Iowa's Champion.

JOHN V. CRUM CAPTURES THE 100 YARD AND THE 220 YARD RACES AT THE MOTT HAVEN MEET.

Saturday was a great day for old U. of I. While our base ball team was pounding out a hard earned victory on our own grounds with the men from the Black Water State, Crum was pocketing a glorious victory at Berkley Oval, N. Y. Early in the afternoon telegrams began to arrive announcing the winner of the heats and the time. In the 100 yard dash Crum won both heats, one in 10 1-5, the other in 10 flat. In the first heat Patterson, of Williams, was second, and Crum won easily. The second heat was a very close race, Crum beating Richards, of Yale, by about six inches. The 220 yard dash was a much easier victory for Crum. He won the semi-final in 22 2-5, with Bigelow, of Harvard, second. The final heat was also won by Crum in 22 flat as the official time, although many experienced timers caught him in 21 3-5. In this heat he beat Richards of Yale out by three yards. Trainer Murphy, of Yale, now entered a protest against Crum on the ground that his name was not Crum, and that he was a professional five years ago. Yale had evidently banked a great deal on their man Richards capturing these two sprints, and concluded to adopt any means, however ridiculous it might seem, to gain its end. The absurdity of such a protest seems all the more apparent to us when we recall that he is but 21 years old now, and according to Yale he was a professional at the age of 16. We do not believe that the protest was entered with a spark of sincerity, but simply with the hope that it might succeed in throwing the lone representative of our University out. They will discover, however, that Crum will have no difficulty in proving his identity.

THE DEMONSTRATION.

Crum's victory, and the victory of the ball team Saturday, had the effect of developing an unusual amount of college enthusiasm. The few students who were trying to cherish in their minds the fact that a State Meet was held in Grinnell on the day before, completely forgot that such an event had taken place, and all joined in rejoicing over the day's victories. An immense bonfire was soon started on the corner by the post office and was kept blazing by the additions of boxes, boards, etc., carried on the shoulders of students or hauled in wagons drawn by the boys. For several hours the fire was kept burning, and college spirit was running high. The streets were paraded, and college yells and college songs were freely indulged in. The success of the evening, however, was lacking one thing, and that was Crum's presence. Consequently it was decided to do the thing over again in a more systematic manner on Monday evening, at which time it was expected the famous sprinter would reach home. Crum arrived in the city early Monday morning, however, but the idea of a demonstration was not given up. As usual the good merchants of the city entered into the project with the earnestness of an ordinary college student. The buildings were appropriately decorated with old gold streamers. Early in the evening the crowd began to assemble and preparations were made for another bonfire. All were present, old and young, men and women, and for nearly two blocks Clinton street was blocked with people. As the procession, headed by the band, moved up the street, colored lights were burned, and a continuous shower of Roman candles made a most beautiful scene. Rockets were shot off from the campus, and the report of an occasional cannon cracker would be heard above the shouts of the people. A carriage decorated with old gold bunting, and containing Crum, Judge Wade and others, was drawn by a number of students. Other carriages were also in the procession containing Chancellor McClain, Professor Currier, and others. In front of the post office the procession halted, and Will Larrabee announced that Judge Wade would address the people. As usual, the Judge responded in a ringing speech. Chancellor McClain and Professor Currier also made some very appropriate remarks, after which Crum was given an opportunity to "speak for himself." By this time everybody in the crowd had spent all the vital energy which their throats contained so the demonstration came to an end.

The Mott Haven Meet

The Mott Haven Meet at Berkley Oval, N. Y., came to an end Saturday evening. Yale won first place with thirty points, University of Pennsylvania second with twenty-five points, Harvard third with twenty-two points, and University of Iowa fourth with ten points, won by Crum's two events. The hammer throw record was broken by Hickey, of Yale, distance, 135 ft. 7 1/2 in. The pole vault record was also broken by Hoyte, of Pennsylvania, and Buckolz, of Yale, who tied for first place at 11 ft. 3 1/2 in. The other colleges represented were: University of California, Amhurst, Dartmouth, Swarthmore, Union, Columbia, and Princeton. The winners of first and second places in their events will compete with the Oxford and Cambridge teams in England this summer.

WE DEFEAT THE MEN FROM NEBRASKA IN A FOURTEEN INNING GAME.

Those who were fortunate enough to be at the ball park Saturday witnessed the best game of ball that has ever been played on our grounds. The team from the University of Nebraska arrived Saturday forenoon, from Grinnell, where they had easily defeated the Iowa College team on the previous day by a score of 13 to 4. The game was called at 3 o'clock with the men playing in the following positions:

U. OF N.	U. OF I.
Cochran, r. f.	Lyon, r. f.
Pace, s. s.	Hopkins, 1 b.
Fiel, c.	Chambers, s. s.
Benedict, 2 b.	Leighton, p.
Raymond, 3 b.	Bailey, 2 b.
Packard, c. f.	Ingham, 3 b.
Heald, 1 b.	Wilson, c.
Randolph, l. f.	Arey, c.
Bennett, p.	Herrig, l. f.

