Residents of Parklawn not so impressed

Dealing with diabetes

By Christy B. Logan

Seven years ago, UI junior A.J. Stramer received the shock of his life.

The healthy high-school basketball from Iowa City began experiencing sudden weight loss and severe dehydration—symptoms that led to his diagnosis of Type I diabetes. Stramer was admitted to the hospital for two weeks, where he learned that he needed to inject himself with insulin twice a day to control his blood sugar levels. While in the hospital, he fell behind in his studies and had to repeat a year.

Since then, Stramer has learned to manage his diabetes by carefully monitoring his blood sugar levels and adjusting his insulin dosage accordingly. He has also developed a support system of family, friends, and healthcare professionals who help him stay on track.

Today, Stramer is able to lead a normal life, thanks to the help he receives from his healthcare team. He is grateful for the advances in diabetes treatment and the support he has received over the years.

For more information, visit the American Diabetes Association website at diabetes.org.

Police probe two more IC store heists

By Kelcy Cassino

The Daily Iowan

Police are investigating two more heists at Iowa City convenience stores, according to police spokespersons.

The first incident occurred on Sept. 19, 2003, at the Circle K on College Avenue. The suspect was described as a white male, around 6 feet tall, with short hair and a goatee. The suspect entered the store, pulled out a gun, and told the clerk to turn over the cash register. The suspect fled the scene on foot with an unknown amount of money.

The second incident occurred on Oct. 21, 2003, at the Hana-Ko store on E. Washington Street. The suspect was described as a white male, around 5 feet 10 inches tall, with short dark hair and a goatee. The suspect entered the store, pulled out a gun, and told the clerk to turn over the cash register. The suspect fled the scene on foot with an unknown amount of money.

Police believe the two incidents are connected, and they are working to identify the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the Iowa City Police Department at (319) 356-8021.

Police are also investigating a third heist, which occurred on Oct. 30, 2003, at the Hana-Ko store on E. Washington Street. The suspect was described as a white male, around 6 feet tall, with short dark hair and a goatee. The suspect entered the store, pulled out a gun, and told the clerk to turn over the cash register. The suspect fled the scene on foot with an unknown amount of money.

Police believe the three incidents are connected, and they are working to identify the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the Iowa City Police Department at (319) 356-8021.

Police are continuing to investigate all three incidents, and they are working to identify the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the Iowa City Police Department at (319) 356-8021.

Police are also investigating a fourth heist, which occurred on Nov. 10, 2003, at the Circle K on College Avenue. The suspect was described as a white male, around 6 feet tall, with short dark hair and a goatee. The suspect entered the store, pulled out a gun, and told the clerk to turn over the cash register. The suspect fled the scene on foot with an unknown amount of money.

Police believe the four incidents are connected, and they are working to identify the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the Iowa City Police Department at (319) 356-8021.

Police are continuing to investigate all four incidents, and they are working to identify the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the Iowa City Police Department at (319) 356-8021.

Police are also investigating a fifth heist, which occurred on Nov. 17, 2003, at the Circle K on College Avenue. The suspect was described as a white male, around 6 feet tall, with short dark hair and a goatee. The suspect entered the store, pulled out a gun, and told the clerk to turn over the cash register. The suspect fled the scene on foot with an unknown amount of money.

Police believe the five incidents are connected, and they are working to identify the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the Iowa City Police Department at (319) 356-8021.

Police are continuing to investigate all five incidents, and they are working to identify the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the Iowa City Police Department at (319) 356-8021.
El Nino means another mild winter

Meteorologists say winter in Iowa will be warm again

BY RYAN PARELL

Forecasters allow Iowa to remain in a milder-than-normal winter pattern. Though the first snowfall of the season was reported Saturday night, the weather forecasters predict that the mild temperatures seen from Sept. 18 through Nov. 20 will persist through winter.

"The weather pattern we are in right now doesn't have a lot of energy to bring in cold air, so the temperatures will remain on the mild side," said Linda Engebretson, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service in Iowa City. "We should expect to see temperatures around 20 to 22.2 degrees Fahrenheit and 26 to 28 degrees Fahrenheit inland, with a few areas possibly reaching the low 30s."

"The mild weather will likely continue through December and January," Engebretson said. "The jet stream pattern will be more zonal, with a ridge over the central part of the country and a trough over the western United States. This pattern will prevent cold air from moving south and allowing temperatures to remain on the mild side."

"It's not unusual to have mild winters in Iowa," Engebretson said. "The average temperature for December through February is around 32.5 degrees Fahrenheit, and the record high temperature for the month is 61 degrees Fahrenheit."

"The mild winter pattern is largely due to the El Nino Southern Oscillation (ENSO), a climate pattern that affects the weather pattern in the Pacific Ocean," Engebretson said. "During an El Nino event, the ocean temperatures remain warmer than normal, which leads to a shift in the jet stream pattern and allows for mild temperatures in Iowa."

