Protesters bluster UI on handling of Pierce

BY LAURA JENSEN
THE DAILY IOWAN

Protesters rallied outside Carver-Hawkeye Arena last night asking for equal treatment in the Pierre Pierce case that has rocked the university community.

Approximately 120 people marched in a circle in front of the south entrance to the arena. "Hey, Hey, Ho, Ho, Pierre has got to go," they shouted at the arena. The protesters were met by at least three campus police officers, who told the crowd to move to a designated area near the arena's north entrance.

The gesture is likely to draw criticism from the university, which has been trying to distance itself from the Pierce case.

"The reality is we want to transform this state," he said.

The governor also called for a special renovation to improve the state's pre-schools, solving a $49 million problem in the skills necessary for moving towards higher education.

The initiative has been designed to bring a new pre-school program to 180 rural areas, ensuring that 90 percent of the state's pre-schoolers have a high school diploma. The rural goal is to cover the skills necessary for moving towards higher education.

"‘It’s unlikely this year that it will receive funds because of the budget situation,’ Villack said. "The gesture is likely to draw criticism from the university, which has been trying to distance itself from the Pierce case."

"We must shine a light on this with the public and private sector, department, once a day after the victim’s account of the crime was made public for the first time. In statements to the police, the woman said the 18-year-old sophomore guard filmed and taped vaginal intercourse on his cell phone.

"Vilsack pushes ‘seamless’ educational system"

Vilsack pushes ‘seamless’ educational system

BY MIKE GLOVER
THE DAILY IOWAN

In an attempt to reduce the state’s education system, Gov. Tom Vilsack has made public education a priority of his term in office.

The new “seamless” system would range from pre-school through college, with a goal of educating 90 percent of the state’s workforce at a higher level. Currently only one-third of those in the workforce hold post-secondary degrees. 90 percent of the state’s workforce have a high school diploma.

"The reality is we want to transform this state," he said.

The governor also called for a special renovation to improve the state’s pre-schools, solving a $49 million problem in the skills necessary for moving towards higher education.

The current budget crunch has hit Vilsack hard – legislators are to receive from these funds. When they are new, he wants to help ensure that the school children in our state are ready for school.

The initiative has been designed to bring a new pre-school program to 180 rural areas, ensuring that 90 percent of the state’s pre-schoolers have a high school diploma. The rural goal is to cover the skills necessary for moving towards higher education.

"Vilsack pushes ‘seamless’ educational system"

"We must shine a light on this with the public and private sector, department, once a day after the victim’s account of the crime was made public for the first time. In statements to the police, the woman said the 18-year-old sophomore guard filmed and taped vaginal intercourse on his cell phone.

"Vilsack pushes ‘seamless’ educational system"

Vilsack pushes ‘seamless’ educational system

"We must shine a light on this with the public and private sector, department, once a day after the victim’s account of the crime was made public for the first time. In statements to the police, the woman said the 18-year-old sophomore guard filmed and taped vaginal intercourse on his cell phone.

"The gesture is likely to draw criticism from the university, which has been trying to distance itself from the Pierce case."

Arrests have increased for a substantial increase from the same three-month period last year, said Assistant Director of Campus Safety and Security Brian Whitaker.

The UI has about 6.5 million insurance claims for its 40,000 employees and students. Although the number of claims is small, the cost is still significant for the university.

"I don’t anticipate they will die out, but it hasn’t been an issue in a long time," Whitaker said.

The number of claims reported to the University for the 30-year period has increased significantly over the past five years, said Whitaker.

Library patrons have reported numerous thefts, including book bags, purses, wallets, laptop computers, and cell phones.

"Most thefts are crimes of opportunity," said Dean Pope, the associate director of the department. "That’s a possibility that we have more non-members on campus. We will have to change the way we do business, or the campus will have to change the way it handles adjacent buildings.

The campus police are working to improve the situation, and have arrested and charged more than 600 people this year. The police also work with the State Police and the City Police to ensure that these cases are covered.

"The university is the largest employer in the state, and we have to ensure that we are taking the necessary steps to protect the campus," said Whitaker.

"I don’t anticipate they will die out, but it hasn’t been an issue in a long time," Whitaker said.

The number of claims reported to the University for the 30-year period has increased significantly over the past five years, said Whitaker.

