six eager passengers.

With Arabic music blasting from his taxi radio, Mohammed was busy making calls on his mobile phone to tell friends the safe passage was open.

Abu Lehih said he hadn't left Gaza since the 1993 signing of the first Israeli-Palestinian peace agreement. In the past six years, Israel imposed more and more restrictions on Palestinian travel, including blanket security closures, to prevent Islamic militants from carrying out attacks.

"The peace agreement was signed, and the doors of Erez (crossing) swung shut," Abu Lehih recalled. However, Monday, he was upbeat. "Step by step, we are getting closer to peace."

Clinton signs defense bill, averts veto fight

The action leaves five spending measures for the president and the GOP to battle over.

By Alan Fram
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Clinton signed the $268 billion defense spending bill Monday and averted what would have been a tough and risky drive to coax Democrats to uphold a veto.

Clinton complained that the bill contained spending for projects the Pentagon had not requested and used budget gimmicks such as declaring $7 billion in base maintenance an "emergency" that would not count against spending limits.

Nonetheless, he said, "In good conscience, I cannot allow our national security needs to be held hostage to this budget battle."

Clinton's decision leaves him battling Republicans over five spending bills to achieve his demands for $5 billion to $10 billion more for hiring teachers and police officers, buying park land, foreign aid and other programs. Those differences, plus administration opposition to provisions helping the mining, ranching and oil industries, seem unlikely to be resolved until next month.

By signing the Pentagon measure, Clinton avoided escalating and prolonging the budget fight further and intensifying bitter feelings between the parties.

"Although we'll continue to have some period of time of hard work, yes, I'm optimistic this makes it even that much easier" to resolve the budget battle, House Majority Leader Dick Armey, R-Texas, told reporters. In recent days, Clinton had considered rejecting the measure to gain leverage in the budget fight by making it a bargaining chip in his push for more money.

In the end, the bill proved too laden with popular spending for a veto to be politically feasible. Costing $4.5 billion more than Clinton requested, the bill included money for a 4.8 percent military pay raise and scores of projects for lawmakers' home districts. Some Democrats, including the influential Rep. John Murtha, D-Pa., had said they would work to override the veto.

Failure to round up enough Demo-

See CLINTON, Page 7A

Mental-health plan lack bothers undergrads

Services for mental problems and chemical dependency are not included in the insurance plan.

By Sky Eilers
The Daily Iowan

Because the UI undergraduate insurance plan lacks coverage for mental-health conditions and chemical dependencies, some say the plan is not providing comprehensive care.

UI senior Amy Weber has private health-care coverage but said the UI plan was something to be concerned about.

"Both mental stress and chemical dependency are major factors in a lot of college people's lives," she said. "I think it would be a possible concern." Students are susceptible to these types of illnesses, Weber said.

"I might look into another coverage if I was under the student-health plan," she said.

The UI plan excludes services or supplies for the treatment of mental-health conditions and chemical dependency. Under the "Limitations and Exclusions" section, one of the categories "limited, excluded, or not considered medically necessary" is "services or supplies for the treatment of mental-health conditions and chemical dependency."

"Undergraduates need to wake up to the fact that they're getting short-changed with their student-health coverage," said Gary Sanders, a Iowa City resident and political activist. "Mental health should be treated the same as physical problems."

The services are not covered in the plan because of the added costs, said Phillip Jones, the UI vice president for student services.

"I don't doubt whether there are individuals wanting to include these policies, but others are paying the premiums," he said. "It has never been a part of the UI policy."

A committee decides what should be included in the plan. Lana Zak, president of the UI Student Government,

No apathy on this part of the UI campus

As the presidential race heats up, some UI students spend hours working for candidates.

By Steve Schmadeke
The Daily Iowan

UI senior Chris Logli's fascination with politics started even before he was a fifth-grader, proudly wearing a "Vote-Dukakis" button to school before the 1988 presidential election.

And like others in a small but visible group of students on campus, Logli's fascination grew into a passion that is not common among college-aged students.

"All across the political spectrum, their decisions affect students in fundamental ways," he said. "Student volunteerism is at a record high, but political participation is at record lows."

Logli is president of Students for Bradley, a member on the Johnson County Democrat Central Committee and a member of the UI Democrats.

Another student who has become politically active is Mike Davis, chairman of UI Students for Bush and youth coordinator for Iowa's George W. Bush campaign.

Described as "Mr. Hyperactivity" by others in his organization, Davis puts in 13-hour days, some in Iowa City and the rest at the Bush headquarters in Des Moines. During the week, he tours the state, laying the groundwork for other Bush groups. Before Davis goes to bed — often at 4 a.m. — he tries to answer the nearly 300 e-mail messages he gets every day.

And his work ethic has caught on — Students for Bush is the largest political group on campus and is used as a model across the state.

"Politics are about the only thing I truly get passionate about," Davis said. "Like it or not, everything we do revolves around politics."

He makes no apologies for the aggressive methods that Students for Bush has used to get its message across, such as the mass e-mail the

Mike Davis, chairman of UI Students for Bush, speaks at an informational meeting earlier this semester at the IMU. Davis announced his goal to have the largest student political organization in the country.

See CAMPAIGN, Page 7A

the BIG picture

THE LEDGE

FAMOUS HEADLINES

- War Dims Hope for Peace
- Something Went Wrong in Jet Crash, Expert Says
- Police Begin Campaign to Run Down Jaywalkers
- Safety Experts Say School Bus Passengers Should Be Belted
- Drunk Gets Nine Months in Violin Case
- Survivor of Siamese Twins Joins Parents
- Iraqi Head Seeks Arms
- Panda Mating Fails; Veterinarian Takes Over
- British Left Waffles on Falkland Islands
- Lung Cancer in Women Mushrooms
- Eye Drops Off Shelf
- Teacher Strikes Idle Kids
- Reagan Wins on Budget, But More Lies Ahead
- Squad Helps Dog Bite Victim
- Shot Off Woman's Leg Helps Nicklaus to 66
- Enraged Cow Injures Farmer with Ax
- Plane Too Close to Ground, Crash Probe Told
- Miners Refuse to Work after Death
- Juvenile Court to Try Shooting Defendant
- Stolen Painting Found by Tree
- Two Soviet Ships Collide, One Dies
- Two Sisters Reunited after 18 Years in Checkout Counter

Source: <http://www.the-iowan.com/humor/0000174.html>

Denise Powell/The Daily Iowan
UI senior Stephanie Baas gives UI staff member Chris McCollan a health evaluation in the IMU Monday. The free evaluations are to promote the Health Fair from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday in the IMU.

newsmakers

Ford unhurt after copter crash

FILLMORE, Calif. (AP) — Harrison Ford crash-landed his helicopter during a training flight but emerged unhurt, an FAA operations officer said.

The actor and his instructor were flying a Bell 206 helicopter practicing auto rotations near Lake Piru northeast of Fillmore on Oct. 23 when the helicopter made a "hard landing," officer Diana Joubert said Sunday.

Neither Ford nor the instructor was hurt, she said.

Ford

Cash improves after brush with pneumonia

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Johnny Cash, who was hospitalized with pneumonia last week, is slowly improving.

Baptist Hospital spokeswoman Melissa Ausbrook said Cash was upgraded from serious to stable condition Sunday.

Cash, famous for such hits as "I Walk the Line" and "Folsom Prison Blues," was admitted on Oct. 17. He was hospitalized twice in 1998 for pneumonia and has said he nearly died from it last fall.

Cash, 67, announced in November 1998 that he has Shy-Drager's Syndrome, which can cause blackouts, tremors and stiff muscles. There is no cure, but the symptoms can be treated with medication.

Bald cardinal returns to pulpit

NEW YORK (AP) — Cardinal John O'Connor joked about his newly bald pate and made an emotional promise to continue preaching at St. Patrick's Cathedral in his first public Mass in three weeks.

"Some people tell me my hair may grow back," he said Sunday, after the congregation cheered his return to the pulpit. "Red and curly, perhaps. We'll see. Maybe I'll stick with the Yul Brynner look... Our Lord never said that hair had anything to do with getting to heaven."

O'Connor

horoscopes

Tuesday, October 26, 1999

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Re-evaluate your motives. You may be with someone for the wrong reasons. You'll have to think twice before you say something to your lover that might lead to discord and possible estrangement.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Relatives and friends will put demands on you that will be difficult to live up to. Be reasonable, but let them know just how much you can and can't do for them.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You will probably overreact to personal problems. Don't let your emotional upset interfere with your professional objectives.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Put your energy to good use today. Get busy making the necessary changes in your domestic scene.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Don't spend too much on children or entertainment. Trying to impress others by being extravagant will backfire on you. It is best to avoid situations that could lead to arguments.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Don't spread yourself too thin. If you have more than one love interest, it's time to make a decision. If you can't make up your mind, at least be honest about your situation. Your partners deserve to know.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You should get out with colleagues or clients and find out what they're like away from work. The new friendships you form will be lasting and help you establish yourself a little better at work.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Put your energy into beautification. Cosmetic makeovers or a new outfit that will give you a different image will lift your spirits and your self-esteem.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You'll have trouble trying to get along with family members. Go about your business and don't rock the boat. You should put a little extra effort into your household chores.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You will have the energy to clear up that mound of paperwork that's facing you. Someone you like will be receptive and actively seeking your presence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Money-making endeavors are apparent. Be creative when dealing with your personal financial budget.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You can expect to have some changes with regard to your personal relationships. Don't be too quick to blame someone else when the problem may be your own.

by Eugenia Last

calendar

The UI Staff Development Program will sponsor a conference titled "Negativity in the Workplace" in the IMU R. Wayne Richey Ballroom today at 9 a.m.

The UI Hospitals and Clinics will sponsor a Health Fair in the Activities Therapy Gym, UIHC General Hospital, today at 7:30 a.m.

The Business and Liberal Arts Placement Office will sponsor a second Interview Trip Workshop in Room W401, Pappajohn Business Building, today at 5 p.m.

There will be a Faculty Senate meeting on the International Writing Program in the Senate Chamber, Old Capitol, today at 3:30 p.m.

UI brief

Expert on testing validation to present annual Coffman Lecture

A nationally known expert on educational testing will present "Validating Score Interpretations: From Performance Assessment to Model-Based Constructs" on Nov. 4 at 3 p.m. at the UI College of Education.

Michael T. Kane, a professor in the University of Wisconsin Department of Kinesiology, will present the fifth annual William E. Coffman Lecture in Jones Commons (N300) of the Lindquist Center. Lectures in the series, sponsored by the Iowa Testing Programs and the Iowa Measurement Research Foundation of the UI College of Education, are free and open to the public.

Kane received a Ph.D. in education at Stanford University in 1972 and also has degrees in statistics and physics.

The Daily Iowan

Volume 131, Issue 85

BREAKING NEWS
 Phone: (319) 335-6063
 E-mail: daily-iowan@uiowa.edu
 Fax: 335-6184

CALENDAR
 Submit to: The Daily Iowan newsroom
 201N Communications Center
 Deadline: 1 p.m. two days prior to publication of event.

Guidelines: Notices may be sent through the mail, but mail early to ensure publication. All submissions must be clearly printed on a Calendar column blank (which appears on the classified ads pages) or typewritten on a sheet of paper.

Announcements will not be accepted over the telephone. All submissions must include the name and phone number, which will not be published, of a contact person. Notices that are commercial advertisements will not be accepted.

CORRECTIONS
 Call: 335-6030
Policy: The Daily Iowan strives for accuracy and fairness in the reporting of news. If a report is wrong or misleading, a request for a correction or a clarification may be made. A correction or a clarification will be published in "Legal Matters."

LEGAL MATTERS
 In an effort to make matters of public record known, The Daily Iowan prints police, public safety and courthouse dockets. Names, ages, addresses, charges and penalties are listed as completely as possible.

PUBLISHING INFO
 The Daily Iowan is published by Student Publications Inc., 111 Communications Center, Iowa City, Iowa 52242, daily except Saturdays, Sundays, legal and university holidays, and university vacations. Second class postage paid at the Iowa City Post Office under the Act of Congress of March 2, 1879. USPS 1433-6000

SUBSCRIPTIONS
 Call: Pete Recker at 335-5783
 E-Mail: daily-iowan-circ@uiowa.edu
Subscription rates:

Iowa City and Coralville: $15 for one semester, $30 for two semesters, $10 for summer session, $40 for full year
 Out of town: $30 for one semester, $60 for two semesters, $15 for summer session, $75 all year.
 Send address changes to: The Daily Iowan, 111 Communications Center, Iowa City, Iowa 52242.

STAFF
Publisher: William Casey ..... 335-5787
Editor: Laura Heinauer ..... 335-6030
Managing/Design Editor: Carrie Lyle ..... 335-6030
Wire Editor: Kelly Otting ..... 335-6030
Copy Chief: Beau Elliott ..... 335-5852
Metro Editor: Cori Zarek ..... 335-6063
City Editor: Zack Kucharski ..... 335-6063
Campus Editor: Kelly Wilson ..... 335-6063
Viewpoints Editor: Jesse Ammerman ..... 335-5863
Sports Editor: Megan Manfull ..... 335-5848
Arts & Entertainment Editor: Lisa Waite ..... 335-5851
Graphic Artist: Kevin Oestendstad ..... 335-6063
Photo Editor: Brian Ray ..... 335-5852
Web Master: Chase Hendrix ..... 335-6063
Business Manager: Debra Plath ..... 335-5786
Advertising Manager: Jim Leonard ..... 335-5791
Classifieds Ads Manager: Christine Perry ..... 335-5784
Circulation Manager: Pete Recker ..... 335-5783
Day Production Manager: Heidi Owen ..... 335-5789
Night Production Manager: Robert Foley ..... 335-5789

Stepp

The new Hawkeye major proves youth is barrier to leadership competence.