"The mild winter pattern will likely continue through the rest of the winter," Engebretson said. "The jet stream pattern will remain zonal, with a ridge over the central part of the country and a trough over the western United States. This pattern will prevent cold air from moving south and allow temperatures to remain on the mild side."

"However, there is a possibility of a stronger El Nino event during the winter, which could lead to even milder temperatures," Engebretson said. "But for now, we can expect to see temperatures around 20 to 22.2 degrees Fahrenheit and 26 to 28 degrees Fahrenheit inland, with a few areas possibly reaching the low 30s."
Young farmers find that working with a tough row to hoe

Young farmers find that working with a tough row to hoe

ACCOUNTS-PRIOR

Fourteen students, including Joe Donohue, have submitted their memories for a book called "Juniors" that will be published in 2002 by the Iowa City Press-Citizen.

Joe Donohue has his savings account chasing the waves in the Schottler's farm in Story County.

Donohue said his 900-acre soybean farm only generates $400 a year.

"I'm happy with the way it is," Donohue said. "I have the time of my life in the spring and fall, but in the summer, I'm just bored."

Donohue said he never really expected to own a farm.

"I knew I would have to, though," he said. "I have no other skills besides farming."

Donohue said he spent a lot of time figuring out precisely what he wanted to do.

"I want to get into some other business," he said. "I'm thinking about opening a restaurant, but I don't know if I have the time for that."
Iraq protests fine print on inspections

BY CHARLES J. HANLEY
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BAGHDAD, Iraq — In a point-by-point protest, the Iraqi government complained to the United Nations on Monday about the raw print behind the weapons inspections beginning this week will give Washington a pretext to attack.

The new U.S. resolution on the inspections could turn "manifestly erroneous" thousands of pages of "marginal" Iraqi reports into a supposed justification for military action, Foreign Minister Tariq al-Hashimi told a special meeting of the Security Council.

"There is premeditation to target Iraq, whatever the pretext," said Tariq al-Hashimi.

Iraqi reports into a supposed "material breach" of the inspections could turn "false statements or assertions" in a declaration could contribute to a finding it had committed a "material breach" of the resolution — a finding that might lead to military action.

The Bush administration has threatened to use Iraqi disarmament, with or without U.N. authorization, as a pretext to attack. Baghdad's protest makes clear the risk the president had warned.

"We are not going to accept a find of illegal things and have us next to military action," said Sabri, a U.S. official who asked not to be identified.

Iraqi reports into a supposed "material breach" of the inspections could turn "false statements or assertions" in a declaration could contribute to a finding it had committed a "material breach" of the resolution — a finding that might lead to military action.

The Bush administration has threatened to use Iraqi disarmament, with or without U.N. authorization, as a pretext to attack. Baghdad's protest makes clear the risk the president had warned.

"We are not going to accept a find of illegal things and have us next to military action," said Sabri, a U.S. official who asked not to be identified.

Iraqi reports into a supposed "material breach" of the inspections could turn "false statements or assertions" in a declaration could contribute to a finding it had committed a "material breach" of the resolution — a finding that might lead to military action.

The Bush administration has threatened to use Iraqi disarmament, with or without U.N. authorization, as a pretext to attack. Baghdad's protest makes clear the risk the president had warned.

"We are not going to accept a find of illegal things and have us next to military action," said Sabri, a U.S. official who asked not to be identified.

Iraqi reports into a supposed "material breach" of the inspections could turn "false statements or assertions" in a declaration could contribute to a finding it had committed a "material breach" of the resolution — a finding that might lead to military action.

The Bush administration has threatened to use Iraqi disarmament, with or without U.N. authorization, as a pretext to attack. Baghdad's protest makes clear the risk the president had warned.

"We are not going to accept a find of illegal things and have us next to military action," said Sabri, a U.S. official who asked not to be identified.
UI student copes with diabetes

DIABETES

Continued from Page 1A

It is most prevalent after age 40, affecting nearly 90 percent of all cases of the disease. Type 1 diabetes is undeable to produce insulin, while Type II diabetes produces a limited amount of the hormone, which is made in the pancreas.

In the most uncontrolled stages of diabetes, glucose and fatty acids flood into the bloodstream, causing severe damage to vital organs such as the heart and kidneys.

Nearly 7 percent of all adult Jowans are diabetic, and Robert Spahnstein, a UI associate professor of internal medicine, said Type I diabetes can be hereditary, but is more commonly caused by an autoimmune reaction. Spahnstein attributes his thin frame to a high intake of carbohydrates.

The disease increases the risk of heart disease, pancreatitis, stroke and retinopathy.

Continued from Page 1A

Atkins in running for UI director job

ATKINS

Continued from Page 1A

He called the position a difficult one.

"It's a challenging position, but it will have a lot of squares in it to construct," he said. "If you're going to have a position in the department's director in 2002, you have to have a lot of squares in it to construct a position."

