Philosophy Associate Professor Ernie Foles works on his computer in his office on Thursday morning. Foles, like many other professors, possesses his own office door with an array of ads and pictures. His door features quotes, comics, and anti-President Bush political satire.

Proffering the doorway to laughter

BY PO LULL

Professors’ office doors seem to have caught an overload of silliness, a transmigrating spirit of irony, and the laughter of colleagues. It happened overnight.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.

A Bush spoof of the benign president included a picture of a patient in a hospital bed. A small, simple caption reads, "Let’s hope these patients have insurance!" Competing with "Dollar" is a piece of artwork from the "United States' Forgotten Society." "D动物园ary," and national ads featuring foreign, and current U.S. president," said Bruce Jackman, an associate professor of philosophy responsible for the prank.

Bush spoof range from the equivocal to the even more laughable.
Rep returns with funny ‘meat’

BY AUDRA BEALS
The Daily Iowan

Iowa Summer Rep returned to the UI campus Thursday evening with the opening of ‘The Dining Room’ by Arthur Miller, who also directed the play. The Dinner Rep continues to attract professional actors and directors from across the country, allowing them to work with professionals who have established a national career post, Forney said.

“We consider actors from the University of Iowa and elsewhere in the area to be professionals in every sense of the word,” Forney said.

“The Dining Room” has a large cast of five actors, all of whom are experienced and successful in their field. The play opens Thursday, June 29, at 8 p.m. and runs through July 16. For more information, please visit www.iowassummerrep.com.

“I'm really excited to see the audience's reaction to the play,” Forney said.

The play is about a family that is facing financial difficulties and struggles to make ends meet. The family is portrayed realistically and the audience is able to connect with the characters. The play is directed by the accomplished Arthur Miller, who has received numerous awards and accolades for his work.

Forney said, “We are committed to providing high-quality entertainment to our community. ‘The Dining Room’ is a wonderful play that will delight our audience.”

Iowa Summer Rep performance schedule:

The Dining Room
- Dates: June 29, July 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10, 11, 14, 15, 16, 17, 23, and 24
- Time: 8 p.m.
- Location: NORTH LIBRARY ROOM 007
- Tickets: $20-

For more information, please visit www.iowassummerrep.com.
Special prosecutor questions三位律师对瓦莱丽·布什的质问

瓦莱丽·布什的律师说布什是在非法泄露的信息中提到的那位总统助手。一个白宫官员在星期三的新闻发布会中表示，布什的助手非法泄露了的信息是关于一个秘密军事行动的。这些行动是在多个中东国家策划的，包括伊朗和伊拉克。这些信息包括布什和高级官员之间的重要通信。

“布什的办公室表示，他们正在调查这些指控，并且将会公布调查结果。我们需要更多的时间来了解事实的真相。”白宫发言人说。

High court hands Cheney a win

The Supreme Court’s 7-2 decision keeps secret documents that would show whether industry lobbyists and Cheney’s energy-policy task force had worked together.

Vice President Dick Cheney read over his notes between live TV interviews at the Bush/Cheney campaign headquarters in Arlington, Va., on Tuesday. The Bush administration won’t have to reveal secret details of energy policy communications to the Senate when a federal court said it should spend more time sorting through the White House’s privacy claim.

The Constitution allows

The decision leaves the office with over a year’s worth of data, and fellow former prosecutor who specializes in presidential confidentiality law said the decision was “an extraordinary win” for Cheney.

“The Constitution affords the greatest protection consistent with the fair administration of justice,” Justice Anthony Kennedy said in his majority opinion.

DO YOU HAVE ASTHMA???

Patients 12 years and older are invited to participate in an asthma research study.

All study related procedures and investigational medications will be provided, and participants will be reimbursed $400 for their time and travel. For more information please call 353-3825 ext. 16 or 336-3552 long.

IOWA SUMMER REP.

Unleashed

A Festival of Comedians by A. R. Gurney

The Dining Room

Saturday, June 24, 25, 26, 27, 29, 4-11 p.m.

