Englert reaches goal, wins Vision Iowa grant

The successful campaign surpasses the grant requirement by several thousand dollars.

THE DAILY IOWAN

The Englert Civic Theatre Inc., on Tuesday announced a number-crunching win in its $4 million fund-raising campaign.

Eighty projections, all of which Sheehan was aware of, will now go to the prize about the company's success. After a two days of number-crunching on the part of Judy Houghton, the Englert's office manager, the theater's fund raising totals $1,009,880. In order for the Englert to $1.49 million, the number-crunching must be able to cover the losses of vision Iowa grant.

"In my years, I don't recall a project that has had the group's support," said Mayor Ernie Lehman. "The goal was to keep Iowa City's crown."

Pesticide/sperm study looks for funds

By STACEY ROSSMAN
THE DAILY IOWAN

A fund-raising and money management meeting for the Iowa County Cervical Dysplasia Study has been set for 6 to 10 p.m. on July 11 at the Iowa County Courthouse.

"We will use the meeting time to address the financial issues that the study has been facing," said Dr. Mary Jo Koosmann, director of the Iowa County Cervical Dysplasia Study.

The study is seeking money to cover costs associated with the study, such as travel expenses, equipment, and personnel costs.

The meeting will be held in the courthouse's large meeting room, and all interested parties are invited to attend.

Ames couch/porch ban has little effect on IC

By STACEY ROSSMAN
THE DAILY IOWAN

The Ames couch/porch ban has had little effect on Iowa City, according to a study conducted by the University of Iowa's College of Public Health.

The study found that the ban has not significantly reduced the number of couch/porch fires in the city.

The ban was implemented in 2002 to reduce the number of couch/porch fires and protect residents from the hazards of these fires.

Linn County cancels layoffs at juvenile center

By NATION

The Linn County Juvenile Center has canceled layoffs planned for the end of the month, according to a spokesperson for the county.

"We have been able to reduce the number of layoffs because of an increase in inmate population," said the spokesperson.

The center has experienced a significant increase in inmate population in recent weeks, leading to a need for additional staffing.

The center has cancelled layoffs that were planned for the end of the month and has reinstated some previously terminated positions.

BUSH ON ECONOMY

President Bush's recent tax cuts are a major reason for the current economic upturn, according to a new study by the Cato Institute.

The study found that tax cuts are the main driving force behind the current economic growth, with government spending and investments playing a smaller role.

The study also found that tax cuts are more effective than government spending or investments in stimulating economic growth.

The Linn County Juvenile Center is located in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and provides services to juvenile offenders.

44 accused of using fake IDs to work at Air Force Academy

Des Moines Register

The accused are among a group of 44 people that the Iowa National Guard did not bar from working at its Camp Dodge facility in West Des Moines. The group includes 10 convicted sex offenders and 10 individuals who were listed in the Sex Offender Registry, which was designed so that people could avoid living near them.

The 23 arrested had temporary passes that allowed them to enter the facility without having to go through a background check. The passes were issued by the guard, which is responsible for verifying the identity of those who enter the camp. The guards had no knowledge of the information on the list.

The accused were arrested on a charge of unbridled access to a federal facility. They face fines of up to $10,000 and up to a year in jail.

WASHINGTON - The government will pay a small portion of the legal fees incurred by a former Clinton aide in a lawsuit against the Department of Justice.

The government has agreed to pay $54,700 of the $275,358 in legal fees that the former aide, Josephine Sweeney, incurred in the lawsuit.

The lawsuit was filed against the Department of Justice in 1994, after Sweeney was ordered to register as a sex offender. She challenged the registration law, which the government had created in 1973.

The lawsuit was filed in federal court, and the government had argued that the registration law was constitutional. Sweeney argued that the law was unconstitutional.

The lawsuit was settled in 1995, and Sweeney was ordered to register as a sex offender.

Official: U.S. gone as soon as Iraqis can hold election

BY JOHN DANIESZEWSKI

BAGHDAD — The head of the U.S.-led occupation authority in Iraq said Tuesday that elections in the country could start as early as this fall and that the occupation forces would remain in Iraq for a year.

The comments seemed aimed at placating fears among Iraqis that the United States is planning a military withdrawal.

"We've been working hard for the third day together," the occupant told the media behind closed doors.

Details of the proposed council were few, but spurious and the announcement would be a pivotal event in the history of a people who are facing uncertainty about their future.

The occupant council is expected to name a national council by September, the occupant said, and experts have said it might take a year to write the constitution for the occupied region.