In the fall of 2002, the position was advertised, but not advertised as director of the department in 2002. The position of director in 2002 had to be advertised. Atkins was contacted.

Gibson said one of the most challenging aspects of Atkins was the position's role in the planning of campus development. Atkins has to plan for constant change when dealing with a wholly new set of problems and people, he said. "I was sometimes the most interesting part of the job.','.

The facilities services director is responsible for overseeing all the projects with the state Board of Regents. Atkins said that the director does not have to think about things a lot.

"We have to think about things a lot," Atkins said. "I think people are really interested in how they can have a normal life at college and a normal life after college." Atkins said that he was interested in how they can have a normal life at college and a normal life after college.

Saudis reject talk of prince's 9/11 links

9/11 TIES

Continued from Page 1A

made a gift of $15,000 to the American Diabetes Association to purchase a pocket-size insulin monitor.

"We've never had this level of recognition before," Atkins said.

The facilities services director is responsible for overseeing all the projects with the state Board of Regents. Atkins said that the director does not have to think about things a lot.

"We have to think about things a lot," Atkins said. "I think people are really interested in how they can have a normal life at college and a normal life after college." Atkins said that he was interested in how they can have a normal life at college and a normal life after college.

Saudis reject talk of prince's 9/11 links

9/11 TIES

Continued from Page 1A

made a gift of $15,000 to the American Diabetes Association to purchase a pocket-size insulin monitor.

"We've never had this level of recognition before," Atkins said.

The facilities services director is responsible for overseeing all the projects with the state Board of Regents. Atkins said that the director does not have to think about things a lot.

"We have to think about things a lot," Atkins said. "I think people are really interested in how they can have a normal life at college and a normal life after college." Atkins said that he was interested in how they can have a normal life at college and a normal life after college.

Guest Opinion

Tuition fight at the forefront for UISG

It was with great disappointment that I read The Daily Iowan editorial regardingUISG's latest efforts ("Lack of real reforms shows tuition isn't a top priority," Oct. 14). Not only was it tactically incorrect on several points, but it absurdly insinuated that the recent tuition increases were not a UISG priority. Student government is not a student "voice," but a government representing diverse viewpoints and opinions. Just because The Daily Iowan chooses to cover some initiatives more than others, it does not mean they are ignored at all time. The protest is that there was a "formal process", "proven," in total futility. We presented our proposal in a detailed presentation to the Board of Regents at the Oct. 14 meeting in Ceder Falls. The formula was created with the help of the experts on the board, the concept enough framework to make a strong case to "pass" along to my constituents of UISG, and I am concerned that the UISG are not up to their game. I cannot likely come from speaking with uni­versity representatives and state regents. It is only partly clear why colleges and universities are making such shocking budget cuts, but the no-go zone public, the actual public, the representatives, or the public or the public. After seeing the UISG does not consider the hardship to blame the outrageous tuition increases of the last year and the current proposal. They have been forced to make up one of the Iowans' budget cuts for Iowa's public univer­ses. The legislature is to blame for reining in tuition, not the regents, and it was the legislature that UISG had to make a development of the tuition proposal. If accepted, our proposal would have forced the legislature to decide if it wanted to allow tuition in Iowa's universities to continue to rise and just give an opportunity to realize budgets in spite of the Iowans' tuition increase in January. Because the reports are required to set tuition for next September, this may have been seen bending the Iawn, but, however, decreases time to produce creative solutions.

But the scenario may still occur. Sen. Sam Vigil has insisted that his willingness to alter a reduction of the "top more than the expected. The step could be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass the legislature to go along with him, and UI students will be to pass

Open up discussion and end the silence

We hear from several letters and letters to the editor, but none of us are writing about the Iowan. Students who wish to submit a letter to the editor must be signed by the writer, and preferred e-mail to daily-iowan@ui.edu.

In My Opinion

What do you think of the season's first snowfall?

"As Parkersville, we have nothing. We have no workroom, no ATM machine, and the closest Countryside we can get is in Cedar Falls." -Lydia Rupnow, Parkersville resident
Iowa City, Iowa
Monday, November 25, 2002

Where elections where $ doesn't talk so loudly

Robert Tanner

On the road to winning the governorship in Arizona, Janet Napolitano broke with tradition. Not because she's a woman or a Democrat, but because she campaigned without taking hundreds of thousands of dollars from the mining industry, trial lawyers, unions, or small businesses. What may, once a rarity of the 1990s, she will work with next year was too swift after dropping the total funding for big businesses/politicians/industry relationships. "The people of Arizona wouldn't have been in my campaign," she said. "It's a sign of the times that we're winning elections without it." The.Napolitano's campaign has been running publicity campaigns in which business don't buy with limited government money, spending privately raised or personal cash. Proponents ofswick clean elections are optimistic that the results in Arizona and Maine will win converts to their cause of curbing expensive influence of special interests. "Hopefully, we'll have more legislation that's based on what's good for the people, as opposed to what's good for a particular group," said the Christian Law Association, which very slightly in each state, six to allow special interest public finances. The state's first-in-the-nation law on clean financings, in Arizona and Maine will offer a model for how public financing will work in the future. The campaign contribution is, there isn't influence there. It isn't a quid pro quo, but it is influence," he said. "If the people's going to survive, that's what we need."
Harry Potter: not quite making magic

Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets

When:
Monday, 12/5, 7:30, 8:30, 10:30, 11:30 a.m. (CR10)
Wednesday, 12/7, 4:10, 5:20, 6:30, 8:30 p.m. (CR10)
Thursday, 12/8, 3:10, 4:10, 6:20, 7:30 p.m. (CR10)

Where:
Coral Ridge Odeon 6

FILM REVIEW

by Nate Yapp

Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets is an interesting, if only intermittently successful, fantasy experience. Fans of the source novel (by J.K. Rowling) will probably come away more satisfied than those who aren't familiar with the contents of its source novel (by J.K. Rowling), and returning with it, (Daniel Radcliffe) and his trusty sidekicks, know-it-all Hermione Granger (Emma Watson), and Neville Longbottom (Rupert Grint). There are new characters (of the dangerous variety), new adventures (including a Bolshevik type), new (J.K. Rowling) and a brand- new teacher (the ubiquitous Gilderoy Lockhart (Kenneth Branagh), who brings about a few new problems stop this flick from being excellent.

However, the most glaring cinematic introduction to Chamber of Secrets is that it just barely赶上the contents of its source novel onto the screen withoutconsidering it. If it's all cinematically appropriate or not.

Contrary to popular belief, the film stayed straight from a book is not a good idea. The printed page and the movie reel are two completely different formats, each with its own needs. Especially important for the adapter to alter is the exposition and the handling of transition events.

Screwtape Letters Ekrson understands some of this and handles what could have been an excellent fantasy adventure to turning it into the cinematic equivalent of a cockroach trying to squeeze through a hair dryer. Both Rowling's work and the movie suffer accordingly. Unlike the novel, through, Glass's direction in the best work's work. Every scene and nearly every shot involves Harry or people with it in the immediate vicinity of Harry. When events, however, important to the plot, move outside of this Potter bubble, they happen off-screen.

The single-minded attention to Harry and Harry alone might have worked if the character wasn't so bland. Bland-cliff, although a capable enough actor, tends to perform with little personality and as a result seems to fade into the background. Except that, of course, he's the hero. All of the supporting parts are at least twice as interesting as the lead (which shouldn't be entirely surprising — Radcliffe had the triple role in a production of David Copperfield, which out shone the same individual). But quite a few sequences work despite the blandness dam- aged for exposition alone. Whatever the case, the film is not of the Harry Potter experience, you're going to be more than a little lost. None of the characters are given a proper introduction — they're just stuck in, as everybody else on the planet must have read at least one of the five books.

Second, if this is your first Potter experience, you're going to be more than a little lost. None of the characters are given a proper introduction — they're just stuck in, as everybody else on the planet must have read at least one of the five books.

On the other hand, the plot has to move, and the movie smoothly moves to a dodging hall. A handful of problems start this film from being excellent.

First off, if you've seen the first film in the series, Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone, the affection here will seem very, very familiar. Right up to the climax, which unfortunately, is a bit more

Harry Potter, and the Chamber of Secrets

Best Deal on Campus.

Student discounts and other exclusive promos from Apple make the holidays merrier and switching to the Mac easier.

Actual Size.

Holds up to 4,000 songs
10 hour battery life
Download a CD in seconds

iPod - Starting at $269
Discounted just for Students

WAL-MART VISION CENTER

- Eye Exams starting at $12.00
- Contact Lens Exams: $55.00
- Disposable contacts starting at $15,60/day
- Outside prescriptions priced

WAL-MART Vision Center

904, 9th Street
Iowa City, IA 52240

Hours: M-F 9am-9pm, Sat.
3:30-9:00, Sun. 10-4

FILM REVIEW

by Nate Yapp

Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets is an interesting, if only intermittently successful, fantasy experience. Fans of the source novel (by J.K. Rowling) will probably come away more satisfied than those who aren't familiar with the contents of its source novel (by J.K. Rowling), and returning with it, (Daniel Radcliffe) and his trusty sidekicks, know-it-all Hermione Granger (Emma Watson), and Neville Longbottom (Rupert Grint). There are new characters (of the dangerous variety), new adventures (including a Bolshevik type), new (J.K. Rowling) and a brand- new teacher (the ubiquitous Gilderoy Lockhart (Kenneth Branagh), who brings about a few new problems stop this flick from being excellent.

However, the most glaring cinematic introduction to Chamber of Secrets is that it just barely赶上the contents of its source novel onto the screen withoutconsidering it. If it's all cinematically appropriate or not.