For tickets call 335-1161 or 1-800-HANCHER

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Friday, June 26, 2009 - 8

NEWS
Patriotic duty: reforming Patriot Act

Civil Liberties Restoration Act seeks to limit power of the Patriot Act

The U.S. Patriot Act was a bad law from the start, a now-null, the Civil Liberties Restoration Act has been introduced precisely to undo the power it gave.

This bill, introduced June 20 in both the House (HR 610) and Senate, House Democratic, and Bill, introduced June 20 in the Senate (S. 300), sponsored by Senator Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., and Representative Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., Leach was hired by then-Illinois Committee on the Judiciary, and included in the Patriot Act.

"I'm not a lawyer, but I have a good friend who is," the congressman said. "And he says that the Patriot Act is unconstitutional, and illegal argument?"

So far as I know, the only serious argument against this bill is that it would undo the Patriot Act. That's a bald-faced lie.

There has been a determined effort on the part of certain politicians, both in Congress and outside it, to mislead the American people about the real purpose of the Patriot Act. Some of them have been doing this for years. And now they're starting to do it again. But this is not a new phenomenon. It's something that has been going on for a long time. And it's not just politicians who are doing it. It's also happening in the media. And it's also happening in the courts.

The underlying message behind this continued effort to mislead the American people is simply this: it doesn't work. It doesn't work. And it doesn't work. And it doesn't work. And it doesn't work. And it doesn't work.

The sanctity of marriage ... is a moral, religious, and cultural norm that is deeply held by a vast majority of Americans. It is a norm that is recognized and respected by the law in every state of the union.

The sanctity of marriage ... is a moral, religious, and cultural norm that is deeply held by a vast majority of Americans. It is a norm that is recognized and respected by the law in every state of the union.

Please think about this carefully. And then please act accordingly. Thank you.
Dyersville, Iowa

Field theory comes to life

BY LINDSEY IGNACE

The City Press

A lack of showers and an early cold front have certainly contributed to the lack of growth in the Dyersville Field of Dreams. However, the baseball field is currently being used for the annual "Field of Dreams" movie site on the lot. The movie was filmed in 1989, and since then the site has become a popular tourist attraction. This year, the field saw an unusually large number of visitors, with over 80,000 people in attendance. The field is now open from April to November, and admission is $10 per person. Visitors can take family photos on the actual fields used in the movie, which was based on the book by W.P. Kinsella. The book tells the story of a former baseball player who returns to his childhood town in Iowa to build a baseball field. The movie, starring Kevin Costner, was released in 1999 and has become a classic. Every year, the town celebrates "Field of Dreams Day," which includes a parade, a baseball game, and a fireworks display. The field is located in the town of Dyersville, Iowa, near Mount Vernon. The site is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. For more information, visit the Dyersville Field of Dreams website.
IOWA CITY, 10_ -

Two bombs hit Turkey as NATO summit nears

BY JAMES C HELICKE

in operation

ISTANBUL, Turkey - A bomb exploded on an Istanbul bus Thursday, killing at least four people and wounding 16, and another bomb went off in front of the Ankara hotel where President Bush is to stay before the June 28 NATO summit wounding the police.

Police said they suspected far-left Marazzine in both attacks, the latest in a series of plots aimed at the NATO gathering. Bush will arrive in Ankara on Saturday night to meet with Turkish leaders before heading to the summit in Istanbul.

White House spokesman Ari Fleischer said, "These terrorist attacks are intended to disrupt preparations for the upcoming NATO summit." He added that Bush's schedule would not be changed.

Istanbul has been the scene of Qaeda attacks in the past, but severe "Taliban-like" isn't upset, over Bush's visit because of high opposition to U.S. policies in neighboring Iraq.

"It was apparently a bomb that was being carried," Golc said. "It is understood that the target was neither the bus nor the passengers aboard."

Oman armed forces said in a statement released Friday that the explosion caused the bus to veer off the road, but no casualties were reported. - it was a water Iran, the fear of bombs is a gripping characteristic.

