HAMILTON CLUB CONTEST

HENRY G. WALKER OF IOWA CITY REPRESENTS IOWA

Will Contest with Meek of Chicago, Halliday of Michigan, and Lampe of Knox, for Oratorical Honors

Henry G. Walker, the contestant of Iowa in the Hamilton Club contest, is now in Chicago ready for the contest which will be held at the Hamilton Club House Monday evening.

Four universities, Michigan, Chicago, Iowa and Knox will be represented in the contest. The rules of the contest gives Chicago first place, Iowa drew second place, Michigan third and Knox fourth.

THOMAS JONES MEEK

Thomas Jones Meek, will represent Chicago with an oration on "Alexander Hamilton The Practical Idealist." Mr. Meek is a student of the law school. He is a member of the Maroon Literary Society, and has been its representative on inter-society debates. He also belongs to the James P. Hall Law Club, and to Phi Delta Theta. As a freshman at Dickinson College, Pennsylvania, he won the Cole prize, and as a sophomore in the University of Chicago the Ferdinand Peck prize in public speaking.

HENRY G. WALKER

Iowa's contestant, Henry G. Walker, will appear with an oration, "Alexandra Hamilton," The oration deals with Hamilton as a financier. "Hamilton" says he, stands as the ideal financier of a free-governing people."

Mr. Walker who is a senior liberal arts and freshman law, is president of Irving Institute. During his freshman and sophomore years he represented his society on winning teams in the inter-society debates with the Zetagathian society. In his sophomore year he received honorable mention in the Pickard prize contest for extemporaneous debate. He was on the Wisconsin preliminary in his Junior year and captured a place in the finals. In the same year he won second place in the N. O. L. preliminary. Now as a senior, he is the leader of Irving's team in the Wisconsin preliminary. Besides his forensic work, Mr Walker is also an active member of Polygon, and the Dramatic Club. He is one of the ten honor men elected to Scimitar and Fez last year and is now its Sultan.

JAMES F. HALLIDAY

James F. Halliday of Fenton, Michigan, was born near Flushing of the same state in 1879. His father being a Methodist minister, young Halliday had his schooling in various towns in which his father held pastorates. His chief preparation for college was at the Flushing and Ann Arbor high schools from both of which he was graduated. His freshman year was spent at Northwestern University. In 1901 he entered the sophomore class of the university of Michigan and expects to receive his degree in June 1905.

He has been a thorough student of oratory ever since he entered college but never tried for honors until last year when he won second place in the junior contest with an oration on "John Brown." In the preliminaries for the Hamilton contest in November, 1903, he was awarded the honor of representing the university. His oration deals with Hamilton as a constructive statesman.

WILLARD LAMPE

Willard Lampe of Knox is a member of the senior class. He is now president of the Gnothant literary society and of the college Y.M.C.A. Last year he was president of the Knox Oratorical Association. He was in the 1903 Junior Oratorical Contest, took part in the Colton debate and in the debate with Beloit. In 1902, Mr. Lampe qualified for the Beloit team but sickness kept him from taking part in the final contest of that year. For three years, 1901, 1902, 1903, Mr. Lampe has been honor student. He has taken a prominent part in track athletics and last year lead in the distant events. He is one of the associate editors of the Knox Student.

BACONIAN

Sanitary Engineering—Prof. C. S. Magowan

It is now more than 100 years since Malthus ascribed disease to the inter-position of providence. At that time diseases were laid to the effects of sin or to the wrath of an avenging God. These ideas still find occasional inadvertent expression in the use of the horse shoes and rabbits foot. Today disease is considered as a condition which is as natural as health and as much subject to natural laws.

The body is now considered a mechanism and as such, defects may be due to faulty material in the structure, it may be injured by accident or by the introduction of infectious materials from outside.

Sanitary science arose when the germ theory of disease was discovered and it was found that many diseases could be prevented by proper sanitary conditions. Great advance has been made within the past 100 years to which doctors, chemists, biologists and engineers have been the largest contributors. The aim of engineering is to convert natural forces to the use of man.

Specialism has subdivided the work into many departments.

Sanitary engineering aims to promote healthful conditions by insuring pure water, air and food. It has another great object, that of forming public opinion regarding sanitary conditions so that private and corporate funds may be wisely expended in this way. Professor Magowan urged the inspection of private dwellings. This and proper sanitation would prevent diseases such as typhoid fever and tuberculosis.

"One hardly knows," said he, "which is more appalling, the ignorance of the masses or the indifference of the intelligent regarding sanitary conditions. Murder is murder whether done with an axe or a house."

Law Debate

The Law Debating League met last evening after the programs and decided to meet jointly next Friday the occasion being the preliminary for the debate with Northwestern.

The league decided to extend an invitation to Dean Gregory to preside.

The meeting will be held in the Auditorium.

The debaters will be Cross, Ruby and Humphrey for the Senate and Sutherland, Schieffelein and Whiting for the Forum.

The question will be: Resolved that the direct personal property tax shall be abolished in Iowa.

Iowan Changes

At the meeting of the DAILY IOWAN board this afternoon a number of important changes were made.

Geo. H. Coulthard, captain of the '03 football team, was elected athletic editor, and will have entire charge of athletic articles.

Miss Mary E. Ballard, Miss Nellie Chase and Ben Wyland were elected associate editors, and A. S. Barnes was elected reporter.

Mr. Roy A. Cook, the manager of the DAILY IOWAN, who has for some time been desirous of disposing of his interests in the IOWAN on account of his graduation this spring, is succeeded as manager by Mr. Pratt.

This will necessitate Mr. Pratt's resignation as editor-in-chief. His successor will be chosen shortly.

Mr. Pratt will assume the management of the paper with its next issue. Mr. Pratt will form a stock company to take control of the DAILY IOWAN and will soon offer the stock for public subscription. The shares will be sold at $10 each.

The plan of offering the IOWAN for popular control is the result of suggestions from various sources, and the success of the plan is practically assured.

Miss Ben-Oliel Coming Under Y. W. C. A. Auspices

Miss Florence Ben-Oliel, an English Christian Jewess, the daughter of the distinguished veteran missionary, Rev. A. Ben-Oliel, who has lectured in England, Scotland, Canada and many states, will lecture on "Oriental Life" next week on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Congregational Church, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Ben-Oliel lectured at the recent State Y. W. C. A. convention at Ottumwa, and the university girls who heard her are enthusiastic in their praise. As an opening feature, Miss Ben-Oliel gives an "Oriental Entertainment" which she illustrates with costumes from the east, and describes in a very interesting and charming way. The Association is indeed fortunate to secure her for the course. The admission is 50 cents for the course or 25 cents single admission.

AMUSEMENTS

"Mr. Jolly of Joliet," in which Mr. Edward Garvie and Broadhurst & Currie's big musical comedy company will disport themselves at the Opera House next Monday night. Fun, good, hearty, clean fun will be on tap for three solid hours, when King Joy will hold full sway and dull care will be banished for the evening. Sumptuous scenic settings and costly costume creations will please the eye. Catchy, tuneful musical numbers and high class specialties will please the ear. They should have a big house.

We cheerfully call the attention of our readers to the eminent tragedian Mr. John Griffith who is to appear on Thursday evening January 14, at the Opera House. Mr. Griffith is an artist, in fact he is much more. John Griffith is a genius of the highest histrionic order, and they are born, not made. His elocution is faultless, his gestures natural and perfect, his stage presence superb, and he possesses a most magnificent voice.