Library patrons have reported numerous thefts, including book bags, purses, wallets, laptop computers, and cell phones.

"Most thefts are crimes of opportunity," said Dean Pope, the associate director of the department. "That’s a possibility that we have more non-members on campus. We will have to change the way we do business, or the campus will have to change the way it handles adjacent buildings.

The campus police are working to improve the situation, and have arrested and charged more than 600 people this year. The police also work with the State Police and the City Police to ensure that these cases are covered.

"The university is the largest employer in the state, and we have to ensure that we are taking the necessary steps to protect the campus," said Whitaker.

"The university is the largest employer in the state, and we have to ensure that we are taking the necessary steps to protect the campus," said Whitaker.
Iowa doctors facing cut in Medicare payments

BY MIRANDA LEITINGER | Associate Photo

DEB McINERNY—If Congress doesn’t act to change 4.4 percent cut in the physician’s Medicare reimbursement for 2003, Iowans will feel the effect, doctors say.

“This will cut patient care. It will force doctors to do nothing,” said Dr. John Anderson, the president of the Iowa Medical Society.

The 4.4 percent cut follows a 6.1 percent reduction in 2001. Angel said that nearly every candidate running for political office in Iowa campaigned on the state’s "horribly underfunded" Medicare reimbursement.

"It is unconscionable to us that our elderly are being cut off from services because of a Medicare reimbursement," he said.

The doctors have affected such things as the time a patient has to wait for a specialized care, Angel said.

"When we talk about Medicare, what we’re talking about is the time it takes you six months to get an appointment with a hematologist, or a gastroenterologist, or an ophthalmologist, to see your doctor," he said.

The reduction also has affected efforts to attract doctors to Iowa, Angel said, noting that the state ranks 48th in the country in the number of physicians per 100,000 residents.

"When you are so underfunded, it’s just not going to be able to get you any more patients, Frankly, quite frankly, when a doctor is so underfunded that he will not get another doctor because the so-called specialists are not getting paid, the government is the one that will be to blame, and you are so underfunded, quite frankly," he said.

The reduction also has affected efforts to attract doctors to Iowa, Angel said, noting that the state ranks 48th in the country in the number of physicians per 100,000 residents.

"When you are so underfunded, it’s just not going to be able to get you any more patients, Frankly, quite frankly, when a doctor is so underfunded that he will not get another doctor because the so-called specialists are not getting paid, the government is the one that will be to blame, and you are so underfunded, quite frankly," he said.

The reduction also has affected efforts to attract doctors to Iowa, Angel said, noting that the state ranks 48th in the country in the number of physicians per 100,000 residents.

"When you are so underfunded, it’s just not going to be able to get you any more patients, Frankly, quite frankly, when a doctor is so underfunded that he will not get another doctor because the so-called specialists are not getting paid, the government is the one that will be to blame, and you are so underfunded, quite frankly," he said.

The reduction also has affected efforts to attract doctors to Iowa, Angel said, noting that the state ranks 48th in the country in the number of physicians per 100,000 residents.

"When you are so underfunded, it’s just not going to be able to get you any more patients, Frankly, quite frankly, when a doctor is so underfunded that he will not get another doctor because the so-called specialists are not getting paid, the government is the one that will be to blame, and you are so underfunded, quite frankly," he said.
Panel focuses on prejudice toward Muslims in Iowa

BY JOE NUGENT

"Our nation needs security, but we mustn’t be discriminatory," said Hane Jameison, a UI international student coordinator, and foreign students in Iowa City have received a lot of support from the community. Sometimes, they said, their immigration officers and other federal government agencies, such as the FBI.

Jameison told of one student who was arrested three times flying from Cedar Rapids to Chicago. The student was deported, she said, because security guards loudly announced, "We've got a Syrian here." Inquiring photographs, fingerprints, and questioning under oath unfairly isolates students from Iraq, Iran, Libya, Sudan, and Syria, when the case is not related to students from other countries. Jameison said.

The forum was sponsored by the Rite Aid Real Rosenberg Team and the Women's Resource and Action Center.

