Hammond Law Senate.

The Senate was called to order by the president at 7:30 p. m. A very instructive as well as entertaining program was rendered, as outlined:

Instrumental solo ..... Miss Berry
Oration..... Senator J. Hanley
"We, the People."

Speech..... Senator Watkins
"Nothing Pleasantly"

Soliloquy..... Senator Tyre
"To Flunk or Not to Flunk, That's the Question."

Extemporaneous Speech.....
..... Senator Long
"Common Law Rights of Husbands."
Vocal Solo..... Mr. F. Hampson
"By the Sea."

Debate: "Be it enacted by Hammond Law Senate that the revenue of the United States be provided for by the system of direct taxation on land, as advocated by Henry George."

Affirmative, Senators Meister and MisKinnis; negative, Senators Willoughby and Williams.

Vocal Solo..... Senator D. M. Williams
"O Promise Me."

The instrumental solo by Miss Berry was a delightfully entertaining selection, and perfectly executed.

Mr. Hampson's vocal solo was highly deserving, and the pleasure of listening to a marvelous and well cultured baritone solo, was appreciated by all.

The oration "We the People," pictured to its hearers the beauty, strength and wisdom of our republic, and the eloquence of the Senator from Virginia well upholds the claim of his state for "The Mother of Orators."

Senator Watkins maintained his wide reputation for wit and wisdom by an original article on antediluvian equity.

Senator Tyre carried the day by a soliloquy, touching with wisdom and with many questions dear to Law students.

The extemporaneous speech was conferred upon Senator Long, who fulfilled the duty with becoming grace and a well applauded speech.

The presentation of the bill to the Senate was the signal for a hard fought debate, a fight for postponement being defeated after a parliamentary skirmish. The vote was taken and the bill passed.

After a pleasing solo by Senator Williams the Senate adjourned.

Prizes for Debating.

The following inducements have been offered debaters at Yale and Chicago:

As usual the members of the Yale Union who represent it in intercollegiate debates will receive a trophy this year. It consists of a gold watch charm in the shape of an old Greek coin. The obverse of the coin bears in relief the head of Demosthenes, and the reverse is to be engraved with the name and class of the debater, together with the debate, and the date thereof, in which he took part. The design was made by the George H. Ford Company of New Haven. As there was no profile view of Demosthenes obtainable it was necessary to make a drawing from one of the busts on exhibition at the Yale Art School. —Yale Daily News.

The powers that be are making strenuous efforts to place Chicago's debating interest on a sound basis. A large number of inducements are being offered by Chicago authorities to induce students to enter the debating contests. Provisions have been made to give the successful student in each one of the twelve undergraduate departments, his tuition for a quarter, $40. These twelve departments consist of six in the first two years or junior college, and six in the upper two years or senior college. The six junior representatives meet the six senior representatives individually for prizes of $50 each. For the Graduate School there is offered $75 a quarter.

In only the first contest was every division represented; and since then not more than 20 members of the University all told, have tried for any of the prizes. At the next contest among the undergraduates, which will take place soon, there will be only three speakers in each college, instead of the six to which they are entitled. In other words, in half of the divisions of the University,—and a division represents from thirty to sixty students—not a man came forward to compete even for the preliminary prize of a scholarship valued at $40.—U. of M. Daily.

New Class Officers.

The Junior Law class met last Friday and elected officers to fill vacancies occasioned by the absence of President Paul Peck. F. H. Munger and A. H. Sargent were the most prominent candidates, and after five ballots Mr. Munger was duly elected. According to the class by-laws the president is empowered to appoint a vice-president, and Mr. Munger selected his most aggressive opponent in the presidential race, Mr. Sargent.

Philomathean.

The following program was given by the Philomathean Society Friday evening:

Music.

Declamation..... J. E. Jorgensen
"John Burns of Gettysburg."

Oration..... W. S. Rankin
"The Influence of Invention on Civilization"

Debate: "Resolved, that the banishment of Napoleon to St. Helena was justifiable."

