THEAMES GAME
Next Monday afternoon will occur the second battle this year of the Ames and Iowa baseball nine. From present indications this game will be the event of the baseball season for Iowa.

Ames has had a successful year. She had a solid football team and a successful debating team and she now has unusually strong baseball and track teams. Iowa's baseball team too is exceptionally strong and will undoubtedly give the visitors a severe battle.

In Monday's game the much-heralded Brown of Ames will be in the box and do his best to secure a second victory. With firm a determination the Iowa boys intend to reverse the result of the previous twelve-inning game.

The championship of Iowa and the possession of the silver bat rests on the game Monday. If Ames wins both are here: if Iowa wins we will be given another trial to establish our title. The importance of the game shows the desirability of the presence of loyal Iowa rooters.
