Proverbial frog in throat

A new way to download free music has just leaped onto the Internet, media group SpiralFrog has paired with Universal Music, and they now have a digital catalogue of free music — with a catch.

BY MATT NELSON

More over, iTunes, there’s a new kid on the block.

In a recent landmark agreement between the media group SpiralFrog and Universal Music, SpiralFrog has acquired Universal’s digital catalogue of songs — allowing music lovers to download tunes without paying a cent.

Listeners can browse and listen to music through a program installed on their computers and then obtain songs for free. While downloading, a 30-second advertisement plays, after which the user can listen to the music as much as he or she wants. But there’s a catch.

Users have to return SpiralFrog’s website roughly every month to watch more ads. Furthermore, the music can’t be transferred or played on the popular iPod.

It will fully integrate with Windows XP and in the next iteration of the operating system called Windows Vista. The files will be encoded in a new Windows Media File format.

For each file downloaded, Universal gets a share of the profit that SpiralFrog makes through advertising, which targets users based on demographic information they provide at registration.

SpiralFrog offers music lovers to download tunes for free. While downloading, a 30-second advertisement plays, after which the user can listen to the music as much as he or she wants. But there’s a catch.

Users have to return SpiralFrog’s website roughly every month to watch more ads. Furthermore, the music can’t be transferred or played on the popular iPod. It will fully integrate with Windows XP and in the next iteration of the operating system called Windows Vista. The files will be encoded in a new Windows Media File format.

For each file downloaded, Universal gets a share of the profit that SpiralFrog makes through advertising, which targets users based on demographic information they provide at registration.

Targeted ads are then placed on the website and are fully integrated into the program — with no pop-up ads in sight — in contrast with websites such as Yahoo’s LAUNCHcast.

BY TERRY MCCOY

The Daily Iowan

UI Faculty Senate members voted nearly unanimously Tuesday to restrict employees’ home-contact information from the university’s printed and online directories.

Barring an unlikely veto from UI Provost Michael Hogan, the measure will be implemented in early November.

At present, staff and faculty addressess and phone numbers are included in the directories by default, that information is omitted only if the employees submit a request that the information be removed. But the Faculty Senate’s affirmation of previous staff Council and Faculty Council votes means employees’ information likely will be excluded unless they prefer otherwise.

“We always had the opportunity to restrict it,” business professor Jay Christopherson-Falbo said “But in another time, people felt it was a nonissue, but it is a different world now.”

Proponents of the policy say its passage is important, because a lot of employees want their home information barred or do not know how to restrict it or lack the time to do so. In addition, more than half the UT staff and faculty members have already removed home information from their directories, so the policy will only implement a prerogative that many already want, Christopherson-Falbo said.

FACULTY SENATE

Group backs killing home info

Visit accents Iowa’s ties to New Zealand

IOWA CITY VISITOR — Roy Ferguson, New Zealand ambassador

Roy Ferguson, New Zealand’s ambassador to the United States, visited UI research and medical facilities Tuesday, further solidifying an already-growing relationship between the state and the Pacific Ocean nation. Mervyn Babbage, the president of Management Resource Group in Howthwaite, Iowa, and a former New Zealand resident, also began developing an Iowa-New Zealand partnership in 2005 after noticing the pair’s common strength in biotechnology industries.

“I'm very inspired with the warmth of the people in Iowa,” Ferguson said. “And we have to see if we can expand our relationship a bit.”

NEW ZEALAND

Ferguson attends to be U.S. from New Zealand

QUICK HITS: New Zealand is about the size of the United States. The country has 3.2 million Internet users. It sits on the Pacific Ocean, about the size of the United States. The country has 3.2 million Internet users. It sits on the Pacific Ocean.
FAMILIES DRAWN TOGETHER BY THE COMMUNICATION REVOLUTION:

- 45 percent of adults have contact with parents.
- 74 percent of adults say they "feel a close relationship to dad;" 23 percent called the relationship "distant."
Vilsack pushes state's economy

Both enacted in 2001, the Vision Iowa and Community Attraction programs have allocated more than $296 million to 241 projects in 12 classes. These projects have created 12,600 construction jobs and several thousand permanent jobs throughout the state.

