Fifty years later

Iowa City community members from the past and present remember President Kennedy on the 50th anniversary of his assassination.

By Lauren Coffey
laurer-tcoffey@uiowa.edu

It is 1963, and a hushed crowd huddles in front of the Old Capitol. One young man leaves the crowd and approaches the tall wooden door beneath the gold dome — Michael Carver, University of Iowa’s student body president. He plants a large circular wreath on top of the steps. Tears fill his eyes, and he’s not alone. The city, and the country, had come together in honor and paid a man who transcended party lines, race, and age: President John F. Kennedy.

It was a tough period; we all had to make a little personal sacrifice for the nation. “I was 18 years old and I had to get a job to pay for college because I had no scholarship money,” said Andrew Sherburne, a cofounder of FilmScene. “I wasn’t excited to be there, but I was excited to finally be able to open the doors and fill the 18 seats of the theater, so he said it brings something unique to the downtown district.

“It brings a diverse vitality to the downtown nightlife 365 days a year,” he said. “I don’t think anything else we could have added to downtown Iowa City would have had that social and cultural impact.”

Catherine Champion, the owner of Great American, 7 S. Dubuque St., said she backed the project because she believes it will attract a broad range of people to the area. “It will attract more people downtown, and it gives people a variety,” she said. “Variety is the spice of life.”

A man who transcended party lines, race, and age: President Kennedy. The man who restored the faith of a generation. The man who inspired a generation.

FilmScene also paired with the University of Iowa Student Organization, Sigma, which has helped create and support the project since the be-

FilmScene cuts the ribbon

By Lili Ahernett
lili-ahernett@uiowa.edu

Two pairs of large gold scissors and a red ribbon marked the sneak-preview opening of the only theater in downtown Iowa City. The theater that has been in the making for years, completed its first set of weekend showings Thursday with a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

“We’re very close to a full-time opening,” said Andy Brodie, director and cofounder of FilmScene. “This was a prelude to the grand opening.”

Although Brodie said the official openings are scheduled to begin in the weekend following Thanksgiving, the theater will offer “snack peek” showings Friday and Saturday. The official grand opening will be Dec. 6, and the weekend will start showing movies on a consistent basis every weekend.

“Showing movies is why we exist, so we wanted to do that as soon as possi-

‘Food fight’ aids hungry

Two UI colleges compete with each other to feed the hungry.

By Megan Kopp
megan-kopp@uiowa.edu

All’s fair in love and war — especially when it’s a war to give food to families in the Iowa City community.

Today marks the end date for the competition between the University of Iowa, Carver College of Medicine and College of Pharmacy to build food drives for the Crisis Center of Johnson County annual Project Holiday. Project Holiday has been held by the Crisis Center every year since 1988; it has Johnson County families register to receive special entrées, fresh produce, and baking supplies for the holiday season.
Labor bargain divides officials

BY DANIEL SIDDALL

Plans for the Johnson County secondary-road-replacement facility are moving on, but there is still disagreement to be had on the plan. The public facility will replace the secondary-road-funding that was discontinued earlier this year.

A joint public labor agreement between Johnson Coun-
y, the Cedar Rapids Iowa City Building Trades Cau-sel, and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, or the Iowa-Cedar County Board of Supervisors at their meeting on Thursday. This agreement will affect the selection and in the workforce.

The total cost of the contract is approximately $25,000, with more than half that cost being for right-of-way easement.

The right-of-way contract was put before the Joint Coun-y Board of Supervisors at their meeting on Thursday. The right-of-way costs for the project to see if this accept is possible for a new agreement. Johnson County may lie between contractors and those of unions.

The county to create a new labor agreement because the county and the property owner. The Right of Way Committee, and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The total cost of the contract is $25,000, with more than half that cost being for right-

New Kennedy

BY MEGAN MCAUHER & ALEX ANDREWS

The newborn daughter of former Rhode Island Congressman Patrick Kennedy, Nora Kara, rests in a car seat as mother Amy Kennedy straps in son Owen Patrick in Pomona, N.J., Thursday, Dec. 20, 2012. The daughter was born on Christmas Day 2012, at the age of 37. (AP Photo/Mel Evans)

Metro

Supervisors reach agreement on bridge

BY SAMUEL WALLACE

The two parties have been in the planning stages for 11 months.

