T. C. Harris says Iowa's Victory Over Ames Was One of Pure Grit

C. E. Harris in the Register and Leader has the following to say regarding the Iowa football team. "The Iowa eleven demonstrated the important necessity of the great battle with Ames last Saturday that should bring great-to-contract. While the victors was even the joy of victory over old rivals - the possession of the determined, dogged fighting spirit. Ever since the Chicago game Iowa's lines have been hard places. With a hospital list that would not down, and the knowledge that Iowa was in the same positiones the very pink of condition, the outlook confronting Coach Chalmers was not reassuring. And when play actually began shots were scored on the plainest kind of a fuke in less than fifteen minutes; when it further became evident that the old gold could advance only a grinding, exhausting attack, the situation was such as to discourage a team not game to the marrow. It is well enough for Iowa men to talk back to the days of 1900, when Chicago was humbled and Michigan swamped, those were splendid achievements, but not for one moment do they compare with the victory of last Saturday, for that game was in the best sense of the word a triumph of the grit over the flesh. Nor is this said in disparagement of the Ames team, which long ago had stood the heat of battle. Words of adulation come easy for the bruised and battered Iowa warriors, who by sheer grit and perseverance kept their goal line ininvatable during the second half, and thus brought victory to their standards. Hats off to Iowa and Chalmers. Still another thing was evident to the veriest tyro, after witnessing the terrific victory, that is a need a trainer, and needs him bad. Those critics who have long ago forgotten their football days as found, the fact that the majority of the players are boys that their training is insufficient, and that their bodies are not hardened and trained for the spiritual conditions of the game, and that they are not under the guidance of a man who is familiar with the different conditions of the physical condition of the two teams. And it is not to be understood that Iowa was obliged to make very few substitutions for injuries, but the men were frequently hurt and even in the first minute, the faculty have heard this company in different places and the spirit is the high point of their work. The various musical and recital companies, from which the representatives, and Mr. Edwin Shon, the Iowa pianist.

The Freshmen Laws had meeting this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Westfall reads the paper at Baconsion Friday evening on the subject "Transcendental Numbers."

President Prather and such a great crowd in the Register and Leader have the report that their success has exceeded all expectations. Over four hundred tickets have all ready sold and the best part of the field has not yet been canvassed. The first number has already been advertised for Nov. 11. It is the Ernest Gamble Recital Company composed of Mr. Ernest Gamble Bosse, cornet; Mr. Albert Goldie, violinist, and Mr. Edwin Shon, the Iowa pianist.

Every member of this company is a recognized artist in his line. Since the day that the faculty have heard this company, the student is in the highest regard in the musical world of as a sufficient guarantee of his merit. The organization has a great deal of and its lead may be followed by students from other states.

At Other Schools

The freshman and sophomore football teams of Northwestern will play the curtain raiser for the Illinois-Northwestern game next Saturday.

The girls at Minneapolis will have an indoor field meet about January 1. About one hundred and fifty will take part. Broad jump and high jump and the sixty yard hurdles will be among the events. Wisconsin students will soon give a German play.

It is rumored that all athletic relations between Chicago and Wisconsin will be declared off, Chicago taking the initiative.

The last year's Junior annual board of Minnesota is about one thousand dollars in the hole.

The Iowa Board of Athletic Control met Wednesday evening and considered the proposition from the Cedar Rapids Commercial Club in regard to the Iowa-Minnesota football game, which the club is anxious to have played in Cedar Rapids. Nothing definite was done however. Coach Chalmers went to Davenport last night to inspect the grounds at that place. The board of control is also considering the suggestion made by Minnesota to play the game at the old Iowa.

At the meeting last evening the board also voted to take basketball under the control of the Athletic Union. Withholding the fact that basketball is the youngest, it is the most popular indoor college sport.

Manager Walker will then arrange the schedule at once.

Meet May Here

At this time indications are very favorable toward Iowa City's having the next meeting of the Iowa educators of secondary schools and colleges. This meeting has always been held in Des Moines heretofore.

The growing kindliness of spirit in Iowa towards the unity and its desired chief executive has led the organization to plan for a conference in the university city.

Seek Unique Skull

Rev. Durand J. H. Ward left yesterday for Cedar Rapids, where he hopes to secure for the

Anthropological Society of Iowa

City the remarkable Indian skull, exhumed at Lake Okoboji recently.

Other material of interest to our scientists is also sought by them, and Dr. Ward will probably bring back some excellent curios, for which Iowa City sav-

I;

ners and the state Historical society have long yearned.

The anthropological society decided yesterday to arrange for a course of lectures, on the World's Fair exhibits of Primitive People.

Prof. Isaac A. Los was named as a committee, with power to act and he will arrive to induce

Prof. C. C. Nutting and Dr. Ward to deliver the lectures. The effort is to be made for the purpose of awakening general interest in a theme deemed highly important. An effort may also be made in the line of arousing public interest in the life of the Indians in the Iowa Reservation.

The varsity football game this morning at 4:30 arrived at 2:50 in time for us to cover the game. Only a very few roots gained the team so called some rooters. Every man, however, quiet determination could be seen in the stands.

The open practice was strictly. The Van against the scrupult, but if at time of play we can score we are in.