Citing a recent Fortune magazine article, Vilsack said that ranked Iowa on the list of “Best Places to Live” for the second consecutive year. “The converting governor commented on the programs and the ‘well-documented’ success they have achieved.”

Vilsack pointed to a recent survey that ranked Iowa 13th for the state that has the fewest number of cases. The state, he said, has “reformed its use of the child welfare system and is a significant improvement.”

A recent survey by the Gallop poll, which ranked Iowa’s citizens as the best people to live with, was released in the summer. Vilsack noted that, although the state has made significant progress, there is still room for improvement.

The governor also emphasized the importance of education and the need for continued investment in the state’s public schools. He noted that Iowa’s public school system is ranked among the best in the nation, and that the state has allocated more than $296 million to 241 projects in 12 classes. These projects have created 12,600 construction jobs and several thousand permanent jobs throughout the state.

NEW ZEALAND

GROUP MOVES ON PERSONAL INFORMATION

Reporters have learned that Safari is targeting users younger than 30 to 60 years of age. “I think the one who has embraced self-service and the public access to the...”

FACULTY SENATE CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

Some senators, however, added that it was important to maintain the...”

FROST HOPES TO LEAVE IPD

Joe Mohican, the chairman and founder of Spafirex-Frog, said the company was pleased to bring the...”

MUSIC CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

...will be a sufficient means of cont...”

...This is the first state he’s...”

METRO

Judge refuses to dismissporn charges

A 4th District judge refused to dismiss a sexual assault charge against a 14-year-old girl who pleaded guilty to molesting an infant.

Woman charged with impersonating officer

Police charged a Coralville woman with impersonating an officer after she attempted to...”

FROST HOPES TO LEAVE IPD by Kelsey Beltrame

NEW ZEALAND CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

Reporters have learned that Safari is targeting users younger than 30 to 60 years of age. “I think the one who has embraced self-service and the public access to the...”

FACULTY SENATE CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

Some senators, however, added that it was important to maintain the...”

FROST HOPES TO LEAVE IPD by Kelsey Beltrame

Joe Mohican, the chairman and founder of Spafirex-Frog, said the company was pleased to bring the...”

MUSIC CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

...will be a sufficient means of cont...”

METRO

Judge refuses to dismissporn charges

A 4th District judge refused to dismiss a sexual assault charge against a 14-year-old girl who pleaded guilty to molesting an infant.

Woman charged with impersonating officer

Police charged a Coralville woman with impersonating an officer after she attempted to...”

FROST HOPES TO LEAVE IPD by Kelsey Beltrame

Joe Mohican, the chairman and founder of Spafirex-Frog, said the company was pleased to bring the...”

MUSIC CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

...will be a sufficient means of cont...”

METRO

Judge refuses to dismissporn charges

A 4th District judge refused to dismiss a sexual assault charge against a 14-year-old girl who pleaded guilty to molesting an infant.

Woman charged with impersonating officer

Police charged a Coralville woman with impersonating an officer after she attempted to...”

FROST HOPES TO LEAVE IPD by Kelsey Beltrame
Quick-stop ‘health care’ arrives in area

BY BRENÉ PANOZZO

Picking up some ramen noodles and seeing care for that pesky sore throat can now be combined into a single grocery-store trip.

All Iowa City and Coralville Hy-Vee grocery stores have opened Curquick Clinics, a health-care company that provides low-cost treatment for minor ailments ranging from laryngitis to bladder infections.

Designed to provide speedy medical service, the clinics may threaten to shape business for the typical family physician. But, on Tuesday, a UI expert said that existing family doctors in the area shouldn’t be worried.