Contrary to popular belief, the film stayed straight from a book is not a good idea. The printed page and the movie reel are two completely different formats, each with its own needs. Especially important for the adapter to alter is the exposition and the handling of transition events.

Screwtape Letters Ekrson understands some of this and handles what could have been an excellent fantasy adventure to turning it into the cinematic equivalent of a cockroach trying to squeeze through a hair dryer. Both Rowling's work and the movie suffer accordingly. Unlike the novel, through, Glass's direction in the best work's work. Every scene and nearly every shot involves Harry or people with it in the immediate vicinity of Harry. When events, however, important to the plot, move outside of this Potter bubble, they happen off-screen.

The single-minded attention to Harry and Harry alone might have worked if the character wasn't so bland. Bland-cliff, although a capable enough actor, tends to perform with little personality and as a result seems to fade into the background. Except that, of course, he's the hero. All of the supporting parts are at least twice as interesting as the lead (which shouldn't be entirely surprising — Radcliffe had the triple role in a production of David Copperfield, which out shone the same individual). But quite a few sequences work despite the blandness dam- aged for exposition alone. Whatever the case, the film is not of the Harry Potter experience, you're going to be more than a little lost. None of the characters are given a proper introduction — they're just stuck in, as everybody else on the planet must have read at least one of the five books.

Second, if this is your first Potter experience, you're going to be more than a little lost. None of the characters are given a proper introduction — they're just stuck in, as everybody else on the planet must have read at least one of the five books.
FOOTBALL

By TODD BROMMELKAMP

And the waiting game continues.

If ever there was a time the Iowa football team must hang its hat on any statistic, this is it. As they geared up behind a table for Tuesday's news conference at Kinnick Stadium, coach Kirk Ferentz didn't have much new to say, and he didn't have much new to add.

"It's all part of the process," Ferentz said of the Hawkeyes' four-game losing streak. "You're not going to win 'em all."

The Hawkeyes have been outscored by 18 straight quarters, including 14 straight from games that ended in loss.

The last time Iowa scored against an opponent who wasn't a top-10 team was on Sept. 17 against Illinois. Since then, Iowa has scored just three touchdowns against non-top-10 teams.

"We're not going to win 'em all," Ferentz said after Tuesday's news conference. "I've never been in a situation where you're not going to be in tight games and come out on the losing end."

Ferentz said the Hawkeyes' season started poorly, with losses at home to Nebraska and Northern Illinois. But he said the Hawkeyes are "starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel, and that's winning football games on the road.""Iowa's offense has been "some," Ferentz said. "We're starting to see maybe a glimmer of hope there, maybe a chance to win a few games this year.""

The Hawkeyes have scored just two touchdowns this season, against Northern Illinois and Iowa State.

"I thought we had a chance to win, and I think we've got another chance to win," Ferentz said. "I think we're starting to see that and that's starting to come together.""

Ferentz added that the Hawkeyes are "starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel, and that's winning football games on the road.""The last time Iowa scored against an opponent who wasn't a top-10 team was on Sept. 17 against Illinois. Since then, Iowa has scored just three touchdowns against non-top-10 teams.

"We're not going to win 'em all," Ferentz said after Tuesday's news conference. "I've never been in a situation where you're not going to be in tight games and come out on the losing end."

Ferentz said the Hawkeyes' season started poorly, with losses at home to Nebraska and Northern Illinois. But he said the Hawkeyes are "starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel, and that's winning football games on the road.""Iowa's offense has been "some," Ferentz said. "We're starting to see maybe a glimmer of hope there, maybe a chance to win a few games this year.""

The Hawkeyes have scored just two touchdowns this season, against Northern Illinois and Iowa State.

"I thought we had a chance to win, and I think we've got another chance to win," Ferentz said. "I think we're starting to see that and that's starting to come together.""The last time Iowa scored against an opponent who wasn't a top-10 team was on Sept. 17 against Illinois. Since then, Iowa has scored just three touchdowns against non-top-10 teams.

"We're not going to win 'em all," Ferentz said after Tuesday's news conference. "I've never been in a situation where you're not going to be in tight games and come out on the losing end."

Ferentz said the Hawkeyes' season started poorly, with losses at home to Nebraska and Northern Illinois. But he said the Hawkeyes are "starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel, and that's winning football games on the road.""Iowa's offense has been "some," Ferentz said. "We're starting to see maybe a glimmer of hope there, maybe a chance to win a few games this year.""

The Hawkeyes have scored just two touchdowns this season, against Northern Illinois and Iowa State.

"I thought we had a chance to win, and I think we've got another chance to win," Ferentz said. "I think we're starting to see that and that's starting to come together.""The last time Iowa scored against an opponent who wasn't a top-10 team was on Sept. 17 against Illinois. Since then, Iowa has scored just three touchdowns against non-top-10 teams.

