SENIOR CLASS DAY

SENIORS TO HOLD THE REINS MONDAY

Class Breakfast at 8:00—Class Exercises at 9:00—Class Play at 8:00 P. M.

Monday, June 13, will be class day. Then the reins will be turned over to the seniors. This program this year is in general similar to previous years. At eight o'clock in the morning will occur the class breakfast at the Burkle Imperial.

E. R. Johnston, as toastmaster, will introduce R. H. Nestrin, who will make the toasts: "Our Girls" and Miss Mary Maple piece. Miss Maple has been assigned the subject: "Our Boys.

The most attractive as well as the most interesting number of the ceremonies and addresses will be the presentation of "She Stoops to Conquer," the senior class play, in the opera house Monday night.

The cast has been rehearsing under the direction of the public speaking department for ten days. Their presentation is now excellent. The costumes are very elaborate and arrived from Chicago house this morning. "She Stoops to Conquer" is one of the very few really good plays that observe a strict continuity of time and place. All the scenes depicted taking place during one evening and in the same city. It has no real leading man nor lady, there being eight parts that are all nearly equal. On this account it is especially adapted for a proficient amateur cast and for a model class play. Though this play is not in any respect military it happens singularly that the four leading male roles are taken by the four captains in the battalion. The girls in the cast have been especially prominent in university theatrical circles. Of the members taking the eight leading roles, four were chosen to Phi Beta Kappa and two to Sigma Xi.

In the play "She Stoops to Conquer," Iowa Madge Young will appear in the role of Mrs. Hardcastle. Her acting has been much experience in dramatic lines and will do herself justice because of her quickness of manner and personality. She makes Mrs. Hardcastle appear in real life and we are carried back to this high time. Her part is exceedingly difficult in that it is filled with situations for an elderly lady due the tautness of a sportful son, and in this Miss Young shows her ability to kind and affectionate leaves a wholesome touch with the audience.

Alice Marie Lynch of Sioux City, takes the part of Kate Hardcastle whose becoming a maid temporarily in order to win the bashful Marlow gives the play its name. Miss Lynch was selected after a four-hour hunt in the Drama Club's Emerson hall last year and her performance then insured something good in this. Elizabeth Swire will maintain a capable part of the bassoon with the accompaniment of Miss Neiville. She has appeared this year in the French play and also in "Miss Nobody of Nowhere." Mr. E. R. Johnston in the part of Mr. Hardcastle shows remarkable capability in the portrayal of an old man. From his inter-preparation one easily sees the whimsical old man who dearly loves his daughter but has no love for his stepson Tony. His hearing upon the stage shows his appreciation of the character, keeping up well the parts of an old man who can be kind to one dear to him but can speak crossly to anyone who is irritating. W. P. Hulberg of the Sigma Nu fraternity acts the part of Young Marlow, and his uncontrollable rashfulness makes possible the romance of the play and gives rise to many embarrassing situations and funny incidents.

Mr. Coggswell of Cedar Rapids, in the role of Mr. Hardcastle, will meet the requirements in every particular, the strenuous situations into which he and Marlow are led the ability of a genetics and in this Mr. Coggswell enters with spirit and masters the situation. In all of his work he is not affected and his interpretation of the love scenes with Miss Neiville could not be excelled by a amateur. This is his first appearance in this work and promises to be a star appearance.

Mr. R. M. Ivins from Grand Center will appear in the role of Tony Lumpkin an undutiful son always in some prank to the complete disgust and discomfort of all concerned. He not only leaves Mr. Hardcastle very well but leaves his death scenes in the horse pond. Mr. Ivins has never made a record in dramatic work in the university but in this role he has possibilities ahead of him.

Mr. L. P. Schenck with his hearty laugh imitates well an old man who is too tender to the situation. His part is exceedingly difficult in that it is filled with situations for an elderly lady due the tautness of a sportful son, and in this Miss Young shows her ability to kind and affectionate leaves a wholesome touch with the audience.

The other members of the cast are: Stirling, Lord of the "Three Pigeons" L. P. Donovan Diggins H. W. Bowshery Tom Twist D. S. Welch Aminadab E. R. Jackson Dick Valborg Eamosters, Pot-boy, and Pot- fellows.

