Transplant doesn’t slow UI student

BY AMANDA MASKER

On Aug. 31, 2004, Tim Reedy entered a Cleveland Clinic operating room and received the gift that he had been waiting more than a year for—his new heart.

Almost a year later, he will be the first student to graduate from the University of Iowa's School of Liberal Arts and Sciences with a degree in creative writing. In addition, he has been living life like a normal 19-year-old college student.

When Subway assistant manager Rich Woodhouse was asked how Tim had recovered from his surgery, Woodhouse said, "He was a hero."

"I had no idea," Woodhouse said.

"He can do anything anybody else can do," said The Council of White House journalists .

The Council of White House journalists came to the University of Iowa on Oct. 20 to present Reedy with an award for his dedication to journalism and his efforts to raise funds for the University of Iowa's School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

"I was diagnosed with leukemia in 1996," Reedy said. "I was told I had only a 50-50 chance of surviving."
The Daily Iowan

Volume 132

NEWS

When the average fan in the stands chooses Iowa as their team and wear our logo, I think it's a real milestone in our athletics program.

— Bob Rowicky, UI athletic director

Hawk gear hotter than weather

By MEGHAN V. MALLOY

Iowa City, Iowa

Woman details alleged attack

Kelsla Cavey, 20, Cedar While the events at Condit's house, Attorney Victoria Cole led the assaulted her numerous times resident assistant testified.

"The defense's Richard Thomas said he wouldn't have introduced Condit as an assistant director of the University Book Store and Book Shop, and he said national buyers for the bookstore were very frequently consistent throughout the country, and the

Trial

Woman charged with stabbing husband

A Domestic Violence was arrested Monday for allegedly stabbing her husband during a domestic dispute.

"Our Internet sales will definitely be up this year," said Kurt Vanderhoef, a manager sales to catch up, once all the impressions. "Our sales above the national average, a very

LEGAL ADVICE

Dr. D. James Lanier, 70, Perry, was charged July 16 with operating while under the influence of alcohol under the legal age, and driving while license is suspended or revoked.

POLICE BLITTER

Kevin Cheng, 23, Cedar Rapids, was charged July 15 with operating while under the influence of alcohol under the legal age, and driving while license is suspended or revoked.

The Daily Iowan

Volume 132

NEWS

When the average fan in the stands chooses Iowa as their team and wear our logo, I think it's a real milestone in our athletics program.

— Bob Rowicky, UI athletic director

Hawk gear hotter than weather

By MEGHAN V. MALLOY

Iowa City, Iowa

Woman details alleged attack

Kelsla Cavey, 20, Cedar While the events at Condit's house, Attorney Victoria Cole led the assaulted her numerous times resident assistant testified.

"The defense's Richard Thomas said he wouldn't have introduced Condit as an assistant director of the University Book Store and Book Shop, and he said national buyers for the bookstore were very frequently consistent throughout the country, and the

Trial

Woman charged with stabbing husband

A Domestic Violence was arrested Monday for allegedly stabbing her husband during a domestic dispute.

"Our Internet sales will definitely be up this year," said Kurt Vanderhoef, a manager sales to catch up, once all the impressions. "Our sales above the national average, a very

LEGAL ADVICE

Dr. D. James Lanier, 70, Perry, was charged July 16 with operating while under the influence of alcohol under the legal age, and driving while license is suspended or revoked.

POLICE BLITTER

Kevin Cheng, 23, Cedar Rapids, was charged July 15 with operating while under the influence of alcohol under the legal age, and driving while license is suspended or revoked.
Prevention-drug abuse rising

BY JOHN HAMAB
10/15/96

Prescription-drug abuse among adolescents is an important public health issue, especially among teenagers who are using illegal substances. A recent study by the National Survey on Drug Use and Health (NSDUH) found that in 2015, 18.5% of Americans aged 12 or older used a prescription pain reliever, tranquilizer, or stimulant non-medically at least once in a lifetime.

The study also revealed that the percentage of prescription drugs being sold on the Internet has increased significantly. In 2015, an estimated 16.5 million people purchased prescription drugs online, a 35% increase from 2010.

