UI bids farewell to Grady

By BILL COONEY, CARLY MATTHEW, and GRACE PATERAS

daily-iowan@uiowa.edu

After 23 years at the University of Iowa, David Grady is moving on from his position as dean of students to further his career as a vice president at the University of Alabama. Grady came to the UI in 1992 as the director for campus programs and student activities, which is known today as the Center for Student Involvement and Leadership.

“I suspected that I’d leave the UI for two, three, or four years and then off to doing something else, but I was given some great opportunities here to take on more responsibility and grow my portfolio,” Grady said.

Since coming here, Grady has had seven titles.

One of the things that kept him in Iowa City for so long was the high quality of life the city and the university offered. Iowa is a great place,” he said. “The students are outstanding; the faculty and staff here are great, and there are very few institutions that would entice me to leave, and the University of Alabama is one of those.”

Grady said he will miss Iowa and the friends he has made but noted with a laugh he definitely won’t miss Iowa winters.

For Grady, going to Alabama to become the vice president for Student Affairs will be a lot like going home.

“My first job in higher education was at the University of Alabama,” he said. “I wanted to expand my horizons,” he said. “So I don’t want them to get stuck in the high-risk school. He said he always liked academia, was a hard worker, and was at top of his class. ‘My teachers said there was no way I could not go to college,” he said.

First-generation students head for UI graduation

By BYRIL COONEY, CARLY MATTHEW, and GRACE PATERAS

daily-iowan@uiowa.edu

Melody Mata

Melody Mata took her last final at the University of Iowa on Wednesday. On Saturday, she will walk along other social-work graduates at their ceremony.

Her parents, a brother, twin sister, aunt, and cousins will be in the crowd watching as the first woman in her family graduates. Mata said she wants to be a role model for family members, especially younger cousins in Mexico.

“When I look at the Mexican culture, women usually don’t go for that college degree,” she said. “So I don’t want them to get married at a young age and settle for something that is typical. I want them to go far beyond that.”

Mata wanted to get away from her hometown and meet new people. After she finished two years at Des Moines Area Community College, she transferred to UI to study social work.

“I felt like when you’re exposed to higher education, it makes you more likely to reach that goal,” he said.

Kyle Davis

Kyle Davis spent his college years harnessing his own potential. Next, he wants to help others embrace theirs.

During his time at the UI, Davis worked as a member of Latinos Moving Ahead, a group that organizes community-service events.

“Sometimes, minorities don’t always feel a part of campus,” she said. “That’s how it’s always been, even though they try to make it very diverse for us. But we just feel comfortable around each other.”

After graduating, he’s looking into opportunities through AmeriCorps and Teach for America. The UI has a long tradition of underprivileged youth.

Of his class. “My teachers said there was no way I could not go to college,” he said.

First-generation student Melody Mata stands in front of North Hall on Tuesday. Mata’s majors are social work and Spanish, and she looks forward to interning somewhere this summer. (The Daily Iowan/McCall Radavich)
Summer grants become more popular at UI campus

Resident students were able to earn up to 12 free credits during a single summer session while nonresident students received the 12 credits at resident student tuition rates.

By CANDY MATTHEW
omatthew@uiowa.edu

With enrollment still trickling in, one new grant program showed continued growth in its second year.

The University of Iowa's Summer Hawk Tuition Grant was initially introduced last year for the incoming class of 2017. Resident students were able to earn up to 12 free credits during a single summer session while nonresident students received the 12 credits at resident student tuition rates.

Last summer, around 336 students participated. "Our goal is to help students to a timelier path to graduation," Academic Advising Center Director Lisa Ingram said. Approximately 1,920 students who are currently registered for summer classes are eligible to use the grant.

"More than 900 eligible students have registered for summer classes while 300 are nonresidents according to the university’s data," Ingram said and it’s important students interested in using the grant have a conversation with their advisors about how they can get the most out of it. "I think more students will want to use it after their sophomores or juniors years because they have a better sense of which courses they would need to take during a summer session. Additionally, Ingram said, freshmen often tend to spend the summer at home after their first year. UI sophomores Sydney Lukach said that as an out-of-state student, she didn’t feel the grant was worthwhile. "It’s kind of useless for people who live out of state," Lukach said.

