LOCAL VOTING

Iowa could see record turnout, experts say

Although both campaigns say their candidate will "take Iowa," "no one knows for sure," says Johnson County Auditor Tom Slockett.

BY NICK PETERSEN

As Iowa heads to the polls today, the Democratic and Republican candidates will struggle to hug Iowa's seven electoral votes into their camps with last-minute efforts.

In an election that drew President Bush and Sen. John Kerry to the state 13 times, and over 100 times collectively, both campaigns say they are confident they will take Iowa, and experts say either could win.

"There's an expectation that it's going to be a close election, but no one knows for sure," said Johnson County Auditor Tom Slockett.

The seven votes Iowa will contribute pale in comparison with Florida's 27 and Ohio's 20, but they could help revive a candidate from a loss in either of those two close states.

Both campaigns recognized Iowa as a possible win early. Gore won the state by less than 1 percent in the 2000 election, 1,144 votes.

Because of Gore's narrow victory and the candidates' scheming in Iowa, experts are expecting turnout to surpass the 1.32 million votes who went to the polls in 2000.

Experts have speculated that this election would also produce high turnout for 35- to 34-year-olds.

In Johnson County, approximately 50 percent of that demographic is registered, according to the county auditor's office. Both campaigns have worked to encourage turnout.

Last weekend, Johnson County Democrats knocked on roughly 10,000 doors, and Sarah Neuzil's campaign concentrate ears.

Slockett said, "We'll work for you for the next four years."

As the two battled through their final miles in Florida, Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin, and other states which settled into the night, a flurry of national polls completed over the weekend showed them in a statistical tie. Neither candidate has been able to establish clear momentum.

Several of the national polls were tied. In the other, the president led mere than an senator from Massachusetts but by margins so miniscule — a single point in some cases — as to be meaningless in attempting to predict the outcome.

But Bush generally received just below 50 percent nationally, a potentially risky place for him to abandon.

Even before the opening of polls across the country today, a record number of Americans had voted, either by absentee ballot or under state laws that allow early voting. In the battleground states, more than 11 million Americans have voted, according to a Democratic Party analysis. The long lines in Florida that have kept some voters waiting for two hours or more symbolize the engaged electorate.

LOCAL VOTING

Iowa could see record turnout, experts say

Although both campaigns say their candidate will "take Iowa," "no one knows for sure," says Johnson County Auditor Tom Slockett.

BY NICK PETERSEN

As Iowa heads to the polls today, the Democratic and Republican candidates will struggle to hug Iowa's seven electoral votes into their camps with last-minute efforts.

In an election that drew President Bush and Sen. John Kerry to the state 13 times, and over 100 times collectively, both campaigns say they are confident they will take Iowa, and experts say either could win.

"There's an expectation that it's going to be a close election, but no one knows for sure," said Johnson County Auditor Tom Slockett.

The seven votes Iowa will contribute pale in comparison with Florida's 27 and Ohio's 20, but they could help revive a candidate from a loss in either of those two close states.

Both campaigns recognized Iowa as a possible win early. Gore won the state by less than 1 percent in the 2000 election, 1,144 votes.

Because of Gore's narrow victory and the candidates' scheming in Iowa, experts are expecting turnout to surpass the 1.32 million votes who went to the polls in 2000.

Experts have speculated that this election would also produce high turnout for 35- to 34-year-olds.

In Johnson County, approximately 50 percent of that demographic is registered, according to the county auditor's office. Both campaigns have worked to encourage turnout.

Last weekend, Johnson County Democrats knocked on roughly 10,000 doors, and Sarah Neuzil's campaign concentrate ears.

Slockett said, "We'll work for you for the next four years."

As the two battled through their final miles in Florida, Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin, and other states which settled into the night, a flurry of national polls completed over the weekend showed them in a statistical tie. Neither candidate has been able to establish clear momentum.

Several of the national polls were tied. In the other, the president led mere than an senator from Massachusetts but by margins so miniscule — a single point in some cases — as to be meaningless in attempting to predict the outcome.

But Bush generally received just below 50 percent nationally, a potentially risky place for him to abandon.

Even before the opening of polls across the country today, a record number of Americans had voted, either by absentee ballot or under state laws that allow early voting. In the battleground states, more than 11 million Americans have voted, according to a Democratic Party analysis. The long lines in Florida that have kept some voters waiting for two hours or more symbolize the engaged electorate.
Local Muslims celebrate Ramadan

The 'month of blessing' is a time of fasting, prayer, and charity

BY KATE MCCARTER

The UM Student Associ­ation (SA) is trying to organize a fast in celebration of Ramadan. The SA’s main event will be the Fasting is one of the Five Pillars, or duties, of Islam.

