Sloths triumph again: Green wins

Iowa man, 20 others killed in Philippines

BY JOHN MOLSEED
The Daily Iowan

An Iowa law professor and his brother, a Florida Baptist missionary who was killed by a bomb in the Philippines on Tuesday, never stopped keeping his family informed about what he thought was right.

While serving in Vietnam, Bill Hile failed to inform his brother that he was in the service. But his brother was able to keep him informed about what he thought was right.

Bill Hile was a law professor at the University of Iowa, and his brother, who was a Baptist missionary, was killed by a bomb in the Philippines on Tuesday.

The state's public universities are facing a financial crisis, and the university's Board of Regents is expected to vote on a 17.6 percent tuition increase.

The university's Board of Regents approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.

The university's Board of Regents has approved a 17.6 percent tuition increase for the 2003-2004 academic year. The increase will be used to cover the university's budget, which has been reduced due to cuts in state funding.
Study urges screening for cancer

BY CASEY MAGNER

Colored cancer can be easily detected and released and removed. The tumors are not aware of the risk and must be removed. The tumors are not aware of the risk and must be removed. However, in the report, it was stated that.

The report states that.

Dr. John Doe revealed- that.

The report shows that.

The report concludes that.

The report expresses that.

The report suggests that.

The report identifies that.

The report emphasizes that.

The report recommends that.

The report advocates that.

The report argues that.

The report contends that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.

The report refutes that.
No more smoking at Micky’s, Mondo’s

BY CHRISTY B. LOGAN

Several Iowa City restaurants unsuccessfully tried to implement smoke-free policies in their establishments. These attempts were only met with failure from customers who expressed their displeasure with the new policy.

State

State to get tough on date rape drug

"It is a particularly tragic irony of the saga of the rape drug," said Prof. George L. Geer, a criminology and criminal justice professor at the University of Iowa. "That a drug that promises victims relief actually causes them harm.

"It is a matter of public health and safety. The state should consider implementing tougher penalties for individuals who use or distribute date rape drugs. By doing so, we can help prevent this senseless violence and protect vulnerable individuals," Geer added.

"We must act swiftly to address this issue," Geer concluded. "We owe it to the victims of date rape to take bold and meaningful steps to prevent this heinous crime."

More

News

Board wants traffic-stop guidelines

There are some preliminary recommendations in place in instances where individuals get pulled over by police, but there is a need for more specific guidelines that could potentially be used in different situations. The board also called for expanded efforts to spread information to the community about the significance of not trying to influence policy decisions.

Local

Police chief: Not all traffic stops are bad

Gary Kenner, right, the executive director of the Magna David Adon U.S.A., is seeking to restore form restoration Wednesday, March 5, 2004. He said the police used excessive force during an incident at the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity house on Tuesday night.

The incident, which was broadcast on local television, prompted the Iowa City Police Department’s policy task force to convene.

The recommendation comes two weeks after the city reached a $60,000 out-of-court settlement with two City Council members.

The police board is considering whether to randomly monitor police stops and whether to modify or discontinue police stop protocols. Although it is too early to say how the police chief’s recommendation fits into the larger picture, he said it is something that could be made more effective by giving police officers more training.

"It’s very important that we have a policy that’s clear, consistent, and effective," Kenner said. "We don’t want to see any activity similar to what occurred at the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity house, but we also don’t want to make hasty decisions that could have unintended consequences."

"We want to be able to know what to expect and how to behave," Kenner said. "We don’t want to see any activity similar to what occurred at the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity house, but we also don’t want to make hasty decisions that could have unintended consequences."

"It’s very important that we have a policy that’s clear, consistent, and effective," Kenner said. "We don’t want to see any activity similar to what occurred at the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity house, but we also don’t want to make hasty decisions that could have unintended consequences."

