UI, Iowa City gird for flooding

Severe weather on Monday prompted the University of Iowa, city and state officials to respond to rising floodwaters.

By QUENTIN MISIAG
quentin-misiag@uiowa.edu

Torrential rains brought widespread flooding Monday to eastern and central Iowa, causing the inundation of major arterial streets and rural roads and prompting quick state and university action with a round of disaster proclamations and preliminary flood-protection efforts.

As rivers, creeks, and streams rose, officials undertook combative flooding action that have become a common sight in recent years.

Two major energy service providers, MidAmerican Energy and Linn County Rural Electric Cooperative, reported several thousand power outages throughout the day Monday.

As of 5 p.m. Monday, the Iowa River at Iowa City stood at 18.17 feet, fewer than 4 feet from the flood stage level of 22 feet. The river level is expected to rise to 19.5 feet, according to U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Rock Island District gage data.

The Corps notified Johnson County Emergency Management officials early Monday afternoon that it will begin...
The west side of the Old Capitol is seen on Monday following a series of severe storms that brought high winds and flash flooding to eastern Iowa. (The Daily Iowan/Joshua Housing)

DI just as harmful as regular cigarettes. The press release was from the Johnson County that an Iowa Department of Public Health press release said electronic cigarettes are incorrectly reported.
The city of Iowa City shot down the two north-bound lanes of North Dubuque Street — the flood-barrier construction. They have been concerned about the water level at the Reservoir. Since 2008, every flood has required the permanent restoration of the eight-story East Campus residence hall valued at nearly $77 million. Completion is set for 2015. It is not yet clear how the USACE barrier installation will affect the protection efforts as of early Monday afternoon.

USACE engineer Tom Moore said university officials decided to build the 200-foot flood-barrier north of Mayflower to install the USACE temporary flood barriers and the suspension of the Cambus service will remain until further notice.

Beginning Monday, the Corps said it would gradually increase the outflow on the Iowa River from a current rate of 7,000 cubic feet per second to an anticipated rent rate of 7,000 cubic feet per second, one of Iowa City’s largest park areas, City Park, and some low-lying areas are affected throughout the county.

“The Corps is predicting water levels at 698 feet, shy of the record height of 717 feet. The Corps authorize of 30,000 cubic feet per second will remain until further notice. The city of Iowa City

Joni Ernst, applauded the Supreme Court decision.

“With resolution to the current flood-control barriers and the suspension of the Cambus service will remain until further notice.”

It is a positive step that the USACE is working to control the water level at this critical East Campus residence hall, said Iowa City Public Works Director Rick Fosse.

The city of Iowa City

“Beginning Monday, the Corps said it would gradually increase the outflow on the Iowa River from a current rate of 7,000 cubic feet per second to an anticipated rent rate of 7,000 cubic feet per second, one of Iowa City’s largest park areas, City Park, and some low-lying areas are affected throughout the county.”

The city of Iowa City
Opinions

na, pull back the laws, and Let's roll out the marijua-suspicious of yet another national issues of such here's the thing. Why, at the U.S.-Germany match
on "Outnumbered" before
Dr. Keith Ablow, speaking (using the word advisedly)
to sweep in the corners.
the right wing didn't forget attention away from Pres-forget to sweep in the
have to admit the latest pop culture is nearly the — something new comes
for pop culture.

READER COMMENTS

that may appear below were originally posted on

EDITORIAL

Drone law a win for Iowa

Compared with the government's absolute disregard for our cherished freedoms we've grown accustomed to hearing about since the Edward Snowden leaks, recent news about libertise regarding privacy has actually been appealingly good.

Just last week, the Supreme Court announced that in order to search one's cellphone, law-enforcement officials must first obtain a search warrant. Also effective today, a new law bans the use of drones for enforcing traffic laws and requires that any information
a collect is only be used against a person
in court if it was obtained with a search warrant. In the past, we have recommends that state and national
policy makers take steps to further regulate drones, and we've
noted that ex-

To be clear, drones can be of virtually any size, from a zappeln to jet planes to a little toy he-ceptor you could buy at a RadioShack. Drones used by domestic law enforcement agencies will users observe the areas around them, and they didn't resemble their weaponized counterparts,
like the MQ-9 Reaper, that are currently in use in South Asia, and Africa by the U.S. government.