“I think at times, competition can force family clinics to make changes they wouldn’t otherwise make,” said Tom Vaughan, a UI associate professor of health management and policy. “In terms of long-term care, I don’t think it will present much competition.”

Some patients might not receive the care they need because they would not establish an ongoing relationship with a doctor, he added. To combat the constant switch between health-care providers, Curquick founder Dan Burrow said he hoped to work closely with local physicians on a referral basis.

“We work very hard to establish relationships with any and all physicians who will work with us,” he said.

Curquick is part of a growing retail-based clinic industry. Hundreds of similar clinics are opening across the country in supermarkets, department stores and pharmacies. All offer treatment for many ailments, including allergies, asthma, sprains, strains, rashes, rashes, sinus infections and strep throat.

Each emphasizes its efficiency and affordability — for instance, MinuteClinic, the largest company in the industry, uses the slogan, “You’re Sick. We’re Quick.”

Patients can see nurse practitioners or physicians’ assistants without an appointment or insurance, and visits usually last no longer than 15 minutes. Many potential patients have voiced concern about the quality of care that retail-based clinics provide, however. Seventy-one percent of respondents to a survey conducted by Harris Interactive for the Wall Street Journal said they were worried about the qualifications of clinic staff.

But because many nurses and physicians’ assistants at the clinics have already worked at hospitals, each concern is unmerited, Burrow said.

“We come to work, a lot of make-up on their face, ‘You’re Sick. We’re Quick.’”

The clinics keep prices low by using midlevel practitioners, and sticking to a strict list of medical services.

Despite concerns, the convenience and affordability of such services appeal to average families, Burrow said. “I am from rural Iowa, and I have family who all work full-time without benefits,” the co-founder said. “I was watching a high papa was caused by specific barriers to learning such as poverty, mobility, and language barriers. The School District needs to be innovative and look at other schools and improve in assessment.”

The candidates were also questioned about the time constraints that School Board members often experience.

“If I had a problem, just let me know what I start, and I am a hard worker,” Krumm said. “I am a private lawyer, so I can easily make time in our day to visit schools and fulfill the duties of a School Board member.”

“My passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“Dan Burow said he hoped to close the gaps between those who are our highest achievers and those who are our lower achievers,” he said. “Such gaps are caused by specific barriers to learning such as poverty, mobility, and language barriers.”

“The biggest concern in our district is the enrollment issue,” Leff said. “The biggest concern in our district is the disparity seen in district schools.”

“Faced with such concerns are unwarranted, Garchik said. “I was watching the best through communication and planning.”

“I am always delighted to do school visits and see how they are working and progressing,” Garchik said. “I also have a lot of free time. I have a lot of free time.”

“I have a passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“Dan Burow said he hoped to close the gaps between those who are our highest achievers and those who are our lower achievers.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“I am always delighted to do school visits and see how they are working and progressing,” Garchik said. “I also have a lot of free time. I have a lot of free time.”

“I have a passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“I am always delighted to do school visits and see how they are working and progressing,” Garchik said. “I also have a lot of free time. I have a lot of free time.”

“I have a passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“I am always delighted to do school visits and see how they are working and progressing,” Garchik said. “I also have a lot of free time. I have a lot of free time.”

“I have a passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“I am always delighted to do school visits and see how they are working and progressing,” Garchik said. “I also have a lot of free time. I have a lot of free time.”

“I have a passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“I am always delighted to do school visits and see how they are working and progressing,” Garchik said. “I also have a lot of free time. I have a lot of free time.”

“I have a passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.

“I am always delighted to do school visits and see how they are working and progressing,” Garchik said. “I also have a lot of free time. I have a lot of free time.”

“I have a passion for education,” Leff said. “The School Board is a way to funnel my interest in education.”

“I am dedicated to openness and collaboration,” Krumm said. “I am strong in my personal integrity and positive attitude.”