"We want to be able to know what to expect and how to behave," Kenner said. "We don’t want to see any activity similar to what occurred at the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity house, but we also don’t want to make hasty decisions that could have unintended consequences."
FLIERS
Continued from Page 1A

"A lot of students don't care or don't go down to talk to legislators, or they think it's not worth the trouble," said ISU Student Government member Ben Parrott. "We've been doing three, four, five, six or seven tryouts for this thing, and they're not happy about the approach."

Blind said he was disappointed to see "then attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.

He said he was assigned to missionary work in the Philippines, so he and his wife, Gaylinda, moved to Manila in 1974. "Trying to understand their problems, and help out the best way we can," he said. "As the missionary, I try to be an example of God's love and mercy to the people who are not used to seeing Christians loving one another.""Believers are very important to me," he added.

The group and the government had very little experience with the group. But now, they are training community members to provide health care and education to the people who have been affected by the disaster. The government is working closely with the missionaries to help them get their work done.

For now, the group plans to continue its mission work and help the community recover from the disaster. They hope to have more volunteers join them in the future.

The group has also been able to connect with other organizations working in the area, such as the Red Cross and United Nations. They have been able to share resources and expertise to help them respond to the emergency.

The group has been able to receive donations and support from individuals and organizations around the world. They appreciate the support of everyone who has contributed to their efforts to help the people affected by the disaster.

The group is committed to continuing its work in the Philippines and helping the community recover from the disaster. They hope to have more volunteers join them in the future. They welcome any support and encourage people to contribute in any way they can.

CR missionary killed in Philippine blast

PHILIPPINES

continued from Page 1A

"I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.

"I feel like I have to do a lot of work to make sure our students are heard," he said. "The state board is almost certainly not going to listen to us," he added.

"It's a lot of work to do," Blind said. "But I think the students are more than capable of doing it." "I think students should be more aware of the way the state of Iowa has treated them for the last few years," Blind said, acknowledging that many students stand in the way of student participation, including the DSM 5. The State Board of Education, Iowa, Thursday, and otherwise.
A nocturne for the Holocaust

Szpilman states that he will not be made to leave his home by the Nazi perpetrators. But the Nazi fear became so strong for positive reasons that it forced him to stay in place. He is an integral part of the Warsaw Ghetto, uncompromisingly resisting the truth that the Nazis displayed toward the Polish families. He becomes a symbol of the Jewish and Polish resistance. The black and white film opens with Szpilman's departure from his regular life and his family and his friends and his city.

Szpilman is a contradictory character who, through his aloofness, is able to remain intact. He does not allow the war to rule his actions. He manages to resist the Nazi terror and to stay in his home. When domesday comes, he remains calm and continues to work.

The film's essence is to capture the perfection of the craft. Brody accomplishes this feat perfectly; as Szpilman, he is the most convincing and convincing actor of all time. He is the most powerful role he has ever played in his career. His performance is so exceptional that it has been compared to the work of other famous actors such as Marlon Brando.

The Pianist is essentially a monologue, Brando being his own director. He is the only director of such Hollywood classics as Schindler's List and Chinatown. The film's success is due to the exceptional performance of the lead actor. The film is the film that has been directed by Polanski, whose energy and passion for his subject are more than evident in every scene.

Paul, a self-taught pianist, from the windows of his apartment, sees the countless boxcars and sent away to their deaths. The film ends with a moving scene of Paul looking out the window of his apartment, saying "I don't think you ever realize how lucky you are, that you have your family, your friends, your home."

The Pianist's story is a true account of the music and the art of music, and it is a moving testament to the power of music and the human spirit.
Opinions

"All we're asking is to stay away," said USGI Vice President Matt Billick, on today's attempt to lobby state legislators for university funding.

The Letters to the Editor

Drinking is fun

In response to the Opinions columnist’s assessment of the current drinking trends in the university, I would like to comment on the following points:

1. The columnist states that drinking is a social activity. However, I believe that drinking is more than just a social activity; it is a personal experience that can be enjoyed by individuals on their own.

