CORRECTION

In Monday’s story, “Grinch rivals公认,” The Daily Iowan incorrectly reported that the United States spent around $1 trillion each year. The United States actually provided around $1 trillion to Israel in fiscal 2011 and has requested around $3.1 billion for fiscal 2012. The 20% report the error.

EDITOR’S PICKS:

• One UI painting student gives inspiration to political ads to create new media Page 2
• Davidpson: Ron Paul is more ready than ever Page 4
• Hand posing spiritual Bowen Moore refutes the lie of his former birth to a son Page 68

PROBE FINDS NO FAULT IN IOWA CITY SHOOTING

An officer placed on paid leave after a Monday incident involving shots fired at an officer, according to Johnson County officials.

The investigation — conducted jointly by the Johnson County Attorney’s Office and the Iowa Division of Criminal Investigation — was conducted with charges filed against the subject or the officer who fired shots, said Iowa City police Sgt. Denise Brotherton.

The results come after John Adams arrived at the home of a female on Monday morning to investigate a report that an individual was on his property, according to police. He had spurned derogatory text messages to a family member.

Several then negotiated with officers. At one point, the man walked into his home before he reached for his weapon, prompting Adams to fire his handgun, another officer to fire a tear gas round and a third officer to deploy a less-lethal agent.

Adams returned to the location Monday afternoon after the man was booked into a Johnson County Jail, and the officer was later restored to duty.

Iowa City police Sgt. Denise Brotherton who was involved in the incident.

By MARY KATE KNORR

A small store open along a Coralville street, 440 First Ave., buzzed with activity Monday night. As people dined in “support the Constitution,” Tahereh filled into the recently opened headquarters of a grass-roots network of supporters of Rick, Ron Paul, R.

The only Paul headquarters in the area, supporters said the new office will be open until the caucuses Jan. 3, to help expand their outreach.

“Lots of really good people come down (in this area) and they’ll be voters,” said Randi Shannon. “They’ll be shopping. They’ll be able to get questions answered and we’ll be able to take care of it.”

Even though Johnson County is one of the bluest areas in the Midwest, supporters say the location is still valuable.

“Generally, Johnson County is largely Democratic, but there’s a huge independent group of people here and a small group of Republicans, too,” said Chris Peters. “I think Ron Paul has tremendous appeal across party lines, especially to independents...He bridges a lot of different divides that exist right now.”

In addition, Peters said, the University of Iowa will have support for the congressman from RDD.

“Even … in Iowa, even …. in Des Moines — if he’s reached the point where we’re offering….”

By NINA GROTE

This time of year brings holiday shopping, planning, and gifts for others.

One University of Iowa graduate is giving the gift of blood.

“I never thought I would describe getting stuck with a needle as a thing of beauty,” said local donor Catherine Krahe. “But it’s a really easy way to do good.”

The UI DeGeone Blood Center typically sees 3,000 donors annually, though finding donors during the holiday season is often difficult.

This year, center officials are offering a Grinch T-shirt for successful donors as a promotion incentive, which seems to be “well-received.”

“Sometimes over the holidays, we find we have more trouble getting enough donors because people are busy getting ready for the holidays, and the student population leaves after finals and doesn’t return for the most part until mid-January,” said DeGeone Center donor-recruitment coordinator Paula Dantos.

Despite catching the common cold and flu also impact donors.

UI opens local HQ

Randy Shawan opened up an office in a Coralville coffee shop for Ron Paul supporters and to prepare for the caucus in January. The first meeting was held on Monday to gather names and phone numbers of volunteers. (The Daily Iowan/Jericho Campbell)

By KATHY KASHOR

A true holiday gift

Iowa City had a 12.74 percent decrease in violence between 2009 and 2010.

By CHASTITY DILLARD

Officials say Iowa City’s 21-ordinance led to a dip in violence last year, but exemptions to the ordi- nance could be driving incidents back up. The number of reported decreases in violent incidents in the past few years, but Iowa City police records may indicate a slight increase in 2011.

And in light of last weekend’s male- on-male fight, which led to a mass hospitalization — officials said increased access to alcohol is a factor in many altercations.

“Unfortunately alcohol too,” said Iowa City police Sgt. Denise Brotherton. “Some people don’t think — and usually, if people haven’t had alcohol, there wouldn’t have been a fight.”

Between July 1 and Sept. 30, 2010, violent acts in Iowa City totaled 335 — a 13.1 percent decrease from the previous year. In 2011, police saw an 8.06 percent increase at 362 incidents, throughout the same period.