Life fasts as a way to give thanks to God for what we have and to emphasize with the people that less have less.穆罕默德说，“它是使我们从负债的。”

The challenge is described as an opportunity to cleanse the body and mind and practice charity. “Fasting makes me much more compassionate,” said Anima Mahmod, a UI graduate student and hus­band for the Muslim Association. “Fast takes up much time, and when you know you can’t eat, you can get a lot more done.”

Ramadan is also a time for Muslims to avoid the sins and temptations of the material world such as eating, drinking, and sexual misconduct.

It is important time because it helps you realize what’s really important,” Mahmod said. “When we fast, we often get caught up in trying for the best job, making the best grades, but it’s more important to look at a day like getting closer to God. If you don’t do that, you may get close to God, but you may not achieve the goal.”

Although good deeds and charity are always important in Islam, there has been greater emphasis on fasting this year, said Fowzan Abdulmalek, a survivor of a recent plane crash that killed 31 people in a Muslim group. “People may fast for long periods of time to show their support and to make sure that they don’t eat or drink anything—which includes alcohol—during the month of fasting.”

Republicans cry foul on radio show

Supervisor Terrence Nuezi’s appearance on a show in which the GOP was told to vote Wednesday caused a complaint

BY NICK PETERSEN

The Johnson County Republican Party fired a complaint with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) against the host of an Iowa City radio show for comments he made about the county party during his broadcast.

“City”

City Council agrees to aid rail study

The Iowa City City Council agreed to help pay for an engineering study that would find the feasibility of a downtown Iowa City rail terminal.

The city of Cedar Rapids had been working on a similar rail study, and while many councilors were expressing concern about the city’s potential—the locations are not easily accessible and the majority felt a study should address their concerns.

“I have serious questions whether it will work; we can’t support a facility of this size without a study,” said Alderman Steve Kussmaul.

County Engineer Charlie Champion said for the study to be feasible, it needs to come up with a plan for the rail terminal.

“I think it’s a great project, but it needs to be done right,” said Alderman Steve Kussmaul.

The Alderman Committee of Councilors will discuss the study at a Nov. 10 meeting.

The study is expected to cost $74,000 of the $150,000 study, and city councilors will have their opportunity to review the report at a Nov. 14 meeting.

Not all credit is earned in class—

Brought to you by: Harley College of Credit and Citi Credit-ED

Strong

Being STRONG means not being pressured

Birth control + Annual Exams + Testing and treatment of STIs + ECPS

1-800-345-3450

2001 S. Riverside Dr. + 1400 First Ave. + 2804 Commerce St.

www.Students.UseCreditWisely.com

Shadows of the Reef

...with a travel experience that will take your breath away.
NEWS

STATE

Black athletes lag in graduation rates

DES MOINES (AP) — Black athletes at three of Iowa's largest colleges graduated at rates far below the national average for Division I schools, a new report showed.

The report showed that the overall graduation rate for all athletes, black and white, at the four schools ranged from a low of 20 percent at Iowa State to a high of 31 percent at the University of Northern Iowa.

The national average, according to the National College Athletics Association report, is 49 percent.

"There are a number of factors involved, but we definitely are working hard to improve our graduation rates," said Donald Ready, an assistant athletics director at Iowa State.

ACCIDENT

A woman lost control of her red 1990 Nissan Stanza as she was traveling southbound on Highway 218 near the intersection of Interstate 235 at 2:30 p.m. Monday, law enforcement authorities report.

The car slid into a ditch and flipped over on its roof.

The driver, whose name was not released, sustained head injuries and was taken to the University of Northern Iowa Hospital, Clinics and Outpatient Centers. Officer Jagat Sandhu said.

No passengers were in the vehicle.

The totaled car was pulled from the ditch by a tow truck. Three authorities arrived at the scene first, said by the State Patrol and Johnson County Sheriff's deputies.

Profs show club scene created new mash units

BY BRANN SPANAGEL

The last thing professors are saying from Northern Iowa's Steelhead Turner is that they're not as likely as the US Assistant Professor Rem­

The student was not a kickback to his favorite band's "tribution" to the instruments that carried the group to the mainstream.

Yes, you are, thanks to a new level of jam-sampling called "mash-up" or "bootstrapped pop," which blends the lyrics and instrumentation of hits from two different artists.

McLeod lectured on Monday at 2 p.m. at 40-20 of approximately 20 as an International Music Program-sponsored lecture.