By Chao Xiong
 The Daily Iowan

With 208 people in to major and UI sophomore Ison has led the Hawkeye Band into Kinnick Stadium help of "golden girl" Juliebury, four times this year to the football crowd with n dance.

"It's a little bit surreal," have a hard time believing There's so many people, and a big-scale event."

Two more football games plete his Kinnick schedule.

As drum major, Maxson sible for choreographing h mance — which sometimes Canterbury — helping to te conducting the school alma the tunnel before each g ducting the band during performances, and leading at home games and a f

Priest cl

A Jesuit speaks with students to educate them the effects of U.S. pol

By Nicole Schuppe
 The Daily Iowan

A Jesuit priest stopped Monday night as a part of advocating a lift on U.S./ tions against Iraq.

G. Simon Harak spoke t of approximately 20 about the sanctions and starting organization for the cause.

"No matter how much you're never prepared psy ly," he said of visiting Iraq, "see anything so appalling going on in Iraq."

An adjunct faculty mem

Pulliam Journalism

Graduating college sen annual Pulliam Journal summer internships to August 1999-June 2000

Previous internship or desired. Winners will n either The Indianapolis

Early-admissions appli By Dec. 15, 1999, up t notified. All other entr

To request an applicatio write:

Pulliam
 Web site: www.starnews.com
 E-mail: pulliam@starnews.com

URBAN PL

Planning is a profession fo cities and regions. Plann housing shortages, ground transportation congestion.

Graduat

The University of Iowa of Urban and Regional Plann development of analytic at career in Planning. An unc from almost every major. emphasized in the program

- Areas of concentration
- Housing & Communi
- Environmental Plann

Joint Degrees are available w Preventive Medic

Graduate Pro

Thursday, Octob

For More

If you are a person with a order to participate in th

Planned Parenthood
 of Greater Iowa
 Caring. Confidential. Affordable.
 A name you know and trust for reproductive health care.
 354-8000 • 850 Orchard St.

STUDENT TRAVEL
 Planning Trips for Generations X, Y, and Z.

 (800) 777-0112
STA TRAVEL
 We've Been There.
www.statravel.com

Lunch with the Chefs
 Thursday, October 28, 1999
 11:30 - 1:00 pm
 at the River Room
A Culinary Tour of the Sea of Japan

- *Egg Drop Soup
- Vegetable Spring Rolls
- Smoked Salmon Sushi Rolls
- *Grilled Teriyaki Chicken
- *Rice Noodle Peanut Salad
- Fruit Sushi
- Chocolate Covered Fortune Cookies

RIVER ROOM
 THE ORIGINAL BRASS
www.imus.uiowa.edu/food
 Only $5.95 tax included
 *receive a free recipe of select dishes
 Vegetarian entrees will be provided upon request.

G?P KHAKIS

$18
 100% cotton pants. Men's & women's sizes.
 Assorted current styles.
preferred stock
PS
 Outlet Clothing Company
 114 S. Clinton St. • Downtown • Iowa City • MON-SAT, 10-8, SUN, 12-5

CITY

Stepping up by really stepping up

■ The new Hawkeye drum major proves youth is no barrier to leadership and competence.

By Chao Xiong
The Daily Iowan

With 208 people in tow, drum major and UI sophomore Pres Maxson has led the Hawkeye Marching Band into Kinnick Stadium, with the help of "golden girl" Julie Canterbury, four times this year to entertain the football crowd with music and dance.

"It's a little bit surreal," he said. "I have a hard time believing it's me. There's so many people, and it's such a big-scale event."

Two more football games will complete his Kinnick schedule.

As drum major, Maxson is responsible for choreographing his performance — which sometimes includes Canterbury — helping to teach drills, conducting the school alma mater in the tunnel before each game, conducting the band during occasional performances, and leading the band at home games and a few away games. "He does a very good job," Canterbury said. "They really do respect him; it's an accomplishment for being so young."

Maxson began playing the trumpet in elementary school, graduating to become band president and drum major of his high school band in Deerfield, Ill. The trombone, piano, guitar and bass are also part of his repertoire.

"It's overwhelming before I perform and after," he said. "But during, it's kind of like a big blur."

In the mass of musicians and instruments, Maxson can be identified by his white pants, mace (or baton) and "big, fuzzy hat" during pregame shows.

"He's a well-balanced leader," said band member and UI freshman Tony Langasek. "He knows when to take charge of the situation but sometimes he has a playful side."

Maxson, a second-year marching band member, beat four competitors this spring for the position of drum major.

"What it comes down to is the showmanship routine and the interview process," said Kevin Kastens, the marching band director. "It's always a challenge to lead your peers. I think he is doing a great job."

A seven-member panel picked this year's drum major after a test of marching fundamentals, conducting skills, the pregame entrance routine, a showmanship routine and an interview.

Kastens, who has been with the band for two years, said he wasn't sure if it is normal for a sophomore to be drum major; four-year marching band member and UI senior Dan Steinberg said it is "very unusual."

"I'm not a band historian, but I know a lot about the history of the Hawkeye Marching Band," he said. "I think it's only been three or four times that a sophomore has been drum major."

Maxson has earned a reputation for being a committed performer.

"He's very creative," said Steinberg, citing Maxson's portrayal of

Brian Ray/The Daily Iowan
Hawkeye Marching Band drum major Pres Maxson marches in the Homecoming parade on Oct. 22.

Austin Powers during the Northern Illinois game. "He's good, but he's going to be really, really good."

Maxson, an English major, is unsure if he will continue performing after college.

"I'm very into this position, and I've been concentrating on it a lot lately," Maxson said.

DI reporter Chao Xiong can be reached at: chao-xiong@uiowa.edu

Priest challenges U.S. sanctions against Iraq

■ A Jesuit speaks with UI students to educate them on the effects of U.S. policies.

By Nicole Schuppert
The Daily Iowan

A Jesuit priest stopped at the UI Monday night as a part of his tour advocating a lift on U.S./U.N. sanctions against Iraq.

G. Simon Harak spoke to a crowd of approximately 20 about stopping the sanctions and starting a student organization for the cause.

"No matter how much you read, you're never prepared psychologically," he said of visiting Iraq. "I've never seen anything so appalling as what's going on in Iraq."

An adjunct faculty member at the University of Dubuque, Mike Zmolek, is working to start a group at the UI to raise awareness for the issue. Zmolek got his B.A. at the UI.

"It's important to raise awareness wherever you are, and there are a lot of people and students in Iowa City who are receptive to the message," he said.

There are other organizations across the country like the one proposed for the UI, Harak said.

"It doesn't take many. They will not be alone because they will be linked with other such groups in universities across the nation," Harak said.

Jim McCue, a UI religion professor, said it was nice to have a well-informed, interesting person speaking on an important ethical issue.

McCue described the presentation as "a very challenging presentation about American policy."

"It raises very basic questions about media and citizen responsibility," he said.

"It is important for us to know what the sanctions are doing on a person-to-person basis and to understand the suffering in a personal way," Harak said.

Reactions to his presentations vary because Americans like to look at themselves as the "good guys," he said.

"People find what I say very difficult to believe, so I ask them to look it up for themselves," Harak said.

Harak is a member of Voices in the Wilderness, a group formed to end U.S./U.N. sanctions against Iraq. Anyone with questions can contact the organization at www.nonviolence.org/viw. Anyone interested in Zmolek's group can reach him at maz@zeus.ia.net.

DI reporter Nicole Schuppert can be reached at: nicole-schuppert@uiowa.edu

Pulliam Journalism Fellowships

Graduating college seniors are invited to apply for the 27th annual Pulliam Journalism Fellowships. We will grant 10-week summer internships to 20 journalism or liberal arts majors in the August 1999-June 2000 graduating classes.

Previous internship or part-time experience at a newspaper is desired. Winners will receive a $5,500 stipend and will work at either The Indianapolis Star or The Arizona Republic.

Early-admissions application postmark deadline is Nov. 15, 1999. By Dec. 15, 1999, up to five early-admissions winners will be notified. All other entries must be postmarked by March 1, 2000.

To request an application packet, visit our Web site, e-mail us or write:

Russell B. Pulliam
Fellowships Director
Indianapolis Newspapers
P.O. Box 145
Indianapolis, IN 46206

Web site: www.starnews.com/pjlf
E-mail: pulliam@starnews.com

URBAN AND REGIONAL PLANNING

What Is It?

Planning is a profession for people who want to improve the quality of life in cities and regions. Planners are concerned with issues such as affordable housing shortages, groundwater contamination, state economic growth, and transportation congestion.

Graduate Program Description

The University of Iowa offers a two-year Master's degree program in Urban and Regional Planning. The program's curriculum emphasizes the development of analytic and professional skills to prepare students for a career in Planning. An undergraduate degree is required and students come from almost every major. Writing, quantitative and interpersonal skills are emphasized in the program.

- Areas of concentration include:
- Housing & Community Development
- Economic Development
- Environmental Planning
- Transportation Planning

Joint Degrees are available with Law, Hospital and Health Administration, Social Work, Preventive Medicine and Environmental Health, and Economics.

The University of Iowa
Graduate Program in Urban and Regional Planning

Visitors' Day
Thursday, October 28 • 12:15 p.m. • 347 Jessup Hall

For More Information: (319) 335-0041

If you are a person with a disability who requires reasonable accommodations in order to participate in this program, please contact us at the number above.

The Daily Iowan is currently seeking a person who will be responsible for daily maintenance of their web site. Candidate should preferably be a University of Iowa student. Candidate should also possess previous experience with html code and the Macintosh system. Dependability and enthusiasm a must. Hours are 8:00am-noon, Monday-Friday.

If interested please submit a cover letter, resume and 2 references to:

Laura Heinauer, Editor
111 Communications Center,
Iowa City, IA 52242

HERTEEN & STOCKER

YOUR OFFICIAL ROLEX JEWELER, WANTS TO REMIND YOU TO TURN BACK YOUR TIMEPIECE ONE HOUR
ON SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31ST.
DAYLIGHT SAVING ENDS AT 2:00AM

Shown: Men's and Lady Yacht-Master Officially Certified Swiss Chronometer. Rolex, Yacht-Master, Oyster Perpetual Date are trademarks.

HERTEEN & STOCKER

101 S. Dubuque JEWELERS 338-4212
Iowa City

Candidates field queries

■ Questions put council hopefuls on the spot.

By Corrie Dosh
The Daily Iowan

Candidates for the Iowa City City Council were put on the spot during a forum sponsored by Progressive Iowa City Monday night.

While the first two rounds of the forum consisted of moderator questions and candidate-to-candidate questions, the third round featured questions from audience members for the candidate of their choice.

Marilyn Belman asked District C incumbent Dean Thornberry if he would listen to public opinion in the future, using the example of Johnson County's Special Elderly and Handicapped Transit Service, on which the council made its decision independently.

Belman said she and several other paratransit service patrons had regularly attended council meetings during that time to give their input.

The council renegotiated a contract with the county last year, a move that Thornberry said saved the city more than $100,000.

"All we wanted was a contract — a better SEATS program than what we had before," he said.

Belman said she feels that public input hasn't weighed heavily in council decisions.

"At the time, it seemed we had to hammer down the place to get them to listen to us," she said. "I hope that's not the way it is with the new council."

Lori Bears asked District A candidate Ross Wilburn if he thought it was important to encourage persons with disabilities to hold positions on city boards and commissions.

"I think we need to have a presence there to provide a daily reminder," Wilburn said.

The forum, which attracted approximately 30 people, also featured moderated questions about helping low-income families, transportation and the city's role in energy and water conservation.

Vying for the two at-large seats in the Nov. 2 general election for the council are Steven Kanner, Charlie Major, Dee Vanderhoef and Tim Borchardt. Wilburn and Jerry Hansen are competing for the District A seat, and Irvin Pfab and Thornberry are competing for the District C seat.

The moderator asked the candidates what role the city had in energy and water conservation to ease the financial burden on low-to-moderate-income families.

Major said the current "floor" of water rates, the lowest amount a monthly water bill could be, should be lowered to encourage people to save money by using less water.

Kanner referred to a 1934 council decision not to begin a city-owned electricity franchise and said he would like to reverse that decision to provide cheaper electricity rates. Vanderhoef said she would like to see state legislation changed in order to make aggregation an option simply by referendum.

Borchardt said it is the city's responsibility to reduce the overall cost of living in Iowa City, adding that he would like to look into equalizing water rates. Pfab said the city needs to do more to encourage efficient use of resources.

Hansen and Ross suggested that they would like to explore incentives for residents to practice good conservation, saying the city needs to look long-term at alternative energy sources.

DI reporter Corrie Dosh can be reached at: CLDosh@aol.com

The University of Iowa Center for Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies (CREES), the Henry B. Tippie College of Business, the Iowa Institute for International Business, and the International Student Business Association present...

