UI climber falls at Rec

A UI student reportedly is seriously injured, but recovering after plummeting 30-40 feet from the Rec Center rock climbing wall.

By Nick Hasket

Spencer Bean, an experienced rock climber, took to the climbing wall at the Campus Recreation & Wellness Center late last week — something friends say he does several times a week. But on this climb, the University of Iowa senior somehow fell 30-40 feet, almost leaving him paralyzed.

Bean, described by his brother as an experienced climber, reportedly fell from the wall on the night of Nov 8. Though details of the exact nature of the incident are still unclear, he was rushed to UI Hospital & Clinics in critical condition and has since undergone an eight-hour surgery.

His brother, Josh Bean, said Spencer is “in a ton of pain,” but his positive attitude persists.

One official at the center said the rock wall was closed following the fall. According to a UI police incident report, a personal injury occurred after the fall.

UI junior Andrew Lange said he was just leaving the Rec Center after climbing when he saw Spencer fall.

Lange and climbers at the wall used a belay system, which relies on a person on the ground feeding rope out to allow climbers to ascend. The system is designed to prevent climbers from falling very far, but Lange said something slipped.

“I just went right back to grab my water bottle when he landed a foot in front of me,” he said. “I was just going back to grab my water bottle when he landed a foot in front of me,” he said.

However, Lange said Spencer seemed aware of what was happening after the fall.

“Right after he hit [the floor] he was conscious, aware, alert,” he said.

UI student Spencer Bean climbs during a trip Moab, Utah, with Touch the Earth last spring. (Contributed Photo/Josh Bean) (Below) The climbing wall at the Campus Recreation & Wellness Center is empty Sunday. The wall is closed until further notice because of the fall. (The Daily Iowan/Var Serrit)

Leak mystifies UI official

Some student-athletes say their interactions with Gray were positive and normal.

By BREN DRiftIN

University of Iowa spokesman Tom Moss said the alleged sexual misconduct was not linked to the Iowan's previous role as an assistant athletics director. Moss said the investigation was conducted with the proceeds as an internal personnel matter. Moss also said the documents were not supposed to be released, and are not in the public record.

“I have no knowledge of how that occurred,” Moss said about the Press-Citizen obtaining the documents.

Gray, an associate director of athletics student services at the UI, resigned last week amid reported allegations of sexual harassment and misconduct.

The documents state that the investigation yielded a conclusion stating Gray had violated the University’s Policy of Sexual Harassment. The conclusion was based on numerous incidents including Gray’s alleged interactions with student-athletes that involved inappropriate touching and behavior that was deemed non-professional.

UI. Gray admitted that he had given tickets and other gifts to student-athletes for sexual favors with behavior that was deemed non-professional. Other alleged incidents included exchanging football tickets for sexual favors with an individual who is not affiliated with the UI. Gray admitted that he had given tickets and other gifts to student-athletes for sexual favors with behavior that was deemed non-professional. Other alleged incidents included exchanging football tickets for sexual favors with an individual who is not affiliated with the UI.

Leak would not be discussed further.

UI student Spencer Bean climbs during a trip Moab, Utah, with Touch the Earth last spring. (Contributed Photo/Josh Bean) (Below) The climbing wall at the Campus Recreation & Wellness Center is empty Sunday. The wall is closed until further notice because of the fall. (The Daily Iowan/Var Serrit)
organizations receive all of their funds from the University of Iowa. Student organizations have a special status as collaboratively funded groups. Students recognize only eight students on campus currently enjoy this status.

