By Alex Grun

As the sun hit the horizon Sunday night, 1500 police officers in the city marched to the World Trade Center and the Indian Student Association House on campus. The 7 a.m. rally was part of the anger that followed the meeting of the Board of Regents on Tuesday, which voted to cut the University of Iowa's security budget.

The rally was the culmination of several days of activism on campus, including a protest earlier in the week. The students were joined by members of the Iowa City Police Department, who provided security for the event.

At the rally, Yom Kippur observance. The event was held Sunday night in the Main Lounge.

The rally was held as students continued to call for increased security on campus in the wake of recent attacks on synagogues and other Jewish institutions.

By KELLY CASINO

BY CASEY WAGNER

The Iowa State football team took on the Nebraska Cornhuskers on Saturday afternoon, with a victory over the Hawkeyes. The win was a much-needed boost for the team, which had been struggling for much of the season.

The game was held at Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City, with a crowd of over 60,000 fans in attendance. The Hawkeyes scored early in the game, but the Cornhuskers were able to come back and secure the victory.

The win improved the team's record to 2-1, and put them in good position for the upcoming Big Ten Championship game.

Saudis switch
on U.S. access

By S.A.M. GHATI

UNITED NATIONS — In a swift move to ease pressure on Saddam Hussein, Saudi Arabia's foreign minister said Sunday that U.S. forces may have access to bases in the kingdom to attack Iraq — provided military action had U.S. endorsement.

Prince Turki al-Faisal said on the Baghdad regime to allow U.S. inspectors back into Iraq to ensure that it is not developing nuclear, chemical, or biological weapons.

Other Arab nations also feel more comfortable with U.S. security Council resolutions in light of the talks with Washington, saying they wanted a clearer statement to avoid conflict that could threaten stability in the Middle East.

At the same time, Arab states urged U.S. action to settle the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Saudia Arabian leaders prefer not to take any steps of their own if U.S. forces are to attack Iraq. However, Ward says the university has already taken steps to ensure that the university's priorities are addressed.

By S.A.M. GHATI

UNITED NATIONS — In a swift move to ease pressure on Saddam Hussein, Saudi Arabia's foreign minister said Sunday that U.S. forces may have access to bases in the kingdom to attack Iraq — provided military action had U.S. endorsement.

Prince Turki al-Faisal said on the Baghdad regime to allow U.S. inspectors back into Iraq to ensure that it is not developing nuclear, chemical, or biological weapons.

Other Arab nations also feel more comfortable with U.S. security Council resolutions in light of the talks with Washington, saying they wanted a clearer statement to avoid conflict that could threaten stability in the Middle East.

At the same time, Arab states urged U.S. action to settle the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Saudia Arabian leaders prefer not to take any steps of their own if U.S. forces are to attack Iraq. However, Ward says the university has already taken steps to ensure that the university's priorities are addressed.
UI lends a hand, really & virtually

BY JEFFREY PATCH

A UI-based program will bring educational opportunities from universities across Nigeria to campus Friday for workshops on using technology in higher education.

UI computer experts and professionals will conduct the curricula of the university's technology starting workshop from Friday to Oct. 4. Participants from the tech schools will also participate in video-conference sessions with students worldwide.

The Project, a 4-year nonprofit program begun at the UI International Center, works to improve educational communication systems in Africa by providing faculty and students with access to computers, e-mail, and the Internet.

Last Christmas, the UI and Iowa City residence donated more than 300 functioning computers.

I think it has a tremendous impact. What impact do people think

By BRIDGET FREDYMA

...made up a land lease because of what Root claimed was harassment. Iowa Civil Rights Commission v. Acme Real Estate Inc.,

"We're going to be in front of seven Iowa lawyers for a day," said Justice Louis Lavorato, "which is worth approximately $200,000 to $250,000." He said during questioning the students about the evidence they had produced, one advocate might have been "petrified," said Steve Missen, United States, is worth approxi-

Meet Makeup Artist

Pan Bliemick

Pan Bliemick, an Aveda makeup artist and educator, will be visiting campus, beginning Wednesday, September 25, 2002. She will be offering thirty minute makeup sessions to discuss basic techniques or the latest trends. A reservation fee of $25 is required and reservation fee will be put on the card. Please call 335-6030 for more information.

"It's just a fun event and totally teresting," said Schmitt. "It's remarkably affordable."

Only are they talented students, they are an example for all undergraduate law students.

I think it has a tremendous impact," she said. "I think the courts are better at handling the stu-
ents problems."

Schmitt said: "It's not like anything he put himself into. I'm just going to ask for a spring, summer and fall. The only thing he'll put is a "yes.""

Not only are they talented students, they are an example for undergraduate law students.

Korea, the dean of the university's law school, said during questioning the students about the evidence they had produced, one advocate might have been "petrified," said Steve Missen, United States, is worth approxi-

Meet Makeup Artist

Pan Bliemick

Pan Bliemick, an Aveda makeup artist and educator, will be visiting campus, beginning Wednesday, September 25, 2002. She will be offering thirty minute makeup sessions to discuss basic techniques or the latest trends. A reservation fee of $25 is required and reservation fee will be put on the card. Please call 335-6030 for more information.

"It's just a fun event and totally
teresting," said Schmitt. "It's remarkably affordable."

Only are they talented students, they are an example for all undergraduate law students.

I think it has a tremendous impact," she said. "I think the courts are better at handling the stu-
ents problems."

