VOL. 28.

IOWA CITY, IOWA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1895.

NO. 24

S. U. I. Reserves 5, 'Varsity 0.

Such was the score after a hotly contested game between the first and second teams. All the men on the first eleven were regular players, and therefore the result seems rather startling.

Captain Leighton lined his men up shortly after three o'clock with the intention of shutting out the "scrubs" by a heavy score. The scrubs were in for blood though and couldn't see it that way, so they braced together, and although much lighter than the 'Varsity, their team work and the fine playing of Larrabee and Hull had considerable and telling effect. The interference of the first team was poor, and the "scrubs" had no difficulty in making great holes through the line.

The first play of the "scrubs" was an eyeopener for the 'Varsity men. Larrabee got the ball and pushed Hetzel in front of him for interference, while Johnny Hull brought up the rear with a zigzag motion of his arms which effectually blocked off the would-be tacklers until 55 yards had been gained.

Larrabee and Hull repeatedly made good gains, while the unknown 150 pound center rush for the "scrubs" was a marvel. About three minutes before the end of the first half Larrabee surprised the crowd by making goal by a difficult drop-kick from the 35 yard line—the first time this feat has ever been done in Iowa City.

Further comment is unnecessary except that during the first half the ball was never in the "scrubs" territory, while in the second half the 'Varsity team was never closer than thirty-five yards to the "scrubs" goal.

Below we give the line-up of the teams, with the weight of the players added where it could be ascertained:

'VARSITY.		RESERVES.

Seniors vs. Sophs.

The first of the series of interclass games was played Saturday morning between the classes of '96 and '98. The game was an interesting one, and the teams were very evenly matched. The team work of the Sophs was superior to that of the Seniors, while the star individual plays of the game were made by the Seniors.

Clark, Arey, Evans, Rigg and Irish did excellent work for the class of '96, while the Capells, Eby and Howell, for the Sophs, put up the same article of ball as in their previous games.

In the first half of the Seniors by hard and steady work pushed the ball across the Soph's line; Clark failed to kick goal. On the next kickoff, aided by a poor punt and several fumbles, the Sophs, by several line smashes, carried the ball over the line; Saylor failed to kick goal. Score: Sophs 4, Seniors 4.

The second half was a fine exhibition of foot ball, both teams doing good work. Neither side scored. When time was called the ball was on the Soph's 20 yard line.

The line-up was as follows:

SENIORS.		SOPHS.
Kallenberg	l e	Carter
Rigg	l t	Barth
Irish	l g	Eby
McAlvin	c	Donohue
Van Law	r t	Hollingsworth

30 minute halves.

Medical Department.

Dr. Shrader was unable to meet his classes last week.

Dr. Brown, of Marengo, brought a patient for the clinics last week.

Wm. Corns returned yesterday from a week's visit at his home in Tama.

A question in anatomy: "Is it 'Dugan's' sister or somebody else's sister?"

Twenty-five Vassar college graduates have taken the degree of M. D., and seventeen more are attending medical schools.

In scientific investigations even Medics should not travel forbidden paths, at least that is the opinion of the president as expressed by his notices to that effect.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson lectures every Monday evening from 7 o'clock to 7:45 p. m., in Close Hall on Hygiene. All are welcome to come and hear these interesting lectures.

Professor Chase is weekly conducting a series of therapeutical experiments for the Juniors Medical and Dental classes. It goes without saying the students appreciate these experiments very much—and the frogs do too.

The other day as a Medic was on his way to the 9 o'clock lecture he was accosted by a small school boy. The little fellow smiled and looked up at the would be doctor and said: "Say, mister, what reader are you in?" The Medic showed the boy his note books, whereupon the lad replied: "Huh! only in the second grade and so big. I will very soon be there."

The excellent articles on the need of a hospital, which appeared in the college papers last week, should be read by all interested in this important movement. The two hundred students in the Medical Department can do much to promote the matter by their personal influence upon those recent elected legislators with whom they are acquainted. Nothing is truly gained except by hard, earnest work—not even an appropriation from a wealthy state.

Messrs. Moon and Hanson are to debate with Chicago, the scientists have their Dalton, Baconian and Ridgway Clubs, the Dents and Homeop's have weekly society meetings; why could not the Medics also organize among themselves a society with a scientific or literary aims, or both? Doubtless there is talent even in the Medical Department in these times. Evidently the capability of public speaking will in later life be as valuable an adjunct to our medical education as it will be to that of our Collegiate friends.

