FRESHMEN QUALIFY

MEN SELECTED FOR ORATORIC CONTEST

Three Societies Will Be Represented in Final—List of Graters

The decision in the preliminary to the Freshman Oratorical Contest was announced by Professor Gordon yesterday afternoon, and a list of the six men who will compete is the final is given below together with the titles of their orations, in the order in which they will appear on the program:

1. "The Test of Democracy"—N. A. Crawford Jr., Portland
2. "Porfido Diaz"—L. N. Brass, "Braze Men"—C. G. Wolff
4. "Tousla L'Ouverture"—D. E. Curvel
5. "The Present Age"—W. L. Myers

Ten orations were handed in by the judges who rendered the decision. These men will meet some other day in St. Joseph, Mo.; H. G. Walker, of Iowa City; and M. L. Parsons, Librarian of the College of Law.

The list of men who will enter the final comprises three members of the Illini and two of the Zetagathian society, and one of the Defenders society.

The judges for the final will also be chosen yesterday, the person to be elected being professors A. N. Carriker, C.C. Notting, and L. M. Byrne. The judges will make upon thought and composition at the time the orations are delivered, and the successful orator will receive the prize of twenty dollars, which has been offered. The contest will occur on the evening of Friday, April 21, in the auditorium of the Hall of Liberal Arts.

Want Athletes Recognized

A committee of the City High school students held a meeting on Thursday evening and decided to petition the school board for the privilege of participating in the state field high school meet which will be held here on May 19. The boys will also ask to have athletics recognized.

Dr. A. E. Rogers, of Lhe University of Pennsylvania, will lecture on "Cocaine, Its Use and Abuse," at the regular meeting of the Cedar Rapids Dental Society Saturday evening.

Dean Guthrie's lecture before the graduate club on Tuesday evening, April 11, will begin at 7:30 instead of 7:00 as was formerly announced. Miss Kastman's program will begin at 8:30 in lieu of 8:00. This lecture and the program were originally scheduled for the same hour. The changes in time were made to enable those who wish to attend both events, to realize their wish. The subject of Dean Guthrie's lecture is "Tramps of Modern Medicine."

BASE BALL PRACTICE

WEATHER OF THE WEEK UNFAVORABLE

Coach Chalmers Expects Fast Development and also a Good Team

Increasing interest is being manifested, by students, in the baseball games, as the number of spectators, at the games on Iowa Field, each afternoon has gradually increased until it now exceeds the century mark. The good plays and snappy work of the varsity men, on the field, has become the subject of conversation of the crowd.

Some enthusiasts, however, occasionally show symptoms of the so-called "blueing," and occur to their joyous feelings when their favorite, scores a tally or knocks out a single. The cool weather of the past few days has not, as a matter of fact, affected the interest or reduced the number of spectators. On the other hand, it is evident that the unfavorable weather of the week has retarded the progress of the squad. Rognar games have been played daily, notwithstanding these conditions and all the men are in prime shape. It is the warping out process that has been delayed. All positions are still open, but it is thought that candidates will be singled out for the different places, in a day or two.

When seen and asked relative to the base ball situation, Coach Chalmers, said: "The cool weather of the week has caused the development of the squad. It will be some weeks before the team will play a match game. The boys are in splendid condition and we expect a fast development. The squad gives good promise of a final line to represent the university."

Engineers Elect

At the regular meeting of the engineering society Thursday evening officers were elected as follows: John C. Sanders, president; P. E. Kropf, vice president; Olin J. Emmons, secretary; A. S. Goetz, treasurer. The announcement of the election of the new officers was also discussed but nothing definite was done. The freshmen and junior men will enter the two bats on Iowa Field in the near future.

At eight o'clock tonight, in the City Council hall, a public lecture will be given by Walter G. Brandenburg, under the auspices of the Engineers' Club. The address will be double well worth hearing.

The members of the class meet this evening at 7:30 in Medical Lecture Room. The paper will be by Dr. Albert on "Insects, the Role They Play in the Transmission of Disease.” This will be illustrated with the new epidiascope.

TO CHOSE THE MAN

RHODES COMMITTEE WILL MEET MONDAY

Students of Either Iowa or Drake Will Receive the Honor

The Iowa committee on the selection of the Rhodes scholar will meet in the President's Mansions Monday morning at 11 o'clock to decide whether Iowa or Drake shall have the honor of sending a man to Oxford University next fall.

It is expected that faculty will make choices between Ross and Van der Zee some time before the meeting of the committee Monday. Which one of the men will be chosen to go against Drake, no one here can say it even be conjectured. Both men are popular with students and faculty, both have been engaged in practically all the university activities, most assuredly both are big enough men that if they were sent to Oxford they would not sink into oblivion but would re-

The interest shown in the work of the baseball and track squads speaks well for the student body. This enthusiasm should not be allowed to subside but should grow as the teams develop. It should be at its zenith when the baseball and track seasons open and continue in its elevated position until the close of spring athletic work. All contests on Iowa Field this spring should be largely attended by students flying their Oold and green colors and prepared to use their voices to cheer the Iowa contestants.

Enthusiastic, spirited rooting has changed the result of many college contests. Its inspiring influence has enabled scores of athletes to wrench victory from strong opponents. To tell a 'gon story in a few words, rooting has been the one factor which has placed last year's champions upon the brows of many sturdy athletes and which has brought victory to many college teams.

Let us have rooting on Iowa Field this spring. Not only will it help the athletes but it will help the school by showing visitors that Iowa and its students are loyal to the representatives of their school.

Prof. T. H. Macbride will act as a judge in the annual debate between Glee clubs and Wenyan Institute to be held at Cedar Rapids to-night.
