THE MILITARY BALL

SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION GIVEN LAST NIGHT

Decorations Were Unique—Big Crowd Present—the Officers in Charge

Gay with flags and bunting and myriads of red, white and blue incandescent lights was the Armory last night when the University Battalion played host at the Annual Military Ball. The occasion had the added charm of novelty after six weeks of Lenten quiet, and the floor was well-filled with an animated crowd, unmistakably in for a good time. The programme of twenty-four dances with extras was very satisfactorily rendered by Molsberry's University Orchestra, which responded graciously to insistent demands for encores. "My own United States," "Uncle Sammy" and a number of other patriotic airs fitted in admirably with the spirit of the evening.

The decorations, without being elaborate were particularly effective. Flags and draperies of red, white and blue bunting, against the white background and the festoons of vari-colored lights made up one more in the list of decorative triumphs, which have been seen at the Armory, this year. The stage fitted up for the use of the musicians and railed from the tri-colored steps by ropes of red, white and blue tissue paper proved the most effective bit of decoration.

The grand-march was led by Adjutant-General Byers, the honored guest of the evening and Mrs. George R. Burnett, followed by the officers of the battalion in order of rank. These officers, in full dress uniform made up the receiving line and added a telling touch to the general color scheme.

The committee in charge of the eminently successful affair were Colonel George R. Burnett, Major H. E. Spangler, Major J. F. Kirby, Captain H. M. Pratt, Captain B. A. Moffat, Captain W. F. Hellberg, Captain C. P. Schenck and Captain E. R. Johnston.

Fixed With Ames

All athletic difficulties between Iowa and Ames are now settled. In order to bring about a conciliation of the relations between the two schools the Iowa board of control has voted to make a concession to the Ames management by contracting to play a game of football on the Ames field a year from next fall. The game next fall will be played here. The action of the board yesterday is not to be considered as a precedent but merely a concession to bring about a continuation of friendly feeling between the two schools. Ames had voted it unfair to play all of her games with Iowa on Iowa field.

ARE FIGHTING IT OUT

QUESTION OF S. U. I. APPROPRIATIONS

House and Senate Committee Cannot Agree—Senate Wants it Reduced

Members of the senate and house appropriations committees held a joint meeting last night to come to some agreement over the university appropriation but failed.

The house members stand pat on their recommendation that the university appropriation carry with it an extra appropriation of $50,000 for the engineering building and of $10,000 for the construction of a dam to make the Iowa river suitable for boating purposes for the students.

To both these propositions, the senate committee is as unalterable opposed, and the fight will be carried to the senate door, unless the senate committee gives way.

The house of representatives adopted a resolution offered by the judiciary committee for a commission of both houses to investigate the feasibility of establishing an educational board of control to govern the educational institutions of the state. The resolution was not debated.

The house unanimously passed the Buchanan bill offered Wednesday requiring the educational institutions to report to the general assembly of 1906 within ten days after it convenes and providing for a committee of investigation to visit the institutions during vacation, and report to the assembly upon them. The committee is empowered to examine the books and accounts of each educational institution and the president, secretary, treasurer and other officers or any member of the board of regents or board of trustees shall furnish shall furnish any information regarding the conduct of the institution with which he is connected which said committees shall require. The committee shall make examination of the needs of the several institutions and shall recommend to the general assembly the further appropriations necessary to their maintenance and development.

The Daily Maroon says that a matter that is attracting a great deal of interest in the athletic world, probably more in the East than in the West, is that of the eligibility rules under which the track meet at the St. Louis exposition will be held. This question is likely to cause some trouble because the western associations are more lax than those of the East. As an instance of the extreme rigidity of the eastern rules it may be stated that LeMoyné has been declared ineligible because he competed recently in a Y. M. C. A. meet.

TABLES ARE TURNED

JUNIOR LAWS GET FOOLED TODAY

Echo of April Fool Joke When Junior Laws All Cut Class Take Exams Today

April fool day happened something over a week ago but the Junior Law class is just getting fooled. On the first of April, the members of the junior law class fell upon the happy scheme of cutting class to fool the professors. Accordingly on that day there were no recitations for them. A few days after, however, the professors issued an order for examination this forenoon for all of those students who failed to appear in class on April fool's day. The junior laws are today wrestling with knotty legal problems.

Upon the announcement of the examinations the members of the class petitioned for an injunction restraining the execution of the order. The petition was presented to Professor Wilcox of the law department who has charge of one of the junior law classes. The granting of the petition was urged on the ground that discrimination was shown in the fact that all of the members of the class were not required to take the examination. Professor Wilcox read the ruling of the court as the class assembled yesterday. He ruled that inasmuch as no member of the class was deprived of the opportunity for taking the examination there was no discrimination, and he thereupon dismissed the case from court and taxed the costs to the plaintiffs, the costs being the taking of the "exam."

War at Ann Arbor

A merry war is on at Ann Arbor between students of the University of Michigan and local liverymen, and it is all because the livery men will not advertise in the student publications.

Last year the liverymen, thinking that they would hire carriages to students whether they advertised in the college papers or not, agreed to insert no advertisements.

Needless to say, the students are indignant and some of the student organizations are talking of starting a movement to discard the services of liverymen altogether. It is proposed that the students shall walk to whatever parties they may desire to attend. The co-eds are interested in the matter and some of them express a willingness to walk.

Dr. Goggsell of Cedar Rapids is in the city.

The spring vacation will begin Thursday at 6 o'clock and extend until the following Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.