Schmitt said: "It's not like anything he put himself into. I'm just going to ask for a spring, summer and fall. The only thing he'll put is a "yes.""

Not only are they talented students, they are an example for undergraduate law students.

Korea, the dean of the university's law school, said during questioning the students about the evidence they had produced, one advocate might have been "petrified," said Steve Missen, United States, is worth approxi-

Meet Makeup Artist

Pan Bliemick

Pan Bliemick, an Aveda makeup artist and educator, will be visiting campus, beginning Wednesday, September 25, 2002. She will be offering thirty minute makeup sessions to discuss basic techniques or the latest trends. A reservation fee of $25 is required and reservation fee will be put on the card. Please call 335-6030 for more information.

"It's just a fun event and totally
teresting," said Schmitt. "It's remarkably affordable."

Only are they talented students, they are an example for all undergraduate law students.

I think it has a tremendous impact," she said. "I think the courts are better at handling the stu-
ents problems."

Schmitt said: "It's not like anything he put himself into. I'm just going to ask for a spring, summer and fall. The only thing he'll put is a "yes.""

Not only are they talented students, they are an example for undergraduate law students.

Korea, the dean of the university's law school, said during questioning the students about the evidence they had produced, one advocate might have been "petrified," said Steve Missen, United States, is worth approxi-

Meet Makeup Artist

Pan Bliemick

Pan Bliemick, an Aveda makeup artist and educator, will be visiting campus, beginning Wednesday, September 25, 2002. She will be offering thirty minute makeup sessions to discuss basic techniques or the latest trends. A reservation fee of $25 is required and reservation fee will be put on the card. Please call 335-6030 for more information.

"It's just a fun event and totally
teresting," said Schmitt. "It's remarkably affordable."

Only are they talented students, they are an example for all undergraduate law students.

I think it has a tremendous impact," she said. "I think the courts are better at handling the stu-
ents problems."

Schmitt said: "It's not like anything he put himself into. I'm just going to ask for a spring, summer and fall. The only thing he'll put is a "yes.""

Not only are they talented students, they are an example for undergraduate law students.

Korea, the dean of the university's law school, said during questioning the students about the evidence they had produced, one advocate might have been "petrified," said Steve Missen, United States, is worth approxi-

Meet Makeup Artist

Pan Bliemick

Pan Bliemick, an Aveda makeup artist and educator, will be visiting campus, beginning Wednesday, September 25, 2002. She will be offering thirty minute makeup sessions to discuss basic techniques or the latest trends. A reservation fee of $25 is required and reservation fee will be put on the card. Please call 335-6030 for more information.

"It's just a fun event and totally
teresting," said Schmitt. "It's remarkably affordable."

Only are they talented students, they are an example for all undergraduate law students.

I think it has a tremendous impact," she said. "I think the courts are better at handling the stu-
ents problems."

Schmitt said: "It's not like anything he put himself into. I'm just going to ask for a spring, summer and fall. The only thing he'll put is a "yes.""

Not only are they talented students, they are an example for undergraduate law students.

Korea, the dean of the university's law school, said during questioning the students about the evidence they had produced, one advocate might have been "petrified," said Steve Missen, United States, is worth approxi-

Meet Makeup Artist

Pan Bliemick

Pan Bliemick, an Aveda makeup artist and educator, will be visiting campus, beginning Wednesday, September 25, 2002. She will be offering thirty minute makeup sessions to discuss basic techniques or the latest trends. A reservation fee of $25 is required and reservation fee will be put on the card. Please call 335-6030 for more information.

"It's just a fun event and total
Park pauses for dog-day afternoon

BY KAREN HENSLERMAN
THE DAILY IOWAN

Cardinals resident Amy Jacobson, her dog Max (far left), participated in the best-story contest at Paws on the Plaza. Max was one of 200 dogs that gathered at Lower City Park for the fundraiser.

"I live in Coralville, and my dog Max and I have been coming to Paws on the Plaza for the last five years," said Jacobson. "The event is a great way to support a local organization and see other dogs and their owners.

The event was organized by the Animal Care and Adoption Center, and featured various activities for both dogs and their owners, including a costume contest, a dog walk, and a best-story contest. The fundraiser was in support of the center's mission to provide a safe and healthy environment for abandoned and homeless pets.

"We are fortunate to have such a great community that supports our mission and helps us make a difference in the lives of these animals," said the center's executive director.

The event was well-attended, with over 200 dogs and their owners participating. The best-story contest was particularly popular, with many pet owners sharing their heartwarming stories about their pets.

"It's amazing to see how much happiness these dogs bring to their owners," said one participant. "It's a joy to see them running around and having fun.

The event also featured various vendors and booths, including a pet store, a dog grooming salon, and a local brewery, who served beer to those in attendance.

"We are happy to support the Animal Care and Adoption Center and the community," said a representative from the brewery. "It's a great way to give back and support a good cause.

Paws on the Plaza was a success, and the center plans to hold it again next year. The event is a great way to come together and support a good cause, while having fun with our four-legged friends.

BY STEFANIE CAMPBELL
THE DAILY IOWAN

Iowa City resident Lynn Dyke and her dog, Max (far left), participated in the best-story contest at Paws on the Plaza. Max was one of 200 dogs that gathered at Lower City Park for the fundraiser.

"I live in Coralville, and my dog Max and I have been coming to Paws on the Plaza for the last five years," said Jacobson. "The event is a great way to support a local organization and see other dogs and their owners.