The prevalence of prescription drug abuse among teenagers is a growing concern. In 2015, the rate of non-medical use of prescription drugs among adolescents aged 12 to 17 years was 3.6%.

However, the study also found that the majority of prescription drug users obtained their drugs from friends, family members, or other sources, with only a small percentage obtaining their drugs from other sources such as prescription drug abuse.

This highlights the need for increased awareness and education about the dangers of prescription drug abuse. It also underscores the importance of addressing the underlying factors that contribute to this widespread problem.

The NSDUH survey also found that prescription drug abuse is associated with other substance use and mental health problems. In 2015, 26.4% of adolescents who used prescription drugs non-medically also used other illicit substances, such as marijuana, cocaine, or heroin.

These findings underscore the need for comprehensive interventions that address both the supply and demand sides of prescription drug abuse. This includes efforts to reduce the availability of prescription drugs for non-medical use and to increase awareness about the risks and consequences of prescription drug abuse.

The NSDUH survey also found that prescription drug abuse is more common among certain demographic groups. In 2015, the rate of prescription drug abuse was highest among adolescents aged 16 to 17 years, with 4.4% using prescription drugs non-medically.

The rate of prescription drug abuse was also higher among males (3.8%) than females (3.0%). In addition, the rate of prescription drug abuse was higher among adolescents who lived in households with a higher income and education level.

These findings highlight the need for targeted prevention and intervention strategies that address the unique needs and circumstances of different demographic groups.

Overall, the NSDUH survey highlights the seriousness of prescription drug abuse among adolescents and underscores the need for increased efforts to prevent and reduce this widespread problem.
COMMENTARY

Global poverty: Where does the money go?

The bogeyman who threat- ened to disrupt the summit has gone home, the somber reading "Sorry Poor People" has been taken down from atop the Empire State Building and the lights have returned to Times Square. Today marks the anniversary of Nelson Mandela's release from prison in 1990. To stay on the good side of Mandela, the U.S. National Guard today announced to over 40 nations its commitment to aid them with natural disasters.

The great majority of the world’s population lives in poverty. Each year, hundreds of millions of people die of disease, famine and stress; the millions who do not die face a lifetime of hardship and misery. In May, the World Health Organization estimated that 1.5 million people died of malaria, one of the most deadly diseases. For every minute that passes, another 50 people die from malaria, and another 40 are born who will die of malaria before their fifth birthday.

The United States, America’s best friend in the war on terror, has a special responsibility to help those in need. The U.S. National Guard is one of the most effective and efficient humanitarian organizations on the planet. The Guard has been helping people since its founding in 1775. In the last 30 years, the Guard has responded to over 100 natural disasters around the world, from Hurricane Katrina in the U.S. to the Indian Ocean tsunami in 2004.

The Guard’s mission is simple: to provide military support to civilian authorities in times of crisis. This support can range from simply providing security for a large event to full-scale relief operations in areas affected by natural disasters.

For example, in 2005, after Hurricane Katrina devastated the Gulf Coast, the Guard was dispatched to provide security for the victims and to help with the recovery efforts. Over 9,500 National Guard soldiers and airmen were activated to assist in the recovery efforts.

The Guard is also active in international disaster response. In 2010, after the Haiti earthquake, the Guard provided support to the local authorities, including medical evacuation, search and rescue, and infrastructure repair.

In 2014, the Guard was activated to respond to the Ebola crisis in West Africa. Over 1,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to West Africa to help contain the spread of the disease.

The Guard’s response to international disasters is a testament to its ability to provide support on a global scale. It demonstrates the Guard’s commitment to helping those in need around the world, and its ability to provide effective and efficient support in times of crisis.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are not just limited to natural disasters. In 2015, the Guard was deployed to Iraq to provide support to the U.S. military and the Iraqi government. Over 3,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to Iraq to help in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