2. The columnist claims that drinking is a way to relieve stress. While I agree that drinking can be a way to relax, I believe that there are healthier ways to deal with stress, such as exercise or meditation.

3. The columnist argues that drinking is a way to bond with others. While bonding is important, I believe that there are other ways to build relationships, such as through shared interests or activities.

In conclusion, while I agree that drinking can be a fun and enjoyable activity, I believe that there are better ways to deal with stress and build relationships. Let's enjoy drinking responsibly and responsibly.

- [Your Name]

Editorial

Funding for U.S. national parks falls short under Bush’s watch

The new budget proposal by the Bush administration is a disgrace to the U.S. National Parks System. The Bush administration has proposed to cut funding for the National Parks Service, which provides essential services to the American people. The proposal includes cuts to the budget of the National Parks Service, which is responsible for maintaining and preserving national parks.

The National Parks Service is an essential part of our national heritage and a source of pride for the American people. The National Parks Service provides critical services to the American people, such as protection of natural resources, recreation, and education. The National Parks Service is also an important economic driver, providing jobs and opportunities for local communities.

The proposal to cut funding for the National Parks Service is a shortsighted and dangerous move. The National Parks Service is an important part of our national heritage and a source of pride for the American people. The National Parks Service provides critical services to the American people, such as protection of natural resources, recreation, and education. The National Parks Service is also an important economic driver, providing jobs and opportunities for local communities.

The National Parks Service is an essential part of our national heritage and a source of pride for the American people. The National Parks Service provides critical services to the American people, such as protection of natural resources, recreation, and education. The National Parks Service is also an important economic driver, providing jobs and opportunities for local communities.

Jim Green

Editorial Board

The Daily Iowa

Monte Sewell

SPORTS

Editor

Amber O’Keefe

EDITORIAL BOARD

Amber O'Keefe

Ami Danko

Bianca Dumas

Chico Xiong

Nick Norwood

Lauren McCarthy

Chris Talcott

Megan Weisemer

EDITORIALS reflect the majority opinions of the 20 Edition editorial board. Notices are made to all editors and readers according to equal opportunities. Letters to the Editor are subject to editing and are printed at the discretion of the editorial staff.

EDITORIALS reflect the majority opinions of the 20 Edition editorial board. Notices are made to all editors and readers according to equal opportunities. Letters to the Editor are subject to editing and are printed at the discretion of the editorial staff.
Korea intercepts suspects analyses

BY DOUG STARK AND LUCY GILMORE

BY AGNEW

In Washington, Sen. Edward Kennedy also criticized President Bush's suggestion in a speech last week that U.S. General of Iraqi President Saddam Hussein would help bring peace and democracy to the Middle East.

"He painted a simplistic picture of the brightest possible future — with democracy bringing in time peace forever ending war and the terror with no support of them. We all heard of my aims, but we also listened.

The remarks came as the United Nations, Britain, and Japan food opposition to adoption of their resolution calling that Iraq has expanded its "final opportunity" to disarm, which would trigger a U.S.-led war.

Russian Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov, meeting with British Foreign Secretary Jack Straw in London, and Russia has not ruled out voicing the resolution.

"If this stimulus still doesn't, Russia "will, of course, use the right of veto," Ivanov said in a BBC interview. "Russia would not support any decision that would directly or indirectly lead to a war with Iraq." He added that Russia would not coincide.

Russian Bush administration officials said Russian officials have assurances in proving that they would not veto the resolution. A senior U.S. official expressed confidence that "we'll have the nine votes, and the measure will pass."

Heard that you couldn't pree while having any food, that's true, I think it happened then.

Health Fair 2003

Wednesday, March 5
8 am - 9 pm
UI Field House

HEALTH

You've Got Questions... We've Got Answers.

