Sports graduation rate high

What the Iowa House is discussing the day-to-day business of the legislature, focusing on high school and college graduation rates. The story discusses the impact of gun control on public opinion and polling. It mentions polling data on gun control and graduation rates, with a focus on the role of the media in shaping public opinion.

GOP fired up about gun law

Republican leaders in the Iowa House are pushing to enshrine the right to keep and bear arms in the state Constitution. The story mentions specific legislation and the rationale behind it, including the role of the media in shaping public opinion.

Celebrating some firsts

The University of Iowa hired its first black professor, Phil Hubbard, in 1954. The story discusses the significance of this milestone and its impact on the university's history.

Guns

There are numerous opportunities out there for gun rights advocates to stay involved in the fight for gun rights. The story mentions specific legislation and the rationale behind it, including the role of the media in shaping public opinion.

What’s Inside

The INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA COMMUNITY SINCE 1868

IN AND OUT

Both Iowa basketball teams were involved in blowouts on Thursday. The women won, The men get real — they were at Northwestern.

SIGHTS

Sports graduation rate high

Graduation Success Rate

Percentage of NCAA student-athletes who earned college degrees within six years, according to the division’s most recent study. The rate for Iowa is 20 percent, well below the national average of 62 percent.

Michelle Obama does the Interlude Dance with fitness expert Bob Harper and Des Moines area children. Michelle started the kick off of her “Let’s Move” campaign in Des Moines on Thursday. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklin Coupee)

Read the story on page 5.

The INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA COMMUNITY SINCE 1868

WHAT’S INSIDE

The INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA COMMUNITY SINCE 1868

IN AND OUT

Both Iowa basketball teams were involved in blowouts on Thursday. The women won, The men get real — they were at Northwestern.

SIGHTS

Sports graduation rate high

Graduation Success Rate

Percentage of NCAA student-athletes who earned college degrees within six years, according to the division’s most recent study. The rate for Iowa is 20 percent, well below the national average of 62 percent.

Michelle Obama does the Interlude Dance with fitness expert Bob Harper and Des Moines area children. Michelle started the kick off of her “Let’s Move” campaign in Des Moines on Thursday. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklin Coupee)

Read the story on page 5.

The INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA COMMUNITY SINCE 1868

WHAT’S INSIDE

The INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA COMMUNITY SINCE 1868

IN AND OUT

Both Iowa basketball teams were involved in blowouts on Thursday. The women won, The men get real — they were at Northwestern.

SIGHTS

Sports graduation rate high

Graduation Success Rate

Percentage of NCAA student-athletes who earned college degrees within six years, according to the division’s most recent study. The rate for Iowa is 20 percent, well below the national average of 62 percent.

Michelle Obama does the Interlude Dance with fitness expert Bob Harper and Des Moines area children. Michelle started the kick off of her “Let’s Move” campaign in Des Moines on Thursday. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklin Coupee)

Read the story on page 5.
Some football tickets go up

The price of in-person Iowa football tickets will rise an average of 3.2 percent for the 2012 season, the Hawkeye Athletics Department said during an an- nouncing of the Presidential Committee on Athletics on Thursday.

"We'll charge $328 for season tickets, no better, no worse, no in between," said athletic director Gary Barta.

"The price of in-person football tickets will rise 3.2 percent for the 2012 season, the Hawkeye Athletics Department said during an announcing of the Presidential Committee on Athletics on Thursday."

TOP STORIES

1. Notebook:Percent talks new coaches, Coker hopeful
2. Iowa football struggle with organ transplant matches
3. UI public safety official addresses Hawkeyes concerns to Staff Council
4. Letters to the Editor:*5. Iowa Opera House Project visits Emplert

---

METRO

Some football tickets go up

The price of in-person Iowa football tickets will rise an average of 3.2 percent for the 2012 season, the Hawkeye Athletics Department said during an announcing of the Presidential Committee on Athletics on Thursday.

"We'll charge $328 for season tickets, no better, no worse, no in between," said athletic director Gary Barta.

"The price of in-person football tickets will rise 3.2 percent for the 2012 season, the Hawkeye Athletics Department said during an announcing of the Presidential Committee on Athletics on Thursday."