The total cost of the contract is approximately $25,000, with more than half that cost being for right-

Blotter

At-eye glance, 515 Elk Iowa, was charged Oct.
19 with assault causing injury.

By hasani vizuett

The total cost of the contract is approximately $25,000, with more than half that cost being for right-

The Daily Iowan

Volume 145

Issue 103

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Phone: 1-800-262-6393 Email: daily-iowan@uiowa.edu Fax: 335-6063

CORRECTIONS

City: 335-5000 Policy: The Daily Iowan strives for accuracy and fairness in the reporting of news. If a reader’s naming or identity is unclear, a request for correction or a clarification may be made.

PUBLISHING INFO

The Daily Iowan, 300 E. Market St., 400 E. Market St. Newspaper: 300 E. Market St., 400 E. Market St. Website: daily-iowan.com Contact: daily-iowan@uiowa.edu

Classifieds

Phone: 335-5733 Email: daily-iowan@uiowa.edu Fax: 335-5855

Advertising Sales Staff

Ice Cream: 335-5788 Truth: 335-5794 Venus: 335-5788

For more news, visit

www.dailyiowan.com
University of Iowa history Professor Sheldon Brown, who was in Germany at the time, said there has been less growing overseas.

"I was at a play, and everyone got up and walked into the streets," he said. "Crowds were just gathering in the streets — everyone seemed to want to be in a public place. And for Germans, they were particularly fond of Kennedy because he had just been to Berlin in June."

Kennedy’s youth and enthusiasm was a breath of fresh air for the American people, a longtime Iowa City resident said.

"It seemed like we had old presidents in office for a while," said the woman, a 25-year-old at the time. "FDR had just died, and we painted Truman, who was old, up against Kennedy, who was just 43, so it was some fresh new blood — we had this young forward-looking president who was enthusiastic for change.

"This space will be much more intimate, especially with the students but also to community members," Kreitzer said. "We wanted to utilize the space to cultivate a collective body of filmmakers."

Kreitzer and the combination of Bijou and Film and Media Studies in the medical school, especially the College of Medicine, to determine which school collected the most, will then be weighed to determine the winner.

"I think the pictures of Kennedy that were done some good by the students but also to community members the College has raised $30-$50 per person toward the project, with the "Canned Food" trophy."

"The holidays, and wins from winner to winner each and every year.

"One of the things that journalism students do is you can’t say a flood makes you happy, but it’s exciting to cover it, what we do, what we felt, what we were seeing and being informed by people.

"Two years later, we covered the coverage had also sprung to life at the Crest, something Iowa City City Councilor Con- nie Champion said had not happened before.

"Well I remember the day had literally 24-hour coverage, it was a real shock," Champion, who was 24 at the time, said. "I think the pictures of Kennedy that were done some good by the students but also to community members the College has raised $30-$50 per person toward the project, with the "Canned Food" trophy."

"You can’t remember anything, negative to say about him the weekend of the as-

Kreitzer said the combi-

nination which school collected the most, will then be weighed to determine the winner.

"In the end, it doesn’t matter what school won, it doesn’t matter what the students formulated and put into place the following spring of Kennedy’s death was a weekend-long exchange with severity and frivolity students in Mississippi. Free students from the UI drove to Mississippi.

"I, for the life of me, can’t figure out what we pulled it off," he said. "I felt I was inspired to do what we did, and I don’t think there’s any question that passion came from Kennedy.

The legacy of Kennedy has remained positive over time, despite various allegations that have emerged over the years ranging from promiscuity to his handling of various war conflicts.

"This was a great way to not only show community members the College of Pharmacy and College of Medicine are actively involved in the community but also to get the community involved as giving back," he said.

"The president’s likability managed to transcend party lines, as well as race, Carver said. "I do not remember any negative to say about him the weekend of the as-

"The legacy he left, from my standpoint, is part of what the nation needs to be in a responsible action. When he said ‘Ask what your country can do for you’,

I think that people need to follow his example and think about what they can do to make a difference, and they can be inclined to make a difference.

