The Freshman Medics are well represented in the popular game, football. Three of the class, namely, Walker, Gaines and Stanton, are members of the first eleven, and Mr. Edmonds is of the second eleven.

The Cedar Valley Medical Association had a very interesting session last Tuesday at Waterloo, Iowa. The S. U. I. was well represented. Drs. Bierring, Guthrie and Chase, of the Medical Faculty, Drs. Miller, Carroll and Kearney, recent graduates from S. U. I., were among those present. The paper by Dr. Bierring on antitoxine, was well received and created much interest in this new treatment for diphtheria. After the meeting a pleasant banquet was held. The S. U. I. gained many friends at this gathering of Medical men.

Germania.

At the meeting of the Germania, Wednesday evening, the following subject was discussed: "Resolved, that the study of Latin is more serviceable than the study of German." The sides were well prepared, and the debate was very creditable. As a general outline of the debate the following may be given:

Reasons for the study of a language:

- To improve our own
 - By translation.
 - By learning derivations.
- To gain advantage in trades and professions.
 - In trade with other nations.
 - In trade with our foreign element.
 - In learning the thoughts of the great thinkers of other times and countries.
- To learn the development of our constitutions and laws.
 - By learning the customs and laws of our forefathers.
 - By learning the thoughts of foreign investigators.

The debate was decided in the negative.

The program for next week is as follows:

Papers by Professor Van Steenderen and Mr. Meissner.

Reports by Mr. Ditzen and Mr. Brunn.

The discussion of the evening will be: "Resolved, that History is more capable of developing the mind than the Natural Sciences."

The University Orchestra.

Some days ago the VIDETTE-REPORTER brought up the subject of having an S. U. I. Glee Club and Orchestra, and we are pleased to say that our suggestion has been followed as regards an orchestra, and it will be a thoroughly representative University organization. The orchestra will have an instrumentation of thirteen pieces, and taking their work last Wednesday night as a criterion, we will soon have the pleasure of listening to the rendition of the standard selections and latest popular music by the best orchestra of any educational institution in the State. There are two or three more instruments needed, and any student that has had experience in orchestra work should not hide his light under a bushel, but make it known to the leader and do his part toward making the enterprise a success. The rehearsals will be held every Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 at the Armory, and the boys will be pleased to have any party who plays an orchestra instrument to make himself known.

Every Tuesday evening the chorus class meets at Close Hall. At the last meeting there were about twenty in attendance. H. Kallenberg is director of the class, and at every meeting they spend an hour in practicing college songs. Judging from present indications the prospects for a good glee club are bright. There are so many good musicians in attendance at the University that there is no reason why S. U. I. should not have such an organization that would reflect credit to the institution and to the individual members themselves.

Rev. Elinor E. Gordon, of Sioux City, will speak in the Unitarian Church of this city, Sunday, October 13th. She will conduct both morning and evening services.

THE VIDETTE REPORTER,

Entered at the Iowa City Post Office as second class matter.

There seems to be some interest this fall in the class foot ball games. The Juniors lost no time in accepting the Sophomore challenge, and have been doing considerable practicing since. Perhaps there is no better way of building up material for the Varsity team than in these class games. It creates enthusiasm for the game and makes a great many men practice who would not dare think of wearing old gold stockings and sweaters. Very often, too, these men are capable of great development in a year, and have a very good chance for the next year's team. So there are always plenty of second men, and the hopes of victory need not be given up if the half-back sprains an ankle or the left guard dislocates a shoulder.

If a schedule of class games could be arranged and a pennant be awarded the champion class at the end of the season, we doubt not the interest as well as the number of players, and the quality of playing, would be greatly increased.

Every student who proposes to hand in an oration this year for the oratorical contest should begin work at once. In oratory, as in so many other branches, "there is nothing like the genius of industry and hard work." It is a mistaken idea that good orations are written in an evening or in two days. Our winning orator last year worked off and on for a year or more, while some who depended on their inborn genius, and wrote their orations in a very short time at the request of friends, saw their folly when the decisions were announced. The honor of representing S. U. J. at contest of the Northern Oratorical League is one of the greatest honors possible to any student of the University, and if this fact were more fully appreciated, we might change the order of winning colleges next spring. Why does Michigan win so often? Is it not partly explained by the fact that there were one hundred and forty contestants last year? Iowa made a great advance last year. Let all orators strive to put her at the head of the list next spring.

There are a certain class of people in this world who have so little business of their own to tend to that they find it necessary, though unsolicited, to take the burdens of other people upon themselves. That history repeats its self is beyond a question, and history has often repeated its self in S. U. I. On various occasions when one class or another has been partaking of certain festivities, another class as a CLASS have attempted, and sometimes succeeded, in enjoying a greater part of the festivities themselves. Such occurrences have often been overlooked as well-meant fun; but when a clique of individuals come to a private dwelling, where a private party is being held, for the sake of plunder, such actions exceed all bounds of gentlemanly or ladylike conduct. How humiliating it is for the hostess, who has probably spent the greater part of a day preparing for company, when the hour for refreshments arrives to find that her kitchen has been robbed by some of the aforesaid busy people, whose mental caliber is so small that they can conceive of such actions in no other light than that of a good joke.

The editor of the Review of Reviews finds several incidents in this fall's political situation on which to comment with effect in "The Progress of the World" for October; the part played by the liquor question in the New York campaign is very clearly described. The present difficulties of the U. S. Treasury and the bearings thereof on national politics are discussed.

Notice.

O. A. Harper, D. '97, arrived Thursday from his home, where he was called for a week owing to his sister's illness.

Miss Anna Robinson will lead the Y. W. C. A. devotional meeting, Sunday afternoon, subject "Life Service." All young women will be cordially welcomed.

The appearance of the campus is being greatly improved by the laying of stone curb along the front, and by the removal of the old unsightly hitching posts.

Mr. Joseph H. Ridgway, the University's skillful taxidermist and Miss Belle E. Perkins, were united in marriage at Chicago last Saturday, October 5. Mr. and Mrs. Ridgway will be at home at 119 N. Capitol St. The VIDETTE-REPORTER offers congratulations.

Notice.

The Freshmen cheerfully accept the Sophomore challenge.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The Salter and Martin mammoth original Uncle Tom's Cabin Company played to a good house at Putnam Hall last night, and their representation of that old-time drama was excellent. The "Topsy" and "Marks" in their specialties kept the audience in a roar of laughter; the jubilee singers, Aunt Ophelia, Uncle Tom and others, performed their parts above criticism, and little Eva, the youngest child actress on the stage, delivered her songs and the pretty, child-like sentiments of the play in a pleasing manner. The company, as a whole, is a good one, and can be commended to the places where it is billed.—Saratoga Journal.

At the Opera House Monday, October 14th.

Steps Into Journalism.

By EDWIN L. SHUMAN, Ph. M.

New, helpful and practical book by a Chicago editor, for all young writers. It tells how to get a start, how to construct a newspaper article, and gives a thousand details in a delightful style, pp 230; Price, $1.35.

It is thoroughly practical. I know of no other book which can approach it in reliability, utility and value.—S. C. WADE, M. A. LL. D., Lit. Critic for McClurg & Co.

No person who expects to write, even occasionally, for the press should be without this invaluable treatise. It is universally commended by the newspapers of the country.