State Brief

Iowa high court withdraws ruling

IOWA'S SUPREME COURT on Monday withdrew its decision in a December 2002 appeal of a state child-support ruling and gave the parties the opportunity to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

"The court considers the question to be a matter that in 1942, 1952, and 2002 involved whether the State of Iowa could or should withdraw and withdraw from a Supreme Court's prior decision," the opinion said.

The Iowa court includes Chief Justice Edward M. McDermott and Michael Hyatt, the emergency judges. The case involves parents of a child born in 1992. Parents was married at the time, and the child was considered to be a child of a parent's partner. That order, however, continued to pay for the costs of the child's education. Though support payments from other countries were included in the order, the Iowa court reversed them.

"The court doesn't: After children of parents who marry, but has the Iowa Court of Appeals issued a new order that would not cover payments from the child's education?

Students travel get hyped for spring break '03

Before you leave campus:
- Bag up dirty laundry
- Throw out old pizza boxes
- Enroll in that Kaplan test prep course!

There's still time to enroll in a Kaplan LSAT, GMAT, GRE, MCAT, DAT, TOEFL, or NTELEX " course. Call today!

KAPLAN 1-800-KAP-TEST

www.kaptest.com

Wing Ding WEDNESDAYS!

It's BROTHERS

BAR & GRILL

Wings, wings, wings!

Choose from "ORIGINAL" or Red Hot "ASS BURNERS!"

50¢ Taps

1/2 Price Captain Morgan Mixers

"Always the best Specials, Always the Most Fun!"

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, November 20, 2002 - Page 44
Ministry students motivated, study says

BY DENNIS CONRAD

WASHINGTON — Black and Latino students surveyed in diverse, upper-income communities have as much desire to succeed in school as their white classmates, according to a new study that challenges the idea that some minority groups are less focused on school.

Researchers for the Ministry Student Achievement Network studied the attitudes of students in 10 diverse communities across the country, a new round of the 150 schools surveyed annually, and found that Black and Latino students are actually more likely to say they need to do something about the attitudes.

"We've seen this data in teaching, we find that they get at their potential," said Harold Ferguson, the senior researcher at Harvard's Center for Social Policy. "And if we think we're being taught or that we're being taught, we need to do something about the attitudes."
Spying on citizens easier now for U.S.

BY GINA HOLLAND

WASHINGTON—Getting an order from a federal court just got easier, and so will surveillance of suspects or terrorist suspects, according to a new US government policy announced Monday.

The move, a response to the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, allows the government to start gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.

"The barrier between the citizen and their government has been thinned," said Jesse Gelsinger, the government's new privacy czar. "This new policy is a critical component of the new national security system." The new policy also allows the government to begin gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.

The court decision Monday will make it easier for the government to track suspected terrorists, Gelsinger said, and it will also make it easier for the government to track suspected terrorists who are on the move. The court decision Monday will make it easier for the government to track suspected terrorists, Gelsinger said, and it will also make it easier for the government to track suspected terrorists who are on the move.

The new policy also allows the government to start gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.

"We have absolutely no interest in gathering information simply for the sake of gathering information," Gelsinger said. "This new policy is a critical component of the new national security system." The new policy also allows the government to start gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.

"This new policy is a critical component of the new national security system," Gelsinger said. "It's a critical component of the new national security system." The new policy also allows the government to start gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.

"This new policy is a critical component of the new national security system," Gelsinger said. "It's a critical component of the new national security system." The new policy also allows the government to start gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.

"This new policy is a critical component of the new national security system," Gelsinger said. "It's a critical component of the new national security system." The new policy also allows the government to start gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.

"This new policy is a critical component of the new national security system," Gelsinger said. "It's a critical component of the new national security system." The new policy also allows the government to start gathering information more quickly and easily than ever before.
Main Library seeing increase in thefts

THEFTS
Continued from Page 1A

In his three years as the Librarian, he said, he had never seen theft reports of such magnitude.

"There seemed to have been more occurrences because thefts have been on the rise," he said. "I don't know why."
Federal airport screeners take over in Iraq

BY ERIC FIOLER

The government completed its takeover schedule at the nation's airports Tuesday, moving from trace detectors to walk-through magnets, and they felt more confident and were happy with the short lines at the X-ray machines.

“It looks like they’re taking care of things,” said an interview customer. “I thought they did a good job.”

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The Pentagon has set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide.

The system looks like they’re taking care of things,” said an interview customer. “I thought they did a good job.”

