A GREAT VICTORY

IOWA'S PLAYING SENSATION OF THE WEST

Team and Coach Can not be too Highly Praised—IOWA Out of the Rut

Iowa's magnificent victory over Illinois was the sensation of the week. Team and coach can not be too highly praised for the great victory Iowa won over the strong Illinois eleven.

VARIETY PLAYED GREAT GAME

The team played the game that Coach Chalmers has been trying to have them play all year. The men played with a fierce, fighting spirit that would not be stopped. Both elevens played clean ball, the game being in this respect the most satisfactory big contest that Iowa has played this year.

CHAMBERS TALK AT IOWA

The Illini were strong. They were defeated by the undefeated Northwestern team by only 11 to 12, and played a fine close game with Chicago. That they played their best game on Iowa field, put forth all the football that was in them, was the testimony of George Riff, physical director at the head of Illinois athletics.

No praise too high for Iowa

To defeat this Illinois team was a great achievement, one for which the Iowa players and Coach Chalmers can not be too highly praised.

IOWA VINDICATED

Iowa is vindicated. She is out from the base of the heap. She can play great football and the jubilant students, alumni, professors, and the faculty in general, are entitled to have supported Iowa athletics through the dark days of 1907—con. can now take renewed hope, can continue the good work with great confidence.

FINE TEAM NEXT YEAR

Few of 1908 team will not return for the hard work next fall where in is left off at St. Louis Thanksgiving giving day.

The following telegrams have been received:

Woodruff's Substitutes

Coach Woodruff announced before the game Saturday that he would play four substitutes against Iowa, saving his regulars for Nebraska.

He did.

For five minutes.

Then he rushed the regulars in.

Great Excursion

The excursion from Davenport, Rock Island and Moline for the game Saturday was one of the largest in Iowa's history, and no one, save the Missouri, would have guessed the game would be close. The Iowa team was announced the favorite to win, and all the Iowa fans were spared a shock.

Old Gold Edition

Saturday night's issue of the DAILY IOWAN, printed on Old Gold paper, was an event in itself. The edition of 1500 copies was exhausted by 7 o'clock and another 2,500 copies were printed, but 15 copies have remained in the Iowa town.

The DAILY IOWAN has been recipient of many compliments upon the enterprise and ability shown by the Old Gold Illinois game edition.

Review of State Football

The DAILY IOWAN's annual review of state football, with an all-state college eleven picked, will appear in the issue of December 4. This review has been written by three years of Roy A. Cook, and has come to be quite a feature at the close of football season in the state. The article will be illustrated by cuts of the players chosen for the all-state college eleven.

Mr. and Mrs. Gady will receive Wednesday evening at their home on North Linn.

Dr. Polygenesis will initiate tonight in the Geology Club. The initiates are Misses Berry, Higheley, Douglas, and C. A. Pierce.

The Shakespeare Club of this city will entertain yougent students who have supported Iowa athletics through the dark days of 1907—can now take renewed hope, can continue the good work with great confidence.

Kappa Sigma Entertain

Kappa Sigma entertained the following Alumni Saturday: F. T. Jensen, Dyar; C. L. Ragatz, Davenport and C. P. Hanley, Muscatine, also Assistant Coach Westover of Nebraska.

Football Edition

The 1903 football edition of the DAILY IOWAN will be issued Tuesday, December 1. It will contain at least double the amount of reading matter in an ordinary issue. The edition will be illustrated by cuts of the game and substitutes and squads. The edition will also be in a full account of the Washington game at St. Louis, and the football edition will be issued on Old Gold paper and will contain at least double the amount of reading matter in an ordinary issue. The edition will be published on all Gold paper and for extra copies should be placed early.

A limited amount of advertisements will be accepted for this edition at the rate of 25 cents per line.

McGeer on Russell

Prof. Nutting received the following telegram from W. J. McGeer, formerly of the Illinois public school, but now in charge of the Anthropological exhibit at St. Louis. He was a personal friend of Frank Russell and the telegram should have been received in time for the memorial service, which was to be held at St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19, 1903.

Prof. C. C. Nettling.

Frank Russell was a worthy son of his school and the sciences to which he devoted his life, and his memory will be cherished among us as the memory of the science of man. His latest work was on the best proof of the pleasures of his greatest achievements, when cut off in his prime with a grievous loss and I mourn an honored friend.

McGeer.

Octave Taneit gave a fudge party in their hall Saturday evening for their brother Philos.

The Sunday Register Leader contains a picture of Miss Edith Preston ex. '05, of Oakasloosa who has been the guest of Miss Louise Bookett of Des Moines and has had such a number of social functionals.

Mr. William Hosford and Miss Mae Morrow gave a breakfast party Monday morning. The guest of honor was their cousin, Mrs. Frank Prescott Dow of Seattle, Washington, who arrived in this city Sunday morning for a holiday. He has no limit to the number of guesses you can have at that $10 for the best guess on the Washington score. Just pay your subscription to the IOWAN before the next guess, and you will receive the grutes corresponding to the amount you pay.

