The first great exhibition of the resources and the products of the Great Northwest will be held at Portland, Oregon, this summer. The gates will open in June, and it is confidently believed that this will be one of the greatest of the world. Saints. Portland is about reached via the Northwest Express from Seattle in 8 hours, 30 minutes, and a few minutes by the latest express. The Portland is a gateway into the Northwest, and the Northwest Express, the Empire Builder, will be in and out of Portland during the fair an easy call from any part of the world. The fair is to open June 21, and close July 21. The old-time favourites of the fair, the poultry, will be featured, as well as special exhibits of new and improved types. The fair will be open to the public daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., with special attractions on the weekends. The fair will feature exhibits of agriculture, horticulture, industry, and art, with special emphasis on the growth and development of the Northwest region. The fair will also include educational demonstrations and exhibits, providing an opportunity for visitors to learn about the resources and industries of the region. The fair is expected to draw visitors from all over the world, with accommodations available in Portland and the surrounding area. The fair is a celebration of the growth and potential of the Northwest, and a testament to the hard work and dedication of the region's residents.