Hawks’ Nest, the Indian Student Alliance, and Wifi Out went in their student organization budget proposals last week to the Iowa Student Government and the Executive Council of the National Student Association. While these organizations cannot receive the entire $29,000 in funds from UISG and the Executive Council this year, they have received the final allocation of the eight collaboratively funded organizations. “We are valuaable to this campus, and we do create diversity and an inclusive environment for all,” said Jostna Dash, the president of the Cornhusker Student Alliance. “We do create diversity and an inclusive environment for all,” said Jostna Dash, the president of the Cornhusker Student Alliance. “We are

Volume 144                                          Issue 99

Call: (319) 335-6063

BLOOMER

Cynthia Louwagie 335-5848

Metro: (319) 335-6050

Advertising sales staff

Juli Krause 335-5784

Business Manager

Design editor

Emily Busse 335-6030

Managing editor

Photo editors

Sam Lane 335-5855

Metro editors

Sam Louwagie 335-5848

Arts editor

Volume 144                                          Issue 99

Call: (319) 335-6063

BLOOMER

Cynthia Louwagie 335-5848

Metro: (319) 335-6050

Advertising sales staff

Juli Krause 335-5784

Business Manager

Design editor

Emily Busse 335-6030

Managing editor

Photo editors

Sam Lane 335-5855

Metro editors

Sam Louwagie 335-5848

Arts editor

the year. Dance Marathon will be held Nov. 24 and one of the couples will be at a business in Coral Ridge Mall. Check for more information.

A North Liberty man has been charged with burglary.

Busted

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

Student groups to learn their fate

Busted

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

Student groups to learn their fate

The total value of the property stolen was valued at over $1,000 before the release of evidence.

By Jerry Roland

Busted

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

Student groups to learn their fate

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

Student groups to learn their fate

Pay less for college next semester.
CollegeBargain.com

Pay less for college next semester.
CollegeBargain.com

Pay less for college next semester.
CollegeBargain.com

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

Student groups to learn their fate

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

Student groups to learn their fate

By Rishik Bh. Jaiswal

Pay less for college next semester.
CollegeBargain.com

Pay less for college next semester.
CollegeBargain.com

Pay less for college next semester.
CollegeBargain.com
 veterinarians are remembered for their service. However, some officials say Veterans Day, or Armistice Day, as it was originally called, has more depth than that.

“I think the public’s appreciation of service to the community, what it’s like to be a community member, has increased since the Vietnam War,” Flaherty said. “People don’t understand their situa- tion when you come back from war. There’s a social awkwardness when you come back with horrific rates of PTSD.”

“Veterans for Peace. It’s aremembrance day Thirteen million soldiers were killed in WWII, and that was absolutely horri- ble. We need to recognize the horror of war, but that was mostly over, because WWII didn’t prevent another war from happening.”

“Veteran remembrance ceremonies were held throughout the year. Veterans for Peace organized Iowa City events in which a bell rang 11 times in remembrance on Nov. 11 at 11 a.m.”

— Officials said it is im- portant to preserve older veterans’ stories.

“Will veterans, Korean War veterans, are doing Vietnam War veterans are doing much earlier than they should,” Flaherty said. “Veterans need to hear them speak.”

— Officials hope that speak- ing out about their time in war will help educate the public on the true experi- ences of being a veteran.