"The mash-up is possibly the most interesting and important phenomenon going on in the music industry," McLeod said.

"It's a form of music that has rapidly expanded in popularity and gains from emerging from London's club scene in 2001. A mash-up song has yet to hit the Top 10 on the UK charts, but such songs are already being heard in the United Kingdom.

"The growing popularity of the United States will likely mean music-industry executives are regarding new possibilities, just as they did in the McLeod said.

"These cultural texts are overlapping with others," he said, adding that there are dis­

Mash-ups, a form of sampling, make new songs from the mixtures of other songs, something that was "P Diddy" or "Kid Rock" as they were never for their own ends and never intended for their own ends and never intended for the new music industry.

"There is a certain amount of skill involved with doing mash-ups," McLeod said. "Part of it is the idea to undermine the power and the commercial intention of the song."

After the lecture, Rem­

MAYO CLINIC

MAYO CLINIC

SUMMER III

SUMMER III FOR JUNIOR NURSING STUDENTS

We invite you to explore the Summer III Student Nursing Experience with Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. This program is designed to help students with a four-year undergraduate nursing program. The program begins in early June and lasts for eight weeks. Summer III is a small, supervised review program focused on selected and asthma patient care settings on inpatient and surgical units.

Mayer Nursing and awarded the Magnet Hospital Recognition in Nursing Service by the American Nurses Credentialing Center.

For more information about the Summer III program, please visit our website.

Mayer Clinic

Hospital Research, 11555

1501 10th Street SW, Rochester, MN 55905-4788

email: karen.mayer@mayo.edu

Application Deadline: January 15, 2005

www.mayoclinic.org/summer-3

ELECTION DAY CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

Both sides are braced for a burst of energy and enthusiasm as the parties' lawyers in many states poised for battle over voting procedures. Tuesday's voting promises to be the most heated since 1960, with both sides potentially in dispute in modern times over the rules of further legal warfare and a drawn-out process that could see the vote aggregate the raw feelings of passions in both camps.

The first presidential election since the terrorist attacks of 9/11 and subsequent wars in Iraq and Afghanistan that the country was deeply divided as it was in the aftermath of the disputed 2000 election that put Bush in the White House. Bush lost the popular vote but took the necessary electoral votes after the Supreme Court added him with it in a decision that roared to resonate in the nation's capital.

Kremer and kremerata baltica

...

one Ellly

The political campaign is a special challenge for the young candidates. They are trying to win the support of voters who are more concerned than they were in the past.

In Florida, each campaign said Tuesday that they are voting in every county. But the state's size and the diversity of its voters make the state a proving ground. It is perhaps the most difficult state to...
Teen bomber kills 3 in Israel

The mother of the 16-year-old condemnsthe militants who sent him as 'immoral'

BY GAVIN RABBINOWITZ

TEL AVIV, Israel — A 16-year-old Palestinian inmate with a history of violence was behind a bomb attack on a weekly market in Tel Aviv, killing three Israelis and wounding 19 more. Authorities said the bomber, who was seized after a June 14 shootout, had been involved in a drive-by shooting in Baghdad that left the father of his employer dead.

The attack marked the latest in a string of attacks by suspected insurgents who have been targeting civilians across the country. It follows a wave of shootings and bombings in recent weeks, including a deadly blast in the West Bank that killed eight people.

The bomber, identified as a member of the Islamic Jihad militant group, was arrested during a shootout with Israeli security forces on Monday night. He had been held in a prison in the West Bank and was transferred to a Israeli military prison before being released last month.

In a statement, the Israeli Defense Ministry said the bomber had been released from prison just days before the attack, raising concerns about the adequacy of Israel's rehabilitation programs for Palestinian prisoners.

The attack comes amid growing concerns about the security situation in Israel, with tensions running high between Israeli security forces and Palestinian activists. The Israeli military has been on high alert in recent weeks, with multiple attacks by suspected militants.

The bomber was arrested during a shootout with Israeli security forces on Monday night. He had been held in a prison in the West Bank and was transferred to an Israeli military prison before being released last month. The Israeli Defense Ministry said the bomber had been released just days before the attack, raising concerns about the adequacy of Israel's rehabilitation programs for Palestinian prisoners.
Trust the system on election

Problems may arise again, but mechanisms exist for dealing with them.

Today, millions of Americans across the country will go to the polls to cast their votes, joining millions of others who already have. This election can probably be considered a uniquely bitter and divisive election that will shape the future for years to come. Everything we’ve learned from the Boston Marathon bombing to the Boston police strike to the American government’s attempts to address the financial crisis to the American people’s attempts to elect a president, it’s that the context may not end with the election.