The event was organized by the Animal Care and Adoption Center, and featured various activities for both dogs and their owners, including a costume contest, a dog walk, and a best-story contest. The fundraiser was in support of the center's mission to provide a safe and healthy environment for abandoned and homeless pets.

"We are fortunate to have such a great community that supports our mission and helps us make a difference in the lives of these animals," said the center's executive director.

The event was well-attended, with over 200 dogs and their owners participating. The best-story contest was particularly popular, with many pet owners sharing their heartwarming stories about their pets.

"It's amazing to see how much happiness these dogs bring to their owners," said one participant. "It's a joy to see them running around and having fun.

The event also featured various vendors and booths, including a pet store, a dog grooming salon, and a local brewery, who served beer to those in attendance.

"We are happy to support the Animal Care and Adoption Center and the community," said a representative from the brewery. "It's a great way to give back and support a good cause.

Paws on the Plaza was a success, and the center plans to hold it again next year. The event is a great way to come together and support a good cause, while having fun with our four-legged friends.

BY STEFANIE CAMPBELL
THE DAILY IOWAN

Iowa City resident Lynn Dyke and her dog, Max (far left), participated in the best-story contest at Paws on the Plaza. Max was one of 200 dogs that gathered at Lower City Park for the fundraiser.

"I live in Coralville, and my dog Max and I have been coming to Paws on the Plaza for the last five years," said Jacobson. "The event is a great way to support a local organization and see other dogs and their owners.

The event was organized by the Animal Care and Adoption Center, and featured various activities for both dogs and their owners, including a costume contest, a dog walk, and a best-story contest. The fundraiser was in support of the center's mission to provide a safe and healthy environment for abandoned and homeless pets.

"We are fortunate to have such a great community that supports our mission and helps us make a difference in the lives of these animals," said the center's executive director.

The event was well-attended, with over 200 dogs and their owners participating. The best-story contest was particularly popular, with many pet owners sharing their heartwarming stories about their pets.

"It's amazing to see how much happiness these dogs bring to their owners," said one participant. "It's a joy to see them running around and having fun.

The event also featured various vendors and booths, including a pet store, a dog grooming salon, and a local brewery, who served beer to those in attendance.

"We are happy to support the Animal Care and Adoption Center and the community," said a representative from the brewery. "It's a great way to give back and support a good cause.

Paws on the Plaza was a success, and the center plans to hold it again next year. The event is a great way to come together and support a good cause, while having fun with our four-legged friends.

BY STEFANIE CAMPBELL
THE DAILY IOWAN

Iowa City resident Lynn Dyke and her dog, Max (far left), participated in the best-story contest at Paws on the Plaza. Max was one of 200 dogs that gathered at Lower City Park for the fundraiser.

"I live in Coralville, and my dog Max and I have been coming to Paws on the Plaza for the last five years," said Jacobson. "The event is a great way to support a local organization and see other dogs and their owners.

The event was organized by the Animal Care and Adoption Center, and featured various activities for both dogs and their owners, including a costume contest, a dog walk, and a best-story contest. The fundraiser was in support of the center's mission to provide a safe and healthy environment for abandoned and homeless pets.

"We are fortunate to have such a great community that supports our mission and helps us make a difference in the lives of these animals," said the center's executive director.

The event was well-attended, with over 200 dogs and their owners participating. The best-story contest was particularly popular, with many pet owners sharing their heartwarming stories about their pets.

"It's amazing to see how much happiness these dogs bring to their owners," said one participant. "It's a joy to see them running around and having fun.

The event also featured various vendors and booths, including a pet store, a dog grooming salon, and a local brewery, who served beer to those in attendance.

"We are happy to support the Animal Care and Adoption Center and the community," said a representative from the brewery. "It's a great way to give back and support a good cause.

Paws on the Plaza was a success, and the center plans to hold it again next year. The event is a great way to come together and support a good cause, while having fun with our four-legged friends.

BY STEFANIE CAMPBELL
THE DAILY IOWAN

Iowa City resident Lynn Dyke and her dog, Max (far left), participated in the best-story contest at Paws on the Plaza. Max was one of 200 dogs that gathered at Lower City Park for the fundraiser.

"I live in Coralville, and my dog Max and I have been coming to Paws on the Plaza for the last five years," said Jacobson. "The event is a great way to support a local organization and see other dogs and their owners.

The event was organized by the Animal Care and Adoption Center, and featured various activities for both dogs and their owners, including a costume contest, a dog walk, and a best-story contest. The fundraiser was in support of the center's mission to provide a safe and healthy environment for abandoned and homeless pets.

"We are fortunate to have such a great community that supports our mission and helps us make a difference in the lives of these animals," said the center's executive director.

The event was well-attended, with over 200 dogs and their owners participating. The best-story contest was particularly popular, with many pet owners sharing their heartwarming stories about their pets.

"It's amazing to see how much happiness these dogs bring to their owners," said one participant. "It's a joy to see them running around and having fun.

The event also featured various vendors and booths, including a pet store, a dog grooming salon, and a local brewery, who served beer to those in attendance.

"We are happy to support the Animal Care and Adoption Center and the community," said a representative from the brewery. "It's a great way to give back and support a good cause.

Paws on the Plaza was a success, and the center plans to hold it again next year. The event is a great way to come together and support a good cause, while having fun with our four-legged friends.
Vilsack pushes Army on munition plant’s records

BY ROLAND WILSACK

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, September 11, 2000

Local band O’Jesus, performs at the South Side Festival on South Dubuque Street on Sunday evening. The band included trumpets, pianos, poets, and musicians.