"I think many first-year students aren’t even sure about their majors, while upperclassmen may have a better sense of which courses they would need to take during a summer session," Ingram said. Freshmen, often tend to spend the summer at home after their first year.

UI sophomore Sydney Lukach said that as an out-of-state student, she didn’t feel the grant was worthwhile. "It’s kind of useless for people who live out of state," Lukach said. "I think many first-year students aren’t even sure about their majors, while upperclassmen may have a better sense of which courses they would need to take during a summer session," Ingram said. Freshmen, often tend to spend the summer at home after their first year.

UI sophomore Sydney Lukach said that as an out-of-state student, she didn’t feel the grant was worthwhile. "It’s kind of useless for people who live out of state," Lukach said. "I think many first-year students aren’t even sure about their majors, while upperclassmen may have a better sense of which courses they would need to take during a summer session," Ingram said. Freshmen, often tend to spend the summer at home after their first year.

UI sophomore Sydney Lukach said that as an out-of-state student, she didn’t feel the grant was worthwhile. "It’s kind of useless for people who live out of state," Lukach said. "I think many first-year students aren’t even sure about their majors, while upperclassmen may have a better sense of which courses they would need to take during a summer session," Ingram said. Freshmen, often tend to spend the summer at home after their first year.

UI sophomore Sydney Lukach said that as an out-of-state student, she didn’t feel the grant was worthwhile. "It’s kind of useless for people who live out of state," Lukach said. "I think many first-year students aren’t even sure about their majors, while upperclassmen may have a better sense of which courses they would need to take during a summer session," Ingram said. Freshmen, often tend to spend the summer at home after their first year.
GRADY CONTINUED FROM FRONT

He said though his par- ents didn’t have college expe- riences, they always gave him good advice and kept him grounded when he called home feeling overwhelmed. Dover found his stride “day,” Montiel said. “Every- one of my parents is fi- nally going to cry on graduation day,” Montiel said. “Every- thing my parents did is fi- nally going to pay off.”

Karla Montiel Karla Montiel returned to Iowa City Wednesday from a semester of student teaching in Chicago to make it back for her gradu- ation ceremony.

“My mom’s probably go- ing to cry on graduation day,” Montiel said. “Every- thing my parents did is fi- nally going to pay off.”

Bartoski said the transition for him be- came a senator in the future. “I’ll be in an administra- tion in which I can make a difference. I’ll be in an administra- tion that people can see and understand.”

Former UISG President- Patrick Bartoski said it was important for students to live on campus and take part in Orientation activities. “We used him as a re- source,” Montiel said. “His presence is something that people are going to have to come up with.”

He also said Grady made the transition for him be- coming a senator in the future. “I’ll be in an administra- tion in which I can make a difference. I’ll be in an administra- tion that people can see and understand.”

Liz Tito University of Iowa senior Liz Tito, a first-generation college student majoring in social work and minor in psychology, will continue her education by becoming a graduate. “I’ll be staying for my in- ternship,” Montiel said. “I’m doing the internship at the University of Iowa. I’m going to graduate school and get a master’s degree in social work.”

Liz Tito

Ben Carson will host several meet-and-greet Mar- 10 times in the past two years. Jindal is running for governor in 2015, while his campaign may signal his desire to enter the presidential race. Jindal will be in Iowa meeting with Io- wans across the state. She is expected to on June 1. He is expected to on June 1.

Former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush will start off Saturday with a lunchtime meet-and-greet with Senator Bruce Rastetter’s Agricul- ture Summit in Marshalltown.

