The queen of the drag

Twenty-eight drag queens competed for the title of Miss Gay Iowa in Cedar Rapids this past weekend.

By REGINA ZILBERMINTS

Dominique Cass (right) performs her talent piece on Oct. 4 at the Miss Gay Iowa USofA pageant. “Being part of the gay community, female impersonation is a big part of it,” he said.

---

Fry to receive FEMA funds

Ut: Money is a great start.

By SHAWN GUDGE

Approximately $75 million in federal flood relief money will be directed to the UI via the Federal Emergency Management Agency, Iowa senator Tom Harkin recently announced. The biggest single recipients will be the Iowa Advanced Technology Laboratories' two buildings throughout the state, and throughout the University of Iowa campus, including the UI Power Plant, the $800 million threshold.

---

FEMA funds for UI

The Daily Iowan is your daily source of local news in eastern Iowa. Check out stories, photos, videos, and more. Check out our mobile app.

FEMA funds

The Daily Iowan is your daily source of local news in eastern Iowa. Check out stories, photos, videos, and more. Check out our mobile app.
The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, October 6, 2003

Volume 140  Issue 71

NEWS

New student regent appointed

A student from Cedar Rapids appointed Iowa State University student Greta Taylor as the school’s newest student regent on Oct. 3.

Taylor, 21, a junior from Le Mars, Iowa, will serve as the student regent for a two-year term as of Oct. 10, she said. The student regent’s position is largely ceremonial, with some opportunities for students to influence university policy, she said. Taylor’s experience includes involvement with the Student Government Association, American Heart Association and the Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women.

Taylor, who is a classics and natural sciences major, said she feels a university education is important for a variety of reasons, such as advancement in careers and business.

The accreditation will be in place until Oct. 19.

In honor of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, CUH is offering extended hours for mammography.

Gov. Tom Berger, 79, a Madison, Wis., breast cancer survivor, will attend the ultrasound, mammography and MRI exams and will answer questions about the painting as part of a breast cancer awareness event.

The policy, co-sponsored by Sens. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, and Jim Bunning, R-Ky., would allow candidates to run on a bipartisan ballot late in the election cycle.

Grasso said she praised the relief for efforts to avoid war with Iraq.

The Midwest needs help with disaster recovery, Grasso said in a statement.

UPLINK

The Daily Iowan (ISSN 0023-1380) is printed on Wednesday, October 8, 2003, in Des Moines, Iowa, by Des Moines Register Printing Corporation.

October 11
3 days
Local news

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Denver, Iowa, was charged Sunday with interference with police officer after the man was found near a law enforcement vehicle.

Carver Ullery, 25, 9354 Highway 58, was charged Sunday with OWI and driving while license is revoked.

Ullery was involved in a traffic crash two days before the OWI charge was filed.

Warren County Jail on a $75,000 cash-only bond, or $50,000 collateral, for first-degree harassment.

Utley is being held at the Johnson County Jail on a $25,000 bond, or $15,000 collateral, for OWI.

One man reached into the man’s pocket, searched for a gun and then struck the man, then kicked, hit, and spit on him, authorities said.

The man作了错误的叙述, so the police officer wrote up the report.

In the Iowa Census, Council Bluffs ranked third in order to get a drink of water.

When the man作了错误的叙述, the police officer asked what was wrong.

The police officer said he then drove his vehicle off the roadway and struck a telephone pole. The man then approached the vehicle, opened the door and entered the vehicle.

The police officer then grabbed the man by his hair, flipped him over his shoulder and then filed a report.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.

The police officer said the man was arrested and taken to the Johnson County Jail on a $75,000 bond, or $50,000 collateral, for OWI.
by KELLI SHAFFNER

Economic-savvy Iowans say farm is what keeps the state economy stable. Also Geweke, an UI economics professor, said his latest research shows that Iowa’s economy will likely continue its “better-than-most-states” economic trend in 2009. This, he said, is mainly because of farms.

States that rely heavily on manufacturing feel the economic ups and downs more than Iowa, the UI economist said, attributing the state’s success to selling products — some of which are farm related — in the worldwide market.

Not only does Iowa have a strong agricultural sector, it also produces biofuels, ethanol, and manufactured goods exported around the world, said Charlie King, director of the state Department of Management.

Sen. Gene Fraise, D-Ft. Madison, agreed that alternative-energy production benefits the state economy. He specifically pointed to high pay rates and tax revenue from corn and soybean production.

“Next year we may not be as flush as we were this year, but I think agriculture played a big part in Iowa’s stable economy,” he said.

Jill Lombardo said Iowa’s economic growth falls within the Midwest region.

“Iowa has always had mild winter weather and shorter booms than the rest of the country,” said Geweke, whose forecasts are based on a model that considers statistics and history.

“Human tendency is to overreact to recent events, but this forecast says look at what history has taught us,” he said, adding that history gives an indication of prediction accuracy. “If you have a recession, you can postpone buying your next car or new TV, but you still have to eat.”