Hesperian.

The ever increasing popularity of the Hesperian society was demonstrated by its large audience last Saturday evening. South hall was crowded beyond its seating capacity, and the auditors listened to perhaps the best program of that society this year in point of solidity and strength.

That Miss Myers' piano solo was appreciated was attested to by the fact of its hearty encore.

Miss Georgia Adams declaimed "The Isle of Shoals." This was Miss Adams first appearance on Hesperian program, and too much could scarcely be said in praise of her effort. She is entirely at home on the rostrum, and her rendition of her selection was very superior.

Miss Anna Roberts delivered an exceedingly well written oration on the subject "The Cross vs. the Crescent." This was also her first attempt, and she made a very creditable appearance.

The debate on the question, "Resolved, that it is inexpedient for the Chief Executive of the U. S. to be eligible for a third term," was affirmed by Mina Shaffer and Cora Dorcas, and denied by Ora Horine and Marion Davies.

The Heps are to be congratulated on their usual choice of interesting questions for discussion. This one was full of interest to all, and was entertainingly treated. The affirmative emphasized the points of its monarchical tendency, its tendency to bring about corruption both on the part of the President and the voters who either hold or are desirous of holding office at his hands, and its antagonism to the will and spirit of a democratic people.

The negative spoke of the insufficient time to shape and carry out foreign policy and refuted in a skillful manner a number of points made by the affirmative. In the opening speech for the affirmative Miss Shaffer demonstrated her ability to offer strong, convincing argument.

The judges gave the decision to the affirmative.

Mr. Luce sang a pleasing solo which received an encore.

Gertrude Preston followed with a declamation entitled "The South Wind and the Sun." Miss Preston's choice was a most excellent one, and her voice and manner peculiarly adapted to the piece.

Miss Florence Ady concluded the literary program with a declamation, "Friar Jerome's Beautiful Book." Her easy manner, and the way in which she entered into the spirit of her piece, shew her familiarity with this line of work. The Heps are certainly fortunate in their new members, and show themselves capable and willing to excel in this line of work.

Olympic Games Revival.

It is estimated that the Olympic fund raised in Greece to meet the expense of the revival of the Olympic games next April at Athens will reach 1,000,000 drachmae or $193,000, besides 600,000 drachmae given by a Greek merchant of Alexandria, named Averoff, for the purpose of rebuilding the Panathenaic Stadion. The crown prince and his brothers are deeply interested in the enterprise. The king has promised to award in person the prizes of silver olive wreaths, and the Government will issue special commemorative postage stamps, a part of the proceeds of which will go to the Olympic fund. Only a part of the Stadion will be finished in marble in time for next spring's sports, the remainder being done in wood, but Mr. Averoff intends to have the entire structure, which will be capable of seating 70,000 spectators, admirably constructed in Pentelic marble at his own expense. Its sides slope up to a height of from 60 to 80 feet, and the interior space, in the form of a horseshoe, is 670 feet long by 109 feet wide. It forms a natural hollow between two of the lowest spurs of Mt. Hymettus, and from it can be had a splendid view of Athens and the surrounding country, including the Bay of Salamis.

The foot races and gymnastic contests will take place in the Stadion, and here will be finished the twenty-six mile race from Marathon in memory of the runner who died in his effort to bring to Athens the news of the Persian defeat. The bicycle races will be contested on the Phaleron half way between the city and the seashore, the swimming and rowing races in the roadstead of Phaleron, and the yacht races in the Saronic Gulf. There is to be an illumination of the great monuments of antiquity, a grand historical torchlight procession representing scenes from Greek history, and a series of representations of dramatic masterpieces, beginning with a tragedy by Sophocles and ending with Wagner's "Lohengin," and a special Olympic hymn by a modern Greek composer is to be sung by a monster chorus. A great attendance by athletes and scholars from all the world is expected.—Ex.

It is to be hoped that the interest aroused over the debate Friday evening will continue long enough to render assistance to the two societies in the great work they have undertaken. Of course the nature of these organizations warrants the statement that they will successfully carry out what they undertake, but at the same time we trust a liberal assistance will be rendered by the students and citizens in meeting the expense of the Chicago contest. We have not learned whether it is the purpose of the league to charge an admission fee to the contest in December or not, but in case it does we hope a liberal response will be forthcoming.