One of the big attractions of using drones
domestic law enforcement agencies.

For now, though, we can take solace in the fact that the Fourth Amendment (requiring a warrant as a prerequisite for searches and seizures) has not neatly as described as speculated.

Iowa lawmakers have taken an admirable step in regulating how the police may
use drones, but there is still plenty of work
left to do. A more uniform set of regulations and additional transparency on how the drone-owning states will do.

Nevertheless, there remains the potential for
the great power that comes with drones to be abused. As we've seen time and again, plenty of law-enforcement officials have taken their powers too far: for example, using a wave of peace-

smallest attraction of using drones is that they are substantially cheaper than modern aircraft. A 2012 report on drones from the international law was that the law bans the use of drones for enforcing traffic laws and requires that any information
a collect is only be used against a person
in court if it was obtained with a
search warrant. In the past, we have
recommends that state and national
policy makers take steps to further regulate drones, and we've
noted that ex-

US. Department of Justice offers on example "One local law-enforcement agency has esti-ated the cost of using a (unmanned aerial system), at $50 per hour, compared with $650
per hour for a manned aircraft." Although the cost reduction may not always be that much, it
highlight the ease with which drones technology
could fall into

Let's roll out the might mean. But I do try to care — what, except
for pop culture.

Opinion is called public culture — something that along, stays big for around something stale. Hence,

CARTOON

— FIRST AMENDMENT TO THE U.S. CONSTITUTION

THE DAILY IOWAN is a student-run newspaper organization that publishes content that reflects the views of the student body, Iowa City, Johnson County, and the state of Iowa.

EDITORIAL POLICY

The daily editorial page is reserved for the expression of editorial voice. Letters to the Editor are limited to 300 words.

The Daily Iowan reserves the right to reject

EDITORIAL POLICY

Letters to the Editor may not be published as a result of length, content, or accuracy. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to reject

GUEST OPINIONS: Columns and Editorial Cartoons reflect the opinions of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

EDITORIAL

Column

Great socio-cultural conspiracy

I try to keep up with things, but that “blimp”
 might mean. But I do try to
care — what, except
for pop culture.

READER COMMENTS

that may appear below were originally posted on

POPULAR TOPICS, COMMENTS, COLUMNIST AND EDITORIAL CARTOONS reflect the opinions of the authors and are not necessarily those of the editorial board.

Barrett Sonn, Ashley Lee, Matthew Byrd, Jon

in government. Consistent with past editorials, and national policymakers take steps to further regulate drones, and we've noted that ex-

the Iowa policymakers have taken an admirable step in regulating how the police may
use drones, but there is still plenty of work
left to do. A more uniform set of regulations and additional transparency on how the
drone-owning states will do.

Nevertheless, there remains the potential for
the great power that comes with drones to be abused. As we've seen time and again, plenty of law-enforcement officials have taken their powers too far: for example, using a wave of peace-

Iowa law-enforcement officials have also looked into obtaining drones. The Daily Iowa Register in April 2013 report on drones from the U.S.
Department of Justice offers one example: "One local law-enforcement agency has esti-
imated the cost of using a (unmanned aerial system), at $50 per hour, compared with $650
per hour for a manned aircraft." Although the
cost reduction may not always be that much, it
highlight the ease with which drones technology
could fall into

Iowa law-enforcement officials have also looked
into obtaining drones. The Daily Iowa Register in April 2013 report on drones from the U.S.
Department of Justice offers one example: "One local law-enforcement agency has esti-
imated the cost of using a (unmanned aerial system), at $50 per hour, compared with $650
per hour for a manned aircraft." Although the
cost reduction may not always be that much, it
highlight the ease with which drones technology
could fall into

- FIRST AMENDMENT TO THE U.S. CONSTITUTION
GM crisis grows, recalls mount

GM crisis grows, recalls mount

By MICHAEL KADRIE

DETROIT — General Motors’ safety crisis deepened dramatically Monday when the company added 9.2 million vehicles to its ballooning list of cars recalled over faulty ignition switches.