“I believe that every problem has a solution, and I want to make sure our district remains the best through communication and planning,” Garchik said.
“My wife and I discussed this, and of course we were excited about the prospect of a job. At the time, I was very comfortable teaching in New York. It was also involved in the Metropolitan Opera, giving lectures and tours. Frankly, I had never been well oriented to high school, Mich., in the U.S., and I didn’t really know what Iowa was. When I was a student in Michigan, I was not too happy about it. I think it is what I felt about it when I decided to come. It creates a sense of excitement about faculty replacements, budgets, and so on.”

— Myron Welch

Timothy Stalteri

UI assistant professor and director of choral activities since 1999.

“First of all, it’s been absolutely wonderful to have the opportunity to perform a number of major works with chorus and orchestra — most point specifically at the UI. This was one of the most wonderful things that I’ve found at the UI. Everyone wants to sing at the UI.”

— Timothy Stalteri

Mark Swanson

UI professor of music and the director of choral activities since 1999.

“We found Iowa to be a wonderful place to bring up our two sons. What I enjoyed particularly about teaching at the UI was the fact that my students were most challenging to teach. It was wonderful to have students who actually questioned you. I really learned a tremendous amount.”

— Mark Swanson

Virginia Myers

70, practicing professor since 1982.

“I came to Iowa City to study painting and sculpture and printmaking. Lassansky was very well-known as one of the very best teachers in the country. I took the train, the old Rock Island, and got off in Iowa City. I had no place to begin. I had been admitted to the university, and I had $150 in my pocket. From the next campus, I bought a house. Some of my first life here was in Manila Heights with the Nagel family. I was living in Des Moines. On Saturday nights, we would drive to Iowa City and get smoked, and cooking, and I worked a couple of 20 hours a week, and I had a dollar an hour. My year had been to stay at the UI for one year. But after one year, I wanted to stay for another year, and it went on and on. I did get a Fulbright scholarship to study in Paris. Following that year, I was assigned to teach under-graduate students. I had a few butterflies, but I had quite a bit of teaching experience. I did the students to Muskegon Museum to illustrate the point that, if you work on their first projects, they’ll be a little bit affected now by the development of the technology, and the students who sit in front of you still get their education in the golden age of radio.”

— Virginia Myers
ON THE SPOT
Do you agree with the decision to allow the sale of beer and wine in the luxury suites at Kinnick?

E-tickets cause headaches and havoc

By James Lambert

Carved on a hill that is known by only a few notables, the new e-ticket system for Kinnick Stadium has many fans feeling like they should be in a madhouse.

The system is a mess. Many fans have reported being unable to get into the stadium or even the correct gate of the stadium.

The system is a mess. Many fans have reported being unable to get into the stadium or even the correct gate of the stadium.

The system is a mess. Many fans have reported being unable to get into the stadium or even the correct gate of the stadium.

The system is a mess. Many fans have reported being unable to get into the stadium or even the correct gate of the stadium.

The system is a mess. Many fans have reported being unable to get into the stadium or even the correct gate of the stadium.
Renowned painter, printer returns to UI

BY BRIANNA RUNYAN

Remember elementary art class, when you and your second-grade crayons into a sheet of paper and cocked your heads to admire your chosen profile of a bird or a cat being formed actual art. She’s one of the most celebrated international painters and printmakers. Lanyon will present a free lecture on her stay at the University of Iowa on Sept. 25.

Lanyon’s work, which includes a range of mediums, is well known for its use of bold colors and strong lines. She was a pioneer in the field of printmaking and is known for her innovative approach to the medium. Lanyon’s work often explores themes of identity and the human condition.

She will present a free lecture on her stay at the University of Iowa on Sept. 25. The lecture will be held at 7 p.m. in room 210 of the E-109 Art Building West. The lecture is open to the public and is free of charge.

Lanyon’s work has been featured in numerous exhibitions and she has received several prestigious awards throughout her career. She has received grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and has been selected as a fellow by the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

She was a faculty member at the University of Iowa in the 1960s and has maintained a close relationship with the university ever since.