Affirmed by W. M. Vaughan and M. C. Warren; denied by G. G. Fitz and P. T. Vaughn.

Speech..... F. M. Baker
"Foreign Immigration."

Declamation..... W. G. Humphrey
"The Heathen Chinese."

Paper..... M. H. Thielen
"Progress and Decay."

Music.

Mr. Baker is a clear and logical thinker, and has the promise of becoming a star orator.

Prof. Lenard, of Heidelberg, who first discovered the cathode rays, has received from the French Academy of Sciences its prize of 10,000 francs.

Alumni News.

J. Edward Mershon, L. '91, is candidate for city solicitor of Des Moines, with a good chance to be nominated by the Republicans.

W. H. Bremner, C. '91, and L. '95, and R. H. Shuler, L. '95, are in the law business in this city. The latter was recently married.

The recent unpleasantness calls to memory the pranks of other days at S. U. I. It is not many years since a certain Freshman defied the Sophomore law regarding the mustache—to his sorrow in the loss of a pate adornment. It is "within the memory of men living" that a certain night watch was "spirited" away while an organized body of students wheeled the old cracked cannon forth from its retreat and fired a midnight salute one Hallowe'en. And then at a more recent date the funnel of shot which poured down on a German professor's head, and brought forth a characteristic German expression of consternation, was enough to stir the mirth in ten generations of students. Just look at the hole which is visible in the ceiling not far from the northeast corner of Zet Hall. Were "Billy" Meyers so inclined he might tell what became of Ira Orton's silk hat, which lies, so the legend goes, filled with rocks at the bottom of the Iowa river. And a certain couple of young men once hired a boat for a jaunt down stream. The boys came back, but the boat went on, and failure to return it, or make good the loss to the owner, brought college disaster in expulsion. A courtship of modern days, intercepted by the president in one of the society halls, brought together a memorable meeting of Irvings and Zets, and the notable absence of a prominent member produced a hearty cheer when Dr. Schaeffer suggested that the state did not intend to furnish a place for match making. The match itself was a failure. The heroine of the occasion is married to another S. U. I. man, while the inglorious hero pursues the way of life alone in a western city. So much for reminiscences without entrapping the writer.

HORACE S. HOLLINGSWORTH.
Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 4, '98.

The Forum.

The following program was given at the Forum Friday evening:

Paper..... Jno Hyndman
"Where do They Get It?"

Declamation..... Mrs. Parker-Anderson

Debate: "Resolved, that the action of the Faculty in the recent suspension matters was unjustifiable."

Affirmed by Messrs. Belshime and Yoker. Denied by Messrs. Maxwell and Sharp.

"Recent Visit of President Dole of Hawaii to the United States

..... Mr. Dilley

Current Legal News .....

..... Geo. E. Hilsinger

Vocal Solo ..... Geo. J. Piersol
"The Idol of My Heart."

Declamation ..... E. J. Turner

The first number was an able discussion of how politicians mass the wealth that they evidently possess.

The second number was one of Will Carleton's most characteristic productions, "The Farmer and the Wheel," and one that always pleases.

The debate was decided two for the negative. The subject being discussed from a disinterested standpoint, was treated without prejudice, and principally from a lawyer's point of view, the Code of Iowa and similar documents being often quoted.

Mr. Dilley's talk was extemporaneous, but showed unusual knowledge of current affairs.

Mr. Hilsinger gave extracts from recent articles of interest to lawyers, one very interesting one being on "Eloquence at the Bar."

Mr. Piersol's solo was most pleasing and being encored he lent the depth and richness of his voice to the pathos of the well-known song, "The Bridge."

Mr. Turner gave an extract from Webster's reply to Hayne. The rendition was true to the spirit of the oration, and deserves much praise.

Hep Special.

Miss Bessie Parker, an ex-Hesperian who graduated with the class of '93, gave an elocutionary entertainment in South Hall, Saturday evening. The hall was filled to its fullest seating capacity, and the entertainment more than merited the attendance.