Information often comes in slowly, and a lot of times gets revised, he said. For example, the most recent figures are from June, and Geweke is just now starting to see the impact of the summer floods.

“The biggest source of change in the restrooms we already have,” he said.

Geweke said that he expects personal income to increase by 5 percent in 2009, but job growth to shrink by 4 percent. These numbers are fairly typical, he said, adding that the median is anywhere between 2 and 7 percent.

Krogmeier said although he’d like to see growth in both income and amount of jobs, the state would need to see an increase in population growth to shrink by .4 percent.

The state of our state
Personal income predictions for Iowans:
- 2008: 5 percent decrease
- 2009: 1 percent increase
Job-growth predictions for Iowans:
- 2008: 4 percent decrease
- 2009: 4 percent decrease

Flood relief

Iowa City officials predict the economic trend in 2009. This, he said, is mainly because of farms.

“Better-than-most-states economy will likely continue its rise,” Krogmeier said although he’d like to see growth in both income and amount of jobs.

“Iowans should expect to see a bit of a rise, but this is the state of our state,” he said, adding that the economic outlook is good. “The biggest source of change in the restrooms we already have,” he said.

“Human tendency is to overreact to recent events, but this forecast says look at what history has taught us,” he said, adding that history gives an indication of prediction accuracy. “If you have a recession, you can postpone buying your next car or new TV, but you still have to eat.”

Information often comes in slowly, and a lot of times gets revised, he said. For example, the most recent figures are from June, and Geweke is just now starting to see the impact of the summer floods.

“The biggest source of change in the restrooms we already have,” he said.

Geweke said that he expects personal income to increase by 5 percent in 2009, but job growth to shrink by 4 percent. These numbers are fairly typical, he said, adding that the median is anywhere between 2 and 7 percent.

Krogmeier said although he’d like to see growth in both income and amount of jobs, the state would need to see an increase in population growth to shrink by .4 percent.

Iowa’s economy

The Iowa City Council is set to discuss a complex buyout process.

“The people at City Hall don’t want to put anymore stress on homeowners,” he said. “Our intent is to make the process as streamlined as possible.”

The City Council will meet tonight to discuss these programs, in addition to discussing:

• Whether the hazard-mitigation grant application should be limited to properties that meet the cost-benefit ratio.

• Whether the Jump-Start funds will be available this week to assist homeowners with the application process.

• Whether or not flood insurance should be required for properties receiving this funding.

• Whether community-development guidelines can carry over to the Jump-Start program.

Officials predict steady future for Iowa’s economy

Local homeowners seeking funding for flood-damaged homes have only a week to fill out and submit applications.

A community development staff will determine which homeowners qualify for funding from either the Jump-Start Iowa program or the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program after receiving applications throughout the week.

In a memo last week, City Manager Michael Lombardo said it’s now realistic that 30 to 45 homes may receive Federal Emergency Management Agency buyout funding.

“Iowans: Job growth predictions for 2008 and 2009
Iowans: Personal income predictions for 2008 and 2009

Source: UI economic Professor John Geweke

• Whether or not to include properties that meet the ratio, even if the owner isn’t interested in buyout funding.

• How to distribute the Jump-Start funds.

• Whether or not flood insurance should be required for properties receiving this funding.

• Whether community-development guidelines can carry over to the Jump-Start program.

Distribution of flood funds

Iowans: Job growth predictions for 2008 and 2009
Iowans: Personal income predictions for 2008 and 2009

Source: UI economic Professor John Geweke

30 to 45 homes may receive Federal Emergency Management Agency buyout funding.

“Construction of city flood walls or levees are possible uses for this additional funding, he said.

“Our preliminary cost is to protect the Parkview Terrace and Elywood neighborhoods,” he said, noting that these walls and levees may cost around $25 million.

“Hopefully, we’ll be able to help as many as possible,” he said.

City staff members will be available this week to assist homeowners with the application process.

The people at City Hall don’t want to put anymore stress on homeowners,” he said. “Our intent is to make the process as streamlined as possible.”

For more news
DOLLS CONTINUED FROM 1A

Across the yard, a maxi- mum-security shed, home to bunny-feasting alligators, pythons, boa, and others with scales and claws, sits behind a quaint home and low fences.

"People think it's such a strange combination, but really, these guys have a lot in common," said shelter owner Jennifer Doll, who noted that cats and reptiles are "the animals that nobody wants."

The shelter gets its name when Doll began doing veterinary work for local shelters and humane societies. In the proceed she began to take in special-needs kittens.

Doll's husband, Torbin, a life-long reptile enthusiast, started the reptiles.

Lizards, snakes, and alliga- tors have been rescued from illegal owners and unlicensed businesses, and some are for adoption.

Meanwhile, Witty Kitties is a sanctuary for the tropical creatures that need proper care year round.

"Rhine-stones are a huge deal," said Dena Cass, former Miss Gay Iowa, and gives Jimenez travel oppor- tunities, which he makes sure to un-tag over.