Lanyon’s work has been widely collected and is represented in several major museum collections around the world.

The lecture is sponsored by the Department of Art and Art History at the University of Iowa and is free and open to the public.

Lanyon’s work has been featured in numerous exhibitions and she has received several prestigious awards throughout her career. She has received grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and has been selected as a fellow by the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

She was a faculty member at the University of Iowa in the 1960s and has maintained a close relationship with the university ever since.

Lanyon’s work has been widely collected and is represented in several major museum collections around the world.

The lecture is sponsored by the Department of Art and Art History at the University of Iowa and is free and open to the public.

Kevin Clark / The Daily Iowan
THIS IS NOT A DESK.

THIS IS MORE LIKE IT.

CHECK OUT OUR NEW COLLECTIONS OF DORM ROOM FURNITURE AT WALMART.COM/COLLEGE.

COLLEGE HAPPENS. BE READY.
By Diane Hendrickson
The Daily Iowan

With the first home football game of the season over, Iowa faces a number of issues it must deal with before an even bigger expected crowd invades Kinnick for the Iowa State game in 10 days.

Endless lines at student gates and problems with electronic tickets have trucked up Iowa’s recruiting

Many student Hawkeye fans are groaning about the new online football ticket system after problems arose at Kinnick on game day.

Unlikely duo wind up in Kinnick stands

Up-and-coming Hawkeyes filled in for two suspended players in the Montana game on Sept. 2, while the two starters watched the game from the stands.

We have a few new friends in the stands.

Iowa basketball coach Steve

Racette has no regrets

Iowa tennis

The Iowa senior

Iowa tennis

One with eligibility
terms remaining, career is on

BLOGGING HAWKS

Racette rendered herself ineligible.

After three years on the team, the No. 1 player decided to stay on.

I only have a semester left of school,” she said. “I’ve done tennis for so long. I wanted to experience a semester concentrating on school, working a little, and doing different things from tennis.

At first, Racette, who went 28-9 and competed in the individual NCAA championships last season, expected to return to the

I thought I was going to play so, I told him I was going to play,” Racette said.

The Iowa senior

Iowa basketball coach Steve

Although her team’s addition to his 2007 recruiting class

Aberfield’s efforts in Indiana

The Carmel, Ind., native is the

Kelly picked the Hawkeyes

The Iowa senior

… Why some tickets would

While the two starters watched the game from the stands

Kenny and I just had an

With one year of eligibility

“Playing receiver, you’re going

Iowa State’s defensive new-at the position. Brodell filled in for Grigsby, the team’s

Grigsby, the team’s

“Kenny and I just had an

them to the student

To regain his position as starter.

With one year of eligibility

“Yeah,” said Grigsby, the

Rumors surfaced on Internet

An unlikely duo wind up in

Hawk-eye football

Unlikely duo wind up in Kinnick stands

Up-and-coming Hawkeyes filled in for two suspended players in the Montana game on Sept. 2, while the two starters watched the game from the stands.

We have a few new friends in the stands.

Iowa basketball coach Steve

Although her team’s addition to his 2007 recruiting class

Aberfield’s efforts in Indiana

The Carmel, Ind., native is the

Kelly picked the Hawkeyes

The Iowa senior

Iowa tennis

One with eligibility
terms remaining, career is on

BLOGGING HAWKS

Racette has no regrets

Iowa tennis

The Iowa senior

Iowa tennis
Iowa-cross country

Frost really runs in the family

I feel honored. I feel blessed. I feel very happy having him there (at Iowa). I expect to see him maximize his potential … I know he’s going to mature under their guidance, just as I did.

— John Hairston, father of Adam Hairston, Iowa cross-country

BY ALEX JOHNSON
THE DAILY IOWAN

With the departure of five seniors from last season’s squad, the Iowa men’s cross-country team looks to several freshmen in new recruits. One of them, Adam Hairston, has practically been a Hawkeye since birth.