Miss Henrietta Plock has been elected assistant in German for next year at the Iowa State Normal.

Chas. Mayerholz ´02 who has been specializing in history at Harvard where he holds a fellowship, has been chosen to teach history in the State University of Maine during the summer session. His friend the French play and also in "Miss Nobody of Nowhere." Mr. E. R. Johnston in the part of Mr. Hardcastle shows remarkable capability in the portrayal of an old man. From his inter-

RINKER THE WINNER

GETS THE FIRST PLACE IN HAMILTON CONTEST

Ties with Anderson in Rankings but Wins on Percentages—Contest very Good

Parley Rinker of the junior class was announced as the winner of the second annual Hamilton club preliminary which was held before a small audience in the auditorium last night. Five candidates had entered to contest for the honor of representing Iowa in the Hamilton Club prize contest at Chicago next January.

In the opinion of the judges the average of the contest last night was very high. The judges on thought and composition had previously expressed the opinion that the orations on the whole were excellent.

The judges for the contest were Professor Notting, Dean Gregory, and Professor Macbride. Their relative ranking of the candidates chosen from between Rinker and Anderson for first place. Upon the adding of scores Anderson had received a total of 1065 points compared to 979 which gave him first place.

The complete ranking of the judges was:

Nut. Greg - Macbroaden - Rinker - Anderson - Gordon - Pless - Randall

The class of 1906 will have a reunion during the present commemoration. Three of the four living members will be present. The members who will be present are Carey R. Mr. Smith was the founder and first president of the Zeta募集 society and Mrs. Emery was the first woman to receive a masters degree from the university.

Alice Curtis, '08, Dean of Women and professor of oratory in Lombard College is visiting the University this week. She will address the commemoration. She will spend the summer at the Pacific Coast.
The association does not belong to the class of men or to the college; it is a university organization and is run on a university plan as far as the means at hand will permit. It is the desire of the officers to have it as representative as possible. The cooperation of more students is desired and hoped for. The work of the association offers a field of labor peculiar in itself. It is the training school of the church. It is not possible for all members of the Faculty and student body to take part by personal service in the work of the association. But non-participation need not mean neglect or indifference. An interest in the association is in a very practical Christianity. The band will hold its weekly concert on the campus tonight.

Great World Power

The World's Student Christian Federation

Greatest Students Organization in the World

Christian students are a world power, and are being recognized by their world-wide organizations. Note, for instance, the greatest of all student organizations, known as the "World's Student Christian Federation," the secretary of which is a man known to the entire Christian world, and personally known to many an Iowa student Mr. John R. Matt.

Affiliated with this federation are various student movements in 1950 universities, colleges, and professional schools, with a membership of over 89,000 and including in a national bond of organization the countries of the world: the United States and Canada, Great Britain, Scandinavia, Germany, France, Holland, Switzerland, Australia, India, China, Japan, South Africa, and scattered organizations in smaller lands and islands of the sea. This Federation is in fact the only organization which has been successful in the organization of the students of the Universities of the world, and that has been accomplished on an evangelical, religious basis. This Federation, as now formed, is not yet 10 years old, having been formed in 1906 in Sweden. Biennial conventions have been held gathering student leaders from all parts of the world. These have served to spread information regarding the student life of the world and more especially their methods of conducting Christian student work. The last conference at Denmark was represented by 25 countries, the next one in the summer of the present year will be held in Japan. Such a world-wide common interest in student life is a great power in unifying Christian student work, in systematizing the spread of the great principles of Christian student manhood. Irresistible in its march of progress, it is one of the mighty factors which is bringing into reality the spread of the Kingdom of Christ in the lives of men throughout the length and breadth of the world.

Great Student Manhood

Greatest Students Organization of the Small Country

In the Kingdom of Christ in the lives of men throughout the world-wide common interest in student organizations, the World's Student Christian Federation has been one of the mighty forces of the year 1905 when in the opinion of many students the Association came near going to rain we will not only have to start from the bottom again but we will be the one state university association in the country without the services of an executive officer, past to promote the work.

A brief summary of the work for the year will give an idea of the lines of association activities.

