IOWA IS NOW BENT UPON DEFEATING AMES OCTOBER 29

FOOTBALL TEAM AND ROOTERS HAVE AUDITORIUM

Chicago Game Left Players in Good Condition—Reasons For The Defeat

Now that the Chicago game is over the attention of the Iowa students is being turned toward the game with Ames a week from Saturday. The game with the State who will here next Saturday is looked upon as being already won as there will be no offer of any thing mean enough to run up a big score on the normalites with the idea of giving the fans the chance for the harder struggle against Ames a week later.

The Ames game is sure to be a record breaker in every sense of the word. It is expected that fully 4,000 people will be on Iowa field that day. Manager of the Old Main will see to it that everything is in order and the rooting interest of the Agriculturalists are well supplied.

The Iowa team returned from Chicago Sunday morning in good shape. Robert Horack who was injured by the Maroon players but they played against two teams without the hindrance of backs. The Alexandria of Iowa was the first half his spotty regulars went in and won the Iowa game was not so well supplied with substitutes.

The work of the Iowa men Saturday was highly praised. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "The defense of the Iowa team has never been equalled on Marshall field." All the Iowa roosters were surprised when the game was over and the Iowa Igers out played them.

MEETING TONIGHT IN LIBERAL ARTS AUDITORIUM

Will Help to Defeat State Normal And Ames—New Iowa Songs

All members of the republican and democratic glee clubs of the university and all other students who sing are requested to meet in the general lecture room of the collegiate for a joint recital tonight and 7 o'clock to organize a combined glee and rooster club to help win the Ames game. The practice of the club tonight will be the main event. At that meeting we are sure that nothing against the State Normal but the heavy canvassing will not be permitted. The Ames game a meeting at Mr. Walsh's place. The club will learn several new songs that have been written especially for the club. The Iowa roosters and give them on the football field at the coming games. It will be something new and in the novel in way or rooting.

Herefore it has been postulated a very successful stall sing fests on Iowa athletic fields because there was no central organization and it was hard to get the right persons together to conduct it. However, since glee clubs have been formed, it is thought it will be comparatively easy to get out a successful singing club.

The republican glee club numbers about thirty members and the democratic club about 20 so it seems that the glee clubs can be brought together on the soul stirring melodies which will be sung. The combined club will be formed Saturday afternoon at the Normal game.

At the combined practice tonight the republican club will have a meeting to be held at West Branch Friday night. The members of the club will attend the rally in a caryall.

JOINS AMERICAN COLLEGE LEAGUE

The Iowa University Republican club at its meeting last Friday night decided to become identified with the American college league. The club was named Roy A. Redfield as delegate to the national convention which was held in Chicago. Following the meeting Redfield left Sunday to attend the meeting in Chicago. The meeting committee of five was appointed to arrange for a joint debate with the members of the recently organized democratic club.

It was announced that A. H. Dawson will become the club in the near future.

CLYDE WILLIAMS was one of the officials at the Ames-Minnesota game.

Chad Horack formerly a student in Iowa University is now member of the Wisconsin law faculty.

IOWA MAY MEET "CARRY NATION" TEAMS

Matter yet in Correspondence Stage But May Be Agreed Upon Soon

Negotiations are on between the debating authoritities of Iowa University and Kansas University for a debate to be held during the coming winter. The matter has been under discussion for some time but something definite may be concluded before long. A debate was nearly arranged with the Kansas last year but because of the progress of the arrangement for a similar contest with Wisconsin was called off.

The Kansas University Weekely says: "The Council authorized a letter to Iowa University making further inquiry about a debate and unless something unexpected happens the debate will be held with Iowa this year.

Nebraska and Missouri University have been asked to participate in the two sets of questions for debate and unless they are known to be ready with representatives can do nothing. There is a disposition to hold the contests earlier this year than in the past so that they will take place not later than the first of March.

ATTEND IN A BODY

The funeral of John Hampson, the senior law student who died suddenly Friday morning was held yesterday morning from his home to St. Patrick's church and was largely attended by President MacLean, Dean Greg ry, Professor Fiske and Dr. Wells, Lawrence of the law school together with the students of the school attending the funeral in attendance. The casket of the young man were also in attendance.

At the conclusion of the obsequies, the casket was opened and the students viewed the body. There were numerous floral offerings. The body lay in the church until this morning at 7 o'clock when it was taken to Osage for interment.

More of the friends of Hampson, no classes were held yesterday in the law school.

The late Professor Fiske of Cornell has left his will his complete collections relating to Old Scandinavian literature and to the Italian, poet, Petrarch. Two these collections are to be the most complete on the subject in existence.

The Freshmen law class met this morning for the purpose of completing the class organization. After much debate, the motion to adjourn for the day was prevailed. The delay is to give an opportunity for the members of the class to become better acquainted.

FIRST CHAIR IN DIDACTICS WAS HERE

Interesting Article in Iowa Alumnus by Stephen Fellows, D. D.