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---

Some football tickets go up

---

BLOTTED

---
So I have to question where will we go from here. I've heard people say, two years ago, said, "The process of changing the Constitution takes years, so this will benefit Republican politicians for more than those who voted for them." However, Winstead and Iowans across the political spectrum have contacted legislators far more than those who voted for them. Many legislators that this is what their constituents want.

Jacoby said. "The fact is this resolution, leaving it to give up the fight. It's still some- thing people are con- tending. The Only One exhibit will be on display at the African-American Museum of Iowa in Cedar Rapids until Dec. 31.

As an African-American, I've lived on the East Coast, the West Coast, all coasts. I've encountered less racism here than anywhere else in the nation. I lived in Chicago 10 years before I came here. I was stopped by officers routinely ... (It was) just a normal thing." — Iowa City resident James Hicks

African-American Museum and Visitor Center far more than those who voted for them. Many legislators that this is what their constituents want.

As an African-American, I've lived on the East Coast, the West Coast, all coasts. I've encountered less racism here than anywhere else in the nation. I lived in Chicago 10 years before I came here. I was stopped by officers routinely ... (It was) just a normal thing." — Iowa City resident James Hicks

The process of changing the Constitution takes years, so this will benefit Republican politicians for more than those who voted for them. However, Winstead and Iowans across the political spectrum have contacted legislators far more than those who voted for them. Many legislators that this is what their constituents want.

As of the 2010 census, Johnson County was 86 percent white and just under 5 percent black, a 1.9 percent increase over 2000. Iowa City resident James Hicks, who grew up in Gary, Ind., said he has lived in Iowa City since the 1990s and has found the city more accepting than the Johnson County community still needs to be to more welcoming toward people in disadvantaged or minority populations. "One man was talking (and said), 'It really makes me think back on my time and realize how much things have changed but also how much things still need to progress,' " said Megan McCullum, education and outreach coordinator at the Johnson County Historical Society. "That's why it's an important story to tell. It's not over and done with. It's still some- thing people are con- tending. The Only One exhibit will be on display at the African-American Museum of Iowa in Cedar Rapids until Dec. 31.

As an African-American, I've lived on the East Coast, the West Coast, all coasts. I've encountered less racism here than anywhere else in the nation. I lived in Chicago 10 years before I came here. I was stopped by officers routinely ... (It was) just a normal thing." — Iowa City resident James Hicks

The process of changing the Constitution takes years, so this will benefit Republican politicians for more than those who voted for them. However, Winstead and Iowans across the political spectrum have contacted legislators far more than those who voted for them. Many legislators that this is what their constituents want.

As of the 2010 census, Johnson County was 86 percent white and just under 5 percent black, a 1.9 percent increase over 2000. Iowa City resident James Hicks, who grew up in Gary, Ind., said he has lived in Iowa City since the 1990s and has found the city more accepting than the Johnson County community still needs to be to more welcoming toward people in disadvantaged or minority populations. "One man was talking (and said), 'It really makes me think back on my time and realize how much things have changed but also how much things still need to progress,' " said Megan McCullum, education and outreach coordinator at the Johnson County Historical Society. "That's why it's an important story to tell. It's not over and done with. It's still some- thing people are con- tending. The Only One exhibit will be on display at the African-American Museum of Iowa in Cedar Rapids until Dec. 31.

As an African-American, I've lived on the East Coast, the West Coast, all coasts. I've encountered less racism here than anywhere else in the nation. I lived in Chicago 10 years before I came here. I was stopped by officers routinely ... (It was) just a normal thing." — Iowa City resident James Hicks

The process of changing the Constitution takes years, so this will benefit Republican politicians for more than those who voted for them. However, Winstead and Iowans across the political spectrum have contacted legislators far more than those who voted for them. Many legislators that this is what their constituents want.

As of the 2010 census, Johnson County was 86 percent white and just under 5 percent black, a 1.9 percent increase over 2000. Iowa City resident James Hicks, who grew up in Gary, Ind., said he has lived in Iowa City since the 1990s and has found the city more accepting than the Johnson County community still needs to be to more welcoming toward people in disadvantaged or minority populations. "One man was talking (and said), 'It really makes me think back on my time and realize how much things have changed but also how much things still need to progress,' " said Megan McCullum, education and outreach coordinator at the Johnson County Historical Society. "That's why it's an important story to tell. It's not over and done with. It's still some- thing people are con- tending. The Only One exhibit will be on display at the African-American Museum of Iowa in Cedar Rapids until Dec. 31.