The Quest for Truth

Examining the Evidence for the Christian Faith

Featuring
Dr. William Lane Craig

Thursday, March 6th, 7pm
MacBride Auditorium

Risen, or Dead and Eaten by Dogs: An examination of the resurrection of Jesus

Friday, March 7th, 7pm
MacBride Auditorium

You Asked: Answers to the top three questions U of I students asked about Christianity

Individual students are encouraged to attend of honors supervised events. If you are present with a study group at an event, you cannot enter. For further information, contact the student center at 319-335-9600.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, March 5, 2003 - 1A

NEWS

www.thedailyiowan.com

An Iraqi soldier closes the gate of the Ba'ath Co. on Tuesday in Tikrit, Iraq, 13 miles north of Baghdad, shortly after U.S. weapons inspectors entered the site.

Annan appeals for peace

BY COLIN LYNCH

UNITED NATIONS — U.N. Secretary General Kofi Annan said Tuesday in the United States and other Security Council members to exhaust all possibilities of peaceful settlement if they are exhausted in the upcoming United States, U.N. Security Council resolution.

Annan expressed confidence that the United States could avoid any further escalation of the situation.

"Our language ... indicates that the United States is not looking for any further escalation of the situation. We see it as a clear indication that the United States is serious in its efforts to avoid any further escalation of the situation," Annan said.

The remarks came as the United Nations, Britain, and Japan food opposition to adoption of their resolution calling that Iraq has expanded its "final opportunity" to disarm, which would trigger a U.S.-led war.

Russian Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov, meeting with British Foreign Secretary Jack Straw in London, and Russia has not ruled out voicing the resolution.

"If this stimulus still doesn't, Russia "will, of course, use the right of veto," Ivanov said in a BBC interview. "Russia would not support any decision that would directly or indirectly lead to a war with Iraq." He added that Russia would not coincide.

Russian Bush administration officials said Russian officials have assurances in proving that they would not veto the resolution. A senior U.S. official expressed confidence that "we'll have the nine votes, and the measure will pass."

Heard that you couldn't pree while having any food, that's true, I think it happened then.

Health Fair 2003

Wednesday, March 5
8 am - 9 pm
UI Field House

HEALTH

You've Got Questions... We've Got Answers.

The Quest for Truth

Examining the Evidence for the Christian Faith

Featuring
Dr. William Lane Craig

Thursday, March 6th, 7pm
MacBride Auditorium

Risen, or Dead and Eaten by Dogs: An examination of the resurrection of Jesus

Friday, March 7th, 7pm
MacBride Auditorium

You Asked: Answers to the top three questions U of I students asked about Christianity

Individual students are encouraged to attend of honors supervised events. If you are present with a study group at an event, you cannot enter. For further information, contact the student center at 319-335-9600.
Today Sponge on comeback trail

BY LINDA A. JOHNSON
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

ALLENDALE, N.J. — The Today Sponge comeback is taking on the markets, right after a 15-year retirement from glory. The once-popular U.S. sponge glory is back in the market after a long absence. The sponge, which was once a household staple, has made a comeback after a long hiatus.

The sponge was originally created as a household product in the 1970s, but it was discontinued in the late 1980s due to low sales. However, recent years have seen a resurgence of interest in sponge products, and Today Sponge is one of the latest entries in the sponge market.

The sponge is made from natural spongy material and is designed to absorb water and clean surfaces. It is available in a variety of sizes and shapes, and can be used for a variety of household cleaning tasks, such as washing dishes, cleaning countertops, and wiping mirrors.

The sponge's popularity in the past was due to its effectiveness and versatility. It was a staple in many households, and its absence from the market was felt by many homeowners. However, with the resurgence of interest in sponge products, the sponge is once again a household item.

Today Sponge is available at most grocery stores and specialty boutiques, and is priced at $5.00 each. The sponge is manufactured by a company based in Allendale, N.J., and is marketed as a high-quality sponge product.

Join Herky for t-shirt giveaways, a chance to win a week at the Iowa Summer Gymnastics Camp, and an autograph session after the meet.