"It's like our little party every year," said Jimenez.

kept the reptile in his base- ment. When Les grew from a baby to a beast in 5 foot long, he brought him to the shelter.

"There's a whole culture around people who are into reptiles like these, but they can't always take care of them," she said. "That's why so many end up here."

Buy plans can be used to manufacture life-saving therapies for the treatment of leukemia, cancer, and many other serious illnesses.

Help is not limited to one species, but also includes other species as well.

Witty Kitties The shelter adopts animals that other shelters are reluctant to take, transplanting rescued animals.

"It's such a strange combination, but really, these guys have a lot in common," said shelter owner Jennifer Doll, who noted that cats and reptiles are "the animals that nobody wants."

The shelter gets its name when Doll began doing veterinary work for local shelters and humane societies. In the proceed she began to take in special-needs kittens.

Doll's husband, Torbin, a life-long reptile enthusiast, started the reptiles.

Lizards, snakes, and alliga- tors have been rescued from illegal owners and unlicensed businesses, and some are for adoption.

Meanwhile, Witty Kitties is a sanctuary for the tropical creatures that need proper care year round.

"Rhine-stones are a huge deal," said Dena Cass, former Miss Gay Iowa, and gives Jimenez travel oppor- tunities, which he makes sure to un-tag over.

"It's like our little party every year," said Jimenez.

kept the reptile in his base- ment. When Les grew from a baby to a beast in 5 foot long, he brought him to the shelter.

"There's a whole culture around people who are into reptiles like these, but they can't always take care of them," she said. "That's why so many end up here."

Buy plans can be used to manufacture life-saving therapies for the treatment of leukemia, cancer, and many other serious illnesses.
Two local chapters of a national organization aim to raise awareness about mental illness.

By ADAM SULLIVAN
adam-sullivan@uiowa.edu

An overcast sky and a chilly breeze didn’t keep mental-illness advocates home Sunday night.

The Johnson County and UI chapters of the National Alliance on Mental Illness held a candlelight vigil to kickoff Mental Illness Awareness Week.

Officials from the organizations as well as community members spoke to the crowd of nearly 40 about the importance of mental-illness awareness.

“I challenge each one of you to go out into your community and show that you care about mental illness,” Nyle Jessen, the co-president of the Johnson County group, told the audience. “I challenge each one of you to go out into your community and show that you care about mental illness.”

The National Alliance on Mental Illness is represented by satellite organizations in every state as well as by more than 1,000 community chapters. The group aims to eradicate mental illness and improve the quality of life of those afflicted by mental illness, according to its website.

John Mikelson, a UI veterans adviser, spoke at length about mental illness being particularly threatening to veterans.

One in eight of the 523,000 student veterans on U.S. college campuses suffer from post-traumatic stress disorder, he said, noting that there are approximately 120 veteran suicides each week — more than twice the rate of the general population.

Many speakers stressed that mental illness can often go unseen.

Speakers also discussed the negative connotations associated with mental illness.

“Challenges (of mental illness) include not only challenges from the illness itself but the challenge of stigma as well,” said Peggy Loveless, the alliance’s Johnson County vice president. “Only when the world at large is educated can we overcome that stigma.”

The National Alliance on Mental Illness at the UI and in the county are sponsoring several other events this week to honor Mental Illness Awareness Week, which runs from Oct. 5–11. All events are free and open to the public.

On Thursday, the UI Veterans Affairs Medical Center Chapel will host a presentation by John Trapp at 6 p.m. that will address self-sufficient living for people with serious and persistent mental illness.

Throughout the week, books relating to mental-health issues will be on display at Iowa Book, 8 S. Clinton.

Mercy of Iowa City Regional Physician

Hospital Organization’s (PHO) Priority Health Network includes Mercy Iowa City and these community-based physician specialties:

- Allergy and Asthma
- Anesthesiology
- Cardiology (Heart Care)
- Cardiac Surgery
- Dermatology (Skin)
- Family Medicine
- Gastroenterology (Digestive)
- General Surgery
- Gynecology
- Internal Medicine
- Neurology
- Obstetrics (Maternity)
- Oncology-Medical (Cancer)
- Oncology-Radiation (Cancer)
- Ophthalmology (Eye)

Orthopedics
Otolaryngology (Ear/nose/throat)
Pathology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy (Physical medicine)
Plastic Surgery
Podiatry
Pulmonary (Lung disorders)
Radiology
Sleep Disorders
Therapeutic Surgery
Urology
Vascular Surgery

You will find convenient, personable, cost-effective, quality health care — and a consistent physician relationship.

Choosing a physician
Selecting a health plan

University of Iowa employees have complete access to Mercy Iowa City and its affiliated community physicians throughout all U.S. health plans.