"One of the things that journalism students do is you can’t say a flood makes you happy, but it’s exciting to cover it, what we do, what we felt, what we were seeing and being informed by people.

"Two years later, we covered the coverage had also sprung to life at the Crest, something Iowa City City Councilor Con- nie Champion said had not happened before.

"Well I remember the day had literally 24-hour coverage, it was a real shock," Champion, who was 24 at the time, said. "I think the pictures of Kennedy that were done some good by the students but also to community members the College has raised $30-$50 per person toward the project, with the "Canned Food" trophy."

"You can’t remember anything, negative to say about him the weekend of the as-

Kreitzer said the combi-

nination which school collected the most, will then be weighed to determine the winner.

"In the end, it doesn’t matter what school won, it doesn’t matter what the students formulated and put into place the following spring of Kennedy’s death was a weekend-long exchange with severity and frivolity students in Mississippi. Free students from the UI drove to Mississippi.

"I, for the life of me, can’t figure out what we pulled it off," he said. "I felt I was inspired to do what we did, and I don’t think there’s any question that passion came from Kennedy.

The legacy of Kenne-

edy has remained positive over time, despite various allegations that have emerged over the years ranging from promiscuity to his handling of various war conflicts.

"This was a great way to not only show community members the College of Pharmacy and College of Medicine are actively involved in the communi-

ity but also to get the community involved as giving back," he said.

"The president’s likabil-

ity managed to transcend party lines, as well as race, Carver said. "I do not remember any

"Well I remember the day had literally 24-hour coverage, it was a real shock," Champion, who was 24 at the time, said. "I think the pictures of Kennedy that were done some good by the students but also to community members the College has raised $30-$50 per person toward the project, with the "Canned Food" trophy."

"You can’t remember anything, negative to say about him the weekend of the as-

Kreitzer said the combi-

nination which school collected the most, will then be weighed to determine the winner.

"In the end, it doesn’t matter what school won, it doesn’t matter what the students formulated and put into place the following spring of Kennedy’s death was a weekend-long exchange with severity and frivolity students in Mississippi. Free students from the UI drove to Mississippi.

"I, for the life of me, can’t figure out what we pulled it off," he said. "I felt I was inspired to do what we did, and I don’t think there’s any question that passion came from Kennedy.

The legacy of Kenne-

edy has remained positive over time, despite various allegations that have emerged over the years ranging from promiscuity to his handling of various war conflicts.

"This was a great way to not only show community members the College of Pharmacy and College of Medicine are actively involved in the communi-

ity but also to get the community involved as giving back," he said.

"The president’s likabil-

ity managed to transcend party lines, as well as race, Carver said. "I do not remember any

"Well I remember the day had literally 24-hour coverage, it was a real shock," Champion, who was 24 at the time, said. "I think the pictures of Kennedy that were done some good by the students but also to community members the College has raised $30-$50 per person toward the project, with the "Canned Food" trophy."

"You can’t remember anything, negative to say about him the weekend of the as-

Kreitzer said the combi-

nination which school collected the most, will then be weighed to determine the winner.

"In the end, it doesn’t matter what school won, it doesn’t matter what the students formulated and put into place the following spring of Kennedy’s death was a weekend-long exchange with severity and frivolity students in Mississippi. Free students from the UI drove to Mississippi.

"I, for the life of me, can’t figure out what we pulled it off," he said. "I felt I was inspired to do what we did, and I don’t think there’s any question that passion came from Kennedy.

The legacy of Kenne-

edy has remained positive over time, despite various allegations that have emerged over the years ranging from promiscuity to his handling of various war conflicts.

"This was a great way to not only show community members the College of Pharmacy and College of Medicine are actively involved in the communi-

ity but also to get the community involved as giving back," he said.

"The president’s likabil-

ity managed to transcend party lines, as well as race, Carver said. "I do not remember any
The Daily Iowan is a student-run, bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Letters under 200 words are preferred and may be edited for clarity and space. Marquee names and titles are requested. All rights reserved. The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network.

EDITORIALS reflect the opinion of the Daily Iowan Board of the Student Media. The Daily Iowan is a non-profit student organization supported by fees, advertising, and grants.