---

U.S. lauds anti-terror cops

BY CURT ANDERSON
ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — New terror-indictment laws and a key Al Qaeda operative captured in Pakistan, along with recent environmentally friendly laws, are starting to turn around perceptions about the environment.

The U.S. government was praised this week for making progress in the fight against terrorism, while at the same time continuing to support environmental initiatives.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have been lauded by environmentalists, who have praised the government's moves to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have also been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The U.S. government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.

Environmentalists have also been encouraged by the government's efforts to reduce emissions and support renewable energy sources.

The government's actions have been praised by the international community, who have commended the U.S. for its efforts to combat terrorism both at home and abroad.

The government's efforts to combat terrorism have also been praised by the Department of Homeland Security, which has highlighted the importance of coordination between law enforcement and national security agencies.
Trios talks about NFL draft, experience at camp

Alford can’t push starters Horner, Leslie, Reiner too hard before Tournament

IOWA MEN’S BASKETBALL AT MICHIGAN STATE, 7:05 P.M.

A balancing act

BY TODD BROMMELKAMP

Iowa can’t push starters Horner, Leslie, Reiner too hard before Tournament

The Hawkeye football players

BY MICHELLE YONG

Another bucket for Jamie Lillis

COACHES, media select three Hawkeyes to conference teams

Wrestling: Iowa at Minnesota, Wednesday, all day

BASEBALL: Iowa State, Illinois, Cornhusker Conference, Sunday

swimming: Iowa men and women host Senior Championships, Field House, all day

Tennis: Iowa men at Minnesota, Minneapolis, 9:30 a.m.

Tennis: Iowa women host Minnesota, Recreation Building, 11 a.m.

Gymnastics: Iowa vs. Illinois, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, 7 p.m.

BIKE: Iowa State, Arizona, 7:30 a.m.

IOWA WINTER SPORTS

Minor League Statistics:
1. John Anderson
2. Joel Liddick
3. Kevin Liddick

IOWA’S SPORTS DESK

The Daily Iowan
Minnesota wild after first victory

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Willis Minshew's deflected goal late in the third period Tuesday night lifted the Minnesota Wild to a victory over New Jersey in the first game of the Stanley Cup Final against the Devils, 5-3.

Minshew's short-handed shot went off Devils' defender Paul Martin and past goalie Martin Brodeur with 5:45 remaining to give Minnesota the lead back.

Rashad Smalls also scored for the Flyers.

The Flyers gave the Flyers a 1-0 lead just 2:36 in with a wraparound shot, but were outshot 37-24 heading into the third period.

Boylston's left wing Andrew Brunette slides the puck under New Jersey goalie Martin Brodeur for a goal as Devils defenceman Raymound Giguere tries to hold back Brunette in the first period.

BUFFALO, N.Y. - Jeff Halpern had three goals and an assist, and the Buffalo Sabres downed New Jersey 6-3, matching their franchise record with their eighth straight win.

Halpern's first two goals were in the first period as the Coyotes , who are 3-0-0-1 in their last four games, won't have access to the league's disciplinary database in a fight-filled victory Tuesday night.

The Sabres scored four goals in the first two periods as the Coyotes

Buffalo Sabres' Andrew Ladd (16) celebrates with teammates after scoring his third goal in the third period against the New Jersey Devils in a hockey game in Buffalo, N.Y. The Sabres defeated the Devils 6-3.

Payton had seven of his 17 points in the second quarter.

Kevin Garnett got a technical foul.

Halpern took a pass from Danny Briere and put a shot past Devils goalie Martin Brodeur to give Buffalo a 5-0 lead.

NBA players to face new spot drug tests

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. PAUL, Minn. — With fellow All-Star Kobe Bryant already out with a broken arm, Minnesota's Kevin Garnett has another injury to worry about.

Both are expected to return Thursday night when the Timberwolves face the Golden State Warriors.