Mercy of Iowa City Regional Physician

Hospital Organization’s (PHO) Priority Health Network includes Mercy Iowa City and these community-based physician specialties:

- Allergy and Asthma
- Anesthesiology
- Cardiology (Heart Care)
- Cardiac Surgery
- Dermatology (Skin)
- Family Medicine
- Gastroenterology (Digestive)
- General Surgery
- Gynecology
- Internal Medicine
- Neurology
- Obstetrics (Maternity)
- Oncology-Medical (Cancer)
- Oncology-Radiation (Cancer)
- Ophthalmology (Eye)

Orthopedics
Otolaryngology (Ear/nose/throat)
Pathology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy (Physical medicine)
Plastic Surgery
Podiatry
Pulmonary (Lung disorders)
Radiology
Sleep Disorders
Therapeutic Surgery
Urology
Vascular Surgery

You will find convenient, personable, cost-effective, quality health care — and a consistent physician relationship.

Choosing a physician
Selecting a health plan

University of Iowa employees have complete access to Mercy Iowa City and its affiliated community physicians throughout all U.S. health plans.

Mercy of Iowa City Regional Physician

Hospital Organization’s (PHO) Priority Health Network includes Mercy Iowa City and these community-based physician specialties:

- Allergy and Asthma
- Anesthesiology
- Cardiology (Heart Care)
- Cardiac Surgery
- Dermatology (Skin)
- Family Medicine
- Gastroenterology (Digestive)
- General Surgery
- Gynecology
- Internal Medicine
- Neurology
- Obstetrics (Maternity)
- Oncology-Medical (Cancer)
- Oncology-Radiation (Cancer)
- Ophthalmology (Eye)

Orthopedics
Otolaryngology (Ear/nose/throat)
Pathology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy (Physical medicine)
Plastic Surgery
Podiatry
Pulmonary (Lung disorders)
Radiology
Sleep Disorders
Therapeutic Surgery
Urology
Vascular Surgery

You will find convenient, personable, cost-effective, quality health care — and a consistent physician relationship.

Choosing a physician
Selecting a health plan

University of Iowa employees have complete access to Mercy Iowa City and its affiliated community physicians throughout all U.S. health plans.

Mercy of Iowa City Regional Physician

Hospital Organization’s (PHO) Priority Health Network includes Mercy Iowa City and these community-based physician specialties:

- Allergy and Asthma
- Anesthesiology
- Cardiology (Heart Care)
- Cardiac Surgery
- Dermatology (Skin)
- Family Medicine
- Gastroenterology (Digestive)
- General Surgery
- Gynecology
- Internal Medicine
- Neurology
- Obstetrics (Maternity)
- Oncology-Medical (Cancer)
- Oncology-Radiation (Cancer)
- Ophthalmology (Eye)

Orthopedics
Otolaryngology (Ear/nose/throat)
Pathology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy (Physical medicine)
Plastic Surgery
Podiatry
Pulmonary (Lung disorders)
Radiology
Sleep Disorders
Therapeutic Surgery
Urology
Vascular Surgery

You will find convenient, personable, cost-effective, quality health care — and a consistent physician relationship.

Choosing a physician
Selecting a health plan

University of Iowa employees have complete access to Mercy Iowa City and its affiliated community physicians throughout all U.S. health plans.

Mercy of Iowa City Regional Physician

Hospital Organization’s (PHO) Priority Health Network includes Mercy Iowa City and these community-based physician specialties:

- Allergy and Asthma
- Anesthesiology
- Cardiology (Heart Care)
- Cardiac Surgery
- Dermatology (Skin)
- Family Medicine
- Gastroenterology (Digestive)
- General Surgery
- Gynecology
- Internal Medicine
- Neurology
- Obstetrics (Maternity)
- Oncology-Medical (Cancer)
- Oncology-Radiation (Cancer)
- Ophthalmology (Eye)

Orthopedics
Otolaryngology (Ear/nose/throat)
Pathology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy (Physical medicine)
Plastic Surgery
Podiatry
Pulmonary (Lung disorders)
Radiology
Sleep Disorders
Therapeutic Surgery
Urology
Vascular Surgery

You will find convenient, personable, cost-effective, quality health care — and a consistent physician relationship.

Choosing a physician
Selecting a health plan

University of Iowa employees have complete access to Mercy Iowa City and its affiliated community physicians throughout all U.S. health plans.

Mercy of Iowa City Regional Physician

Hospital Organization’s (PHO) Priority Health Network includes Mercy Iowa City and these community-based physician specialties:

- Allergy and Asthma
- Anesthesiology
- Cardiology (Heart Care)
- Cardiac Surgery
- Dermatology (Skin)
- Family Medicine
- Gastroenterology (Digestive)
- General Surgery
- Gynecology
- Internal Medicine
- Neurology
- Obstetrics (Maternity)
- Oncology-Medical (Cancer)
- Oncology-Radiation (Cancer)
- Ophthalmology (Eye)

Orthopedics
Otolaryngology (Ear/nose/throat)
Pathology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy (Physical medicine)
Plastic Surgery
Podiatry
Pulmonary (Lung disorders)
Radiology
Sleep Disorders
Therapeutic Surgery
Urology
Vascular Surgery

You will find convenient, personable, cost-effective, quality health care — and a consistent physician relationship.