In 2016, the Guard was activated to respond to the refugee crisis in Europe. Over 3,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to Europe to provide support to the local authorities in managing the influx of refugees.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are not just limited to natural disasters and conflict. In 2017, the Guard was deployed to the Caribbean after Hurricane Maria devastated the area. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Caribbean to provide support to the local authorities in the recovery efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are not just limited to natural disasters and conflict. In 2018, the Guard was deployed to the Philippines after Typhoon Yolanda destroyed the area. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Philippines to provide support to the local authorities in the recovery efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2019, the Guard was deployed to Africa after the conflict in Sudan. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to Africa to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2020, the Guard was deployed to the Amazon rainforest after the Amazon fires. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Amazon rainforest to provide support to the local authorities in the fire-fighting efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2021, the Guard was deployed to the Ukraine after the conflict in Donbas. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Ukraine to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2022, the Guard was deployed to the Middle East after the conflict in Syria. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Middle East to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2023, the Guard was deployed to the Pacific after the conflict in the South China Sea. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Pacific to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2024, the Guard was deployed to the Americas after the conflict in Central America. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Americas to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2025, the Guard was deployed to the Africa after the conflict in the Sahel. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Africa to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2026, the Guard was deployed to the Asia after the conflict in Afghanistan. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Asia to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2027, the Guard was deployed to the Europe after the conflict in Russia. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Europe to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2028, the Guard was deployed to the Americas after the conflict in the Americas. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Americas to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2029, the Guard was deployed to the Africa after the conflict in the Africa. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Africa to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.

In 2030, the Guard was deployed to the Asia after the conflict in the Asia. Over 2,000 National Guard soldiers and airmen were deployed to the Asia to provide support to the local authorities in the stabilization and reconstruction efforts.

The Guard’s humanitarian efforts are a testament to its commitment to helping those in need around the world. The Guard’s ability to provide support on a global scale is a testament to its ability to adapt to changing needs and situations.
Wednesday, July 30, 2003 - The Daily Iowan - Page 4

U.S. SUPREME COURT
Bush picks conservative

The Supreme Court of the United States was to decide on the future of abortion in America.

President George W. Bush had nominated Robert H. Bork to the Supreme Court.

Bork was a conservative jurist and had been a controversial figure in the legal community.

His nomination was met with strong opposition from women's rights groups and reproductive rights advocates.

The confirmation hearing for Bork was held in the Senate.

During the hearings, Bork faced tough questioning from senators, particularly on his views on Roe v. Wade.

Roe v. Wade was a landmark Supreme Court case that legalized abortion in the United States.

Bork had expressed his opposition to abortion, which went against the majority view of the Supreme Court at the time.

The confirmation process was highly political, with both parties mobilizing to influence the outcome.

In the end, Bork was confirmed by the Senate and went on to serve on the Supreme Court.

The confirmation of Bork was a significant moment in the history of the Supreme Court and the abortion debate in America.
Daily Break Calendar

- Public Library Stories in the Park, 10 a.m., Willow Creek Park.
- Kevin Hart, 11 a.m., Tampa Coffee House, 1558 P St., Columbia.
- The Moonlighters, Project Art, 6 p.m., Columbia, Mo.
- Hogwarts School of Witchcraft, Young Adult Summer Reading Party, 5 p.m., Public Library, 250 S. 12th St.
- Bob and Krista Hush, Market Music Series, 6-7 p.m., Chasnery Park Free.
- Farmhouse Market, 10:30 a.m., Chasnery Park Free.
- Time of Heritage Gardens, vegetable dishes based on 18th-century recipes, and the Post Office Brown Bread, 3-5 p.m., Plain Groves Market, 100 E. Congress.
- Historical Roots of the Palestinian Arab Conflict, Mounadid Chantilis, 12 p.m., Seuter Center, 280 S. 12th St.
- SpiffedUp, with Action Action, Gunplay's American Dream, and Walking Adrift, 8 p.m., Club 5, 1558 S W. Washington St.
- CANCER
  - Opportunity to do something today because you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble. You probably aren't being too open to new people and ideas. Someone appealing is there to help you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There may be something strange in the air today. Do not get intimately involved with someone you work with. You may be the first to stand and say-"I'M NOT GOING ANYMORE!

CAPRICORN

- Your changing mood will be to screw up your personal paperwork. Don't let anyone take your best in a good faith deal.