The recent agitation of the subject of a new hospital building for the Medical Department is appropriate, as it no doubt should be, but it should not be allowed to overshadow in importance the needs of the Collegiate Department of the University. No doubt the Medical Department needs room and would be materially improved by the erection of a building such as is proposed, but if favors are to come singly it seems that they should go where they are most needed. The Medical department already has some facilities for hospital purposes, whereas the classes of the Collegiate Department are actually without the very room they need in some instances. It is humiliating to confess that a state which possesses the wealth that Iowa does should be so little awake to her support needed to all departments, but so long as this is true surely the support should go where it is most needed. If such turns out to be the case we shall expect a new Collegiate building the very next thing, for no one who will observe the facts which every day receive demonstration will question that department's needs. These remarks, however, are not intended to consummate that the call for a hospital is unwarranted. It would be absurd to state such a thing, for the facts represented in behalf of the Medical Department speak plainly in that regard. It is not that we need a hospital less but that we need a Collegiate building more.

The Hawkeye.

The Executive Board of the Hawkeye report favorable indications for the coming Annual. Some difficulty was experienced as usual in agreeing on some minor details, but the plans as adopted promise when completed to constitute several marked improvements over our former publication of the Hawkeye. It will be the special effort of the Board to make improvements in the illustrated portion of the book, and from what is now known the cuts will be of better workmanship than any before printed. It now seems probable that the experience of former years will be utilized by the present management, and that the Hawkeye of ninety-seven will have many points of superiority over any predecessor.

Communication.

EDITORS VIDETTE-REPORTER:

In an editorial of your Saturday's issue you advocate that the members of the 'Varsity team be allowed to play on the class teams. You further state that as the 'Varsity players are quite evenly divided among the different classes, it would not result in too great an advantage for any one class. If the last statement is true, there would be no object at all in having 'Varsity players on the class teams, as no particular advantage in playing ability would be gained. In fact, it must be considered that the presence of these better men on the class teams will discourage inexperienced men from trying for these teams, which would defeat their primary object, to bring out new men and new players.

A disadvantage would also result to the players on the 'Varsity team. Their regular practice hours would be interrupted, the difference in signals would be confusing, and as the men would probably have to play new positions on the class teams, the result would tend to weaken the work of the 'Varsity team.

The Hesperians had an informal sociable and candy-pull after their regular program Saturday evening.

Carr, '99, joined the Betas Friday night instead of the Sigma Nus, as was erroneously stated in Saturday's issue.

Saturday noon an election bet was fulfilled by one of our Senior Laws wheeling a Junior Collegiate down Dubuque street. Spectators say it was a very interesting sight.

We note the following from the Argus, of Missouri, which may prove of interest:

"The Iowa foot ball game will be played here November 16. Last year the Iowa team was somewhat dissatisfied with the treatment they received here. This complaint was not against the team, but against a part of the spectators who crowded upon the field. No team this year has accused our boys of playing anything but a clean, manly game, and no team has complained thus far of their treatment by the spectators. We are glad to know that guying is being put down so effectively by the spectators themselves."

Notice.

The schedule of class games has been re-arranged on account of conflicts of dates between S. U. I. Reserves and the class games. The following will be the schedule of class games followed out for the remainder of the season:

- Nov. 19—Seniors vs. Juniors.
- Nov. 21—Seniors vs. Freshmen.
- Nov. 23—Freshmen vs. Sophs.
- Nov. 26—Juniors vs. Sophs.

College Notes.

Smith College girls are taking a lively interest in the "students" building, which it is proposed to have put up on the campus by the undergraduates themselves. It is the plan to have a house attractively furnished with rooms for the various societies and for class prayer meetings. An assembly hall will probably be included and the building will add a new and attractive feature to the social side of the college. The students have already subscribed $1,000 toward the building fund. It is estimated that the house will cost about $30,000.

The perplexities of the foot ball campaign are now tenfold what they ever were before, especially to manager and captain. The multiplicity of rules of play adopted by the eastern colleges is the cause of this. It is a matter of profound disappointment and regret that there was not a perfect agreement among those who brought about the present changes, for the various teams throughout the country have been put into such a complexity of systems that a choice has been difficult, and harmony impossible. It would seem that it is about time that the prominent colleges would learn that there is nothing like unison of purpose and pulling together, especially in the formulation of laws governing the athletic field. This season's aggravations, however, will certainly be productive of much good, and the ultimate advantage of general harmony will be universally recognized and the colleges make sacrifices and concessions for the good of all.—Ex.
