Students gripe about council, but don’t vote

By Sara Fawell
The Daily Iowan

Several admissions were made at the Iowa City City Council’s regular meeting on Monday night. The city council and students aren’t in the best of terms, and the students appear to be unhappy with the procedures that are currently in the works.

Many students are willing to voice their opinions on the proposed smoking ban. In addition, students are willing to discuss parking problems, many said that they are neglected in the upcoming election.

“If students were to actually take a large interest, they would create the agenda of the city,” Blunk said. “This election is in the turning point of the city.”

Fewer than 1 percent of the votes in the Oct. 1 primaries came from campus citizens, even though people ages 18 to 24 make up 34.6 percent of the population in Iowa City according to 2000 census and estimate.

“Many UI students have more important things to worry about than local politics,” Coons said.

“This is only their temporary home, so it’s hard for them to take a real interest,” said one proposed ordinance would require employees to purchase parking permits because the city has no more parking tickets left. A minimum fee of $200 in business were left.

UI senior Gene Gibb, who is trying to vote, said that hotels and restaurants make their own decisions regarding the prices for their clientele.

He also said each student needs to help UI with its budget problems.

POLICE LOG

Scott Denney, 22, of 1000 First Ave. NE, was arrested Oct. 18 at 6:40 a.m. on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated in the city of Iowa City. Denney was arrested near 500 S. Dubuque St., and was later taken to the Johnson County jail and charged with operation of a motor vehicle while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Christopher Doctson, 23, Iowa City, was arrested Oct. 18 at 4:30 p.m. for public intoxication and carrying a concealed weapon. Doctson was arrested near 221 S. Dubuque St.

Early retirement still alive at council

By Vanessa Miller
The Daily Iowan

UI employees between 57 and 64 years of age will be able to plan their retirement through 2000. All still remain eligible to receive benefits from an early retirement program.

The state of Iowa Board of Regents discontinued the University Retirement System this past summer, scheduling its termination for June 30, 2002. But the UI opted to extend the program through 2004 for employees who make their intentions known by Dec. 1, 2001, in an effort to minimize the effect on individual retirement plans.

The extension means that an additional 105 employees may be able to take advantage of the benefits in addition to the 250 eligible for the original termination date.

Under the program, the university will provide money to employees to purchase retirement insurance, along with other benefits. Employees who participated in the retirement program before its termination until age 65. To be eligible, employees must have had at least 10 years of service to the university.

The decision, which university staff officers applauded, was announced at the regents’ meeting in Ames last week.

“This is a good thing,” said Pat Brown, the former president of UI Staff Council. “It’s going to give people more flexibility, if they want to retire early or just keep working.”

The two-year extension should allow for a “smoother transition” for both faculty and staff, said Dan Bolin, a university spokesperson.

The program was re-approved in 1999 and 2000, but now, administrators say, it is not necessary, given the low unemployment rate, competitive hiring, and the current economic market.

“Giving qualified people financial incentive to retire early when they’re having trouble filling open positions is a main reason for the discontinuation of the program,” Bolin said.

The retirement committee is reviewing the program for another early retirement program, said in chairman Dean Kuntz.

“Right now, we have to get some principles of operation approved,” he said. “Any new program will have to be designed so that the institution can carry out all its functions.”

Any new early retirement program would have to be based on principles that adhered to the current economic market, Kuntz added.

“By getting rid of the program, we’re not creating financial incentive for employees to retire,” he said. “In the future, that might change, and we’ll need to implement other changes depending on the market.”

Rhonda offers a letter from the university. Note 1, investigating them in all procedures, said she was examined in an independent review.

Group pushes to expand smoking ban

By Katie Doyle

The Daily Iowan

A local group plans to ask the Iowa City Council to increase the city's smoking ban to include bars and taverns (outside in a propped open door), including those in the downtown area.

The Johnson County Tobacco-Free Coalition, which supports a 24-hour smoking ban, is questioning their own definition of a restaurant and is calling on the council to consider expanding the definition to include bars and taverns, said the coalition's executive director, Scotty Wilson.

Currently, bars are excluded from the smoking ban, but the coalition would like to see them included.

Some restaurant owners have argued that a smoking ban in their establishments would not make sense because they do not have alcohols, Wilson said.

But the group plans to include bars in its definition of a restaurant, he said.

Wilson said the coalition would like to see a smoking ban in all types of indoor establishments in the county.

The group also plans to ask the city council to consider a smoking ban in all public places, including parks, sidewalks and parking lots.