"We're not going to win 'em all," Ferentz said after Tuesday's news conference. "I've never been in a situation where you're not going to be in tight games and come out on the losing end."

Ferentz said the Hawkeyes' season started poorly, with losses at home to Nebraska and Northern Illinois. But he said the Hawkeyes are "starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel, and that's winning football games on the road.""Iowa's offense has been "some," Ferentz said. "We're starting to see maybe a glimmer of hope there, maybe a chance to win a few games this year.""

The Hawkeyes have scored just two touchdowns this season, against Northern Illinois and Iowa State.

"I thought we had a chance to win, and I think we've got another chance to win," Ferentz said. "I think we're starting to see that and that's starting to come together.""The last time Iowa scored against an opponent who wasn't a top-10 team was on Sept. 17 against Illinois. Since then, Iowa has scored just three touchdowns against non-top-10 teams.

"We're not going to win 'em all," Ferentz said after Tuesday's news conference. "I've never been in a situation where you're not going to be in tight games and come out on the losing end."

Ferentz said the Hawkeyes' season started poorly, with losses at home to Nebraska and Northern Illinois. But he said the Hawkeyes are "starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel, and that's winning football games on the road.""Iowa's offense has been "some," Ferentz said. "We're starting to see maybe a glimmer of hope there, maybe a chance to win a few games this year.""
Volleyball falls in home finale

BY ALI NOLLER
THE DAILY IOWAN

The Iowa volleyball team closed its home season with a loss to No. 18 Nebraska on Friday night at Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Even though the Hawkeyes are ineligible for the NCAA tournament after finishing the Big Ten season 3-17, they'll take the home crowd's support to the next round of competition.

Despite the devastating loss, the Hawkeyes did manage to best Minnesota twice, finishing the season with a win in the final game. "It's the same story — we played very hard but couldn't block the ball," head coach Jim 0. Bollant said after the game. "We're starting all over." Bollant and his team were looking forward to the home finale, but No. 18 Nebraska made it a tough one for the Hawkeyes.

The Hawkeyes jumped to a 1-0 lead in game one but couldn't hold onto it, losing the game 25-21. In game two, they led by three points at one point, but Nebraska fought back to make it a close one, 29-27. The Hawkeyes managed to pull away and win game three with an 11-5 lead.

IOWA BRIEFS
Softball team signs four prep recruits

The University of Iowa announced the signing of four high school seniors for both the 2002 season and the 2003 season. Three of the five signees are from Des Moines North.

The Hawkeyes are 20-7 on the season and 3-1 in Big Ten action. They will continue their season against Iowa State on Friday and Minnesota on Sunday.

Iowa's men's swimming team finished fifth at the NCAA Men's Swimming and Diving Championships in Indianapolis.

The team finished 10th in the 100-yard backstroke, 11th in the 200-yard backstroke, 12th in the 200-yard medley relay, 13th in the 800-yard freestyle relay, 14th in the 400-yard medley relay, 15th in the 200-yard freestyle and 16th in the 800-yard freestyle relay.

The Hawkeyes will return优于 their record of 1-1 record at the Big Ten Championships in Indianapolis.

The meet will be broadcast live on ESPN2 and will be available on the Internet at espn.com.

Field hockey players earn regional laurels

Three players from the Iowa field hockey team were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association All-Region team.

Senior Carolanne Sickles was named to the Division I East team, and seniors Aimee Kneifel and Katie Low were named to the Division I West team.

Sickles, a forward, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Kneifel, a midfielder, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Low, a defender, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Iowa will face Boston College in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Friday at 7 p.m. in College Park, Md.

Field hockey players earn regional laurels

Three players from the Iowa field hockey team were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association All-Region team.

Senior Carolanne Sickles was named to the Division I East team, and seniors Aimee Kneifel and Katie Low were named to the Division I West team.

Sickles, a forward, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Kneifel, a midfielder, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Low, a defender, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Iowa will face Boston College in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Friday at 7 p.m. in College Park, Md.

Field hockey players earn regional laurels

Three players from the Iowa field hockey team were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association All-Region team.

Senior Carolanne Sickles was named to the Division I East team, and seniors Aimee Kneifel and Katie Low were named to the Division I West team.

Sickles, a forward, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Kneifel, a midfielder, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Low, a defender, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Iowa will face Boston College in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Friday at 7 p.m. in College Park, Md.

Field hockey players earn regional laurels

Three players from the Iowa field hockey team were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association All-Region team.

Senior Carolanne Sickles was named to the Division I East team, and seniors Aimee Kneifel and Katie Low were named to the Division I West team.

Sickles, a forward, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Kneifel, a midfielder, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Low, a defender, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Iowa will face Boston College in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Friday at 7 p.m. in College Park, Md.

Field hockey players earn regional laurels

Three players from the Iowa field hockey team were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association All-Region team.

