ACTORS MAKE A HIT

ZET-HEP DRAMA WAS BIG SUCCESS

Opera House Well Filled—The Individual Parts—May Play At West Liberty

The members of the cast which presented the military drama "From Sumpter to Appomatox" in the opera house last night covered themselves with credit. The play was presented through the combined efforts of the Hesperian and Zetagathian societies. The presentation was the results of many weeks of hard work on the part of those composing the cast. It went through as smoothly and gracefully as if the same cast had given it a hundred times before. A large audience manifested its approbation of the young Thespians by administering liberal applause.

The star parts in the performance were taken by R. C. Quigley, Ray Files, Frank Sangster, Cora Curtis and Marian Stookey. Files played the part of Julian Farnsworth the Union army captain in a very creditable manner. His part gave the best opportunity for the display of dramatic talent. Quigley had probably the most difficult part and he carried it well. Sangster provided plenty of amusement in the interpretation of the character of a southern negro in war times. Marian Stookey as Biddie McGee portrayed the characteristics of a genuine Irish lady. Miss Curtis played a difficult part very acceptably.

Arrangements are being made for the presentation of the play in West Liberty.

The full cast is as follows:

Julian Farnsworth Ray Files
Clare Thorne (A Southern Belle)
Cora Curtis
Judge Thorne (Col. in Confederate Army) R. C. Quigley
Kate Spencer (A Northern Girl in the South) Gertrude Gittins
Lieutenant Forbes (Union Army) Will Brinton
Biddie McGee (An Irish Lady) Marian Stookey
Lieutenant Ellsworth (Aid-de-camp to Roberts) Will Healy
Wash (A Runaway Slave) Frank Sangster

Want Date Changed

The freshmen athletes who are to compete in the annual freshman-sophomore field meet have presented a request to the athletic management to have the date of the contest changed from April 23 to April 21. The reason for this request is that the Junior prom comes on the evening of April 22 and some of the members who will undoubtedly compose the team wish to attend this function. No action has yet been taken on the request. It is thought that there will be no objection however.

TWO OPINIONS

Cedar Rapids Republican

Under no circumstances and for no reason can the Iowa legislature afford to withhold a bountiful hand from the State University of Iowa. If this state is not going to make its university the equal of any state university, it should abandon the institution altogether, for unless our university steps up to the standard established elsewhere, it will not be patronized. No matter how loyal people are to their state, they will not send their boys and girls to an institution simply because it is an Iowa institution. The day of that sort of thing is passed. We do not think there is any argument that will appeal to the American people in favor of abandoning any portion of our great system of public education. The culmination of this comprehensive scheme of public education is the state university. One state university, that of Michigan, today boasts of the largest enrollment of any university in the country. Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Nebraska have followed quite closely the lines laid down in Michigan. In each of these states the policy has been conspicuously broad and conspicuously liberal. Why should Iowa in some respects richer than any of these states, hang back and adopt a policy of parsimony and niggardliness? For the life of us we don't understand it.

Baxter New Era

Senator Maytag does not believe that big bunches of hair and an aptness at football and other slugging matches should be paid for by the state. If Senator Maytag believes that the engineering department should be transferred to Ames, he can give good and sufficient reasons. He is a prudent; conservative business man, and as he is careful in his own business affairs so is he with the affairs of the people, whose servant he is. As to his hostility in the larger appropriation, Senator Maytag's head is level. It is too much cold cash to pay out for fads—To keep a lot of long-haired professors well housed, well fed and well paid, without good returns. It is the people's money; the legislature is handling. Tax money does not belong to the university. It is a pauper and can find no fault if no appropriation is made for it. The brats in the engineering department who went out of their way to insult Senator Maytag deserves expulsion from the university, and those in authority there should be discharged. But the true and reasonable way out of the misunderstanding between "wards" and the state is to abolish the entire institution. It will be one less barnacle to support.

REPORT UNANIMOUS

HOUSE COMMITTEE FAVORS UNIVERSITY

Would Give the University $208,000—Report Will Probably be Adopted

The house committee on appropriations voted yesterday to recommend a bill to appropriate $208,000 for the State university. It was said after the meeting, which lasted from 4 to 6 o'clock, that the committee was unanimous in its report.

This amount is $80,000 more than the senate committee on appropriations has agreed upon. Of the increase $50,000 is set apart for the construction of an engineering department hall. The other $10,000 is appropriated for the purpose of building a dam across the river abutting on the university grounds.

The recommendation of the house committee with respect to the engineering department is especially gratifying. The recommendation of Senator Maytag that this department be dismembered from the university and removed to the State Agricultural college was the origin of the activity of the friends of the institution to preserve its entity.