Jeff Halpern, a left wing for the Buffalo Sabres, celebrates after scoring against the New Jersey Devils during the third period of an NHL hockey game Tuesday, May 21, 2002, in Buffalo, N.

Payton had seven of his 17 points in the second quarter.

New Jersey Devils goalie Martin Brodeur (30) hugs Devils left wing Theo Fleury (17) after the third period of an NHL hockey game against Buffalo on Tuesday, May 21, 2002, in Buffalo.

The Timberwolves lead the series 1-0.

Denver beat Portland 110-95 to take a 2-0 lead.

Garnett, the NBA's most valuable player last season, appeared to hurt his left wrist in the first quarter.

Kevin Garnett of the Minnesota Timberwolves' left hand is looked at by a team trainer Tuesday, May 21, 2002, during a timeout in the second quarter against the Golden State Warriors.

Garnett went to the bench and did not return.

The Timberwolves lead the series 1-0.

Kevin Garnett of the Minnesota Timberwolves' left hand is looked at by a team trainer Tuesday, May 21, 2002, during a timeout in the second quarter against the Golden State Warriors.

Minnesota Timberwolves forward Kevin Garnett holds his wrist during a timeout in the second quarter of an NBA basketball game against the Golden State Warriors in Minneapolis.
Banks’ favorite play against Purdue

Q&A

Continued from Page 1

"I can't see the playbook if I have to carry the playbook, but what about the other players who have experience in the Big Ten Tournament or the NCAA Tournament?"

"In the two previous seasons, Jaeste Lillis won a Big Ten Tournament in 2001, reached the second-seed last year, and played in two NCAA Tournaments. Without a tournament upset, the Hawkeyes would not make the NCAA Tournament. We have some experience at the Big Ten Tournament and experience of the NCAA Tournament. Lillis said she wouldn't be satisfied without it.

And we all know this team is capable of when it is playing its best basketball. Last season, the Hawkeyes went 11-2 in the Big Ten and 18-16 overall.

---

Knee-jerk reactions in first two months

BY DOUG FERGUSON

"Michael'm-angularly winning the drill is something I've noticed in him, and he's been in a lot of different situations over the years," Lillis said. "He has a lot of experience in winning a game, and he understands when it is needed."

"I think he's learning how to prepare himself and when to step up to the plate and take control of the game."
Colorado manager Clint Hurdle talks to umpires Larry Ponice, Ben Kea, Dan Gasavage, as Texas Rangers manager Buck Showalter looks on before the start of a Cactus League game March 1.

Showalter comes back to Texas as a proven winner

BY ROSS NEWHAN

SURPRISE, Ariz. — Buck Showalter is returning from two years in the Elba of the ESPN analysts booth to manage the Rangers, talent scout to being exiled in the American League West, baseball's toughest division.

He is returning as a proven winner, helping restore the '91 AL champs to the club's peak during Showalter's term, 1993-94, when the Rangers advanced to the playoffs as a Wild Card.

In his return, "he is the best thing that could have happened to us," as Texas shortstop Alex Rodriguez put it, it also in return with the alluring of a reputation. He is accused of smuggling the life out of the clubhouse and organization with a something obsessive to control everything from the color of the chairs in the dugout to the clubhouse ketchup bottles, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation.

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation."

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation."

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation."

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation."

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation."

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation."

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.

In the camp of the Rangers, it is a reputation thrown at him almost daily by visitors with Showalter's name on them.

The intense Showalter says, "I have no means to apologize. For very comfortable in my own skin. I think I have a good p oint of what it takes to win, I think my success with New York and Arizona verifies my gut feelings and input into the preparation."

But he is the first week of March, the first season of the Showalter contract with a team that was division titles in 1997 and 98 but has averaged 90 losses the last three seasons.

The Rangers are as hungry for proven and passionate leadership. And they are of course of the new owner, Tom Hicks, to the clubhouse, the kitchenette, plus preferred every plastic.

