VARSITY TAKES GAME FROM COE

IOWA SIX—COE THREE

Johnnie Vos' Men Make Many Errors but Win Handily From Baptists—Cretzmeyer Hit Freely

Iowa defeated Coe College of Cedar Rapids 6 to 3 on Iowa field yesterday.

The game was marked by frequent errors by both teams. Coe's scorers were all allowed to go to first on errors. Their two scores in the fifth inning were made by the ball's striking Ball as he ran for home plate and glancing to the west of the bleachers.

It is not often that a shortstop is privileged to make three errors and the second baseman two without having a lost game chalked up against them. Yesterday, however the varsity pulled together when in tight places and fielded brilliantly. At other times it often played loosely.

Cretzmeyer in the box was hit freely by Coe. Coad and Adams encouraged the fans by showing excellent headwork in running bases.

Baylor for Coe was not a hard pitching proposition. In the fourth inning he forced a run by a base on balls. Iowa was at times successful in bunching her hits but in the second, fourth and seventh innings the varsity failed to hit safe although waiting runners perched on second and third.

"Georgie" Dunlap of Coe played his usually excellent game behind the bat, catching a number of fouls and batting very well.

The score:

Debate Team Goes

The Wisconsin debating team left at 1:30 today over the Rock Island for Madison where the annual inter-collegiate contest with the University of Wisconsin comes off tomorrow night.

Iowa has the negative, or free trade side, of the tariff vs. free trade argument and will be represented by Messrs. H. G. Walker, E. H. McCoy and C. T. Kemmerer who will speak in the order given. The first two Hawkeye speakers will have twenty minutes apiece and the last, Mr. Kemmerer, twenty-five minutes. The Badgers will have twenty minutes apiece for the first two speakers, twenty-two for the third, and three minutes for rebuttal.

The judges for the debate were selected by a committee composed of alumni of both universities resident in St. Paul.

President MacLean left for Des Moines this afternoon to attend a meeting of the state board of educational examiners.

Marshall C. Sweney, C. E. '03, left yesterday for St. Paul, Minnesota to engage in engineering work. Mr. Sweney expects to return and take his degree in June.

UNIVERSITY PEOPLE BEFORE FOOTLIGHTS

DRAMATIC CLUB TONIGHT

Parts in Esmerelda Taken by Well-known Students—W. L. Baughn and Marie Lynch Stellar Attractions

The great dramatic treat of the season occurs at the opera house tonight. The Dramatic Club, under the able supervision and teaching of Miss Mary Sleight Everts and her talented sister Mrs. Greene, will appear in the roles of that greatest of melodramas, Esmerelda. The story of the play is that of a family of American newly-rich, whose land in North Carolina has suddenly become worth millions and who have gone to Paris to "enter society". The daughter, Esmeralda (Marie Lynch) remains true to her mountain lover, Dave, and at the climax of the play in the third act, dismisses her noble suitor, casting away her diamonds and ornaments in disdain.

Mr. Baughn is inimitable in the role of Mr. Rogers an old man. Methuselah, Noah and all the other professional old men, could take pointers in good manners for the aged, from the work

ESMERELDA TONIGHT

Bolton has Declined

Professor Frederick J. Bolton has cabled to Mr. E. B. Bryan, U. S. Commissioner of education in the Philippines declining the very flattering offer of the presidency of the United States Normal school in Manila. This action which carries with it the assurance that Professor Bolton will remain at Iowa next year will be learned with delight by the university public. The university is to be congratulated on the Professor's decision.

Military Men Coming

General Prime, Adjutant General Byers, of Des Moines, and Colonel Lambert, of Newton, have accepted Colonel Burnett's invitation to the Military Ball on the fifteenth and signified their intention of being present. Governor Cummins is still uncertain whether he will be able to come to Iowa City on that date or not but has expressed his desire in a letter to Col. Burnett to do so if possible.

Miss Caroline Rall and E. E. Bensen, of the present senior class, and Margaret J. Safley, L. A. '00, have just been elected to positions in the Washington high school under the superintendency of R. B. Crone, L. A. '96 of Mr. Baughn.

Miss Marie Lynch in the title role, is a distinct success and adapts herself to the different situations her part demands with the greatest artistic skill. Dave her mountain lover, is impersonated by Mr. Caspar Schenck of senior class play fame. Miss Ethel Elliott shows a fine feeling for the part of Nora Desmond, the torment of Mrs. Rogers.

As a whole the play will far surpass in artistic skill and dramatic ability of of the cast as well as in the power to please, any past histrionic attempts by university people.

Choosing a Profession

Rev. F. C. Southworth, President of Meadville Theological seminary lectured on "The Choice of a Profession" last evening in the auditorium of the hall of liberal arts. He spoke in particular of the three so-called learned professions, law, medicine and the ministry. He dwelt particularly on the ministry. He said that should all men be brought to know justice and all forms of disease be extinguished still there would be a broad field left for the ministry.

ANENT THE ALUMNI

Is It An Aid or a Hindrance?

"Does a College Education Pay?" "Higher Education is a Handicap," and "College Men in Business" are becoming familiar headlines in the newspapers and periodicals of the country.

Recently two articles have appeared on the subject one a pamphlet by R. T. Crane, a Chicago manufacturer, and the other a thesis by Dr. William W. Smith, chancellor of the Randolph-Macon system of colleges and schools in Virginia. Mr. Crane takes the stand that a college education is a great handicap to a business man and proves this by discrediting all the data he had collected on the subject. This data was gathered by inquiry from college presidents, college graduates, manufacturers and business men; but Mr. Crane serenely discredits all of it, and says those who furnished it were prejudiced and concealed the facts.

Dr. William W. Smith on the other hand, makes Who's Who in America the basis of his work and he finds by careful investigation of each of the 7852 names in the 1900 edition and by comparison with the U. S. census of 1900:

(1) That an uneducated child has one chance in 150,000 of attaining distinction as a factor in the progress of the age.

(2) That a common school education will increase his chances nearly four times.

(3) That a high school training will increase the chances of the common school boy twenty-three times, giving him eighty-seven times the chance of the uneducated.

(4) That a college education increases the chance of the high school boy nine times, giving him 219 times the chance of the common school boy and more than 800 times the chance of the untrained.

It is a surprising fact that out of the 7852 notables gathered in Who's Who, 4810 proved to be full graduates of colleges.

Mr. Crane's article sounds like a schoolboy's essay beside the careful statistical work on which the conclusions of Chancellor Smith are based. It should be noted, however, that Mr. Crane is only speaking of commercial success while Chancellor Smith considers success of all kinds. This of course would vary the results as professional careers are largely limited to college men.

Two Books-- Two Cents

THE Burlington Route has just issued two publications of great interest to homeseekers.

"Nebraska" is the title of a 48-page book descriptive of the agricultural resources of the state, profusely illustrated with farm scenes and supplemented with an accurate sectional map.

"Big Horn Basin" is an illustrated folder telling all about the rich but undeveloped portion of Northwestern Wyoming. The Big Horn Basin contains wonderful openings for small ranches along good streams, with a million acres of government land open for settlement under the United States land laws.

Both publications will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in stamps. Address: J. FRANCIS, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha.

Trial Postponed Again

The Hammond-Forum mock trial which was set for tonight will be held on Friday night. The court will be called in session promptly at 7 o'clock.

Engineers in Demand

Every member of the senior engineering class with one exception has left school to accept a position in the field with rod and transit, in the workshop or the draughting room. The man who has not gone is Rufus Choat who has been confined to his bed by illness.