Louisiana Gov. Bobby Jindal Louisiana Gov. Bobby Jindal will continue his stay in Iowa until May 20, where he will begin his speech was well re- ceived at the Iowa Free- dom Summit in January. Walker isn’t just expect- ed to attend the dinner. Before he will arrive at a Blue Jean Bash in West Des Moines, he will make the speech was well re- ceived at the Iowa Free- dom Summit in January. Walker isn’t just expect- ed to attend the dinner. Before he will arrive at a Blue Jean Bash in West Des Moines, he will make the speech was well re- ceived at the Iowa Free- dom Summit in January. Walker isn’t just expect- ed to attend the dinner. Before he will arrive at a Blue Jean Bash in West Des Moines, he will make the
So long, farewell

I never really knew the look on your parents’ faces when they told you that you were going to go to Iowa. Excited and completely terrified. Out of your comfort zone but ready to take the leap. I cried the first year, and then I cried again the second. I toured shortly after, and then again. And of course again.

And when I come to understand who I was and who I had no plans doing. Anyone can ever tell you, so are a lot more work than the next Erin Andrews, for hoped to eventually become majoring in journalism and distance relationship from I thought I did.

I did end up spending my freshman year I had it for the start of when I told them I wanted look on my parents’ faces mended it one Sunday night. And I can thank my Aunt for that. She commomnely eats dinner before dinner, and once I saw the website and all of the pictures, I was striagd. I’ll never forget the time I went to audit an OIT class and the professor never showed up. I had to leave. I am not sure who I was and who I was going to be upon Graduation Day. I realized that could make a decision about what you want to do and where you want to go while I still kept the lot of the life I had been leading unchanged. I would love to change the best.

So when the Iowa DOT issued letters to four cities in the latest camera reports released by the Iowa DOT to prevent the unnecessary use of the cameras as a necessary form of revenues.

The college jobplacement facade

Congratulations, 2015 University of

Cedar Rapids is full of reasons to be proud of.

The American Dream is a巢中血统，the most commonly used term in the past couple centuries, indicates that individuals and families growing up in Cedar Rapids are at a limited capacity, the cameras are a tremendous thorn in the root causes of some of the most inspiring classes in both the Journal-erly is winning the job lottery. And it’s not just the graduates who are two major public universi-ners and guide reporters and editors will pick up right where you left off. As you explore the Final year, one of hardest jobs I’ve designed for this purpose. It’s a big commitment, where I learned from the Iowan.com in response to published material. They will be chosen for print pub-the past couple centuries, some areas may contrib-

The numbers present—of which is the American

The numbers present—of which is the American 2014-2015, the year that was

Two GoFundMe.com foundations were started in May. The statue of Mu Amiri and Jackson have raised around $40,000 so far.

Dubuque Street Cottages

Three cottages from the fall of 2013 were finally sold in early December after it was found that because of the fate of their former statuses.

The City Council voted against their former statuses. On Feb. 9, which eliminated it by an 8-3 vote in favor of an additional demolition.

Cottages property owner Ted Pasha and he said what he wants with the property.

Part of the debate over the cottages were whether they were in disrepair as both sides had filed conflicting engineering reports.

Currently, two of the cottages stand at 614 S. Dubuque St., which was turned over to China after cell-phone records indicated he turned to China after cell-phone records indicated he was the first to file for bankruptcy in 2012. That year student in the medical doctorate in 2012.

The night at the Iowa City boarding hall will be the first for the site and the first time the city council will be viewing entertainment at this location.

Several promotions

Numerous solidarity protest style events occurred on campus this year against police violence.

The first, a part of a nationwide “Hands Up Walk Out” organized by the Ferguson Action Committee for Racial Justice has arrested 50 people gather on the Pentacrest.

The second, to protest the death of Frankie Gray in Baltimore and other victims of alleged police violence, occurred in May.

Around 150 people gathered on the Pentacrest to protest against police violence.

Mason to retire

University of Iowa President Sally Mason will retire at the end of the July 2015 fiscal year after serving for 20 years. She will also be due sometime around a week.

$2,001,856.21.

More than the previous year.

The registration deadline was set for this year.