ATHLETIC BENEFIT

FLORENCE GALE IN, "AS YOU LIKE IT"

To be Presented Here April 22 Between Cedar Rapids and Des Moines Dates

As a means for replenishing the coffers of the athletic union, Manager Spangler has made arrangements for a benefit performance of Shakespeare's "As You Like It" on April 22 at the Opera House.

The Company Selected for the benefit is an unusual one. It is headed by that clever American actress Miss Florence Gale, who was F.S. Willard's leading woman in "The Middleman." She also co-starred in "The Prisoner of Zenda" with Mr. Harry Leighton for Mr. Daniel Frohman, and is making her first Pacific Coast trip on this trans-continental tour of "As You Like It."

In her support are such well known players as George Sylvester, late leading man for Grace George, Cassins Clay Quincy, who was Henrietta Crosmans "Jacques" and who now plays it with this Company; Augustus Balfour late of Frohman's Forces.

Among the women are Olive West for "Audrey," Helen Ashley, last season Mrs. LeMoyné's leading woman, as "Alia" and Emma Frederick of Frohman's "The Other Girl" Company as "Phebe".

It is many years since this delightful comedy, now running to packed houses at Dalys Theatre New York, has been offered in Iowa City and its coming will be an unusually brilliant event.

From Nebraska

Daily Nebraskan: Iowa University has been having a sea of trouble over securing an appropriation from the legislature sufficient to meet its needs. At first an appropriation altogether inadequate was allowed and a protest of no small proportions was raised. However the legislature is showing liberal tendencies, and now it seems likely that Iowa will not fare so badly. The friends of the University declare that the greatest state educational institution must be well supported if it is expected to retain its character and prestige as such, and that if sufficient funds are not supplied to prevent each department from being handicapped, the University will suffer accordingly.

J. H. Cresswell of Reinbeck, a brother of Dr. Cresswell, formerly of Iowa City, has been brought to the city, for treatment in the University hospital.

A. C. McClane, L. A. '04 leaves Monday night to attend the Unitarian state conference at Humboldt, Iowa. Mr. McClane will give an address on "The Young Man in the Church."

The Official Emblem

The recommendations of the committee which was appointed to create regulations for the wearing of the official emblem will go a long way toward the elimination of misunderstanding as to the proper significance of the emblems awarded for honors won in baseball should be different from those won at football. It is of additional interest to know when the official "I" is seen upon an athlete, in which department he has won his laurels. The difference in the typography will make this distinction possible. probably the most important result to be felt from the action of the athletic board yesterday will be the effort of the winners of honors to get an "I" in more than one department. This is sure to give an added incentive in the work of the athletic department. The committee did not make any limitations as to the wearing of the "I" by persons who have not been awarded them by the board of control. In many institutions there are regulations against the wearing of the official emblem on pipes, caps, etc. The committee here has talked this matter over but has decided to leave the use of the emblem to the good judgement of the students of the university.

AMUSEMENTS

The best play presented here this season will be seen at the Opera House on next Tuesday April 12, when Paul Gilmore appears as "Lord Lumley" in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird." This is the best part this popular and talented actor has been seen in. Mr. Jules Murry, his manager, has surrounded him with a company of artists, and has given the play a scenic equipment of great excellence. Mr. Gilmore played "The Tyranny of Tears" last season. "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" gives him even better opportunities. His success this season is said to have been wonderful.

MISTER STUDENT:—In reply to your question as to where to buy your cigars and tobacco, I would say the Clinton Street Smoke House is the place. Its proprietor is Tom Brown, a genial fellow and a friend of the student and student enterprises. His shop is clean and neat. The fittings are up-to-date and in keeping with a first class cigar store. Brown sells customers what they want and no "as good as" goods. His stock contains all the popular and advertised brands. As for pipes his line is as fine as any in the state.

If you want anything in the smoke line, go to the Smoke House, and Brown will treat you right. If he don't, tell "Buster."

THE ARID REGIONS

PROF. SMITH BEFORE BA-CONIAN CLUB

Interesting Discussion of Arid Western Regions And Their Irrigation

"The Hydrographic work of the U. S. Government with especial reference to the Arid Regions" was the subject of an excellent paper read by Prof. A. G.
Smith before Baconian last night.
A synopsis follows:

"The occupation of the public lands of the United States has gone on very rapidly yet vast amounts are still unsettled. By the Arid Regions we do not mean
those parts where desert conditions prevail, for these are comparatively small in extent not being more than twice the area
of the State of Iowa.

The Arid Region includes all lands where the annual rainfall is twenty inches or less. This includes about two-fifths of the land in the United States or some 1,300,000, square miles. Much of this land can be irrigated and made fit for homes. About one-third of this land is still unoccupied.

The work of investigating this region was given to the Geologic
Survey by the United States Government. Before the work could be successfully prosecuted
men had to be trained to investigate the water supply, to determine the speed of currents, the volume of water discharged by a stream, the loss from evaporation; the amount of sediment carried, and the amount of water necessary to irrigate. The Geologic Survey first began a Topographic a Hydrographic and Engineering Survey.

The Hydrographic Survey is now divided according to needs
into the Water Power, Sanitary, Artesian, Diversion and Reservoir divisions.

The surface of the United States may be divided into the Humid, Semi-Arid and Arid regions. The aridity is due to irregularity in the land surfaces and the direction of winds. The changes of air which constitute climate occur within one mile
above the surface of the earth.

The value of irrigation is well illustrated at Riverside California where land, which in 1870 was not worth fifty cents per acre,
last year produced a crop worth $150 per acre.