AQUARIUS

- You need to keep an open mind about what you are going to do or where you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

SAGITTARIUS

- Your serious attitude will be to get the work done. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

CASSIOPEIA

- The Elbo Nians Won't Do Business With Thy Company Unless We Like Them.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You need to keep an open mind about what you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

LEO

- Over Spending on loved ones team player, and you can overcome any problem. Be open to new people and ideas. Someone appealing is there to help you.

CANCER

- Opportunity to do something today because you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble. You probably aren't being too open to new people and ideas. Someone appealing is there to help you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There may be something strange in the air today. Do not get intimately involved with someone you work with. You may be the first to stand and say-"I'M NOT GOING ANYMORE!

CAPRICORN

- Your changing mood will be to screw up your personal paperwork. Don't let anyone take your best in a good faith deal.

AQUARIUS

- You need to keep an open mind about what you are going to do or where you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

SAGITTARIUS

- Your serious attitude will be to get the work done. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

CASSIOPEIA

- The Elbo Nians Won't Do Business With Thy Company Unless We Like Them.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You need to keep an open mind about what you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

LEO

- Over Spending on loved ones team player, and you can overcome any problem. Be open to new people and ideas. Someone appealing is there to help you.

CANCER

- Opportunity to do something today because you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble. You probably aren't being too open to new people and ideas. Someone appealing is there to help you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There may be something strange in the air today. Do not get intimately involved with someone you work with. You may be the first to stand and say-"I'M NOT GOING ANYMORE!

CAPRICORN

- Your changing mood will be to screw up your personal paperwork. Don't let anyone take your best in a good faith deal.

AQUARIUS

- You need to keep an open mind about what you are going to do or where you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

SAGITTARIUS

- Your serious attitude will be to get the work done. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

CASSIOPEIA

- The Elbo Nians Won't Do Business With Thy Company Unless We Like Them.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You need to keep an open mind about what you are going today. Mistakes can be made if you aren't honest, but don't divulge something that will get you in trouble.

LEO

- Over Spending on loved ones team player, and you can overcome any problem. Be open to new people and ideas. Someone appealing is there to help you.
POSTCARDS FROM THE EDGE OF THE BOWL

By Peter Higgen

When former professional skateboarder and author John Johnston visited the Iowa City skatepark last week, he wasn’t too fond of the idea of chronicling his skate life.

Responding to a question about his book, "Johnston: The Full-Contact," for full-length, the Corpus Christi native, unwitting skateboarder and ex-snow pat on his left arm, shook his head.

"It’s not all that. It’s just different than what I was pre-planned, you know. I didn’t want to do a full poker-faced approach," said Johnston, glancing down at the knee McKean as he signed his radio show/feature on top of the front board.

"It was just something I wanted to do, even though I sort of enjoy putting up with all of the quirkiness between the autograph signings, the freebies and all that kind of thing," said Johnston.

The book, "Johnston: The Full-Contact," was focused on the teenage skateboarding life of the late-80s and early-90s. The author was recently shortlisted for the British author’s New Writer Award in Britain. Johnston said that in California, he had cut out on his skatetouring to work on his upcoming novel.

"I don’t really put much emphasis on the book," said Johnston.

"Just do your thing, man. Make whatever you can do and give it great respect to what you’ve done before. That was my thought,” said Johnston.

Despite his reservations, Johnston is still enjoying many different aspects of the skateboarding world where he landed a spot on the front and back of the book.

"I’m happy to be here," said Johnston.

On the front of the book, Johnston is shown doing a trick in a crowd, while on the back, he is shown holding up his skateboard in front of the cover.

"Yeah, but try to be like the man in the book, you know," Johnston joked.

Despite the reservations, Johnston said that he enjoyed many different aspects of the skateboarding world.

LIVE FROM PRAIRIE LIGHTS

Brat Anthony Johnston will be reading from his book, "Johnston: The Full-Contact," at Prairie Lights Bookstore tonight. The night will feature music from Johnston's skateboarding life and discussions about his experiences on the road.

ARTS

Brat TV shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Plenty of performers are hot shot kids, baseball 4-Min, and sma-

You can find out more about the show and the performers by visiting the show’s website.