The campus will feature entertainment.

Taste Stand; the cottage at er Ted Pacha said he will property.

Cottages property owner

Ted Pasha and he said what he wants with the property.

Part of the debate over the cottages was whether they were in disrepair as both sides had filed conflicting engineering reports.

Currently, two of the cottages stand at 614 S. Dubuque St., which was turned over to China after cell-phone records indicated he turned to China after cell-phone records indicated he was the first to file for bankruptcy in 2012. That year student in the medical doctorate in 2012.

The night at the Iowa City boarding hall will be the first for the site and the first time the city council will be viewing entertainment at this location.

Several promotions

Numerous solidarity protest style events occurred on campus this year against police violence.

The first, a part of a nationwide “Hands Up Walk Out” organized by the Ferguson Action Committee for Racial Justice has arrested 50 people gather on the Pentacrest.

The second, to protest the death of Frankie Gray in Baltimore and other victims of alleged police violence, occurred in May.

Around 150 people gathered on the Pentacrest to protest against police violence.

Mason to retire

University of Iowa President Sally Mason will retire at the end of the July 2015 fiscal year after serving for 20 years. She will also be due sometime around a week.

$2,001,856.21.

More than the previous year.

The registration deadline was set for this year.

The campus will feature entertainment.

Taste Stand; the cottage at
the ledge

Ways I am like more famous Andrews

• Andrew "Dice" Clay: consider myself a comedian, despite all protestations and the vast majority.
• Andrew Lloyd Webber: love video games more than real life.
• Andrew "Ender" Wiggin: likes gaudy outerwear and cats.
• Andrew Warhol: am prone to thematic repetition.
• Andrew Ryan: am underwater.
• Andrew "Nard Dog" Ber -...
NEWS 7

Geneva’s importance, because every recent graduates do try-level candidate would of employers said an en-

One of the big challenges of their first

A hefty $6 billion ap-

In addition, Becraft

A second, pushed for - the House, especially

As the latest generation of college graduates take the first steps across the stage, they face the challenging first pro-

According to a recent joint

Abbey Steflau, head

At least the generation of

Some push Biden for run

By BEN MARKS

By QUENTIN MISIAG

Iowa Senate OKs spending bill

Iowa Senate on Thursday,

Sen. Bob Dvorsky,

Every year, students trans-
What should have been the Story of the Year?

Two staffers debate what should have won the DI Story of the Year.

The Daily Iowan

Iowa wrestling not win ning Big Ten title

The Iowa wrestling team finishing at the end of the wrestling season should have been The Big Ten title story of the year.

Heading into the postseason, the Hawkeyes were 14-0 in dual meets and only two of those had been closer than 6 points — Ohio State and Penn State. Iowa then blitzed through the first three rounds of the National Duals before falling to Minnesota for its first and only loss of the season. At 17-1, Iowa was still ranked No. 1 and the favorite going into the Big Ten and NCAA Tournaments. However, the Hawks lost to the Big Ten and finished second in the NCAAAs and did not win the championship they desperately coveted.

The championship window is used to describe a team's chance on championship meet and finally decided that Iowa was not the team to win a title during a specific amount of time. It's also applicable to college sports, though in a slightly lesser sense, considering that college teams are normally more disposable than the pros.

With that in mind, Iowa's window was short and seems like it could very well have been limited to this past season. Penn State redshirted two All-Americans — Nicole Megaludis and Zain Retherford — while this season's champion Ohio State rose to prominence faster than most expected.

Both the Buckeyes and the Nittany Lions have consistently had the most talented recruiting classes, while Iowa has not. This is not to say the Hawkeyes cannot or will not win a championship in the next five years, but this season was an opportunity lost.

Considering the opportunity was there for the taking, a team that loses and dies by their performances in the NCAA Tournament, this season's biggest opportunity is absolutely the Story of the Year.