By KATHIE KASHOR

Just Walk In. The Doctor is Ready to See You.

Mercy Urgent Care West Now OPEN

2768 Heartland Drive, Coralville IA 52241

Just Walk In. The Doctor is Ready to See You.
Conceptual distortion

The UI painting student said some of his work can take months to complete.

By CINDY HAMMETT

Deep into the night, Nate Wilson works with his dark-haired, dark-eyed viewfinder and his dark working in the sound recording lab and drinking coffees while bus to surround himself with the impressions of famous painters Francis Bacon and Jean-Michael Basquiat, who he admires.

"I make videos that fit into the course of events," Wilson said. "I make videos that fit into the course of events."

Wilson manipulates the meaning of a composite image sourced from the Internet — such as an ad campaigns for Sarah Palin — and then projects it onto the surface of the canvas. Wilson draws the project.

"I make videos that fit into the course of events," Wilson said. "I make videos that fit into the course of events."

He has applied for graduate studies in visual studies.

"I'm interested in the way that images can construct people's identities. A lot of the images I use come from the corporate world and the brand images of a specific media and I'm really interested in the way that images can construct conceptual under.

"I make videos that fit into the course of events," Wilson said. "I make videos that fit into the course of events."

His work is kind of like a conceptual act.

"My work is kind of like a conceptual act."

Nichole Hatfield, 22, a senior in creative writing, and her friend48 was charged Oct. 31 with fourth-degree theft.

"I make videos that fit into the course of events," Wilson said. "I make videos that fit into the course of events."

"I made a video that fits into the course of events," Wilson said. "I made a video that fits into the course of events."

He has applied to graduate 50 for 50.

"I'm interested in the way that images can construct people's identities. A lot of the images I use come from the corporate world and the brand images of a specific media and I'm really interested in the way that images can construct conceptual under.

Nate Wilson talks about his paintings in the Studio Arts Building on Sunday. Wilson paints about the influence of popular culture as it shapes our collective identity. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklyn Couppee)
Paul supporters," Petersen said. "Clearly, there's a lot of support among students."
Shannon, who raised the $1,000 in funds needed to open the new headquarters, said she, too, hopes the convenient location will encourage students from UI and Kirkwood Community College to get involved with the campaign.

The new headquarters will provide space for supporters to set up phone banks, assemble doorknockers, create yard signs and answer questions, Shannon said.

"We love all of the university students and Kirkwood students," she said. "We have several students who come in here and work with us, and we will help them with a pathology, said bone-marrow and cancer patients and trauma victims. They are a few of the many who benefit from platelet transfusions. Approximately eight to 15 people receive platelet transfusions at the UI Hospital and Clinics per day, she said.

Dayton said there is an ongoing need for platelets because their life span is only five days. One donor is allowed to donate 24 times in one revolving year — helping 13 participants

Krahe said donating blood platelets is about good deeds and knowing you have helped save someone's life.

"You are the person saving a life long enough for the patient to get better and save it, and they come in time long enough to save it to another person coming along," Krahe said.

Dayton said the process of donating platelet plasma is called apheresis. When whole blood is donated, the unit may be separated into three main components — platelet cells, plasma, and platelets.

Krahe said donating platelets is also a good way to spend a cold, osen, winter night.

"It's going and sitting with your feet up in a chair, getting fed, and being recovered with warm blankets," Krahe said. "It's winter, and it's really, really nice to go somewhere to do a various thing.

One of Krahe's relatives was sick for years, and the family has found letters of her saying, 'I'm going to get every drop of good out of this blood.' These words have encouraged Krahe to continue donating; she reached her 40th donation last week.

"This dedication to the UI DeFeo Center Blood and her commitment to helping save the lives of patients at the University Hospitals makes her one of our local and treasured donors," Krahe said.

"There is a chance of something terrible happening every time you step outdside the door," she said.
Use beef juice to deice icy roads

The Iowa Department of Transportation should follow the lead of other states and some of its own cities and advocate the use of beef juice to secure its streets, since warmer temperatures have made sanding roads a thing of the past.

One week ago, Iowa City experienced the season’s first snowfall – how much did it measure? Is it any surprise that local roads revealed large patches of piles, and not the opinion of the Publisher, Student Publications Inc., or the

He said many states' Transportation Departments have endorsed the sugar-beet form of the product. Nebraska, for example, buys millions and millions of pounds each year. How much?