OPINIONS, COMMENTS, COLUMNISTS, AND EDITORIAL CARTOONS are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIAL POLICY

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIALS

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIALS

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIALS

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIALS

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIALS

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIALS

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIALS

The Daily Iowan is a bi-weekly newspaper of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa. Letters to the editor may be sent to dailyiowan@uiowa.edu or submitted online at dailyiowan.com. Opinions, comments, and cartoons are the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

STAFF

KRISTEN EAST Editor in Chief
JOSH BALODINES and DORA GROTE Managing Editors
NICK HASSETT and JORDAN DROLET Editorial Writers
BRETTON SOWE, MICHAEL REALL, ASHLEY LEE, ADAM GROMOTKA, MATTHEW BYRD, IRIE PONNADA, JOE LANE, and BRIANN RICHSON Columnists
ERIC MCDERMOTT Lifestyle

EDITON: The Daily Iowan is a member of the Associated Press and the College Media Network. Opinions, Comments, and Cartoons reflect the opinion of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.
FOOTBALL

totaled just 76 yards in the three contests. The passing game, which is one of the better ones in the Big Ten, has struggled to reach its season average of 269.5 yards per game. Western last month, Michigan was 3-17 on thirddown conversions. 'You go two games with minus yardage' sticking around, I've never seen anything like it,' said Michigan coach, who was in fifth grade. I'm just going to play what I'm giving me; I'm just going to play the game of basketball. 'I never thought I'd be involved in this,' said. 'I don't want to guard Devyn Marble. Iowa head coach Fran McCaffery graduated from Penn in 1982 after playing three seasons for the Quakers. McCaffery's experience playing against Penn is something he could use this game. 'For my brother, it was a dream come true. But that counts the most to the U.S. the brothers weren't accustomed to the game of basketball. 'We didn't grow up with it,' Dzu Jok said. 'I was playing when he was in fifth grade. I started when I was going into seventh grade. We started playing basketball just to prove other people wrong and to try to try out to be a basketball player. If you're good enough, you can play basketball or what we're doing here. It's just a great opportunity to play him. It's a chance for the school to showcase its ability playing against another game. It won't matter if he's guarding
me; I'm just going to play
every game. We've got two big games this weekend, so we'll get to see how those guys are coming along.'

WRESTLING

As noted to above, the Hawkeyes put 47-3 humbling on Bisk erek, which included pins from Baby Telford and Rhett Brown. Telford recorded his fall of the day at 2:17.

BASKETBALL

Since, the family has made stops in Uganda and a testament to how the Hawkeyes. Against Peter Jok and his older brother for the first time since the two had ties to could turn in Iowa, Iowa Central saw an-other chance to play basketball or what
we're doing here. It's just a great opportunity to play him. It's a chance for the school to showcase its ability playing against another game. It won't matter if he's guarding
me; I'm just going to play
every game. We've got two big games
this weekend, so we'll get to see how those guys are coming along.'

The Daily Iowan will not publish November 25 thru November 29 due to Thanksgiving break. We will resume publishing on Monday, December 2.

We have a safe and happy holiday!
Last year, I commissioned a painting. The painting didn’t turn out well; it was a better idea on paper.

The Usual Suspects — I ever did get diagnosed, I’d be kind of jazzed about getting to look at all the words I’m not saying. There’s this lexicon to my personal list of all the words I’m not saying. There’s this lexicon to my personal list of all the words I’m not saying. There’s this lexicon to my personal list of all the words I’m not saying. There’s this lexicon to my personal list of all the words I’m not saying.

The Usual Suspects — I was promised. The painting didn’t turn out well; it was a better idea on paper.

The Usual Suspects — I was promised. The painting didn’t turn out well; it was a better idea on paper.

I hate when idiots think they can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass.

I hate when idiots think they can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass can see I’m clearly a dumbass.

I recently added the word “nitwit.”

One of the things I’m looking most forward to in life is turning 50, at which point I’ll guess your card right every time.

• I have a trick left knee. It’llbaugh my hair, and spend a weekend wandering the desert, outing well; it was a better idea on paper.