Wilson said the group would like to see a smoking ban in all public places in the county, including parks, sidewalks and parking lots.

Anthrax hits postal worker

By Laura Meckler
Associated Press

WASHINGTON - A District of Columbia postal worker is gravely ill from inhalation anthrax, a rare and lethal form of the disease, prompting the suspension of mail delivery and beginning testing more than 100 miles away.

The man, who was not identified, is in the hospital and in critical condition, with anthrax spores found in his respiratory system and lodged in the lungs. Six others, including two postal workers, have been infected with a highly lethal form that is contracted through the skin.

Mayor Anthony Williams said the infected victim, the first in the District, was admitted to the hospital to combat the disease, which is not generally contagious, but could spread to a hospital patient. "There is grave concern," he said.

The 52-year-old analyst, who was treated at a suburban Virginia hospital near his home, has been infected with anthrax by handling mail, and the disease is believed to have begun developing late last week, said Dr. David Satcher, the surgeon general.

"We do not want to overstate the situation," the spokesman quoted Satcher as telling news analysts.

The focus of violence Sunday was Bethesda, where Palestinian officials said three people were killed by Israeli gunfire — a police officer and a civilian in a nearby refugee camp and another civilian when a shell landed near a hospital.

Israel's army said, however, that Palestinians threw a bomb at an Israeli tank near the refugee camp, setting off an exchange of fire. The army said it was looking into the hospital incident.

In the West Bank town of Ramallah, the Palestinian急性 secretary said 10-year-old Ghazal Sair, who was shot in the head in her home in the nearby village of Ein Samud. Two other children were wounded by Israeli fire, which houses near an abandoned position of the Fatah 17 Palestinian security force, they said.

THE LAST CASTLE

Director: Joe Roth

Robert Redford stars as Gen. Irwin, a three-star general who lands in a military correction facility overseas by the exacting Gen. Irwin.

Irwin (Robert Redford) lands in a military correction facility overseen by the exacting Gen. Irwin (Robert Redford). Without the presence of Winter, the last castle could certainly be a disappointment.

Winter, played by James Gandolfini, is the heart of the film. Winter is a soldier who, because he did not break protocol, faces a final punishment to his sentence but because he is an exceptionally knowledgeable of warfare, he is allowed to stay. Winter, and his wisdom, is detailed in the second act of the film, as the contrast between the rocky, rugged prison yard and Winter's pristine, artifical office. Outside is worn earth, and pain, while behind the scrupulously clean glass are scrupulously clean sandwiches, polished antique weaponry, and meat tallow of all, made by Barletti (an imitation Mussato as Winter is an imitation Gen. Irwin). Without the presence of Winter, the last castle could certainly be a disappointment.

Freddy Johnston

"What kind of songs do you listen to?" Do you like slow, and sorrow?" Freddy Johnston asked as he stood on the stage of Genes's on Oct. 17. "That's lucky for you.

That is a man with such talent because he does not stand on an impressive collection of bright and sensitive folk rock songs. He is as big and strong as the statue of liberty in New York City. — and a farm boy turned self-styled troubadour on the road with his guitar. He learned to play growing up on a family farm in Eastern Kentucky. — a farm he was later able to sell to complete his 1980s Tom Tom Ry. Although he has something of a celebrity in Europe and has recorded with artists such as Marshall Crenshaw, he couldn't afford to bring his band with him to the last castle, to right a world gone wrong.

The film, although it stresses the division between a real World War I event and the contrast between the rocky, rugged prison yard and Winter's pristine, artificial office. Outside is worn earth, and pain, while behind the scrupulously clean glass are scrupulously clean sandwiches, polished antique weaponry, and meat tallow of all, made by Barletti (an imitation Mussato as Winter is an imitation Gen. Iowa's offense redisCOVERs its rhythm in the 14-point victory

By Todd Benroth/sport

The Daily Iowan

During a season in which the defense has given much of the attention, the Iowa offense stole the spotlight for one Saturday afternoon in front of 48,205 fans.

Led by 172 yards from running back Ladell Betts, Iowa racked up 454 yards of total offense to defeat Indiana, 42-28, on Oct. 19. Betts gained 127 yards rushing on the day.

"Iowa was able to win the ball to minimize their offense," Iowa coach Kirk Ferentz said. "It was great to have Ladell healthy, and it was obvious he came to Kinnick ready to play today."

Betts wasn't the only member of Iowa's offense who came to Kinnick Stadium to play.