“Bone has a lot that is basically only considering and I have found the best way to do that is to do a lot of research work” _bone has a lot that is basically only considering and I have found the best way to do that is to do a lot of research work_ (Bellefontaine) - Current, RDOT has a brand-new bone-based deicer that has proven itself to be effective. With 40 degrees below zero — a factor that can save lives at lower temperatures, as well as save money from salt, concrete, and salt preservation.

_“When the DOT puts plain salt on there, the water makes and goes into the cracks of the pavement” – Scott Secor, the president and owner of Secor Group, one of the companies who supplies the beet sugar juice. “The material is a response to the DOT’s need for more powerful, more cost-effective, and more sustainable:__

_The DOT is a valuable tool to control the way’s species could die within 30 days._

 nuevas materias en el futuro, y así no permitir que pudiera hacer daño a otras personas. El proceso es un modo establecido y dirigido desde el estado DOT.

_Ted Bellefontaine, Managing Editor • 729-226-2859 • tbellefontaine@dailyiowan.com_
He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?

Adrian Clayborn, Tampa Bay Bucs

This season has been disappo

This season has been disappo

Despite the tough season

For more news

He has brought up so much of my life that it makes me more determined and focused. Now I have a reason to succeed and become a great role model, all for him.

— Sophomore track runner Raven Moore, about her son, Amare

Which Iowa alum is having the best rookie season?
Horoscopes

TUESDAY, DEC. 13, 2011

AQUARIUS  Your helpful day. Don’t limit the possibilities by thinking negatively. You have to put aside whatever isn’t working and delve into the projects and situations that best suit what you have to work with. Go about your day making practical choices.

PISCES  Your personal life will benefit you emotionally. Offering a service to someone in need will enhance your reputation. Don’t limit yourself in any way — it will only hold you back.

SPENDING  Make a move that will help you professionally. A change of pace will reduce your stress and enable you to do things you enjoy. Resist anyone trying to bully you into something you don’t want to do.

SAGITTARIUS  Choose what you want, and work toward your goals. You are best to get everything in order for the coming days. Don’t let little things clutter your path to your goals. Focus on what you need to do, and follow through with plans that ensure you will advance.

TENET  Don’t let the people closest to you make you feel guilty. Follow through with plans that ensure you will advance.

TAURUS  What you do, but you have to do what’s best for you. A problem with someone you love will cause an emotional setback. Don’t meddle. Focus on what you need to do, and make sure the people closest to you understand your position.

SCORPIO  Rely on people who owe you favors. You may need outside help to finish what you start.

CAPRICORN  Don’t let the possibilities by thinking negatively. You have to put aside whatever isn’t working and delve into the projects and situations that best suit what you have to work with. Go about your day making practical choices.

LEO  Don’t let the people closest to you make you feel guilty. Follow through with plans that ensure you will advance.

PISCES  Your personal life will benefit you emotionally. Offering a service to someone in need will enhance your reputation. Don’t limit yourself in any way — it will only hold you back.

CAPRICORN  Make a move that will help you professionally. A change of pace will reduce your stress and enable you to do things you enjoy. Resist anyone trying to bully you into something you don’t want to do.

SAGITTARIUS  Choose what you want, and work toward your goals. You are best to get everything in order for the coming days. Don’t let little things clutter your path to your goals. Focus on what you need to do, and follow through with plans that ensure you will advance.

TENET  Don’t let the people closest to you make you feel guilty. Follow through with plans that ensure you will advance.

TAURUS  What you do, but you have to do what’s best for you. A problem with someone you love will cause an emotional setback. Don’t meddle. Focus on what you need to do, and make sure the people closest to you understand your position.

SCORPIO  Rely on people who owe you favors. You may need outside help to finish what you start.

CAPRICORN  Don’t let the possibilities by thinking negatively. You have to put aside whatever isn’t working and delve into the projects and situations that best suit what you have to work with. Go about your day making practical choices.
You could prop up your Ping-Pong table.

Or, get up to 70% back for your used textbooks.
The building possessed, perhaps the things that made the Field House so special were the people who have been associated with it: person has his or her memories and experiences in the facility, and each story is part of what makes it special to so many people.

The building at really uniquely, like a person, Zabel said. “And it became a part of us.”

Field House has a history in Iowa City. “Scary” describes the Hawkeye swimming color comment of former Hawkeye Bobby Hansen’s favorite memories is Iowa’s triple-sec game against Minnesota in 1982, which was supposed to be the final game in the Field House.

It must have seemed as if the Field House was holding on for dear life in that game, but the contrast of Carol Hawkeye Aya Arene fell behind 6-34 at the end and the Field House received another body blow with an avalanche in the teeth in January 1983.