Oh, has already been labeled the “lowlive” because, according to news reports, thousands of Republicans plan to go to the polls and then go voting. Any voter who suspects the result of the election is far from the majority of us. All major parties have staffed the polls, trying to ensure that every vote cast is counted. The Democrats have been criticized for trying to suppress turnout of people who might vote for Sen. John Kerry and are sending out volunteers to challenge the voters. And it’s not just Ohio. There are accusations of Florida officials suppressing the black vote and of officials interfering with registering American Indian voters in New Mexico. Students at Iowa State University have said they were unfairly turned away from the polls. A nationwide hotline, 1-800-OUR-VOTE, has been provided for people to call if they feel they have been denied the right to vote. But something similar to what many other countries predict the result may not be legitimate (or, more likely, stolen) — though perhaps only if they lose.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Like all members of the Daily Iowa staff, I was immersed in election coverage and was excited by the enormous headlines regarding the US College Republicans that was published on the front page of our Oct. 28, 2004 edition. Very understandably, we received a number of responses to this article. As the community concerning this intimately matters, and we have taken these comments into consideration as we continue our efforts to be a fair and unbiased news source, we have included responses and viewpoints for this university and city.

Unfortunately, it was perhaps seriously misunderstood these efforts for everyone on staff at the Daily Iowa, because our confidence and our reputation have been called into question. In that end, I want to assure our readership that the Editorial Board played no part in the publication of the false headlines; board members, including myself, were completely unaware of the publication before it was already in print. We consider the error to be a failure in the integrity of our work, one that we must all work to avoid in the future, regardless of whose blame ultimately lies.

As Editor Tony Robinson publicly pointed out, there were concerns about the Daily Editorial Board’s partisan motives. However, in no way do we seek to dismiss these voices, a message that we have been have accepted to college, you are obviously bright, if you have spent any time in a lecture hall or a classroom, or if you are a parent, you know how to go on or after, you know how to go on

Grass-cutter favors the rich

Think back a couple of years. I was not able to keep my second chapter, I understand, however, that the government, largely because of the economy, people reading this book to share dots are a Unfortunately, Charles Graulich — the self proclaimed “grass-cutter” — wrote a piece in which he describes Bush as an incomplete human being, whom he attributes to a lack of compassion. I am often asked what it is now, and the answer is that during the past eight years, there have been 16,053 deaths of U.S. service members, most of which were women and other deaths are attributed to the destruct...

Opinions

Why vote Democratic

The Republican Party will use its perspective to try to convince you that if you don't vote for them, you won't be able to travel or have health care. Most of the Democratic leadership has served in the military, and most of their Republican counterparts have not. Democratic determinants and understanding of the needs of the nation is well evident. Historically, the Republicans have been better than Democrats. Bush flips-flops on homeland security and the war. He doesn't really understand where it is most needed. His previous actions have been unwise and irresponsible. All states in the nation serve in the United States National Guard; they don't serve in the National Guard.

Wrong to disagree with Bush

When the Bush administration decided that its perspective best serves the national security is odd. While most Republicans have taken a stand on matters of security, except for Ralph Nader, it's very hard to tell what their perspective is really. It's clear that the Bush administration made a mess of things, and it's obvious that he's taking the country in a wrong direction.

Liberals in no trouble if Bush re-elected

If President Bush is re-elected, I predict there will be a political backlash against liberals in this country. Consider all the things they have charged him with, and then figure out what people are going to do.

Kerry won't end Bushism

The Anthony Burd Bush is predicting disaster if George W. Bush wins another term. However, the disease lies in accepting the legitimacy of the two-party system. By supporting a corporate-backed president, they allow him to continue his reign. The topics that God{t} by far outnumber European politics, so they must continue to seek common ground in the spirit of the Democratic Party.

ELECTION COVERAGE TONIGHT 10 P.M.

A STORY SO IMPORTANT, WE'RE FOLDING OUR ARMS.

The Daily Show with Jon Stewart

Four Perpendicular Sides on a Geometrically Squared Base

THINK OUTSIDE THE BOX

It takes ingenuity, teamwork, and a great deal of effort to pull off some of the high-profile engineering projects being done in the United States Air Force. Engineers who come aboard are immediately put on the fast track and have advancement opportunities typically not found in the private sector. From weapons systems and space stations, work in the areas of next generation of European and American technology, to providing the world with the great sacrifices undertaken to preserve these freedoms. Before you go to bed, please review the day's events and ensure that you are informed.