MAN OF DOLEFUL FACE WAS THERE

HAD SAID IOWA WAS NOT IN VARIETY CLASS

Lingren, Lowenthal and Woodruff Disappointed—Director Huff's Tribute to Iowa

"Is Iowa in variety class?" shouted the Iowa notables at the Man with the Doleful Face on the east side lines Saturday.

The Man of the Doleful Face was wearing a side-line badge by courtesy of the Iowa management.

He was the man who said to a Chicago newspaper: "Is Iowa in variety class this year. Almost any minor team could defeat her."

The Man of the Doleful Face had played on the Illinois team in 1901, when he defeated Illinois 56-0. He was graduated from Illinois in 1901 and has since been coach of Cornell college of Mt. Vernon.

His name was Justus M. Lindgren.

The score of the game he watched was: Iowa 12, Illinois 0.

LOWENTHAL DISAPPOINTED

Another Illinois man was disappointed also. His name was Fred Lowenthal. He too was a member of the Illinois team defeated 56-0.

Mr. Lowenthal said in a signed article published in the "Chicago American," on Oct. 7: "All of the indications are that the State University of Illinois will not be represented by a scoring eleven this year."

"Why should Iowa any more than Knox be considered one of the conference colleges?"

"Iowa was never in the class of the others of the 'Big Nine' in football until 1899 and 1900, when it was what it is now."

"Iowa was what it was before the two golden years mentioned."

"Cutting out Iowa would leave only eight conference schools, but I am in rather incoherent mood just now. I believe there is one more team in the 'Big Nine' which is not of 'Big Nine' class. I mean Indiana."

"While the football editor of a Chicago paper would supposedly be able to find room for the story of his university's games, Mr. Lowenthal, in a paper containing full accounts of other games in the west, printed four words on the Iowa victory: 'Iowa in varsity football until 1899 and could defeat her.'"

But I am in course included in price of book, for short time only.

In use 20 years, and 10s 1000ds sold. Proved supreme over all others. Valuable prizes for best improvement, best thoughts on writing, etc. Big money selling this book.

J. S. Lilly, Homilay Falls, W. Va., learned from it and sold it for 15 years just ordered 310 copies. Send St., or 2 cents for Business Purposes.

In New Mexico and Arizona are scores of places where invalids can pass the winter comfortably.

Among them are Alamogordo, El Paso, Tucson, Phoenix and Yuma. They are high and dry; warm and sunny; free from wind and extremes of temperature—ideal spots for sufferers from all sorts of lung troubles.

They are most quickly and comfortably reached by the railways of the Rock Island System.

THE BEST AT IOWA
STATE UNIVERSITY GIVES
BEST ADVANTAGES

Students Who Go To Outside Universities Find Iowa is
The Best

Iowa students who have gone
outside the state for their education are making a mistake.

The life and energy of Iowa
students can give them better advantages than outside institutions.

This is the conclusion reached by the Midland Schools, a leading educational magazine published at Des Moines. The editor of the Midland Schools has been watching the advantages offered at Iowa and at outside institutions, including noted universities in the east, and he concluded that experiences of the students at these institutions,
shows that the State University Of Iowa offers the best advantages. Following is the Midland's article:

"It will be observed that more than 500 Iowa students were registered in the institutions of other states. The midland schools were able to draw less than half this number into the various schools of the state. Our own State University drew but 15
students, while over 100 Iowa
students visited the universities of other states.

Why is it that we cannot hold our own with the institutions of other states? Are our schools inferior? We think not.

We are of the opinion that many Iowa students could hold institutions in other states more for the purpose of being able to advertise that they have studied in Chicago, Ann Arbor, Madison, Harrnayville, etc., that because they can find work in those institutions that suits needs better than that given in our state schools. And when they have entered these famous schools they are placed under the instruction of instructors whose ability has never been proven.

IOWA PROFESSOR AUTHORITY.

"Our Iowa professor travels 1000 miles to a noted institution where he expected to do some special work in a given line.

He was surprised when his professor announced that the best authority on the subject was a professor in the State University of Iowa, whose writings on the subject would form the basis for the term's work.

We are convinced that at least three fourths of the teachers who will enter the larger schools for summer's study could do far beter work in our own state schools.

SUPERIOR WORK AT HOME.

"An Iowa educator remarked recently: "I spent four summers in succession in Chicago University. Last summer I had occasion to visit our own state university. I found that Dr. Bolton, Dr. Brown and the other professors working during the summer, were doing work that was superior to that given in the larger classes at Chicago."

NOT EXCELLED.

"Our own professors are quoted as authoritative in their lines,
and they attempt nothing that is far such by the teachers of their own state. We heard a professor in the State University of Wisconsin say: "The best professors on these subjects in the United States are Dr. Patrick and Dr. Johnstone of the State University of Iowa."

And there sat under the sound of his wise different Iowa students who had traveled hundreds of miles to learn that there was no one in Iowa, a university with a faculty that is not excelled anywhere in the nation, by which they attempt to teach.

"Let us be more loyal to our own state institutions. As principals and superintendents we should investigate our home institutions before we send students into other states where they will get no better schooling than they could have secured at home. Our State University should have a summer school of 300 next year, instead of 200.

The State will recruit the best students for the purpose of being able to render the great advantage that will come into such prominence that students will flock over our borders to get the advantages of our educational institutions.