The Business Environment and Professional Opportunity in Eastern Europe and the Former Soviet Union

Mr. Suiatoslav Bythchkov, Executive Director of the American Chamber of Commerce in St. Petersburg, Russia will be the featured speaker. He will be joined by a group of MBA panelists with extensive work experience in the region.

Date: Tuesday, October 26, 1999
Time: 7:30 p.m.

Place: W401 Pappajohn Business Building (PBB)
Free and Open to the Public!

AL GORE calls his mom.

Call your mom and tell her you're going to meet Al Gore at the IMU 2nd floor ballroom.

Thursday, Oct. 28th
Music begins at 7:45 p.m.
Program begins at 8:30 p.m.

With musical guest: The David Zollo Band
Pick up free tickets at the IMU Box Office or Prairie Lights Bookstore!

For questions call
Rebecca Star at 319/247-1623

Sponsored by Students for Gore

Paid for by Gore 2000, Inc.
Contributions to Gore 2000, Inc. are not tax deductible for federal income tax purposes.

CITY & NATION

Teen appeals in Boyd slaying

■ The move in the Frank Lee Boyd case may jeopardize Walker's plea agreement.

By Glen Leyden
The Daily Iowan

An appeal has been made over a 17-year-old's conviction and sentence last month for his involvement in a July 1998 slaying.

Clifton T. Walker was sentenced to 32 years in prison as part of a plea agreement after he assisted police in investigating Frank Lee Boyd's beating death. Walker also received lesser charges; his appeal may put the plea agreement in jeopardy.

Walker

Karen Eggerton, an assistant Johnson County attorney, expressed surprise at the appeal, saying she sees it as a breach of agreement. "Everyone has the right to appeal, but it was assumed as part of the bargain that he would not appeal," she said.

Boyd, 43, was beaten to death in

Sometimes when people get involved with a plea agreement and are sentenced, they become unhappy and desire to appeal even after they had made an agreement.

— Karen Eggerton,
assistant Johnson County attorney an apartment at 630 S. Capital St. in an incident involving Walker and three men, authorities have said.

The men then took the body to a rural ditch three miles east of Iowa City and set it on fire, according to court documents. A man mowing the ditch found Boyd's body on Aug. 7, 1998.

Eggerton said it is too early to discuss possible consequences for Walker's appeal but additional charges could be a possibility.

"It could mean nothing, or it could mean we are back at square one with the possibility of additional charges," she said.

Walker pleaded guilty to felony charges of willful injury, conspiracy facilitating a criminal network and perjury. He also was convicted of an aggravated misdemeanor charge of obstructing defense.

Eggerton said actions such as appeals are often the result of a defendant's feeling displeased with her or his changed situation. "Sometimes when people get involved with a plea agreement and are sentenced, they become unhappy and desire to appeal even after they had made an agreement," she said.

The formal notice of appeal was done by Des Moines attorney Robert Wright Sr., at the request of Walker's mother. While Wright filed the appeal, he said, he will not be Walker's attorney and is unaware of the details of the case.

Carlos D. Morris, 22, was sentenced to 27 years in prison in July for his involvement in the case. James F. Miller, 16, is awaiting trial on a first-degree murder charge.

Police captured James Christopher Lee last month in East St. Louis, Ill., after an 11-month search. He also has been charged with first-degree murder.

D/ reporter Glen Leyden can be reached at: gleyden@blue.weeg.uiowa.edu

Clinton takes aim at high drug prices

■ Seniors shouldn't wheel to Canada for cheaper medicine, Clinton says.

By Terence Hunt
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Clinton ordered a federal study of drug costs Monday, saying American senior citizens shouldn't have to "get on the bus to Canada" to buy medicine at lower prices.

He also accused the pharmaceutical industry of "flat-out falsehoods" in a multimillion-dollar advertising campaign aimed at killing his proposal to include voluntary prescription coverage in Medicare, the health-insurance program for the elderly and disabled.

The president escalated an already bitter feud between the administration and the drug industry over the government's role in health care. His action also guaranteed an election-year fight between Democrats and Republicans over Medicare drug benefits, now that Clinton's prescription proposal has been shelved by the GOP.

Industry ads, featuring characters called Flo and her husband, Bill, claim that Clinton's Medicare plan would put "big government in our medicine cabinets" and force all seniors into a government-run plan. The White House denies those charges and says seniors pay too much for drugs and need help.

"We cannot stand by and watch the pharmaceutical industry go on and distort this debate," the president said in a speech in the Old Executive Office Building. "We have to expose these deceptions and give the American people the facts."

Clinton directed that the drug study be completed within 90 days. It will look at different prices for the most commonly used drugs for people with and without insurance coverage. It also will examine drug spending by people of different ages and incomes.

"No senior should have to forgo or cut back on lifesaving medication because of the cost," the president said. He said, for example, that a popular cholesterol-lowering drug costs $44 for 60 pills in Canada but $102 in New Hampshire. "It's wrong, and we have to deal with it," Clinton said.

Attacking industry claims, Clinton said, "I wish they'd spend this ad money explaining why seniors have to get on the bus and go to Canada to buy drugs at less than half the price they can buy them in America."

Alan F. Holmer, president of the industry trade group, the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America, said some drugs may be more expensive in the United States than in Canada because of Canadian or provincial government price controls.

"Our view is that America has the best health-care system in the world, and we don't want to copy the Canadian system with its rationing of health care, its limits on access to medicines and its waiting lines that are often three times longer than in the U.S.," Holmer said. He also defended the accuracy of drug industry ads that oppose Clinton's proposals.

Clinton said that 13 million older Americans have no prescription drug coverage and millions more have inadequate coverage. "The Republicans are squandering a golden moment," the president said.

CITY BRIEF

Loftin extortion case trial set for Feb. 21

The trial of ex-Iowa football player Ryan R. Loftin, who faces an extortion charge, has been set for Feb. 21, 2000. Loftin entered a written plea of not guilty last week.

He was formally charged on Oct. 11 following an Aug. 21 incident in which he allegedly threatened to expose secrets about the Iowa football team if his scholarship was not reinstated.

In a letter to Iowa Coach Kirk Ferentz, Loftin allegedly outlined a plan in which he would share a play book with UI opponents and form a group of angry former players to attempt to oust Ferentz.

Extortion is a Class D felony, carrying an undetermined sentence with a maximum sentence of five years and a fine of $7,500.

Loftin remains out of jail on his own recognizance; he is scheduled to appear in court on Feb. 10 for his pretrial conference to either maintain or change his plea.

A theft charge remains pending until the extortion charge is resolved. — by Glen Leyden

ROSS UNIVERSITY

Visit Us On The Internet And View Our On-Line Brochure and Catalogs

Financial Aid Available for Qualified Medical and Veterinary Students!

Write, call, fax, or email:

ROSS UNIVERSITY
460 West 34th Street
New York, NY 10001
Phone: 212 279-5500
Fax: 212 629-3147

Over 2,000 Ross Graduates are practicing medicine in the United States.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

- ◆ Ross students have over a 90% pass rate on their first attempt at USMLE.
- ◆ Clinical Clerkship Affiliations with over 40 U.S. Teaching Hospitals.
- ◆ Approved by New York, New Jersey & California.

www.rossmed.edu
Email: admissions@rossmed.edu

SCHOOL OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

- ◆ Traditional U.S. Veterinary School curriculum
- ◆ Staffed primarily by DVM or Ph.D Faculty
- ◆ Low Student to Faculty ratio
- ◆ Clinical Affiliations with U.S. Veterinary Schools

www.rpsvet.edu
Email: admissions@rpsvet.edu

Forget those crowded ITC's, RESEARCH FROM YOUR HOME!

- ◆ Dial-up Internet Access
- ◆ 56K v.90 Modems
- ◆ Local Support Staff

389 E. College St., Iowa City (Gilbert St. side) www.avalon.net 339.8268

AVALON NETWORKS, INC.

Buchanan

■ The conservative say Reform Party offers the hope as he starts down "Patriot's Road."

By Ron Fournier
Associated Press

FALLS CHURCH, Va. — Republican presidential date Pat Buchanan bolted GOP Monday to mount a third-party campaign and "rescue God's country" from a cultural and moral pit. "Only the Reform Party offers the hope of a real debate and a true choice," he said.

"Our vaunted two-party system is a snare and a delusion, a trap upon the nation," said Buchanan, a thrice-failed GOP candidate whose anti-abortion conservatism and anti-trade populism siphon votes both from the Republican and Democratic nominees.

He first must win the Reform Party nomination, no small feat. He has lost to billionaire Donald Trump — joined the party's New York

WORLD BRIEF

East Timor enclave is a wasteland

DILI, East Timor (AP) — A church stands untouched, surrounded by the charred ruins of homes and market stalls.

In the isolated enclave of Oecussi, last piece of East Timorese territory secured by the international peacekeeping force, troops and human rights observers are finding a wasteland emptied of its inhabitants.

Since the peacekeepers moved Sept. 22, only about 2,500 people have been spotted in Oecussi, which had a population of 50,000 before the ravages of violence by anti-independence rebels when East Timorese voted to secede from Indonesia.

Some people fled into the hills, others were taken into Indonesian-controlled West Timor. Now the coming out of hiding as word of peacekeepers' presence spreads. Col. Mark Kelly, a spokesman for the United Nations force.

Journalists have not yet been allowed to travel to the enclave on the island's north coast, but military video footage showed emotional scenes as terrified villagers greeted the arriving troops. A young man sobbed against an aid worker's chest. Some villagers split coconuts with their machetes and offered some to the milk.

Since peacekeepers arrived in West Timor five weeks ago, the Falintil independence rebel group has pushed them to move into the enclave. The area is surrounded by killings and attacks by the rebels. The area is surrounded on three sides by West Timor, with the sea to the north.

Because almost the entire population has fled or been driven out, it will take time to determine the scope of military intelligence in Oecussi, according to humanitarian workers who were allowed to enter in a small delegation with troops Sunday.

But some of the injured are coming down from the hills to seek help. Peacekeepers evacuated three children most seriously hurt: a 60-year-old woman who had been hacked with a machete and two men in their 20s with gunshot wounds. Their injuries were inflicted approximately a month ago, Kelly said, citing a military doctor who provided emergency treatment after the troops landed.

GUESS WHICH ONE IS GETTING PAID?

©1999/Don Granger

TAKE NOTES. GET PAID.

You have to go to class anyway, so why not get paid to do it? Apply now @ allstudents.com or call 1-888-640-8810. Free online lecture notes, access to campus email, your virtual day planner.

Dee Vanderhoef For City Council At Large Candidate

Effective government strikes a balance between community needs and City resources. Paid for by the Committee to elect Dee Vanderhoef.

NATION & WORLD

Buchanan opts for Reform bid

The conservative says the Reform Party offers the only hope as he starts down "Patriot's Road."

By Ron Fournier Associated Press

FALLS CHURCH, Va. — Republican presidential candidate Pat Buchanan bolted the GOP Monday to mount a third-party campaign and "rescue God's country" from a cultural and moral pit.

Buchanan

"Only the Reform Party offers the hope of a real debate and a true choice," he said. "Our vaunted two-party system is a snare and a delusion, a fraud upon the nation," said Buchanan, a thrice-failed GOP candidate whose anti-abortion conservatism and anti-trade populism could siphon votes both from the Republican and Democratic nominees.

He first must win the Reform Party nomination, no small task if billionaire Donald Trump — who joined the party's New York affiliate Monday — Minnesota Gov. Jesse Ventura or party founder Ross Perot jump in the race. Buchanan is a longshot for the presidency: National polls suggest that no more than one in 10 voters support him.

Starting down what he called "our Patriot's Road," the pugnacious conservative had harsh words for President Clinton, presidential front-runner George W. Bush, the Supreme Court, the Education Department, leaders of both major parties, U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan and "the goddess New World Order."

"Let me say to the money boys and the Beltway elites who think that, at long last, they have pulled up their drawbridge and locked us out forever: You don't know this peasant army. We have not yet begun to fight!" Buchanan said. "Go Pat, go!" shouted more than 300 supporters from the ranks of the Republican and Reform parties, gathered at a suburban Washington hotel.

His sound system repeatedly failing him, the former Nixon White House aide joked, "Who put G. Gordon Liddy in charge of the microphones?" Buchanan is the sixth person to quit the GOP nomination race, leaving Bush and five others. A compacted primary schedule and the Texas governor's record-shattering fund raising winnowed the field earlier than usual.

Buchanan criticized Bush's education plans and delivered a veiled slap at the GOP front-runner by saying both parties "seek out the hollow men, the malleable men" as candidates.

In a statement released by his campaign, Bush said, "Pat Buchanan is leaving the Republican Party because Republicans rejected his views during his three failed attempts to earn the Republican Party's presidential nomination."

The remarks were more pointed than usual from Bush. He had measured his words in recent weeks as others denounced Buchanan's views about Nazi Germany.

Presidential rival John McCain of Arizona, who had suggested that Bush was appeasing Buchanan, issued a terse statement Monday. "I do not mourn his departure," he said.

Buchanan, whose insurgent campaigns hobbled Republican front-runners in 1992 and 1996, failed for eight months to break out of second-tier status in the Republican presidential field. Though low in polls and money, he is considered a threat by Republicans.

When beauty goes ova the top

A Web site run by a photographer/horse breeder is selling the eggs of beautiful models.