I have a mind like a steel trap. It’s incredibly busy putting strings on my neck and causing unremitting and permanent back and posture issues. I have a trick left knee. It’llbaugh my hair, and spend a weekend wandering the desert, outing well; it was a better idea on paper.

I have a mind like a steel trap. It’s incredibly busy putting strings on my neck and causing unremitting and permanent back and posture issues. I have a mind like a steel trap. It’s incredibly busy putting strings on my neck and causing unremitting and permanent back and posture issues.

I have a mind like a steel trap. It’s incredibly busy putting strings on my neck and causing unremitting and permanent back and posture issues.
Michigan has struggled in its last three games, but it's still a talented team that won't roll over against Iowa.

Iowa prepared for Michigan

By COY GOWDIN

Most of Iowa's football team doesn't like to remember last year's game against Michigan. The 42-17 drubbing from the Wolverines punctuated a disappointing 2012 campaign for the Hawkeyes.

But they last watched tape of that game on Monday — if not for added motivation, then to point out that this year is different. Iowa football coach Kirk Ferentz said, "Today is pro day, and you just get done looking at last year's film yesterday, and it was hard to watch," he said on Tuesday at his weekly press conference. "The good news is I think we're a totally different team than we were a year ago. But all that being said, the one thing that doesn't change is you play Michigan, they've got a lot of talented players."}

IOWA HEADS TO NORTHERN IOWA

The Iowa wrestling team will continue its road trip when it travels to Cedar Falls on Friday to take on Northern Iowa. The Hawkeyes are 0-2 in duals this season and have a record of 4-1. Northern Iowa heads into the match with an overall record of 2-2.

The game will be the second of a five game road stretch for the Hawkeyes. Following this game, Iowa will head to Carver, Minnesota, for the 2013 Hawkeye Invitational in which the Hawkeyes will play the first two duals.

The game against Northern Iowa is not to tip off at 2 p.m.

— Jacob Dayley

IN THURSDAY'S DTV SPORTSCAST

- Weekly Prepare segment with Josh Bolander and Lauren Ross
- Weekly Ross Rants with Ben Ross

FOLLOW FRIDAY

Follow the 20th week and report on the preparation for the Hawkeye sports this weekend.

Meet's basketball: Ryan Probasco @RyanProbasco (Illinois, Iowa)
Wrestling: Danny Payne @dpayne1 (Iowa)
Football: Ryan Probasco @Ryan Probasco (Illinois, Iowa)

SCOREBOARD

IACMA
Florida State 85, Virginia Commonwealth 64
Wisconsin 86, Bradley 63
Indiana 93, Illinois 65
Iowa 85, Illinois 69

IACMC
North Carolina 84, Central Connecticut 52

NCAAF
Wisconsin 59, Maryland 13

NBA
Oklahoma City 123, LA Clippers 91

NHL
Boston 3, New Jersey 1

NCAAW
Iowa 35, Baker 10

WRESTLING

WRESTLING IN CARRIER

Wrestling is back in Iowa City. After competing in the Luther Open on Nov. 16, the Black & Gold will have their home-opener in Carver-Hawkeye Arena today. Baker, Iowa Central Community College, and Cornell College will come to town to face off with the nation's second-ranked team in the InterMat rankings.

Coming off a dominant performance in Des Moines, Iowa, that included 48 pins, head coach Tom Brands' squad will try to replicate the performance this morning. At Luther, one of the Hawkeyes' 10 champions was redshirt freshman Cory Clark. The Pleasant Hill Iowa native finished with three pins and a 4-0 win over teammate Thomas Gilman in the 125-pound finals. He will use this most to gain more variety experience before diving into the 125-pound bracket with Iowa State on Dec. 1.

"We're always seeking to dominate," Clark said. "We're going to go out there and treat them like they're anybody else just go out and wrestle hard. Whether they come back with a lot of blood hard or not, we're going to wrestle the best we can."

UPCOMING HAWKEYE SCHEDULE

Today
Minnesota at Iowa City, 6 p.m.

Tom Bradley, Iowa City, 11 a.m.

Wrestling vs. Cornell College, 6 p.m.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena

Saturday
Football vs. Michigan, 12 p.m.

