The three hours of fighting were started when Palestinian gunners in Beit Jala and at Bethlehem opened fire on residential apartment buildings in Gaza, a school of Arabs, and Israeli police reinforced tank, machine-gun and helicopter rocket fire. The army said it warned residents of the presence of Israeli soldiers in the area. See Gunfire, Page 31.

Kostunica avoids debacle in Bosnia

The new Yugoslav president makes the first visit by a Serb leader to Bosnia since independence.

Sarajevo, Bosnia-Herzegovina — Yugoslavia’s new president avoided a diplomatic debacle Sunday by meeting Bosnia’s political leaders, defusing anger over his decision to use his first trip to the war-torn country to attend a Muslim gathering, and in the process, perhaps forging a new path for his embattled government.

The meeting left the door open for Egypt, the first Arab country to sign a peace treaty with Israel, to continue as a regional mediator, as the U.S. focuses on Egypt's efforts to promote peace in the region.

Egypt's representative did not cut diplomatic ties over, 12.

AUGUSTA, Maine — A $45 billion deal to unite one of the Navy's largest shipbuilders and chemical, plastics and automation maker GE, is expected to be approved by the workers Friday.

"The good beginning of the final merger," said Chairman John F. Welch Jr. of General Electric Co., which will pay $45 billion for Honeywell International Inc. for $45 billion in cash.

"This is how GE gets a bigger footprint in the global marketplace, increasing its size and scale overnight and adding to the dominance in key areas," said Nicholas P. Hermann of President Bush's campaign.

By Brad Page Associated Press

NEW YORK — General Electric Co. agreed Sunday to pay $45 billion for Honeywell International Inc., a step that would create the world's most profitable company and expand GE's reach in a variety of industries.

"The mood is non-union," said one worker who held his head high when he walked back to work.

Without giving any talks, union officials and GE executives will meet with the workers Friday to discuss the terms of the merger. The talks are expected to take place in the early evening.

"With the good beginning of the final merger, in increasing its size and scale overnight and adding to the dominance in key areas," said Nicholas P. Hermann of President Bush's campaign.

Navy backtracks on Cole attack

The Navy revises its timeline, raising questions as to how the attackers knew the Cole

By Robert Burns

WASHINGTON — The Navy on Wednesday revised its original account of the deadly attack on the guided missile cruiser USS Cole in Yemen, saying it was not aware of reports of a likelihood of an al Qaeda attack until late October. The change, released after a day of meetings with President Bush and U.S. military officials in the White House, came after the Navy released documents that it said provided evidence for its earlier narrative.

The Navy said it had not been aware of the references to an al Qaeda attack until Oct. 12, when the Yemeni government turned over the documents to the United States. In the documents, the Yemeni government said it had been informed by the CIA that al Qaeda was planning an attack.

The Navy said the documents included a cable from the Yemeni government last year to the CIA indicating that al Qaeda was planning an attack on the United States.

ISRAEL

Israel has expanded its targeting of Iranian agents in the mission and destroyed its long-range missiles. The strike was in response to a rocket attack that hit a military parade in the Gaza Strip.

Next to a church in the large town of Qalqilya in the West Bank, the walls of a building were damaged by a rocket attack. The building belongs to a Palestinian named Ahmed Daoud and was hit by a rocket fired from Gaza.

"They said off an ele-

Tartuffe meets expectations

The essence of Molière’s Tartuffe, that is in the satirical mocking of the hypocritical nature of society, has never fully worn off.

That’s a long time...

Despite Molière’s mockery of wordy, pompous ideas and how people can be easily swayed, the essence of Tartuffe is still performed annually in theaters around the country. The Countess of Arden’s play, the Corneille Provincetown Theatre, teams up with the Coney Island Theatre for a unique production of Tartuffe in New York City.

The answer is “to die.” But this isn’t a movie or TV show.

The first thing that will strike you when you step into a Riverside Theatre’s stage is the essence of Tartuffe itself. The stage is filled with a large table, chairs, and a door. Everything is set up in a realistic setting.

And further, you can’t help but notice the satirical side of the set. The door is ajar, and inside it’s a glowing white, while the people who sit on the chairs dress in drab grey. The set is a perfect representation of the society that Tartuffe, the fraud, is trying to sway.

5 protesters convicted of criminal trespass ...

SAS violations spotting

Last week, Students Against Sports (SAS) found themselves in a showdown with University of Iowa (UI) officials, who had filed charges against five members of the group. SAS, a student organization that advocates for greater transparency in university decision-making, had been pursuing a successful campaign to bring the issue of Illinois' new stadium to the forefront of the university's agenda.

The group, led by student leader Valerie Arifit, had organized a series of protests and rallies on the UI campus, aiming to draw attention to the potential financial implications of the stadium project. SAS members, who had previously been cleared of wrongdoing, now faced a court trial for allegedly violating the university's property rights and rights of the press when they entered the stadium complex on UI property.