To assist new students, coming to the university without any acquaintances, the association filed a complete list of boarding and rooming places suitable for students. One hundred and seventy men were assisted in finding rooms and sixty men were introduced to room mates. Seven hundred and fifty copies of the handbook were distributed. In coming trains were met during registration week. A book exchange succeeded in assisting a few students in purchasing second-hand books.

The total enrollment in membership for the year was two hundred and twelve half of whom are active members.

The Bible Study department is only a small part of its possibilities. The organized effort of a few students this year has resulted in laying a plan that can be very effectively enlarged in the future. This year thirty students have been engaged in systematic daily Bible study in four group classes. One hundred and ten men are enrolled in the student classes, meeting in connection with the regular Sunday Schools. Of the total enrollment of one hundred and forty-seven the average attendance has been ninety-four.

During the opening weeks of the year two receptions were held. A Thanksgiving social with the Y. W. C. A. and other functions during the year have always been successful. There is need for social life, general in its sphere and united in its effort that the association can fill if it has the support of the student body.

There have been two classes in Mission study with an enrollment of twenty eight men and women. The Volunteer Band, of ten, is composed of students who purpose to spend their lives in foreign lands. The association conducts a general meeting at 4 o'clock on Sunday and a prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at 6:30. The average attendance per week has been forty seven.

The employment bureau for the purpose of aiding students in securing work received at the beginning of the year, seventy applications. Work to the amount of $1000.00 has been given to students.

Y. M. C. A. AND LITS
TWO SHOULD WORK FOR EACH OTHER

Work of Y. M. C. A. Should be Part of a True Liberal Arts Education

To the student in the college of liberal arts, the Y. M. C. A. should be of prime importance. The very term "Liberal" is, a measure significant of the aim and purpose of a collegiate education.

With all due respect to the others colleges, I take it, that the college has for his aim a broader development, a larger horizon than any other student in the university. It is the colliagian who are looked to, for leadership in the various activities of the university, partly perhaps on account of their numbers, and it is to the colliagiate that we must look for strength and power in our Christian work.

The Y. M. C. A. with its Bible classes, Mission studies and various meetings, offers to the student part of that "Liberal" education for which he is striving. But besides this, there is another side of our education which is less easily estimated or seen, which we may derive through the agency of the Y. M. C. A. and this for want of a better name let us call that "rubbing up against" men of strength and character. We all need this.

The inspiration and stimulus that we get from personal contact with men of this stamp is of no small importance.

The colliagians are the strongest in numbers in the Y. M. C. A. work and they should, be, with all this, there are many whose help and influence is needed, men who are interested in church work and other christian activity.

Does not the Y. M. C. A. purely a student organization come in for a share of each colliagiate's support, and should not here be the field for his Christian work?

With the three months vacation before us in which to think this suggestion over, and plan for the next year, may we come back next year with plans to devote more of our time and energy to this important part of our liberal education.

A CHRISTIAN MEDIC

DOES CHRISTIANITY GO WITH MEDICINE

Medics Give Strongest Support of Any College at Iowa to the Y.M.C.A

Can a man be a Christian and be a lawyer? Once a question answered one Sunday afternoon by Judge Milton Remley at Close Hall. We ask the question, can a man be a Christian and be a Medics, here only to refer to a false tradition which has clung to the medical student from the dawn of medical education even down to the present generation.

Here seems to be a tradition that medical student life is synonymous with savagery or at least bug a stop removed from it. Even to this day the persistence of tradition is seen when occasionally a group of healthy, robust medical students gather upon the steps of the buildings and with respiratory movements so distinctively audible proceed to exchange the foul air of the class room for the pure air of heaven and we note a very decayed individual in passing, look down from the top of quite rimmed spectacles and explain with up-titled countenance "those terrible medics."

Let us have the truth known in regard to the Medics of our State University. They have kept pace with the best in education. The very nature of their work demands a gentleman. They are by far the strongest college in our university as represented by their work and support of the Young Men's Christian Association. No college of the State University is able to produce more of that type of students which repre-sent the most perfect type of Christian manhood. Nifty-dive per cent of the medical students express church preference, sixty-one per cent are church members. This is the class of men represented by our Y.M.C.A.