Hairston, from Cedar Rapids, was all-state honors for Kennedy High School, placing 10th in the state meet as a senior. He also broke Kennedy’s record time for the 5-kilometer race in the junior class and owns the second-best time for the freshman and sophomore classes as well.

“I don’t feel like a Hawkeye,” Hairston said. “I feel blessed,” his father said. “I feel very happy having him there. I think he’s going to mature under their guidance, just as I did.”

That was the extent of his father’s information, but Hairston said. But, naturally, coming from a Hawkeye family and living in Cedar Rapids, he was a Hawkeye fan.

“I grew up a Hawkeye, but I didn’t really grow up wanting to be a Hawkeye,” he said. “You know I come to the basketball games. I come to the football games. We had the shirts, the shorts, the old jerseys, and all that stuff.”

The Big Ten’s appeal went beyond the natural prestige it held family ties, as well.

“Being in the Big Ten, if we run at Illinois, I have family in Illinois, and all my dad’s family is in Columbus, Ohio,” Hairston said.

His uncle, Gordon Bachem, ran track for Iowa and recommended that Hairston attend an introductory meet. The freshman attended the time, he ran on the same Iowa team as Bachem.

All the family ties had an effect, but the strongest connexions Hairson made with the university sprang from the cross-country program and the team. The best Bachem recom-

IOWA-CROSS COUNTRY

BY TONY GATZ
THE DAILY IOWAN
Sarah Dawson is one of two former Iowa field-hockey players representing the United States on the national field-hockey squad. Dawson, a midfielder, played for the Hawkeyes from 2000-04 and was named first team All-Big Ten, All-Region, and All-American her senior season. Team USA will open World Cup play in Madrid on Sept. 27 against Argentina.

D1: Which team are you looking forward to facing in the World Cup?
Dawson: I would say Australia, because we lost to it at the World Cup last year in the U.S., so it will be a little bit of revenge for us.

D2: Is there a team that you are not looking forward to playing?
Dawson: I’m excited to play against all of them.

D3: Who are you more excited about having on the World Cup team?
Dawson: My aunt ended up marrying the coach of the World Cup team. So I was excited about having on the World Cup team.

D4: Besides playing field hockey, what are you looking forward to doing in Madrid?
Dawson: Probably just seeing the city.

D5: Better way to pass time on overseas flights, sleep or watch movies?
Dawson: Probably sleep. I don’t know if that’s funny, because I love reading. I am actually reading right now, but my favorite book is probably Bringing Down the House.

D6: What is the last movie you saw that you liked?
Dawson: Little Miss Sun-

D7: What do you do to relax in your free time?
Dawson: I like to read, watch TV, and go shopping.

D8: When you travel, what do you always need to bring with you?
Dawson: I have a little box of pictures of me and my boyfriend — and mine and nephews and my family, and I like to bring that with me everywhere.

D9: What are your plans for the future — when you are done?
Dawson: I actually have my real-estate license, so I want to be a real-estate agent. And, of course, I want to get married and have kids.

D10: I’ll add Sage to your all-time favorite book.

Sports 'n' Stuff

The strength of family ties usually never forced a Hawkeye father, but his son tried to get coach Larry Wisconsin to relay his decision.

”Actually, the first time my mom talked to coach Wisc-record time for the Wor-

talk track for Iowa and recommendations helped to cement those feelings.

“My parents and I came home from the intraquad meet in January, and I approached coach Wisconsin and told him. ‘Tim Adam Hawason, and I’m interested in the program,’ ” Dawson said.

“I know he’s going to mature under their guidance, just as I did.”

“You can’t fail there. You just can’t fail. I don’t want you to have to leave.”

— John Hairston, father of Adam Hairston, Iowa cross-country
Meg Racette hits a return as doubles partner Chelsea Glynn watches on April 16, 2004.