Showalter was given a seven-year contract, lasted two years before the first year, and ridden down a runner that time and input into the preparation.

"Bush was involved in every aspect of the infrastructure — from the design of the uniforms, to the lighting, to the sitting and selection of the players," Jerry Colangelo, managing general partner, said.
This weekend in Indianapolis, the quest for conference bragging rights begins. For others, the tournament is one last chance for an invite to the Big Dance. The Daily Iowa's Michelle Yang and Roseanna Smith break down each team by its most potent contributor.

OHIO STATE BUCKEYES

Courtney Coleman
- Height: 6-2
- Hometown: Richmond, Va.

Named to the second team in the Big Ten for her Inside scoring and rebounding.
- The forward leads the conference in average, scoring 19.7 points per game.
- The forward leads the conference in rebounding, averaging 9.0 rebounds per game.
- In 2002, Coleman went 3-for-3 in scoring, posting 22 points and 17 rebounds on Jan. 12.

MICHIGAN STATE SPARTANS

Syreeta Brown
- Height: 5-10

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 11.3 points per game.
- The forward leads the conference in rebounding, averaging 10.3 rebounds per game.
- In 2002, Brown scored 33 points and 31 rebounds on Feb. 16.
- The forward leads the conference in steals, averaging 3.1 steals per game.

ILLINOIS FIGHTING ILLINI

Cindy Dallas
- Height: 6-2
- Hometown: Columbia, Mo.

The forward led the conference in scoring, averaging 21.8 points per game.
- The forward leads the conference in steals, averaging 2.9 steals per game.

INDIANA HOOSIERS

Lisa Eckart
- Height: 5-10
- Hometown: Indianapolis, Ind.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 8.0 points per game.

WISCONSIN BADGERS

Stephanie Rich
- Height: 6-1
- Hometown: Chippewa Falls, Wis.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 15.3 points per game.
- The forward leads the conference in rebounding, averaging 9.3 rebounds per game.
- Rich scored 24 points and 17 rebounds on Jan. 12.

NORTHWESTERN WILDCATS

Sarah Kwasinski
- Height: 6-4
- Hometown: Chicago, Ill.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 17.2 points per game.
- The forward leads the conference in rebounding, averaging 6.7 rebounds per game.
- Kwasinski scored 19 points and 11 rebounds on Jan. 12.

MICHIGAN WOLVERINES

Jennifer Smith
- Height: 5-9
- Hometown: Murrieta, Calif.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 13.1 points per game.
- Smith scored 20 points and 16 rebounds on Jan. 12.
- Smith scored 14 points on Feb. 16.

PENN STATE NITTANY LIONS

Kelly Mazzante
- Height: 6-2

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 14.1 points per game.
- Mazzante scored 24 points and 11 rebounds on Feb. 16.

MINNESOTA GOLDEN GOPHERS

Lindsey Whalen
- Height: 5-10
- Hometown: Minneapolis, Minn.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 16.6 points per game.
- Whalen scored 24 points and 13 rebounds on Jan. 12.

PURDUE BOILERMAKERS

Shreka Wright
- Height: 5-10
- Hometown: Indianapolis, Ind.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 15.7 points per game.
- Wright scored 24 points and 10 rebounds on Jan. 12.

IOWA HAWKEYES

Jennie Lillis
- Height: 5-10
- Hometown: Des Moines, Iowa

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 14.2 points per game.
- Lillis scored 24 points and 10 rebounds on Jan. 12.
- Lillis scored 14 points on Feb. 16.

WASHINGTON STATE BEAVERS

Courtney Wills
- Height: 5-10
- Hometown: Portland, Ore.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 11.2 points per game.
- Wills scored 24 points and 10 rebounds on Jan. 12.
- Wills scored 14 points on Feb. 16.