Dr. H. N. Stuart is in Columbia Mo. attending the meeting of the Philosophical association, before which he will read a paper.

BOARD OF CONTROL

BEING DEBATED NOW IN THE SENATE

Created Biggest Sensation of Present Session—Stars of Senate Discuss It

The consideration of the proposed educational board of control bill in the senate yesterday afternoon occasioned the most spirited debate that has occurred this session.

Judging from the length of time given to the measure, and to the bitter manner in which it was fought, its consideration will take up several days.

The war horses of the senate buckled into the matter, and with Gilliland and Molsberry against the bill and Dunham, Lewis, Garst and Maytag for it, its consideration was marked by some flights of eloquence unusual to the staid atmosphere of the upper chamber.

The galleries were filled and the audience displayed attention. The bill had been made a special order, and immediately upon the convening of the senate at 2 o'clock, Senator Maytag called it up. The bill is accredited to Garst on the calendar, but is supposed to be the work of the sub-committee of the committee on appropriations.

Prof. L. M. Byers of the Law department is in Des Moines.

ELECTRIC TRANSIT

PAPER AT BACONIAN CLUB LAST NIGHT

Prof. Wells of Engineering Department Heard—Development of Electric Transit

"Some Developments in Electrical Railroading" was the subject of an interesting paper read before Baconian last night by Dr. Wells of the Department of Engineering. A synopsis follows:

The rapid increase in electrical transit lines makes this a subject of importance to others aside from engineers. Electrical traction is about 20 years old, but at the present time some two billion dollars are invested in electrical traction lines and equipment. Competition was first with horse cars, now it is with steam roads.

The first electrical roads were built in cities for purely local purposes, distances were short and rate was slow. Later lines come to be built between cities for passenger traffic. Some interurban cars now run at as rapid a rate as the local steam roads and have very largely increased the amount of travel for business and pleasure.

The storm center of interurban construction was in Ohio but it came westward into Indiana and is now, perhaps, in Illinois and it is extending rapidly into Iowa. The possibility of competing with steam roads up to distances of 40 to 50 miles has been pretty well demonstrated. Longer lines are beginning to use the alternating current as there is less loss in transmission, a stronger current may be used, the cost of equipping and operating is less, though this system has not yet actually demonstrated its durability and effectiveness.

Estimates indicate that the best field for electrical traction is where fuel is high, loads are light and trips frequent. It is within the limit of possibility that steam roads will be superseded by electric lines for passenger traffic.

Is This True

The Daily Nebraskan says editorially:

"Efforts are being made at Iowa to work improvement among the students who need it. In many cases the students are not coming up to a desirable standard in scholarship, and in hopes of inducing them to exert themselves a little more the following manifesto has been issued by the secretary of the faculty: "Any student who, on account of deficient scholarship fails in any semester to earn credit for at least half of the work for which he has registered will not be permitted to register for the following semester." This seems like a harsh measure, but it will doubtless have its effect.

It Has Brought Good

A number of Iowa friends are disposed to lament the fight that has had to be conducted in the state legislature for the state university of Iowa. They feel that the university has been injured because of the notoriety that it has thus secured. It is the opinion of the IOWAN that such is not the case. It believes that the university could have had nothing happen to it that will be productive of more good. One of the greatest drawbacks the school has had within the past few years has been the seeming inactivity of its alumni. The S. U. I. alumni have permitted the organization of strong alumni associations from other schools while they remain inactive. Surely this thing should not be.

The recent activity in the state legislature regarding the university has awakened interest among Iowa alumni as never before. This is particularly noticeable in the capitol city where alumni interest should center. Steps have been taken looking toward the complete organization of the six thousand alumni throughout the state and the holding of a big reunion here at Iowa City in June. There is every indication that the organization will be a complete success. If it is, more good will have come from the recent agitation than the most sanguine could have hoped for.

AMUSEMENTS

It is funnier than Peck's book of the Bad Boy and his Pa. This because word painting, no matter how clever, cannot be as vivid as real action. You laugh when you read the book, but you roar when you see the same Bad Boy in flesh and blood perform those tricks. The cast contains many old and new favorites at the Opera House next Monday.

MISTER STUDENT:—In reply to your question as to where to buy your cigars and tobacco, I would say the Clinton Street Smoke House is the place. Its proprietor is Tom Brown, a genial fellow and a friend of the student and student enterprises. His shop is clean and neat. The fittings are up-to-date and in keeping with a first class cigar store. Brown sells customers what they want and no "as good as" goods. His stock contains all the popular and advertised brands. As for pipes his line is as fine as any in the state.

If you want anything in the smoke line, go to the Smoke House, and Brown will treat you right. If he don't, tell "Buster."

Yours for a good smoke,