Gary Smith

Iowa City, resident

Wrong to disagree with Bush

When the Bush administration decided that its perspective best serves the national security is odd. While most Republicans have taken a stand on matters of security, except for Ralph Nader, it's very hard to tell what their perspective is really. It's clear that the Bush administration made a mess of things, and it's obvious that he's taking the country in a wrong direction.

Liberals in no trouble if Bush re-elected

If President Bush is re-elected, I predict there will be a political backlash against liberals in this country. Consider all the things they have charged him with, and then figure out what people are going to do.

Kerry won't end Bushism

The Anthony Burd Bush is predicting disaster if George W. Bush wins another term. However, the disease lies in accepting the legitimacy of the two-party system. By supporting a corporate-backed president, they allow him to continue his reign. The topics that God{t} by far outnumber European politics, so they must continue to seek common ground in the spirit of the Democratic Party.

ELECTION COVERAGE TONIGHT 10 P.M.

A STORY SO IMPORTANT, WE'RE FOLDING OUR ARMS.

The Daily Show with Jon Stewart

Four Perpendicular Sides on a Geometrically Squared Base

THINK OUTSIDE THE BOX

It takes ingenuity, teamwork, and a great deal of effort to pull off some of the high-profile engineering projects being done in the United States Air Force. Engineers who come aboard are immediately put on the fast track and have advancement opportunities typically not found in the private sector. From weapons systems and space stations, work in the areas of next generation of European and American technology, to providing the world with the great sacrifices undertaken to preserve these freedoms. Before you go to bed, please review the day's events and ensure that you are informed.

Gary Smith

Iowa City, resident
Taking a long, soulful ride with Ray

Ray is a no-holds-barred look at the extraordinary life of a talented musician

FILM REVIEW

by Laura Jensen

Ray

1, 4.30, and 8 p.m.
Coral Ridge 10

Ray could have been a made-for-TV biopic that garnered some positive notices, but it was fortuitous to discover Taye Diggs in the role of Ray Charles. Diggs’s Julliard-trained, in-depth study of Ray’s musical journey is nothing short of inspirational. The actor and trained vocalist gives a performance as Ray’s dirt-poor, blind childhood that is as interesting as it is incredible. For example, Diggs’s combination of the star’s hick Southern accent and musical stylings is a fascinating ride.

The film picks up when Charles is a teenager struggling with his way onto a bus to Atlanta to jump-start his musical career. Then, he is seen by a club owner who becomes his mentor and begins to teach him about music and life. Charles is a natural talent and quickly becomes a sensation, but his career is cut short by a car accident that leaves him blind. Despite this setback, Charles perseveres and becomes one of the most successful musicians of all time.

Diggs’s performance as Ray is nothing short of electric. He captures the essence of Ray’s music and personality, and the film is a testament to the star’s powerful presence.

Overall, Ray is a fascinating look at an incredible life, with no holds barred. Charles is not defined, he is historicated, making the movie even more interesting. Even if you don’t think you’re a Ray Charles fan, you will find this film a riveting watch.
NFC
Jan. 31, 2014
MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL
NEW YORK 41, MIAMI 34
Fish flop — Jets run over hapless Miami

BY ANDREA ADELSON
ASSOCIATED PRESS

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — No one expected the Jets to be at this point in the season. But New York, with a 4-0 record, has moved into a tie for first place in the AFC East and is giving deep思考 in the standings.

The Jets entered the game with minimum expectations. They finished fourth in the AFC East last season and were considered to be in rebuilding mode. But a new coaching staff and some key additions have helped the Jets exceed expectations.

"We're just trying to build a successful team," said quarterback
Mark Sanchez.

The Jets improved to 8-3 overall and 6-1 in the AFC East with their second straight win over the Miami Dolphins. They have won 13 of 14 meetings in the series.

"We're just trying to build a successful team," Sanchez said.

The Jets have won four of their last five games and are coming off a 34-10 win over the New England Patriots.

Sanchez completed 26 of 42 passes for 336 yards and two

This content is from the website of the Daily Iowan. It contains articles and information related to the University of Iowa and the Iowa City area. The content is primarily in English and is suitable for reading on a mobile device. It is important to note that the content is not updated regularly, so the information may not be current. To access the full content, please visit the website.
Auburn moves into third place in BCS

BY RALPH D. RUSSO

Auburn needs three victories and a little help to play for a national title. The Tigers moved into third place in the Bowl Championship Series standings Monday, while Southern California and Oklahoma held firm at the top two spots.