Two starters hope to return

FOOTBALL CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1B

When it came time to break the news, she first told head coach Daryl Greenan, and together, they made the announcement to her teammates.

"They were all understanding," Racette said. "It’s a team sport."

Taking the “athlete” out of “student-athlete” has been a smooth process for Racette. She spent her first few days doing free time working at the Hobe Boutique, 122 S. Clinton St., once a week, where she sells clothes and works the cash register.

"I didn’t like it," she said. "There’s free time to hang out with friends. You’re not always going, going, going." She said she has no regrets as far as does miss her teammates.

"We became close, kind of like a family."

Upon graduating, Racette, a communications major, originally wanted to be a private investigator.

"I did an internship this summer," she said. "But it was scary. I couldn’t see myself doing it."

Although she may be done with college tennis, Ferentz says the chance the game will be part of her future.

"I might teach tennis at a club back home," she said. "I have a good opportunity with that."

Greenan said he wasn’t shocked when Racette broke the news, because he knew she was thinking about it in December. But he did acknowledge her importance to the squad.

"Obviously, she was a great asset to the team," he said. "And she’ll be missed. We did appreciate her time apart with the team quite a bit."

Even with Racette out of the equation, Greenan expects her players to bounce back.

"Losing a No. 1 player hurts you, on paper," he said. "But, basically every position on the team is worth the same point. You win at No. 1, it’s worth a point. No. 6, worth a point."

Greenan is relying on his current roster to provide that depth.

"We’re looking to be deeper this year," he said. "We can pick up the slack by getting wins lower in the lineup.

Greenan also knows he has players waiting on the sidelines.

"They better not miss their cue — the first competition is Sept. 15 at the Gopher Invitation in Minneapolis."

"We have a few women behind who are ready to step up," he said. "They had good years last year, and someone will get a chance to shine in that No. 1 spot."

Email Darcy Racette: darcy.racette@uiowa.edu
Hoops prospects visits.

Emmanuel Negedu.

Another one, from freakishly athletic last weekend, Iowa fans can hope to receive until 2008. Iowa's already secured committions to future seasons. The Hawkeyes soaring to the rim and speeding

for the air show.

WILL BE LITTERED WITH HIGH-FLYIN' ATHLETES

OF THE FUTURE. CARVER-HAWKYE ARENA SOON

WILL BE HOST TO ONE OF THE TOP CLASSES IN

THE COUNTRY. CARVER-HAWKYE ARENA SOON

WILL BE HOST TO ONE OF THE TOP CLASSES IN

THE COUNTRY.
For Sale by Owner

1725 7th Avenue CT. - IOWA CITY

Open House Sun., Sept. 10 - 2pm

New condo in Coralville. 2 bedroom, 1 bath. Open floor plan. Gas fireplace, washer/dryer, central air, garage + street parking. 24/7 bus service and convenient to West High. Unbeatable price:

$89,500
Call (319) 631-5665

---

Ad for Apartments and Houses

Affordable Student House!

2 bedroom, 1 bath mobile home in Modern Manor. Fenced yard, wood floors, many updates. MUST SEE!!

ONLY $18,400/obo

Call 319-325-2295 for details

---

Real Estate Properties

Home for Sale

Photo of Your House/Condo/Duplex...Your Words...This Size...Fits Perfectly...RUNS FOR 6 WEEKS!

Call 335-5784
Today's Events

- Preschool Story Time, 3:30 p.m., Iowa City Public Library, 122 S. Linn
- Geographical Information System Applications for Public Health, Gerhard Ruzich, noon, 2117 Medical Education Building
- Mandatory Student Organization Meetings, 4:30 p.m., 335 and 346 IMU
- Acoustic Mayhem, 5 p.m., Chazzy Swan Bar
- Iowa City Farmers Market, 5-9 p.m., Chasen Swan Plaza
- Live from Prairie Lights, Pat Ferris, 7:30 p.m., Prairie Lights Boos, 15 S. Dubuque, and WOU
- 10 Mock Trial, 7 p.m., 10 MU
- Papal Rome and European Enlightenment, Antiquity.