By Jeff Wilson Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Beautiful models offered their eggs for sale in an Internet auction Monday, touching off a fierce debate over the ethics of what is being called "Darwin at his very best."

Ronsangels.com, a Web site run by fashion photographer and Arabian horse breeder Ron Harris, is aimed at parents who want good-looking babies — and who would pay up to $150,000 for the privilege.

"It is distasteful, but it can't be stopped, and it shouldn't be stopped. If people want to spend $150,000 for the eggs of a gorgeous woman who has an IQ of 68, let them," fertility expert Bill Handel said.

Of the 5 million hits the site received by midday Monday, there were four or five bids for the three models featured, Harris said. At least one bid, for $42,000, appeared legitimate, he said.

The Web site contains glamorous photos of the women and boasts that the models are in excellent health. But no information about their intelligence, education or medical history was provided. Two of the models said

If people want to spend $150,000 for the eggs of a gorgeous woman who has an IQ of 68, let them.

— Bill Handel, fertility expert they were single, one said she was married with a 5-year-old daughter.

Harris contends that being beautiful can lead to a successful life.

"This is Darwin at his very best. It's the butterfly that's the prettiest that gets the guys," said the 66-year-old father of three.

Others took issue with the idea.

"It's unethical and it's distasteful," said Sean Tipton of the American Society of Reproductive Medicine. "I think this Web site is mostly going to attract adolescent boys. It's not hard for 13-year-old boys to make bids on these eggs."

"It's a crapshoot anyway. Just because you have an egg from a beautiful woman doesn't mean you'll have a beautiful kid," said Handel, founder of the Beverly Hills-based Center for Surrogate Parenting Inc. and Egg Donation Inc. His firm has 350 women in its database; they get $2,500 to $3,000 for an egg.

Handel said his donors want to help couples become parents and the money is for the inconvenience. He said families seeking his help are concerned about the egg donor's intelligence and genetic and disease history.

Zeta Tau Alpha advertisement: The women of Zeta Tau Alpha would like to thank the men of Phi Kappa Theta and Delta Sigma Phi for a wonderful homecoming!

WORLD BRIEF

East Timor enclave is a wasteland

DILLI, East Timor (AP) — Only a church stands untouched, surrounded by the charred ruins of homes and market stalls.

In the isolated enclave of Oecussi, the last piece of East Timorese territory to be secured by the international peacekeeping force, troops and humanitarian observers are finding a wasteland nearly emptied of its inhabitants.

Since the peacekeepers moved in on Sept. 22, only about 2,500 people have been spotted in Oecussi, which had a population of 50,000 before the rampage of violence by anti-independence militiamen when East Timorese voted to break away from Indonesia.

Some people fled into the rugged hills, others were taken into Indonesian-controlled West Timor. Now they are coming out of hiding as word of the peacekeepers' presence spreads, said Col. Mark Kelly, a spokesman for the 16-nation force.

Journalists have not yet been allowed to travel to the enclave on the island's north coast, but military video footage showed emotional scenes as terrorized villagers greeted the arriving troops. One young man sobbed against an aid worker's chest. Some villagers split coconuts with their machetes and offered soldiers the milk.

Since peacekeepers arrived in East Timor five weeks ago, the Falintil pro-independence rebel group has pleaded with them to move into the enclave, saying killings and attacks by the militias were continuing. The area is surrounded on three sides by West Timor, with the sea to the north.

Because almost the entire population has fled or been driven out, it will take time to determine the scope of militia violence in Oecussi, according to humanitarian workers who were allowed to send in a small delegation with troops Sunday.

But some of the injured are coming down from the hills to seek help. Peacekeepers evacuated three of the most seriously hurt: a 60-year-old woman who had been hacked with a machete and two men in their 20s with gunshot wounds. Their injuries were inflicted approximately a month ago, Kelly said, citing a military doctor who provided emergency treatment after the troops landed.

Dee Vanderhoef For City Council At Large Candidate

Effective government strikes a balance between community needs and City resources. Paid for by the Committee to elect Dee Vanderhoef

TRUTH. THE ANTI-DRUG.

The most effective deterrent to drug use among kids isn't the police, or prisons, or politicians. One of the most effective deterrents to drug use among kids is their parents. Kids who learn about the risks of drugs from their parents are 36% less likely to smoke marijuana than kids who learn nothing from them. They are 50% less likely to use inhalants. 56% less likely to use cocaine. 65% less likely to use LSD. So if you're a parent, talk to your kids about drugs. Research also shows that 74% of all fourth graders wish their parents would talk to them about drugs. If you don't know what to say, call 800-788-2800 or visit www.theantidrug.com. We can help you.

The Geocentric System

Five hundred years ago, the sun was thought to revolve around the earth. People did not know then what we know now. Truths change. We now know smoking marijuana is harmful. The younger you are, the more harmful it may be. Research has shown that people who smoke marijuana before the age of 15 were over 7 times more likely to use other drugs than people who have never smoked marijuana.

Illegal drugs are estimated to cost America over $110 billion each year in treatment, enforcement, incarceration and social damage. But what else could you buy for $110 billion? Well, you could build 1,692 new hospitals. Or operate 632 universities. Or 3,667 national parks. You could hire 2,955,956 new high school teachers. Or you could put 758,620 new buses on the road. This message is brought to you by the Office of National Drug Control Policy/Partnership for a Drug-Free Iowa and America.

ing prices

Clinton said. ...ing industry claims, Clinton, "I wish they'd spend this explaining why seniors get on the bus and go to buy drugs at less than price they can buy them ... F. Holmer, president of the ... trade group, the Phari ... Research and Manu ... of America, said some ... may be more expensive in ... States than in Canada ... of Canadian or provincial ... price controls. ... view is that America has ... health-care system in the ... and we don't want to copy ... nadian system with its ... of health care, its limits ... to medicines and its ... lines that are often three ... nger than in the U.S.," ... said. He also defended the ... of drug industry ads that ... Clinton's proposals. ... on said that 13 million ... Americans have no prescrip ... ing coverage and millions ... ave inadequate coverage. ... ublicans are squander ... iden moment," the presi ... d.

ded ITC's, ... H FROM ... HOME! ... net Access ... odems ... port Staff ... City (Gilbert St. side) ... 339.8268 ... VALON ... TWORKS, INC.

IS ... ?

nts .com

VIEWPOINTS

Quoteworthy

I saw someone walk through it when it was off and suddenly get hit by the water; the person seemed more shocked than anything.

— Iowa City resident Steph Ellis, describing an incident at the downtown fountain, which is designed to shut on and off automatically depending on wind speed.

POLICIES

OPINIONS expressed on the Viewpoints pages of The Daily Iowan are those of the signed authors. The Daily Iowan, as a non-profit corporation, does not express opinions on these matters.

GUEST OPINIONS are articles on current issues written by readers of The Daily Iowan. The DI welcomes guest opinions; submissions should be typed and signed, and should not exceed 600 words in length. A brief biography should accompany all submissions. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to edit for length, style and clarity.

EDITORIALS

Glitches reduce computer course's effectiveness

First-year students have grown sick and tired of struggling with a poorly designed, one-credit course that does not run smoothly. The problematic course in question is Online at Iowa. This course is taken via CD-ROM and is intended for students to learn about the Internet, e-mail and how to publish Web sites. Its effectiveness, though, can be debated. The concept of this course is great, but the actual course is far from it.

This is the second year Online at Iowa has been around, and it is still riddled with problems. It is understandable that a technology-based course would have its share of glitches the first year, but these should have been fixed before the second.

Previous Online at Iowa students had to fill out a survey about the course once they completed it. It would appear that the creators decided to ignore the comments and suggestions the students made. The course still faces major problems, such as that the UI can only e-mail 100 accounts at a time, thus forcing the instructor to use an outside system. Getting proper sound on the Macs has also delayed students' completion of this 11-session course.

Approximately 950 students have not made progress in the course to this point, and they cannot be blamed, because the course almost never runs smoothly. With only one professor and an additional 25 teaching assistants with office hours, the 1,900 enrolled students are not guaranteed the sufficient amount of help needed with the class.

This course is a lot of work for only one credit, which also discourages students from putting a real effort into the class. Many students skip the sessions and just send out the e-mail to the professor answering the given question in the vaguest way possible. Nobody learns through this process.

The idea of offering a class about the Internet, e-mail and Web publishing is brilliant. Perhaps, however, the course should not be offered until it can be carried out without causing students to weep from stress. In setting up new classes, the UI must make sure to set them up right.

Mary Mroch is a DI editorial writer.

Roe v. Wade affirmation a threat to personal liberty

Oct. 21 probably didn't seem momentous to most Americans. But for those with ears to hear, the sound of a hammer hitting one of the last nails in the coffin of our freedom rang loud and clear.

In an act of callous disregard, the U.S. Senate voted 51-47 on an amendment sponsored by our own Tom Harkin to affirm the Roe v. Wade decision legalizing abortion. Here is the text of the amendment, which was attached to a bill sponsored by Sen. Rick Santorum, R-Pa., banning partial-birth abortion: "It is the sense of the Congress that Roe v. Wade was an appropriate decision and secures an important constitutional right, and such a decision should not be overturned."

What is so detrimental about the passage of this amendment to the preservation of civil rights and the life of our republic? For the first time, the people of the United States (not simply an out-of-control judiciary) have, through its representatives, formally rejected their only legitimate claim to liberty.

Why? Because there is a simple, logical connection between our collective embrace of abortion and the inevitable death of freedom. At this country's founding, Thomas Jefferson made it clear that all of the facets of self-government we enjoy — due process, trial by jury, elections, etc. — depend upon the self-evident rights granted by God the creator.

In other words, the only effective basis for demanding freedom of speech, assembly and protection against unwarranted search and seizure is that God gives us these rights prior to human decision. The sole alternative, that rights come from human choice, leaves us vulnerable to the exercise of naked power and the notion that might makes right.

Therefore, what shields us from state oppression or a Hobbesian "war of all against all" is not the strength of arms but our commitment to the conviction that our rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, as divinely granted, are inalienable. Thus the doctrine of abortion — that one human being can arbitrarily decide to terminate the life of another — is a direct assault on the foundation of all our freedoms.

The question, then, is this: Once life has become cheap and disposable, conditioned on mere human whim, where will we find the courage to raise our eyes from the ground, look our would-be oppressors in the face, and demand respect as creatures?

David Noe is a DI editorial writer.

BYRON WEBBURY PARK PRESS ©1999
WWW.INJERSEY.COM ORGEE
COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Civil-rights laws provide protection for all

State Sen. Steve King and others claim that Gov. Tom Vilsack's executive order No. 7, which prohibits discrimination based on sexual orientation, grants "minority status" to homosexuals. There is no legal meaning to the phrase "minority status." It is simply an adroit double entendre designed to inflame passions. In short, it is a lie.

Civil-rights laws provide protection for everyone, not just minorities. White people may file a claim of discrimination if they have suffered discrimination because of color or race, even though they are the majority. Both men and women may file claims of sex discrimination, no matter which group falls within the gender "minority." People of any religion, or no religion at all, may file claims of religious discrimination.

Similarly, persons of any sexual orientation — not just gay people — may file claims if they feel they have been discriminated against based upon their sexual orientation.

In short, civil-rights laws do not confer "minority status" on anyone, nor do they protect only members of minority groups from discrimination. The phrase is a red herring designed to play on white people's fears of minorities and affirmative action in an attempt to win support for hateful objectives.

Alan L. Light
Iowa City

Peterson's views disturbing

I deeply resent Evan Peterson's presumption that he speaks for me. My wife and I have been married for 19 years. We both have gay and lesbian friends, and have worked with gay and lesbian colleagues.

In a Rolling Stone interview a few months ago, gay congressman Barney Frank talked about a conversation he had with Henry Hyde, a conservative leader of House Republicans who sponsored the misnamed, gay-bashing "Defense of Marriage Act." Frank asked how his long-term gay relationship could possibly threaten Hyde's own marriage.

Hyde could only stammer out that he didn't know how; he just knew it did. Ironically, Hyde did more to undermine his own marriage by having a sexual relationship outside of that union than Frank and his partner ever did. Extending civil-rights protection to gays and lesbians does not undermine marriage.

Why are gays and lesbians a "special interest" group, but the tobacco or gun lobbies are not? Peterson seems less concerned with basic civil rights for all citizens than he is in deflecting our attention from the corporate interests that funnel soft money into both political parties.

Denigrating gay and lesbian unions and denying them basic civil-rights protection has nothing to do with respecting families and marriages. Rhetorical gay-bashing is a cynical lie. Peterson's arguments are scapegoating. Peterson and conservatives like him portray gays and lesbians as problems.

To say that a white heterosexual male in 1990s America is threatened by gays and lesbians makes as much sense as the claim that 1930s Christian Germans were threatened by German Jews. Both claims come from the same poisonous political roots. Both have the same implicit goal, both are wrong and disgusting, and both must be rejected.

Jeff Klitzman
Iowa City

LETTERS to the editor must be signed and must include the writer's address and phone number for verification. Letters should not exceed 300 words. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to edit for length and clarity. The Daily Iowan will publish only one letter per author per month, and letters will be chosen for publication by the editors according to space considerations. Letters can be sent to The Daily Iowan at 201N Communications Center or via e-mail to daily-iowan@uiowa.edu.