The government completed its takeover schedule at the nation’s airports Tuesday, moving from trace detectors to walk-through magnets, and they felt more confident and were happy with the short lines at the X-ray machines.

“It looks like they’re taking care of things,” said an interview customer. “I thought they did a good job.”

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.

The federal screeners have been added over the past few months. Congress has also set a year-end deadline to screen all baggage at airports nationwide. They replace a private work force often criticized as insufficient, inadequate, and poorly trained.
In one breath, Jones said that "drunk kids" are not overcrowding the jail. In the next, he said that the bars should be 21 and over.

Or maybe Jones, who is obviously informed in the statistics of jail overcrowding, is aware that the majority of the infractions involving the bars are caused by alcohol. And maybe Jones is aware that alcohol-related offenses do not constitute a legitimate reason for overcrowding our jail. It is true that there are some who assert that alcohol-related offenses do not constitute a legitimate reason for overcrowding our jail.

The Jones’ statements at task force meeting contradict each other. In one breath, Jones said that "drunk kids" are not overcrowding the jail. In the next, he said that the bars should be 21 and over.
Old Capitol awaits dome's return

OLD CAPITOL
Continued from Page 1A

The university's insurance companies will work with the Iowa Attorney General's Office to get money from the parties responsible for the fire. Permit said.

The university's insurance contractors to have a $2 million maintenance policy to pay the costs of the university's deductible. "They insurance companies next time to settle," Perri said. "It may lead to litigation, but that is not a forgone conclusion.

In the reconstruction process, under federal law, the new dome is expected to be in Iowa City by Christmas, said Gary Nagle, a Facilities Services Group project manager. nagle anticipates that the dome and cupola phase of the project — the first of four phases — will be completed by February 2003.

Nagle praised Knutson Construc tion Services, the main contractor for the project, for its professionalism. "We have had a very structured process used in the nature of the project, Nagle said. He asked that designers and contractors maximize our magnificent stone before we leave. Billings, and the wood por tion of the dome.

To maintain authenticity, native Iowans who need to be involved from the beginning to the end of the reconstruction process should be included.

The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Wednesday, November 30, 1999 — AA

Lott OKs compromise; security measure passes

HOMELAND
Continued from Page 1A

emerging threats of terrorism in the 21st century.

In a configuration that may take months, if not years, to fini sh, the homeland-security bill will bring under one roof a wide array of agencies with many different missions, including the Office of Homeland Security, the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the customs and Border Security, the Secret Service, the Federal Emergency Management Agency, and the FBI. The Homeland Security Act passed the Senate 319-124, and it will be signed into law by the president.

Lieberman. But by June, the bill will be in the Senate in a lame-duck session. The Senate will have to pass the bill, and the House will have to re-pass the bill, and the Senate will have to pass the bill. The president will have to sign the bill.

The bill was passed by a quick vote of Congress and got it. But by June, the bill will be in the Senate in a lame-duck session. The Senate will have to pass the bill, and the House will have to re-pass the bill, and the Senate will have to pass the bill. The president will have to sign the bill.

The bill was passed by a quick vote of Congress and got it. But by June, the bill will be in the Senate in a lame-duck session. The Senate will have to pass the bill, and the House will have to re-pass the bill, and the Senate will have to pass the bill. The president will have to sign the bill.

The bill was passed by a quick vote of Congress and got it. But by June, the bill will be in the Senate in a lame-duck session. The Senate will have to pass the bill, and the House will have to re-pass the bill, and the Senate will have to pass the bill. The president will have to sign the bill.

The bill was passed by a quick vote of Congress and got it. But by June, the bill will be in the Senate in a lame-duck session. The Senate will have to pass the bill, and the House will have to re-pass the bill, and the Senate will have to pass the bill. The president will have to sign the bill.

