STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

Prayer meeting every Tuesday noon in central building. All are cordially invited.

LOCALS.

Lee, Welch & Co., Lawn Tennis.

We still shout for a lecture course.

Miss Eva Pierce, of Marshalltown, is visiting her brother, F. G., this week.

Sam'l Watkins is sick with the typhoid fever.

The preliminary for the declamatory contest will be held in December.

Ward Bannister is recovering from his recent attack of typhoid fever.

Clara Slotterbee has been absent from classes for a week on account of sickness.

Prof. Anderson's class in English prose begin the study of Carlyle Monday.

Misses Myrtle Lloyd and Mame Roseman are the latest additions to the Delta Gamma fraternity.

The city schools are enjoying the advantages of special instruction in penmanship and physical culture.

Rev. Arthur Beavis will speak on "Christ before Pilate," Sunday, Nov. 17, at 10:45 A. M. All are cordially invited.

E. A. Kreger, after finishing the Junior year in the Iowa Agricultural College at Ames, has entered the Junior Law Class of S. U. I.

J. C. Norton, who will be remembered as a former student of the University, now of Ames, has been renewing old acquaintances here for a few days.

Harriet B. Williams, who went to Independence three weeks ago to visit and to attend the Whitney-Williams wedding, returned last Saturday evening.

All students are invited to attend the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday next at the Christian Chapel at 4 P. M. Subject: "Christ the Great Physician." The meeting will be led by Prof. Rockwood

D. W. Evans, class '86, who has been reading law here for the past three weeks, left for Springdale to-day to resume his school work. "He leaves many sad hearts and takes one with him."

D. Powell Johnson was here on business during a couple of days this week.

Mrs. E. E. Cook, of Davenport, made a flying visit with her sons on Thursday.

A. H. Brown and W. G. Craig left for Vinton this morning to spend Sunday with relatives.

Miss Olive Ball, of West Liberty, is the very welcome guest of her friend, Edna McElravy, for a few days.

Our foot ball team is at Grinnell, to-day, playing with the Iowa College aggregation. May success attend them.

If there is anything that a young man will insist upon it is a nice fitting and stylish shoe. Stewart's S. U. I. shoes just fill the bill. Have you seen them?

The herbarium is in receipt of a choice collection of cones from a gentleman at Flushing, Long Island. Among the choicest specimens are some from the "Cedars of Lebanon."

The success of the last dance given by the High School boys has caused another committee of them to organize, and on the evening of the 27th of this month they will try their luck.

Regular weekly convention of Knights of Pythias will be held at Castle Hall, Opera Block, Thursday evening of each week, at 7:30. All members of the order in the city cordially invited. tf

Two alumni of S. U. I., E. B. Sabin, and Carlyle B. Miller, both of class '86, Collegiate department, are visiting together the scenes of their childhood, viz., the S. U. I. campus, and all that is therein contained.

William K. Myers, law '87, familiarly known in S. U. I. circles as "Billy," is visiting friends in town. He reports business booming in Anita, Iowa, where he is engaged with his father in banking.

There is a rumor afloat that certain members of the faculty of S. U. I. were not satisfied with artistic (?) performance of Vernona Jarbeau and Co., at the Opera House last Saturday evening. The old, old story, "Vanity of vanities," saith the preacher.

Friends of Miss Julia Coon, '86, will learn, with great regret, that on account of failing health, she has been obliged to resign her position in the High School at Hastings, Neb. Miss Mina Selby, '83, has been elected to fill her place.

The attention a V.-R., loafer was recently called to the unsightly old wire fence, east of the campus. By all manner of means let us have a new fence. It is really a disgrace to the University, and ought to be replaced by a new one of some sort.

The statement in last week's VIDETTE that the Y. M. C. A. building project was not meeting the support from the citizens that it should, was perhaps too strong. The Press calls us to time, and we think very justly. The circumstances were such that the citizens are perfectly excusable for the delay.

The first recitations in tactics were held this week, and the boys are pleased with Major Read's method of conducting a recitation. Embarrassment will never count against a man for the Major gives every chance for demonstration and explanation.

Irving B. Richman, recently elected to the Legislature from Muscatine county, was in the city Monday looking over the University. Mr. Richman is one of the boys of whom the University is justly proud. He will be one of the pillars of strength for the University in the legislature this winter.

The senatorial district embracing Benton and Tama counties will be represented in the next session of the upper house of the State legislature by J. J. Mosnot, of Belle Plaine. Mr. Mosnot is an alumnus of the University, having graduated in 1878, from the Law Department, and is an uncle of Bertha Horak, of the present Freshman class.

P. Lee Johnson, '83, one of the favorite sons of S. U. I. in the early '80's, visited in the city a few days this week. At present Mr. Johnson is a real estate dealer in the thriving city of Hastings. On his way to Ohio, he could not pass through Iowa without stopping to pay his respects to his alma mater.

