IHAN AT ST. LOUIS

IOWA'S CO-ED BASKETBALL PLAYERS INVITED

But Miss Kastman has Declined The Trip–Review of the Descisions

The girls of Iowa University have achieved a reputation as basketball players. So much so, in fact, that they have been in- vited to attend the St. Louis ex- position to play a series of con- tests there against girls teams from other universities. Miss Kastman head of the Woman's Physical culture department has seen fit to decline the offer, how- ever, inasmuch as the girls have not the advantage of a complete team to place for practice for the contests. The members of the team were offered six weeks and a week's entertainment at the exposition.

Interest in basketball has been unusually strong this season, principally because of the ef- fort of girl's teams here, physical training for women having been introduced only last year. Miss Kastman the instructor, has de- veloped two well trained teams from the girls of the two lower classes. Their work was seen in the game played last Saturday as a curtain raiser to the Grin- nell Iowa game. The players are playing at present on the teams for sophomores: Grace Buck- ley, Myrtle Royal, centers: Au- gusta Brown, Alice Remley, goals: Sara Red, Ruth Maxfield, guards: Olive VanNess, Clara Hayden, guards for the freshmen: Edna Bracwell, Elizabeth Herb- aline, centers; Carry Watters, Bertrude Gittens, goals, Sadie Holiday, Alice Walsron, guards. Others who have played on the teams earlier in the season are Wada Jones, Pearl Stony, and Hazel Highley.

The game as played according to Spalding's Rules for women, differs from that played by men in several particulars, such as having six in a team and playing in courts. Miss Kastman has received a number of requests for games with girls of other colleges during the year, notably from University of Michigan, Bradley and Grinnell, but it was not possible to agree to such a request this year.

George Behms M. W. is visit- ing in Charles City.

Prof. W. C. Wilcox will deliver the last of his lectures on the montages of which the book is a sequel, tomorrow evening, his subject will be "American History and the Public Libary." No attempt to make another at- tempt to get away from the 200 voters in the town. The Interfraternity tug will get final consideration tonight.

The visit of the legislators to the State University of Iowa was the occasion for one of the most remarkable demonstrations in the history of the University. Students, faculty members and citizens of Iowa City joined in the demonstration of extreme interest. De- spite the rain and mud, young men and young women marched and cheered. No football team ever received such an ovation as did the members of the Thrith general assembly.

The delegation from De Moines was even larger than was expected, there being over six hundred of the special train. Many university alumni accom panied the legislators. The train arrived shortly before noon and was met at the depot by the uni- versity faculty band and owl battalion, and then the members of all of the departments march- ing. The double line of students extended half way from the depot to the university. The through carriages were driven through this double line to the liberal arts auditorium where the exercises of the day were conducted. The trip from the depot to the univer- sity was a continuous ovation for the students, for the faculty, and for the university. The engi- neering students came in for the greater share of attention in view of the fact that the legisla- tive sub-committee had recom- mended their removal to Ames. The students gave the visitors to understand that they did not care to part with the engineers. Special yields for the engineers were given in which the en- gineers figured conspicuously. The liberal arts auditorium would not contain a fraction of the students. Every foot of standing room was filled all of the speakers were cheered to the echo. Senator Ball presid- ed and introduced the speakers. Mayor Stotinos gave a short address of welcome and Presi- dent MacLean dug it as eloquent welcome to the univer- sity. Then followed D. L. Goy- herroth who told of the kind- ly feeling of the senate toward the university. He made the Speaker Clark the house who spoke brilliantly for received a great ovation. Senator Garst chairman of the committee on the legislation of the university. Mayor Bush- don of Ames also gave a short address.

Then came the demonstration of the day. The ball game begun to close about the program when the students began calling for Representative Weeks. The students cheered themselves hoars with demands that the house gave a very brief but pointed ad- dress. He made a spicuous com- mittee minority report favoring larger appropriations for the university. Then the rounds were taken to the St. James and Berkley hotels for the day. The afternoon was spent in viewing the university. The return will be made at 7 o'clock this evening.

WHISKERS WILL MEET AGAIN TONIGHT

Two Remaining Contests May Not Materially Change Posi- tion of the Teams

Games tonight:
Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta
Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Kappa Psi,
Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Nu

Standing of teams:
Kappa Sigma, 1st place, 100 points.
Phi Kappa Psi, 2nd place, 60 points.
Sigma Nu, 3rd place, 40 points.
Delta Tau Delta, 4th place, 30 points.
Beta Theta Pi, 5th place, 20 points.
Sigma Chi, 6th place, 10 points.

The above is a complete list of athletic contests played this year. The contests should be separated by at least two weeks to give the men plenty of time to rest. Iowa's track outlook is unusually good, there being a great deal of material. About twenty men are out daily, training for the various events and more will soon be out. The men have been handicapped because of the condition of the na- ture but it is now thought that they can be brought rapidly into shape.

most attractive of which is the one to St. Louis when the St. Louis university team will be played. This game will be play- ed in the world's fair stadium. A trip will be made including Chicago by Simpson and Drake and still another trip will take in Minnesota and Luther's college.

There is an abundance of excel- lent material for this year's team and it is expected that it will be a winner. Battery material is especially abundant.