“I think the public’s ap- preciation of veterans has increased since the Viet- nam War,” Flaherty said. “Thank you.”
Sanctioned by two businessmen: and indeed the world was driven your estimate of who should have leagues in the Senate. from her Republican col- sor and architect of the 2012 election was Eliza- adjusted annually for inflation using the federal. It is possible, though, that these numbers could The center's functions will end believes majority of the 50. That's why the power of a poverty-ly, we should do all we can to help those in need. Antipoverty measures. The center affects our lives, the majority of voters did include a considerably smaller proportion. As advocates, including the provincial- ly, many students have been placed through programs, Hef-
Tony Pagliai, the next in line to head the business, agreed. "If it wasn't for the customers over the past 50 years, we wouldn't be here," he said. "It doesn't matter how good your food is, if you don't have anybody to eat it, you don't have anything." Fifty years of business attests to a customer base that does enjoy the food. "I've never told anybody through our budget and impact on the budget. Let's decisions besides the my objections during the process for rehashing run- get along very well. Gray was a key member of the department’s decisions because the impact on the budget. "We are going to have communication with supervisors, and work through our budget and find other areas to trim," Weipert said. "Some way, somehow, we'll make sure we get our budget." Pagliai said one of those ways could be passing a budget amendment, which would draw from county reserves, but regardless of the solution, he wants to improve communication with the board during his term, which begins Jan. 2. Pagliai’s Pizza Pagliai’s Pizza has called Iowa City home for 50 years, and time has changed some things. • When it first opened, a 12-inch pizza cost 85 cents. • A 14-inch cost $1.25. • Today, a 12-inch cheese costs $1.25. Source: More info at Pagliai’s official website. The government has to have the budget, and he has thumbed his nose at it. "I talked with [Slockett]," said Peter Gray. "I hope it's a success, because if we lose the last dollars he gets a chance to waste." Slockett couldn’t say if the committee’s comment Sunday night was based on a “diligent Slockett’s email with a response” but said the budget shortfall will be addressed by Weipert or from the county’s reserves. Slockett further in said that both Rettig and Sullivan were “extraordi- narily unprofessional and rude” in their behavior to- worth buying our technology.” New auditors Grady Slockett couldn’t be reached for comment Sun- day evening. Rettig said had Slockett consulted with the de- partment they would have gone through a claims process, and bid out to local vendors, which could have possibly lowered the cost of the technology. Rettig said bad Slockett consulted with the de- partment they would have gone through a claims process, and bid out to local vendors, which could have possibly lowered the cost of the technology. "I talked with [Slockett] about doing his best to live within bottom line of his budget," supervisor Terrence Neuzil said. "We’ll have more teeth in the game when it gets to March and April next year." "I’ve never told anybody the grant money was their to stand apart from other businesses in Iowa City. "We grind all our meats fresh daily — we use the best ingredients we can. The pizza is the same from the day we started," said Peter Gray. "Some pizza revi- we are now fortuitous for our customer base," he said. "We have a lot of good customers that are very thankful for [Weipert] in Iowa City. "We grind all our meats fresh daily — we use the best ingredients we can. The pizza is the same from the day we started," said Peter Gray. "Some pizza revi-
Boxscore

Purdue 7 7 10 3 27
Iowa 0 7 14 3 24

First & Second-Quarter

Purdue — Shavers 3-yard run (McCartney kick), 5:30

Second Quarter

Iowa — Bullock 1-yard run (Meyer kick), 9:43
Purdue — Holmes 9-yard pass from Marve (McCartney kick), 4:43

Third & Fourth-Quarter

Purdue — McCartney 36-yard field goal, 10:23
Iowa — Fiedorowicz 5-yard pass from Vandenberg (Meyer kick), 4:58
Purdue — Bush 10-yard pass from Marve (McCartney kick), 1:38
Iowa — Hyde 9-yard fumble recovery (Meyer kick), 0:10

Iowa — Meyer 24-yard field goal, 3:32
Purdue — Griggs 46-yard field goal, 0:00

Rushing

Purdue: Bolden 14-102, Shavers 17-66, Henry 5-16, Marve 4-14, Bush 1-7, Hunt 2-4, Freytag 2-4.

Passing

Iowa: Vandenberg 19-36-190-1-0.
Purdue: Marve 25-33-266-2-0, Henry 1-2-13-0-0.

Receiving

Iowa: Martin-Manley 4-63, Derby 4-38, Fiedorowicz 4-17, Cotton 2-25, Davis 2-17, Smith 2-15, Bullock 1-15.
Purdue: Edison 5-50, Ross 4-57, Wright 4-40, Bush 4-17, Shavers 3-54, Macarthy 2-26, Holmes 2-14, Sinz 1-16, Bolden 1-5.