Nebraska goes to bat and Leighton gives Cochran and Pace their bases on balls and Fiel comes to bat. On a passed ball Cochran and Pace move to third and second bases respectively. Leighton now begins to get to work and Fiel and Benedict are both struck out. Raymond comes to bat and fans three times and Wilson drops the ball but succeeds in putting the runner out at first base. For U. of I. Lyon came to bat and hit over short stop, and makes first and steals second. Hopkins comes to bat and flies out to left field. Chambers comes to bat and Lyon goes to third on a passed ball. Chambers gets his base on balls and steals second. Ingham goes to bat and hits past short and Lyon and Chambers score and Ingham reaches third on a passed ball. Bailey batted to left field, who muffed, and the runner reached first base and Ingham scored. Leighton hits to right field and reaches first base. Bailey reaches third, Wilson comes to bat and hits safe over short and Bailey scores. Arey flies out to left field and Herrig flies out to catcher. Score, U. of I., 4; U. of N., 0.

In the second inning Packard comes to bat and fans. Heald came to bat and hit safe past the pitcher and made first. Randolph flew out to Bailey and Bennett struck out. For U. of I. Lyon came to bat, hit to first and was put out. Hopkins batted over second, made first, stole second and third. Chambers is given his base on balls and steals second. Ingham is struck out and Bailey hits to second, and is thrown out at first. Score, 4 to 0 in favor of U. of I.

In the third inning the Nebraska team got two men on bases but failed to score, as did our team when they came to bat.

The fourth and fifth innings were goose eggs for both teams. In the sixth inning the Nebraska men got in a score. In the seventh inning no scores were made, but in the ninth inning the visiting team ran in three men on a wild throw to third base, and the score remained a tie at the end of the ninth inning. Four more innings were played and no scores made.

In the fourteenth inning the Nebraska team failed to score. For U. of I. Ingham came to bat and hit safe to right field and stole second base. Bailey flew out to center, and Ingham stole third. Leighton batted to pitcher, who tried to put Ingham out at home plate. The runner succeeded in getting back on third base, however, ahead of the ball, and Leighton made second. Wilson came to bat and hit safe to left field and Ingham scored, thus breaking the tie.

The home team played an excellent game, and are certainly deserving of praise for the steady manner in which they played. Leighton's pitching was one of the principal features of the game. He succeeded in striking out 20 men, and held out for the full fourteen innings. Wilson played an excellent game behind the bat. The in-fielding of our team, as well as that of the Nebraska team, was exceptionally good.

Wilson made some elegant throws to second base, while Fiel was exceptionally weak in this, and our boys succeeded in doing some very fine work in base stealing. Nebraska's second base man played a very good game. The attendance was fairly good considering the threatening weather.

Following is the final score:

U. OF N.	A.	B.	R.	B.H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Benedict, 2 b.	6	1	1	2	7	0
Cochran, r. f.	5	1	1	3	1	1
Fiel, c.	6	1	1	6	0	0
Raymond, 3 b.	6	0	1	3	0	1
Randolph, l. f.	4	1	0	2	0	0
Packard, c. f.	6	0	1	4	1	0
Heald, 1 b.	6	0	1	19	0	1
Pace, s. s.	6	0	0	0	8	0

Total,	56	5	16	42	18	2

Earned runs, U. of N. 1, U. of I. 3. Two base hits, Fiel, Chambers, and Hopking. Three base hits, Chambers. Bases stole, U. of N. 2, U. of I. 11. Bases on balls, off Bennett 2, off Leighton 4. Struck out, by Bennett 5, by Leighton 20. Umpire, Cavanaugh.

The Pi Beta Phi's Entertain.

It has always been conceded that our University can furnish no better entertainers than the members of the ladies fraternities. A little over one year ago the Delta Gamma fraternity entertained its many friends at the armory. A few weeks ago the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity gave a delightful reception to its hosts of friends at the home of Professor Currier, and last Friday evening the Pi Beta Phi fraternity concluded the series by receiving its friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ball, on North Clinton St. The hours were from seven to eleven, and during that time over three hundred guests enjoyed the supreme hospitality of the ladies. The beautiful home was elegantly and ap-

Entered at the Iowa City Post Office as second class matter.

The Scarlet and Black, in commenting upon the mile walk at the State Meet, says: "Technically, Allison won fairly, but there is little doubt with any fair minded person who walked the best race." If they intend to infer by this obscure statement that Allison failed to win the race fairly they are, as usual, "kicking" on the judges decision. What do they mean by the person who "walked the best race?" We had thought that the person who walked an honest mile and beat his opponent out, walked the best race. We fail to determine just what the "technicality" was which enabled Allison to win. If they were dissatisfied with the event why do they not give their reasons in full and not allow their readers to infer all sorts of conclusions. As to the "fair mindedness" of the judge we are not in a position to express any opinion; we had hoped, however, that the editor of the Scarlet and Black would be generous enough to concede at least a fair amount of competency to the judges of the events.

Irving.

The excellency of Irving's program merited a much larger audience than gathered in North Hall last Friday evening.

The opening piano solo by Miss Ozias was rendered in a most artistic manner and received a well-deserved encore.