Correction

Due to an editing error, a graphic accompanying David Foster’s review of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory on July 18, said he gave the movie one star. He actually gave the movie three and a half stars out of four, as stated in the web version of the article at www.dailyiowan.com.

Ride In Air Conditioned Comfort to the North Side of Town & Anywhere.

GO NORTH AND STAY COOL!

Journey

City of Iowa City

Ride In Air Conditioned Comfort to the North Side of Town & Anywhere.

Postcards from the Edge of the Bowl

By Peter Higgen

When former professional skateboarder and author John Johnston visited the Iowa City skatepark last week, he wasn’t too fond of the idea of chronicling his skate life.

Responding to a question about his book, "Johnston: The Full-Contact," for full-length, the Corpus Christi native, unwitting skateboarder and ex-snow pat on his left arm, shook his head.

"It’s not all that. It’s just different than what I was pre-planned, you know. I didn’t want to do a full poker-faced approach," said Johnston, glancing down at the knee McKean as he signed his radio show/feature on top of the front board.

"It was just something I wanted to do, even though I sort of enjoy putting up with all of the quirkiness between the autograph signings, the freebies and all that kind of thing," said Johnston.

Despite his reservations, Johnston is still enjoying many different aspects of the skateboarding world where he landed a spot on the front and back of the book.

"I don’t really put much emphasis on the book," said Johnston.

"Just do your thing, man. Make whatever you can do and give it great respect to what you’ve done before. That was my thought,” said Johnston.

Despite the reservations, Johnston said that he enjoyed many different aspects of the skateboarding world.

LIVE FROM PRAIRIE LIGHTS

Brat Anthony Johnston will be reading from his book, "Johnston: The Full-Contact," at Prairie Lights Bookstore tonight. The night will feature music from Johnston's skateboarding life and discussions about his experiences on the road.

Correction

Due to an editing error, a graphic accompanying David Foster’s review of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory on July 18, said he gave the movie one star. He actually gave the movie three and a half stars out of four, as stated in the web version of the article at www.dailyiowan.com.

Ride In Air Conditioned Comfort to the North Side of Town & Anywhere.

GO NORTH AND STAY COOL!

Journey

City of Iowa City

Ride In Air Conditioned Comfort to the North Side of Town & Anywhere.

Postcards from the Edge of the Bowl

By Peter Higgen

When former professional skateboarder and author John Johnston visited the Iowa City skatepark last week, he wasn’t too fond of the idea of chronicling his skate life.

Responding to a question about his book, "Johnston: The Full-Contact," for full-length, the Corpus Christi native, unwitting skateboarder and ex-snow pat on his left arm, shook his head.

"It’s not all that. It’s just different than what I was pre-planned, you know. I didn’t want to do a full poker-faced approach," said Johnston, glancing down at the knee McKean as he signed his radio show/feature on top of the front board.

"It was just something I wanted to do, even though I sort of enjoy putting up with all of the quirkiness between the autograph signings, the freebies and all that kind of thing," said Johnston.

Despite his reservations, Johnston is still enjoying many different aspects of the skateboarding world where he landed a spot on the front and back of the book.

"I don’t really put much emphasis on the book," said Johnston.

"Just do your thing, man. Make whatever you can do and give it great respect to what you’ve done before. That was my thought,” said Johnston.

Despite the reservations, Johnston said that he enjoyed many different aspects of the skateboarding world.

LIVE FROM PRAIRIE LIGHTS

Brat Anthony Johnston will be reading from his book, "Johnston: The Full-Contact," at Prairie Lights Bookstore tonight. The night will feature music from Johnston's skateboarding life and discussions about his experiences on the road.

Correction

Due to an editing error, a graphic accompanying David Foster’s review of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory on July 18, said he gave the movie one star. He actually gave the movie three and a half stars out of four, as stated in the web version of the article at www.dailyiowan.com.
NBA to Bogut: Here’s looking at you, kid

BY JON KRAWCZYNSKI

MINNEAPOLIS — Andrew Bogut felt he had just been run over by a train.