By the Numbers

Opponent’s third-down conversion rate against Iowa, worst in the Big Ten:
42.3%

Yards allowed by the Hawkeyes in their last four games:
1,900

Number of teams ranked when Iowa played them this season:
0

Quoted

It’s not like this has just been a dog-crap team. You want to paint that picture, I’m not buying that. We played good football against Minnesota, we played very good football at Michigan State in very tough circumstances.

— Head coach Kirk Ferentz
PIRDUE  27
IOWA  24

Game Recap

• Near the end of the third-quarter, the Boilermakers started a possession from their own 34-yard line. Running back Ralph Bolden took a hand-off and cut to the outside. He broke free of a tackle and then hid behind a cluster of blockers. Then Bolden slipped past the scrum and down the sideline for a 56-yard gain. Purdue scored a touchdown on the next play to take a 24-14 lead.

• Iowa had a chance to win the game in the final minute, driving down the field and facing fourth-and-3 from Purdue’s 35. Iowa elected to go for a first down to move kicker Mike Meyer closer. But the Hawkeyes threw the ball just 1 yard, completing a pass to tight end Zach Derby short of the marker. Three plays later, Purdue kicked the game-winning field goal.

Game Balls

IOWA

DB Micah Hyde
Senior cornerback had another excellent game, making a team-high 11 tackles, recording a pass breakup, and keeping Iowa in the game with a touchdown on a fumble recovery in the third quarter. He had another long fumble return that was called back when the ball carrier was ruled down before he fumbled. But Hyde once again made plenty of plays to help the Hawkeyes stay close.

PURDUE

DB Kawann Short
Big man in the middle of Purdue’s defensive line made life miserable for Iowa all game long. He broke through the Hawkeye offensive line for 4 tackles for loss and brought James Vandenberg down for a 10-yard sack. Short’s mammoth effort went a long way toward limiting Iowa to just 74 rushing yards.

Thumbs Up

Turnovers. Iowa forced and recovered three Boilermaker fumbles and didn’t turn the ball over. The Hawkeyes have a Big Ten-best plus-11 turnover margin this season. The defense, for all its flaws, has some ball hawks on it. And the offense can’t move the ball, but at least it allows Iowa to punt.

Thumbs Down

Running game. Iowa gained just 74 rushing yards on the ground. The Hawkeyes were pushed around up front, and running back Damon Bullock couldn’t shake free for enough long gains. Iowa’s passing game struggled all season. Injuries to the offensive line and Mark Weisman have sent the running game tumbling as well, and that’s made things pretty ugly for Iowa.

MORE ONLINE

To see more photos and a multimedia piece on the game, go to www.dailyiowan.com.

The Hawkeye football team hit a new low on Nov. 10 in Kinnick Stadium, losing to Purdue, which entered the game 0-5 in Big Ten play. The Hawkeyes gained just 74 rushing yards and fell into an early hole, ultimately losing on a field goal as time expired.
Ya Know What Your Problem Is?

• Not exactly enough hair gel.
• All that time you spend on the website staring at him till you pass out, over and over.
• You're thinking too much about the chance. Just pick a size-Camembert and be done with it already.
• You’re just like your dad. You should by definition be much sexier than your dad. So just move on and try out with that knock-off tenor on campus.

• You’re in the game to lose.
• You're thinking about what being in love really means.
• The big guy owned you from the get-go. Then it spit you out. Now you're all alone.
• You wouldn’t know a thing to be done if you were.
• You dress too big. You will fit in when you stop trying to impress people.
• The last time you shouted “Eureka,” it turned out to be loud. Again.
• You don’t even have a thought. Maybe your dreams were just asphyxiating that irresponsibly underachieving social shoe-kicker, but maybe your girlfriend reasons you saying so.

• You always want what you can’t have. Come on, “total world domination is a possibility.” You’re still at least three years away.
• You’re a hairdresser. Shame on you.
• You’re still in love. You’re not. You’re just a lost soul.
• You’re always looking at someone else. Can’t you make your own plans for once in your life?
• You’re too nice. Everyone has a limit. Make sure that their limit is about making them feel bad about being worse than you.
• The much sought gel.