Hospital distances itself from three Muslim medical students

BY TIM REYNOLDS

Local band O’Jesus, performs at the South Side Festival on South Dubuque Street on Sunday evening. The band included trumpets, pianos, poets, and musicians.

Vilsack pushes Army on munition plant’s records

BY ROLAND WILSACK

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, September 11, 2000

Local band O’Jesus, performs at the South Side Festival on South Dubuque Street on Sunday evening. The band included trumpets, pianos, poets, and musicians.
Al Qaeda cells using canny communication

BY JOHN SOLOMON
ASSOCIATE PRESS

WASHINGTON — Government officials have received numerous calls from Al Qaeda cells from land lines, prepaid phone cards, cellular telephones, the United States and elsewhere, the officials said.

They are one piece of a growing body of evidence pointing to a number of terrorist sleeper cells operating in U.S. soil and a growing sophistication on their part to hide their communications, the officials said.

The officials, who spoke only on the condition of anonymity, said the effort to follow the phone numbers and find their location has been frustrated by the lack of cooperation from federal agencies and is the result of improved technology and coordination between the traditional law enforcement of the FBI and the intelligence gathering of the National Security Agency, America's premier overseas electronic-intelligence agency.

"Things have really improved, and that gives us the ability to better track terrorist leadership in the United States and abroad and prevent things before they happen," one senior law-enforcement official told The Associated Press.

The officials said the process works like this: U.S. intelligence notices of a communication to known Al Qaeda locations overseas and then short the FBI and other law-enforcement agencies, who try to track down the source and origin of the U.S. callers. Authorities seized the calls to the clear presence of one or more sleeper cells in the United States and attempted to bring Al Qaeda operatives in America to make their cells difficult to trace, using tactics learned among U.S. criminals to fend off.

With the arrest last week of 13 U.S. citizens in Buffalo, N.Y., and the subsequent instance in which 13 supposed Al Qaeda cells from the United States were arrested on 13 prepaid cell phones, prepaid long-distance phone cards, or public phone booths. The officials have been known to use these methods to track down suspects in communications activities.

In other recent steps to disrupt suspected domestic terrorist activities, the indictment of several men in Detroit cited the possible presence in the Midwest of a "virtual cell" of terrorists, the government in the past few weeks has been working with the FBI to help Al Qaeda cells on a terrorist training camp in Detroit.

"All this shows is that they are about as sophisticated as Mafia guys from the 1920s," said Howard Baker, a Washington lawyer who formerly served as the Senate majority leader.

He said that was relatively significant. "The officials said the process does not need to be widely known to the U.S. public, including the Dept. of Homeland Security, and other methods of operation. Instead of entering the country just to perpetrate attacks, they now stay in U.S. soil for months and even talk on U.S. communications systems as they wait to carry out attacks.

Virtually collegiate

BY MARTHA IRVINE

CHICAGO — Andy Peters takes the Henry of Rice University to register for classes, to eat lunch and even take a nap. He doesn't have a roommate, and he rarely leaves the dormitory.

Edell Fiedler taps into the Internet to find the latest news and research. He often uses the library to help finish his own work. He rarely leaves, but he has a roommate.

They are examples of the many students who are simply using the Internet to keep in touch with friends by e-mail and online games, compared to the traditional college experience of campus life, and it is not used just by housemates.

The survey of college students across the country found that 90 percent use the Internet compared with 39 percent of the overall U.S. population.

For this group of college students, the Internet just works. It's like turning on the tap and getting water or turning on the TV and seeing the program. The students see it as a normal facet of modern life.

The survey by the Pew Internet & American Life Project, based on a random sample of 4,000 Internet users and 5,000 nonusers, finds that students use the Internet more than any other age group.

Seventeen percent of students between age 18 and 24 use the Internet more than any other age group.

The survey found that most students' Internet surfing is not related to coursework. In fact, 42 percent of students used the Internet more than three times a week to stay in touch with friends, while only 10 percent used it to learn about college life.

"Students have a lot more control over the information they get," said the Pew study.

That doesn't mean most students are not learning from their research. Internet sources indicate that about 37 percent of students use the Internet to help them study and do their research.

Nearly 80 percent of students use the Internet to get information on the world wide web, but only 15 percent use it to get information from other sources.

"The survey that's a big surprise," said a Pew researcher. "The students are focusing on a lot more than just a lot of different things that they did."
NEWS

Prison altered Karzai's attacker, villagers say

BY KATHY GANNON

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

Binalshibh and at least nine other Al Qaeda operatives remained under interrogation by Pakistani and U.S. intelligence officers, an official of the German government said.

Several key details of the Associated Press on Sept. 15 said the United States wants to question Binalshibh and at least nine other Al Qaeda operatives, an official of the German government said.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. wants top 9/11 suspect

BY ZARAR KHAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The United States wants custody of Binalshibh and will work with Pakistani authorities to have him turn over the suspected Sept. 11 plotters captured last week in Kandahar, President Bush's national-security adviser said Sunday.

"We certainly want custody of him, and we certainly want to be able to find out what he knows," Bush told Fox News Sunday. Germany announced Sept. 16 it would seek custody of the Yemeni, who was a member of the Hamburg cell of Al Qaeda terrorist network, and Pakistan said Sunday it would want to question him with more than 5,000 other prisoners for allegedly conspiring on German soil to plan the Sept. 11 attacks in the United States.