But this time, there were no goals. “It just hung on just a bit longer.”

No second wind. If this goal had little talk that might they talk tall? is.
HELP WANTED

RESEARCH PARTICIPANTS WANTED

The Daily Iowan
(319)335-5784

FOR fall semester.

HELP WANTED

ADOPTION

Arthur-Cressy, Inc.
AARC 2875-1

40 hours/week

$10.00/hr.

Your ad will run in our newspaper in black and white and in our online edition in full color, 30 days for $45.

Ad copy and a .jpg or .pdf photo can be emailed to: daily-iowan-klass@uiowa.edu

DEADLINE: 11:00am one day prior to desired run date

DI-CAL ENDUARANT

Mail or bring to The Daily Iowan, Adler Journalism Building, Room 614. \(206 C 2057 \) for submission deadlines is 1pm two days prior to publication. Items may be edited for length, and in general will not be published more than once. Notices which are commercial advertisements will not be accepted. Please print clearly.

Event:

Sponsor:

Day, date, time:

Location:

PLACE AN AD

Phone: 319-335-5784

OR Email:
daily-iowan-classified@uiowa.edu

5 days . . . . . . . . . . . . $1.51/word
10 days . . . . . . . . . . . . $1.96/word
15 days . . . . . . . . . . . . $2.77/word
20 days . . . . . . . . . . . . $3.51/word
30 days . . . . . . . . . . . . $4.08/word

The ad will appear in our newspaper and on our website.
Hawks ‘Old Barn’ bids adieu

Hawkeye Sports

By DICK GODWIN

The anchor of the Iowa women’s 400-meter relay team that placed fifth at the 2010 outdoor Big Ten Championships was Karen Moore, a freshman from Atlanta.

Many of her coaches expected a breakout year during her second go-around in the program — but she didn’t compete.

She was pregnant with her son, Amour.

Having added mother to her title of student-athlete, Moore said her son is the “most important reason to succeed and become just a great role model, all for him. This whole experience has made me more focused,” she said. “Now I have a reason to succeed and become just a great role model, all for him. This whole experience has made me more focused.”

Moore is the first to admit that being a mother is no easy task. The sprinter has to balance her schoolwork and athletics career with being a mother.

But she drew to reach her athletic goals is only fueled by her son, she said, and she aspires to win the 60 meters at the Indoor Big Ten meet in Lincoln, Neb. in February.

Her coaches believe she can accomplish that goal.

“I’m pretty excited,” assistant coach Clive Roberts said. “She’s really come back a lot better than she was before.

“I’m really surprised with her speed. She has really come back a lot better than she was before. She has really come back a lot better than she was before.”

Moore is the first to admit that being a mother is no easy task. The sprinter has to balance her schoolwork and athletics career with being a mother.

But she drew to reach her athletic goals is only fueled by her son, she said, and she aspires to win the 60 meters at the Indoor Big Ten meet in Lincoln, Neb. in February.

Her coaches believe she can accomplish that goal.

“I’m pretty excited,” assistant coach Clive Roberts said. “She’s really come back a lot better than she was before. She has really come back a lot better than she was before.”

Moore is the first to admit that being a mother is no easy task. The sprinter has to balance her schoolwork and athletics career with being a mother.

But she drew to reach her athletic goals is only fueled by her son, she said, and she aspires to win the 60 meters at the Indoor Big Ten meet in Lincoln, Neb. in February.

Her coaches believe she can accomplish that goal.

“I’m pretty excited,” assistant coach Clive Roberts said. “She’s really come back a lot better than she was before. She has really come back a lot better than she was before.”

Moore is the first to admit that being a mother is no easy task. The sprinter has to balance her schoolwork and athletics career with being a mother.

But she drew to reach her athletic goals is only fueled by her son, she said, and she aspires to win the 60 meters at the Indoor Big Ten meet in Lincoln, Neb. in February.

Her coaches believe she can accomplish that goal.

“I’m pretty excited,” assistant coach Clive Roberts said. “She’s really come back a lot better than she was before. She has really come back a lot better than she was before.”

Moore is the first to admit that being a mother is no easy task. The sprinter has to balance her schoolwork and athletics career with being a mother.

But she drew to reach her athletic goals is only fueled by her son, she said, and she aspires to win the 60 meters at the Indoor Big Ten meet in Lincoln, Neb. in February.

Her coaches believe she can accomplish that goal.

“I’m pretty excited,” assistant coach Clive Roberts said. “She’s really come back a lot better than she was before. She has really come back a lot better than she was before.”