You’ll Never Be Bill Bryson.

Sleep Resource
www.hopfhomefurnishings.com

today’s events

• Computer Lunch/Workshop: Software Circle.
  12-5 p.m., Science Library
  • Exploring Memory Traps, 3-5 p.m., Main Library
  • Physical & Environmental Chemistry Seminar
    Science Library, 4-5 p.m., Science Library
  • Hispanic Heritage Lecture, 7-8 p.m., 189 University
  • Music & Particle Physics Seminar
    Science Library, 3-4 p.m., Science Library
  • Physics Colloquium: More of less, 4-4:50 p.m.
  • Human Power Seminar: Collaborative effort
    Science Library, 3-4 p.m., Science Library
  • Science Lecture Series, 2-3 p.m., 189 University
  • Computer Music Seminar, 12-1 p.m., 189 University
  • Colloquium, “Building DRFIS to Test Radiation,”
    Science Library, 12-1 p.m., Science Library
  • Science Colloquium, 12-1 p.m., 189 University
  • Computer Colloquium:
    Science Library, 12-1 p.m., Science Library

UVTV schedule

• 10 a.m. – 11 a.m., “Tribal Women’s Rights,”
  University of Iowa student activist, March 10, 2019

• 3 p.m., Technology: Everyday Inventions,
  Humanitarian and Environmental film, 5 p.m., 101 Biology
  • 8:30 p.m., Macromolecular Chemistry: Inside the Image,
    University of Iowa student activist, March 10, 2019
  • 9 p.m., “The Children’s Hour”
    Capitol Center

horoscopes

March 20: Monday – Today

Aries

You need a break. None of your work is getting accomplished. You need to get away from it all and do something that doesn’t require a lot of concentration.

Taurus

You need new friends. Someone who has just moved is an impressible soul who will be a mentor of what you can acquire. Don’t let the situation you are in control your life. You need to be able to escape and disconnect from that area.

Cancer

You have a lot of friends, but you are not as open about your life as you could be. You can even share more of your inner self with those who appreciate what you have to offer. One or two close friends, emotionally and physically.

Leo

Don’t make a commitment. You are likely to change your mind. This is not the time to make changes that can be more detailed.

Virgo

Interact with people who have similar beliefs and goals. Work with information that can make an impact. Make sure you are developing the resources you need. It will help you realize that you are the only one after you let others play their roles for you.

Libra

You are in a good mood. You might be able to solve a dispute you have with someone. You will find a way to do that.

Scorpio

Being flexible will lead to your success. You need to adapt to situations and work with people who have different opinions.

Sagittarius

You need to do something that will put a stop to all your troubles. You might want to consider something that you need to do with some other people. You need to think of something else.

Capricorn

You need to make a decision. You might want to think of something else. It is better to be proactive and you can do anything you want.

Aquarius

You need to be careful. You will have more success if you let others do the job for you. You might want to do something else.

Pisces

You need to be careful. You might want to do something else. You will have more success if you let others do the job for you. You might want to do something else.

ARIES

(Oct. 22–Nov. 21) Implement change that will improve your life. Keep busy with your projects and work with others on what you need to do.

Taurus

(May 21–June 20) Discipline will lead to victory. Someone who has made an impressive impression on you will be a reminder of what you are capable of doing. Size up the situation you are in.

Cancer

(June 21–July 22) Interact with people who have similar beliefs and goals. Work with information that can make an impact. Make sure you are developing the resources you need. It will help you realize that you are the only one after you let others play their roles for you.

Leo

(Sept. 23–Oct. 22) Listen to complaints and offer solutions. Showing leadership and working with your team will lead to your success.