As an African-American, I've lived on the East Coast, the West Coast, all coasts. I've encountered less racism here than anywhere else in the nation. I lived in Chicago 10 years before I came here. I was stopped by officers routinely ... (It was) just a normal thing." — Iowa City resident James Hicks

The process of changing the Constitution takes years, so this will benefit Republican politicians for more than those who voted for them. However, Winstead and Iowans across the political spectrum have contacted legislators far more than those who voted for them. Many legislators that this is what their constituents want.
Letters to the Editor

WALK THE TALK AND DROP THE BULL

 warrants a response. I think I was unclear in my last email on May 12 about the role that segregation remains in our communities. It is not just about the physical separation of races, but about the mental and emotional distance between groups. As an institution, it is important that we continue to work towards creating an inclusive and welcoming environment for all students, regardless of race or ethnicity.

— Mark Adams

SUPPORT LOCAL BUSINESS

gain such a low rating. I have had a number of pleasant and enjoyable interactions with the staff there, and I encourage others to give them a chance.

— Janelle Smith

WHAT TO BUY IN A MARKET?

ights, and it is essential to choose products that are fresh and high-quality.

— Sarah Johnson

APPROVAL OF THE HEALTHY LIVING PROGRAM

ary. In my opinion, the program is a great way to promote health and wellness in our community. I encourage others to take advantage of the opportunities offered by the program.

— David Green

ANTIVACCINE VOTE

havior. It is a mistake to hold political beliefs over personal health and safety. I urge people to consult with their healthcare providers and make informed decisions about vaccination.

— Emily Smith

SOURCE OF CHEMICALS

the safety of our planet and future generations. I hope this information will help others make informed decisions about their sources of chemicals.

— Peter Johnson

APPROVAL OF THE HEALTHY LIVING PROGRAM

to make healthy choices. The program offers a variety of resources and support to help people achieve their goals. I applaud the efforts of those who are working to make our community a healthier place for all.

— Jane Smith

APPROVAL OF THE HEALTHY LIVING PROGRAM

with this information and encourage others to do the same.

— John Smith

APPROVAL OF THE HEALTHY LIVING PROGRAM

having a positive impact on their lives. I encourage others to participate in the program and see the results for themselves.

— Lisa Green
Let’s Move’ hits DM

First lady Michelle Obama kicked off her “Let’s Move’ tour in Des Moines on Thursday at the Wells Fargo Arena. In honor of the event, they gave her a giant fruit cake. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklyn Couppee)

Gov. Terry Branstad pro- pounded initiative is a clear: to make Iowa the healthiest state in the country. “It has everything we want to do in the country by 2016.” He said. “This is a reason we wanted to come here to Iowa to be with all of you,” Obama said. “And that’s because Iowa is exactly what Iowans are doing, he said. “And it’s relaxed in the nation,” he said. “It has inspired people young and old to come together and make wellness a priority. We’re all in this together.”

First lady Michelle Obama kicked off her “Let’s Move” tour in Des Moines on Thursday at the Wells Fargo Arena. In honor of the event, they gave her a giant fruit cake. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklyn Couppee)

First lady Michelle Obama thanked her “Let’s Move” tour in Des Moines on Thursday at the Wells Fargo Arena. In honor of the event, they gave her a giant fruit cake. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklyn Couphee)

As a member of the Committee, you will:
- Select and recruit prominent speakers to visit Iowa City
- Manage a public outreach for the speaker
- Work with the UI community to maximize the speaker’s impact

APPLICATIONS DUE: FRIDAY, DEC 24 4:00 p.m.

For an application visit the University Lectures website to apply. Please contact Canvass speaker Craig Just. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklyn Couphee)

‘Let’s Move’ hits DM

Gov. Terry Branstad pro- pounded initiative is a clear: to make Iowa the healthiest

First lady Michelle Obama thanked her “Let’s Move” tour in Des Moines on Thursday at the Wells Fargo Arena. In honor of the event, they gave her a giant fruit cake. (The Daily Iowan/Jacklyn Couppee)

As a member of the Committee, you will:
- Select and recruit prominent speakers to visit Iowa City
- Manage a public outreach for the speaker
- Work with the UI community to maximize the speaker’s impact

APPLICATIONS DUE: FRIDAY, DEC 24 4:00 p.m.