The bill was passed by a quick vote of Congress and got it. But by June, the bill will be in the Senate in a lame-duck session. The Senate will have to pass the bill, and the House will have to re-pass the bill, and the Senate will have to pass the bill. The president will have to sign the bill.
Typically at these burlesque shows, there would be a broad variety of costumes and dances. As of late, old-school burlesque shows have been making a comeback. One of the most recently revived is Vancouver’s Fluffgirl Society. The Fluffgirl Burlesque Society was started by burlesque performer Cecilia Brave in January 2001. Brave, after years of successful solo burlesque performances, decided to organize a society of performers who want to perform on burlesque shows in her native city of Vancouver. After numerous heavily attended shows, the Fluffgirl Society has branched out and has now branches in several other cities. Today, the Fluffgirl Society has a branch in Iowa City and is looking forward to hosting it. The Fluffgirl Burlesque Society is an official nonprofit organization that has more than 75 producers, including judges, choreographers, and performers. The Fluffgirl Society has more than 75 producers, including judges, choreographers, and performers. It has more than 75 producers, including judges, choreographers, and performers. It has its own scoring system and judges will come straight from the audience to score the performances. The Fluffgirl Society has a branch in Iowa City and is looking forward to hosting it.

Setting to slam a new home

BY KATHRYN ANDERSON

In an attempt to maximize community involvement and reduce tensions with corporate businesses, Poetry Slam Iowa City will premiere tonight at the Green Room, 508 S. Gilbert St.

The blackout days have been taking place since October 23 at Morgan’s Bar & Grill, 210 Dabadee St., but Jo Mirabella, the organizer of the events, said, “It’s been going well that we’re able to make the move to another place with more seating,” he said.

A common element to all the slam nights is the size of the audience and the size of the audience and the size of the audience. In the past, the Green Room has hosted around 200 people. Now, with the move to Morgan’s Bar & Grill, there will be more than 250 people attending each event. The Green Room is going to place with more seating,” he said.

Morgan’s Bar & Grill offers a more spacious and less crowded atmosphere, which will allow the performers to be more visible and the audience to be more engaged. The Green Room is a more intimate setting, which can be more conducive to the slam nights. The move to Morgan’s Bar & Grill will also allow the performers to be more visible to the audience.

The Green Room’s schedule, which includes the Winter Follies, is looking forward to hosting it. The Winter Follies is Vancouver’s Fluffgirl Society, which will be releasing a CD, which will be released in January 2002. While the Green Room also has more space and actual performers, the Green Room could not be more of a contrast. With Morgan’s Bar & Grill, the mood will be different from that of a Green Room, because Iowa City’s Poet Laureate will be the center of attention, instead of the regular state or national slam or becoming a local slam. The winners, dressed in fluffies and leather halter tops, seem in character and strolled demurely top, with their hand and arm in arm, and their now secondarily soundly nameless tune, which will be played by Iowa City’s own Diplomate of Order, will bring a much-needed edge for the local scene to embody. Finally, the role of the Green Room as a venue is no longer only the same as that of a Green Room as a venue. The national slam competition is no longer only the same as that of a Green Room as a venue.

The Green Room is a more intimate setting, which can be more conducive to the slam nights. The move to Morgan’s Bar & Grill will also allow the performers to be more visible to the audience.

The Green Room’s schedule, which includes the Winter Follies, is looking forward to hosting it. The Winter Follies is Vancouver’s Fluffgirl Society, which will be releasing a CD, which will be released in January 2002. While the Green Room also has more space and actual performers, the Green Room could not be more of a contrast. With Morgan’s Bar & Grill, the mood will be different from that of a Green Room, because Iowa City’s Poet Laureate will be the center of attention, instead of the regular state or national slam or becoming a local slam. The winners, dressed in fluffies and leather halter tops, seem in character and strolled demurely top, with their hand and arm in arm, and their now secondarily soundly nameless tune, which will be played by Iowa City’s own Diplomate of Order, will bring a much-needed edge for the local scene to embody. Finally, the role of the Green Room as a venue is no longer only the same as that of a Green Room as a venue. The national slam competition is no longer only the same as that of a Green Room as a venue.
Hooper finds success comes at short distance

Finding balance

Five Hawkeyes' scores change in double-digits in last tune-up

BY TODD BROOMKAMP

The Iowa basketball team upset off of the exhibition portion of its schedule with a victory, and did it with balance.

The Hawkeyes defeated Iowa State, 65-60, Saturday night at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

A team that has been inconsistent this season, the Hawkeyes were balanced right from the start.

The Hawkeyes led from the start and never gave Iowa State a chance to come back.

Iowa State never had a better chance to come back.

But Hooper's freshman year didn't go as smoothly as hoped.

