BEST OF THE YEAR
JUNIOR DEBATE WAS CLOSE AND EXCITING

Zeta Win the Decision on Bank Currency Question—The Debate

Woo unto those universities which are scheduled to meet Iowa on the debating rostrum next year! Judging from the excellence of last night’s junior debate between Irving and Ze-gatian, Iowa is to have a wealth of debating material next year.

The contest was won by the Zetas, the decision being unanimous. Prof. Charles R. Palm and Dr. Albert were the judges.

The debate last night was the question: Should the United States adopt a system of national bank currency based on coinage? As to the makeup of the team debaters, the Iowa men combined and whipped their Ames counterparts.

Henry Walker of Iowa Was Sixth in Order—Iowa Has Vice President

Northern Oratorical League contest was won by George Jones of Minnesota. He spoke on "The American City." Michigan and Chicago were tied for second place. The winner received $100 in cash.

On percentage, Thomas Mask of Chicago was awarded the second prize. His subject was "John B. Gordon—Patrician or..."

The other contestants were given standings in the following order:

"Destiny of China," Henry Elliott of Iowa

"Mission of the Anglo-Saxon," Andrew Howdeshell of Oberlin

"Alexander Hamilton," Henry Walker Iowa

"Daniel Webster," Charles Johnson of Northwestern.

This was apparently the first debate of the year for those teams which had been scheduled for next season.

"Good showings made against Ames . The game started off by getting two in the first round, but the Argies soon caught up and led one. Then in the seventh Iowa tied the score where it remained until the twelfth inning when Iowa got one and Ames two. It is said that the umpire was a bird—at least his name was. It was a Wing, and he was accused of attempting to feather his nest."

The first round was won by Iowa; good showing made against Ames in their first day's play. The score: (Northwestern), 3, (Iowa), 2.

Morris College has adopted the system of having recitations six days in the week, and with the beginning of the new school year will do away with the Monday holiday. The foremen will be given to class work and the afternoons to laboratory work.

Professor James Ward of Cambridge University, England, will come into this country in June and will be here to deliver the Phi Beta, Lapham address for the university society here during commencement. He is a prominent poet and is a man of great ability.

The final tryout for the make-up of the Iowa track team which is to meet Minnesota was held last night. Next afternoon, the team which is to be taken to Minnesota will consist of nearly twenty men. As to the makeup of the team, the following list is in order of the men who are candidates to go and doing some hard work daily.

Later in the evening, a new movement, Colliers, polished shoes, nicely pressed trousers, and bright faces were discarded and man is to be comfortable once more.

Will Wear Old Clothes

Northwestern men are agitating a new movement. Colliers, polished shoes, nicely pressed trousers, and bright faces were discarded and man is to be comfortable once more.

This movement is being band-led by some of the most influential freshmen among of whom who are prominent in fraternity and college affairs. This custom has become a rage for years at eastern institutions, and has lately been taken up by leading western institutions.

Hoyt H. Elbert is threatened with an attack of typhoid fever.

The Iowa City high school debaters wallowed the Cedar Rapids high school boys when they met in genuine Iowa City style. The debate was held at Cedar Rapids.

The Iowa university tennis players scored a complete victory in their first day play against the Northwestern university at Chicagoday. All three contests scheduled for the first day were won by Northwestern in doubles and singles.

The Chicago Record Herald, the features of the play were the ability of the Iowa team in doubles to pull out of a bad place. In the first set Northwestern had the lead at 5-1, but the Iowa men pulled it out at 7-5. Again in the second set Northwestern led at 5-4, but the Iowa team rallied once more and won the set 3-1.

After finishing the Northwestern tournament the Iowa men will meet the strong University of Chicago tennis team on Monday and Tuesday.

Yesterdays scores:

Monnet, Iowa, beat Nash, Northwestern, 6-0, 6-4.

Bailey, Iowa, beat Conant, Northwestern, 6-0, 6-2.

Monnet and Bailey (Iowa), beat Conant and Willmarsh (Northwestern), 6-0, 6-2.

The University of Iowa, state high school inspector, has left for Carmel, Indians where he will make a short visit, after which he will spend the summer in England and Germany.

The turkeys at the University of Iowa are holding a pan-hallamic dance this afternoon as the Thanksgiving of the university. All the dogs on campus are represented by a large number of their men and those who have been men in fraternities not having chapters on the campus, are sat to atttend as the guests of the ladies, which is the intention to form.

The excellence of last night's debate was equal in every way to that sort of enterprises. Senator Elbert H. Hubbard of Sioux City, who has just been nominated by the Republicans of the Eleventh district for congress is the father of Elbert Hubbard of the freshman class. His leading opponent for the nomination was ex-congressman Isaac Struble of Le Mars, father of Isaac Struble of the junior class. The convention was one of the most memorable in the history of Iowa politics, the nomination going to Mr. Hubbard on the forty-fourth ballot.

Mr. Hubbard is a very handsome man, and might be taken by one only slightly acquainted with him for Governor Cummins. When he last visited Iowa City he was for a part of the time the guest of President George E. MacLean, and on Sunday morning, occupying a pew with President MacLean and splendidly acquainted with President MacLean and splendidly acquainted with Mrs. MacLean, Governor Cummins Appeared the president and shook hands with him. Then turning to Senator Hubbard and extending her hand she said with an interrogatory accent: "And this is the governor?"

Senator Hubbard blushed in his inimitable style. President MacLean hurried to the rescue and soon had everything smoothed over.