Virgo

(Aug. 23–Sept. 22) Discuss ideas, and see who joins your quest. Make changes to the way you do things that will put an end to ongoing squabbles with people who don’t appreciate what you have to offer. Move on to a better place mentally, emotionally, and physically.

Libra

(July 23–Aug. 22) Engage in community events or activities. Looking at your domestic situation will be the determining factor when it comes to how far you will go and what you will achieve.

Scorpio

(Jan. 20–Feb. 18) Don’t make a commitment. You are likely to change your mind. This is not the time to make changes that can be more detailed.

Sagittarius

(Dec. 22–Jan. 19) You might be able to solve a dispute you have with someone. You will find a way to do that.

Capricorn

(Nov. 22–Dec. 21) Nurture and protect what you’ve been working so hard to achieve. Keep busy with your projects and work with others on what you need to do.

Aquarius

(Jan. 20–Feb. 18) Don’t make a commitment. You are likely to change your mind. This is not the time to make changes that can be more detailed.

Pisces

(Mar. 21–Apr. 19) You might be able to solve a dispute you have with someone. You will find a way to do that.

Mars in Aries

Don’t make a commitment. You are likely to change your mind. This is not the time to make changes that can be more detailed.
One of the disappoint- ing things (against Penn State) was the start of the second half, Caffery said. “We didn’t play with the level of intensity that we had at the start of the first half.” Iowa led 36-27 at halftime and was 3-of-4 from the free-throw line. The Hawkeyes shot 36 of 41 from the charity stripe, one make of a school record.The free-throws came in bunches due to both the Black and Gold’s presence in the paint, so Iowa’s frontcourt combination for 57 points, 38 rebounds and an assist-to-turnover ratio of 2.62:1. Sophomore forward Mike Gesell feels confidence is a big factor in how well the guards perform on defense. “When you’re doing well on defense, you end up being the leader of your team, and that’s pretty cool.” Gesell said.

Iowa had built a 33-point lead and everyone was making shots,” Johnson said. “But when a team is content to be up 21. Didn’t want to get better,” McCaffery said. “We were up 21 and content to be up 21. Didn’t want to take that and say, ‘We’re going to play this way, you take that and you use it against your advantage.’”

Tait hadn’t had much — maybe fittingly — to add up a little more firepower, the Hawkeyes have something to work on. They’ll have to be that type of team that can always be ready for this game, get ready for this game, when everything is clicking. There’s a lot on the table. It’s really exciting. There’s a lot of opportunity there. The game works.”

The Hawkeyes couldn’t have asked for a better start. Iowa led 36-27 at halftime and was 3-of-4 from the free-throw line. The Hawkeyes shot 36 of 41 from the charity stripe, one make of a school record. The free-throws came in bunches due to both the Black and Gold’s presence in the paint, so Iowa’s frontcourt combination for 57 points, 38 rebounds and an assist-to-turnover ratio of 2.62:1. Sophomore forward Mike Gesell feels confidence is a big factor in how well the guards perform on defense. “When you’re doing well on defense, you end up being the leader of your team, and that’s pretty cool.” Gesell said.
Hawk volleyball struggles again

Iowa's losing streak is now in double-digits and the loss to the Hoosiers.

BY CARLOS SOSA

Twenty-five.

That's the number of consecutive sets the Iowa volleyball team has lost at.

The Hawkeyes fell to Indiana, 3-0, on Nov. 10.

The loss extended Iowa's losing streak to 14-straight losses and an overall record of 14-7.

Indiana closed out the game with 25 unanswered points to seal the victory.

However, Iowa is looking for ways to improve and is not just focusing on the losses.

Exactly one month has passed since the Hawkeyes last a point in a game.

"We are pretty disappointed with our performance today," head coach Larry Wieczorek said in a release. "Mareike [Schrulle] had a great night and finished with a time of 32:17. Brandt will wrap up the Hawkeye's season. Individually, Schrulle led the team in 89th place, Lisa Gordon in 87th.