Senior Carolanne Sickles was named to the Division I East team, and seniors Aimee Kneifel and Katie Low were named to the Division I West team.

Sickles, a forward, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Kneifel, a midfielder, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Low, a defender, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Iowa will face Boston College in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Friday at 7 p.m. in College Park, Md.

Field hockey players earn regional laurels

Three players from the Iowa field hockey team were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association All-Region team.

Senior Carolanne Sickles was named to the Division I East team, and seniors Aimee Kneifel and Katie Low were named to the Division I West team.

Sickles, a forward, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Kneifel, a midfielder, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Low, a defender, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Iowa will face Boston College in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Friday at 7 p.m. in College Park, Md.

Field hockey players earn regional laurels

Three players from the Iowa field hockey team were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association All-Region team.

Senior Carolanne Sickles was named to the Division I East team, and seniors Aimee Kneifel and Katie Low were named to the Division I West team.

Sickles, a forward, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Kneifel, a midfielder, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Low, a defender, was named to the All-Big Ten team for the second consecutive year.

Iowa will face Boston College in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Friday at 7 p.m. in College Park, Md.
Carr fears for safety in big crowds

BY RICHARD ROSENBLATT

FOOTBALL

Carolina

Columbia

No wins for Warner in Washington territory

SPORTS

Columbia Sportswear Company

Columbia's Best-Seller Sale!

Columbia's Crescent Ridge Parka

Columbia's Olympic Coat Ads Also On Sale!

Bigger Sizes Available For Additional HD.

Fin & Feather

Columbia Sportswear Company

125 Highland Park, Eliz., Iowa
319-545-2200

Ladies Sports Coats Also On Sale!

9330 Center Point Pk., NE
Cedar Rapids
319-364-4396

No fun in waiting, watching

FOOTBALL

Continued from Page 18

Multiple victory, he entered the Big Ten match with the only two Mountaineer losses of the season. "He did well, but I must admit he didn't have a great game," he said.

The Mountaineers will need to improve their defense if they want to win their first Big Ten game. "We have to get better on defense," said the coach. "We can't allow the other team to make big plays."
Iowa women win first tournament

WOMEN

Continued from Page 18

When we made some runs, we didn't see fear in their eyes. Katie Meier, Charlotte coach

Iowa's Kristi Fosuher attempts a lay-up Nov. 23 against the KPI Jaguars. Iowa won the game, 56-75, in overtime.

SPORTS

Iowa women win first tournament

MEN

Continued from Page 18

make any shots tonight," said Florida Atlantic coach Sidney Green. Iowa held the Owls to just 21 percent shooting from the first half (37.0 percent) to the second half (30.0 percent).

The Owls had 32 turnovers and accumulated 10 offensive rebounds, winding nine players from the learning curve, which will continue in the nonconference season.

"We look at this team and we can't understand why," Lillis said. "They are the best team in the country. We are a very good defensive team, but we are not a very good offensive team."

Northern Iowa did not shoot well in practice Tuesday's scheduled game, said the IUPUI coach.

"I don't think we were very good at all in practice," Meier said. "We didn't play well in practice."

Meier said her team is getting better each day, but she is not happy with the way her team is playing.

"We are not getting the intensity we need," Meier said. "We need to get the intensity back into our game."
AI scores 37 in Philly win

TORONTO (AP) — Allen Iverson scored 37 points, and Keith Van Horn added 23 points and nine rebounds to lead the Philadelphia 76ers past the Toronto Raptors, 90-88, for their third-straight victory.

Iverson scored 14 points in the third quarter on 6-for-6 shooting, including 3 of 3 from behind the arc.

Pennsylvania native Yao Ming was scoreless with one rebound in the fourth quarter.

Van Horn had six points as Philadelphia put up a running victory.

Five straight.

For their third-straight victory.

Williams scored six points, and Iverson added four.

Nevada's second half.

Eddie House led the game with 18 points, and Xavier McDaniel added 15, and Bernard Lewis had 15.

Three games.

Oregon had 19 points and nine rebounds to lead.

Brand had 26 points and 15 rebounds to.

Wallace scored six points, and Iverson added four.

Eric Piatkowski of the Spurs.

Based in San Antonio.

Brand had 26 points and 15

Mlaml75

Meals available.

321

Daily Iowan.

...Mon.

College

Engineering.

90

Brent Barry's 3-

Iverson each

University.

SKILL EXTRAS CASH FOR THE HOLIDAYS?

The Iowa City Community School District is seeking

Spencer

Employment

509 S.

14

21

22

23

24

25

615 321-3500

The Daily Iowan, Classified Advertisement Desk
105 W. Washington St.
Iowa City, Iowa 52240

No

ApplicatiON

EEO

www.lowa-dty.kl1.ia.us

417

University

Med

320$350

MEDICAL

Respiratory Therapist

P.O.

Am.