"We're very interested in him," Germany's foreign minister said. "We're very interested in his interrogations." Germany wants to question him about the Hamburg cell and Al Qaeda's global network.
Wild weekend fills up jail

Saudis may allow U.S. access for Iraq attack

ACCESS
Continued from Page 1A
President Bush demanded last week that the United Nations impose weapons inspections on Iraq and, as part of its discussions, brought up the question of allowing the U.S. military to enter Iraq through regular U.N. channels. If Iraq resists, the president said, the U.S. would go it alone. The security council would meet today.

It is reasonable for the world to request Iraq implement Security Council resolutions while some assist Iraq in being above international law?

Foreikl al-Sharawi, Syria's foreign minister, said late on Sept. 14 that the Iraqi crisis has taken a major turn at the current session of the General Assembly, Arbi sought to reassure the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

In his speech, he said, "It's all us little people who hang. It's not just hurting anyone is welcome to attend.

Whatever is the largest weekend fights take away new, the lack of communication from the part of the U.S. administration, government, and people in general... for a few minutes, in my speech, it is reasonable for the world to instruct Iraq to implement the U.N. sanctions. Only Iraq has the right to destroy, no new, and serious, sanctions, which were imposed by the U.N. own.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.

The General Assembly, clearly referring to the United States, which Arab essential main point to that.

Arabi attacked the decision made by the United Nations, which was based on facts. Arab and Syrian foreign officials, including the Zionists, could not be able.

Arabi declared that the United Nations was still waiting for the United States to make a serious decision in order to make the world look at the United Nations. It is the world that has to decide what should be the right decision.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.

The world is waiting for an Iraq that has fulfilled all its resolutions. Iraq cannot implement it. Iraq is the one that has the power to destroy, according to the latest resolutions.
In My Opinion

Should credit-card debt become part of credit scores?

As always, college students may be unaware that the nation sits at the center of a heated debate. And, as usual, older adults are doing their best to protect students from themselves.

This time around, the battle of wits is not over the balance of student loans but the prospect of using credit-card debt to diminish—or create—the balance of student loans. Recently, leaders in the academic world appeared before Congress to present their ideas on how to integrate into the credit wars of the nation's undergraduates student population. Handfuls of members of Congress will see that financial edicts are to the benefit of scads, but rather imposing heavy-handed restrictions on which cards are available to students. At some point, almost every 1 in 4 Americans has a card with the word "student" on it, so it's reasonably safe to assume that when they graduate, many of them will be in serious trouble with these unrepentant credit card issuers.

Instead of presenting a viable plan that offers fee-free use of cards for students, many of these leaders merely went along with the trend, which is to deny them access to credit cards. Apparently, they feel their access to credit cards would be tantamount to letting the devil into the church. Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, put it best when he said, "If we allow people who have forgotten, by now, the fundamentals of saving and investing to put in their pockets a maxed-out credit card by paying the minimum payment. Some high schools already reserving a heated debate. And, as usual, older adults are doing their best to protect students from themselves.

If you've read this far, you know what we've all been up to. A new student loan card is in the works that offers interest-free payments. And the university will start charging the interest from the day that the loan is signed, not from the day it is paid off. It's a win-win situation for all concerned. Let's hope the government doesn't make us pay.

Editorial Writer

AMANDA MILSTEAD

Letters to the Editor

Outside the status quo

I stepped on the street last week in a Daily Iowa report. I asked the same question about why we're supposed to rent and where. I asked them, "Yes, in Jefferson County, you hear by town, and then you go."

I asked my co-eachers, I started thinking about what other people had to do to make sure they keep their job. One of them said, "What do you plan to vote for the rail to grower. Wear or otherwise?"

I would have answered him, "Neither. I am voting for rail Purrington." Who's Jay Robinson? you may ask. Well, Jay is the wacko candidate for the G3E Trifield specifically recognized political party in town — the G3E Power. As an official party, you can't just go more artless, but this male suits a seat to do it's hard to deny. But I do believe in the case of Jay Robinson, even the best of world's programs will fail with students and faculty here as the university as we take care of them across town.

I often see the rail Purrington become part of the political journalist status. Our own political journalist status is what we have at all. Let me ask you to the website of www.winnipegutfits.org.

AMANDA MILSTEAD

If you've read this far, you know what we've all been up to. A new student loan card is in the works that offers interest-free payments. And the university will start charging the interest from the day that the loan is signed, not from the day it is paid off. It's a win-win situation for all concerned. Let's hope the government doesn't make us pay.

In My Opinion

Should credit-card debt become part of credit scores?

As always, college students may be unaware that the nation sits at the center of a heated debate. And, as usual, older adults are doing their best to protect students from themselves.

This time around, the battle of wits is not over the balance of student loans but the prospect of using credit-card debt to diminish—or create—the balance of student loans. Recently, leaders in the academic world appeared before Congress to present their ideas on how to integrate into the credit wars of the nation's undergraduates student population. Handfuls of members of Congress will see that financial edicts are to the benefit of scads, but rather imposing heavy-handed restrictions on which cards are available to students. At some point, almost every 1 in 4 Americans has a card with the word "student" on it, so it's reasonably safe to assume that when they graduate, many of them will be in serious trouble with these unrepentant credit card issuers.

Instead of presenting a viable plan that offers fee-free use of cards for students, many of these leaders merely went along with the trend, which is to deny them access to credit cards. Apparently, they feel their access to credit cards would be tantamount to letting the devil into the church. Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, put it best when he said, "If we allow people who have forgotten, by now, the fundamentals of saving and investing to put in their pockets a maxed-out credit card by paying the minimum payment. Some high schools already reserving a heated debate. And, as usual, older adults are doing their best to protect students from themselves.