Choosing a physician
Selecting a health plan

University of Iowa employees have complete access to Mercy Iowa City and its affiliated community physicians throughout all U.S. health plans.

Mercy of Iowa City Regional Physician

Hospital Organization’s (PHO) Priority Health Network includes Mercy Iowa City and these community-based physician specialties:

- Allergy and Asthma
- Anesthesiology
- Cardiology (Heart Care)
- Cardiac Surgery
- Dermatology (Skin)
- Family Medicine
- Gastroenterology (Digestive)
- General Surgery
- Gynecology
- Internal Medicine
- Neurology
- Obstetrics (Maternity)
- Oncology-Medical (Cancer)
- Oncology-Radiation (Cancer)
- Ophthalmology (Eye)

Orthopedics
Otolaryngology (Ear/nose/throat)
Pathology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy (Physical medicine)
Plastic Surgery
Podiatry
Pulmonary (Lung disorders)
Radiology
Sleep Disorders
Therapeutic Surgery
Urology
Vascular Surgery

You will find convenient, personable, cost-effective, quality health care — and a consistent physician relationship.
McCaın's role model—or maybe not quite

George W.
John McCain, like many Americans who should know better, is an extraordinarily attractive and charming man. Theodore Roosevelt. He is a kindred spirit of the impulsive volunteer soldier, whether he likes it or not. But the Theodore Roosevelt of some of TR’s successors by no means Rousseau, has a lot of friends. I think it's safe to say that McCain is a friend of mine. His friends are not mere acquaintances. They are friends of his. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a long time. They are friends of his for a reason. They are friends of his for a reason.
Comedian Kathy Griffin said a flood couldn’t stop her dick jokes, and she was right. Her Oct. 4 performance, relocated to Carver-Hawkeye Arena from Hancher Auditorium, was vulgar, acerbic, and all of the things her audience came to hear.

By MERYN FLUKER

Sometimes, between calling the cast of “Desperate Housewives” to task, telling the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences to suck it, and going Give Sarah Palin the finger, Kathy Griffin might have toiled on the line.

“I never learn. I never learn,” she said, as middle of her approximately 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Oct. 4. Griffin went from making fun of “Big Love” actress Chloe Sevigny — who, Griffin says, has “the Dead Eyes” — and “Extreme Home Makeover” star carpenter and dream-making ty Pennington, whom she alluded to as “having a ‘girlfriend’ named Crystal that allows him to build houses in a third world country” to snuck a meth joke in during a 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, from Hancher Auditorium, was vulgar, acerbic, and all of the things her audience came to hear.

By MERYN FLUKER

Sometimes, between calling the cast of “Desperate Housewives” to task, telling the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences to suck it, and going Give Sarah Palin the finger, Kathy Griffin might have toiled on the line.

“I never learn. I never learn,” she said, as middle of her approximately 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Oct. 4. Griffin went from making fun of “Big Love” actress Chloe Sevigny — who, Griffin says, has “the Dead Eyes” — and “Extreme Home Makeover” star carpenter and dream-making ty Pennington, whom she alluded to as “having a ‘girlfriend’ named Crystal that allows him to build houses in a third world country” to snuck a meth joke in during a 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, from Hancher Auditorium, was vulgar, acerbic, and all of the things her audience came to hear.

By MERYN FLUKER

Sometimes, between calling the cast of “Desperate Housewives” to task, telling the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences to suck it, and going Give Sarah Palin the finger, Kathy Griffin might have toiled on the line.

“I never learn. I never learn,” she said, as middle of her approximately 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Oct. 4. Griffin went from making fun of “Big Love” actress Chloe Sevigny — who, Griffin says, has “the Dead Eyes” — and “Extreme Home Makeover” star carpenter and dream-making ty Pennington, whom she alluded to as “having a ‘girlfriend’ named Crystal that allows him to build houses in a third world country” to snuck a meth joke in during a 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, from Hancher Auditorium, was vulgar, acerbic, and all of the things her audience came to hear.

By MERYN FLUKER

Sometimes, between calling the cast of “Desperate Housewives” to task, telling the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences to suck it, and going Give Sarah Palin the finger, Kathy Griffin might have toiled on the line.

“I never learn. I never learn,” she said, as middle of her approximately 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Oct. 4. Griffin went from making fun of “Big Love” actress Chloe Sevigny — who, Griffin says, has “the Dead Eyes” — and “Extreme Home Makeover” star carpenter and dream-making ty Pennington, whom she alluded to as “having a ‘girlfriend’ named Crystal that allows him to build houses in a third world country” to snuck a meth joke in during a 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, from Hancher Auditorium, was vulgar, acerbic, and all of the things her audience came to hear.

By MERYN FLUKER

Sometimes, between calling the cast of “Desperate Housewives” to task, telling the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences to suck it, and going Give Sarah Palin the finger, Kathy Griffin might have toiled on the line.