New testimony to Iowa's progressiveness along educational lines is contained in a very interesting article on the work of Professor Stephen N. Fellows, D. D. The October number of the Iowa Alumni, which appeared Saturday. The writer, of this article, who is from the State University of Iowa the distinction of being the established the first Chair of Didactics, for the professional training of teachers, in the United States, and in substantial realization of this claim, quotes Mr. Newcomb on the question, in a report upon the schools of Connecticut, in 1875, called attention to the mere establishment of a chair of Didactics in the University of Edinburgh, and adds for this reason to us that no similar professorship exists in or near Kansas.

In 1887 Dr. Fellows, who had been professor of mathematics and the natural sciences at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, was elected to succeed D. Frank Wells, as Principal of the Normal and State Department of the State University, was made Professor of Didactics, and at once set about extending the work of that department.

An interesting fact in this connection is that when the Normal Department of the University was established, in 1855, the first report of the Commission was as low as 12 years for girls and 14 years for boys. The Normal Department of the University has long since been discontinued, but the work of training professional teachers has been expanded continuously from the time of Dr. Fellows, the title of his department having been changed, however, to the Department of Education.

The current number of the Alumni is No. 1 of the second volume, and is the last number to be issued under the direction of the Alumni Association. Henceforth it will be published by the recently established Iowa Alumni Association, and will thus be the official organ of the association, and not the private enterprise of a few alumni, as it has previously been.
Many "Don'ts for Freshmen"—Hereafter the freshmen in the University of Wisconsin must be more meek and deferential while in the presence of the upper classes. The seniors believe that Wisconsin needs a code of traditions regulating the conduct of freshmen. The younger generation, the upper classmen say, are too conceited, too arrogant and too independent for their own welfare and that of the university. The seniors have just adopted a resolution expressing their views on the subject and enumerating things from which the freshmen will be expected to refrain. The new rules are to govern the conduct of all freshmen at the university, excepting such as shall have made the football or other athletic teams, or "frons," and are as follows:

1. No freshman shall smoke a pipe or be seen to carry a pipe when on the street or outdoors within the City of Madison.

2. No freshman shall carry or wakkestick at any time unless such case or stick is necessary because of invalidity, or if it is impossible for him to walk without the aid of such cane or stick.

3. No freshman shall wear any der or shin while but during any year until May 1, save only upon "Trinity" (junior promenade) night.

4. No freshmen or sophomore shall crowd any circumstances whatever upon the fence in front of the gym. This will not apply to all freshmen and sophomores without exception. It is said that the action of the seniors is approved by President Van Hise and the faculty.

The freshman girls at Califorii are going to celebrate Leap year by giving a reception and dance to the men of the class.

The Otoral League held its first meeting last night in Zet ball and elected the following officers: H. M. Pratt, president; Boy R. Redfield, vice-president; Fred Seydul, secretary; Geo. Banta, treasurer.

AUSSEMENTS

Par and away the most musical comedy of several years is a "Chinesen Honeymoon" which will be heard at the Oxford house Saturday night. One of the most attractive features of this performance is the winning group of girls who appear as the eight bridesmaids. They are said to represent the scene of feminine grace and modern dash. All told, the organisation number seventy-five people and is considered the most expensive of all the Shubert attractions.

"Human Hearts" will be presented this season with an entirely new scenic equipment. Mr. W. E. Nankaville, at great expense, had photographic views for the new scenes taken in the hills of Arkansas, in the locality where the scenes of the play are laid, so as to have the production as true to life as possible. These photographs were turned over to the scenic artist and the result has been most satisfactory. Mr. Nankaville also commissioned the photographer to pick up anything in the way of properties that might lend local color to any of the scenes. The arrangements for Tom Logan, the hero of the play, new scenic in all its new scenic splendor, will be seen at the Opera House tonight.

Badgers May Be Champions
All of the University of Wisconsin football men came out of the game with Notre Dame without serious injury. With the Michigan game less than two weeks away, it is realized that it will be necessary to bolster up the defense in the smashes of Henton, Longman and Tom Hammond are to be stopped.

The game with Notre Dame showed that the badgers were fairly go of the offense, but the general team work of the team cannot be considered improved to equal that of the woverines. There is a growing confidence that Wisconsin will defeat Michigan. It is expected that the practices will be secret during most of the time from now until the Michigan game,
though the public will be admitted at times. During secret practice the gates will be guarded and the fence patrolled to prevent spying.

Was “Rooting” There
An Iowa student who witnessed the game at Chicago expressed himself as follows:

“The rooting of The Old Gold
at Chicago Saturday was truly an inspiration. The one sector reserved for Iowa, out-outered
the city body during the first half. It is safe to say that Saturday’s rooting has been equalled at any time this year on the home grounds. Are alumni more enthusiastic than under-graduates or has the spirit of the school decreased? Let the remainder of the season be a critical negative.