The trial took place in the Johnson County Courthouse on Oct. 16. The group's attorney argued that the university should not be allowed to prevent them from entering the stadium complex, as it had a free-speech right to be in the area. The university's attorney countered that the group had a right to protest, but not in the stadium complex.

The jury convicted five members of the SAS group, finding them guilty of violating the university's property rights and rights of the press.

The case is significant as it highlights the tension between student free-speech rights and the university's property rights. The verdict is likely to set a precedent for similar cases in the future.

The Sao Paulo case, which involved the political activities of student groups, is another noteworthy example of the struggle between student rights and university property rights. The case was brought by a group of students who had been arrested for demonstrating on university property without permission. The court ruled in favor of the university, citing its property rights.

In conclusion, the verdict in the SAS case highlights the complex issues surrounding student free-speech rights and university property rights. It underscores the need for clear policies and guidelines to ensure a balance between these competing interests.
English-only laws in Marshalltown draw fire

Participants at a Marshall County meeting say an English-only resolution creates racism.

Associated Press

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa — Anti-immigrant laws in other counties have been working hard to keep English-only resolutions on the table, but the official language in Marshall County doesn’t seem so polarizing.

Just recently, former Iowa Gov. Fred感, 30, was at the flood-prone community in 2014, which was then the home of the largest Marshall County resolution

Marshalltown, say, as Marshall County resolution.

Participating at a public hearing on Oct. 21 held by the Iowa Commission on Language Affairs. The resolution is building several such meetings around Iowa to set its legislative agenda.

The Marshall County Board of Supervisors last month passed a resolution making English the official language in the county. The resolution was drafted by the county’s resolution, which sets meetings around Iowa as it seeks legislative approval.

"They correspond, did not apply. People came from Ames, Des Moines, Waterloo, Cedar Rapids, Council Bluffs, and Marshalltown to attend the meeting. They spoke about the difficult working conditions in meatpacking plants and expressed their concerns that are only sent in our language."

"I didn't see this as racism or Nazism," he said. "I think we were among the stories of Latino families who turned out for a public hearing on Oct. 21 held by the Iowa Commission on Language Affairs. The resolution is building several such meetings around Iowa to set its legislative agenda.

"Spanish is very welcome," he added. "Looking at the county’s resolution, which sets meetings around Iowa as it seeks legislative approval.

Indiana's upset ruins perfect ballots

At Stroh surges ahead of other contestants with his be-breaker pick.

By Jeremy Steiger
The Daily Times

Indiana's $1.43-about-one victory over Minnesota not only buoyed the Gophers from Fourth Place, it prevented them from finishing the regular season with a perfect record. Delroy Stroh, who was 6-0 in the regular season, was the only one to predict the upset. The game was played on the football field on Friday night.

What can you say about Vagianis? I had him on the check after the game and said, "Thanks for making me look smart." — New York Yankees coach Joe Tere on his surprise decision to start Jose Vazquez against the Mets in Game 1 of the World Series.

The Minnesota Vikings Monday night football game against Denver Sunday. Dillon broke Walter Payton’s single-season rushing record with 139 yards rushing and the game’s only touchdown catch late in the fourth quarter.

The Vikings won, 31-27, in a high-scoring offensive showcase that featured 675 total yards of offense. The Vikings (8-2) eclipsed 200 yards rushing for the first time since winning the NFC West title in 1989. The Broncos (3-7) lost their fifth straight game.

Dillon, who also topped 1,000 rushing yards on the season, didn’t believe he was the best running back in the league. But he was "just out there trying to make it happen," as he put it.

Dillon’s rushing yards of 45 or more in 11 games this season put him ahead of Payton’s single-season mark of 1,118 set in 1980. He has also surpassed Payton’s four-consecutive games with 100 yards rushing.

Chris Weinke threw for four touchdowns against Denver Sunday, the San Francisco Giants defeated the New York Mets 13-3 on Sunday at candlestick Park and the Chicago Bears dominated the Minnesota Vikings 31-27 Sunday night at Soldier Field.

Weinke, who has been one of the NFL’s most exciting young quarterbacks, led the Vikings to the win against the Broncos.

Khanchoo sets American marathon record

Khalid Khanchoo sets the record at the Chicago Marathon with a time of 2 hours, 6 minutes, 11 seconds.

By Nancy Armour, Associated Press

CHICAGO — This was Khalid Khanchoo's moment.

Still agonized at not qualifying for the Olympic team, the Kenyan with the raspy voice and the bulging biceps made the most of his chance against 10,000 runners to become the fastest American.

So close to it, yet so far.

"I may be one of the up-and-coming stars," Khanchoo said. "I am going to work harder and try my best.

"I will not give up."

This was his last, best chance to make the U.S. Olympic team for the 2000 Games in Sydney.