Fund raising, tuition increases and other fall spectacles

It's been a fun week for people-watching, which is a lot more interesting than, say, tree-watching. I mean, trees are nice enough, I guess, and about this time of year the deciduous-minded among the tree species are kind enough to change the color of their leaves, which is pretty and all. If you're into colors.

But let's face it. Tree-watching gets to be pretty boring after awhile, kind of like driving across Nebraska or going out for a night on the town in Des Moines. Basically, trees move about as much as drifting continents. A tree just stands there, being a tree. If I want to see somebody be a tree, I'll go watch a method actor.

So thank God there are people to watch. Ol' Darwin certainly knew what he was doing, inventing evolution so that human beings would evolve (using the term loosely) so that we, as we close in on the year before the end of the century, would have some people to watch. It helps eat up the long, slow downtime between baseball and the basketball season.

There was Elizabeth Dole, for instance, pulling down the tents on her presidential circus. Turned out it wasn't much of a circus — not the kind that people wanted to go to, anyway. For all the hoopla that greeted her entry into the race, at the end it was quite obvious that the only people who supported her were on her campaign staff.

Money was the root of all her problems, she said. Money, money, money. It turns out that the George W. Shrub juggernaut has gobbled up all the money, and there's none left for the other Republican circuses. That sounds a bit selfish to me. I thought he was supposed to be a compassionate conservative. Apparently, sharing isn't a component of compassion, at least not the kind the Shrub practices.

Dole's exit coincided almost exactly with the Senate's annual killing of campaign-finance reform, proving once again that you don't have to look too far if it's irony you're searching for in the American political scene.

Murdering campaign-finance reform is a ritual that the august body goes through about this time of year, driving a stake through the heart of that evil vampire, clean politics (talk about your oxymorons). Each year, the McCain-Feingold bill, which would be a small start to reducing the size of the dung hill that is campaign financing, comes up for consideration, and each year the GOP leadership doesn't let the bill go up for a vote, effectively killing it.

It's basically a form of abortion. And you thought that conservative Republicans were anti-abortion. Turns out that conservative Republicans are only against abortion if a woman wants control of her own destiny. And body. Aborting clean politics is the good kind of abortion. Just as not sharing the wealth is the good kind of compassion, which is something else that the conservatives are very good at.

You'll notice that his Shrubness did not jump into the fray and decry the Senate's action. Well, of course not. Under the barnyard rules under which campaigns now operate, his campaign has accumulated the political equivalent of Bill Gates' fortune. Basically, his campaign is Microsoft, and everybody else is playing the role of Apple.

Elsewhere on the political scene, the Board of Regents went through its annual ritual of raising tuition. You might have missed it with all the hoopla surrounding Homecoming and the annual ritual of getting plastered out of your mind (which seems more like a weekly ritual around here, just judging from the police reports each weekend). Yep, that's what the regents did. So next year, you can expect to pay around 6.9 percent more for the privilege of an education here at the UI.

That would be the Board of Regents, state of Iowa, just in case you were confused about which Board of Regents the Board of Regents might be. The regents, in addition to raising tuition, are very firm about not being confused with, say, the regents of the Board of the Platte River valley. I can't blame them. Every time I drive I-80 through Nebraska, I get bored of the Platte River valley. Which should never be confused with the condition of being bored of Iowa. Or bored of regents.

So that's the condition of our condition, as a songwriter once wrote, as our continent goes drifting, drifting to God knows where. From the look of the trees, I'd say the North Pole.

And yes, Virginia, our continent is drifting. What's the Shrub going to do about that? Is what I want to know. No doubt he'll put out a nonpolicy statement neither admitting nor denying that more than 25 years ago he might have engaged in some continental drifting himself.

Thank Darwin for people. Otherwise, we'd have to watch trees.

Beau Elliot is a DI columnist.

BEAU
ELLIOT

On the SPOT

Do you approve of the state of Iowa Board of Regents' decision to increase tuition next year?

"I disapprove. It's not so bad to increase to the rate of inflation but it seems a bit too much to go over that."

Jen Raymond
UI law student

"As a student, I don't think they should raise tuition. It's already increasing every year, and even with a part-time job, it's hard to pay for it."

Loan Nguyen
UI senior

"I don't approve. I'm from the Quad Cities and have to already pay $5,000 extra for out-of-state tuition, and then it'll be even higher."

Krista Garcia
UI sophomore

"I suppose I disapprove. It's already higher than at other Iowa universities, so why are we raising it?"

Casey Allen
UI freshman

"I disapprove of it. I'm not paying for tuition, but my parents are, and they won't be happy with the increase."

Jamie Wilson
UI sophomore

Payne Ste

ACCIDENT

Continued from Page 1A

35 may have suddenly lost pressure soon after taking off. Dallas, government officials. Air traffic controllers could raise anyone by radio.

Fighter jets were sent after plane and followed it for much flight but were unable to help pilots drew close and noticed structural damage but were unable to see into the Learjet because windows were frosted over, increasing the temperature inside well below freezing.

Apparently set on autopilot, plane cruised 1,400 miles above the nation's midsection, half a dozen states. Authorities the plane was "porpoising," fluctuating between 22,000 and 51,000 feet. It presumably ran out of fuel four hours after it took off.

"The plane had pretty nosed straight into the ground," Lesley Braun, who lives two miles from the South Dakota crash site.

Stewart, 42, was one of the recognizable players in golf before he wore traditional knickerbockers and a tam-o'-shanter hat. He won 18 tournaments, including three U.S. championships. In June, he won second U.S. Open, prevailing over Phil Mickelson with an astonishing 15-foot putt on the last hole.

"This is a tremendous loss for the entire golfing community and all of sports. He will always be remembered as a very special competitor and one who contributed enormously to the image of professional golf," said Tour Commissioner Tim Finchem.

President Clinton said: "I am profoundly sorry for the loss of Stewart, who has had such a remarkable career and impacted his sport and a remarkable presence in the last couple of years."

Stewart was on his way to first for a meeting on a proposed

Stewart

I'm

He
8
UI

Over 25 B

Sponsored by Health Iowa/State All persons are encouraged to

CITY & NATION

Payne Stewart killed in air accident

ACCIDENT

Continued from Page 1A

35 may have suddenly lost cabin pressure soon after taking off for Dallas, government officials said. Air traffic controllers couldn't raise anyone by radio.

Fighter jets were sent after the plane and followed it for much of its flight but were unable to help. The pilots drew close and noticed no structural damage but were unable to see into the Learjet because its windows were frosted over, indicating the temperature inside was well below freezing.

Apparently set on autopilot, the plane cruised 1,400 miles straight over the nation's midsection, across half a dozen states. Authorities say the plane was "porpoising," fluctuating between 22,000 and 51,000 feet. It presumably ran out of fuel some four hours after it took off.

"The plane had pretty much nosed straight into the ground," said Lesley Braun, who lives two miles from the South Dakota crash site.

Stewart, 42, was one of the most recognizable players in golf because he wore traditional knickers and a tam-o'-shanter hat. He won 18 tournaments, including three major championships. In June, he won his second U.S. Open, prevailing over Phil Mickelson with an astonishing 15-foot putt on the last hole.

"This is a tremendous loss for the entire golfing community and all of sports. He will always be remembered as a very special competitor and one who contributed enormously to the positive image of professional golf," PGA Tour Commissioner Tim Finchem said.

President Clinton said: "I am profoundly sorry for the loss of Payne Stewart, who has had such a remarkable career and impact on his sport and a remarkable resurgence in the last couple of years."

Stewart was on his way to Texas, first for a meeting on a proposed golf

Cabin air pressure

The Learjet, which crashed in South Dakota, may have lost proper cabin pressure. If there is a pressurization problem, passengers could slowly lose consciousness or even perish in seconds from hypoxia, or oxygen deficiency. Here's a schematic diagram of the plane's cabin pressure system.

Source: Aircraft Owners & Pilots Association

course near Dallas, then on to the Tour Championship in Houston for the top 30 on the PGA Tour's money list. He attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas and had friends in the area.

Also killed were Stewart's agents, Robert Fraley and Van Ardan, and the two pilots, identified as Michael Kling, 43, and Stephanie Bellegarigue, 27. The jet was operated by Sunjet Aviation Inc.

Jack Nicklaus said Monday that he feared that one of his golf course designers, Bruce Borland, 40, also died in the crash.

Borland's wife, Kate, said she contacted the private jet terminal Monday afternoon and spoke to an employee who had greeted her husband and confirmed he intended to board the flight.

Authorities could not confirm that Borland was aboard, and officials at the crash site said they could not tell how many people had been killed.

"I am truly shocked and saddened," Nicklaus said in the statement released by Nicklaus Design.

"Our hearts go out to their families, as well as the families of the other victims in the accident."

Six National Transportation Safety Board investigators walked through the crash site Monday night. They did a cursory inspection of the wreckage, lit by generator-powered spotlights. Bob Francis, NTSB vice chairman, declined to comment and said the investigators would be back this morning.

Planes that fly above 12,000 feet are pressurized because the air at altitudes above that is too thin to breathe. If a plane loses pressure, those aboard could slowly lose consciousness or, if an aircraft broke a door or window seal, perish in seconds from lack of oxygen.

Once reaching a cruising altitude, pilots often switch on the autopilot. If they pass out, the plane could continue on until it ran out of fuel.

Gov. Bill Janklow, who was at the crash site, said it appeared that Stewart's Learjet ran out of fuel because there was no fire. He said the plane and the bodies were obliterated.

Some students shrug off apathy label

CAMPAIGN

Continued from Page 1A

group sent out last month, ruffling feathers on campus. He saw the move as encouraging students and other political groups to get involved.

"I think that we've given them a wake-up call," he said. "It's going to be competitive."

Part of Davis' competition comes from Students for Gore, led by UI senior Julia DiGangi, who said "sleep is a commodity I have to sacrifice."

Students for Gore, which became a university-recognized group on Oct. 22, will have its first big moment Thursday at 8:30 p.m., when Vice President Al Gore is scheduled to speak at the IMU.

Two campaigns absent from the student political scene are those of Gary Bauer and Steve Forbes. Although the campaigns have no plans to actively recruit on the UI campus, it doesn't mean that student interest isn't out there, said Cary Covington, an associate political science professor.

"It's not that there's no one here that Forbes or Bauer can appeal to; it has more to do with the decision of where they're going to invest their resources," he said.

Elyse Bauer, 21, daughter of Gary Bauer, works full-time in Washington, D.C., on her father's campaign and speaks to youth groups and college organizations mobilizing student voters. Although there are only a small number of Bauer groups nationwide, Elyse Bauer said, students are one focus of the campaign.

"With an underdog campaign, we're trying to court younger voters," she said in a telephone interview.

The Forbes campaign is relying on the Internet to recruit students. Forbes' official Web site features a "Join Youth for Forbes" section that has recruited approximately 100 student leaders, said Kirsten Andersen, the communications director for Youth for Forbes.

DI reporter Steve Schmadeke can be reached at: steven-schmadeke@uiowa.edu

Lack of mental-health plan bothers some

INSURANCE

Continued from Page 1A

plan," he said.

All students with five or more semester hours pay a mandatory health fee that allows them access to a full-time psychiatrist and a part-time psychiatrist on the Student Health Service staff, said Dr. Mary Khawassah, director of Student Health Service.

"This service is free unless hospital care is involved," she said.

Saunders said there have been fewer cases of chemical dependency hospitalization in recent years.

"We're trying to treat each person within her or his environment," he said. "There's still money involved, but not nearly as much as if hospitalization were involved."

The UI Counseling Center, located at Westlawn, provides 12 trained psychologists for individual or group counseling for all registered students, said Dr. Gerald Stone, director of the center.

"The UI does a reasonable job covering the exclusions, given that there are resources available," he said. UI sophomore Michael Gobler said most people don't want to admit they have a mental problem and wouldn't seek help.

"How does someone know that he or she has a mental problem or a chemical dependency before it's too late for help?" he said.

Gobler, however, was in a quandary about paying for a service he believes he may not need.

"It's a tough choice, but I have to say yes," he said.

DI reporter Sky Eilers can be reached at: skellers@avalon.net

Clinton signs defense bill, averting veto battle

CLINTON

Continued from Page 1A

cratic votes to uphold a veto would have weakened Clinton's hand in budget talks and been a stinging foreign-affairs defeat, especially after the Senate's Oct. 13 rejection of the global nuclear-test ban treaty.

For his veto to prevail, Clinton would have needed one-third plus one of either the House or Senate.

Clinton told reporters he believed he could have won but worried that Democrats would be "attacked by the Republicans for being against the defense budget that the Democratic Party has basically pursued."

Clinton's signature on the bill avoided exposing Democrats to a traditional GOP accusation that they are soft on defense. White House officials also hope it will sharpen attention on Clinton's battle with Republicans over his budget proposals and the GOP's plan to cut federal agencies' spending by 1.4 percent.

The Daily Iowan. The DI welcomes guest opinions; submissions should be typed and signed, and should not exceed 80 words in length. A brief biography should accompany all submissions. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to edit for length, style and clarity.

on from the corporate interests... it money into both political par...

gay and lesbian unions and... basic civil-rights protection has... with respecting families and mar... cal gay-bashing is a cynical lie... ments are scapegoating... conservatives like him portray... ans as problems.

a white heterosexual male in... is threatened by gays and les... much sense as the claim that... n Germans were threatened by... Both claims come from the same... tical roots. Both have the same... both are wrong and disgusting... be rejected.