If you've read this far, you know what we've all been up to. A new student loan card is in the works that offers interest-free payments. And the university will start charging the interest from the day that the loan is signed, not from the day it is paid off. It's a win-win situation for all concerned. Let's hope the government doesn't make us pay.

Editorial Writer

AMANDA MILSTEAD

Letters to the Editor

Outside the status quo

I stepped on the street last week in a Daily Iowa report. I asked the same question about why we're supposed to rent and where. I asked them, "Yes, in Jefferson County, you hear by town, and then you go."

I asked my co-eachers, I started thinking about what other people had to do to make sure they keep their job. One of them said, "What do you plan to vote for the rail to grower. Wear or otherwise?"

I would have answered him, "Neither. I am voting for rail Purrington." Who's Jay Robinson? you may ask. Well, Jay is the wacko candidate for the G3E Trifield specifically recognized political party in town — the G3E Power. As an official party, you can't just go more artless, but this male suits a seat to do it's hard to deny. But I do believe in the case of Jay Robinson, even the best of world's programs will fail with students and faculty here as the university as we take care of them across town.

I often see the rail Purrington become part of the political journalist status. Our own political journalist status is what we have at all. Let me ask you to the website of www.winnipegutfits.org.

AMANDA MILSTEAD

If you've read this far, you know what we've all been up to. A new student loan card is in the works that offers interest-free payments. And the university will start charging the interest from the day that the loan is signed, not from the day it is paid off. It's a win-win situation for all concerned. Let's hope the government doesn't make us pay.

In My Opinion

Should credit-card debt become part of credit scores?

As always, college students may be unaware that the nation sits at the center of a heated debate. And, as usual, older adults are doing their best to protect students from themselves.

This time around, the battle of wits is not over the balance of student loans but the prospect of using credit-card debt to diminish—or create—the balance of student loans. Recently, leaders in the academic world appeared before Congress to present their ideas on how to integrate into the credit wars of the nation's undergraduates student population. Handfuls of members of Congress will see that financial edicts are to the benefit of scads, but rather imposing heavy-handed restrictions on which cards are available to students. At some point, almost every 1 in 4 Americans has a card with the word "student" on it, so it's reasonably safe to assume that when they graduate, many of them will be in serious trouble with these unrepentant credit card issuers.

Instead of presenting a viable plan that offers fee-free use of cards for students, many of these leaders merely went along with the trend, which is to deny them access to credit cards. Apparently, they feel their access to credit cards would be tantamount to letting the devil into the church. Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, put it best when he said, "If we allow people who have forgotten, by now, the fundamentals of saving and investing to put in their pockets a maxed-out credit card by paying the minimum payment. Some high schools already reserving a heated debate. And, as usual, older adults are doing their best to protect students from themselves.

If you've read this far, you know what we've all been up to. A new student loan card is in the works that offers interest-free payments. And the university will start charging the interest from the day that the loan is signed, not from the day it is paid off. It's a win-win situation for all concerned. Let's hope the government doesn't make us pay.

Editorial Writer

AMANDA MILSTEAD

Letters to the Editor

Outside the status quo

I stepped on the street last week in a Daily Iowa report. I asked the same question about why we're supposed to rent and where. I asked them, "Yes, in Jefferson County, you hear by town, and then you go."

I asked my co-eachers, I started thinking about what other people had to do to make sure they keep their job. One of them said, "What do you plan to vote for the rail to grower. Wear or otherwise?"

I would have answered him, "Neither. I am voting for rail Purrington." Who's Jay Robinson? you may ask. Well, Jay is the wacko candidate for the G3E Trifield specifically recognized political party in town — the G3E Power. As an official party, you can't just go more artless, but this male suits a seat to do it's hard to deny. But I do believe in the case of Jay Robinson, even the best of world's programs will fail with students and faculty here as the university as we take care of them across town.

I often see the rail Purrington become part of the political journalist status. Our own political journalist status is what we have at all. Let me ask you to the website of www.winnipegutfits.org.

AMANDA MILSTEAD

If you've read this far, you know what we've all been up to. A new student loan card is in the works that offers interest-free payments. And the university will start charging the interest from the day that the loan is signed, not from the day it is paid off. It's a win-win situation for all concerned. Let's hope the government doesn't make us pay.
ARTS & entertainment

Visiting a city by the cliché

FLM REVIEW
by David Pollon
City by the Sea

When a movie feels the need to make it obviously trite, as the production notes that it is "based on a true story," it’s a sure sign that it’s starting to sink. "City by the Sea" is a case in point.

Set in New York, the film is the story of two New Yorkers: Donald Trump (Robert De Niro) and Michael Donaldson (Ethan Hawke). Trump is a real estate developer and Donaldson is a detective. The two are thrown together when a string of murders takes place in the Hamptons, and the two are brought together when they put the pieces of the puzzle together.

The film is based on the actual events of the 1996 Hamptons murder trial, which was the subject of the True Crime book "The Hunt for Hapworth," by David P. Gudis. The book was later adapted into a TV series called "City by the Sea," which aired in 2002. The film was directed by Martin Scorsese and written by Kenneth Hixon Jr. and Lawrence Kasdan.

The film is a calculated attempt to create a thriller that is grounded in reality, but it ultimately fails to deliver. The dialogue is stilted and the characters are one-dimensional. The acting is better, but it’s not enough to save the film from its own shortcomings.