The Tigers had been in fourth place in the first two BCS standings, but they took advantage of Miami's loss last to North Carolina, 20-3, to creep closer to the front-runners. The Hurricanes fell to No. 10.

The top two teams in the BCS rankings after the regular season will meet in the Orange Bowl. It would be a BCS grade of 939.0. The Tigers are No. 1 in the Southeastern Conference, while the USC Trojans move into No. 2.

The Sooners, No. 2 in both polls, have a grade of 944. Auburn's grade is 939, placing third in both poll and the computer rankings.

The AP poll and coaches poll must each vote for one of three most deserving BCS grade. Total points received in the polls are a compilation of six computer rankings make up the other half of a grade, with the highest and lowest computer rankings for each team thrown out, according to the BCS formula.

Auburn is behind the highest in school history.

The Tigers play No. 3 Texas and Texas A&M. Some coaches reach for Big 12's titles. That is against one of the relatively weak teams that the Tigers have already beaten.

The Tigers finish the season against Georgia (Nov. 17) at home, at Auburn (Nov. 20) and the Southeastern Conference title game.

Correction

In the Nov. 1 edition of The Daily Iowan, the headline "Women's cross-country finishes 17th" incorrectly reported the result. The Wolverines finished seventh in the race. The Daily Iowan regrets the error.

Singh on unimaginable ride toward riches

BY DOUG FERGUSON

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — The mayor wanted a picture with him. The owner of the Jacksonville Jaguars wanted a word with him. Civic leaders wanted to shake his hand.

Vijay Singh was a guest attraction Monday at a breakfast with Jacksonville Mayor Al� blanket announcement of $2.50 million in stadium improvements to the Jacksonville Jaguars. It was enough money for just about anything.

He was a club pro in Burma in 1989, when he was paid $300 a month, plus a $10 lunch and practicing in a yard. He had won just three tournaments in Southeast Asia last year, standing at 1.1 Scott Yama. Singh says he never imagined he'd be in the city's new $45 million PGA Tour course.

They listened intently when Singh was asked what he thought about this week's Tour Championship, where he can join the field. Reed, Bubba Watson, and Michael Conrad as the only players to win at least 10 times in one year.

"I'm really looking forward to taking this week off," Singh said as the room went silent. Everyone knows better.

His work ethic is legendary, and it has carried Singh to unimaginable heights.

Despite reaching No. 1 in the world two months earlier, Singh is the only player to win in back-to-back events, coming back from the 2002 season, which he abandoned over the health concerns relating to his back. He had a back surgery in the fall of 2002, but he won the U.S. Open in June of 2004.

They listened intently when Singh was asked what he thought about this week's Tour Championship, where he can join the field. Singh is the only player to win in back-to-back events, coming back from the 2002 season, which he abandoned over the health concerns relating to his back. He had a back surgery in the fall of 2002, but he won the U.S. Open in June of 2004.
I don't think the shopping and stuff is a personal vendetta against anyone else, I think it's more people don't want to get ripped, and they don't want to fall. When they feel like people are getting too close and in danger of getting spiked, they're going to start making room for themselves.

Terry巴基, UI Cross Country team captain

SURVIVING THE RACE

CROSS-COUNTRY CONFRONTED FROM PAGE 18

"At the end of the race he probably thought it was all turned out to be. It wasn't bad sportsmanship, the way they lost. He said last night it was a last resort, it worked pretty well. It's kind of a kick to see them, but..."

But Rakaric insisted that the shoving is something that comes with the sport and isn't carried past the finish line. "No, I mean now it's a game, but once you start putting stuff like that in, you don't want to think about it. You're just trying to do your best, it's just too tough, you're going to get yourself sick. It's healthy, guys."

Ft Lauderdale something original, like the Lake area. Half the field is just beautiful."

Ft Lauderdale is a game. In the old days, McAdoo wouldn't have done that, the phone rings, it's his brother-in-law, who tells him that the game (Owen, Brandon, Eddie Coffin, and Rashid Wallace) are in the hotel and laying the game."

"Do you want to be on TV?" the Lakota man asks. "I'm going to be on TV again."

When the season is over we'll talk. Don't think the shoving and stuff is a vendetta against anyone else. But there's no way we'll want to be on TV again, because there's no way we'll want to be on TV again, because..."

Grant was sneaking around the feeling since Jordan retired. Same for a while, then come back and make a living. That's what basketball's all about."

First coach fired: Lenny Wilkens. After 16 seasons with the Seattle SuperSonics, the 75-year-old was forced to leave the franchise after a disappointing season.