Miss Parker is an accomplished elocutionist. She possesses an excellent voice and an air of ease and naturalness rarely found.

The program consisted of both humorous and pathetic selections. To either style the speaker seemed equally well adapted. At intervals the program was varied by some choice selections of music, and throughout the evening the audience were well entertained. The Heps are to be congratulated on their special program.

Old Gold.

Old Gold is a popular color among American colleges, though as far as we have been able to discover, no institution of high learning other than S. U. I. uses that color alone. It is combined with blue by Allegheny College, Franklin College, Franklin, Ind., Trinity College, Hartford, and the United States Military Academy. The University of Missouri, Vanderbilt University, Purdue University, Des Moines College, and the University of Wooster, at Wooster, Ohio, combine the Old Gold with black. Knox College, Kansas Wesleyan and Union Christian College, Merom, Ind., display old gold beside the purple, while the University of Texas unfurls old gold and white. Chafin University, Orangeburg, S. C., and Simpson College, uphold old gold and red, while the University of Minnesota calls it red maroon and Willamette calls it cardinal. Gold is also used to a considerable extent being displayed singly by Beloit College, and combined by other colors by not less than fifteen other colleges and universities.

Columbia will meet Brown in track athletics at Providence on May 9, and Princeton at Princeton on May 21.

Mr. Perrie, who coaches Harvard's weight men, holds a record of 46 feet for the shot-put.

Debating Prizes.

In many of the eastern schools prizes of considerable value are annually offered to encourage the spirit of debating. Chicago realized her deficiency in this line and has prizes to the amount of thirteen hundred dollars a year. Undoubtedly these inducements will act as a great incentive for more earnest work in the forensic contests.

The Normal Eye struck the truth when it said in a recent issue that the secret of S. U. I.'s great success in debating was the intense interest taken in the subject. It may be that financial considerations offer great inducements to many, yet the interest could not be any keener than in a school where there is such rivalry between the contestants on the preliminaries. This rivalry stimulates the participants to put forth their utmost efforts thus ensuring the fullest development of the man and consequent victory for the school; a result hardly to be obtained by mere money inducements.

A Wrong Conclusion.

Several of our exchanges have commented editorially upon the recent trouble with "the Sophomores and Freshmen at S. U. I." And while they "regret the unfortunate affair at our sister school," they feel it an opportune time to sermonize upon class scraps and college rows in general. We fully agree that these scraps can be and often are carried too far, and that the Faculty is responsible for the maintenance of peace and order, yet we see with surprise the evident lack of information, or rather the presence of malinformation, at some of our neighboring institutions, which take occasion to pride themselves upon the fact that they have no such intense society feeling and class hatred and enmity as exists at S. U. I. Nothing could be further from the facts, for class spirit is absent to a lamentable degree at the University of Iowa. It is often said, and we believe with verity, that it would be better were the inter-class interest stronger. The enthusiasm at our inter-class field meets is in no way to be compared with that of our rival schools, and it is obvious that more strenuous efforts would be put forth to win honors on the track were this different. The Freshman banquet is about the only occasion that calls forth class interest at all, and our "friends" are using false premises when they draw the conclusion that our recent trouble was due to intense class rivalry and ill feeling.

Word has been received from Atlanta, Ga., of the death of J. B. Ridenour, of the class of '99 of the Dental department. He had gone south for his health, being afflicted with consumption. The funeral will be held at Garrison, Iowa.

A typographical error in our Saturday's issue caused us to make a peculiar statement. We stated in these columns that six of the gentlemen's "friends" of the University had organized a "Hellenic Whist League." The statement, of course, should have been that six of the gentlemen's "fraternities" had formed the league.

H. W. Rose, General Secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., has just returned from a visit to Albion College. This week he will continue his peregrinations and include Adrian; Hillsdale and Coldwater in his itinerary. M. Moulton, '00.