Basketball at Creighton, 7 p.m.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena

Nov. 24
Women's basketball at Northern Iowa, 6:30 p.m.
Friday, November the twenty-second, two thousand and thirteen

THE DAILY IOWAN PRESENTS

AT CARVER-HAWKEYE ARENA

WRESTLING 2013

23 NATIONAL TITLES

52
NCAA CHAMPIONS

148
ALL-AMERICANS

I WANT TO SEE
FIGHT

I WANT TO SEE
POINTS

I WANT TO SEE
SEPARATION AND DOMINATION

Show up. Dominate. Go Home.

— Tom Brands
The DI Starting Ten

125 Pounds

CORY CLARK

No. 1 Penn State, No. 3 Minnesota, and No. 5 Oklahoma State will all wrestle No. 2 Iowa in Carver-Hawkeye Arena this season.

By DANNY PAYNE

danny-payne@iowawrestle.com

Penn State, Iowa, Minnesota, and Oklahoma State are among the top-five teams in the country, according to Interrcard. This season, the Hawkeyes got all three opposing squads in Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Penn State will be in Iowa City on Dec. 21, with Oklahoma State next on the bill on Jan 10, followed by Minnesota Jan. 23.

But for the Hawkeyes grapplers, the dual that wasn’t on the original 2013-14 schedule, the one against last year’s national champions, has drawn the most hype — especially for 2013 NCAA 133-pound runner-up Tony Ramos.

“It’s awesome, it’s good for the sport,” Ramos said of the team’s media day on Nov. 6. “We got Penn State and got it done. It’s good for people — how are you not going to get going? We got Penn State and got it done. How can you not do it?”

But each rival’s Athletics Department worked to put it on the board — something Brands is looking forward to.

“Ramos said at the team’s media day on Nov. 6. “We got Penn State and got it done. It’s good for people — how are you not going to get going? We got Penn State and got it done. How can you not do it?”

But each rival’s Athletics Department worked to put it on the board — something Brands is looking forward to.

“It’s exciting; we draw in big crowds,” the eight-year veteran said. “I think we’re going to find good wrestling when you come to Carver-Hawkeye Arena.”

And Ramos, the man who brought the crowd to the next level with his pin over Conaway, is expecting the Black and Gold faithful not to be disappointed.

“It’s exciting, we draw in big crowds. It’s good for our sport, it’s good for the sport,” Ramos said at the team’s media day on Nov. 6. “We want to see good wrestling, you’re going to find good wrestling when you come to Carver-Hawkeye Arena.”

Along with extra points, fans can sell out every one of those meets … It’s a good thing having those marquee matchups, more than it ever was. It’s a good thing having those marquee matchups, more than it ever was. It’s a good thing having those marquee matchups, more than it ever was.

Iowa 174-pounder Mike Evans wrestles Penn State’s Matt Brown during their match at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Friday, Feb. 1, 2013. Evans won by decision, 4-3. Penn State will wrestle Iowa in Carver-Hawkeye Arena on December 21. (The Daily Iowan/Brendan Kane)

Top-flight matches highlight wrestling season

Nov. 16 at Luther College
Nov. 22 vs Bemidji State
Nov. 22 Iowa Central
Dec. 1 at Iowa State (Iowa City)
Dec. 5 at Edinboro
Dec. 12 Buffalo
Dec. 21 vs Penn State
Dec. 29 Midlands Championship
Dec. 30 Midlands Championship
Jan. 3 at Purdue West
Jan. 4 vs Michigan
Jan. 10 vs Nebraska
Jan. 18 vs Northwestern
Jan. 25 vs Minnesota
Jan. 31 vs Northwestern
Feb. 2 vs Michigan
Feb. 2 at Lehigh
Feb. 2 vs Wisconsin
Feb. 9 vs Illinois

Big Ten Championship
March 8 Session I
March 8 Session III
March 9 Session I
March 9 Session III

NCAA Championships
March 20 Session I
March 20 Session II
March 20 Session III
March 21 Session IV
March 22 Session V
March 22 Session VI
March 23 Session VI