Jeff Klinzma
Iowa City

editor must be signed and must include... address and phone number for verification... ot exceed 300 words. The Daily Iowan... it to edit for length and clarity. The Da... h only one letter per author per month... e chosen for publication by the editors... ce considerations. Letters can be sent... an at 201N Communications Center or... y-iowan@uiowa.edu.

ectacles

tuition, are very firm... about not being confused... with, say, the regents of... the Board of the Platte... River valley. I can't blame... them. Every time I drive... I-80 through Nebraska, I... get bored of the Platte... River valley. Which... should never be confused... dition of being bored of... ed of regents.

he condition of our condi... ngwriter once wrote, as... at goes drifting, drifting... s where. From the look of... I say the North Pole.

Virginia, our continent is... at's the Shrub going to do... is what I want to know.

"I put out a nonpolicy... either admitting nor... t more than 25 years ago... ve engaged in some conti... ng himself.

win for people.

we'd have to watch

Beau Elliot is a DI columnist

"I disapprove of... I'm not paying for... tuition, but my par... ents are, and they... won't be happy with... the increase."

Jamie Wilson
UI sophomore

I'm All About Health!

Health Fair '99

October 27

8 am to 3 pm

UI Field House

Over 25 Booths • Prizes • Screenings • Free Stuff •

Sponsored by Health Iowa/Student Health Service and the Department of Sport, Health, Leisure, and Physical Studies
All persons are encouraged to attend UI events. If you require accommodations to attend this event, call 335-8388.

How to ruin the moment #41

"I'D LOVE TO FIND OUT HOW YOU LIKE YOUR EGGS IN THE MORNING, BUT I'M GOING BACK TO MY ROOM TO CHECK MY EMAIL."

myTalk.com™

Listen and respond to your email over any phone. FREE.

Sign up today at myTalk.com

Earn extra cash as an on-campus myTalk rep. Contact our campus recruiter at campusteps@myTalk.com for details.

CITY

LEGAL MATTERS

POLICE
Noel J. McLaughlin, 23, Huxley, Iowa, was charged with possession of an open container at the intersection of Burlington and Gilbert streets on Oct. 24 at 1:45 a.m.
Nicholas C. Hansen, 18, 2606 Bartlett Road Apt. 2L, was charged with driving while barred at the intersection of Memorial and Bartlett roads on Oct. 24 at 9:14 p.m.
David M. Paradiso, 19, Champaign, Ill., was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at the intersection of Bowery and Gilbert streets on Oct. 24 at 2:13 a.m.
Timothy J. Oldes, 18, Des Moines, was charged with operating while intoxicated at 200 Iowa Ave. on Oct. 25 at 1:36 a.m.
Beverly J. Hogan, 48, 2040 Broadway Apt. A, was charged with public intoxication at the intersection of Dubuque and Ronalds streets on Oct. 25 at 1:38 a.m.
Lucas N. Jensen, 21, 1523 W. Benton St., was charged with third-degree theft and fourth-degree theft at 321 S. Gilbert St. on charges from August.
Jeffrey K. Strong, 18, West Branch, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at 1100 Arthur St. Apt. D6 on Oct. 25 at 12:41 a.m.
Jodi D. Gaffner, 17, West Branch, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at 1100 Arthur St. Apt. D6 on Oct. 25 at 12:41 a.m.
Gregory P. Richards, 47, 3414 Lakeside Manor, was charged with disorderly conduct at 3414 Lakeside Manor on Oct. 25 at 4:57 a.m.
Sheana N. Paradiso, 22, 221 Summit St. Apt. 3, was charged with operating while intoxicated and interference with official acts at 200 E. Washington St. on Oct. 25 at 1:49 a.m.

Matthew D. Crane, 32, Bettendorf, was charged with possession of an open container in a vehicle at the intersection of Melrose Avenue and Hawkins Drive on Oct. 23 at 10:58 a.m.
Craig V. Meskimen, 20, Swisher, Iowa, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at UI parking lot 6 on Oct. 23 at 11:04 a.m.
Katie E. Fitzpatrick, 19, Cedar Rapids, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at the intersection of Stadium Drive and Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 11:55 a.m.
Holly A. Korgie, 19, Lincoln, Neb., was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at the intersection of Stadium Drive and Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 11:55 a.m.
Travis B. Klooster, 19, Cedar Rapids, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age and public intoxication at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 1:06 p.m.
Seth A. Mueller, 19, Coralville, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 1:03 p.m.
Jessica M. Pieters, 20, 611 S. Van Buren St. Apt. 3, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 2:01 p.m.
James R. Rowlette, 20, Currier Residence Hall Room E236, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age and public intoxication at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 1:35 p.m.
Pamela E. Amrhein, 20, 601 S. Gilbert St. Apt. 627, was charged with public intoxication and interference with official acts at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 1:55 p.m.
Scott A. Burger, 35, Carlisle, Iowa, was charged with public intoxication at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 3:05 p.m.
Ryan J. Foley, 18, Daum Residence Hall Room 5606, was charged with public intoxication at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 3:12 p.m.
James E. Tate, 26, 1315 Second Ave., was charged with criminal trespass at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 3:30 p.m.
Billy G. Lester, 24, 710 Greenwood Drive, was charged with public intoxication at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 4:05 p.m.
Bradley R. Lester, 21, 710 Greenwood Drive, was charged with public intoxication at Kinnick Stadium on Oct. 23 at 4:05 p.m.
Douglas R. Wilson, 23, 176 Hawkeye Court, was charged with speeding at 600 S. Capitol St. on Oct. 22 at 5:44 p.m.
Jason D. Krause, 19, 338 N. Riverside Drive, was charged with public intoxication at the Hancker Auditorium footbridge on Oct. 23 at 12:33 a.m.
Gerald A. Elbert, 18, Hillcrest Residence Hall Room N207, was charged with failure to use a seat belt and failure to have insurance at the intersection of Burlington and Linn streets on Oct. 22 at 7:08 p.m.
Brett R. Marine, 18, Hillcrest Residence Hall Room N222, was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Burlington and Linn streets on Oct. 22 at 7:08 p.m.
Michael M. Lebrun, 19, 327 E. College St. Apt. 1721, was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Burlington and Dubuque streets on Oct. 22 at 8:49 p.m.
Chad E. Blackwell, 21, 810 Benton Drive Apt. 14, was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Riverside Drive and Benton Street on Oct. 22 at 9:52 p.m.
Angela C. Strong, 24, Davenport, was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Dubuque and Market streets on Oct. 22 at 10:27 p.m.
Brian J. McGarry, 19, Currier Residence Hall Room E419, was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Dubuque and Church streets on Oct. 22 at 10:43 p.m.
Gerald R. Krueger, 20, 322 N. Clinton St., was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Burlington Street and Riverside Drive on Oct. 22 at 11:55 p.m.
Donald Stokes, 24, 2606 Bartlett Road Apt. 2D, was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Clinton and Riverside Drive on Oct. 25 at 2:10 a.m.
Jason R. Story, 24, 714 N. Linn St., was charged with failure to use a seat belt at the intersection of Gilbert Street and Iowa Avenue on Oct. 23 at 12:32 a.m.
Kaitsha M. Tompkin, 24, North Liberty, was charged with failure to obey a red light at the intersection of Clinton and Washington streets on Oct. 23 at 1:22 a.m.
Tracy J. Brogden, 20, 711 Westgate St., was charged with failure to use a seat belt and possession of a schedule I controlled substance at the intersection of Madison and Jefferson streets on Oct. 23 at 2:11 a.m.
Nicholas J. Buias, 18, Mayflower Residence Hall 5290, was charged with false reports and public intoxication at Hillcrest Residence Hall on Oct. 23 at 2:13 a.m.
Aaron J. Poisel, 26, 2009 Union Road, was charged with public intoxication at Burge Residence Hall on Oct. 23 at 2:13 a.m.
Craig J. Baumer, 20, Ames, was charged with public intoxication and criminal trespass on Oct. 23 at 8:54 a.m.
Sarah J. Stillwell, 19, 13 E. Burlington St. Apt. 117, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at UI parking lot 6 on Oct. 23 at 9:11 a.m.
Thomas M. Mazzelli, 20, 630 S. Capitol St. Apt. 402, was charged with possession of alcohol under the legal age at UI parking lot 6 on Oct. 23 at 9:43 a.m.

COURTS
Magistrate
Public intoxication — Murray G. Adams, 416 S. Dodge St. Apt. 4, was fined $155; Jason M. Friedman, University Heights, was fined $155; Brian R. Zetsche, Arlington Heights, Ill., was fined $155; Travis B. Klooster, Cedar Rapids, was fined $155; Matthew M. Lucht, 308 S. Gilbert St. Apt. 1127, was fined $155; Andrew M. Bessick, 630 N. Dubuque St., was fined $155; Matthew P. Clapper, Wheaton, Ill., was fined $155; Nathan C. Furk, Wheaton, Ill., was fined $155; Shane R. Pender, Kansas City, Mo., was fined $155; Joel R. Peterson, Wheaton, Ill., was fined $155; Zachary M. Pieper, Macomb, Iowa, was fined $155; Todd M. Whitman, Geneva, Ill., was fined $155.
Obstructing justice — Dana Bell, Coralville, was fined $155.
Theft, fifth degree — Jason M. Friedman, University Heights, was fined $155; Pamela E. Amrhein, 601 S. Gilbert St., was fined $155.
Disorderly conduct — Gregory P. Richards, 3414 Lakeside Manor, was fined $90; Brett A. Kennon, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, was fined $90.
Possession of alcohol under the legal age — Andrew M. Bessick, 630 N. Dubuque St., was fined $145; Zachary M. Pieper, Macomb, Iowa, was fined $145; Travis B. Klooster, Cedar Rapids, was fined $145.
Possession of an open container in vehicle — Shane R. Pender, Kansas City, Mo., was fined $80.
Operating while intoxicated, first offense — Carlos E. Bayles, Des Moines, no preliminary hearing has been set; Adam L. Ehlers, Okaloosa, Iowa, no preliminary hearing has been set; Gregory L. Grimm, Ames, no preliminary hearing has been set; Lance R. Larsen, Norwalk, Iowa, no preliminary hearing has been set; Crystal G. Phillips, West Branch, no preliminary hearing has been set; Kirk D. Prybill, North Liberty, no preliminary hearing has been set; Brett M. Westrum, 743 Orchard St., no preliminary hearing has been set; Matthew D. Zaimet, Cedar Rapids, no preliminary hearing has been set; Troy J. Meinders, Coralville, no preliminary hearing has been set.
Operating while intoxicated, second offense — Kenneth R. Bouchard, Cedar Rapids, no preliminary hearing has been set; Justin D. Sched, Columbus Junction, Iowa, no preliminary hearing has been set; Robert J. Lee Jr., 1118 Cottonwood Ave., no preliminary hearing has been set.
Operating while intoxicated, third offense — John A. Anderson, Des Moines, no preliminary hearing has been set; Scott F. Powers, Mount Vernon, no preliminary hearing has been set; Gary W. Rankin, Davenport, a preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 3 at 2 p.m.
Possession of controlled substance — Christopher M. B. Frank, Cedar Rapids, no preliminary hearing has been set; John A. Anderson, Des Moines, no preliminary hearing has been set; Tracy J. Brogden, 711 Westgate, no preliminary hearing has been set; Kinny I. Grantham, 1111 Hollywood Blvd., no preliminary hearing has been set; Robert J. Lee Jr., 1118 Cottonwood Ave., no preliminary hearing has been set.
Forgery — Daniel R. Bothel, West Liberty, a preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 3 at 2 p.m.
Theft, third degree — Lucas N. Jensen, 1523 W. Benton St., no preliminary hearing has been set.
Theft, fourth degree — Daniel R. Bothel, West Liberty, a preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 3 at 2 p.m.; Cindy S. Eis, Lone Tree, Iowa, no preliminary hearing has been set; Lucas N. Jensen, 1523 W. Benton St., no preliminary hearing has been set.
Driving while license revoked — Susan Kaunert, North Liberty, no preliminary hearing has been set; Kinny I. Grantham, 1111 Hollywood Blvd., no preliminary hearing has been set; Scott F. Powers, Mount Vernon, no preliminary hearing has been set; Gary R. Rankin, Davenport, no preliminary hearing has been set.
Driving while barred — Nicholas C. Hansen, 2606 Bartlett Road Apt. 2L, no preliminary hearing has been set; Gary W. Rankin, Davenport, no preliminary hearing has been set.
Operating while vehicle license suspended — Gary W. Rankin, Davenport, no preliminary hearing has been set.
Burglary, third degree — John A. Cellman, Oxford, Iowa, no preliminary hearing has been set.
Domestic abuse with injury, third offense — David J. Roe, 1105 Sixth Ave., preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 11 at 2 p.m.
Domestic abuse with injury, first offense — Nikita A. Kaim, Coralville, no preliminary hearing has been set.
Child endangerment — David J. Roe, 1105 Sixth Ave., preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 11 at 2 p.m.