"I want that Olympic gold medal," Khanchoo said. "I have worked very hard for this."
The Iowa offense, bolstered by the return of three starters from last year's team, was not as effective as hoped. The Buckeyes dominated, using their superior talent in key moments to pressure the Hawkeyes into mistakes. Despite a strong showing by Iowa quarterback Kyle McCann, who threw for 266 yards and two touchdowns, the Hawkeyes were outscored 38-7 by the Buckeyes.

In the first quarter, the Buckeyes took a 7-0 lead with an 11-play, 79-yard drive, capped by a 1-yard run by Ohio State fullback Luke Weller. The Hawkeyes responded with a 72-yard drive, but were stopped on fourth down near the Ohio State 30-yard line.

The Buckeyes extended their lead to 14-0 in the second quarter with a 65-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Joe Tiller to wide receiver Glenn Johnson. Iowa's best chance to score came on an 80-yard drive, but the Buckeyes defense held firm, forcing a punt.

Midway through the third quarter, the Buckeyes increased their lead to 21-0 with a 42-yard field goal by kicker Brandon Mundy. The Hawkeyes responded with a 10-play, 72-yard drive, capped by a 1-yard touchdown run by quarterback Kyle McCann, to pull within 21-7.

However, the Buckeyes responded with a 92-yard drive, capped by a 40-yard touchdown pass from Tiller to wide receiver Greg Lewis, to take a 28-7 lead into the fourth quarter. The Hawkeyes were unable to score again, while the Buckeyes added two more touchdowns to finalize the score.

Final Score: Ohio State 38, Iowa 7

Additional Information

- Iowa quarterback Kyle McCann threw for 266 yards and two touchdowns.
- Ohio State quarterback Joe Tiller threw for 285 yards and three touchdowns.
- Iowa running back Shonn Greene had 87 yards and one touchdown.
- Ohio State running back光明Hong had 119 yards and two touchdowns.

Florida and Minnesota fight to tie

By Mike Vitali

ST. PAUL, Minn.—AP — The Florida Panthers and Minnesota Wild were knotted at 1-1 in a Saturday night, the NHL East semifinals between the two teams got closer.

In a game that ended in overtime, the Panthers defeated the Wild 2-1, four games to none, in Game 7.

"It was an exciting game," said Florida Panthers head coach Joel Quenneville. "It was a hard-fought battle, but we put the game away in the end."

The Panthers, who have now won four straight games in the series, are one win away from advancing to the second round of the NHL playoffs.

"We're not satisfied with anything yet," said Panthers forward Keith Yandle. "We want to keep pushing and see where we can go."

The Wild, on the other hand, are left to wonder what might have been.

"It was a tough loss," said Wild center Mikael Backlund. "We had chances, but we couldn't put the puck in the net."

The game was a roller coaster, with the teams trading goals and leads.

The Panthers took a 1-0 lead in the first period when Jonathan Huberdeau scored from the top of the circle.

The Wild tied the game in the second period when Wild center Mikael Backlund scored on a rebound after a save by Panthers goalie Sergei Bobrovsky.

The game remained 1-1 until the overtime period, where the Panthers won 2-1 on a goal by Yandle.

"It's been a long time since we've been here," said Panthers forward Evgeni Dadonov. "We're happy to finally get into the semifinals."

The Panthers' next opponent will be the New York Islanders, who defeated the Boston Bruins in seven games.

"We'll have our work cut out for us," said Quenneville. "But we're ready for the challenge."

The NHL playoffs continue next week as the Islanders and Panthers face off in the second round.

Venus Williams' winning streak ends

Lindsey Davenport ended Venus Williams' 35-match winning streak, dating back to the French Open, on Saturday at the BNP Paribas Open in Indian Wells, Calif.

Williams, 36, won the first set 6-2 and was up 5-1 in the second set before falling to Davenport, 6-2, 6-3.

"I'm really happy with how I played today," said Davenport, who won her first career Grand Slam title at the Australian Open last year. "I think I played better than I did in my win over Serena Williams in the final."

Williams, who had won her last three matches, was coming off a four-set victory over Elina Svitolina in the quarterfinals.

"I've been playing well, but I made some mistakes," said Williams. "I need to be more consistent and play better in the big moments."

In the opening set, Williams broke Davenport's serve in the second game to take a 2-0 lead.

Davenport answered with a break of her own in the third game to level the score at 2-2.

But Williams took over in the fourth game, breaking Davenport again to lead 3-2.

"I was able to stay patient and keep going when things weren't going my way," said Williams. "I think I played some of my best tennis in the second set."

In the second set, Williams broke Davenport's serve in the third game to take a 2-0 lead.

Davenport answered with a break of her own in the fourth game to level the score at 2-2.

But Williams took over in the fifth game, breaking Davenport again to lead 3-2.

"I was able to keep my composure and stay focused," said Williams. "I think I played some of my best tennis in the second set."

Williams defeated Davenport in the semifinals of the 2001 Australian Open, but Davenport won their last meeting in the final of the 2002 Wimbledon Championships.

"I think I played better in that final," said Williams. "I was able to stay patient and keep going when things weren't going my way."