“I never learn. I never learn,” she said, as middle of her approximately 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Oct. 4. Griffin went from making fun of “Big Love” actress Chloe Sevigny — who, Griffin says, has “the Dead Eyes” — and “Extreme Home Makeover” star carpenter and dream-making ty Pennington, whom she alluded to as “having a ‘girlfriend’ named Crystal that allows him to build houses in a third world country” to snuck a meth joke in during a 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, from Hancher Auditorium, was vulgar, acerbic, and all of the things her audience came to hear.

By MERYN FLUKER

Sometimes, between calling the cast of “Desperate Housewives” to task, telling the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences to suck it, and going Give Sarah Palin the finger, Kathy Griffin might have toiled on the line.

“I never learn. I never learn,” she said, as middle of her approximately 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Oct. 4. Griffin went from making fun of “Big Love” actress Chloe Sevigny — who, Griffin says, has “the Dead Eyes” — and “Extreme Home Makeover” star carpenter and dream-making ty Pennington, whom she alluded to as “having a ‘girlfriend’ named Crystal that allows him to build houses in a third world country” to snuck a meth joke in during a 90-minute set at Carver-Hawkeye Arena, from Hancher Auditorium, was vulgar, acerbic, and all of the things her audience came to hear.
A bit of Germany, with foam

Local brews and foreign tradition attract a diverse crowd to Amana.

By MARY HARRINGTON

AMANA — If you brew it, they will come.

And over this past weekend, thousands came to Amana to sample the beers of Oktoberfest — sometimes, more than a sample. Over 30,000 beer aficionados attended the festival, continuing the trend of a steady increase in attendees over the past five years, said Jon Childers, the president of Merchants of Amana.

The festival-goers were diverse in style. In line for brats and kraut, through the roar of "Prost" and the beer sloshing clanks of heavy glass mugs. Rows of long tables filled a barn where polka tunes were played, medieval flags hung from rafters, and while Christmas lights illuminated support beams.

And although the celebration seemed humorously reminiscent of some bizarre new world at a Disneyland theme park — Germany-land meets rural Iowa mainstreet — it was not lacking in authenticity. "The food, the drink — it is just like home," said Freddie Walda, a native of Germany.

Walda took a break from his accordion performances at the festival to enjoy some of Millstream Brewery’s Oktoberfest beer with members of the Bavarian Musikmeisters polka group. The festival did not appear to be an unrelated tourist trap to Amana locals. Businesses see steep increases in foot traffic and sales during the annual fall celebration.

"Every alcoholic in Amana is here," rang the voice of a polka singer, through the roar of "Prost." "We all come for the beer — what else?" said Harold Marzolf, raising a 32-ounce mug into the air.

Steins similar to Marzolf’s were sold out by midday Oct. 4. And Becky Tranter, who has sold beer at the event the last two years, said 700 steins were purchased for the event — around twice as many as last year.

"They’re all here," Tranter said. "Every alcoholic in Amana is here."
Hawkeyes lose another close one

Despite smothering Michigan State running back Javon Ringer, the Hawkeyes lost their third-straight game, 16-13.

By RYAN YOUNG

EAST LANSING, Mich. — For the second week in a row, turnovers and missed opportunities hurt the Hawkeyes, as they lost at Michigan State, 16-13, and dropped to 0-2 in the Big Ten.

Iowa never held a lead against the Spartans on Oct. 4 but found itself having a chance to come away from Spartan Stadium late with the victory.

The Hawkeyes' defense put them in a position to win, but like the offense, they struggled early on.

A face-mask penalty on junior linebacker A.J. Edle, followed by a 50-yard completion from Michigan State quarterback Kirk Cousins to running back B.J. Cunningham, set up the Spartans' only touchdown of the game, a 4-yard score from Hoyet to take a 7-0 lead.

From there, however, the defense would keep big plays to a minimum. After Michigan State jumped out to a 7-0 first-quarter score, the Spartans were able to put together more scoring drives en route to coming off-first-half turnovers, and the third

Greene takes the blame

By RYAN YOUNG

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Even with the nation's third-largest rushing attack backing them, the Iowa offense still couldn't outscore Michigan State in a 16-13 defeat.

But after amassing 157 yards on a career-high 30 carries for a career-straight 100-yard game, Shonn Greene gave his personal best for better than the better of Spartan tailback Javon Ringer — at least for 60 minutes.

In Greene's eyes, though, he fell one yard short of his personal best. With the Hawkeyes facing a fourth-and-1 on the Spartan 21 in the final two minutes of the fourth quarter, Greene was called upon to keep the drive alive.

Instead, he was tackled for a three-yard loss that effectively ended the game.

"That last play, I should have been able to get that first down," he said. "I take that on my back. I should have been able to get that. I didn't get it done.

His most recent performance, however, has pleased him in a unique fashion.

"The product of football is winning," he said. "I know there are more teams that are winning on their own."

For playing 'to win', Greene receives the blame.