TUESDAY PRIME TIME
HOME ANTENNA
6:00 6:30 7:00 7:30 8:00 8:30 9:00 9:30 10:00 10:30 11:00 11:30
KGAN News Seinfeld JAG: Yeah Baby 60 Minutes II 48 Hours News Late Show W/Letterman EXTRA
KWWL News Wheel Baseball: World Series, Game 3: Atlanta at N.Y. Yankees (Live) News Tonight Show Late Night
KFAX 3rd Rock Carey Ally 70s Show Party of Five Star Trek: Voyager Roseanne M*A*S*H M*A*S*H Roseanne
KCRG News Home Imp. Spin City It's Like Dharma Sports Ngt. Once and Again News Friends Home Imp. Nightline
KJIN NewsHour NatureSc. Y2K/Disconnect Wonders of the African World Business Vicar Mulberry Examined

DOONESBURY

DILBERT

NON SEQUITUR

books to look
SPRINGER-VERLAG
YELLOW SALE
Save up to 74% on more than 290 excellent titles spanning the spectrum of Mathematics!
one stop shopping... everything you need is here!
University Book Store
Iowa Memorial Union - The University of Iowa

Crossword Edited by Will Shortz No. 0914
ACROSS
1 Contralto's counterpart
6 Richard of "Pretty Woman"
10 Arm or leg
14 Consumer
15 Part of I.C.U.
16 Race track
17 Castle feature
19 Shuttle scheduler
20 50 minutes with a psychiatrist, e.g.
21 Yeses
23 Ready for overtime
25 Clear, as a disk
26 "Joe"
28 Honors
33 Home to 9,000 Maine collegians
36 "Oh, for Pete's sake"
38 Elsie's greeting
39 Absolutely best part
43 Old spy org.
44 Result of melting
45 Gown fabric
46 Troop formation
47 Hardy heroine
50 Bewildered
53 PBS Emmy winner
55 Plotzed
58 African member of OPEC
63 Time to make a move
64 Fruit or mincemeat, e.g.
66 Duel tool
67 "I had no..."
68 Any song by the Supremes
69 Slash
70 Filly's brother
71 Adam and Mae
DOWN
1 Resting places
2 Swiss stream
3 Stops on the I.R.T.
4 Wraps (up)
5 Once around the world
6 Kind of pig
7 Butt
8 Latvia's capital
9 Summers in France
10 Antisocial types
11 Former Mrs. Trump
12 Flag places
13 Not at all excited
16 Disturb
18 High-quality
24 Part of sweeping efforts?
26 Skater Starbuck
27 God of war
28 Promises
29 Ending
31 When repeated, enthusiastic
32 Squeeze (out)
34 Passé
36 Underground type
37 Predators on mice
38 End drawer in a till
40 Roth (investment choice)
41 Zip
42 Grind, so to speak
46 Wrote
47 Like some yogurt
48 The Louis whose mother was Marie Antoinette
50 Second photo in a testimonial ad
51 Hose shade
52 Signal to pull over
54 Radiant
56 "Ulysses," for one
57 Queen of Carthage
58 Sushi order
59 Big fashion magazine
60 Clears (of)
61 "What's ___ for me?"
62 Ripens
63 Sushu order
Answers to any three clues in this puzzle are available by touch-tone phone: 1-900-420-5556 (95¢ per minute).
Annual subscriptions are available for the best of Sunday crosswords from the last 50 years: 1-888-7-ACROSS.

INSIDE
BRAVE COMEBACK?: Atlanta hope that they will be able to the series as it heads to New York for games three and four. See page 6B.
Page 1B
Headlines: Ohio S...
ON THE AIR
Main Event
The Event: World Series, Atlanta Braves at New York Yankees, Game Three, KWWL, 7 p.m.
The Skinny: Watch to see if the Braves actually show up to play, after the Yankees cruised to wins in the first two games in Atlanta.
NBA PRESEASON
7:30 p.m. Timberwolves at Bulls, Fo...
SPORTS QUIZ
Who won Most Valuable Player following the 1985 NIT win when his team to a 65-62 victory over... See answer, Page 2B.
SCOREBOARD
NFL
Pittsburgh 13
Atlanta 9
NHL
Toronto 4
Dallas 0
IOWA BASKETBALL
Alford sn... prize rec...
Jared Reiner strength... Steve Alford's already ir... sive first recruiting clas...
By Greg Wallace
The Daily Iowan
Every great recruiting class has a jewel in the middle. Steve Alford may be that jewel.
The 6-foot-11, 240-pounder from Tripp, S.D., told Sunday that he was coming to Iowa, which could make Iowa basketball coach's firing class one to remember. Reiner is regarded as one of the prospects in the nation.
The high school senior averages 11 rebounds, and 11 points per game for Tripp-Delmar School last year, which finished while competing in Class Dakota's smallest class.
Iowa will be without a true center next season after Jacob Jaacks graduates. Antonio Ramos and John Carl Williams will be the only returning big men with any experience. The lack of size was something that factored strongly in Reiner's decision.
"I really related to the staff, and getting a lot of time as a freshman in the fence in the nation was to me," he said. "I knew their top priority; they always where they stood with me."
Reiner visited Iowa the most recently for the State/Iowa football game visited Connecticut for Madness on October 15, after his visit to UConn was the place for him.
"Iowa was the front Reiner said. "When I went I still came back to Iowa. The one."
Reiner said Alford took very well when he called to office tell him the news Sun. "He was pretty pumped Reiner said.
Reiner said that he liked dedication to his players. "He's energetic," Reiner said.
See RECRUITING

SPORTS

Tuesday

DI SPORTS DESK

The DI sports department welcomes questions, comments and suggestions.
 Phone: (319) 335-5848
 Fax: (319) 335-6184
 E-Mail: daily-iowan@uiowa.edu
 Mail: 201 Communications Center
 Iowa City, Iowa 52242

INSIDE
BRAVE COMEBACK? Atlanta holds out hope that they will be able to even up the series as it heads to New York for games three and four.
 See page 6B.

INJURED: MSU's Mateen Cleaves will be out for two months, Page 6B

October 26, 1999

Page 1B

Headlines: Ohio State QB wants another look, Page 3B • Florida State and Penn State are 1-2 in first BCS standings, Page 2B • Tyson's escapades prove his normality, Jim Litke column, Page 3B

ON THE AIR

Main Event
 The Event: World Series, Atlanta Braves at New York Yankees, Game Three, KWLL, 7 p.m.
 The Skinny: Watch to see if the Braves actually show up to play, after the Yankees cruised to wins in the first two games in Atlanta.

NBA PRESEASON
 7:30 p.m. Timberwolves at Bulls, Fox/Chi.

SPORTS QUIZ

Who won Most Valuable Player honors following the 1985 NIT win where he led his team to a 65-62 victory over Indiana?
 See answer, Page 2B.

SCOREBOARD

NFL
 Pittsburgh 13
 Atlanta 9

NHL
 Toronto 4
 Dallas 0

IOWA BASKETBALL
Alford snags prize recruit
 Jared Reiner strengthens Steve Alford's already impressive first recruiting class.

Every great recruiting class needs a jewel in the middle. In Jared Reiner, Steve Alford may have found his.

The 6-foot-11, 240-pound center from Tripp, S.D., told Alford on Sunday that he was committing to Iowa, which could make the new Iowa basketball coach's first recruiting class one to remember. Reiner is regarded as one of the top 50 prospects in the nation.

The high school senior averaged 20 points, 11 rebounds, and six blocks per game for Tripp-Delmont High School last year, which finished 16-5 while competing in Class B, South Dakota's smallest class.

Iowa will be without a true center next season after Jacob Jaacks graduates. Antonio Ramos and John Carl Williams will be the only returning big men with any experience. The lack of size was something that factored strongly in Reiner's decision.

"I really related to the coaching staff, and getting a lot of playing time as a freshman in the best conference in the nation was important to me," he said. "I knew that I was their top priority; they always told me where they stood with them."

Reiner visited Iowa three times, most recently for the Penn State/Iowa football game Oct. 9. He visited Connecticut for Midnight Madness on October 15, and decided after his visit to UConn that Iowa was the place for him.

"Iowa was the front runner," Reiner said. "When I went to UConn, I still came back to Iowa. They were the one."
 — Jared Reiner

Reiner said Alford took the news very well when he called the coach's office tell him the news Sunday.

"He was pretty pumped up," Reiner said.

Reiner said that he liked Alford's dedication to his players.

"He's energetic," Reiner said. "He'll

See RECRUITING, Page 4B

NBC interviewer won't apologize for interview with Rose

Jim Gray has been under scrutiny for his controversial interview with Pete Rose following the announcement that Rose was named to baseball's All-Century team.

By David Bauder
 Associated Press

NEW YORK — Despite an outpouring of sympathy for Pete Rose, the NBC correspondent who conducted a combative interview about gambling with the fallen baseball star said Monday he has nothing to apologize for.

NBC's Jim Gray said his questions during a prime-time show before Sunday's World Series game shouldn't have surprised Rose since other reporters had asked the same things at a news conference less than an hour earlier.

"I don't apologize," Gray told reporters on Monday. "I stand by it and I think it was absolutely a proper line of questioning."

The interview came moments after Rose was announced as a member of baseball's All-Century team. He received the longest ovation of any baseball hero introduced at Atlanta's Turner Field — longer even than Atlanta Braves legend Henry Aaron, baseball's all-time home run king.

It was another indication that fans seem willing to forgive Rose, banned for life from the sport for gambling. Rose has never admitted to gambling on baseball, and didn't again when asked by Gray on Sunday.

Rose told Gray he was "surprised you're bombarding me like this" on a festive occasion.

Switchboards at NBC affiliates across the country were bombarded by phone calls from people angry at Gray — two hours nonstop at WLWT in Cincinnati, where Rose collected most of his Major League record 4,256 hits for the hometown Reds.

In an e-mail to The Associated Press, one fan wrote of being enraged that Rose was "blindsided" during what should have been a proud moment, and said it gives the press a bad name.

"I hope NBC buys a collar and leash for the bulldog," the writer said. New York Yankees catcher Jim Leyritz said the questioning was "barbaric" and said he had confronted Gray about it. Gray said Leyritz never spoke to him and neither did any other Yankee, to his face.

"We were pretty much all disgusted with Jim," said Yankees outfielder Darryl Strawberry. "It was a night of celebration for Pete Rose. Every play-

See ROSE, Page 4B

PAYNE STEWART • 1957 - 1999

Golf loses 'true ambassador'

U.S. Open Champion Payne Stewart died in a plane crash Monday, while en route to the Tour Championship in Houston, Texas.

By Doug Ferguson
 Associated Press

Beneath the knickers and tam o'shanter cap that made Payne Stewart one of the most recognizable players in golf was a game and a passion that made him one of the most respected champions.

He embodied the spirit of the Ryder Cup, playing on three winning teams, yet displayed sportsmanship in the midst of a controversial celebration. His 18 victories around the world included three major championships, such as his dramatic comeback on the final three holes to win the U.S. Open in June.

Stewart was among five people killed Monday when a LearJet he was aboard flew uncontrolled for hours and crashed in South Dakota.

"There is an enormous void and emptiness I feel right now," Tiger Woods said.

Arnold Palmer called Stewart's death "one of the most terrible tragedies of modern-day golf."

Stewart was on his way to Texas, where the Tour Championship in Houston awaited the top 30 on the PGA Tour's money list.

The tour said his spot in the field will not be replaced. A blue ribbon was attached to his nameplate in the parking lot.

"It is difficult to express our sense of shock and sadness over the death of Payne Stewart," PGA Tour commissioner Tim Finchem said. "This is a tremendous loss for the entire golfing community and all of sports."

Also killed in the crash were Stewart's agents Robert Fraley and Van Ardan and two pilots, said Bill Curry, a spokesman for Stewart's family. Fraley was CEO of Leader Enterprises Inc. and Ardan was president of the sports management company.

"A true sportsman on the course and a gentleman off it," said Masters champion Jose Maria Olazabal, choking back tears. "We have lost a precious man and someone who still had good years ahead of him."

Curtis Strange was leaving a news conference in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., where he was named Ryder Cup captain for 2001, when he saw the first television reports.

"We have lost someone who is truly a great ambassador for the game," Strange said.

Stewart often played practice rounds in regular pants

A true sportsman on the course and a gentleman off it. We have lost a precious man and someone who still had good years ahead of him.

— Jose Maria Olazabal

See STEWART, Page 4B

Eric Risberg/Associated Press

Payne Stewart acknowledges the crowd at the 18th hole during the third round of the 1998 U.S. Open Championship at the Lake Course of the Olympic Club in San Francisco on June 20, 1998. Stewart, this year's U.S. Open Champion and winner of 18 tournaments around the world, including three major championships, died in a plane crash, Monday. He was 42.

Despite last minute effort, Falcons fall to Steelers 13-9

Former Hawkeye Tim Dwight put Atlanta in scoring position, but the Steelers got the win.

By Alan Robinson
 Associated Press

PITTSBURGH — And Atlanta thought the Braves' offense had disappeared.

Pittsburgh's defense teed off on the Falcons' depleted offense, sacking Chris Chandler seven times and preserving a 13-9 victory with two goal-line stands in the final two minutes Monday night.

The Falcons trailed 13-0 and never threatened offensively until Chandler hit Terance Mathis on a 5-yard scoring pass with 3:39 to play, then found Mathis again on a 40-yard completion to the Steelers' 7 following Jerome Bettis' fumble.

But after Ken Oxendine ran 6 yards to set up a second-and-goal at the 1, the Steelers' defense stacked up three successive running plays.