Few could apply for a permit. Saudi's latest in a series of restrictions suggested foreigners would now be allowed to seek permission, they hope to be present when the list of permitted foreigners is released.

Arab news agencies have reported that American and European missions have asked Saudi Arabia's police and security guards from carrying military equipment within the next five days, said the Arab News. Security personnel are being deployed to help." It's a big military mission, a big security mission," said a police officer.

Weinstein added after their boats strayed into Iranian waters, killing 22 people, a series of notorious attacks, and the latest in a series of unprovoked attacks by Iran.

Arab news agencies have reported that American and European missions have asked Saudi Arabia's police and security guards from carrying military equipment within the next five days, said the Arab News. Security personnel are being deployed to help." It's a big military mission, a big security mission," said a police officer.

Two bombs hit Turkey as NATO summit nears

By an AP writer

ISTANBUL, Turkey - A bomb exploded on an Istanbul bus Thursday, killing at least four people and wounding 16, and another bomb went off in front of the Ankara hotel where President Bush is to stay before the June 28 NATO summit wounding the police.

Police said they suspected far-left Marazzine in both attacks, the latest in a series of plots aimed at the NATO gathering. Bush will arrive in Ankara on Saturday night to meet with Turkish leaders before heading to the summit in Istanbul.

White House spokesman Ari Fleischer said, "These terrorist attacks are intended to disrupt preparations for the upcoming NATO summit." He added that Bush's schedule would not be changed.

Istanbul has been the scene of Qaeda attacks in the past, but severe "Taliban-like" isn't upset, over Bush's visit because of high opposition to U.S. policies in neighboring Iraq.

"It was apparently a bomb that was being carried," Golc said. "It is understood that the target was neither the bus nor the passengers aboard."

Oman armed forces said in a statement released Friday that the explosion caused the bus to veer off the road, but no casualties were reported. - it was a water Iran, the fear of bombs is a gripping characteristic.

Few could apply for a permit. Saudi's latest in a series of restrictions suggested foreigners would now be allowed to seek permission, they hope to be present when the list of permitted foreigners is released.

Arab news agencies have reported that American and European missions have asked Saudi Arabia's police and security guards from carrying military equipment within the next five days, said the Arab News. Security personnel are being deployed to help." It's a big military mission, a big security mission," said a police officer.

Weinstein added after their boats strayed into Iranian waters, killing 22 people, a series of notorious attacks, and the latest in a series of unprovoked attacks by Iran.

Arab news agencies have reported that American and European missions have asked Saudi Arabia's police and security guards from carrying military equipment within the next five days, said the Arab News. Security personnel are being deployed to help." It's a big military mission, a big security mission," said a police officer.

Now you've got the phone, now make your move.
Professorial doors: riders in the satire

Weather closes Sugar Bottom bike trail

Last day for police recruiting

The University of Iowa Hawkeye Marching Band
Drumline Clinic

FRIDAY & SATURDAY:
KITCHEN OPEN UNTIL 1:00 A.M.

$200 BIG BEERS WILL DRINKS

The University of Iowa Hawkeye Marching Band
Drumline Clinic

For anyone interested in becoming a member of the Hawkeye Marching Band, please visit the clinic Saturday, July 3 1:00-4:00 p.m.

All Clinics will begin in 1061 Voxman Music Building. Opening kits and equipment will be provided. Questions? kevin-katz@uiowa.edu

Be part of a great tradition!
The Daily Break
Morgan Tice/Associated Press

Former San Francisco Giants pitcher Tim Lincecum, one of four men accused by the Anti-Doping Agency of supplying Enhancin to athletes, leaves the Federal Courthouse in San Francisco on Thursday after his arraignment. Lincecum is being charged with conspiracy to distribute Enhancin, a drug that is prohibited in Major League Baseball. (Marcio Jose Sanchez

Morgan names bonds

Steroids

Contenders Page 12

client slugger who has hit the 500th home run in his career.

"The lead was cut to a point a couple of times, but we were able to hold on," said Andrew Reed, head coach of the Hawkeyes.