Last evening Prof. Jamison read a very interesting essay before the Bostonian Club on "Sewers and Sewerage." He pointed out very forcibly the necessity of proper sewerage, and the immense injury that an insufficient system of sewerage can work. The paper was highly interesting, and convinced the audience that one good sanitary engineer can do more to increase health than half a dozen doctors. We regret that we have not space for a more complete notice.

Prof. Perkins' Seminary of American History met at the usual time last Saturday morning. The three papers read and discussed were as follows: A critical essay on the "Reliability of Father Hennepin," by W. L. Hall; a "History of the Jesuit Mission among the Iroquois" by Helen Orton; and a paper on the "Mission Around the Great Lakes," by B. F. Shambaugh. Two hours were delightfully spent in reading and in discussing these papers. The meetings of the Seminary continue to increase in interest as the members become more familiar with the work of original research. "The Town System of New England" will be discussed next Saturday.

The Y. W. C. T. U. of the city held high carnival—a Merchants' Carnival in the Opera House on the evenings of Thursday and Friday of this week. They gave a program consisting of drills, marches, music, recitations and receptions. After this refreshments were served on the stage. On Friday evening the proceeds went towards the University Y. M. C. A. building fund.

It is needless to say that the young ladies have the thanks of the University young people. Their kindness will be remembered long after the Y. M. C. A. building becomes old. The "Merchants' Carnival" was without doubt the most successful affair of the kind ever undertaken by the young ladies of the town.

There is a school down at Des Moines called the University of Des Moines. A couple of the young people of that institution fell in love this fall, and that couple got married at the home of the bride with the full consent of the families of both parties. Previous to their marriage both of the young people stood high in the estimation of the faculty and students at Des Moines college. But they fell from grace in the eyes of the faculty at least when they were married. On their return to the college they were expelled by the faculty. When interviewed by a reporter the President said: "Any student is subject to discipline who gets married during term time. That is one of the standing rules of the college." Must and dust are all over the faculty of Des Moines college.

An interesting feature of the Philosophical Course is the Seminary which is connected with the work in Psychology. The members of it, consisting of the majority of the class in Psychology, meet every Tuesday evening in Prof. Patrick's recitation room and discuss subjects pertaining to this study which are considered but briefly in the text book. Usually one member has a paper about thirty minutes in length on the subject under discussion which he presents. This is followed by remarks by the Professor and questions by any of the members. There was a little digression from this plan on last Tuesday evening, four papers about ten minutes in length being presented instead. The subject for the evening was memory. The papers treated of the physiological basis, the advantage and disadvantage, the improvement of the memory, and the difficult systems of mnemonics. After these had been discussed hurriedly one or two mnemonic systems were tried and with quite surprising results. The subject proved so interesting that next Tuesday evening will be taken up in some more experiments.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Co. was the attraction at Germania Hall, last evening. "Little Eva" entered into the spirit of her part, and spoke her lines without the mechanical drawl common to young people on the stage. "Uncle Tom," too, deserves especial mention.—Wilkesbarre Record. At the Opera House, Wednesday evening, November 20th. Prices: gallery 35c; lower floor 50c. Seats on sale at Fink's Tuesday morning.

DELTA GAMMA.

Saturday evening, November 9th, any one walking down west Davenport street would have passed No. 13 with muffled tread and bated breath, for the house without was wrapped in the deepest darkness, but within a fire was brightly burning at the altar of Delta Gamma, and about the rooms the wax candles diffused a pleasant light. It was the joyous occasion when Miss Myrtle Lloyd, of the Senior Law class, and Miss Mamie Rosemon, of the Collegiate Freshman class, were invited into the mystic circle of Delta Gamma. The chapter feels justly proud of its new members. Delta Gamma thinks to become famous for lady lawyers through Miss Lloyd, and the renowned Miss Pier, of Milwaukee, who lately appeared in the Wisconsin Supreme Court. After an enthusiastic introduction to the goat, little tables were brought in, and the Delta Gamma sisters indulged in an oyster supper, which was especially enjoyed after the evening's "fun and frolic."

CHALLENGE.

In the last issue of the VIDETTE, some Sophomore makes the assertion that since the players of the S. U. I. have adopted Rugby rules, the Sophomore class team having practiced them could get no other class team to meet them on the ball park, and therefore they claimed the championship of the class teams. Now to free them of the claim which they make so unknowingly, and to relieve their minds of the constant strain "of wanting a game," they are hereby challenged to play a game of foot ball, at any time and place, and under such rules as they may denote. A. G. SMITH.
Capt. Junior Team.

"Hans, the Boatman."