— Jordan Humen

Iowa football's step back

Yes, that the Iowa women's basketball team made it to the Sweet 16 last season is great for the Hawkeyes. And yes, the fact Hawkeyes were walking undeniably during the regular season and came away from those three postseason tournaments with all of Big Ten championship is below the program's standards.

Those stories made waves across the country, and those were the stories thought to be used for Iowa State's national championship game. It wasn't too much of a stretch, either.

Jake Rudock was in his fourth year as starter. The senior led the Hawkeyes to early successes. All-everything tackle Brandon Scherff was back, along with what looked like a deep back group. Expect the team that the Hawkeyes optimized – a team that was overestimated where the Hawkeyes would have been at season's end.

Instead of facing off with the winner of the Big Ten Tournament and itself watching Wisconsin — the team the Hawkeyes lost a 26-24 heartbreaker to earlier — get pampered at the hands of Ohio State, which, of course, went on to win the Big Ten and NCAA Tournaments. Instead of playing for glory the Hawkeyes suffered a 45-28 embarrassment at the hands of the Buckeyes.

A negative story, yes, but one that was prove the team was capable of putting up a fight. This season's missed opportunity is absolutely the Story of the Year.

— Danny Payne

CONTINUED FROM 14

WBB

CONTINUED FROM 14

GOLF

CONTINUED FROM 14

TRACK

CONTINUED FROM 14

BASEBALL

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14

CONTINUED FROM 14
CONGRATULATIONS
University of Iowa Class of

DESIREE LAINO
Day. From preschool to today, your College Graduation. Remember today, all the stuff you have done, and you're going to keep on moving forward. It's a new phase. Remember, you're not just going to be a student anymore. Congratulations, you have graduated! Love, Dad, Mom, Meth, and Mack

FRANK JAMES ROSS III
What a proud day! We just couldn't be happier for you, you did it! Love, Dad, Mom and Renee

Kelsey Leigh
We couldn’t be more proud of you and your accomplishments as you graduate from the University of Iowa. We’re proud and we put your heart into everything you do. You have grown into a beautiful, intelligent, confident and caring young woman. Your future awaits you. Sincerest, Love, Dad & “the girls”

Lauren "Liz" Silich
CONGRATULATIONS!!!
We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Matt, and Nick

From Shriver Road to UI-Iowa and beyond... ADAM JORGENSEN '15 BS, '16 MS
To Ann Arbor, Emergency Medicine residency DOUGLAS JOHNSON '13 BS, '15 PharmD
To St. Louis to be a pharmacist VIRGINIA JOSINSKI '15 BA
To Jabber, India to study at the American Institute of Indian Studies PAYAL SINGH '15 BA Much & Psychology Preparing for graduate school
And, Honorary Membership to LORRAIS ADES
Loras College ’13 Athletic Trainer
So proud of you all, Shriver Road Men’s Bath and Shelby

G-G-A-L
Brian Benjamin Barreda
I’ve known you for a few years and it’s been a dream to have you arrive from the North. Keep moving on and don’t let your mind and soul down.
Love, Ben, Mom & Dad

GRETCHEN NICHOLS
Congratulations!!
We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom and Dad

Jordyn, You had a dream, worked hard and here we are. Keep dreaming, the future is yours. We are so proud of you!
Love, Ben, Mom & Alexandria

Michele Anh Ngo
We hope your dreams take you to the corner of your smiles, to the highest of your hopes. To the wind of your opportunities, and to the most special places your heart has ever known. Congratulations on your graduation. We love you and couldn't be any prouder.
Love, Mom, Dad and Paulina

Samantha Danzinger – An exciting future is yours for the taking! We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Ryan and Jeff

Gigi ~
We are so blessed to have you as our daughter. We are so proud of you. Wish you all the happiness you deserve.
Congratulations, You Did It!
All our love, Mom, Dad, Ben and Honey

G-O-A-L
Ethan Mark, How proud you were that day! You did and you should be so proud on completing your degree and fulfilling your goals in light of all the adversity that has been thrown your way.
We all love you and look forward to your future, Love, The Family

David Smolen, My how times flies. Remember your dreams and believe in yourself. Congratulations Graduate! Love, Mom & Dad and your sister Mollie Congrats to Brendan and Emily Case for following and Finishing your dreams. We are proud of you.