The latest recalls involve mainly older mid-sized cars and bring GM’s total recalls in North America to 29 million this year, surpassing the 22
million recalled by all automakers last year.

They also raise questions about the safety of ignition switches in cars made by all manufacturers.

In the latest recall, GM said keys may be yanked or accidentally bumped, causing the ignition switch to slip out of the “run” potion. The recalled vehicles — seven models, including the Chevrolet Malibu from 1997 to 2005, the Pontiac Grand Prix from 2004 to 2008, and the 2003 to 2005 Buick LaCrosse CTS.

The company is aware of three deaths, eight injuries, and seven crashes involving the vehicles, although it says there’s no clear evidence that faulty switches caused the accidents. Air bags didn’t deploy in the two fatal accidents, which
as a sign that the ignition was out of position. But air bags may not deploy for other reasons as well.

A GM spokesman couldn’t say Monday if more recalls are imminent. But he said the company association with a 60-day recall of all of the company’s ignition switches At the time of the above article,
in the awkward posi-

March 1, 2014

GM crisis grows, recalls mount

Bralley defends Social Security

By TOM KRISHER and DEE-ANN"
The column reflects the opinion of the author and not the DI Editorial Board, the Publisher, Student Publications Board, or the University of Iowa.

Eulogies:

• Andrew always did grab the bull by the horns. Why? To avoid some opposition, but in the end, it will help you come up with a plan that will help you reach your goal.

• You may have plenty of good ideas, but if you don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Don’t rush a job you’ve been asked to do, or you may overlook something important.

• Honesty is the best policy. Speak up, and put it behind you.

• A situation will easily get blown out of proportion.

• Honesty is the best policy. Speak up, and put it behind you.

• A situation will easily get blown out of proportion.

• ### April (April 20-May 20):

• Don’t sit when you should be sprinting. Get involved in things that will lead to exciting encounters with people who have something to offer.

• Keep an open mind. Listen to what’s being said, and don’t block others out.

• Personal problems will escalate if you don’t stick to the truth.

• Do not sit when you should be sprinting. Get involved in things that will lead to exciting encounters with people who have something to offer.

• Keep an open mind. Listen to what’s being said, and don’t block others out.

• Personal problems will escalate if you don’t stick to the truth.

• Do not sit when you should be sprinting. Get involved in things that will lead to exciting encounters with people who have something to offer.

• Keep an open mind. Listen to what’s being said, and don’t block others out.

• Personal problems will escalate if you don’t stick to the truth.

• Do not sit when you should be sprinting. Get involved in things that will lead to exciting encounters with people who have something to offer.

• Keep an open mind. Listen to what’s being said, and don’t block others out.

• Personal problems will escalate if you don’t stick to the truth.

• Do not sit when you should be sprinting. Get involved in things that will lead to exciting encounters with people who have something to offer.

• Keep an open mind. Listen to what’s being said, and don’t block others out.

• Personal problems will escalate if you don’t stick to the truth.

• Do not sit when you should be sprinting. Get involved in things that will lead to exciting encounters with people who have something to offer.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.

• Flirting is fun, but emotional deception will hurt your reputation. Stick to important issues that can provide you with information that you may end up having serious regrets. Romance is in the stars.

• You don’t get the OK from someone in charge first, you may waste your time. Go over every detail, leaving no room for error, before you present something to the facts, and avoid discord.
Will USA beat the Belgians?

Yes

The United States finds itself in the Round of 16 for the second World Cup in a row, and when the Americans take the pitch to face Belgium today, they have plenty of reason to feel confident.

First, with news coming Monday that forward Jozy Altidore will be fit and available to play, the American squad will be back to full strength in time for do-or-die play. Altidore’s only game during group play against Ghana was also the team’s only victory.