"It was kind of hard out there tonight when a couple of those balls got away from you," said Reed, who added that his team will have to adjust to the new rules.

But the early indications provide evidence that many other similar substances are being used in sports.

"They are determined to try to keep the mix up against other programs," Reed said. "We're one of the few programs that have the elements of a witch's brew."

The agency does not have any evidence of the use of other drugs, but Reed said the report indicates that there is a "refreshing glimpse of theuentes."

"It's a huge majority of us," Reed said. "I can't believe that there is a witch's brew out there."
SPORTS

Venus Williams upset in Wimbledon's round 2

BY STEPHEN WILSON

WIMBLEDON, England - The headline for the night was Venus Williams lost the match. It was a complete turnaround from a huge upset, the chair umpire called a wrong score in the second set. Williams fell in straight sets to the unheralded Ruan Snyman in the second round at Wimbledon.

The Williams match over-shadowed another by Andy Roddick, Roger Federer, Lleyton Hewitt, and Goran Ivanisevic, both former six-time champions.

The 19-year-old Snyman, ranked No. 26, outplayed the second-seeded Williams on Centre Court 7-6(5), 7-6(3). Ominously, Snyman outplayed the 13-time Grand Slam champion in the 1st and 5th sets.

It was the earliest defeat for Williams at a Grand Slam tournament since she lost in the first round of the French Open in 2001. It's the early exit for Williams since going out in the opening round in 1997.

The Williams upset in 2000, in which Serena upset her sister, followed the chair umpire's call of a 2-1 score in the second set when instead she should have called a 1-2 score. Both players appeared confused, but neither disputed the call. Tournament referee Alan Mills confirmed the umpire's call of 2-1.

The umpire's call delayed Williams for going on to the second round in 1997. Williams, who won Wimbledon in 2000 and 2001, lost to the last two finalists to her sister, Serena.

Venus Williams serves in Karolína Snyman during a second round match at Wimbledon on Tuesday.

It's the earliest defeat for Williams at a Grand Slam tournament since she lost in the first round of the French Open in 2001. It's the early exit for Williams since going out in the opening round in 1997.

The Williams upset in 2000, in which Serena upset her sister, followed the chair umpire's call of a 2-1 score in the second set when instead she should have called a 1-2 score. Both players appeared confused, but neither disputed the call. Tournament referee Alan Mills confirmed the umpire's call of 2-1.

The umpire's call delayed Williams for going on to the second round in 1997. Williams, who won Wimbledon in 2000 and 2001, lost to the last two finalists to her sister, Serena.

The Williams upset in 2000, in which Serena upset her sister, followed the chair umpire's call of a 2-1 score in the second set when instead she should have called a 1-2 score. Both players appeared confused, but neither disputed the call. Tournament referee Alan Mills confirmed the umpire's call of 2-1.

The umpire's call delayed Williams for going on to the second round in 1997. Williams, who won Wimbledon in 2000 and 2001, lost to the last two finalists to her sister, Serena.

The Williams upset in 2000, in which Serena upset her sister, followed the chair umpire's call of a 2-1 score in the second set when instead she should have called a 1-2 score. Both players appeared confused, but neither disputed the call. Tournament referee Alan Mills confirmed the umpire's call of 2-1.

The umpire's call delayed Williams for going on to the second round in 1997. Williams, who won Wimbledon in 2000 and 2001, lost to the last two finalists to her sister, Serena.

The Williams upset in 2000, in which Serena upset her sister, followed the chair umpire's call of a 2-1 score in the second set when instead she should have called a 1-2 score. Both players appeared confused, but neither disputed the call. Tournament referee Alan Mills confirmed the umpire's call of 2-1.

The umpire's call delayed Williams for going on to the second round in 1997. Williams, who won Wimbledon in 2000 and 2001, lost to the last two finalists to her sister, Serena.