Fullback Bob Christian was stopped for no gain by Kevin Henry on second down, and Levon Kirkland blew through the left side of the Falcons' offensive line to dump Christian for a 1-yard loss on third down.

The Falcons eschewed the short pass to run again on fourth down, but Earl Holmes and Kirkland teamed to stop Oxendine inches short of the goal line on fourth down.

The Steelers (4-3), unable to get a first down that would run out the clock, then took a safety rather than punt out of the end zone on fourth down to make it 13-9.

Chandler wasn't done, finding Tim Dwight for 27 yards to the Steelers' 5 with five seconds left. But, after spiking the ball to save time for one last play, Chandler couldn't find an open Dwight over the middle on the final play.

Chandler finished 20-of-34 for 233 yards, while Mathis had 12 catches for 166 yards.

The Steelers weren't much better offensively than Atlanta, scoring their only touchdown — and the first by their starters in three home games — only after Chad Scott's 16-yard interception return gave them a first down at the Atlanta 11 late in the first quarter.

Two plays later, Richard Huntley — once the backup for injured Falcons running back Jamal Anderson — scored on a 13-yard swing pass from Kordell Stewart for a 7-0 lead that was the Steelers' first in three home games this season.

Rookie Kris Brown later kicked field goals of 51 and 25 yards, making him 11-of-11 to start his NFL career and helping the Steelers end a four-game home losing streak that was their longest since moving into Three Rivers Stadium in 1970.

Gene J. Puskar/Associated Press

Steelers' Jerome Bettis is hauled down after an 18-yard gain by Atlanta's Marty Carter during the first quarter Monday.

READ, THEN RECYCLE

SPORTS

Ohio State QB wants another look

■ Austin Moherman said he has not been given a fair chance to start for the Buckeyes.

By Rusty Miller
Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Austin Moherman said Monday he does not believe the Ohio State coaching staff has given him an adequate opportunity to regain the starting quarterback job.

"Oh no," he said. "That's clear." Moherman started the Buckeyes' first two games but hasn't seen more than six minutes in a game since.

"I guess you'd say UCLA is when I lost it," Moherman said of the starting job. "But you look at the next two games, that's not a fair chance or opportunity to win the job back. It was probably made up in their minds after that."

Moherman completed 20-of-41 passes for 214 yards and one touchdown with three interceptions in the Buckeyes' first two games against Miami and UCLA.

Fellow sophomore Steve Bellisari, who flopped against Miami, came in against UCLA and passed for 159 yards and two scores and scrambled for 50 yards more. He solidified his role against Ohio and Cincinnati, playing 38 minutes to Moherman's seven minutes.

Those three teams have a combined record of 8-15. Two of three are in last place in their conference and Ohio is fourth in the Mid-American Conference's East Division.

"I don't know if it was a done deal or not," Moherman said. "I just came to practice, tried to put myself in position to play and it didn't really happen."

Bellisari has been the unquestioned starter since the second game, despite the offense's sporadic play. The Buckeyes have scored on eight of the 44 series Bellisari has played. He has completed 46 percent of his throws with five interceptions and six TD passes.

Moherman has hit 48 percent of his passes, mostly as the game clock is winding down, with one touchdown and five interceptions.

He played a total of two minutes in a four-game span before taking over for four series in Saturday's 20-17 victory at Minnesota. He completed 5-of-10 passes for 49 yards and engineered Ohio State's second touchdown drive.

He is not getting serious consideration to start Saturday against Iowa.

"Our plan would be to go with Steve and if we feel Austin can

Charles Rex Arbogast/Associated Press

Ohio State quarterback Austin Moherman heads down field as Miami's Matt Sweeney closes in during the Kickoff Classic Aug. 29.

help us move the ball and do some things we're not getting done, we'll be a little less hesitant to put him in," Ohio State coach John Cooper said.

Cooper has been critical of some of Bellisari's decisions. "Stevie gets so excited in a ball game," Cooper said. "His mind's going a hundred miles an hour."

During his weekly news conference Monday, Cooper said Bellisari has a tendency to give up on pass plays too easily, electing to scramble instead of dumping the ball off to a secondary receiver. Cooper also said Bellisari occasionally makes an ill-advised audible or puts in the wrong play. That's why Cooper summoned Moherman against Minnesota.

"We finally said enough's enough and sat him down," Cooper said.

Moherman's two completions set the stage for Michael Wiley's 34-yard run that gave the Buckeyes a 14-10 lead late in the third quarter.

On the next possession, Moherman led Ohio State from its own 34 to the Golden Gopher 48 before he was pressured, hit and fumbled the ball away.

The Buckeyes picked up two more first downs the next time they touched the ball — matching the offense's output under Bellisari in the first half — before the drive ended on a punt from midfield.

Moherman threw two incomple-tions on the next series and was replaced by Bellisari. On the first play, Bellisari caught a 28-yard halfback pass from Wiley.

Bellisari misfired on all three of his passes and rushed for three yards the rest of the game, ending up 6-of-12 passing for 40 yards and rushing for 2 yards in losses in nine attempts.

Behind Wiley's all-around play, the Buckeyes won on Dan Stultz's 40-yard field goal with 1:15 left.

Bellisari said he has faith that the coaching staff still has faith in him.

"They put me back in the game in a situation where it was kind of important that we get points on the board," Bellisari said. "I still feel they have confidence in me."

Moherman said he has been given little insight into how he will be used.

"I'm still in the dark where I stand," Moherman said. "There's not a whole lot of communication as to whether I'm going in or not."

However, Bellisari said he had no problem getting feedback from Cooper.

"He definitely tells me when he's not happy with me or when he is happy with me," Bellisari said. "It's definitely a good relationship."

Cooper said Bellisari has a decided advantage in athleticism. "I'm not going to be running around and making scrambles like he is," Moherman said of Bellisari.

Tyson's escapades prove his normality

JIM LITKE COLUMN

By Jim Litke
Associated Press

The bell rang five times. Once is enough to end most rounds in boxing. But when a crowd is still roaring and two fighters are still tangled up the way Orlin Norris and Mike Tyson were at the end of Round 1, they get the benefit of the doubt. The place is loud, the adrenaline is flowing and the custom is to keep ringing the bell.

And so it went with this one. Once, twice ... five times in all — and even then, there was a pause before the punch finally flew. Remember that when the Nevada State Athletic Commission gets around to deciding whether to let Tyson collect the $8.7 million he was promised for the fight.

It's as sure a measure as any of how slow Tyson is these days, how far the baddest man on the planet has come back to the pack.

The commissioners are scheduled to look at a videotape of the fight today, hold a hearing at the end of the week and then decide whether to take any further action. Tyson could lose both the decision and his purse if the no-contest is changed to a disqualification.

For that to happen, the commissioners would have to be convinced the late punch was flagrant. And for that to happen in Las Vegas, Tyson would have to be caught on videotape slipping a horseshoe inside his boxing glove before banging it off the side of

Between legal troubles and self-inflicted ones, he has now fought only eight times in the last eight years — just twice in the last 28 months — and is no longer unpredictable so much as uninteresting.

Norris' head — after ignoring repeated warnings from security guards inside the building to extinguish his cigarette.

That, anyway, was the impression left by Marc Ratner, the commission's executive secretary. He made it sound as if the group's first order of business was to check the flight schedules from Reno.

"When the punch was launched," Ratner said, "is very important."

In truth, that may be the least important detail in the whole episode.

What Saturday night proved is that Tyson is a shot fighter. What little credibility he had between the ropes is gone. He tried to break the arms of the last guy he fought, Francois Botha, and said just a few weeks ago that he would bite somebody again if a fight demanded it, but you know what?

Tyson isn't likely to hurt anybody again — not inside a ring, anyway. Between legal troubles and self-inflicted ones, he has now fought only eight times in the last eight years — just twice in the last 28 months — and is no longer unpredictable so much as uninteresting.

"I don't want to fight anymore," Tyson said afterward. "I'm tired of this crap."

He is not the only one. All of a sudden, there is more supply than demand. That's what makes this a good time to disappear. Unlike Tyson's past fiascos, this was as close to a victimless crime as boxing gets. Nobody will be screaming for his money back.

According to the latest accounting, after being cleaned out by Don King and wrung out by the Internal Revenue Service, Tyson is $20 million in debt. He desperately needs the $8.7 million and if for no other reason than his long, though not-always distinguished service, he should be allowed to keep it.

Ditto for Norris, whose bum knee was confirmed to be just that Sunday after an MRI. He was in line for an $800,000 payday, but will be lucky to get out of town with a quarter of that. The commissioners said they won't tinker with Norris' share of the purse, but not so the IRS, or his manager, or even British promoter Frank Warren, who managed to get a sizable chunk frozen by filing a lawsuit.

There was no pay-per-view audience this time, and as a result nobody was howling for refunds. The MGM Grand Garden — the same arena where he was disqualified for trying to make a snack out of Evander Holyfield — was barely three-quarters full.

THE Q BAR
211 Iowa Ave. 337-9107

1 POOL

25 Draws & Bottles (dom.)

2 Import Pints & Bottles

2 for 1 All Liquor

---

MIGAS
IRISH PUB
11 S. Dubuque

TUES-WED
10pm-Close
$2.00
Domestic Pitchers

MON-WED
9pm-Close
$2.50
Imported Pints

$1.50
Margaritas

$2.50
Strawberry Margaritas

HAPPY HOUR
Mon-Fri 4-6 pm
$1.25
Bud Lite, Miller Lite, Pints

Column
Iowa City

AT THE COLUMN

Pints

chairs

lands

of Wine

then Recycle It.

THREE TO TANGO (PG-13)
1-10, 3:45, 7:10, 9:40

STORY OF US (R)
1-10, 3:45, 7:10, 9:40

FIGHT CLUB (R)
1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45

• Matinees Daily
• Advance Tickets

---

BRINGING OUT THE DEAD (R)
EVE 7:00 & 9:30
SAT-SUN MATS 2:00 & 4:15

STIGMATA (R)
EVE 7:15 & 9:30
SAT-SUN MATS 2:00 & 4:15

SHOWTIME MOVIE LINE
337-7000
CAT 4220
hollywoodonline.com

CRAZY IN ALABAMA (PG-13)
EVE 7:00 & 9:15
SAT-SUN MATS 1:30 & 4:00

ELMO IN GROUCHLAND (G)
EVE 7:00 & 9:00
SAT-SUN MATS 2:00 & 4:30

BEFORE 6:00 PM

BIG GLASS NIGHT
24oz.

$3.50 Keep the glass

$2.00 Refills
• House & Domestic •

FITZPATRICK'S
Iowa's First Brewpub
525 S. Gilbert
Iowa City

Chef Lance Avery's Malones
IRISH PUB

$4.99 11:00-2:00
LUNCH SPECIALS

• FOR THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 25 •

Monday
MALONER MONDAY
AUTHENTIC ITALIAN BEEF SANDWICH

Tuesday
SMOKED RIBEYE SALAD

Wednesday
BREAD BOWL WITH CHILI OR IRISH LAMB STEW

Thursday
RED PEPPER PASTA STUFFED WITH CHICKEN & WILD MUSHROOMS SERVED WITH A MIXTURE OF SAUTEED VEGGIES & DRIZZLED WITH A CREAMY PESTO

Friday
FRESH FISH FRIDAY (T.B.D.)

121 Iowa Ave. • Downtown I.C. • 351-0044

VITO'S
Tuesday

U-Call-It

$2.00 Domestic Bottles

$3.50 Domestic Pitchers

9-Close Mon, Tues, Wed

WINGS • PANKO CHICKEN • TORTELLINI SALAD • QUESADILLAS • BLT • VEGETARIAN PHILLY • MANICOTTI • SALMON • AHI TUNA • SPAGHETTI • REUBENS • MEATLOAF • BAKED BRIE • SALAD NICOISE • SEAFOOD FETTUCINE • CAVILN CHICKEN • LASAGNE

Since 1944

FAMOUS AIRLINER PIZZA

- CHICAGO STYLE DEEP DISH
- AIRLINER STYLE MEDIUM THICK
- NEW YORK STYLE THIN
- PIZZA BY THE SLICE

FREE DELIVERY

Riverfest "Best Pizza" winner last 7 years and "Best Burger"

THE AIRLINER 22 S. Clinton
TUESDAY
1/2 Price Pizza
Eat in only - 3-10pm
Plus! Pint Night
75¢ pint refills

NEVER A COVER DOWNSTAIRS • UPSTAIRS IS NOW 18

338-LINER

FILET MIGNON • RAVIOLI • PORK CHOP • STEAK SANDWICH • FRENCH DIP •

TNT
Tuesday Night Tacos • All you Can Eat! 5-9 p.m.

Adults: $4.95 Full Menu Also Available

Gringos
MEXICAN BAR & GRILL
115 East College 338-3000

On Saturday October 30th, 800 people will enter Iowa City's Best Halloween Celebration.

They may never be heard from again...

THE UNION BAR

HALLOWEEN 99

111 E. COLLEGE ST., IOWA CITY, IOWA

THE FIELD HOUSE
RESTAURANT & NIGHTCLUB

EVERY TUESDAY 8:00-11:00

Iowa City's Favorite Place To Party!

$1.50 PITCHERS

$2.00 ALL MIXED DRINKS

NO COVER FOR 21 & OVER BEFORE 10 P.M.
DANCE FLOOR OPEN AT 9 P.M.