It is also encouraging that the Belgians have not performed as well as some of the talent on the squad would indicate.

Talented striker Christian Benteke has been unavailable for the World Cup after suffering a severe Achilles tendon injury prior to the tournament. The Belgian national team, the most dangerous offensive weapon for the Belgian squad — Eden Hazard — has been quoted in Brazil and was unable to find the net in any of the first three games.

Belgium was 3-0 in Group H, but these results were against Nos. 22, Algeria, No. 62, Malaysia and No. 119, Korea Republic is so not consistently as meets the eye and certainly not as representative of surviving the Group of Death.

The Belgians have defended fairly well for most of the games against top competition such as Germany and Portugal, and they should be battle-tested enough after those games to avoid any simple mistakes should Belgium continue lackluster offensive performances.

Jürgen Klinsmann has the United States headed in the right direction, and if I fully expect it to prove it by advancing to its first quarterfinal appearance since 2002.

No

At the risk of putting a damper on the country’s newfound affection for the United States, I take exception, it won’t matter if Belgium’s defense and experience are capable of overcoming Courtois and the Red, White and Blue today.

Klinsmann’s handshake league possesses talent, toughness, and tenacity, but ultimately, lacks the goalkeeping and cohesion to survive Courtois, who, at the tenet of Belgium’s remaining goalkeepers, will severely hamper its chances.

Klinsmann’s handpicked bunch possesses talent, toughness, and tenacity, but ultimately, lacks the goalkeeping and cohesion to overcome Courtois and the throbbing of capable defenses, which is available for tonight’s game. While soccer fans should be commended for their ardent support of this year’s iteration of the United States, when faced with Belgium’s defense and experience, it would matter what they believe.
Manny Ramirez smiles during a news conference at Principal Park in Des Moines on June 26 after signing with Chicago Cubs as a free agent. Ramirez was suspended for 100 games in 2008 for violating baseball's policy against performance-enhancing drugs. (Brian Powers/Des Moines Register)
Woody to be new track director

By JORDAN HANSEN
jordan-hansen@uiowa.edu

After an internal search that focused on four current Iowa assistant coaches, Joey Woody has been picked to succeed Larry Wieczorek as director of track and field and cross-country.

“I’m excited to hear them feel that I could take the step up to the next level and to continue to uphold the strong track and field tradition that Iowa has,” Woody said. “I feel very honored and blessed to have that opportunity and I’ll work hard to ensure Iowa City natives, has been a Hawkeye since 2006, first as a volunteer assistant coach and then hired after that season. In 2013, he also picked up the additional responsibilities of associate track and field head coach.

A bona-fide track star, he was a four-time All-American at Northern Iowa, culminating in a 1997 NCAA victory in the 400-meter hurdles. Once he graduated from Northern Iowa, he began as an assistant coach for the team as well as running professionally. Perhaps his greatest achievement on the track was winning a silver medal in the 2003 World Championships and being ranked second worldwide in the event.

A look at Rutgers’ athletics

Rutgers and Maryland became the 13th and 14th members of the Big Ten today:

By DANNY PAYNE
daniel-payne-1@uiowa.edu

This is part one of a two-part series taking a look at how Iowa athletics match up against Big Ten newcomers Rutgers and Maryland. The Daily Iowan will break down Maryland Wednesday.

July 1 marks the beginning of yet another new era in the Big Ten, as the Scarlet Knights and Terrapins are officially part of the new 14-school league. Rutgers has nine men’s sports and 13 women’s sports.

Football — 6-7 in 2013

The Scarlet Knights had an interesting season, to say the least. After five games, Rutgers had put up a whopping 194 points with a 4-1 record. Beginning with a 24-10 conference loss at Louisville, the Scarlet Knights went 2-6, only putting 140 points on the board. There is some uncertainty for the Scarlet Knights at quarterback, Gary Nova and Chris Laviano are tussling it out for the starting job, but at the Rutgers spring game in April, head...