Charles Arnold, in his great English and Australian success, "Hans, the Boatman," will be seen at the Opera House, next Thursday, Nov. 21.

"Charles Arnold is a dialect comedian who will quickly ingratiate himself with that most potent element among playgoers—the women and children. Besides his many personal graces, he has also those adjuncts to actors of his class—cute little tots to dandle on his knee and sing to, and a big St. Bernard dog. Mr. Arnold shared the honors of the evening with a diminutive actress named May Hannan. This dimpled baby humorist is the star of the performance. She is the darling of the ladies and children."—Chicago Tribune.

The sale of seats for Mr. Arnold's appearance in this city will open next Monday.

Seeley, you had better practice before sneezing in public.

"Bones require very little water." What do you drink, Bones?

We would like to have one of the Prof's explain the composition of a "Brass piece of iron."

Do not sit cross-legged any more. It is not only ungrateful, but may produce aneurism.

Some of the boys still do the hash act during lectures. There will be a day of final reckoning, boys.

The Junior class has a poetical genius. We hope to be able to publish some of his productions soon.

Some of the boys have a new way of studying Anatomy. They dissect all the specimens which are passed around the class.

The Dents seem to have a surplus of lead on hand at present from the way some of them throw shot around the amphitheatre.

Boys, you had Beede behave yourselves or the editors will get hold of the Hull lot of you, and hit you a Belt. Wertz the matter with us?

Boys it is a shame for visitors at clinic to have to furnish their own opera glasses. Why not take up a collection and buy a pair?

W. F. Carson, class '89, has a lucrative practice at Holstein, Neb. We are pleased to hear of the success of our predecessors on the benches.

One of the first years, in his thirst for knowledge, strayed down into the Senior row yesterday. How dare you insult the Senioric dignity thusly?

Mr. G. Fossler, of Lincoln, Neb., who entered the second year grade class, and was compelled to return home on account of sickness, died at his home on Thursday.

Certain students would do well to remember that one lecture at a time is all some of the boys can hear, and those who desire to listen to the Prof. do not like to be disturbed by an —.

On Wednesday, November 6th, occurred the marriage of F. B. Dodd, M. D., class '89, to Miss Emma Fallows, both of Wancoma, Iowa. Dr. Dodd has a remunerative practice, in partnership with his father, and will make a model husband. The bride is reported as a worthy lady, and fair to look upon. The congratulations of the boys are extended.

If you do not want to be hit, do not place yourself in a position to be fired at. Our duty to the class compels us to fire at our best friend if he is so imprudent as to get from behind the breastworks. Do not dodge until you are hit, and then if it strikes hard, dress your wound, use antiseptics to guard against recurrence, and keep perfectly quiet.

DENTAL DEPARTMENT

C. KREMER, Senior, | A. E. OSBORN, Junior
Editors.

Dr. W. H. Dwight went to Parkersburg on Thursday, to look after his business. He will return next Monday.

Speaking of Continuous gum, Crown and Bridge work, it is remarkable with what unanimity all the antiquated fossils, (who are unable to perform such operations) condemn them.

H. E. Hawthorne suffered several days with swelling of his cheek, which seemed to baffle the skill of the physicians, but was finally relieved by Professor Hunt, who gave egress to the forming abscess.

No one but a Junior can tell how lonesome the dark days in the laboratory have been, this week, without Professor Breene. It is hoped that his health may soon permit him to be with us again.

Dr. W. H. Baird, from Burlington, has been giving us a very entertaining and instructive clinic in continuous gum work. Dr. Baird is not only an excellent operator, but a thorough gentleman as well.

Juniors who presume to place almanac statistics on anaesthesia, against statements of actual experience by such men as Professor Hunt, Professor Patrick and Professor Baird, are making a serious mistake.

P. Van Winter, came all the way from Washington Territory to finish his dental education with us. He was with us last year, and by his genial manner made many warm friends who are glad to see him among us again.

Prof. Patrick, who has no superior, and very few equals in his specialty, (Orthodontia) arrived on Monday last and will deliver a course of lectures to the Seniors. We wonder if the Prof. will favor us with his fish story.

In instituting a comparison between the increase in attendance in our department and the increase in other Dental Colleges of the country, we find that the S. U. I. is in the lead by a very large percentage, and we who are interested in the welfare of our college, naturally feel proud of it.

Bill Nye finally succeeded in enchanting the blonde Medic who has been swapping smiles with him at a distance, but when the result became known among the male sex of her class, the once fortunate suitor was soon seen wending his way to the pit. Bill was soon at his accustomed place, and though he was not blushing, his face glowed with a supernatural warmth which was brought about by the caste of gymnastics.