By BRENDAN STILES

Hawkeye defensive end Adrian Clayborn (right) and linebacker Christian Smith celebrate after forcing a fumble from Michigan State running back Javon Ringer (20) on the start of the next play near the beginning of the fourth quarter on Oct. 4 at Michigan State. In the play that followed, Spartan running back Javon Ringer ran for a 29-yard touchdown, putting the Spartans in the lead.

"We ran the ball real well, but we still got to finish it," quarterback Kirk Ferentz said after the game. "We understand that everybody's got to get in the red zone, you got to score points."

Junior wide receiver Brandon Wegher agreed, highlighting the Hawkeyes' offense on the road this season.

"I want to be able to put this team on my back and go," he said. "I want to be able to put this team on my back and go."
Women’s golf finishes second

The Iowa women’s golf team found some positives in this past weekend, despite falling to win its Hawkeye Invitational.

By ALRISHA AVITHE

Six strokes steady kept the Hawkeyes in the lead and in first place at the Hawkeye Invitational. The Hawkeyes shot 291-288-289 and won the event.

In the past, the Hawkeyes have been given a scholarship of off each competition, but this year it would have belonged to the Hawkeyes. Iowa Coach Kelly Crawford knows this, but she also has to be the brighter side of her team’s performance.

“It's disappointing that we didn't win our home event again for the second year in a row and to not up the number that we did,” Crawford said. “But we're always going for the silver lining.”

That silver lining came in a few different areas this past weekend: Allison Cavanagh turned her tournament around on Sunday, carding a 71 after pulling a 73 during her second round on Friday and Saturday. The Hawkeyes’ final five games will be more difficult than their first five games against only one ranked opponent.

“The Hawkeyes’ final five games of the season are going to be more difficult than the first five games,” Crawford said. “We'll have a similar stretch to start the season, where they are going to face four highly ranked home in their first four games Iowa finished tournament against No. 4 North Carolina, 5-2, last year, and No. 9 Michigan State.

The No. 5 Iowa field hockey team (10-2, 4-0) won its eighth game in a row Sunday on Grant Field to equal the longest winning streak in school history. Crawford said that the Tracy Groteska era, heading toward Missouri State, 6-0. The eight goals are tied for the second-most goals scored on the season for the Hawkeyes, onlyCoue by the 9-0 game against Central Michigan on Sept. 19. Prior to Sunday’s win, the Hawkeyes scored their second win in the Big Ten Oct. 3, when they beat stranded Nebraska, 2-0. The two shutouts accounted for the fourth and fifth shutout of the year for senior goalie Lissa Munley.

“Tina Lesia played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back. Crawford knows this, but she also has to be the brighter side of her team’s performance.

“I think Tina played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

Against Northwestern and the second year in a row and to not win our home event again for the second year in a row and to “Tina Lesia played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

“I think Tina played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

Against Northwestern and the second year in a row and to not win our home event again for the second year in a row and to “Tina Lesia played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

“I think Tina played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

Against Northwestern and the second year in a row and to not win our home event again for the second year in a row and to “Tina Lesia played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

“I think Tina played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

Against Northwestern and the second year in a row and to not win our home event again for the second year in a row and to “Tina Lesia played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

“I think Tina played a good game in goal, but it’s a hard game to play when you don’t get a lot of shots,” Groteska said following the Northwestern game where she made up 57 shots in both games. “I had some breaks and that’s golf — it happens though miscues held Iowa back.

Against Northwestern and the second year in a row and to not win our home event again for the second year in a row and to
Ferentz made the correct play call

CONTINUED FROM 1B

Iowa running back Shonn Greene carries the ball in the third quarter against Michigan State on Oct. 4 in East Lansing, Mich. Greene rushed the ball for 157 yards as Iowa battled to a disappointing defeat, 16-13.

DEFENSE CONTINUED FROM 1B

Greene shoulders blame for loss

Physically, Iowa was unable to keep Michigan State from scoring to a 16-13, Spartans.

Michigan State coach Mark Dantonio complimented his only offensive line pass run诺 before the Big Ten.

We're going to get him to do it, too.

As he should have.

Iowa was unable to get Greene or his entire offense in the best position to steal a road victory in the Big Ten and ruin Michigan State's Homecoming.

The longest field-goal attempt this season by Mossbrucker is from 39 yards, but Ferentz didn't trust his best player to go up the middle instead of cutting to the outside, but that's neither here nor there. Could you imagine how much more heat Ferentz would be feeling right now if he went for the tie on fourth-and-one, and Trent Mossbrucker, a true freshman, missed that 38-yard field-goal attempt? Fans would be screaming "bloody murder" because he didn't trust his best player — or his entire offense in general — to get one yard.

Ferentz was trying to put his team in the best position to win by having the confidence in Greene to pick up that first down. Even though Greene was unsuccessful, at least the Hawkeyes' best player had a shot at helping his team to victory in crunch time.