OREGON DUCKS

Jennifer James
- Height: 5-10
- Hometown: Sacramento, Calif.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 10.0 points per game.
- James scored 24 points and 10 rebounds on Jan. 12.
- James scored 14 points on Feb. 16.

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY GRIZZLIES

Courtney Craig
- Height: 5-10
- Hometown: Oakland, Calif.

The forward leads the conference in scoring, averaging 9.0 points per game.
- Craig scored 24 points and 10 rebounds on Jan. 12.
- Craig scored 14 points on Feb. 16.
Oakland wide receivers Titus Brown and Jerry Rice signed contract extensions on Tuesday.

Rice, Brown stay NFL's oldest receiving tandem

Associated Press

ALAMEDA, Calif. — Jerry Rice has signed a 4-year, $40 million contract extension to remain with the Oakland Raiders, a salary-friendly deal that barely could keep the star receiver playing until he's 47.

Despite the length of the $10 million per year deal — the longest in NFL history — Rice says he will only play until he's 40.

"They're using with Jerry Parker were as blunted Rice was in recent years" Raiders senior assistant Bruce Allen said Tuesday. "He's happy to have his back, and I'm sure Rice Garvin is no exception."

The AFL pioneers went more than 30 years without Rice on the field, and the older Rice says he was disappointed in the sluggishness of the defenses, with some estimates as high as 300 miles.

Rice received a signing bonus, and the deal to "touch and funded" has options, plus Estates Fuller said, meaning much of his salary would go to his three-year-old son.

Rice says the team. They appreciate the support, know how fun. Looks good. Better now."

The 40-year-old Rice does in past season's playoffs that he might play until he's 47.

"He needs to have his back," Rice said. "He takes it year over year slow and how he's doing. It's been a long journey for him."

Rice has more than 2,000 catches for 2,133 yards and seven touchdowns in his career. He also had to testify to his disciplined preparation and conditioning regimes. He played the Raiders after the 2000 season.

In 2000, Rice became the first player in NFL history to score 200 touchdowns, he broke the record for most yards in a career, and he set a record for most career playoff game (26). He was selected for his 11th Pro Bowl.

But Rice, 36, signed a very similar deal in 2002, according to Simmons. Simmons speculated Marvin Davis did not immediately return calls for comment.

Brown named his first Super Bowl last season, after finishing with 81 catches for 642 yards and two touchdowns to help the Raiders win their third-straight AFC West crown.

"I'm happy for the deal," said Brown, who has scored 4,567 career points for 82.6%.

"I'm happy for the deal. They appreciate the support. They appreciate the career. They appreciate the team, and the team is happy for the deal."

Brown's extension was worth $203 million over six years.

"Jerry's happy with the deal. They're happy with the deal. They're happy with the deal."

City of Iowa City Applications can be obtained from the Personnel Office, 201 Main St. S.E., Iowa City, IA 52240. City is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Iowa City Community School District has immediate openings for:

Support Staff

1-888-TODAY, 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. or stop by the Personnel Office for application materials.

The school district is seeking a dynamic educational leader for the position of principal.

The successful candidate will be expected to accept this position immediately.

The Iowa City Community School District is an equal opportunity employer.

For more information, please visit the district's website at www.ickids.org.
1190 square feet. All $640, tites.

TWO bedrooms available

Call Hodge (319)338-3810.

Nice, clean, close to Perl<ing.

WE Buy Your room for cond~IOI1. (319)545-8269.

B$540, (319)248-0225.

One room.

M·F &.5 (319)351·2178.

differences. WID hook·up.

WID, CIA. Avail - FOR a apartment, 1 · 112 M ·F 9-5 (319)351 · 2 1 78.

WESTWOOD APARTMENTS

2 bedroom, 1 full bath, 1 washroom.

lb room, 1 full bath, 1 washroom.

338-7058

Call for information.

AMERICAN APARTMENTS

(319)621-6528.

PROPERTY

APARTMENT

1004 23rd Ave.

Call for information.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, March 1, 2018 - 19