"Iowa State suffered from homecourt advantage and wasn't concentrating on the game," said Hooper.

"But Hooper, for the length of that season, was intent to focus on making improvements in his stroke," said Hooper.

"The shorter stuff I had no desire to do," said Hooper.

"I was working to stick with what was practiced during the season.

However, she opened many eyes, including her own, early in her sophomore year.

Hooper nabbed a first-place finish in the 200-yard freestyle in the Hawkeyes meet against the 2004-2005 season, which established a turnaround in her swimming.

"I was better than I thought I could be with the 200-yard freestyle," said Hooper.

"I think what I brought to the table was that I really had a competitive spirit in me.

Iowa swimmers Christina Hooper sweats during practice Tuesday.

Senior Championships - when Hooper shocked herself by

JOHN HANLEY

Columnist

Backup QBs the only NFL constant

It's gotta be scripted. Damn it.

Each NFL season feels like a sequel to previous seasons - coacher, fashion, movie dramatic, but each NFL season feels the same.

Rewinding the scene, of course, is the story.

You know the story: the rock star quarterback, the team's prize pup, QB is injured. The coach votes for captains, Dave Alford.

"And by the end of the season, we all knew what we were going to see come Sunday," said Alford.

"The jewelry, the band, the makeup, the everything. All the fun stuff and more.

"It's as simple as that.

A police spokesman said Mike Alford, who was never censored by the police department, was shot with the warden.

IOWA SPORTS

Friday

VOLLEYBALL, Iowa hosts Ohio State, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, 7:30 p.m.

SWIMMING, men and women at Minnesota, Minnesota, Minneapolis, 6 p.m.

Saturday

SWIMMING, men and women at Minnesota, Minneapolis, minnesota, noon

BASKETBALL, Iowa women host University of Iowa, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, 3 p.m.

WHISTLING, Iowa at Ryan Kavanaugh, Open, Drake, 7 p.m.

VOLLEYBALL, Iowa hosts Indiana, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, 7:30 p.m.

Sunday

BASKETBALL, Iowa women host Challenge, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, 7 p.m.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

SPORTS, men and women at Minnesota, Minneapolis, minnesota, noon

BASKETBALL, Iowa men host Florida Atlantic, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday TV

BASKETBALL, Presented by AT&T, Second Round teams, TBS, 6 p.m. ESPn

College Football, West Virginia at Virginia Tech, 6:30 p.m.

IOWA, Minnesota at Memphis, 12:30 p.m.

BASKETBALL, Presented by AT&T, Second Round teams, TBS, 6 p.m. ESPn

Basketball, Minnesota at Wisconsin, TBS, 1:30 p.m.

College Basketball, East Carolina at Syracuse, 6:30 p.m.

Modest swim captain leads by example

By Kate Low

David Mazur, a basement baker, All-American boy with a notorious temper, is a modest sort who would only be thinks he possesses: his heart, his legs and a few more.

"I try to work as hard as I can every day in practice," he said. "I think people might see that.

"They might see me as an mediocre swimmer, but as someone who works hard," he added.

"The junior, short-distance swimmer, who normally races seventh in his races, grew respect not only because of his passengers but also for being one of the fastest crossing members of the team," said Mazur.

"I think what sets the qualities of every person within their child," said Mazur.

"I think that people can see that.

"I'm one of the hardest workers that I know."
Flyers faster than Lightning

Tampa, Fla. (AP) — Danny Gare scored an empty-net goal to seal the Philadelphia Flyers' 6-4 victory over the Washington Capitals with 18.8 seconds left in regulation Thursday night in a matchup of Metropolitan Division opponents.

Valeri Bure had a hat trick for Philadelphia, which added the clinching early in the third period as it improved to 4-0-2 in its last six games. The Flyers outshot the Capitals 47-40. Braden Holtby allowed two goals on the first two shots he faced.

``The way we raced up and down the ice and moved the puck with speed, it's pretty impressive, and I think that's the game we play in Chicago, even in Columbus and other games, we're trying to get a little bit more speed into the game, we're trying to be more of an up-tempo team as well, the way we move the puck,'" Philadelphia coach Alain Vigneault said.
Quarterback plot lines to look for

BACKUPS-Continued From Page 1B

Call Me Pal" Johnson!-
The Kurt Warner-Tom Bradshaw-Steve Young follows suit as the starting job, lead by quarterback Tom Bracken. Suddenly, the guy ends up looking like better of the greatest QBs ever (Possibly briefly). Also may work in reverse, depending on what happens in Warren while the name finds metal更好.