“Woke up in a hospital bed, the nurse said I had just been knocked off my bike by a car,” Bogut said. “I thought I was dead.”

That was the extent of the injury for Bogut in the Minnesota Timberwolves season opener Friday against the Indiana Pacers. The news wasn’t quite as good for the稠 Everybody was excited about it.”

Coach Flip Saunders acknowledged that the officials were “a little loose” on the Indiana Pacers. “We’ve got to concentrate on improving that,” he said.

NBA Commissioner David Stern reiterated that the league was focused on improving officiating. “We’re working with the referees to get better, and we’ll continue to work with them,” Stern said.

Bogut, who missed two games with a strained knee last year, said he was looking forward to the team’s next game against the Houston Rockets on Saturday. “I’m looking forward to playing against a great team,” he said. “I want to see how we stack up.”

The Timberwolves trail the Rockets in the Western Conference standings, 1-2, but Bogut said he was confident the team could improve.

“Every game is a chance to get better,” he said. “We’ve got to keep working hard and focusing on our mistakes.”

NBA Commissioner David Stern reiterated that the league was focused on improving officiating. “We’re working with the referees to get better, and we’ll continue to work with them,” Stern said.

Bogut, who missed two games with a strained knee last year, said he was looking forward to the team’s next game against the Houston Rockets on Saturday. “I’m looking forward to playing against a great team,” he said. “I want to see how we stack up.”

The Timberwolves trail the Rockets in the Western Conference standings, 1-2, but Bogut said he was confident the team could improve.

“Every game is a chance to get better,” he said. “We’ve got to keep working hard and focusing on our mistakes.”

The Timberwolves trail the Rockets in the Western Conference standings, 1-2, but Bogut said he was confident the team could improve.

“Every game is a chance to get better,” he said. “We’ve got to keep working hard and focusing on our mistakes.”

The Timberwolves trail the Rockets in the Western Conference standings, 1-2, but Bogut said he was confident the team could improve.

“Every game is a chance to get better,” he said. “We’ve got to keep working hard and focusing on our mistakes.”

The Timberwolves trail the Rockets in the Western Conference standings, 1-2, but Bogut said he was confident the team could improve.
Brown is the only coach with NCA and NCAA championships, winning a title in each of the past two years and with Franklin in 2001. He was named coach of the year with NCA two years ago with Pennsylvania, where he was head coach for two years before returning in 2004.

Brown led the Titans in the playoffs for five straight seasons, including the 2003 NAIA World Series. The Titans could have taken a NCA team in the playoffs for five straight years if not made in 1998.

He also coached Denver (2002), Indiana-Purdue-Bloomington (2001), Austin Peay (2000), Monmouth (1999) and South Dakota School of Mines (1998). He has coached 16 All-Americans, 11 student-athletes and 60 players named to All-Conference teams. His coaching staff includes former NAIA World Series pitcher Todd Walker.

Brown also coached the 1999 USA World University Baseball Team to a bronze-medal finish in the 2004 Olympics in Japan. The Titans could have taken a NCA team in the playoffs for five straight years if not made in 1998.
Prime Time League

Prime Time primed for playoff basketball

Hawkeye senior forward Greg Brunner is in a familiar place in the Prime Time League Playoffs. Brunner's teams have won the past two titles, and he is looking for his third.

BY ANDREW SHANKS

THE IOWAN

With the Prime-Time League regular season over and the playoffs tipping off, University of Iowa senior student-athlete Greg Brunner is in familiar playoff form.

"I'm definitely ready to get out of the town and play some basketball," said Brunner, who is a member of the Prime-Time League.

Andrews took a look at where Brunner's team, the Big Ten, is currently ranked. Brunner's team is currently ranked 77th in the nation, but he doesn't mind.

"I'm ready to get out of the town and play some basketball," he said.

Well, Brunner, you are one of the best teams in the nation. He is looking to take a step further into the NCAA tournament.

But his team is facing some tough competition. The Hawkeyes will be looking to take the top seed in the Big Ten tournament.

"We're ready to take the top seed in the Big Ten tournament," said Brunner. "We're ready to take the top seed in the Big Ten tournament."