Irving Baker dramatically told a tale of northern seas in "The Last of the Narinhale."

The oration which followed, by Mr. Swisher, gained the closest attention for the pleasing delivery and worth of thought.

The question for debate was: "Resolved, that Congress ought to pass a general act establishing federal control over national elections."

Petersberger opened for the affirmative and argued that the fraud, corruption and violence used in the present system were sufficient reasons for a change.

Burling, in his answer for the negative, showed that the reform would cause needless expense and sectional strife.

Dewell devoted the principal part of his argument to a refutation of the preceding speaker's statements, and then explained the "Force Bill" in a favorable light.

Hamann closed for the negative by showing that control should be rather local than federal, and that the proposed change would be revolutionary and a bold step toward centralization.

Hubbard's speech on the "Japan-China War and its Results," was full of interest and well received.

Otto closed the evening's program with a declamation entitled, "Our Flag." Its patriotic sentiment won the hearts of the audience.

The decision of the judges on the debate was announced in favor of the negative.

propriately decorated with flowers, and sweet music was furnished by the mandolin and guitar club. The guests were received by members of the fraternity, and enjoyed the conversation as they passed through the capacious parlors until they reached the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served. The affair was in every way a most enjoyable event, and the ladies are to be congratulated for carrying into execution so successfully such an elaborate social entertainment.

Midland Monthly.

Every club woman will want the June Midland Monthly. It has over 50 portraits of prominent club women, also two club articles, one descriptive of Wisconsin's Women's Clubs and the other describing the Iowa Federation at Cedar Rapids. Other features are equally strong. Two of its stories, "Belle's Roses," by E. Hough, of Forest and Stream, and "On the Island," a Mississippi river tale by William Schuyler, of St. Louis, are strikingly realistic. Mary J. Reid, a staff contributor, delightfully introduces Julia C. R. Dorr, and her poet contemporaries. Rev. Dr. May takes you on a bicycle ride from Ft. Custer to Livingstone. Lake Minnetonka revels in all its summer glory in this number. A striking feature, also, is Professor Frank Russell's description of his thrilling adventures in the heart of British America, down the Mackenzie river, to the Arctic Ocean, thence around Alaska, a three years' journey of over 18,000 miles. The Midland's third volume closes with abundant promise.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

the many social events of the spring term this proved one of the most pleasant. Professor McBride has always been a favorite among the students and they all regarded it a privilege to be able to meet him in his home. The gathering was a delightful one for many reasons. First because there are comparatively few girls in the University, and it is very rarely that they all meet together; but principally because Professor and Mrs. McBride have a beautiful home and are excellent entertainers. We feel sure that each girl in looking back over the year's pleasant times will hold the Saturday afternoon spent with Professor and Mrs. McBride one of the most enjoyable.

Last year Cornell expended about $500,000, only about $100,000 of which came from the fees of the students.

The base ball management at the University of Wisconsin have decided to issue season tickets. On the eight games, the holders of season tickets will receive a discount of one dollar and a quarter.

An Educational Excursion to Utah

The mountain walled treasury of the gods. That all members of the N. E. A. and their friends may have an opportunity to visit Utah, that wonderland of health, wealth and pleasure, before returning to their eastern homes from the Denver meeting in July, the Rio Grande Western Railway, "Scenic Line of the World," in connection with the D. & R. G. and Colorado Midland Lines, will make the unusually low rate of $20.00 for the round trip, Denver to Utah, including the grandest scenic ride in the world, and a visit to Provo, the beautiful arcadian city of Utah Lake, excellent fresh water bathing, fishing and hunting; Salt Lake City, made famous by its historical and religious associations, a picturesque city of health and pleasure; sanitarium, Warm Springs, Hot Springs, Sulphur Springs within the city limits; a plunge into the Great Salt Lake at Saltair Beach, the Dead Sea of America; the water contains 23 per cent more salt than the Dead Sea of the Holy Land; impossible to sink; the most invigorating baths in the world. Headquarters of the Mormon church, temple and tabernacle. Salt Lake City is also a city of beautiful homes, drives, parks, and canyons. Its climate is unsurpassed. A modern city hemmed in by snow capped mountains; military post three miles distant. Ogden, a thriving city of modern enterprise and progress; Hot Thermal Springs within easy access, a sanitarium in itself. Picturesque drives through canons of wonderful natural rugged beauty; a city situated at the foot of the Wasatch Mountains. Hundreds of points of interest to the traveler, tourist, teacher and student. No one should miss this opportunity to visit Utah and enjoy the scenery of the Rocky Mountains and kindred ranges. No European trip compares with it in variety and grandeur of scenery and wealth of novel interest and study.

Tickets will be on sale at Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph or Sioux City, on July 5, 6, 7 and 8, to Ogden or Salt Lake City and return, at through excursion rate of $39.00. Proportionate rate from Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis and all eastern points. Tickets purchased at this rate will be good for stop-over at Denver, Manitou, Greenwood and all points of interest in Utah. Those who have purchased tickets to Denver and return may obtain excursion rate of $20 Denver to Ogden or Salt Lake and return on July 10th to 14th inclusive.