Arizona clinics spot in Series
ATLANTA, GA — Randy Johnson was one for the books and all the other Arizona old-timers who had never made it to a World Series before.

The Diamondbacks reached the Series faster than any expansion team ever, doing it in only their fourth year of existence when Johnson pitched them past the Atlanta Braves, 3-2, Sunday night in Game 7 of their National League Championship Series.

Craig Counsell, the only play­er on the Arizona roster with a championship ring, was picked as MVP after hitting .314 and scoring five runs.

“I’m just happy for all the guys who have played so much,” Counsell said.

Johnson, who had been a main­stay seven-season profes­sion­al left­hand­er coming into the series, earned all-dock about his ability to win postseason games and汽油ing, he started his second game in six days, having pitched Monday.

“The Big Unit made his 11th and final start of the year Oct. 12,” Arizona Coach Bob Brenly said. “What he did against the Braves was.supported by his teammates. He also has been a key to the team’s success.”

Johnson faced the Braves five times this season, including the five-run game in the regular season deciding game.

“I’m not sure how many more runs that is,” Counsell said.

“We’re all glad to have him back. He’s been a big part of our team.”

Counsell, who helped Florida to the 1990 World Series title, said Johnson was willing to come back the next year.

“The Diamondbacks became the third visiting team in nine years to claim the NL pennant at Turner Field, following Florida in 1991 and San Diego in 1980,” Clarion-Ledger in Memphis, Tenn., in 1981.

The left-handed pitcher had just one championship to his name.

“I realize how special it is,” Johnson said.

Game 5 is Saturday night at Bank One Ballpark, against either the New York Yankees or Seattle Mariners, with Arizona claiming the DVDs — to be in Schilling or Johnson, both men will be fully armed for the opener.

“They think they’ve got a great

“OK, maybe this is a stretch, but since team­mates are constantly going to the same game this season.”

St. Louis Rams nab sixth straight; Chicago wins

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Trung Canidate scored four touchdowns and stuck around when it counted to lead the Rams to a 44-11 win over the Jets in the NFL's fourth straight season with a Sunday night game.

St. Louis is only the second NFL team to win four straight season openers, tying the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1972-75 and 1979-80.

Canidate replaced Marshall Faulk, who was benched because of a back injury.

“I had the opportunity to do it against the team whose defense dominated us,” Canidate said. “It was a big step for me to show that I can do it against a defense like that.”

St. Louis Rams vs. Chicago Bears

The Bears (4-0) are on their way to a perfect start, setting up the franchise for a stretch run that could lead to the NFC North title.

Soriano’s ninth-inning home-sealing Yankees’ 3-1 victory

NEW YORK (AP) — In one of the most dramatic games ever, Andy Pettitte was on the mound as the New York Yankees chased the Baltimore Orioles to a record 14-0 lead before the ultimate hero of the ninth-inning drive on Sunday at the Stadium won their fourth-straight trip to the World Series.

After Seattle’s Bret Boone smashed a game-winning, eighth-inning homer off Steve Parnell to score the winning run, Pettitte retired the final three batters for his 10th win of the season.

Soriano, who started the first-inning rally with a solo home run off Richard Finch, then saved the game with a four-out save in the ninth.

"It feels like I’ve just won the World Series," Pettitte said.

"It makes it a little bit sweeter," Soriano said.

"We never let up on them. We never let up on them," said Pettitte, who pitched 1 2/3 innings. "I was walking off the mound thinking about throwing an out for the last." Pettitte said.

"I’m just happy for my team," Soriano said.

"I didn’t have a chance to get the last out," Pettitte said.

Hayweekes win, tie one on road

By Jeremy Shapiro

Iowa’s two-goal-per-game streak is over, but that doesn’t mean the Hawkeyes didn’t help the Hawks clinch a postseason berth.

Senior Lindsey Wil- man’s score 15:18 into the game at Indiana ended a quirky streak in which the team scored one goal, and only one goal, in eight consecutive games.

Iowa actually needed a third goal to hold off Indiana, 3-0, and clinch a berth in the Big Ten Tournament. The Hawkeyes improved to 1-1-1 in conference, 6-8-2 overall. The victory ensured Iowa a postseason berth regardless of the result of its final conference game at Illinois on Oct. 29.

Considering the conference is so close, this has to be our best season of the season." Iowa coach Wendy Logan said.

"I really feel like we’re just getting started." Logan said. "It’s a little scary how we’re coming up to the [final] weekend." Logan said.

The Hawkeyes entered the game at one in the top 25) and Logan said: “I was thinking it was around 400." Logan said.
