PROVIDENCE MAKES MALE WEAKER SEX

Peculiar Method of Courtship Among Spiders Told By Professor Wickham

Professor Wickham delivered the following lecture on Courtship among Spiders at the auditorium last night. He chose for his subject "Some Oddities of Nature," and the lecture was similar to the previous ones in point of interest and general instruction.

One curious thing about spiders is that the size of the male is smaller than the female and consequently entirely at the mercy of the sex commonly called "weak." The female often exercises a certain degree of control over the male, power of which is derived by her skill in treating the male with a mixture of white soap and brown sugar and by her face free from grease and dirt.

Many other interesting facts about the insects were learned from the lecture which was illustrated with lantern slides. The last lecture of the series called "Nature's Battle Fields and Parasites," will be held next Monday night.

Gustavus Hinrichs of St. Louis, former cheery co-chairman, will attend the med-alumni clinic next week.

Preliminary Selection of Judges

Chief Justice H. E. Deemer, of Des Moines, Dr. L. P. Hodge, Minneapolis, Dr. J. A. Riemcke, of St. Paul, and Mr. W. H. Frink, of the University of Iowa, have been chosen as judges for the Body Building Contest. They will be ready to judge tomorrow night when the building contest will begin.

The greatest care will have to be observed in keeping the track level as very little variation might mean the destruction of the entire boarding. The engineers who have the work in charge say that the structure will not get out of line by half an inch at any time.

The classes of Frosh and Soph are as follows:

Editor-To-Day - CARL W. ROSS

An interesting picture, illustrating a well known psychological phenomenon, can be seen in the psychological lecture room. It represents a man in the act of going over the bar in the high jump and the spectators along the side lines standing on one leg giving unconscious sympathy and assistance. It should be remembered that the help the audience would give is wholly unintentional.

The annual home field meet is to be held Friday afternoon. The men that compete in the meet tomorrow will represent Iowa in the state meet in a few weeks. Every facility has been given by the governing power of the university to assist in winning this meet. A gymnasm is has been provided for winter training and a special track coach has been obtained. For two months the coaches and candidates have been working for a state meet victory. The team is now rounding into shape and will strive even more to attain its goal.

Psychology teaches us that the majority of men give unconscious assistance to a favorite in going over the bar or coming along the stretch. This should prove an inherent interest in a track meet which is almost universal in its application. Then every student and faculty member should be seen on the field tomorrow afternoon. Conscious assistance cannot be madevisible by cheering and rooting. Iowa must win the state meet. Since the athlete always does better in proportion to the number of times the deadline upon him and confidence comes from victory, the state meet may be won on the athletic field tomorrow.

At Other Schools

Michigan students will reproduce a county fair in the university gymnasm, May 5 and 8. Professor E. G. Dexter of the University of Illinois has taken issues with Dr. Oster who asserts that men over forty are of little public benefit. The Illinois professor shows by statistics that worldly recognition of services comes to men who have attained the age of 54 years.

A number of students of the University of Michigan spent the spring vacation in hiding it to the Mammoth Caves in Kentucky. Three of the campus, taking the trip reached the caverns while the remainder were stranded along the road between Ann Arbor and Louisville, Kentucky.

Epsilon Tau Elects

Epsilon Tau elected ten juniors Monday afternoon, who are to act as charter members next year. Those who were elected are Julia Swanson, Sadie Jacobs, Lois Davidson, Frances Carroll, Jeanette Jacobson, Augusta Brown, Waia Jones, Beth Port, Jack, Caroline Paulson, and Edith Burger. Their initiation will probably occur sometime next week.

The final rehearsal of the seniors class preparatory to their first appearance on the campus will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the assembly hall. Baseball songs will also be rehearsed. A full representation of seniors is desired.

AMUSEMENTS

Paul Gilmore's reputation has been won by intelligent, refined and subtle music and work, and it is that sort that is required in the portrayal of the character of Lord "Jack" Lumley in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," in which Mr. Gilmore is announced to appear here soon. So difficult of portrayal is this part considered that but two other actors besides Mr. Gilmore have essayed it—Sir Charles Wyndham and Mr. John Drew. That Mr. Gilmore's interpretation of the role is the work of the finished artist can be testified to by all who saw him play it last season. Local theatre-goers are to be congratulated that his manager, Jules Murry, decided to continue Mr. Gilmore in it this season. At the opera house next Friday night April 28th.