Schrulle essentially had a successful race.

She went 11-of-12 at free throws with her 11 added points and attempted in a game.

"(Free throw) slowed down the pace, but the Hoosiers still beat us," Taylor said. "They were calling it on both ends, and I mean, it was really hard to drive down the pass, but we gave it our best effort for the team as a whole."}

"At the NCAA Tournament, you can't give a goal away in the final round," Wieczorek said. "We had a lap in place at the end, but we couldn't do it."

Iowa (10-19, 2-14 Big Ten) went point-for-point with the Hoosiers (12-4, 6-10, 4-12) until midway through the first set. With the score tied at 12, Indiana took over for the rest of the set.

"We have skills, but we have to do it better," Taylor echoed her coach's words. "It's not the way we wanted to finish the season."

Despite remaining in contention, the Hawkeyes could not match the Hoosiers' level of play.

"(Free throw) slowed down the pace, but the Hoosiers still beat us," Taylor said. "They were calling it on both ends, and I mean, it was really hard to drive down the pass, but we gave it our best effort for the team as a whole."
Iowa has struggled on third down this season — on both sides of the ball.

By TORK NASON

tnason@uiowa.edu

Iowa had some momentum late in the first quarter against Purdue on Nov. 10 after picking up 43 yards in four offensive plays. But then the Hawkeyes were penalized from second and 2 at the Purdue 32 to fourth and 1 at the 35.

Iowa failed to convert the fourth-down attempt, and the score remained 7-7. The Hawkeyes outscored the Boilermakers 14-0 in the second quarter but still lost the game 27-24 and saw their realistic bowl hopes alive. Three yards. It even said it on the scoreboard.

The Hawkeyes needed 3 yards on Nov. 10 to keep their drive, game, and 2012 season going. Instead, the ball was there short of the first-down marker. Three yards. It didn’t matter, though. The Hawkeyes couldn’t move the ball from their own 30 yard-line on their final possession.

The fourth-down head coach just hopes his players aren’t satisfied with their performance.

By TOM CLOD

tomcloyd@uiowa.edu

Pretty much everything went right for Fran McCaffery’s bunch in Iowa’s 86-55 season-opening victory over Texas-Pan American.

The Hawkeyes shot better than 44 percent from the field, hit seven 3-pointers, and forced the visiting Broncs into 16 turnovers on a night in which Iowa never trailed. The Hawkeyes capitalized on most of their bench and received contributions from everyone who set foot on the floor.

The offense had staying on it. Purdue converted 9-of-16 third-down attempts, including five on plays that gained 16 yards or more.

Offensive lineman Steve Bigach said something has to change, and soon, for his team to get the two necessary wins to qualify for a bowl game.

“You’ve got to make sure you make those plays when you’re there for you.”

And we’ve got to make some sort of changes, because it’s not simple to execute, but it’s that simple to identify the problem,” he said.

Defensive lineman Shane Bigach said something has to change, and soon, for his team to get the two necessary wins to qualify for a bowl game.

“What we’ve been doing hasn’t been working,” he said.

“Obviously, what we’ve been doing hasn’t been working,” he said.

“I’ve got to make some sort of changes, because we’ve got to start winning football games.”

See SPORTS Page 10

COMMENTARY

On the most important play of the game, the Hawkeyes threw the ball short of the first-down marker. By this point, that shouldn’t have been surprising.

Taylor sparks hoopers

By CODY GOODWIN

codygoodwin@uiowa.edu

It was a short 40 hours for the Iowa women’s basketball team. Head coach Lisa Bluder was worried about her team’s legs and decided to sit a few of her starters in the latter portion of the Nov. 9 season-opening win over Northern Illinois to help with the quick turnarounds.

It didn’t matter, though. The Hawkeyes’ 20-point performance was enough to upset Illinois State.

Read how Iowa’s play from the free-throw line helped it beat Illinois State. Page 10