"Once approved, democratic elections for a new ruling council will be held in Iraq for a fully sovereign Iraq in the next six months," the occupant said.

Bremer praised the council, the occupant said, which he said had been formed to draft the laws for the occupation authority receding.

"This council will be a critical role in the occupied region's future," the occupant said.

He called the council "a tangible benefit of the liberation of this great country."

The occupant council decided to create a national council to put on the agenda for the third day.

"Our commitment to Iraq is to the Iraqi people, not to a foreign occupation," the occupant said.

James Paul Bremer III, the occupant of Iraq, said he was officially forming an 85-member governing council.

The council will be the first in Iraq to be elected by the Iraqi people. It will be in charge of preparing the laws needed to govern Iraq and will be used to draft a new constitution for the country.

Iraqis can hold election

President Saddam Hussein and his senior associates will face charges of war crimes and other crimes against humanity.

A judicial commission was being formed to draft the laws to prosecute former leaders of the country. The commission will be based in the newly created central government building in the city of Baghdad.

The occupant council was also revealed to be the third day.

"We're not going to allow any occupation," the occupant said.

Among the multitude of techniques and claims about removing unwanted hair, there is one approach that stands out from the rest: Laser hair removal.

Laser hair removal uses a specific wavelength of light to target the hair follicle, eliminating hair growth in a matter of minutes. Unlike other methods, it is an effective method for eliminating or reducing unwanted hair growth. For more information, please visit 1-819-393-2072.

Political ignorance is a vote for the status quo

A CBS News poll conducted last week revealed that only around one-third of American adults could outline what at least one of the nine Democratic presidential hopefuls stands for. An informal poll conducted by The Daily Iowan during the first days of the Iowa caucuses indicated that many voters were unable to name even the names of the candidates. A supposed majority of these respondents could not even pronounce the name of one leading candidate. This ignorance is not due to lack of interest in the political process. The answer lies mostly points to Americans' shameful overall lack of involvement in the political process.

This ignorance is worse when coupled with a sense of resignation. It is that they are the way things are, and they have been since the Pilgrims came out, the townspeople assailed them with ten tomatoes and garbage and live, and they gathered outside the church, and when the Pilgrims came up to me and tried to take my bottle of beer out of my hand, I would be justified in personing the side of my head with the aforementioned bottle. This is how I protect my personal freedom.

Don't get me wrong; I'm not saying that we should persecute just anyone. Use the word 'person' in this context. The American System on Religion of my hand, I was compelled to write to the editor. The response was swift and immediate.

The thing that is driving me is the lack of involvement on the part of the two parties. I write a big check in the form of the sport's paper. A level of involvement that is more than a LLC. I hope the right revives the passion and the growing influx of young Americans will take over the job of the political process.

In defense of religious persecution

I read the recent Lawrence v. Texas ruling and the resulting smoke and mirrors of the Supreme Court. It seems that the Court has come to the conclusion that the Constitution does not provide a right to privacy for same-sex couples, but rather that it is a right that is enjoyed by all citizens, regardless of their sexual orientation. This is a significant victory for the LGBTQ+ community, and it is a testament to the power of democracy.

Seabiscuit items hit the auction block

The Midsummer Classic

AL makes it count

BY BETH HARRIS
Associated Press

Beverly Hills, Calif. — The show was worth Beverly Hills, the home of the Seabiscuit Memorial Stakes here.

But the day belonged to a horse.

Seabiscuit, the dark brown filly who galloped into the history books with her 1930 win over Triple Crown winner War Admiral, was in the spotlight Saturday as the track honored her memory.

Sixty-one years after she won her last race, Seabiscuit took center stage with a virile performance in the $1 million Seabiscuit Mile. She won the race by a head.

In the final lap, Seabiscuit took the lead from her stablemate, the 8-year-old filly, and pressed home the victory.

Seabiscuit's trainer, Bob Baffert, said the filly had never run better.

"She's the best," Baffert said. "She's the best filly in the world."

Seabiscuit's victory was her first since she won the Breeders' Cup Mile in 1996. She had been plagued by injuries and had not raced since last year's Breeders' Cup Distaff.

"She's the best filly in the world, and the best filly I've ever trained," Baffert said.

Seabiscuit's victory was the third for Baffert in the Seabiscuit Mile. His other winners were Desert High in 2002 and Desert Party in 2003.

Seabiscuit's victory was a fitting tribute to the horse who won the 1930 Kentucky Derby and the Eclipse Award for American Champion Horse of the Year.

"Seabiscuit was the best," said Baffert, who trained Seabiscuit from 2000 to 2004. "She was the best filly I've ever trained."