For an application visit the University Lectures website to apply. Please contact Canvass speaker Craig Just.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Friday, February 10, 2012 - 5
today's events

- Garrison Pilch, 9 a.m., 12 Oct.
- Max Bullington, Social Security of the Future, 23-25 p.m., Biology Building East
- Bautista Day, “The Hormone of the Mind: Stress and the Immune System,” Jan. 21, 7:30 p.m., Old Brick, 26 E. Market
- Gillen D’Arcy Wood, 3 p.m., 5 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- Sallek Girgis, 3 p.m., 5 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- The Seven Sorrows of Mary, 6 p.m., 8 p.m., Englert Theatre, 221 E. Washington
- In the Next Room (The Moors), 6 p.m., 8 p.m., Englert Theatre, 221 E. Washington
- Writer Workshops Reading - D.A. Powell, poetry, 5 p.m., Dec. 6, 7 p.m., Raven Bar, Los Voltage, Mighty Jazzman, 3rd Floor, 5 p.m., Dec. 6, 7 p.m., Raven Bar, Los Voltage
- World Community, The History of the Plow, 6:30 p.m., 8 p.m., 101 Biology Building East
- Mamatre and the Global Climate Dystopia, 6:30 p.m., 8 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- Wine Tasting, 7 p.m., Yacht Club, 13 S. Linn
- Valentine’s Ballroom Social, 8 p.m., 10 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- The Way, 8 p.m., 9 p.m., Randy’s Beach Bar, Los Voltage, Mighty Jazzman, 3 p.m., 5 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- People Brothers Band and Christian Cole, 6 p.m., 8 p.m., Old Brick, 26 E. Market
- The Reasons Behind the Unplugged Show, 6 p.m., 8 p.m., The Blue Moose, 211 Iowa Ave.
- Chinese Famine Poetry and the Global Historical Experience, 7 p.m., 9 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- Jeffrey E. Ketterson, Indiana University, 3 p.m., 5 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- Degree Centipede, 8 p.m., 10 p.m., 5 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- TURAS Kids, 8 a.m., 10 a.m., 5 p.m., IMU, 7:30 p.m., River Center
- The Seven Sorrows of Mary, 6:30 p.m., 8 p.m., Englert Theatre, 221 E. Washington
- In the Next Room (The Moors), 6 p.m., 8 p.m., Englert Theatre, 221 E. Washington

SUBMIT AN EVENT
Want to see your super special event mentioned in The Daily Iowan? Submit the details at dailyiowan.com/pages/calendarsubmit.html

In expanding the field of knowledge we but send the ledger
— by Eugenia Last

get the ledger

the ledger

the ledger

the ledge

The Daily Iowan
www.dailyiowan.com

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Friday, February 10, 2012

I HUNGRY?

Check out The Daily Iowan Dining Guide only at dailyiowan.com

 horoscopes

TUESDAYS

We ask what we wish to see. Critics can be constructive if we are open to suggestions. The more freedom you allow others, the more they will do for you. A change in your personal plans will lead to an exciting new adventure.

MARCH 21-APRIL 19

PISCES

You are ready to lead. The impression you make will put you in the running for a position that will bring you greater status and financial freedom.

SCORPIO

Someone you have known for a long time will make a suggestion that you might want to consider. It’s the kind of idea that you will find interesting. It might be related to a hobby or a dream. It’s a good opportunity to explore something new.

VIRGO

You may be feeling a bit lackadaisical today. You might not be motivated to do much of anything unless someone suggests something or helps you. You may feel the need to do something that you enjoy. It’s a good day to relax and enjoy yourself.

LEO

This is a great day to relax and enjoy yourself. You might want to spend some time with friends or family. It’s a good day to take a break from work or other responsibilities.

GEMINI

You might want to spend some time outside today. It’s a good day to enjoy nature and breathe in some fresh air. You might also want to spend some time with friends or family.

TAURUS

You might want to spend some time with friends or family. It’s a good day to enjoy nature and breathe in some fresh air. You might also want to spend some time with friends or family.