To submit events e-mail daily-iowan@uiowa.edu, please put date of event in the subject and follow the format in the paper.

Horoscopes

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You're a born leader. Put the emphasis on helping others. An older individual may try to limit you. Put everything you’ve got into bringing about the changes you want to incorporate into your new ideas everyday. To succeed, you’ll need to be unselfish.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You've had a uphill battle for some time now. Do not let it wear you down. You have the potential for something great. You may be questioning your position and current motives, and redirect your energy to enable you to start working toward a better lifestyle. Overreacting or taking on the impossible will not help you get ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You may be questioning your position and current motives, and redirect your energy to enable you to start working toward a better lifestyle. Overreacting or taking on the impossible will not help you get ahead.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You may be questioning your position and current motives, and redirect your energy to enable you to start working toward a better lifestyle. Overreacting or taking on the impossible will not help you get ahead.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your willingness to try new things will be an advantage. You are looking for ways to accommodate everyone at a later date. Your ability to do five things at the same time will impress others and prove your worth.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You may have a bit of a competitive edge. Don't be afraid to make suggestions, incorporating places, people, and projects into your older ones. You will get far more done if you stay at the same pace.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Everyone will want a little piece of you. Be prepared to satisfy as many people as possible. You have taken care of even more, if you don’t cut your own time parting away.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): The sky is the limit. Your willingness to try new things will be an advantage. You are looking for ways to accommodate everyone at a later date. Your ability to do five things at the same time will impress others and prove your worth.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Some people will try to test your commitment. Don’t be afraid to make suggestions, incorporating places, people, and projects into your older ones. You will get far more done if you stay at the same pace.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You are looking for ways to accommodate everyone at a later date. Your ability to do five things at the same time will impress others and prove your worth.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Busy schedule. Overreacting or taking on the impossible will not help you get ahead.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Things will move fast — just the way you like it. Take advantage of every possibility. Say yes to everything, and you’ll sort out how you are going to accomplish everyone at a later date. Your ability to do five things at the same time will impress others and prove your worth.

TOURISM (April 20-May 20): Things are starting to level off. You should be able to put some dots together. Go for an interview, or make some headway with one of the ideas. Getting along socially is important. Don’t let anyone cause you to second-guess what you can do. GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be careful what you say and do. Someone will be watching who is likely to tell you that you do not have a thing with too much self-confidence. Get informed and keep your position. You should be able to keep bitcoins at the same time.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): If someone tries to talk you into taking a trip or making a decision, take a pause. You will get far more done if you stay at home. Accept an opportunity to develop a better connection with someone. LAMHA (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You may have a bit of a competitive edge. Don’t be afraid to make suggestions, incorporating places, people, and projects into your older ones. You will get far more done if you stay at the same pace. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Getting together with people you find interesting or children who can offer you a fresh point of view will not be a waste of time. Love can conquer all, and it will help you make the right choices.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Put the emphasis on helping others. An older individual may try to limit you. Put everything you’ve got into bringing about the changes you want to incorporate into your new ideas everyday. To succeed, you’ll need to be unselfish.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Busy schedule. Overreacting or taking on the impossible will not help you get ahead.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Things will move fast — just the way you like it. Take advantage of every possibility. Say yes to everything, and you’ll sort out how you are going to accomplish everyone at a later date. Your ability to do five things at the same time will impress others and prove your worth.

TOURISM (April 20-May 20): Things are starting to level off. You should be able to put some dots together. Go for an interview, or make some headway with one of the ideas. Getting along socially is important. Don’t let anyone cause you to second-guess what you can do. GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be careful what you say and do. Someone will be watching who is likely to tell you that you do not have a thing with too much self-confidence. Get informed and keep your position. You should be able to keep bitcoins at the same time.