The Doug Flutie variety. Underdog signal-caller doesn't have the name or the talent. He just doesn't have a team's heart and spire a winning season. Arnie was known as "The Joe Hornstein." However, he is a student of the game and a guy who has been playing starting ball for most of the South Dakota State (where he played high school). Have you heard of him? No way. He is a 40th QB universally he doesn't want to learn and will be up to the NFL in 2020. He is a 40th QB universally he doesn't want to learn and will be up to the NFL in 2020. He is a 40th QB universally he doesn't want to learn and will be up to the NFL in 2020. He is a 40th QB universally he doesn't want to learn and will be up to the NFL in 2020.
Tiger Woods hits the rough during the recent Phoenix Open. Woods is under pressure to speak out against Augusta National policy restricting female members.

Tiger Woods object of tug-of-war at Augusta National

BY JIM ARMSTRONG
ASSOCIATED PRESS

MISSION, Japan — Tiger Woods hasn’t changed his mind about playing at the all-male Augusta National Golf Club despite a New York Times editorial calling on him to skip the Masters.

"As I’ve said before, everyone should decide on their own interest," Woods said Tuesday. "I just don’t get the twist of it for us to investigate until you know what you receive in return. It is impossible to say more than that."

The editorial, published Saturday, called on Woods to skip the April 8-11 Phoenix Open in Arizona because blacks are not playing.

"I think there should be many names," he said. "That it’s not set up to me. I don’t owe voting rights, I’m just on honorary membership."

The editorial, published Monday, said Woods would send a powerful message that discrimination against women would be "aays his years," the editorial said.

"The Masters is an all-male, called the Augusta National chairman. "A tournament without Mr. Woods would send a powerful message to Ben Hogan and Jack Nicklaus to beyond the Masters because lords are not playing," Jackson said.

Jackson encouraged Woods to take a stronger stand.

"His point of view does not restrict! ing to Ben Hogan and Jack Nicklaus because blacks are not playing," Jackson said.

"His point of view does not restrict! ing to Ben Hogan and Jack Nicklaus because blacks are not playing," Jackson said.
TWO BEDROOM

1992 FORD TAU

Nice roomy car, automatic, AM/FM/cassette, 89,000 miles, $2100obo
338-2944

COLLEGE HILL HOUSE

Private full service dormitory for university women in 1920s residential home. Located less than one mile from campus on corner of College & Student Street.
- Private residence floor
- Exercise and computer rooms
- Large ding, common & TV area
Meals included with cost of room.
Call 337-7020 or 331-6832

APARTMENT FOR RENT

ROOM FOR RENT

ROOMMATE WANTED

Classified Dept.

131 Kirkendall, I.C.

THE CASCADES & THE TETON

Luxury 2 & 3 bdrm.
2 & 3 bath condos on the Westside.
From $999/mo.

Real Estate Preview:

Call our office to set up a time that is convenient for you to bring your car by to be photographed.
Your ad will run for 30 days - $40
Deadline: 2 days prior to run date desired
For more information contact:
The Daily Iowan Classified Dept.

730 N Ave., Iowa City, Iowa
331-335-5784 or 335-5785

For more information on these properties, visit the Real Estate Preview at www.dailyiowan.com
Iowa Football

Wednesday, November 20, 2002

"Iowa Football"

DILBERT

A LA 5

IF YOU WANT IT, WORK HOURS.

THE NEW YORK TIMES CROSSWORD

by Scott Adams

IF YOU WANT SOME WOOL, JUST GRAB ME, AND START SHAVING. I'LL BARELY STRUGGLE.

DIABETES

 Unfortunately, the document is not clearly transcribed, and it contains various fragments and sections that do not form a coherent text. The content includes references to Iowa Football, DILBERT, horoscopes, and calendar events. However, due to the fragmented nature of the text, a complete and coherent transcription is not feasible. The document appears to include a mix of entertainment listings, scheduling information, and potentially educational or historical references.