The film’s attempt to create a sense of realism is undermined by its own artificiality. The story is too contrived, and the characters are too predictable. The film is a missed opportunity, as it could have been a powerful exploration of the moral and ethical dilemmas faced by those involved in the Hamptons murder trial.

The film’s failure is a case of the cliché being stronger than the reality it seeks to emulate. The film is a cautionary tale about the dangers of blind faith and the importance of critical thinking. It’s a reminder that even the most compelling stories can fall flat if they are not told with care and attention to detail.
VOTED #1 IDEAL EMPLOYER BY BUSINESS STUDENTS, UNIVERSITY UNDERGRADUATE STUDY, 2002

PROFESSIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Investors need assurance to make decisions. Help us help them and the companies whose stock they buy, and we'll help you build a career.

For opportunities and information go to:
www.pwglobal.com/lookhere

Look beyond the numbers.
Iowa's Bob Sanders tackles Iowa State quarterback Sebeka Wolva as he enters the endzone during the Hawkeyes' 28-21 loss to the Cyclones on Saturday at Kinnick Stadium.

One ugly ending

Wallace destroys Hawkeyes' first half lead, leaves Iowa searching

Quinn masterminds offensives explosion, Hawkeyes' victory

Our team came out with a lot more heart in the second half.

BY KATIE LOWE
THE DAILY IOWAN

Katelyn Quinn masterminded an offensive charge on Sept. 13 to score an overtime victory for the Hawkeyes in the women's first soccer match game. Quinn scored both goals in the 2-1 win over the Idaho Vandals, boosting Iowa's record to 4-4.

Quinn, a sophomore forward from Highland Ranch, Colo., scored both goals in the second half to put the Hawkeyes in the lead.

The only goal of the first half came from Idaho's junior Emily Nelson when she stole the ball from Iowa's defender and scored unassisted.

The Hawkeyes fought hard during the whole second half, but they were facing defeat until Quinn's first goal with just under 13 seconds left on the board. It was only the first goal of the game for Quinn, but she had the score tied 1-1.

The second goal was scored by Quinn with 1:53 left to end the game. Quinn scored again with 1:53 left on the board, which sealed the Hawkeyes' victory over the Idaho Vandals.

The performance by the Hawkeyes in the second half was as spectacular as that of Iowa State coach Dan McCauley said. "It's been five tough first half leads," he said. "Every year you think you're going to go through.

But not the last few years, but definitely this year. Defi- nently with a remarkable 24-7 half-time lead. Definitely after running back Fred Russell went through, around, and over Iowa State's defense in pply up 15.

The performance by the Hawkeyes in the second half was as spectacular as that of Iowa State coach Dan McCauley said. "It's been five tough first half leads," he said. "Every year you think you're going to go through.

But not the last few years, but definitely this year. Definitely with a remarkable 24-7 half-time lead. Definitely after running back Fred Russell went through, around, and over Iowa State's defense in pply up 15.

The performance by the Hawkeyes in the second half was as spectacular as that of Iowa State coach Dan McCauley said. "It's been five tough first half leads," he said. "Every year you think you're going to go through.

But not the last few years, but definitely this year. Definitely with a remarkable 24-7 half-time lead. Definitely after running back Fred Russell went through, around, and over Iowa State's defense in pply up 15.

The performance by the Hawkeyes in the second half was as spectacular as that of Iowa State coach Dan McCauley said. "It's been five tough first half leads," he said. "Every year you think you're going to go through.

But not the last few years, but definitely this year. Definitely with a remarkable 24-7 half-time lead. Definitely after running back Fred Russell went through, around, and over Iowa State's defense in pply up 15.

The performance by the Hawkeyes in the second half was as spectacular as that of Iowa State coach Dan McCauley said. "It's been five tough first half leads," he said. "Every year you think you're going to go through.

But not the last few years, but definitely this year. Definitely with a remarkable 24-7 half-time lead. Definitely after running back Fred Russell went through, around, and over Iowa State's defense in pply up 15.
Volleyball rides newcomers to victory

BY ALI MOLLER

If there were skeptics of Erhaka Agbajal's all-instrument performance at the NCAA Tournament on Sept. 18, they were quickly silenced by her performance the following Saturday.

The Hawkeyes faced off against the University of Washington in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, and Agbajal's presence was felt from the start.

"I have never seen a player as dynamic as she is," said Iowa coach Haita Rittemann. "She has a unique ability to control the ball and create opportunities for her teammates.

Agbajal's performance earned her a spot on the all-tournament team, and her presence will be crucial as the Hawkeyes prepare to face tougher competition in the NCAA Tournament.

Field hockey shuts down competition

BY BRADLEY TELLERT

Things are looking up for the Iowa field hockey team, which has won four of its first five games this season.

Iowa's recent success is due in large part to the leadership of senior Agnes Callahan, who has scored six goals and added four assists in her first two games.

"Agnes has been fantastic," said Iowa coach Delany. "She has a great work ethic and is always looking to get better.

The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 7, when they face off against No. 12 Penn State at home.

Cross-country guts out second place at Mizzou

BY MICHELLE YONG

The cross-country team had a strong showing at the Mizzou Invitational on Sept. 18, with the men placing second and the women placing fifth.

"It was a great day for the team," said Iowa coach Rachel. "We had some really good races and everyone gave it their all.

The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.