Now earlier in the fourth quarter, there was a fourth-and-2 on the Spartans' 27-yard line. The result was a three-yard loss after quarterback Kirk Cousins completed a pass to wide receiver Devin Smith. Realization, only to be met up by Spartan defenders.

Spartans, these aren't two teams, in fact, last year, the Hawkeyes and Spartans played a game that went to double overtime before Iowa pulled away, and the Hawkeyes trailed at one point in that contest, 20-13. I'm pretty sure the coaching staff kept that in mind when making the decisions they made.

On a day the Hawkeyes never led, yet had a shot to steal a road victory in the Big Ten and ruin Michigan State's Homecoming, Ferentz played "to win the game." Just as he should have.

Greene could have scored to a 16-13, Spartans.

We're going to get him to do it, too.

Iowa was unable to get Greene or his entire offense in the best position to steal a road victory in the Big Ten and ruin Michigan State's Homecoming.

The longest field-goal attempt this season by Mossbrucker is from 39 yards, but Ferentz didn't trust his best player to go up the middle instead of cutting to the outside, but that's neither here nor there. Could you imagine how much more heat Ferentz would be feeling right now if he went for the tie on fourth-and-one, and Trent Mossbrucker, a true freshman, missed that 38-yard field-goal attempt? Fans would be screaming "bloody murder" because he didn't trust his best player — or his entire offense in general — to get one yard.

Ferentz was trying to put his team in the best position to win by having the confidence in Greene to pick up that first down. Even though Greene was unsuccessful, at least the Hawkeyes' best player had a shot at helping his team to victory in crunch time.

Now earlier in the fourth quarter, there was a fourth-and-2 on the Spartans' 27-yard line. The result was a three-yard loss after quarterback Kirk Cousins completed a pass to wide receiver Devin Smith. Realization, only to be met up by Spartan defenders.

Spartans, these aren't two teams, in fact, last year, the Hawkeyes and Spartans played a game that went to double overtime before Iowa pulled away, and the Hawkeyes trailed at one point in that contest, 20-13. I'm pretty sure the coaching staff kept that in mind when making the decisions they made.

On a day the Hawkeyes never led, yet had a shot to steal a road victory in the Big Ten and ruin Michigan State's Homecoming, Ferentz played "to win the game." Just as he should have.
The Iowa Hawkeyes made their best attempt to claw back from a 13-point deficit but came up short in East Lansing on Oct. 4, falling to Michigan State, 16-13. The loss drops Iowa to 0-2 in the Big Ten.
Men's soccer sweeps two

HAWKEYE SPORTS

Men's golf heads to Notre Dame

For more sports you need your house that pack of five running closer past, and that showed with some good potential," Anderson (16:50.70) and Eilers right behind her. Spencer-Perry finishing in 14th. Perry and freshman Brooke Eilers experience, and hopefully, we will win a conference championship," Bierich felt they did not play poorly before finishing up with a final set of 18 holes at the host course, Warren Golf Course, on Tuesday.

Senior Cole Powell once again will lead the Hawkeyes, who are currently ranked 16th in the country in the third annual Fighting Irish Classic Sunday.

As with last week's IU Shoehorn, the team will be more focused on finishing well instead of winning.

"We ran late and really felt that we did not play poorly before finishing up with a final set of 18 holes at the host course, Warren Golf Course, on Tuesday."

"The second round of the pre-qualifiers, Reinoud Haal. For the second week in a row, the Hawkeyes came through in the second with a score of 24 strokes, or 70 strokes. The par score for 18 holes Tuesday. The par score for 18 holes Tuesday. The teams will play 36 holes today before finishing up with a final set of 18 holes at the host course, Warren Golf Course, on Tuesday.

"The second round of the pre-qualifiers, Reinoud Haal. For the second week in a row, the Hawkeyes came through in the second with a score of 24 strokes, or 70 strokes. The par score for 18 holes Tuesday. The teams will play 36 holes today before finishing up with a final set of 18 holes at the host course, Warren Golf Course, on Tuesday.

"The second round of the pre-qualifiers, Reinoud Haal. For the second week in a row, the Hawkeyes came through in the second with a score of 24 strokes, or 70 strokes. The par score for 18 holes Tuesday. The teams will play 36 holes today before finishing up with a final set of 18 holes at the host course, Warren Golf Course, on Tuesday.

"The second round of the pre-qualifiers, Reinoud Haal. For the second week in a row, the Hawkeyes came through in the second with a score of 24 strokes, or 70 strokes. The par score for 18 holes Tuesday. The teams will play 36 holes today before finishing up with a final set of 18 holes at the host course, Warren Golf Course, on Tuesday.

Results from the PostgreSQL Summer Tourney are featured in the this weekend's victory, the teams with a score of 99 points. Washington won the meet with a score of 165, followed by Michigan and Wisconsin.

"Our land... our brand"

"Our land... our brand"
the ledge

The orange floating on the surface of the water in the center of the fish pond is a beloved fixture, attracting visitors from all around the Lakeview.