Season tickets will be sold to pay the expenses of the home games.

The Daily Iowan is the student newspaper of the University of Iowa.

The Pan-Hellenic has been tried, and it has been found of very decided value in breaking about an increase of friendly fellow-feeling among rival fraternities. What it will do as much for sororities at Iowa is the hope and belief of the sorority girls.

Welcome, Law Makers

The Daily Iowan joins heartily in the welcome of the state university to the Iowa law makers. As guardians of the interests of the university, the legislators are sure to command the interest of those connected with the university. But aside from the fact that the university is dependent upon the legislature for bread and butter, it welcomes the opportunity to show to those who have the interests of the state in their hands, exactly how it is being done here. The Iowan believes that the university can lose nothing from a thorough inspection by the law makers. It believes that the higher educational interests of the state are being well cared for. It only asks that the state of Iowa give it the support that its work justifies.

Sorority Organization

The organization, by the local chaper, of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Gamma and Pi Beta Phi of a Pan-Hellenic association, whose definite aim is to bring the members into closer personal touch, is confidently expected to mark the beginning of a new era in inter-sorority relations. Friendly and cordial as the intercourse between the sororities has always been it is a fact that there has been too little joint action in a business way; too little mingling socially. Both of those failings, the Pan-Hellenic, adopted now in every college boasting chapters of two or more national sororities, seems almost certain to supply. Questions of mutual policy and interest will be considered at meetings of the associations and a line of precedent laid out which cannot fail to better the commodious spirit, already existing. It is along social lines, however, that the most definite plans of the Pan-Hellenic have been laid. The idea is by occasional informal gatherings of the three chapters to increase the feeling of friendliness and comradship, which should rightfully prevail among the Greeks.

Almost without fail, wherever the Pan-Hellenic has been tried, it has been found of very decided value in breaking about an increase of friendly fellow-feeling among rival fraternities. What it will do as much for sororities at Iowa is the hope and belief of the sorority girls.

The Engineering Society
The new science museum and library will be a counterpart of this and will be situated on the campus opposite it. It will contain an auditorium with a seating capacity of 2,000. It is to be erected at a cost of $225,000. To be completed September, 1905.

CORNER IN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

The present Science Museum is far too small to accommodate the valuable collections that have been made for the State University. Less than one half of the material collected is now on exhibition. The Iowa museum ranks among the very best in the entire country and in some departments excels those of the great eastern institutions.

GLIMPSE AT THE CAMPUS
During the past year more than $60,000 worth of free medical treatment was given the people of Iowa here. Is not this nobler than rearing fine stock? The hospital is always taxed to its fullest capacity.

The deanship of the Iowa Medical College is a position of increasing importance in view of the rapid growth of that department here. The removal of the department into its handsome new buildings which is now going on marks an important epoch. Dean Guthrie is essentially an Iowa man having been born in Iowa and educated at the Iowa State University.

The University asked for an appropriation of $115,000 to replace these buildings, destroyed by fire two years ago.
Representative Weeks would appropriate $15,000 to repair this historic structure—The Old Capitol Building

THE N. O. L. CONTEST
FOUR ORATORS FOR CONTEST CHOSEN

Universities Select Representatives—Participants in Hamilton Prize Contest

Four of the seven universities which will participate in the final Northern Oratorical contest held in Ann Arbor in May have selected their representatives. The league is made up of Oberlin, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Northwestern, and Chicago. Its annual meeting is the most important event in inter-collegiate oratory of the year, and as the best orators of the universities are represented, its outcome is awaited with interest throughout the Central west.

The orators thus far selected will represent the Universities of Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, and Chicago. Three of these four orators were participants in the Hamilton club contest last January.

HENRY G. WALKER
Iowa will be represented by Henry G. Walker, who was her representative in the Hamilton contest and who secured second place in the N.O.L. preliminary last year. Mr. Walker will deliver his oration on "Alexander Hamilton.

Middletonian Special

The members of the Middletonians will give their special program on "The District School" to night in Philo hall at eight o'clock. The program will consist of nineteen short spicy numbers comprising declamations, recitations, dialogues, essays, song by school band and a few pupils of special talent and talets by the school teacher and the director.

Miss Ethel MacOmber, who has been the guest of Miss Alice McGee, has returned to her home in Carroll.

T. B. Powell '01 and wife of Cedar Rapids are in the city. Mrs. Powell was formerly Miss Mary Wilson '02.

P. J. Bayor of Sharon Center donated to the university two fine specimens of migratory birds which he shot in Iowa County. They were a blue crane, and a sloop. The blue sloop is a rarity in this section. The cranes will make one of the best exhibits of its species in the museum as it was in splendid condition.

The Triangle club will take possession of its new quarters in the Purshke building, on April 1.

R. T. Swain '98 enjoyed a short visit from his father over Sunday.

Miss Herleen of Fort Dodge, is a member of the freshman class.

Professor Bolton addressed the High School at assembly on Monday morning taking for his subject "The Power of an Idea."

The arrival of Miss Herrick of Fort Dodge, is a new and member of the Men's delphian.

The members of the basketball team are planning to entertain the girls' basketball team at dance next Tuesday evening.