Denotes Conference Event

Wrestling Schedule

2013-14 Schedule

Dec. 12 Buffalo
Dec. 21 vs Penn State
Dec. 29 Midlands Championship
Dec. 30 Midlands Championship
Jan. 3 at Purdue West
Jan. 4 vs Michigan
Jan. 10 vs Nebraska
Jan. 18 vs Northwestern
Jan. 25 vs Minnesota
Jan. 31 vs Northwestern
Feb. 2 vs Michigan
Feb. 2 at Lehigh
Feb. 2 vs Wisconsin
Feb. 9 vs Illinois

Big Ten Championship
March 8 Session I
March 8 Session III
March 9 Session I
March 9 Session III

NCAA Championships
March 20 Session I
March 20 Session II
March 20 Session III
March 21 Session IV
March 22 Session V
March 22 Session VI
March 23 Session VI

Denotes Conference Event

Wrestling Schedule
Big Ten Wrestling Power Rankings

1. Penn State — It’s hard to dethrone the three-times defending national champions this early. The Nittany Lions had just five All-Americans last year, but all five finished either first or second in the country, and all but one will return to the lineup this year. Don’t expect most of the Nittany Lions to fly at the NCAA’s come March, either, which means they’ll score even more bonus points. Oy.

2. Iowa — On paper, the Hawkeyes could run the table again in Big Ten duals. But what’s going to hold them back is Penn State’s ability to score bonus points in tournaments. The Hawkeyes is going to need some surprises this year at a few weights if they want to topple Penn State for the national title.

3. Minnesota — The Gophers are always tough, and they will be again this season. Realistically, there’s an argument to be made that Minnesota should be No. 2 and Iowa No. 3 in the Big Ten. This may change as the season progresses, but don’t expect the Gophers to roll as because the ranking says they should.

4. Wisconsin — The Badgers will be the Big Ten’s dark horse team. The Badgers certainly have the talent to do great this season, but some guys lack the experience. Expect this team to learn a bunch as the season goes on.

5. Nebraska — Nebucks will be deep this season, but it’s hard to say the Cornhuskers any better than a middle-of-the-pack team, with respect to the rest of the conference. They do have some studs, though. One of them especially will more than likely give Iowa’s Derek St. John some fits.

6. Ohio State — The Buckeyes could also be a dark horse team this season. It seems that Hunter Stewart is taking his redshirt year, which means Ohio State will lack some firepower. But the rest of the line-up will be tough as nails. Don’t count the Buckeyes out of the top four completely.

7. Illinois — This could be one of the last years the Illini are in the back half of the Big Ten. They’ve picked up a few blue-chip recruits who will make an immediate impact once they set foot on campus in a few years. Until then, Illinois wrestling fans will just have to settle for the overly Jesse Djibril.

8. Michigan — Too many holes in this lineup for the Wolverines to be competitive. They’ll have some standouts, though. Keep an eye out for Eric Goei, Taylor Mason, and Rossi Bruno. Fun fact: Goei was the second-most sought-after recruit behind, you guessed, Penn State’s David Taylor. Just thought you should know. The eighth best team in the Big Ten doubtful as the 14th best team in the country. This conference is still wrestling conference. Now, then…

9. Northwestern — Just as what was said of Michigan, Northwestern will have some studs at a few weights. Those studs have the chance to be really, really good. Sure, Northwestern lacks the experience. Expect this team to learn a bunch as the season goes on.

10. Indiana — Indiana has had just four wrestlers reach All-American status since 2008. This year’s team doesn’t pose too much of a threat to anybody above Illinois. Another fun fact: Joe Dubuque, a former Hoosier grappler, was the last 125-pounder to win back-to-back national titles back in 2005 and 2006. This year’s team doesn’t pose too much of a threat to anybody above Illinois. Another fun fact: Joe Dubuque, a former Hoosier grappler, was the last 125-pounder to win back-to-back national titles back in 2005 and 2006.

53. Iowa State — Sparty was in contention in the Big Ten back in 2005 and 2006. A former Hoosier grappler, was the last 125-pounder to win back-to-back national titles back in 2005 and 2006.

54. Michigan State — Spartys was in a few years. This year will be a learning experience for the Wildcats.

55. Maryland — Terps will just have to settle for the best team in the country. This conference is still wrestling conference. Now, then…

56. Wisconsin — The Badgers certainly have the talent to do great this season, but some guys lack the experience. Expect this team to learn a bunch as the season goes on.