Love ya always,
Merlin, Brenda, Steve & Kim

Jordyn, Luiker, From your 1st day of school to now - we are so proud of you and all your achievements. You made it happen!
Love, Mom, Mike, Dad, Cathy, Justin and Rebecca

GRETCHEN NICHOLS
Congratulations!!
We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom and Dad

KEELY BANACH
Congratulations on your graduation. These past four years went by so quickly. You’ve accomplished so much. We are very proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Taylor

“T0 Infinity And Beyond”
No greater words have been spoken.
Congratulations J.R.!!!
We’re so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Sam

GRETCHEN NICHOLS
Congratulations!!
We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom and Dad

KEELY BANACH
Congratulations on your graduation. These past four years went by so quickly. You’ve accomplished so much. We are very proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Taylor

“TO INFINITY AND BEYOND”
No greater words have been spoken.
Congratulations J.R.!!!
We’re so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Sam

GRETCHEN NICHOLS
Congratulations!!
We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom and Dad

Ryan Christensen:
You did it! Congratulations on receiving your mechanical engineering degree & getting a great job! We are incredibly proud of you!
Much Love, Mom & Dad

“TO INFINITY AND BEYOND”
No greater words have been spoken.
Congratulations J.R.!!!
We’re so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Sam

GRETCHEN NICHOLS
Congratulations!!
We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom and Dad

FRANK M. ROTTELLA
Room for improvement?!? You worked so hard and came so far. Congratulations on your college graduation! May this be the first of many accomplishments in your adult life. We are so proud of you! Love, Mom and Dad

Tom Podczerwinski
Here's to the future and what it holds for a man with your talents, heart, and soul.
Love, Mom, Dad and John

APHTON COOK
Congratulations!!
You Did It!!
We Love You!

Zach,
Since you were a little boy and till today, you have had to given chances to try and make our kids a little in pride. We are so lucky to have you in our life. Congratulations on your graduation and best of luck for a successful career.
“Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have imagined.” - Henry David Thoreau
Love Always - Dad, Mom and Bri

CONGRATULATIONS
ON COMPLETING FOUR SUCCESSFUL YEARS AT IOWA & PKP
“Knowledge is Good”
We’re very proud of you.
Much Love, Mom and Dad

JS
CONGRATULATIONS
University of Iowa Class of 2015

JOHN REJOWSKI
Iowa Lacrosse #28
Congratulations on a great four years in the classroom and on the field. We are all proud of you. Well done!
Love, Mom & Dad

Alec Bastling.
Don’t forget to say “thank you”!
We know you’re “going to show this world a thing or 2”
Love, Mom, Dad, Dan and Emily

HANNnah PHILooreen
Your determination is an inspiration.
Remain focused on your dreams and you’ll be successful no matter what path you take. I’m so proud of you.
Love, Mom

Molly Torchia
We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments!
Congratulations and Go Hawks!
Love, Your Family

JOSeph DEMPSEY
Go Iowa Hawkeyes! Congratulations on graduation from Mechanical Engineering. We are very proud of you and all the hard work you have done to achieve this degree.
KEEP ON ROCKING!
You have the whole world in front of you.
Love, Mom & Dad

Kathleen McNamara
We are so proud of you pharmer Mac.
Best of Luck!!

Sonja Gilbertson
So proud of you! Always remember the best is yet to come!
Love, Mom & Dad, Gina, Luke & Kristie

Lauren McTague
Congratulations, LoLo! We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Jenny, and Ella

GREG USER
We haven’t always gotten along and we’ve had our share of good times, big and so proud of who you’ve become.
Congratulations! You’re DANG!!
– Tom “YOU” USER

Lauren Ellison
Congratulations on your Graduation!!!
We are very proud of you.
The World awaits . . .
Love, Mom & Dad

ANDREA MARIE
Wishing you sweet success in life!
We love you - Mom, Dad and Family

Chris Cassens
Congratulations! I’m so proud of you!
Grandpa would be so proud of you!
Love, Mom

DAN CARROLL
You have an NFL team, played college sport and studied hard. Mostly you tried your best. Congratulations on your graduation. We are so proud of you.
Love, Mom & Dad

Rebecca Abellera
Congratulations Becca-boo, we are proud of you!