Our society meeting on Tuesday evening, was well attended and those who were there had the pleasure of listening to three real good essays, by Drs. Barker, Cobb and Coleman. The discussions were also entertaining. The manner in which Prof. Hunt sat down on some of us who are inclined to jump up and discuss subjects of which we know very little, may have been amusing to some, but those of us to whom his remarks were evidently addressed failed to look upon his statements as being akin to low comedy.

ACADEMY COLUMN.

VINNIE C. ROBINSON, Editor.

Yes, Thanksgiving comes on Thursday this year.

A number of our girls took part in the Merchants Carnival.

Miss Jessie Cochran is to resume her studies in the Academy next term.

Miss Annie M. Waldron, an old student of the Academy has resumed her work.

The Zets and Philos have their regular program every Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

Miss Ida Creger has been sick the past week, but hopes to return to her studies Monday.

Dr. Barrett will deliver a lecture before the Academy students about the tenth of December.

There will be an interesting Alumni programme in the Athenian Hall, Friday evening, Dec. 6.

Why don't the elocution class have some recitals? We want to know how well they are progressing.

The Athenians hold their meetings every Friday evening at eight o'clock, sharp. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

The Zetaethians are to discuss the question: Resolved, That if the modern way of celebrating Hallowe'en is wrong for "Tirzah Ann" it is wrong for "Thomas Jefferson."

In the near future "Chan" is to give the Athenians a review of Bellamy's "Looking Backward." Members of all the societies are invited to be present and join in the discussion which will follow.

President Schaeffer gave a very interesting lecture to the Academy students on Friday morning. The process in the manufacture of iron from the ore was explained in a manner clear to all. The students expressed their appreciation by hearty applause at the close of the address.

LAW DEPARTMENT

F. R. MILLAR, Senior, | S. F. SAWYER, Junior.
Editors.

Varnum: Whose hair was that found on your shoulder, Friday morning?

R. R. Cook's mother spent a couple of days this week with him taking in the sights about the city.

The Juniors have been deprived of their review quiz in torts on account of the sickness of Prof. Gilman.

We understand that Wright wants Boies to give him an office for faithful services during the late campaign.

The Seniors have been favored with an unusually large number of lady visitors at recitations during the past week.

Mr. Chas. Fogg, of Stewart, a former student in the Law department, S. U. I., visited the institution Wednesday, favoring the boys with a speech. Mr. Fogg was, in '87, candidate for the supreme bench on the Democratic ticket.

Wills left for Mt. Hope, Wis., Friday, to resume charge of his school. On Thursday evening some of his law friends tendered him an informal reception, and at a late hour it looked as though Wills would stay over 'till Saturday. He left at noon, however, on the day mentioned.

First Young Lady: "Why, do you know I hardly know any Laws at all." Second Y. L.: "Why, yes you do; there's Mr. X. and Mr. L. and Mr. Bonson." First Y. L.: "Oh, yes; Mr. Bonson. But then I never think of him as a Law." Second Y. L.: "How do you think of him?" First Y. L.: "Oh, as a Freshman or something."

The Law Literary has prepared a special programme for Friday evening, Nov. 22d. Mr. Hunn's vocal quartette and stringed band will furnish the music. The eloquence of our dark complected orator and the logical minds of our lady members will add much interest to the entertainment. The friends of the department are cordially invited to be present.

A statute of the Nebraska Legislature provides: "It shall be unlawful for any person to fire or discharge any pistol, revolver, shotgun, rifle, or any firearms, whatsoever, on any public road or highway, in any county in the State of Nebraska, or within sixty yards of such public road or highway, except to destroy some wild, ferocious, or dangerous beast, or officer in the discharge of his duty." The astute legislature had evidently heard of metropolitan policemen.—Ex. A metropolitan police officer who would come within the purview of that statute would be such a rare bird that it would seem a pity to kill him. Undoubtedly some of those legislators are Regents of the S. U. I., and had the interest of the museum of that institution at heart when the statute in question was framed.

The VIDETTE don't want to become a chronic kicker, but there are some things we must complain about. This time it is not a University matter. Did you ever try to estimate the number of curses that are uttered by persons stumbling over the old brick walk on the east side of Clinton opposite the University. As near as we can get at it there are 1,060,000 oaths of various shades and colors caused by that walk every day. Iowa City is a beautiful old town, but such walks detract very much from her good looks, besides leaving a bad impression with visitors. There is yet time before cold weather to fix those walks. A word to the wise is not always sufficient.

PLEASE remember that the VIDETTE-REPORTER is your paper. You should subscribe for it. You should read it. You should write for it. You should talk for it. If you hear something new you should tell a member of the VIDETTE staff about it. If you can't write, and don't know any news, you can do some good by patronizing the business men who advertise in the columns of your paper. Make these men feel that it pays them to patronize you, and we will be able to give you better service. "There is something for each of us now to do."