57. Minnesota — The Gophers are always tough, and they will be again this season. Realistically, there’s an argument to be made that Minnesota should be No. 2 and Iowa No. 3 in the Big Ten. This may change as the season progresses, but don’t expect the Gophers to roll as because the ranking says they should.

58. Ohio State — The Buckeyes could also be a dark horse team this season. It seems that Hunter Stewart is taking his redshirt year, which means Ohio State will lack some firepower. But the rest of the line-up will be tough as nails. Don’t count the Buckeyes out of the top four completely.

59. Illinois — This could be one of the last years the Illini are in the back half of the Big Ten. They’ve picked up a few blue-chip recruits who will make an immediate impact once they set foot on campus in a few years. Until then, Illinois wrestling fans will just have to settle for the overly Jesse Djibril.

60. Michigan — Too many holes in this lineup for the Wolverines to be competitive. They’ll have some standouts, though. Keep an eye out for Eric Goei, Taylor Mason, and Rossi Bruno. Fun fact: Goei was the second-most sought-after recruit behind, you guessed, Penn State’s David Taylor. Just thought you should know. The eighth best team in the Big Ten doubtful as the 14th best team in the country. This conference is still wrestling conference. Now, then…

61. Northwestern — Just as what was said of Michigan, Northwestern will have some studs at a few weights. Those studs have the chance to be really, really good. Sure, Northwestern lacks the experience. Expect this team to learn a bunch as the season goes on.

62. Indiana — Indiana has had just four wrestlers reach All-American status since 2008. This year’s team doesn’t pose too much of a threat to anybody above Illinois. Another fun fact: Joe Dubuque, a former Hoosier grappler, was the last 125-pounder to win back-to-back national titles back in 2005 and 2006.

63. Iowa State — Sparty was in contention in the Big Ten back in 2005 and 2006. A former Hoosier grappler, was the last 125-pounder to win back-to-back national titles back in 2005 and 2006.

64. Maryland — Terps will just have to settle for the best team in the country. This conference is still wrestling conference. Now, then…

65. Wisconsin — The Badgers certainly have the talent to do great this season, but some guys lack the experience. Expect this team to learn a bunch as the season goes on.

66. Minnesota — The Gophers are always tough, and they will be again this season. Realistically, there’s an argument to be made that Minnesota should be No. 2 and Iowa No. 3 in the Big Ten. This may change as the season progresses, but don’t expect the Gophers to roll as because the ranking says they should.

67. Ohio State — The Buckeyes could also be a dark horse team this season. It seems that Hunter Stewart is taking his redshirt year, which means Ohio State will lack some firepower. But the rest of the line-up will be tough as nails. Don’t count the Buckeyes out of the top four completely.

68. Illinois — This could be one of the last years the Illini are in the back half of the Big Ten. They’ve picked up a few blue-chip recruits who will make an immediate impact once they set foot on campus in a few years. Until then, Illinois wrestling fans will just have to settle for the overly Jesse Djibril.

69. Michigan — Too many holes in this lineup for the Wolverines to be competitive. They’ll have some standouts, though. Keep an eye out for Eric Goei, Taylor Mason, and Rossi Bruno. Fun fact: Goei was the second-most sought-after recruit behind, you guessed, Penn State’s David Taylor. Just thought you should know. The eighth best team in the Big Ten doubtful as the 14th best team in the country. This conference is still wrestling conference. Now, then…

70. Northwestern — Just as what was said of Michigan, Northwestern will have some studs at a few weights. Those studs have the chance to be really, really good. Sure, Northwestern lacks the experience. Expect this team to learn a bunch as the season goes on.

71. Indiana — Indiana has had just four wrestlers reach All-American status since 2008. This year’s team doesn’t pose too much of a threat to anybody above Illinois. Another fun fact: Joe Dubuque, a former Hoosier grappler, was the last 125-pounder to win back-to-back national titles back in 2005 and 2006.

72. Iowa State — Sparty was in contention in the Big Ten back in 2005 and 2006. A former Hoosier grappler, was the last 125-pounder to win back-to-back national titles back in 2005 and 2006.