IOWA LOSES DEBATE BY ONE VOTE

WISCONSIN DEFEATS IOWA IN DEBATE

Contest Very Close and Sharply Fought
—All Speakers Make Strong Appearance —Wisconsin 2
Iowa 1

(Special to Daily Iowan.)

Wisconsin won the joint debate with Iowa last night, her orators winning the decision of the judges by a vote of 2 to 1. This is the fifth annual contest between the two universities and it was Wisconsin's turn to win. The records shows that each university has won in alternate years and as Iowa captured the decision last year, it left the turn to Wisconsin this year.

The contest was sharp and close and both teams conducted themselves very creditably. The Wisconsin men on the affirmative favoring the continuance of the protective tariff won out by driving home strongly the argument that the negative had a purely theoretical, visionary and untried scheme while their plan had proven of so much practical benefit. The history of our prosperity was the history of the protective tariff while that many of periods of panic and depression that have visited the country were brought about in a large part by a leaning towards the free trade system or by steps being taken in that direction. They showed how the American laboring man was kept on a plane above that of European labor largely by the protective tariff. While protection costs the consumer something yet the general prosperity which it brings to the country more than repays. The reciprocity idea is a part of the protective policy.

Iowa for the negative said that the need of the high tariff system was past as the infant industries had grown into gigantic corporations.

Protection discriminates against the consumer and benefits only the producers who are mostly made up of a few corporations. It is not the protective tariff that gives our laborers the highest wages on earth but the fact that they are more efficient and produce more in the same time than any other.

The argument was very even with Iowa perhaps excelling in delivery. Had it not been that the argument used by Iowa was attacked on its being new, untried and theoretical they would have won the decision.

The Wisconsin debaters in the affirmative were W. J. Hagenah, Tore Teigen and O. W. Kreutzer. Iowa, in the negative was represented by H. S. Walker, E. H. McCoy and C. T. Kemmerer. The judges were H. R. Brill of St. Paul, United States district judge for Minnesota John B. West of the West Publishing company of St. Paul and M. D. Dunn general counsel for the St. Paul Railway Company. Senator Ernst Merton of Waukesha presided.

SENATE SAYS CONFERENCE RULES GOVERN ALL ATHLETIC GAMES

AGAIN ENDORSES HIGHEST STANDARDS FOR IOWA'S ATHLETICS

University Senate Calls up Resolution Approving Conference Rules for all Intercollegiate Contests and Unanimously Votes Down Proposition to Reject the Rule

Conference rules govern Iowa in all intercollegiate contests, whether with conference or non-conference colleges.

The approval of the university senate given to this university rule in 1899 when Iowa joined the Big Nine conference has been called in question, discussed and again approval has been given to the rule. Reconsideration of the rule was desired by persons who wished to see Clyde Williams, Edward G. Yates and "Pink" Storey play on the varsity nine in non-conference games.

Williams, Storey and Yates are barred from playing by the conference rules. By the rules governing all the other college teams in Iowa and other college teams which the varsity plays, they are not debarred.

The approval of the university rule that conference rules shall govern in all university games was given by the senate because the conference rules are the embodiment of purity in athletics, representing the efforts of those desiring the highest and best in intercollegiate sport, to which it is desired to bring in time the acquiescence of those colleges which are not now on this high plane of intercollegiate endeavor.

IOWA'S HANDICAP

Those who called up the resolution of the senate for reconsideration urged that other colleges with whom Iowa plays do not observe the conference rules, that they are playing on their teams men ineligible under conference rules, and that in these non-conference games, Iowa should be allowed the same latitude. They urged that Iowa should not be put under an evident disadvantage in these contests, and asked that the handicap be lifted.

WOULD BRING PROFESSIONALISM

In opposition to this view, it was argued that the rejection of the conference rule opened up the field for considerable professionalism in Iowa's athletics. It was presented that the winning of contests was not the important thing, but that the entire object of athletics was at stake: whether the university desired to conduct her athletics upon the highest plane, with the best safeguards against lapses in scholarship, in amateur standing and in other features apt to tempt participants in athletics.

THE DISCUSSION.

Prof. E. A. Wilcox, president of the board of athletic control brought the matter up by request. Upon moving a reconsideration of the rule in order to bring it before the senate, Professor Wilcox said that he was not in favor of the rejection of the rule, as it would mean, when judged by the highest standards, the admission of professionalism into Iowa's athletics, allowing men judged professionals under conference rules to compete with non-conference colleges. That non-conference colleges were playing professionals he did not think sufficient answer. Iowa, he said, should keep her own record right.

BEST STANDARDS FOR IOWA.

Dean Charles N. Gregory said that he wished to see the University of Iowa stand for the best standards in inter-collegiate athletics, not only in her contests with the large universities but with other colleges as well, drawing them to emulate her own example of purity rather than following after their standards.

UNANIMOUS FOR THE RULE

Upon question being called, the senate unanimously voted to approve again the rule that the conference rules govern Iowa in all her athletic contests.

IOWA 7; CORNELL 5

The varsity defeated Cornell college 7 to 5 at Mt. Vernon yesterday. Captain "Johnnie Vos pitched for Iowa an excellent game and was well supported by the team.

In opening up the game, Dye and Hampson went out to first. Iowa then hit the ball regularly until five scores had been tallied.

Switzer's ankle was sprained by a Cornell player's throwing his weight upon it. Coad then took third and White went in at center field, where he played a star game.

The game was Iowa's first in the silver bat series. The standing of the teams now is:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Iowa	1	0	1.000
Grinnell	1	0	1.000
Ames	1	0	1.000
Cornell	1	0	.000

MURDER TRIAL

John Anderson Convicted of Murder

In the mock court trial last night the jury found John Anderson guilty of the murder of Jas. Whitney.

The defense set up hypnotism as a defense but failed to show the accused was in that state at the time the act was committed.

The attorneys for the state were A. L. Heminger and Geo. Howell for the defense, Timothy Ahern and E. K. Brown.

The attorneys did some fine work especially the defense. Prof. E. A. Wilcox was judge.

Students Should be Careful

The Citizen does not mean to uphold the wrong-doings of students. Students should always realize that they are entering upon the duties of manhood and that dignity and straightforward conduct makes the successful man. Preparation for after life is the object of education, and therefore, these qualities are among the essentials of an education. There is another matter in this connection. As has been seen time and again, there is a disposition on the part of certain newspapers to seize upon and magnify every act of the students (and some acts of which they are not guilty) that has a tendency or a leaning towards rowdyism, and use them against the university. In a body of 1,600 boys there are always a few who do not feel responsibilities, and who bubble over occasionally, and the more sober and level-headed should council moderation.

This is not said to criticize, but to point out facts. While it may not be the desire or aim of these newspapers to injure the university, still the results are the same and the school must suffer. The Citizen has said, and it reiterates, that the students attending the university at this time, taken as a whole, will class with the students of any college in the state of Iowa. But more is required of them. What is laughed at or made light of in other colleges is magnified here and held up as rowdyism. Acts of vandalism and insubordination which in other schools are covered up or "whitewashed" are here spread broadcast. The students should realize this as do other friends of the university and should be the more guarded because of it.—The Iowa Citizen.