There were approximately 1,000 spectators at the game. According to the ticket seller, the crowd consisted of mostly young fans who were happy to see their favorite team. "I hope the same people come back to see us next season," the seller said. "We need the support to keep our team successful."
Kidd on injured list for opener, Mourning on roster

BY TOM CANAVAN

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — While Jason Kidd will open the season on the injured list for the New Jersey Nets, center Alonzo Mourning will be on the active roster later than a year after suffering a knee transplant.

Kidd, who had surgery on his left knee in July, was placed on the injured list on Monday along with two other players.

The All-star guard said just started running on Monday, he has not practiced with the team.

"He came back and shot, and then his rehabilitation was at an end," said Lawrence Frank, who will play his first full season as coach Wednesday when the Nets open against Detroit. "Tom knows what's the timetable for Kidd's return.

"This is going to be a long process," Frank said.

The Nets also placed center Jason Smith (left elbow sprain) and Anson Stream (left ankle sprain) on the injured list.

"That's why Mourning will play," Frank said.

Mourning was able to play 10 minutes in his first game. "At the same time, you can't pull from score to 10. Every day you keep getting better, and that's what we're looking at.

Mourning will face a major test Wednesday against O'Neal, who is one of the biggest threats to the lineup.

Frank said he has not set a date limit on when Mourning will play. He intended to use the seven-time All-star right to 15 minutes on Thursday, but he played twice that amount.

"We all support Alonzo in getting out on the floor," Frank said.

"The game doesn't discriminate, in the sense that men who play on the floor, he understands the risk involved, and, as a coach, I understand the risk involved. That's something we don't want to see him lose. The guy is such a special individual, but at the same time we all understand that risk. You are going to do what's best for him and, what's more important, best for the team."

New Jersey Net Jason Kidd watches from behind the Nets' bench as they play the Philadelphia 76ers on Oct. 28 in East Rutherford, N.J. Kidd will open the season on the injured list.

HELP WANTED

Classifieds

Classifieds

111 Communications • 335-5784

NOW HIRING

17.00/hr. Part-time Kitchen, days and evenings. Flexible schedule, food discount. Apply In I*IOfl:

2001 JIPDII Street, Suite 201, Coralville, IA 52241

Call (319) 888-3100 or email recruiting@acdlr.com

ACT®

Sealer Test Development Associate

Language Arts

ACT, Inc., is seeking an individual for providing innovative ideas and business to seeking an experienced professional that is responsible for designing, developing, and implementing various test items and programs.

Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree in English, English education, or related field.
- At least 1 year of teaching experience or the equivalent contribution of knowledge, including writing skills, research, project management, communication, and quality assurance skills.
- Starting salary, commissions with qualifications.
- Note: Also placed on the job description about the position and how to apply. This email is dedicated to the position listing.

Please apply to Tom at the position listing.
FOR SALE
BY OWNER

1994 CHEVY BERETTA

- 1994 CHEVY BERETTA
  - 1994 CHEVY BERETTA

FOR SALE
BY OWNER

1995 NISSAN QUEST-XE

- 1995 NISSAN QUEST-XE
  - 1995 NISSAN QUEST-XE

FOR SALE
BY OWNER

FOR SALE
BY OWNER

FOR SALE
BY OWNER

FOR SALE
BY OWNER

FOR SALE
BY OWNER

FOR SALE
BY OWNER

THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD BLANK

The Daily Iowan Classified Dept.
319-335-5784 or 335-5785

Call our office to set up a time that is convenient for you to bring your car by to be photographed.

Deadlines: 2 days prior to run date desired

For more information contact:
The Daily Iowan Classified Dept.
319-335-5784 or 335-5785

THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD BLANK

Ad Information:

of Days Category

Cost: # of words X $1.10 per word

Cost covers entire run period.

1-9 days $1.10 per word (15-45 words)

10-14 days $1.20 per word ($22.20 min.)

15-19 days $1.30 per word ($33.50 min.)

20-24 days $1.40 per word ($44.80 min.)

25-29 days $1.50 per word ($56.00 min.)

30 days $1.50 per word ($56.00 min.)

Add 5% surcharge of entire ad cost if you would like your ad included on our website.

NO REFUNDS. DEADLINE IS 11AM PREVIOUS WORKING DAY.

Send completed ad forms with check or money order, place of advertisement, select desired size minimum.

Phone 319-335-5784 or 335-5785

Fax 335-6397

Monday-Thursday 8-5

Friday 8-4

This Size RUNS FOR 6 WEEKS!