Jessica Fletcher-Frye
Congratulations Ladybug! We are so very proud of what you have accomplished! I can’t believe how fast Kindergarten to the end of college have gone. We pray for a bright and wonderful future for you!
Love you to the moon and back bug!
Love always, Mom and David

Pat, Congratulations on your graduation!
Love, Mom & Dad

CODY STACKHOUSE
We are very proud of you!
Hard work pays off.
Love, Mom and Dad

WE love you Rusty!
We’re very proud of you!
Love, Mom and Dad

JOE STEIN
A job well done. We are so proud of you, Congratulations!
Love, Mom, Dad, Molly and Ellen

EMILY WRIGHT
From your first day
at kindergarten to your last day as an undergraduate, you have remained focused on growing in knowledge, wisdom, and love. We are so proud of you and we know that a world of beauty, happiness and contentment surrounds you and bo by inviting you to seize the day. Best of Luck to your new life in Milwaukee!

SAMUEL NEGRON
Proud of you then . . . Proud of you now . . .
Proud of you then . . .
Proud of you now . . .
Congratulations!
Love, Mom, Pat and Miguel

BraDy cooper
Congratulations! We are so proud of you!
We can’t wait to see what the future holds for you!
Now you really can
Look at you, you are a
HAWKEYE for life!!
Love, Mom and Dad

PS - Zach and Mackey are proud of you too!

the University of Iowa College of Education is pleased to recognize the academic achievement of its May 2015 students who have completed the requirements for teacher licensure and are graduating with distinction and high distinction.

With Distinction:
Abigail Griffl from Bur Ridge, III., Elementary Education
Kelly Loch from Lake Zurich, III., Elementary Education
Mia Naison, West Des Moines, Iowa, Elementary Education
Natalie Rogalski, Davenport, Iowa, Elementary Education

High Distinction:
Kelsey Emmerson from Cedar Falls, Iowa, Elementary Education
Madelyn Henneseth from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Social Studies Education

The College of Education is proud of its 109 new teacher leaders graduating this May. We wish them much success in their classrooms throughout Iowa and across the nation.

Dean Nicholas Coleangelo
Myron and Jacqueline Blank Professor of Gifted Education
Leaders. Scholars. Innovators.
www.education.uiowa.edu/teach

COllege of education
CONGRATULATIONS
University of Iowa Class of 2015

Shelby Phillips Congratulations! We are so proud of what you have accomplished these last 4 years! Love, Dad and Mom

Samantha Logic St. Edward’s, to Case High, to University of Iowa, and now on to Atlanta. We are proud of your accomplishments on and off the court! Love you, Dad, Mom and Mom

Mike Sommercorn, From preschool to a Masters in Engineering... how time flies. Congratulations on a job well done! We are so proud of you! Love, Mom, Dad and Jenna Miranda Gehris Keep doing great jobs! So proud of you and the great times! We are so proud of your accomplishments in the world of Ethics and Public Policy! Love, Mom and Dad

Congratulations! KASEY BROWN We are all proud of you! Love, Dad and Mom

The verdict is in... She's legal & she's Hinsdale! Congratulations Abby Moffitt University of Iowa College of Law Class of 2015 With much love and pride, Dad & Mom YOU DID IT!

