ACQUATIC FEAT

STUDENTS FLOAT DOWN THE IOWA RIVER

Six in Three Canoes Float From Ammana—Rained on Camp out Saturday Night

Acquatic adventures seem to be the order of the day for the Iowa student at the present time. Not content with boating here a half dozen students last week shipped three canoes to Ammana plan to float down the river Saturday and Sunday. Saturday morning taking a passenger train they stopped off at MacGregor to prepare their breakfest "hobo" fashion from the water tank. They did not forgo however but carried their own provisions and tents. Some of their some walked to Ammana while others took the freight. About ten o'clock they started from Ammana two in each canoe. All that day they paddled and floated along the winding Iowa and far into the evening until the final object to be accomplished was to reach the shore and the stars to twinkle through the over reaching branches.

Boating their canoes they pitched the tents and then ate supper while the campfire and its shadows began to twinkle. After a night of rest and with the hope of winning. The Iowa's canoes they student to the Iowa students called the Grinnell boat. It was small and others took the freight. Iowa Missouri Iowa's chances for the inter-collegiate contests' Sunday.

AMUSEMENTS

Manager Lodren has closed a contract with the well known actor, William Owen, who has appeared here a number of times to the infinite satisfaction of all, for the production of "The Lady of Lyons." It is needless to say that the performance will be a grand one, as Mr. Owen always presents, and the supporting company is an exception-ally strong one. Including the old favorites, Mr. John W. McConnell and Miss Willia Reynolds. Every attention will be paid us to the costumes, scenery, etc.

Phi Beta Kappa Banquet

The seniors of the liberal arts who had been chosen for membership in the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity were initiated into the mysteries of the oldest of Greek letter societies, Friday night the initiation of the members of the fraternity repaired to the Burden Imperial, where was held the annual banquet. Professor Leon A. Call acted as toast-master, toasts being responded to by Prof. H. E. Gordon, "American Statesmanship"; Miss Mary Macleod, "The Initi- ule"; Robert B. Lance, "Whither?"; Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, "Das Ewig Wahrlich's"; Dean Currier, "Significance of Phi Beta Kappa"; President MacLeod, no regret as being unable to be present. Fifty members were present, the out of town guests being Miss Ethel Stiles, Miss Winton, An-noray R. E. Leach, Indepen-dents: Mr. Blakes, Cedar Rapids; Dean J. H. T. Main, Iowa college, Grinnell.
