Baseball of the real hot article may be expected on Iowa soil this next Monday afternoon when the mines representing Iowa and Ames will line up against each other. Ames won the game which was played earlier this season, and Iowa will try to win it with fair treatment on the part of the umpire who seems disposed to give the Ames boys a little bit of it.

Next Monday's game will be fought every inch, by both teams because of the fact that it may decide the possession of the silver but for the coming year. Iowa and Ames have never met on their other league games thus far and if Iowa wins Monday the teams will be tied. However if Iowa loses, Ames will get the silver without a doubt. Brown, the wonderful, from Ames will be in this box for the games on that date and will do all in his power to puzzle the Iowa boys who have been making connections with any and all players thus far this year. Brown is hardly with Iowa and Iowa students are going to turn out and root for them as never before. It will be a holiday and it is expected that the crowd will be a record and the game is coming in a special train.

It is a story of love and pride, poverty, wealth, ambition, adventure, romance and happiness. There is no complicated question of morality or manners to vex the audience. It is a good wholesome romantic play with plenty of laughter and any number of thrilling situations. It will be presented by William Owen, J. W. McConnel and with Camilla Reynolds and a strong cast at the opera house Thursday night. Seats now on sale.