...and 73 points behind No. 6-ranked Missouri, which finished in 13th place. The Hawkeyes' next test will come on Oct. 2, when they face off against No. 15 Missouri State at home.
FOOTBALL
Continued Page 18

Iowa 21, Indiana 12

TENNIS
Kournikova’s hopes of win dashed in final

ON THE LINE
The Daily Iowan

SOCCER
Continued From Page 18

IOWA WINNERS WITHOUT LYNCH
Hornish wins duel to take Chevy title in Texas; Franchitti wins in England

Hornish wins duel to take Chevy title in Texas; Franchitti wins in England

AUTO RACING

Hornish wins duel to take Chevy title in Texas; Franchitti wins in England

PORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Dan Hornish Jr. was another newcomer to the top echelon of stock car racing on Sunday, overtaking Kyle Petty and winning the NASCAR Winston Cup series finale at theTexas Motor Speedway.

Hornish was too quick for Petty, who had come on strong in the latter part of the season, and the two battled for the lead late in the 500-mile race. Hornish became the first driver in the history of the Winston Cup series since 1959 to win the season championship in his first full season.

Hornish, who started the season with a winless streak, had been quietly building towards this moment all season. His season started with a win at his home track, Darlington. He finished in the top 10 in every race except the Daytona 500, where he finished 13th.

He had the best Qualifying time and was the favorite going into the race. Hornish, Petty, and Ryan Newman were the top three qualifiers.

Hornish started from pole position and Petty from fifth.

Hornish, in his No. 76 AH Racing/Blount Chevrolet, took the lead on lap 183. He led for 199 of the 300 laps, including the last 14, when Petty spun and lost the lead.

Hornish's season-long performance in his rookie year was a testament to his hard work and dedication. He had been in the developmental program at Chevrolet for a few years, and his success was a result of that investment.

Hornish's win was the first for Chevrolet in the NASCAR Cup Series since 2001.

BRICKMAN'Sствуная и безумная погибь, чем в университете. И эта проблема, как я вам уже говорил, не решается простыми лекциями и семинарами. Она требует глубокого понимания и постоянной работы с людьми. Это трудная, но верная задача, и я уверен, что мы сможем справиться с ней.

Петрович: Я бы хотел добавить, что у нас есть отличная команда ученых и специалистов, которые посвящают свою жизнь этой проблеме. Они проводят исследования, ищут решения и всегда готовы к новым идеям и инновациям.

Кузнецов: Я полностью согласен с вами, уважаемый Михаил Иванович. Мы все вместе можем решить эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо вам обоим за вашу работу и за вашу поддержку. Я уверен, что мы сделаем все возможное, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему.

Кузнецов: Вы всегда вдохновляете нас своими словами и своими примерами. Мы готовы работать вместе и добиваться успехов.

Петрович: Да, мы будем продолжать работать над этой проблемой и нести свои идеи вперед. Мы верим в нашу команду и в силу нашего союза.

Кузнецов: Я уверен, что мы сможем справиться с этой проблемой и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. Мы верим в нашу команду и в силу нашего союза.

Кузнецов: Я уверен, что мы сможем справиться с этой проблемой и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. Мы верим в нашу команду и в силу нашего союза.

Кузнецов: Я уверен, что мы сможем справиться с этой проблемой и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. Мы верим в нашу команду и в силу нашего союза.

Кузнецов: Я уверен, что мы сможем справиться с этой проблемой и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. Мы верим в нашу команду и в силу нашего союза.

Кузнецов: Я уверен, что мы сможем справиться с этой проблемой и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. Мы верим в нашу команду и в силу нашего союза.

Кузнецов: Я уверен, что мы сможем справиться с этой проблемой и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. М из ах Иванови ч: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. М из ах Иванови ч: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Михаил Иванович: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Петрович: Да, мы всегда будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше. М из ах Иванови ч: Спасибо за вашу поддержку и вашу работу. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.

Кузнецов: Вы правы, Михаил Иванович. Мы будем работать, чтобы преодолеть эту проблему и сделать мир лучше.
From contract to elation: Twins clinched division

Cleveland (AP) — The Minnesota Twins, the small-market, nearly last-place team that nobody could have imagined, went 63 yards for a fumble.

The Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Rivals

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.

Panthers, Jaguars two (1-1) vs.

Iowa 63-0 Iowa went 63 yards for a fumble.
A Photo is Worth A Thousand Words
SELL YOUR CAR
30 DAYS FOR $40
(photo and up to 15 words)

A 1977 Dodge Van
power steering, power brakes, rust free, recent paint.
Separate bedsides.
Decal $800. Call 335-6587.

Call our office to set up a time that is convenient for you to bring your car by to be photographed. Your ad will run for 30 days for $40.
Deadline: 2 days prior to run date desired.
For more information contact:
The Daily Iowan Classified Dept.
IOWA CITY'S MORNING NEWSPAPER
319-335-5784 or 335-5785
quote of the day
Sometimes they die, but that's God's decision, and we marry again.

— Imam Mohammed, an Afghan government soldier in Mok Dzai, where women must travel 65 miles to receive medical care.

DILBERT

by Scott Adams

I DON’T GET YOUR RESERVA-

TATION.

PAY ME IT'S BECAUSE ALL OF OUR COMPUTERS ARE CARDBOARD PROPS THAT WE STOLE FROM A FURNITURE STORE.

FOR SECURITY PURPOSES WOULD YOU CARE TO PASS ME?

BY GARRY TRILDEAU

Doonesbury

Y ou Are Workin' with the Stuff You've Got.