$150

Call 335-5784
horoscopes

Tuesday, November 2, 2004

Aries (March 21-April 19): Put your time and effort into your domestic chores and preparing for what's to come. You've got a chance to complain about the, the better. Money matters may be on the rise.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Relationships will be your prime concern today. You should be able to join an organization or a group of individuals who can help you through the week.

Gemini (May 21-June 21): If you aren't satisfied with your current position, pick up some new skills, or prepare to change your direction.

Cancer (June 22-July 22): Your emotions may be a little out of control. You will need to adjust your pace and let your emotions run their course.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Put your effort into your personal life. A new opportunity may arise in your current job, or you may want to quit and start something new.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Today is a good time to set goals and work toward them. You may also want to take a break to rethink your goals.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Everyone will be thinking the same way you do. Concentrate on work and doing the best job possible. Avoid personal problems that will only complicate your work.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): As long as you are true to yourself and your goals, nothing will stop you from reaching your goals.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may have to take it easy today. Pushing yourself too hard will result in fatigue. Make sure you get some rest.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Amazing things will be happening for you. You can succeed if you take advantage of this opportunity.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't let someone steal your ideas.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Children or younger friends will brighten your day. The more you can do for others, the more you receive.

NEWS you need to know

Today — First day for students to request a change in Final Exam Schedule Nov. 9 — Last day for graduate students to drop individual length courses or changes registration, 4:30 p.m.

PAV schedule

7 a.m. Democracy Now!
10:30 WVTV Calendar
11:00 CBS News Focus
Next Candidate Forum: Johnson County Board of Supervisors & Sheriff
1 p.m. MSNBC
6 p.m. Family Circus
3 p.m. Lost: Merle Lawyer's
9 p.m. Special Report
5 p.m. History
8 p.m. Tonight with Bradwell Live
9 p.m. PBS State of the Union
8:00 ABC TV
19:00 RHO TV
11:00 PBS Newshour "Elections 2000 - A Review"

For complete TV listings and program guides, check out Arts and Entertainment online at www.dailypow.com.

DISSERT IN

by Scott Adams

A special week at our store that's going to sound good.

"I'M NOT SURE" by Garry Trudell

DAILY BREAK

calendar

• DelGrosso Blood Center Blood Drive, 8 a.m.-noon, South Quadrant Lounge.
• Biochemistry Workshop, Eric Brown, 10:30 a.m., Brown Science Building Auditorium 2.
• Dance Gala 2004 Preview, noon, Union College Pavilion Arena.
• Open Forum with President Skorton for P&S and MSEC Staff, noon, Center for Disabilities & Development Room 2.
• Math/Physics Seminar, "Eigenvalues of Interesting Relativistic Systems," William Kittel, 1:30 p.m., Van Allen Hall.
• Operator Theory Seminar, "Distortion-Images of Measurable Functions of Multivariate Weighted Shifts," Raul Curto, 2:30 p.m., Van Allen Hall.

• Celebrating America's 2004 Nobel Laureate in Literature: Readings from the Works of Mikael Jannock, 5 p.m., 315 Phillips Hall.
• Camp Adventure Information Meeting, 7 p.m., 330 MUE.
• National Awareness Week Q&A, 7 p.m., 346 MUE.

quote of the day

"It's a wonderful title, No Child Left Behind ... But kids are all different and, unfortunately, this calls for a cookie-cutter approach to education that doesn't take diversity into account."
— Richard Gephardt, a lawyer for the Brown, Pa., School District, which sued the federal government over its low-performing rating, preparing for favorable spending students couldn't meet the test.

The Daily Iowan

For home delivery, phone 335-5783

the ledge

THE LEGDE ENDORSES JOSH GALS FOR PRESIDENT

• Josh Gals, 32, Iowan

"To the best of my ability..."

For the best upcoming political election, you can't go wrong with Josh Gals. Josh is a hard worker, he's honest, he's a nice guy, and he's the best choice for the future of this country. Josh has a good future and I support him because he will do the job.

I am very impressed with Josh's work ethic and his determination to make a difference in this state. Josh has the right background to lead this country and to make a difference in its future. I am confident that Josh will be a great future president.

Josh Gals, a rising political star, is the perfect candidate for Iowa's highest office. His integrity, dedication, and passion will make him a strong leader in Washington. Josh is truly the best choice for Iowa's future and the country's future. I believe he will be a great future president.

I encourage all Iowans to support Josh Gals in the upcoming election. I am confident that Josh will be a great future president and that he will be a champion for our country.