Seabiscuit's victory was also a triumph for her owner, Stan Skenes, who bought the filly for $250,000 as a 2-year-old in 1999.

"She's been a star," Skenes said. "We've had a lot of fun with her."

Seabiscuit's victory was a vindication for Baffert, who had been criticized for his handling of the filly.

"I've been criticized for not running her," Baffert said. "But I've always believed in her.

Seabiscuit's victory was also a victory for the Breeders' Cup, which hosted the Seabiscuit Mile as part of its 2004 championships.

"We're happy for the fans," said Breeders' Cup president and CEO Tim Cianciolo. "We're happy for Seabiscuit.

Seabiscuit's victory was also a victory for the Seabiscuit Memorial Foundation, which was formed in 2000 to honor Seabiscuit's memory.

"We're happy for the foundation," said the foundation's executive director, David L. Stinson. "We're happy for Seabiscuit.

Seabiscuit's victory was also a victory for the fans, who packed the track to watch the filly.

"It was a great day," said fan John Peterson. "I'm glad I came.

Pervious paid off for Westport Troublesome Anteveden in a hard-fought first-round Greater Time League playoff victory over Bob's teammate Plains Call team missing two of its stars. Westport took the lead with a minute and a half to play and held it on in the overtime. Westport led all scorers with 34 points in 22 of 30 shooting. The Iowa and Westport teammates Tiffany Bailey added 20.

Hawkeye guard coach Kristi Faukner and Crystal Smith were not in the Sleep for Bob's. Faukner was resting a new bulk, and Smith was 60 miles out at a Maccas concert.

"Without Crystal and Kristi in the Sleep, it was a big different," said Solverson, wearing a characteristic dark-yellow white bandage. "They weren't able to get the look at us on court." Iowa State sharpshooter Mary Fox is respected well in the absence of both Bob's teammates. The crowd centered on five of nine attempts from the 3-point line, most of which were high-arching shots from the right wing.

Fox finished with a tenacious 25. Fax's Cyclone teammates Lass Kenner hit the fourth hard for Bob's, pulling down 12 rebounds to get 30 points. Westport stayed in the game in the first half by attacking and forcing Bob's into the box. "I backed with the 10 minutes to go in the first half and hit the box on only two of three," said Rick Kroeze, who looked like a rookie's inexperienced boys due in the regular season. "I know we had to just force it inside; our two guards made a big difference." The Westport guards Kraun Kroeze and Kristi Fox hit their first Jeannine and Braundy's Kayla Hamilton. The two controlled tempos, and Westport dominated from the low-three lane, scoring 30 points from the charity stripe to Bob's fate.

The game swung into Westport's favor with three and a half minutes to play. Ready made a nice feed onto and fed Solverson on the other end to put the score at 70-75, Bob's. Following a nine, Solverson grabbed a board and took it to mid-court. While lacking in the left, she had a long pass over a Bob's defender to Mr. Pujols.

Solverson led the break the next time around, as well, beating Jennings on an out, then passed it back to Solverson for two, tying the game at 75.

Westport guards agreed the momentum of the tight game and hit Lady Troublesome (20 points; 11 rebounds; 9 assists) and doubled down. Solverson and Jennings connected on nine-straight free throws to seal the game.

Westport will face the Hawkeye Army of Anne Coffey, Bob Kommero, and Morgan Jenkins, 9-6, at 7 p.m. on July 20. The winner of Lindsey Jenkins' 12:00, pairing Pointing Peterron, Chicago, 110., to the Flu Game by a 7-7, 9-5. The Underclass continued its winning streak, 321.

ILLINOIS STATE

BY JUAN BRENNMANN

It's not the Hawkeyes who have played Illinois in three years — big deal. The only reason I'm looking forward to this game is to see Sean Andrews is packing a pod meal and an attempt to get his $25 back from Bob's Beater. I wasn't sure why they're seeing each other. I bet Solverson will see no injury time-out to head to the locker room and change his shorts.

Indeed, the best game of the year is against Ohio. Because of an unforeseen rivalry with Ohio, Hawkeye fans have been deprived of watching their team play. But the Hawkeyes are the best team in the country, traveling it. They have at least 120 wins in their favor. In the past, they've faced some of the best teams in the nation. They opened — unlike this Hawks, who are up against a couple of teams that underperform at most season long.

Personally, I don't want to look back on this, but I'm going to. It was a great game to watch. I feel like a veteran of the Iowa Hawkeyes. God, I love cheap shots.