Mary Maxine Redmond Scholarship Lauren Ross
Judith Young Saunders Scholarship Bobbie Clark, Ayla Potton
Judy Shirley Memorial Scholarship Jasmine Ditte, Jill Lauer
Margaret A. Sloan Scholarship Maggie Hughes, Ellen May, Leh McShygo, Lara Sherra
Lloyd Smith Scholarship Lauren Quinan
Maureen Medberry Snell Education Award Alba Baker, Kaye Keeley, Cindy Vlgo, Alexander Rose, Jordan Sosenow, Khadija Washington
Francois Darcey and Louise Stone International Scholarship Sungho Kim
James and Coretta Stroud Fellowship Michelle Rogers, Abigail Kopelman
Grace Phelps Stuckier Scholarship Lyndsey Lovelace
Student Teaching Aligned Scholarship Heidi Bobb, Kelsey Enstrom, Madison Garcia, Emily Green, Ashley Holder, Amanda Koutett, Nicole Krol, Catherine Martinez, Connor McCullam, Jessica McCurry, Shelby Moffit, Kelly Myers, Carline Orte, William Stockman, Claire Thompson, Kelly VanArts, Emily Yingling, Lydie Yoder
Edgar M. and Emily Banner Tuteur Scholarship Allison Gattone, Elly Hudon
University High School Innovative Developments in Education (IDEA) Kelly Fimbach
Emily C. Wagner Scholarship Catherine Otter
Mike and Arline Walter Scholarship Claudia Patricia Aguirre-Mendes, Jee Kyung Suh
Erwin and Louise Wast International Scholarship Nib M Borg

Dean Nicholas Calogero
Myron and Jacqueline Blank Professor of Gifted Education
Leaders. Innovators. www.education.uiowa.edu/scholarships
CONGRATULATIONS
University of Iowa Class of

The professional staff at The Daily Iowan would like to congratulate our graduating marketing team members:

Eric Zweep
John Staak
Jake Trotter
Nicole Darian
Karleigh Gunderson

Thank you for being a part of The Daily Iowan. We wish you all the best.

Lisa Judith Gunter
Congratulation! We are so proud of you. Love you always. Don't let anything stop you from your dreams!
Mom, Dad, Danielle, Robbie and Charles

Laurynn
Graduation and getting engaged...what an exciting year! Thank you for all your hard work, you were an asset to us and your new job is lucky to have you. I wish you all the best.
Cheers to an amazing future filled with happiness and success!
- Juli
Women's hoops steal the show

Iowa women's basketball is the Big Ten Story of the Year.

By COURTNEY BAUMANN

The Hawkeyes have made the trip to East Lansing, Michigan, and are set to begin competition today through Saturday. Unfortunately for us, Tyler Cowen was behind first-place Illinois.

The loss came after a stunning 29-point effort against Northwestern that saw her shoot 9-of-10 from beyond the arc.

Dixon, a 5-8 guard from Illinois, passed former Hawk-er star Micaela Kelly on the career charts with 344 3-pointers after a stunning 29-point effort against North-western that saw her shoot 9-of-10 from beyond the arc.

Iowa's spectacular senior class was in the spotlight all by the Atlanta Dream.

All-American Sam Logic capped off a dominant final regular-season series.

As finals week comes to a close, the pressure is definitely on. "It is going to be given to us," Guster said. "We will actually have to fight to get it."

Competition will be fierce at the conference meet, and the Hawkeyes know it.

"Everyone is going to be out for our blood," Guster said. "They can't get too far ahead of us. We have to execute our first races," Director of Track and Field Joey Woody said. "We hope to get the athletes to believe in what is immediately in front of them."

In order to make the finals, the athletes "need to make to their games, and the only way to be-come a higher-level golfer is to con-centrate on the range and in tournaments. Summer is the perfect time for college golfers to hone their games because they can practice and see how their day-to-day demands that a full-time sport, and all of our guys have aspirations to play golf beyond college."

"They've worked really hard over the past two months can also trans-fer to next season."

"Their lefty did a nice job," head coach Tyler Stith said.

"I feel really confident with the group that we have here, and I think we're going to have a high level of effort," said head coach Rick Heller said. "We worked really hard over the winter and had a good season so far, hopefully getting better each week."