The Williams upset in 2000, in which Serena upset her sister, followed the chair umpire's call of a 2-1 score in the second set when instead she should have called a 1-2 score. Both players appeared confused, but neither disputed the call. Tournament referee Alan Mills confirmed the umpire's call of 2-1.

The umpire's call delayed Williams for going on to the second round in 1997. Williams, who won Wimbledon in 2000 and 2001, lost to the last two finalists to her sister, Serena.
FRIDAY, JUNE 25

ONE bedroom

Call (319) 331-3528

Two bedrooms

CIA, W/O

Park Place

1 First MONTH FREE

1-12 bellevue

No pool, laundry

Two bedroom
duplex

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!

Two bedroom

One & two bedrooms

The Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa

Friday, June 25, 1994

www.barkerapartments.com

1-floII · ·

2 bedroom

Four square

1-12 bellevue

This is a great car!
Bertuzzi was charged with broke an opponent's neck and by the attorney general's office case is heard will from behind during a game March and punched him, driving Plinlella Bay manager Lou $23 million - the lowest in the streak:

said Thursday, see something to add players 1999, were taken from their locked linal championship trophies were coach Bobby Bowden's offices.

and school is offering a reward for stolen over the weekend, and the started He would not otherwise comment learned of the theft. SVMCOVVER. SUCKER PUNCH

We've got more than half our schedule is play to date. Now that season is here, it's time to get in shape for the Capital. Warm up your engines before we leave the parking lot. If you miss a workout, I'm not talking about a New England type workout.

FUMBLED

FSU championship trophies stolen

MIAMI — Florida State's two national championship trophies were stolen over the weekend, and the school is offering a reward for their return.

The $1.2 million football trophies were reported missing Wednesday by their保管人, the university's assistant athletic director. The trophies include the Orange Bowl and Cotton Bowl trophies.

The school is offering a $5,000 reward for information leading to the recovery of the trophies, said school police Chief Ed Graham. He would not otherwise comment on the university's investigation that ended Sunday, after authorities learned of the theft.

Howard selected No. 1

Dwight Howard is only the third high-school player to be selected in the first overall pick in the NBA Draft.

BY CHRIS SHERIDAN

NEW YORK — Is the capital of awesomeness, Emeka Okafor answered with a straight face when asked about being chosen second overall in the NBA draft.

"It's going to feel real special," he said. "I'm so thankful to have been drafted on a night when potential players have more experience than usual and high schoolers were a better opportunity to knock us out of the way."

High school junior Dwight Howard of Atlanta was chosen No. 1 by the Milwaukee Bucks. Magic coach Stan Van Gundy said at first overall. The expansion Charlotte Bobcats selected Okafor at No. 2, getting the player they preferred all along. "As far as them believing in me, it makes me feel good," he said.

Eight high-school players were selected, ahead of Daron Nelson, the other player of the year who decided to leave college. The Knicks selected J.R. Smith at No. 3 and was chosen by the Nuggets at No. 20 and was acquired by the Bobcats for a future No. 1 pick.

The great thing about my decision is that in my mind, there was no mystery that began with mystery, the identity of the best player of the group a pick to a almost certain that the 18-year-old Connecticut Comissioner David Stern and in the NBA draft. The Bucks get a pick that will be a potent one in the second round or a backup first-round pick.

FIRST FIVE DRAFT PICKS

1. Dwight Howard Forward, University of Connecticut
2. Emeka Okafor Center, Connecticut
3. Ben Gordon Guard, North Carolina
4. Shaun Livingston Guard, Duke
5. Devin Harris Guard, Wake Forest

Grand jury report on doping linked to press

Will doping changes lead to major changes in sports?

BY ROB GLOSTER

The world's fastest men would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.

The world's fastest man would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.

The world's fastest man would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.

The world's fastest man would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.

The world's fastest man would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.

The world's fastest man would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.

The world's fastest man would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.

The world's fastest man would have a better chance of being caught as a result of daily questions about whether they are using performance-enhancing drugs. The world's greatest sprinters would no longer be able to win titles while masking their use of drugs. And all of the controversy could lead to a more level playing field.