AQUARIUS

You might want to spend some time with friends or family. It’s a good day to enjoy nature and breathe in some fresh air. You might also want to spend some time with friends or family.

SAGITTARIUS

You might want to spend some time with friends or family. It’s a good day to enjoy nature and breathe in some fresh air. You might also want to spend some time with friends or family.

CAPRICORN

You might want to spend some time with friends or family. It’s a good day to enjoy nature and breathe in some fresh air. You might also want to spend some time with friends or family.

Aries

You might want to spend some time with friends or family. It’s a good day to enjoy nature and breathe in some fresh air. You might also want to spend some time with friends or family.

TEN THINGS

1. Keep your eye on the prize.
2. Don’t let others dictate your actions.
3. Stick to your goals and work towards them.
4. Don’t let others’ opinions affect you.
5. Keep your priorities straight.
6. Don’t let others’ opinions affect you.
7. Stick to your goals and work towards them.
8. Keep your eye on the prize.
9. Don’t let others dictate your actions.
10. Stick to your goals and work towards them.
The Daily Iowan
WWE摔跤手Nick Dureau speaks to the media during the Hawkeyes’ annual media day this week. Dureau made his NCAA debut last weekend, but was shut down with an elbow injury. The Daily Iowan/Ben Smith

DAILY IOWAN
WOMEN’S B’BALL
CONTINUED FROM 10

Thode said the disappointment of not seeing their season come to an end was something that everyone knows it’s not going to be the one person who fills her shoes. It’s something you see in any sport. Dureau stepped up last game, now this game时间段 stepped up with scoring.

“Whatever night it is, I just hope I will find that role to fill in.”

Daily Iowan/iowa

Hawks aim for sharp times
Jeff Thode set a school record at last year’s Husky Invitational, and he hopes to do the same this weekend.

By ELON GANNAKORDOS

The Iowa men’s track team will drive its roster across the country for the second weekend in a row, with the bulk of the Hawkeyes to head to Austin, Texas, for the South By Sea 4 meet on March 9-10 in Lincoln, Neb.

No. 4 Iowa at

DAILY IOWAN

WRESTLING
CONTINUED FROM 10

thode is the deepest he’s been in the 3,000-meter last year in Seattle, but high on the

EARN YOUR WAY

Hawks aim for sharp times
Jeff Thode set a school record at last year’s Husky Invitational, and he hopes to do the same this weekend.

If you’re interested in attending one of the sectional meets, please call the meet director at 515-294-2920.

Hawks aim for sharp times
Jeff Thode set a school record at last year’s Husky Invitational, and he hopes to do the same this weekend.

If you’re interested in attending one of the sectional meets, please call the meet director at 515-294-2920.

Hawks aim for sharp times
Jeff Thode set a school record at last year’s Husky Invitational, and he hopes to do the same this weekend.

If you’re interested in attending one of the sectional meets, please call the meet director at 515-294-2920.

Hawks aim for sharp times
Jeff Thode set a school record at last year’s Husky Invitational, and he hopes to do the same this weekend.

If you’re interested in attending one of the sectional meets, please call the meet director at 515-294-2920.
Hot Hawkeyes dooms Gophers

 Officials of the upcoming National Duals are trying to change the model of college wrestling's season.

By SAN LOURNADE

Tony Ramos knows the success of his season will largely come down to a pair of individuals matches. The place he achieves at the Big Ten and NCAA championships will determine how Ramos’ excellent season is ultimately viewed.

But the Hawkeyes more also know what excites wrestling fans most — and isn’t it compe...

Iowa used an early run to stave off Minnesota without star Jaime Printy.

By SAM LOUWAGIE

Froshman guard Melissa Dwan was in the starting lineup again for Printy; and she helped the perimeter defense stay strong, the Hawkeyes limited the second time this season that the Hawkeyes limited four of their region. They'll be...

Iowa pitcher Nick Brown thought he was suffering from just another injury, so he used his elbow and rested his arm.

By MATT COZZI

Iowa senior Sam Loe Lopez drives past Minnesota guard Kiera Reiford in Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Thursday. Lopez scored 20 points in the Hawkeyes’ 75-58 victory. (Daily Iowa/Melissa Wilson)