W. IOWA TEACH. 1/2 HR.

Office Hours

315-5784 or 315-3785

Office Hours

Monday-Thursday 9-2

The Daily Iowan Classified Ad Blank

time as advertised will end per week. Minimum is 1 week.

Tag: $250 Sign-On Bonus

Full-time.

However, see the line

Com.

800-850-1970

Move.

Moving.

- 1/2 day-1/2 week.

- 3 days.

- 2/3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 day.

- 1/2 week.

- weekend.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.

- 3 days.

- 1 day.

- 1/2 week.

- 1 day.

- 2/3 days.
The Daily Iowan · Iowa City, Iowa · Monday, November 25, 2002 · 7B

TWO BEDROOM
THREE/FOUR

ROOM FOR RENT
BEAUTIFUL 28x64 home in Lakeridge. Very clean three bedroom, two bathroom, all appliances, many extras, assume loan. (319) 358-2853. All price negociable. Visit our website for a complete listing that includes the features and photos of each home. www.kfletting.com

K.I. S. U. STING SERVICES
(319) 351-1221
(319) 351-1311

Luxury 2 & 3 bedroom, 2 bath, condos on the Westside. From $999/month. Contact Lepke Kroeger, Mike VanDyke 631-2659, or CailWelberwell 631-2201. For more information visit the Real Estate Preview at www.dailyiowan.com

For more information on these properties, visit the Real Estate Preview at www.dailyiowan.com

THE CASCADIAN

FOR RENT

STAIRBRIDGE

ESTATES

213 Todd Ln., Iowa City
205 Southridge, Coralville
315 Westgate, Coralville
104 STAIRBRIDGE

FOR RENT

629 Central Ave., Iowa City
631 Central Ave., Iowa City
635 Central Ave., Iowa City
637 Central Ave., Iowa City

FOR RENT

MOTIVATED SELLERS!
Schedule showing today.

A Photo is Worth A Thousand Words
SELL YOUR CAR
30 DAYS FOR $40
(photo and up to 15 words)

Call our office to set up a time that is convenient for you to bring your car by to be photographed. Your ad will run for 30 days - for $40! Deadline: 2 days prior to run date desired

For more information contact:
The Daily Iowan Classified Dept.
319-335-5784 or 335-5785
UIV schedule

Noon-12:30p.m. — "Iowa Football with Kirk Ferentz"
3-3:30p.m. — "Iowa Football with Kirk Ferentz"
6:30-7p.m. — "Iowa Football with Kirk Ferentz"

quote of the day

I do think the administration should be pushing the Saudis more to be helpful to our country. I think we need as much as we need them.

— Sen. Ron Wyden, D-Ore.

horoscopes

* By Eugenia Last

calendar

International Mondays, "Ethics of Fair versus Free Trade: The case of certified-organic and fair trade coffee..." Tod Moonbeag, geography, today at time, International Centers Lounge.

public access tv schedule

8 a.m. Democracy Now
11:10 a.m. Morton Found for Suicide
11:20 a.m. Black Dog
11:30 a.m. Screening of "Drumbeat: The Education of Wernher von Braun"
11:45 a.m. Soldiers Against Sexism: About Gay Rights
12:15 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
12:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
12:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
12:45 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
1:15 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
1:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
1:45 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
2:15 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
2:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
3:15 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
3:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
4:15 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
4:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
5:15 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
5:30 p.m. The One Minute Talent Show
6:00 p.m. "The World"
6:15 p.m. "The World"
6:30 p.m. SCTV Calendar
7:00 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
7:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
8:00 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
8:30 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
9:00 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
9:25 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
9:45 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning
10:15 p.m. "Rockers,Kempers" Feminist Learning

Doonesbury

by Garry Trudeau

The New York Times

Edited by Will Shortz

hanging around campus

Sienna is an editor for the Daily Iowan. She can be reached at: sienna@daily-iowan.com

herbs

UI’s parent media board interviewing candidates on diversity

By Tony Korbee

Members of the UI’s Parent Media Board (PMB) will interview candidates for the University of Iowa’s new president in the most unorthodox manner possible. The candidates will be interviewed in paper, but passers-by who select a paper in the Minnie Street Press box in 1980 say it isn’t always easy to find the box.

"Obviously, we are keenly interested in diversity. And in addressing the issue of diversity, we have decided in consultation with the administration to take some unusual steps," said Pam Murphy, the editor of the Minnie Street Press.

http://www.prairielights.com

Goble

By Amy Jeong

The Daily Iowan, November 25, 2002

The U of I is one of the few public universities to have such a program. At the UI, students pay $200 in order to work and learn in the program.

Herbsold said he initiated the program about a month into his presidency, after a faculty member brought to him the idea that the students could benefit from the two-in-one program.

Nerine Bajaj, who has helped to oversee the program, said it has been an enjoyable experience for the students who have participated in it.

http://www.prairielights.com

search

weather

18°F, 10 mph, sunny

- 26°F, 18 mph, sunny