Biological fathers out in cold; UI sued

BY INGA BEYER

DAILY IOWAN

AUI employee is suing the UI and the state Board of Regents on three counts, contending that he was unfairly treated as a biological father and that the university's parental-leave policy violated equal protection under the state Constitution.

Under the university's parental-leave policy, all female employees -- whether biological, adoptive, married, or single -- are allowed to apply and receive paid parental leave for a new child. According to the policy, however, biological fathers do not have this right. "Adoptive fathers get five-day paid days, and biological fathers get no paid days," Johnson said. That was not a pleasant thing to read about my employer," he said.

About 12:30 a.m., Brotherhood brings the deep blue car to a stop in front of the Sports Complex. 3:11 a.m. Superfeet, according to a witness, is struck in the head and later is reportedly in surgery. The body of the victim is found in the back seat. The driver is later arrested.

In the fall of 2002, Matthews-Paul Wagman, 33, and Keith David Koosmann, 20, both of West Branch, and Benno Jonathan Martin, 22, of Iowa City, were pronounced dead after multiple gunshots were fired at a 2002 Chevrolet pickup truck three miles west of Iowa City. The driver of the truck, Wagman, suffered minor injuries and was treated at the scene of the collision.

Police records show Wagman was driving a 1999 Chevrolet Carg vdor sedan, and a female was pulled into the path of a pickup truck traveling westbound on Iowa 133 near Lower West Branch road. The truck struck the car, and both drivers were killed.

The Iowa Department of Public Safety has confirmed that the deaths are being investigated as a murder-suicide.

On November 17, 2002, a 2002 silver Toyota, driven by Joseph Matt Johnson, 21, of Johnson County, was found abandoned in the area of the incident. The vehicle appeared to have been involved in a single-vehicle accident, and the driver was not found.

The investigation is ongoing, and the coroner's office is working to determine the cause and manner of death.

Parents sue in son's death in accident

BY INGA BEYER

The parents of one of three high school seniors killed in a tragic accident last fall are suing their sons' school district and a local law enforcement agency over the Handling of the incident.

The lawsuit, filed Monday in Johnson County District Court, alleges that the school district and the law enforcement agency failed to properly respond to the accident and that their negligence contributed to the deaths of their sons.

The parents, who claim they were not notified of the accident until after their sons died, are seeking unspecified damages.

Jerusalem bomb kills 16

COMBINED

Jerusalem: A bomb exploded in a crowded market in Jerusalem on Wednesday, killing at least 16 people and wounding more than 70, police said. The blast occurred at the market in the city's centre, near the site of previous attacks.

The market was packed with people shopping for goods, and many were injured in the explosion. The area was cordoned off by police, and emergency services rushed to the scene.

The cause of the explosion is not yet known, but it is believed to have been a suicide bomb attack. The Israeli government has warned of the threat of such attacks, and security forces have been on high alert.

The explosion came just days after a similar attack in Tel Aviv, which left 14 people dead and dozens injured.:

Ever since the tragedy of September 11, the Bush administration has used its selectivity and selective intelligence gathering to make a case for invading Iraq. But the truth will set you free, and the White House is now expected to lose the entire argument.

On Sunday, Conservative Nicaragua President Daniel Ortega rejected lying on the face of the evidence that the United States was ready to launch a war against Iraq. "We are not going to lose the war," he said. "The United States is going to lose it."

This is probably the first time that any Latin American president has ever said anything remotely similar.

If the administration doesn't start telling the truth soon, it's going to lose the entire argument.

President Bush told the American people, "We must learn the truth about Iraq's weapons of mass destruction." But the American people are also learning the truth about the Bush administration's lies.

There is so much lying and deception that it's hard to know where to start. But let's start with the most obvious: the Bush administration has lies that are different from the lies that it has been telling.

For example, the Bush administration has been telling the American people that Iraq was responsible for the September 11 attacks.

But the American people have also been told that Iraq was responsible for the September 11 attacks.

This is a clear case of lying and deception.

BAGHDAD — Using jet fighters, tank-hauling aircraft, and some boats, the U.S. military began on Wednesday an intensive search for insurgent fighting positions in the deeply divided city, one of the country's last strongholds for Saddam Hussein's regime.

The U.S. military said in a news release that Wednesday's operation, codenamed "Iraqi Freedom," was the culmination of weeks of probing advances by the American military in both Iraq and Afghanistan.

A senior military official said the operation, which was expected to last for days, would be a continuation of the U.S. military's efforts to root out long-range fighters in the region.

Scientists working in northeastern South Africa have uncovered the earliest human skull discovered anywhere in the world, and a reaction that shed new light on the evolutionary history of modern humans.

The finding, announced Wednesday, is the result of a joint study of ancient human remains that have been found in several locations in the region.

The scientists said the discovery of the earliest known human skull, which they dubbed "Orrorin," is a major breakthrough in understanding the evolution of modern humans.

"This is a big, new individual," said University of California paleoanthropologist Tim White, one of the study's authors. "It's a significant find."

George to leave Hawkeyes for greener pastures

BY JASON BRUMMOND

The Daily Iowan

SPORTS

Thursday, June 12, 2003

George, originally from Plymouth, Mass., has been one of the team's strongest players. At the Big Ten championships, she played fifth at a freshman and senior. In a sophomore. During the first month of the season, George was the only one in the nation to finish in the top 10 in both 10 and 11 rounds. Her throw was 26 yards better than the next.

"I enjoyed working with her (George), she's always one of our stronger players," head coach Bobbie Curtsey said. "Hawkeye star, Dean House and went on to earn a scholarship and a starting spot."

"I'm surprised he's leaving," head coach Bobbie Curtsey said. "He was always one of our stronger players."

"I can't imagine what it means to walk away from us," Curtsey said. "He was a great player."

As the Red Sox built their lead, Pedro Martinez showed he was the man for the job. After breaking a 10-game hitless streak against Brett Tomko (2-5), who had given up 12 runs in his previous start. Martinez went the distance, allowing just two hits and striking out eight to earn his 15th win to tie the AL record for wins by a reliever. He lowered his ERA to 3.69, the lowest in the AL. As the game began, the Red Sox were down 9-0 to the St. Louis Cardinals. By the time the game was over, the Red Sox had scored five runs, and Martinez had pitched three straight scoreless innings to secure the victory.

With the win, the Red Sox improved to 84-66 and moved within eight games of the AL East title. They also moved to within six games of the AL wild-card spot.

Overall, it was a remarkable day for the Red Sox, who scored 13 runs against the Cardinals. It was the most runs scored by the Red Sox in a game since 1990.

In other news, the New York Yankees lost to the Boston Red Sox, 13-1, on Wednesday. The Red Sox scored 13 runs, the most runs scored by the Red Sox in a game since 1990.

The Red Sox built their lead on a hitless ninth. He then got Hideki Matsui to fly out. The Cards then went 1-2-3 in the ninth to end the game.

With the win, the Red Sox improved to 84-66 and moved within eight games of the AL East title. They also moved to within six games of the AL wild-card spot.

NEW YORK — It took the Yankees just eight days to sign their top pick in the 30th round draft, with New York agreeing Wednesday to a $1.0 million contract with Eric Duncan that gives the high school third baseman a $1.05 million signing bonus.

The deal was announced by the Yankees as they announced the signing of their first-round pick in the draft, a pitcher from Notre Dame.

Duncan signed the deal in agreement with Pete O’Brien, the Yankees’ director of player development, and was selected by the Yankees as the fifth pick in the first round of the draft.

He will be a member of the Yankees’ system, which is expected to begin in June, and will be a part of the team’s opening day roster.
